Man Arrested Here Fri. For Cattle Rustling

Shadows of the old west fell across Memphis last Friday when Texas Ranger J. P. Lynch and Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. arrested a man for what turned out to be cattle rustling.

The incident all started when John M. Russell of Friona drove to Memphis last Friday morning about 7 a. m. with four head of cattle in a pickup.

He contacted Bill Merrill and "Doc" Scott and offered to sell the cattle at what was a pretty good price. The two men went and bought the cattle giving the man a check. They then called Sheriff Baten and told him of their suspicions.

The sheriff and Ranger Lynch began looking for the pickup, and found it parked near the City Hall on Seventh Street. While Lynch watched the pickup, Baten called a man to the owner of the vehicle by the license number.

The Lamesa authorities advised that the license plates were also in a garage burglary there recently and they were seeking the burglar.

The officers then looked in the pickup and found Russell asleep. He was charged first for using fictitious license plates and held until about the four head of cattle. It was not long before the sheriff from Farwell, Chas. Lovelace, called and said that four yearlings belonging to W. D. Cooper were taken from a pasture about seven miles northwest of Friona.

Saturday evening Cooper and Sheriff Lovelace arrived here and Cooper identified the animals in the pickup with about 20 others of the same size.

Russell was returned to Farwell where charges of cattle rustling were filed against him. The sheriff from Canyon has also been talking to the suspect in relation to some cattle rustling which has occurred there.

Family Night

There was a behind-the-scenes family night between the three divisions of news sources and information that popped out in the open in connection with the appearance of Fidel Castro before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, which was in convention in Washington. The Newspaper Editors Society had placed a ban on the tele-casting of the Castro speech. Radio and television people immediately charged the Society of Newspaper editors with gross inconsistency, claiming that the ban was in direct conflict with the campaign being carried on by the newspapers for free access to the news. This was somewhat embarrassing because the newspapers have been waging a very splendid campaign against the suppression of news and information by many governmental agencies. It was obvious that something had to be done, so, according to the newspapers, radio broadcasters were offered an opportunity to air the speech, but none of them wanted to do it by radio; they wanted to see it by television so the American people could see and hear the controversial Prime Minister of our near neighbor, Cuba, in action. Finally, the newspaper group agreed to permit the television networks to film the Castro speech for later use, but at the time this letter is being written, they would not agree to a live telecast. One newspaper in the Nation's Capital indicated that the whole fight had started when the newspaper editors became upset upon discovering that the television broadcasters did not intend to cover the annual banquet of the Society, at which Vice-President Nixon was scheduled to speak. This would seem to indicate that in the eyes of the television networks and the program sponsors, the 32-year-old bearded novice in international politics was catapulted into his present position of power as the result of bloody violence in Cuba, has a much greater box office appeal than the Vice President. Of course, this should not be so, but it must be, because the boys who sell soap and breakfast food pay very little attention to the name of the actor as long as it rings the cash register. The fact is that Castro's box office appeal has no association with his abilities or accomplishments. It is the pure result of the free advertising he has received through the advertising media in the U.S., which seems to prove once more that it pays to advertise.

In any event, let us hope that news sources in this country, governmental and otherwise, will not be suppressed, nor will the media of bringing that information to the American public.

John Foster Dulles

The whole world was saddened last week by the announcement of the resignation of John Foster Dulles, our Secretary of State. Although Mr. Dulles has pursued some foreign policies in many instances with which many Americans did not agree, his sincerity of purpose was never doubted by even the most skeptical, but it is not expected that the foreign policy of this country will be changed because he has stepped down. Those with whom Dulles has surrounded himself subscribe to the same school of thought as the Secretary, which is one of the main reasons they were appointed in the first place. Unless Eisenhower reaches outside that circle to fill the job, it can be expected that our position with relation to international problems will continue as in the past.

The Mail Man

The mail man continues to bring heavy loads of letters complaining about government spending. Many of these are the result of campaigns which are being mounted by numerous organizations, telling the people to write their Congressman and express their views against too much public spending. Whether the letters are prompted by suggestions on the part of an organization or by individual thinking on the part of the person who feels that his voice should be heard, I am glad they are coming in. This is supposed to be a government that belongs to the people, and I sincerely hope it will continue to be just that. When it ceases to belong to the people, it will fall.

In order to keep the record straight, I would again point out, as I have many times before, that as a long-time advocate of sharp reduction in government spending, I am especially thankful for the grass roots uprising. It is only by this method that we can finally get the desired result.

Recently, a poem on the subject composed by a State Representative in Iowa came to my attention. It was so appropriate that I want to pass it on to you.

"Blessings on thee, little man,
Barefoot boy with cheek of tan,
Trudging down a dusty lane,
With no thought of future pain,
You're our one and only bet
To help absorb the national debt.

Little man with cares so few,
We've a lot of faith in you,
Have your fun now while you can;
You may also be a barefoot man."

Mrs. Ellen Souder and Perry of Amarillo visited Sunday with Mrs. A. B. Jones.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

With just about three weeks left in the regular session, legislators will be under much pressure — to do many things and do them fast.

Each day that passes without agreement on financial matters heightens the possibility of a special session as soon as this one ends.

Many measures will be trampled under or pushed aside until '61. But as Speaker Waggoner Carr told the House, the problem of raising some new money "won't go away. It has to be faced."

NO EASY OUT— Like every other tax proposal made this session, the huge "something for everybody" omnibus tax bill recommended by the House Tax Committee brought howls of protest.

It would raise an estimated $151,000,000 a year by raising some old taxes and placing new taxes on hundreds of items. Tabbed for increases are natural gas, motor vehicles, cigarettes, liquor, wine, beer licenses.

New targets include hotel rooms, restaurant meals, cigars, chewing tobacco, snuff, aircraft and auto parts, dozens of luxury items, radio and TV parts, business machines, commercial rentals, club dues, construction materials, dance studios, reducing salons.

Officially, the bill is known as the Tax Committee substitute for H.B. 727. Unofficially, it's called a lot of other things.

House members showed no more eagerness to rally behind this broad based approach than they had for governor Daniel's less spread out plan.

GIVE LITTLE, TAKE LITTLE— Two appropriations bills of varying sizes have been passed by the House and Senate. Differences will be adjusted by a conference committee of members from the two houses.

Both bills call for spending nearly $2,500,000 during the next two years. House bill is slightly larger. It calls for approximately $333,000,000 from general revenue.

Senate would spend only $307,000,000 in general revenue.

To satisfy both houses, the conference committee will try to reach a compromise between the two figures. However it's worked out, it's already clear that spending will considerably exceed the $281,000,000 spent from general fund for 1958-59.

ROUGH SLEDDING — Governor Daniel's "abandoned property act" barely squeaked by its first test on the House floor by a 71-69 vote.

Measure would allow the state to take over money and property unclaimed for seven years or more. Estimates of how much it would bring in immediately range from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Many bankers fear such a law would cause people to be afraid to put their money in banks and decide to tack it in a sock instead.

Backers of the measure say the banks and other businesses are holding and getting the benefit of property that does not belong to them, should be used to benefit all the people.

CO-OP BILL SHUNTED ASIDE — A bill to allow rural electric co-ops more elbow room has been sent to the Attorney General for an opinion.

Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, sponsor, protested to the House State Affairs Committee that this would kill the bill. This late in the session, delay is usually fatal.

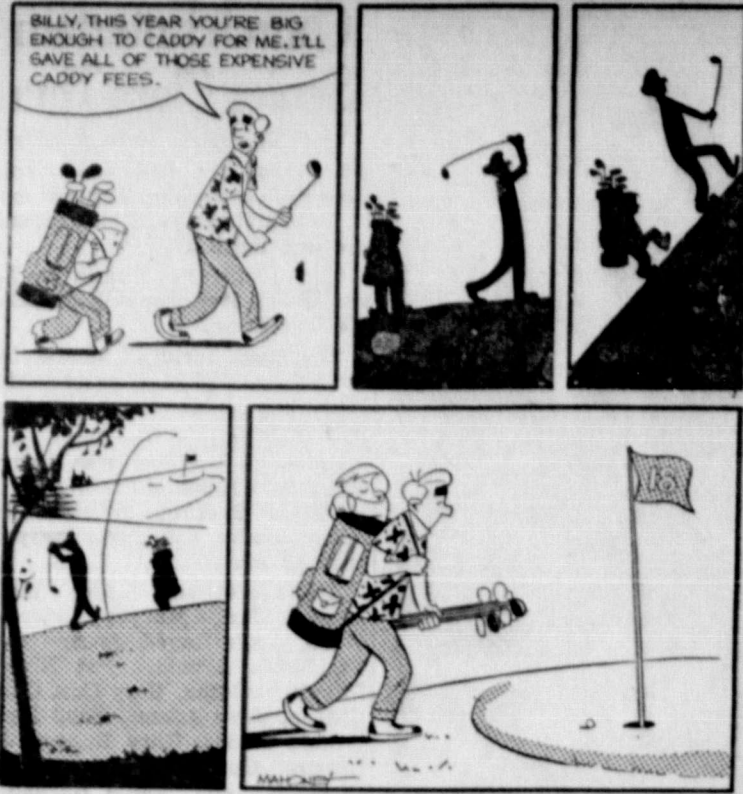

Highly controversial, the bill would allow coops to add new customers after the area of their lines is annexed to a city.

ADVERTISING BILL ADVANCED — A state-financed advertising program for Texas moved close to final enactment despite heated opposition from an advertising man in the Senate.

Proposed bill would create the Texas Development Board to supervise tourist advertising by the Highway Department and industry advertising by the Texas Industrial Commission.

Sen. George Parkhouse, an advertising man from Dallas, objected, not to the idea of state advertising, but to the way it would be handled. He declared the suggested $100,000 appropriation would be wasted.

But the bill gained final approval in the Senate and next-to-final passage in the House.

TEXAS DERBY—Not given much chance of passing, but exciting some interest is a proposal to legalize horse racing in Texas.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus introduced the measure which was sent to a House subcommittee. Thoroughbred horse breeders pointed out that legalized pari-mutual betting could bring in a lot of tax money.

Opponents, including Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, charged it would bring on crime, proverty, and immorality.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Ballard and children of Lubbock spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Pounds and Lena McLearn.

A. S. Harwell, Former Hall Co. Resident, Dies

Funeral services for A. S. Harwell, 80, of Rockdale, former long-time Plaska farmer, were held Monday, April 13, from the Phillips and Luckey Chapel in Rockdale with Rev. M. M. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating. Assisting ministers were Rev. Robert A. Greaves of St. John's Methodist church and Rev. Roy C. Brewton of the First Christian Church.

Mr. Harwell was a native of Pulaski, Tenn. He was born August 26, 1878 and was one of seven children of Samuel W. and Emily Kincaid Harwell. His family was among many of the pioneers who came to Texas in the 1880's via covered wagon transportation, having crossed the Mississippi at Memphis by ferry boat.

This family settled near Waxahatchie and it was there that Harwell grew up. He was the last member of his immediate family.

In 1903 Mr. Harwell married Ollie Lindsey of Hatfield, Ark. They are the parents of six children. Harwell was a prominent Ellis County cotton farmer for some years but later moved his family to McKinney so that his older children could have the advantage of finishing school in that city. Lured by the spell of 'ae West, he then moved his family to Memphis, settling in the 'aska community.

For the next 25 years Mr. and Mrs. Harwell were engaged in farming at Plaska. Mr. Harwell retired in 1952 and they moved to Rockdale.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. A. S. Harwell of Rockdale, three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Maxwell of Rockdale, Mrs. Marie Bromley of Houston and Mrs. Juanita Smith of Amarillo; three sons, T. J. Harwell of Chicago, Ill., Royce Harwell of Rockdale and Col. Albert S. Harwell Jr., of Little Rock, Ark.; 10 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

Telephone Co., Union Continue Negotiations

General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communication Workers of America, District 6, began their fourth week of negotiations April 16 according to information released jointly by the company and the union.

Discussions on the labor contract modifications and adjustments are being held in San Angelo where the company's general office is located. Albert S. Bowles of Dallas is chairman of the union committee and Frank A. Lennette is chairman of the company committee.

Each party has discussed certain proposals and negotiators have expressed hope that agreement will be reached by April 25, anniversary date of the current one year contract.

The contract now under discussion covers approximately 2,700 employees of the company in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Helm visited last weekend in Ardmore, Okla., with Mrs. Helm's nephew Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Monroe and boys, Glenn and Billy.

Ronny Wynn, who has been training at Fort Hood with the S. Army for six months, is home with his family, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wynn Jr.

Underneath all its beauty is an important idea for which you'll be ever grateful as a Pontiac owner: Wide-Track Wheels. Only Pontiac has them. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance but not the car. Lean and sway go away. As a driver you feel the road-hugging stability, the steady balance, the security of full control. As a passenger you ride more comfortably, with less fatigue on long trips. Your nearest dealer has the keys to several models all slicked up ready for you to drive.

SENATOR ☆☆☆ Yarborough's Report

Water is the most important resource in the development of Texas. No other non-human natural resource is as important to economic growth of our state as adequate water supply.

The State Soil Conservation Service has approved 86 water projects in Texas. To help solve the state's water problem and about a greater Texas and America, local, state and federal leaders must work together. I am actively supporting the proposed appropriations for these water projects as part of a coordinated effort to develop the water we need, and to conserve the water supplies for cities and industries, and many other vitally important uses.

Although 86 watersheds have been approved by the State Soil Conservation Agency, planning assistance has been provided on only 17 projects by the U.S.D.A. Service of the U.S.D.A. are completed and conservation is authorized on only 17 projects. Federal funds of approximately $20,467,000 are to be used for these 17 projects by periodic appropriations from the Congress. It is to go along with the work money put up by the people of the localities.

The SCS has been unable to do for us in this vital field of conservation and proper use of water. It has been handicapped by a lack of money. People who are looking at the cost of the project and the devastating and high priced cure which come later if these projects

Taxes
The major item of conversation around the State Capitol is, of course, TAXES. The Governor's escheat-custody bill met rough sledding in the House and barely squeezed by with a two-vote margin.

Then the House turned around and refused to set for special order the giant omnibus tax bill which the Tax Committee had reported out. Indications are that this particular bill will meet with considerable opposition when it comes before the floor debate.

Sales Taxes
This bill, H.B. 727, is chock full of special sales taxes on such items as sporting goods, boats, motors, automobile parts, lube oil, restaurant meals, hotel rooms, business machines, cigars, cigarettes, commercial rentals, and on and on and on. The bill also includes tax raises on natural gas, corporation franchise taxes, liquor, radios, T.V., and cosmetics.

Predict Will Not Pass
At the risk of sticking my neck out, I predict that this particular bill will not pass at this regular session. I still believe that we are going to have a special session for our tax problem. It looks more and more like they cannot be solved in the short remaining portion of this session. I'm glad the Legislative halls are air conditioned because both the weather and the debate are likely to be plenty hot before this Legislature finally adjourns.

Girls of Today Will Hold Many Jobs Tomorrow

"Girls of this generation are destined for a very important role in the world of work", says Brunswick A. Bagdon, southern regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, in announcing a new publication.

"We anticipate there will be 11 million more workers in 1965 than there were 10 years earlier; and that 1.5 million will be girls and young women under 25 years of age. Of these young women, the majority will be high school graduates."

"Chances are a girl will work for a few years at least, after completing her schooling. This is true whether or not she plans to marry soon after graduation — the young bride of today is likely to continue working for a while if family responsibilities allow."

"Future Jobs for High School Girls", a recent bulletin of the Women's Bureau, contains wealth of useful information for high school girls, parents, teachers has been written to help high school girls in their planning for the future. In the job guide section, information is given on a variety of occupations that can be entered by young women high school graduates. The nature of the work, job possibilities and training needed, and opportunities for advancement in occupations which range from beauty operators to radio and television technicians are discussed.

Among jobs to which a high school diploma opens the door are those of general clerical worker, telephone operator, department store saleswoman, grocery checker and dental assistant or airline stewardess.

For some other occupations, a high school graduate will need additional training, as well as work experience, in order to advance. These occupations include such technical and professional jobs as nursing, medical laboratory work, and engineering aide or draftsman — also top secretarial jobs, and many specialized jobs.

Training for jobs which require more than a high school diploma can be obtained in various ways — through informal training on the job (bank teller); courses at a technical school or university (draftsman); formal apprenticeship (optical technician) and attendance at a business college (secretary) or an approved hospital school (nurse).

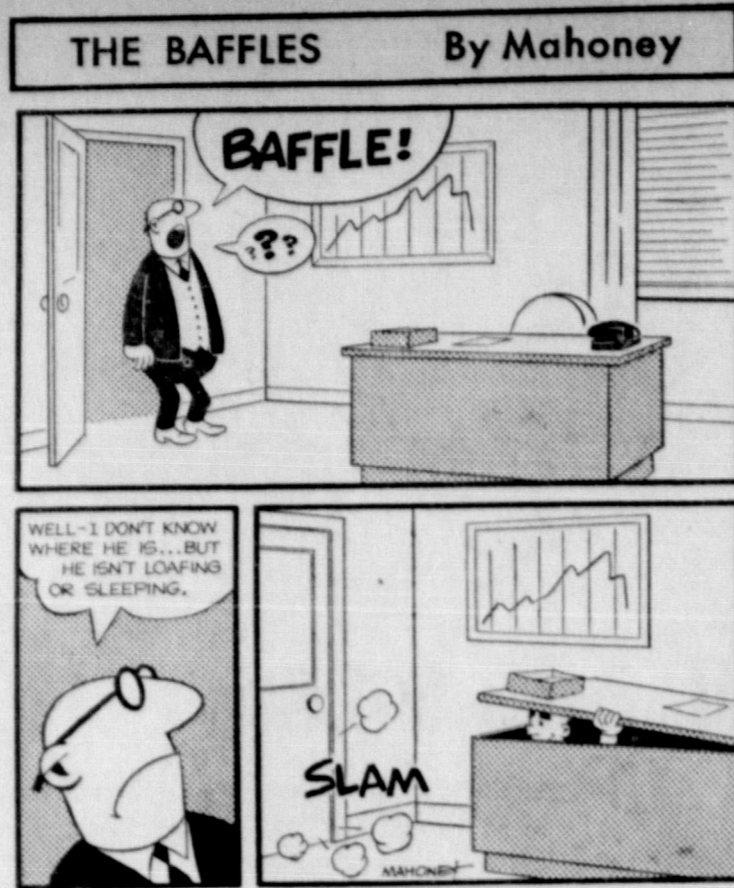

Copies of "Future Jobs for High School Girls" are available from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Suite 540—1371 Peachtree Street, N.E., Atlanta 9, Georgia at 40¢ a copy.

Dam Builders Studying Use For Recreation

Greater and more specific provisions for recreation and public use facilities in development of waterways and reservoirs should begin at the drawing board, according to Col. Walter J. Wells, Fort Worth District Engineer, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He was writing in the March issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.

"Before Congress now it a bill which provides that recreational benefits and fish and wildlife resources be included as an integral consideration in the planning 'insofar as use for such purposes' does not impede or conflict with major purposes," he writes.

He then points out that Major General Emerson G. Itchner, chief of engineers, in a letter reiterated the policy of the Corps, recognizing the importance of recreation and public use aspects of Corps projects.

According to Col. Wells, current projections indicate 24 million visiting recreation seekers at the nine reservoirs in the Fort Worth area can be expected by 1965. By that time the area probably will have at least three more reservoirs.

Telephone Co. Shows Growth During Past Year

In the recently released 1958 annual report of General Telephone Company of the Southwest which serves Memphis, 1958 is hailed as a year of growth, expansion and progress.

According to the report, total plant investment figures at the end of 1958 amounted to $93,346,651, as compared to $84,796,063 at the end of 1957, and represented an investment of telephone plans in service of $333 per telephone.

During the year, 29 exchanges were converted from manual to dial operation, bringing 87.69 per cent of the company's 275,397 telephones to dial operation.

Revenues for 1958 totaled $27,752,197, exceeding the 1957 revenues by $2,014,403. Operating expenses during the year, excluding depreciation and taxes, were down over the 1957 figures as, however, total operating expenses (including taxes) were $23,148,054, an increase of $1,228,021 over the comparable 1957 figure.

Net earnings available for dividend requirements for the twelve months ending December 31, 1958 totaled $3,356,394, an increase of $701,204 over 1957.

The report pointed out that telephone customers are the only utility users who pay the federal excise tax and that the company collected from its customers over $2,800,000 in federal excise taxes on local and long distance service during 1958. Federal excise taxes paid per average telephone during 1958 amounted to $10.63.

Operating taxes paid by the company increased $950,939, over 1957, and totaled for 1958 over $5,269,000.

Why Gamble?

Yes, why gamble . . . when there's no chance of winning? That's the kind of gambling you're involved in when you drive your car beyond the recommended period without having the oil changed.

Although you may use the very best motor oil, such as Phillips 66 Trop-Artic*, there comes a time when the accumulation of impurities in the oil reduces its efficiency.

That's why lubrication experts say: the best motor protection is to use the best motor oil, and change it every 1,000 miles under average around-town driving conditions.

Be sure to let your Phillips 66 Dealer change oil for you on schedule.
