hot weather on people, but just right for cotton growth. Usually all cotton acreage in area has been planted and cotton to good stands, with a lot of it already cultivated. A lot of it has been planted and now coming from one end of the row to the other.

The Texas Legislature started its second special session Wednesday after having failed in the regular session and the first special session to pass a tax bill. The opening of the session Wednesday, the Senators honored Anderson of this district by making him president pro-tem, a post which he succeeds to the state's highest office in the absence of the lieutenant governor.

Tuesday, Rotarians here had as guest speaker D. E. Scott Wellington, known as the "Roads Reporter" to readers of many weekly and some daily papers in this section. Scott spoke in a humorous vein very similar to what he writes in his columns. He was left Wellington, Scott mechanical foreman for the Washington Leader, and after he returned to Memphis he held the same position on the Democrat. Deskins, publisher of the Leader, accompanied Scott to Memphis and introduced him to the Rotary Club. Scott would like to add that Scott's sayings and sayings are similar in many ways to that of the late Rogers.

The Stanton Reporter, edited by a half-century friend Jas. E. Rogers, says: "Summer is here accompanied by flies to annoy the man flesh with their landing on the face, as well as sit on the table and drag their feet up and down around the garbage can in the filth that has been allowed to rot around some premises. No matter how particular one may be to keep his own premises free of filth, if his neighbors allow filth to accumulate, the flow of flies and mosquitoes on the particular one's premises is bound to be a nuisance."

Last election has been ordered for July 1 for the purpose of voting bonds for the erection of a community building. Awaiting election order, we have given readers a rest the past few days. Since the time is short, we try to acquaint the readers with facts as we know them to believe them to be.

Work got underway last week on measuring the county cotton crop with a total of 14 men working at the job, Lynn McKown, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager said this week. The teams hope to complete the measuring by July 1, he stated. This year the fields are being measured by tape and the farmer must be on hand when the job is being done, McKown explained. Cards are being mailed to farmers notifying them when the crew will visit their farm. This year, as in the past, B. B. Gibson is supervising the measuring. Others working on the measuring are Jackie Ben Boone, Ted Myers, Author L. Beck, James M. Bray, Jerry D. George, Tim Kirk, Frank Lewis, Jarex McGowan, L. M. Watson, Johnnie Brumley, Lester Driver, Roy G. Pate, and George Author.

Tigers Take First Half Of Little League Play

The Tigers Little League baseball team last week won the first half of play in the program as they edged out the Yankees. The Tigers and Yankees were tied for the championship of the first half when the Indians downed the Yankees, 3 to 4, and the Tigers won over the Giants to leave the Tigers as winners of the first half. The second half of play got underway Friday with the Tigers downing the Yankees, 7 to 3 and the Giants winning over the Indians 11 to 4. In play Tuesday night of this week the Yankees won over the Indians, 15 to 13, while the Tigers downed the Giants, 11 to 6. The Little League games scheduled for Friday night will be held Saturday, due to the fact that a large delegation from Memphis will be going to Clarendon to attend an event there, J. W. Coppedge, chairman of the Little League Board of Directors, said today. In other play last week the Memphis Owls, 13 and 14 year old boys, lost to the Redsox of Childress, 8 to 4. Their game was played in the Pony League, composed of one team from Memphis and three from Childress. This team plays in Memphis each Thursday night beginning at 8 p.m. They also play in Childress on Tuesday nights. In regular Little League play here the Yankees meet the Giants and the Indians the Tigers Saturday night. Tuesday night the Indians play the Giants and the Yankees the Tigers. Little League games begin at 6:30 p.m.

Band Members Enjoy Band Camp At Childress

The Childress Greenbelt Band Camp ended Friday, June 12, with several Memphis students taking honors. Lynn Foxhall won a new shirt in the loud shirt contest, while Leslie Helm, a Cyclone twirler, tied for second twirler of the week both weeks of the camp. A twirling ensemble, consisting of Sandra Stargel, Linda Saye, Leslie Helm, Teresa Beckham, and Celia Leslie, won first in the Ensemble Twirling Contest. The camp, on an experimental basis this year, was highly successful and will be repeated next, expanding in the process. Larry Sparks, local band director, said. Band directors in this area held classes in woodwind and brass work. Also twirling classes were conducted for beginners and advanced twirlers. A choice of two bands, a concert band and marching band, was also offered. Memphis students from the camp were: Toby Crooks, Billy Cosby, Curtis Castro, Lynn Foxhall, Larry Wynn, Lowell McKown, Susan Mothershed, John Lemons, Billy Ed Thompson, Donald Jeffries, Neita Reed, Larry Helm, Sue Gidden and Dawn Yarbrough. "A" band members taking the course were Shari Gentry, Carleen Harrison, Teresa Beckham, Celia Leslie, Leslie Helm, Joy Baten, Beatrice Hook, Sandra Stargel, Alice Aay Young, Neva Koeninger, R. B. Spruill, Betty Long, Kay Hill, Marceene Stephens and Linda Kay Saye.

Translator TV Test Begins This Week

Television engineers expected this week to run a test on a translator system for this area from a tower located southwest of Hedley. The test is being carried out for the Caprock Translator System, Inc., a group of area farmers who are investigating the possibility of better television reception. Officers of the organization include Arlie Shawhart, president; Joe Durham, vice president; and Joyce Webster, secretary-treasurer. The test is being carried out with a portable 60-foot antenna and a power of 10 watts. If the test proves successful, as it is expected to do, plans call for the construction of a tower about 150 feet tall and the rebroadcasting of a signal at 100 watts. Approval must be received from the Federal Communications Commission before such a system can be established. The proposed system will be owned by the members and operated through a board of directors. It will provide ultra high frequency rebroadcast of the three Amarillo stations and cover the Hedley, Lakeview, Estelline and Memphis areas. "Dealers and servicemen in this area are giving full cooperation in conducting this series of tests," the secretary said.

Twenty-Seven Carloads Have Been Shipped

Harvest of the 1959 wheat crop was estimated about 75 per cent complete this week with a total of 27 carloads being shipped. Of this number 15 had been harvested from the Memphis and the other 12 from the Turkey area. It is estimated that there are about 7,000 acres of wheat which will be harvested this year. Grain dealers stated that some of the wheat was unusually good this year, considering the severe drought during the winter. Yields run on an average from 10 to 20 bushels per acre with the largest amount reported from one field being 28 bushels per acre. Yields this year do not compare with the 30 to 40 bushel records of last season. However, the wheat this year is all dry and the great majority of it weighs in at 60 pounds per bushel. The price here in Memphis Thursday morning was $1.73 per bushel. The support price on farm stored wheat is $1.82 and at present, if the farmer has to pay storage, the net would be about $1.67 per bushel. In all there has been about 54,000 bushels harvested so far resulting in a gross of about $93,420 for area farmers.

O. M. Perkins Dies in Auto Accident Friday

Orville M. (Perk) Perkins, Memphis trucker and cattle buyer, was killed instantly in a head-on collision three miles south of Vernon on U.S. highway 283 about 8:45 p.m. Friday. Mr. Perkins was travelling along in his 1954 sedan. In the other car, a 1957 sedan, were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Baggett and their two children, Harold and Carol, 13, and a friend, Beverly Laxton, 13, all of Electra. Mr. and Mrs. Baggett were critically injured, but the children were not hurt in the wreck. Funeral services for Mr. Perkins were held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the First Baptist Church with Rev. Fern A. Miller, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home. Mr. Perkins was born August 7, 1908 in Elba, Ark. He moved to Oklahoma with his parents at an early age. In 1936 he moved to Memphis and had resided here since that time. In recent years he had been engaged in trucking and cattle buying, prior to that the Perkins operated a furniture store here. Mr. Perkins was a member of the First Baptist Church. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. (Continued on Page 12)

John Fowlers Attend Rotary International

Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler returned Sunday from a two-week vacation trip to the Northeast coast. For the Fowlers, it was a combination sight-seeing tour and a chance to attend the 50th annual convention of Rotary International in New York City. Mr. Fowler was a delegate from the local club. This is the second International Convention the Fowlers have attended, having been in Dallas last year for the meeting there. More than 16,000 Rotarians and their guests were present representing 113 countries of the world. Many distinguished speakers appeared on the program and entertainment featured some of the outstanding stars of opera, stage and television. Among the speakers were Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations; Dr. Werner Von Braun, famed missile space expert; au-

Century Plant Puts Up 22-Foot Stalk After Waiting 20 Years

A plant that took 20 years to bloom, it sure put up a stalk in a hurry, J. M. Ferrel Jr. said last week in discussing the "century plant" in his back yard. He planted the Agave (which is the real name for the plant) 20 years ago and for those years it just sat at the side yard with its sharp pointed leaves taking care of all who try to trample it. About a month ago things began to happen. The plant began to put out a shoot which grew at an amazingly fast rate. There was one 24-hour period when the stalk grew 15 inches. After it had reached a height of about 22 feet then the small limbs were put forth and the flowers appeared in clusters at the end of the limbs. The agave plant is a member of the Amaryllis family, according to an encyclopedia and is a native in the southern United States and Mexico. The name, century plant, was given because of the tradition that it took the plant 100 years to bloom. However, the length of the time required depends upon the condition of soil, climate, etc. As it grows the plant stores up

Report From Washington

Representative, 18th

How Times Do Change
On December 7, 1941, the Japanese, in a sneak attack, all but took the Hawaiian Islands. For several years thereafter this country and Japan were in a life and death struggle that ended only when this country had developed the atomic bomb at a cost of some 2 billion dollars and dropped one on Hiroshima and Nagasaki — a war in which billions of dollars went down the drain and which, above all, destroyed thousands upon thousands of lives of the youth of this country and dashed to oblivion many of the hopes and prayers of their loved ones. Less than 14 years after the freed surrender of Japan, we find a complete reversal in attitude. Japan is now seeking world markets and is trading on a very friendly relationship with this country. In fact, she is presently exporting to this country goods in the approximate amount of $700 million per year. She is not entirely satisfied with this arrangement and would like very much to increase it, because she has cheap labor and can obtain many raw materials at prices below the cost of such materials in this country. By combining her cheap labor with the materials, she can produce and deliver to this country many products at a much lesser price than the same product can be manufactured and sold here. Therefore, she looks upon this country as a vast potential market for everything from electronic equipment to dried fish. In order to expand her sales in this country and to protect the export volume already attained, she has been seeking influential counsel in this country. It has been reported in the metropolitan press of New York and Washington that she has employed the former governor of New York and a man who twice unsuccessfully ran for the Presidency of the United States—none other than the well-known Thomas E. Dewey — at the alleged fee and expense figure of $200 thousand dollars. It has been rumored that Dewey has denied this connection, but it is well known that negotiations have been going on between Dewey and the Japanese government for some time. Apparently the old saying, "politics makes strange bedfellows," includes international as well as domestic politics.

The Wheat Bill

The House of Representatives last week passed, by the very close vote of 188 to 177, the controversial Wheat Bill — controversial because there had been much misrepresentation about the whole story. In the past six years the Secretary of Agriculture has continued to depress wheat prices which, in turn, increased wheat production and brought about one of the greatest surpluses in our history. The storage charges alone have become staggering. The President began to needle the Congress to do something about the wheat situation that his own Secretary of Agriculture had created.

The Congress, after long and exhaustive hearings, came forward with a bill which would do what the President had sought; that is, it would measurably reduce the surplus. In other words, it would reduce by 25%, or some 480 million bushels during the two years it is applicable. It was designed to lower the cost of the wheat program during that period by more than one-half billion dollars.

At the present time the wheat farmers of this nation participating in the program are allowed to plant 55 million acres of wheat. In the bill that passed the House, these same farmers would be allowed to plant only 41 million acres of wheat. The cut-back production would be supported at 90% parity, in order to prevent placing many wheat farmers in bankruptcy because of the drastic acreage adjustment reduction. There is much more in the bill, but space will not permit its insertion here.

The debate did bring out some interesting facts and answers to the seathing denunciation to which the American farmer has been subjected by the metropolitan press and many of the slick magazines in the last several years. For instance, the people living in the cities have been led to believe that the American farmer was getting rich at the expense of the city dweller in prices that the city dweller was paying for bakery products. Here are the facts: Between 1948 and 1958 the cost of wheat and other ingredients in a loaf of bread declined 12% at the farm while during the same period processing and marketing margins increased by 55%. This means that during the ten-year period the cost of a loaf of bread increased by the sum of five and four-tenths cents or 39%. The price of a bushel of wheat during that time declined by the sum of twenty-six cents or 13%. The price of wheat in a one pound loaf is only two and two-fifths cents, a loaf of bread that is now selling at more than twenty cents in many stores. This gives you actual information that definitely proves the conclusion that any rise in the price of a loaf of bread bought by the housewife is not due to any money received by the farmer. The propaganda that the wheat farm program was responsible for high prices of bakery products is a myth and should be so branded by those discussing the subject. Although the bill which passed the House will cause some hardships among many of the wheat producers, it will be a long step toward solving the surplus problem. I sincerely hope that the President will not permit political expediency to dictate a veto.

Little Theatre Cancels Plans For Summer Play

Plans to present a summer play have been cancelled by the Memphis Little Theatre, Mary Helen Sexauer, chairman of the play casting committee announced today.

The club had considered a return of the play "See How They Run" by Phillip King. Since Memphis does not have an air conditioned auditorium large enough to accommodate the audience, members thought it best not to present a summer production, Mrs. Sexauer stated.

The club is now making plans to present a play early in the fall.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

In the next 15 years, a noted educator says, this nation must train 100,000 more engineers, 40,000 doctors, 75,000 college-prepared nurses, 485,000 elementary and high school teachers, 120,000 more college instructors, 8,000 more natural scientists and many, many others.

To prepare our young people in Texas and other states to meet the challenges of the future, regardless of their calling, we must furnish them adequate educational facilities. Our world is changing quickly and we must help our young people to be prepared for these changes.

To help our educators provide Texas youngsters with the latest and the best in education and to aid them in working toward better ways of teaching, the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare is providing a number of grants for support of research. This is the second in a series of such actions under the National Defense Education Act of 1958 which I co-authored.

The projects in Texas include a request for $12,212 for experimentation in using an overhead projector in teaching engineering and geometry. Clayton Chance will be in charge of the project at the University of Texas.

Dr. Lester S. Richardson will be in charge of the project at the University of Houston to study the effectiveness of teaching high school physics by television under varying conditions. A total of $42,953 has been requested.

Baylor Medical College in Houston has requested $67,873 for research into teaching by means of a broadcast system. The project will be directed by Dr. W. A. Spencer.

Another University of Houston request is for $104,105 for experiments in improving teaching by using a video tape recorder, which combines sight and sound.

Experiments at the University of Texas in the use of a closed-circuit microwave system to help faculty members work closer together have been requested. The proposal is now being investigated.

I have been issued by a spokesman for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that these Texas schools will receive assistance on these projects. Representatives of the schools are meeting with personnel from the department to work out the actual amounts.

These experiments will, I feel, provide a better education for our young people and therefore a better life for all of us.

Sam Browns Enjoy Vacation In California

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown, Mrs. Katie Cummings of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Don Keith Wells of Amarillo and Belinda Kay Wells of Clarendon returned home Tuesday after enjoying a two weeks vacation trip in California.

While gone they visited relatives at several towns throughout the state, including San Angelo, Hollywood, Lindsay and other places. In Hollywood they attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robison. Mrs. Robison is a sister of Mrs. Brown.

In Lindsay they enjoyed visiting with relatives and several former Memphis families who now reside there. They also enjoyed a trip to Disneyland while in the state, and saw many other scenic points of interest.

Small Watersheds Are Big Business

Potentially, the national small watershed program known as P.L. 566, is mighty big business any day that you look at it today.

There are striking ways of pointing up the business of the watershed job ahead. Take the earthmoving phase of needed 566 projects. International Harvester Company, which has calculated the future developments of the nationwide movement, figures the earth moving part of flood works will run into the billions of dollars. The company also estimates that excavations and fills for structural jobs will call for the removal of around one-third more dirt than will be needed to carry out the national highway plan.

The overall watershed job looms big too, when you consider the multi-million dollar damage toll small watersheds cost the nation's rural and farm people each year. Each year in the U. S., erosion takes around four billion tons of soil — soil off farms and ranches that can't be replaced. Add to this the damage, floodwater losses to property, roads, and crops which run into millions.

U. S. Soil Conservation Service watershed specialists say yearly flood losses from unprotected watersheds could climb even higher as the population curve swings steadily upward. One federal government report estimated total population will increase from 162 million to 210 million in the next 20 years.

Everyone gains from well planned small watershed projects — local residents, contractors, equipment people and the makers of various structural items.

Nationally more than 1,000 watershed applications have been filed by local organizations in the states and territories.

How Well Do You Know Your America?

Towering 570 feet high, the San Jacinto monument, Southeast of Houston, Texas, commemorates the great battle in Texas' struggle for freedom.

The war for Texas independence began in 1835 at Gonzales, where Texans won their first battle and challenged Mexican Military Authorities. A chain of battles ensued until Texas officially declared her independence from Mexico and adopted a constitution on March 2, 1836, at Washington-on-the-Brazos, appointing Sam Houston as Commander-in-Chief of the Army.

There were several battles, including the slaughter of the defenders of the Alamo and some 300 Texans at Goliad before the final battle was won at the Battle of San Jacinto, April 21, 1836.

The Mexican General, Santa Anna, was taken prisoner during this engagement and signed the treaty which launched the Republic of Texas.

Faced with Texas fossilized bluff limestone, the San Jacinto monument was built between 1936 and 1939.

ART OR NOT? ... Mrs. Margaret Silberman, holding a Pablo Picasso book, wants to bring the Picasso mosaic (background) into this country without duty on the grounds that it is art.

Farmers Beware of Illegal Seed Hucksters. The springtime peddlers of "bargain basement" seed are again at work trying to dupe unwary Texas farmers into the purchase of their illegal or doubtful wares.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are tracking down all leads into operations of fly-by-night seed hucksters reportedly operating within the state whose misrepresented seed is a potential menace to our farmers.

Under the state's agricultural laws, all field seed offered for sale in Texas must bear a Texas Tested Seed Hag regardless of where the seed comes from. This tag gives required information as to the value and qualities of the seed and the name and address of the person or grower offering it for sale. The exception is an individual farmer's seed production when not advertised outside his home county nor transferred by common carrier.

The seed salesmen in question are operating in violation of the law by offering unregulated seed for sale in Texas. These salesmen often operate as truckers with samples from which the upward farmer may book for future delivery. The unregulated seed which they actually deliver could be below official tolerance levels in fertility and purity and also contain a harmful percentage of noxious weed seed capable of contamination of good farm land. As any farmer knows, contamination of good land by hard-to-eradicate weeds is worse than a plague of grasshoppers.

Although farmers should apply the same precaution in buying any planting seed, the major concern at present is for small grain seed for fall planting now being offered for sale. Very often the prospective buyer is told the seed being offered is registered or certified in another state. No matter where the seed originates it must have a Texas Tested Seed Label in addition to the out-of-state registered or certified tag to be legal.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Ancient Jurors and Advocates

Speaking before juries — the beginning of jury trials — goes back to Greek colonies in Sicily about 600 B.C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants.

Soon Athens itself took over such oratory, but appears to have worked out no rules of evidence or judicial control of the trial.

Juries often cheered or booed the parties. They talked together and shouted back to the speakers. What one man knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: Personal knowledge, hearsay, prejudice, and the juror's opinion.

The Athenian jury had power. Each "dicast" chosen by lot was both juror and judge. Each juror got one obol a day — about three cents.

Each accused person had to come before the jury personally to defend himself — which was especially hard if he didn't know the art of advocacy, since he was assumed to be guilty.

Indeed, many hold that if Socrates had taken independent advice he would never have offended the boisterous and biased Athenian jury which sentenced him to the hemlock there on the hillside in 399 B.C.

Less outspoken defendants in those days sought bootleg legal advice.

Antiphon (415) ghost-wrote and sold briefs to clients who had put their own cases to the jury. He set out four steps of an Athenian trial (1) the accuser's charge, (2) the accused's reply, (3) the accuser's reply, and (4) the accus'd's response.

Afterwards the jury let the accused off or found him guilty. The jury sentenced the guilty then and there, allowing some — Socrates, for one — to propose their own penalties, and even to bid them upward if they failed to please the jury.

After the trial, the speakers (or in Socrates' case, his friend Plato) often worked their talks over, and sent them out for friends to admire or criticize.

What appeals were used to win the jury over? Pretty much the same ones we hear today. Aristotle listed a few:

The values the jurors set with the speaker — reverence for justice, the law, and the founding fathers; the sanctity of the juryman's oath; the effect upon public and family opinion, and sometimes upon men and youth.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

When tax bills finally were passed by both the Texas House and the Senate, it was not dollars, but ideas that delayed agreement.

House bill was designed to raise about $150,000,000 over the next two years; Senate bill, about $160,000,000. Big difference was in where the money would come from. House bill was divided evenly between selective sales taxes and on natural resources and corporation franchises.

Senate, which heard a long line of witnesses on the dangers of shutting prosperity-making industries out of Texas, changed the ratio. In its version, natural gas and corporations pay about 18 per cent of the tab; selective sales taxes, 82 per cent.

Senate voted a 15-15 tie on its bill, with Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey breaking the tie in favor of the bill.

Named to a free conference committee to adjust differences were Sens. R. A. Weiners, Seguin; Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo; Charles F. Herring, Austin; Jimmy Phillips, Angleton; Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi. Also Reps. V. L. Ramsey, Beckville; W. T. Oliver, Port Neches; Don Kennard, Fort Worth; Alonzo Jamison, Denton; George Cook, Odessa.

HOW THEY STACK—These items were hit, in varying degrees, by the House and Senate bills that went to conference committee:

CORPORATIONS — Senate, raise to $10,800,000 by hiking the franchise tax from $2.25 to $2.75 per $1,000 capitalization. House, raise $12,000,000 by a new two-factor tax on interstate corporations.

NATURAL GAS — Senate, raise $8,000,000 by increasing the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent. House, raise $36,500,000 by lowering production tax to 5 per cent and adding a 5 per cent severance beneficiary tax.

MOTOR VEHICLE SALES — Both houses agreed in increasing sales tax from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent to bring in an additional $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

CIGARETTES — Senate, raise $31,500,000 by boosting tax 3 cents a pack. House, raise $10,500,000 by a 1 cent a pack increase.

UTILITIES — Senate, increase the tax on water, gas and electric utilities by 20 per cent, for an estimated $2,600,000. House, increase all other utilities to the telephone company rate of 2.3 per cent, for an estimated $80,000,000.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES — Senate, increase liquor tax from $1.40 to $1.65 a gallon, to raise $2,000,000. House, increase it to $2.25 a gallon for $7,000,000.

Wine, Senate increased tax by 20 per cent, for $201,000. House doubled it for $1,000,000.

Senate also tripled fees for selling beer and wine, doubled permits for liquor selling, for an estimated $1,500,000. House bill does not include this.

TOBACCO PRODUCTS — Senate would tax all such products, except snuff, by 12.5 per cent, to raise $5,400,000. House tax is twice this.

SULPHUR — Senate voted to retain present rate. House would reduce from $1.40 to $1.03 per ton. There is disagreement as to whether production increase would offset the tax increase in total revenue received.

THEATER ADMISSIONS — Senate and House lopped this by about $120,000 a year.

SOUND EQUIPMENT — Senate added a 2.2 per cent sales tax on radios, televisions, hi-fi and stereophonic sets for an estimated $3,200,000.

BOATS — Senate added 1.5 per cent sales tax on boats for an estimated $5,000,000.

PROPERTY BILL NIXED—For the second time this year, the House of Representatives has refused to sweep unclaimed property into the State Treasury.

The vote of 66-66 killed efforts in the Special Session. Vote that killed the bill earlier in the regular session was almost as close.

Governor Price Daniel had urged the measure as a means of raising an estimated $25,000,000 for the State's ailing general fund. It would have required banks, oil and gas companies, insurance companies and others to turn over to the state any property belonging to persons who have been missing for more than seven years.

Bank lobbyists were blamed by Daniel for defeat of the bill. He said they must accept responsibility for the state's having to raise, through new taxes, the $25,000,000 the bill would have produced.

Bankers have contended the easiest procedure would undermine depositors' confidence in the safety of their deposits.

LICENSE PLAN STUDIED—Economy forces are taking a look as to whether or not the state's licensing practices might be unnecessarily expensive.

Historically the state has issued licenses annually. There's now some thinking that a lot of the licenses could just as easily be issued permanently, subject to cancellation for cause. Fees would still be collected annually, but a lot of time and money possibly could be saved by not having to type out and mail a new document each year.

Such a procedure was authorized by the Legislature in regular session for insurance companies.

Some licenses probably could not be adapted to the permanent policy. Among these would be drivers licenses, hunting and fishing licenses, and auto inspection stickers.

SEVEN RUN FOR SPEAKER — Now the count is up to seven in the House speakership race. Seventh man in the lineup is Rep. Frank B. McGregor of Waco. His announcement was made at a luncheon sponsored by the Waco Chamber of Commerce.

Six already in the race are Reps. Ben Glusing of Kingsville, Wade Spilman of McAllen, W. T. Oliver of Port Neches, L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, Jerry Sadler of Palestine and James A. Thurman of Gober.

SHORT SNORTS — Radar traps must be test-checked for accuracy before a speeding ticket is valid, the Court of Criminal Appeals has held. Expert testimony in the case before the court had contended that as much as a 20 per cent error can occur if the radar machine is not set up properly.

Lt. Governor and Mrs. Ben Ramsey's new daughter, Mariben, born June 8, officially became "princess of the senate" in record time. By unanimous vote, the honor was bestowed when she was just one day old.

Methodist WSCS Meets for Study Monday Morning

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met at 9 a. m. Monday in the church parlor.

Mrs. J. W. Coppedge, vice president, held a brief business meeting before the program. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and various committees made reports. Mrs. Frank Foxhall read an interesting and informative personal letter from a young woman doctor working in the Methodist Hospital in Inchon, Korea. Announcement was made that the district meeting of the WSCS will be held June 17 in Hedley.

About a dozen members from Memphis plan to attend.

Mrs. Frank Foxhall led the devotional service which consisted of scripture passages read by leader with responses by the group. "The Voice of God Is Calling" was sung by the members with Mrs. Davenport at the piano, and the service closed with prayer.

Mrs. N. A. Hightower was leader of the program unit, "New Ambassadors for Christ." Mrs. Neeley played the role of the journalist, giving experiences in foreign lands of news correspondents. Mrs. J. J. McDaniel played the part of American tourists who met and talked with people across the seas. Miss Judy Lemons represented the college girl whose opportunities for good on the college campus are many. Mrs. W. F. McElreath had the role of housewife whose influence as ambassador for Christ is unlimited. Mrs. Hightower gave a summary of the work as a conclusion. The meeting closed with prayer.

Members present were Meses. E. Davenport, J. W. Oliver, Herring, R. C. Lemons, Mary Lou Erwin, Tracy Davis, J. W. Coppedge, D. A. Neeley, J. J. McDaniel, W. F. McElreath, N. A. Hightower, Frank Foxhall and one guest, Miss Judy Lemons.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

In May, a fellow up Tulsa way the name of R. D. Hull observed the 10th anniversary of his invention of the closed-faced fishing reel.

His name probably won't go down in history along with the man who figures out a way to put a cannon on the moon. However, the man who gave the world a new fishing reel has made a great contribution to the contentment of the people who live on this earth. He worked it out and made it work. He then, practically every other manufacturer of fishing equipment has come along with some modification of it. The Zebco, however, continues to hold its own in the closed-faced spinning reel as a lot of kidding from fishermen who are addicted to the use of an open-faced reel and conventional reels. Some of them refer to the reel with the built-in spool as the "Zebco" reel. One conventional reel salesman even called it an ocean fishing coffee grinder.

Henry's Model-T had a lot of popularity. Today you'll see one of them in use than any other type of fishing reel. There are many others, but all are built pretty much on the same principle.

You load them with 100 yards of 8 to 10 pound test line, set the tension just right and you are in the fishing business. They are especially liked by women, children and persons who didn't learn to cast first with the conventional reel.

You'll find them everywhere a crowd fishes. This is particularly true on jetties at fishing docks and floating fishing barns. They are ideal for having a lot of fun either with a bass in open water or a carp around a baited fishing dock.

For that reason there are millions of fishermen who unconsciously pay tribute to the inventive genius of Hull.

And since we are writing of fishing, we might as well suggest that this is a good time of the year to do a little work with the fly rod.

What you catch will depend upon what you are fishing for. For instance, if you just want to load up with pan fish, then a few small flies laid deftly under a willow tree at this time of the year are calculated to do the job.

On the other hand, if you want to have a little rough and tumble argument with a bass, try your luck with a good popping bass bug.

A small bass on a fly rod gives you more fun than a big bass on a heavy casting rod. And since they are now rising to the lure, a good popping bug tossed into the right area can really produce some lunkers.

Since you may not lose your fly rod too often, check it over carefully first. Chances are it hasn't been out of the case since you got back from a trout stream last summer. It could stand a good coat of light varnish. The reel will need oiling and your leader checked. Be sure your knot is good.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"It seems to be for you!"

You can use a fly rod from a boat, wade fishing, or by floating around on a rubber inner tube. Generally, unless you are an excellent caster, you'll need a little more casting space than with a casting rod.

There are many who like to wade the flats in the early morning and late evening. My own choice is to fish from a boat close around log jams. I just like the scenery.

Drop a good popping bug alongside one of these logs. Let it rest a moment or two, and then yank it just a little so that it will cause a slight disturbance. Then just let it rest for a few minutes.

Chances are that some ambitious little bream will hit at it a time or two, while a big bass is looking in. Then the perch will leave it just as quickly as he hit it and by that time the bass has decided it wants the bug. If you are all ready to set the hook you have a nice little fight coming on.

Even a 2-pounder will double your fly rod. It takes some adroit playing to bring him in. And when you get close to the boat, have your net ready. It's not a good idea to try to lift a bass into a boat with a fly rod or a light leader.

There's a lot of fun in taking pan fish with fly rods, too. You can use lures, minnows, or worms. Any of them will do, depending, of course, upon how hungry the fish is, and how you present the meal.

It's a real education to watch an adept fly fisherman. Usually he is pretty thorough and works over his water well. If he knows how to handle his equipment he can really sack up whatever kind of fish he's seeking.

Now that you've talked me into it, I think I'll get out there to away myself.

Around and About
By HELEN COMBS

At no time since we have lived here do we recall as much building and remodeling being done on homes as is now in progress, or just completed. This is a good healthy indication that the town is growing.

Even with the new homes that have been added, there is still a shortage of housing in Memphis. Just recently the district representative of Gulf Oil Company was in the office. He remarked that he had tried to move to Memphis but was unable to find housing. This is a situation we do not like to hear about . . . and one that we find quite frequently as people come to our office to inquire about housing.

With the opening of the cotton classing office here, and new families moving in with the expansion of Waples-Platter Company, even more housing will be needed.

We are delighted and flattered that Waples-Platter Company chose to make Memphis their headquarters in this section of the country, consolidating their Vernon house with the one here. May we say thanks to local manager, Otis Jones, who has been with the company many years and is doing a fine job here. Folks, let's all remember that fine White Swan foods are sold by a local wholesale house.

Construction is now underway on the new building for the Division office of General Telephone Company and construction will get underway soon on the Cotton Classing office, both fine additions to our city.

Two Hall County farmers, Zip Durrett and Ott Bevers, have driven thousands of miles and spent hundreds of hours of their time in making the cotton classing office possible for our city. Any development that is worthwhile takes time and usually money. This office will mean much to the farmers in this area . . . accurate cotton grades without delay will be available by the fall season. It will also bring many out-of-town people to our city.

All in all folks, the picture looks good. Let's march forward with progress and add another asset to our community . . . a place for people to meet . . . a community building. You will have a chance to voice your opinion on this matter July 1.

Speaking of a place to meet, the Memphis Little Theatre cancelled plans to present a summer play this week after taking into consideration the summer heat. The only auditorium available in Memphis suitable for play presentation is the high school auditorium, which is not air conditioned. This is fine for the school as air conditioning is not needed during the school term.

Do you enjoy bridge, canasta or forty-two? If so, plan to attend the informal game afternoon being sponsored by the 1913 Study Club Tuesday afternoon at the Country Club. Reservations may be made with Mrs. W. D. Davis, club president, and the cial is open to anyone who would like to attend.

In today's mail arrived a beautiful postcard from Lorraine Tarver, showing a picturesque scene outside the hotel where they were spending the night in Lucerne, Switzerland. Lorraine writes: "Sorry I can't find time to write something for the paper; but we are living on a pretty busy schedule. We must be in Europe at the very best time of the year for there is beauty everywhere; and take that with countries steeped in history is so interesting. Each day seems better than the one before." We are delighted Lorraine can have this wonderful holiday in Europe and are looking forward to a detailed account along with pictures when she arrives home early in July.

A new face about town this week is Patricia Ann Godfrey, who has accepted a position at Greenhaw Beauty Shop. Actually, Patricia is no stranger here as this was her childhood home. We are pleased she has chosen to return now that she is grown-up. Welcome back to Memphis, Patricia!

Mrs. Billy Thompson was sporting a suntan Monday morning—the likes of which we haven't seen in recent months. How did she acquire such a lovely tan . . . spent a week camping out in the wide open spaces with a group of Girl Scouts near Lefors.

We are a little sad for the hot, dry wind that has scorched our yard for the past few days . . . but oh, so glad, for the willing weeds and the creeping grass which at last have stopped their growth. Now you know who trims and hoses! Ran across this poem in Better Homes and Gardens which expresses to a tee what happens at our house:

There is no riddle to surpass
The mystery of growing grass,
Which bravely thrusts its tender stalks
Thru tiny cracks along the walk,
And thrives in crannies of the wall.
And in the flower beds grows tall,
And grows and grows, till summer's gone
On everything except the lawn.
Lest you get the wrong impression,
Herschel operates the lawn mower and the trimmer. But when the power driven machines stop . . . he stops!

And so with this thought we bid you adieu until next week: "The man who rows the boat doesn't have time to rock it!"
