From good cotton showers to heavy with some hail visited this Sunday night, and then after a heavy local down from one to two inches north of Newlin in about 30 miles. Then last night a front over and deposited nearly an inch of rain in Memphis, as evidently heavier east of it. Some farmers have lost from flooding rains but all the whole county's crops been helped more than damaged by rains.

Equal Time For Political Candidates On TV and Radio

A great controversy is brewing in the Congress as to whether or not radio and television stations should be required to afford equal opportunities to all candidates seeking public office to use the facilities of the broadcasting stations. The present law provides as follows:

"Sec. 315. (a) If any license shall permit any person who is legally qualified candidate for any public office to use a broadcasting station, he shall afford equal opportunities to all other such candidates for that office in the use of such broadcasting station: Provided, That such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast under the provisions of this section. No obligation is hereby imposed upon any licensee to allow the use of its station for any such candidate.

"(b) The charges made for the use of any broadcasting station for any of the purposes set forth in this section shall not exceed the charges made for comparable use of such station for other purposes.

"(c) The Commission shall prescribe appropriate rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section."

The present controversy stemmed from a complaint filed by a man by the name of Lar Daly, who has made several races for public office. In 1959 he was a candidate for nomination for Mayor on both the Republican and Democratic Tickets in the Chicago primaries. His complaint arose from the fact that the Mayor of Chicago, Richard Daley, was portrayed in some television newscasts greeting the President of Argentina, opening the Mother's March of Dimes, and filing his nominating petition for re-election as Mayor of Chicago. He complained that his Republican opponents had also appeared on news programs. The Federal Communications Commission issued a ruling to the effect that the several broadcasts referred to in the complaint had involved uses of the station's facilities within the meaning of Section 315 of the Communications Act and that Lar Daly was entitled to equal use of the facilities. The Columbia Broadcasting System requested reconsideration of this holding. The same request was made by the National Broadcasting Company and the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. Lar Daly, the original complainant, filed answers to these requests for consideration. On May 7, 1959, the Attorney General requested leave to file a petition in support of the petitions of the broadcasting companies, and subsequently filed its memorandum on the subject. The FCC considered all these matters and reaffirmed its previous ruling that Daly was entitled to equal time on the news programs. This caused a furor, and a number of bills have been introduced in Congress to change the law, in view of the ruling of the FCC. In fact, the President of the U.S., in a news conference, was quoted as saying that the decision was "ridiculous", and demanding that his Attorney General try to get the law changed.

This created additional furor, because it is the province of the Legislative Branch of the government to change the law and not the jurisdiction of the President or the Attorney General. There were changes that the President and Attorney General were attempting to influence the FCC and force it to reverse its previous ruling. These charges brought counter-charges that the Congress was trying to influence the FCC rather than the President. All of these discussions were combined together and the entire matter is now in the lap of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives. We are presently holding hearings on the subject, and they are most interesting. We invited the Attorney General to appear before the Subcommittee, but he chose to send a representative. I undertook to find out from this representative what the President was driving at when he used the term, "ridiculous". The Attorney General's representative advised that the Attorney General nor the President had used such term, but it had been used by Mr. Hagerty, the Press Secretary of the President, speaking on behalf of the President. He advised that the Attorney General simply took the position the decision was not founded on law, although the Attorney General did say in his memorandum the following: "Fair, yet comprehensive news coverage can be assured, not by applying Section 315 as the Commission has done in the Lar Daly case, but by a common sense application of the Communications Act, public interest 'standard', which requires television and radio to make a fair presentation of public issues." I was trying to determine whether the President, Mr. Hagerty and Attorney General Rogers thought the FCC is ridiculous and without common sense. This is very important, because if the President, his press secretary and Attorney General Rogers think the FCC is ridiculous and without common sense, it would do Congress no good to change the law. But, if on the other hand, these three fine gentlemen feel that the law as written is without common sense and ridiculous, then there may be some merit to the attempt to try to get Congress to change the law. Actually, the terms, "ridiculous" and "without common sense" are, in a degree, synonymous to me. Certainly an Act that is "ridiculous" is without common sense. Also, an Act "without common sense" should be ridiculous, medium ridiculous or well-done ridiculous.

In any event, after all this controversy, chaos and trouble is ground up in the mill, I feel sure proper steps will be taken by Congress during this session to insure the people of this country the opportunity to have full and complete information as regards all candidates for public office under the general principles of democracy, without surrendering to anyone a power to misuse the spectrum which belongs to the public.

Sue Hall Stone and Joe Pat Randal Marry Here in Church Rites June 27

The First Christian Church was the scene of the June 27 wedding of Sue Hall Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hall of Lakeview, and Joe Pat (Corky) Randal, son of Mrs. Howard Randal.

The double ring ceremony was read by Minister Charles Hamilton at 7:30 p.m. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. L. G. Rasco, who played the traditional wedding march and Mendelssohn's Recessional. Mrs. Charles Hamilton sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was decorated with pink tapers in branched candleabras, flanked by pink and white gladioli in tall baskets against a background of greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of pink lace over net and tulle, fashioned with a bouffant, waltz-length skirt, scalloped square neck, line and brief sleeves. The waist was accented by a pink chiffon cummerbund and bow. Her headband was made of pink tulle leaves, accented with seed pearls. She carried gardenias and tube roses on a hite Bible.

The bride carried out the traditional custom of wearing "something old, new, borrowed and blue." Her something old was a gold brooch pin, belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. L. Crawford of Memphis. The pin is over 54 years old. The new, her wedding dress, she borrowed was a single strand of pearls, belonging to the groom's mother, and something blue was a garter.

Carolyn Hall, of Lakeview, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a dress of white dotted swiss over deep rose cotton satin with a full waltz-length skirt and a sash of deep rose cotton. She wore a white head band and carried a bouquet of deep rose carnations.

Candle lighter was another of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Delbert Brandon of Colorado Springs, Colo. She wore a waltz-length dress of white embroidered organdy over white cotton satin with a sash of deep rose cotton. She wore a white head band and wrist-let of deep rose carnation.

Joe Williams served as best man. Ushers were Calvin Jackson and Gordon D. Maddox.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in their home in the Plaska community. The bride's table was covered with a snow-white Quaker lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. A bouquet of rose pink aster, flanked on either side by pink candles in crystal holders centered the table.

Mrs. Gerald Payne served the decorated tiered wedding cake, while Miss Minnieaune Rice presided at the punch service.

For travel to points south in Texas and to her new home in Ft. Worth, the bride wore a beige linen suit, white accessories and a gardenia corsage. She is a graduate of Lakeview and attended Midwestern University.

The groom is a graduate of Memphis High School. He was employed for a number of years with City Grocery here and recently accepted a position with Armour Company in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Smith, Stanley, Joyce, Janice, Jimmie, Lynetta and Benny of Amarillo, visited Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Magness of Bozeman, Mont. and formerly of Memphis, were visiting friends in Memphis this week.

Brenda Garrison, Johnny Todd, Marry June 27

Miss Brenda Ann Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Garrison of Hedley, and Johnny Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Todd of Memphis, were united in marriage Saturday night, June 27, in the Memphis Church of Christ.

Minister Tom Pickard performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends, before an altar flanked with white gladioli and pink carnations. The church was decorated for the occasion in pink and white.

The bride was attractively dressed in a wedding gown of white lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible. Serving as bridesmaid was Jeanie Heckman of Claude, niece of the bride. Best man was Calvin Todd, brother of the groom. Ushers were Chris Damants of Memphis, Tenn. and Bill Stout of Amarillo.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church with the principal feature being a beautiful two tiered wedding cake decorated with wedding bells. Mrs. Chris Damants served the cake and Miss Patsy Heckman served the delicious punch. Mrs. Gene Aikens presided over the register.

After a short honeymoon trip, the couple are at home at 818 Brice St. The groom is employed with the Vallance Food Store.

Editorial

Farmer Needs Spokesman

Never in the history of agriculture has the farmer needed a public relations expert and a spokesman more than he does today.

The latest pile of unverified tripe, lies and irresponsible reporting comes from Readers Digest, supposedly a condensed editorial from Life.

No such excuse exists for Readers Digest, which used to be an example of responsible reporting.

The article is titled "What you can do about the Incredible Farm Scandal." Don't buy the magazine for it isn't worth reading.

Another fantastic lie which is further spread is that the result of the farm program is that the consumer is having to pay higher prices for meat, bread and clothing.

To prove that fantastic lie let us turn to the latest government figures carried in Misc. Publication No. 712, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Marketing Service.

The bate is extended to the city dweller that to abolish the farm program would mean lower bread prices.

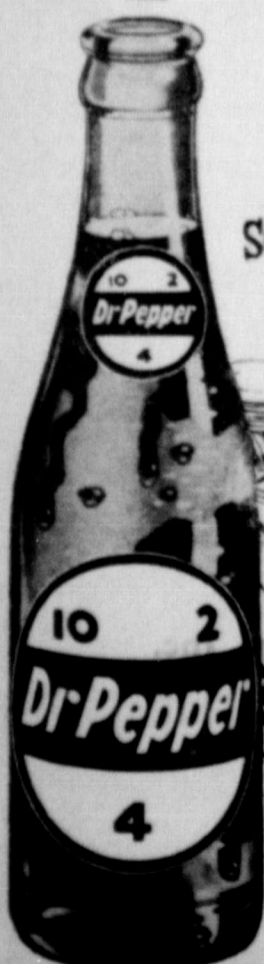

The farm program has been abused by some few farmers—both political parties have abused the farmer by trying to buy his vote at the polls.

BREAKING INTO THE BIG LEAGUE

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

The Real Issue

Most people expressing an opinion at all are fed up with the Texas legislature. Nine out of ten have no earthly idea of what is wrong, but they do know something is not right.

It is foolish to condemn the legislature and make wild statements concerning the behavior of its members unless one is sufficiently informed of the facts which govern their behavior.

The superficial thinker is concerned only with the cost of the special sessions and imagines that the legislators are playing around so as to boost their own incomes.

The issues involved are much more significant than the cost of these special sessions. The cost of the sessions is as chicken feed compared to the money which is going to come from some source during the coming years.

It's the same old fight that always prevails between Big Oil and Big Gas and the people of Texas. The brainwashers will tell us it is a liberal-conservative fight, inferring that all the good, honest, Godfearing, Lifeline following Americans are on one side while all the pinkos and radicals are on the other.

The representatives of these large, out-of-state oil and gas companies are determined that they are not going to pay their fair share of taxation. They are determined that a sales tax, in which those least able to pay will be required to shoulder more than their share of the tax load, be forced down the throats of the people of Texas.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr, who hopes to run for Attorney General if not for Governor with the financial support of the Big Rich, is doing his best to oblige his supporters.

The Big Rich control the Texas Senate, lock, stock and barrel, and Ben Ramsey is their fair haired boy.

Peddlers

We haven't checked recently but it seems to us there aren't as many peddlers hitting Raymondville as of old. Could it be it's the wrong season. Perhaps they've gone north with the ducks, geese and whooping cranes.

Time was in our younger days when just about everything imaginable was sold door to door. Wares included encyclopedias, magazines, religious tracts, brushes, pictures, vacuum cleaners, cosmetics, jewelry, health foods, knife sharpeners.

As a small boy we still shudder at the memory of pack peddlers who used to call at our house each spring. If you let him in the house he'd unpack trays of glittering trinkets—ear rings, signet rings, cartons of safety pins, needles, buttons, bracelets.

Perhaps the slickest most persuasive peddlers are out-and-out type. They will come to your door and with a great solemnity reveal that they have discovered termites undermining your house.

Whatever the tragedy overhanging you, for a mere $50 or so he will completely rid you of these pests.

Up in Ochiltree County Harold Hudson reports that some peddlers roam the street armed with saws and hatchets pointing out decayed tree limbs which are a danger to life and happiness as well as being unsightly.

You and the tree both can be trimmed for about $25.00.

Just about everybody falls a victim to a peddler sometime in his lifetime. Age or experience don't help our resistance to a fellow with a glib tongue.

Only most of us are ashamed to admit it.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Stanford

About the only cheerful remark around the Texas Legislative halls of late is, "Think how it would be if it weren't air conditioned!" Many remember summer sessions in pre-air conditioned days. The extraordinary was the session in 1949 which ran to July 6, the longest regular session in Texas history.

Lawmakers and reporters complained that the huge granite desks in the Capitol Walls collected heat like a dutch oven. Coat and tie rules in the legislative chambers added to the misery.

Some observers said that the 1949 Legislature (which also had a tax problem) didn't really quit. It just sort of melted down. A special session was called the next winter to clear up money problems.

For all its comforts, air conditioning hasn't taken the sweat out of passing a tax bill. Both House and Senate have passed tax bills, and a new conference committee was put to work to try to piece them together. But the floor action preceding passage gave no indication that any of the conflicting groups is ready to give an inch.

House membership is split three ways into (1) those who don't want the majority of new taxes to fall on business, (2) those who don't want a majority to be sales taxes and (3) those who apparently don't want any new taxes.

Each of the first two groups has been able to defeat the other's proposals with the help of the "no-taxers." Hence, despite public impatience and their own weariness, lawmakers have been ensnared in a one-step forward and two-backward pattern.

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW—Given to the conference committee on taxes were a new bobtailed bill from the House and an old, nearly full-size bill from the Senate.

House bill would raise about $106,000,000 over two years—about $70,000,000 less than is needed. Senate bill, designed to raise about $160,000,000, is the same one passed by the Senate in the first special session. It contains more sales taxes than business taxes which the House refused to accept on the last round.

Cut from the House bill before passage were the $50 deductible sales tax (a 2 per cent levy on costs over $50) and the natural gas severance beneficiary tax. Both fell by the wayside in one of the "if you kill my tax, I'll kill yours" sessions.

Remaining in the bill were levies on which the House has been able to agree all along — on cigarettes, liquor, auto sales and corporation franchises.

"New wrinkles" added were (1) a licensing fee for private clubs that sell liquor and a 10 per cent tax on mixing drinks and (2) a 1.5 per cent sales tax on boats, motors and airplanes.

Bill also contains a provision to cut the sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.03 a ton.

SENATE OKAYS BEACH BILL—After considerable haggling and several close votes, the Senate passed a bill to guarantee public access to public beaches.

Mustang and Padre Islands are exempted from the provisions of the bill. Senator Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, who sponsored the amendment, said that the islands were being developed with a systematic plan for public parks, beaches and recreation areas.

Opponents to the exemption said it would allow at least one-third of the beaches on the islands to be under private control.

As passed by the Senate, the bill does not try to define boundary between state and private land, but simply affirms are public's right to come and go from state beaches by way of roads.

NO DEADLOCK HERE—Easiest agreement of the session was on a bill appropriating money to pay legislative expenses.

Both House and Senate gave final passage to a bill transferring $400,000 from the cigarette tax fund to pay costs of the second special session.

This brings legislative expenses thus far to about $2,700,000.

LAND SALE APPROVED—House passed a bill that would allow the state to sell a tract of about 40 acres just north of the State Hospital in Austin.

State Hospital Board has declared the system does not need the land. Austin city officials would like to see it privately owned so property taxes could be collected on it. Location is such that it could be used for a shopping center.

Bill sets the minimum price at $1,500,000.

VA Assisting Disabled Vets Find Good Homes

The Veterans Administration is extending its nationwide "foster home" program to include physically disabled veterans, the agency said this week.

Established in 1951 to provide a normal home life for recovering mental patients, as a step in their return from the hospital to the community, the program has enabled thousands of VA mental patients to live with "adopted" families in private homes.

The veterans pay for their room, board, and care from their own funds.

The program for general medical and surgical patients will make use of boarding and nursing homes as well as private residences.

It will give physically disabled and aged veteran-patients help of VA social workers in finding a suitable place to live when they have no relatives who can provide a suitable home.

VA said volunteers from the communities are proving of invaluable aid in locating foster homes and in helping the disabled veterans adjust to community life again.

Request Made For Bandages by Cancer Chairman

Mrs. Ernest Lee and Mrs. Clifton Burnett, service chairmen for the Hall County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, this week requested all those who have bandages completed to bring them to the Memphis Democrat.

More than 200 bandages have already been turned in to the chairmen and are ready to be packed. "We would like to have all other bandages that are finished in order to pack them at the same time," Mrs. Lee explained.

Prior to this time 872 bandages have been completed by the women of Hall County. The bandages are sent to the district office of the Amarillo Cancer Society in Lubbock for distribution throughout the area to cancer patients in need of such service.

"We certainly appreciate the splendid cooperation the women of the county have manifested in this worthwhile project," the chairmen said. "Many clubs of the county as well as individuals have helped with the project."

The project is county-wide and any group who would like to help with the work can do so by contacting either Mrs. Lee or Mrs. Burnett. Bandages are made from old sheets or any similar material.

Earlier in the year the Memphis Girl Scouts assisted in collecting sheets for the project. Individuals

Man Behind Wheel Leading Cause of Traffic Accidents

What is the leading cause of traffic accidents? Bad weather? Poor roads? Mechanical failure?

"None of these in themselves," says J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association. "The number one cause of traffic accidents is the man behind the wheel."

"This is clear from recent Texas Department of Public Safety statistics which show that the three leading causative factors in rural fatal traffic accidents are: (1) Driving too fast for conditions, (2) Driving while drinking, (3) Disregarding warning or stop signs."

Musick said that other leading factors were: Driving on the wrong side of the road, did not have right-of-way, improper parking and following too closely.

"Aggressive safety programs, good law enforcement and specially designed superhighways all make an important contribution toward greater safety," Musick said. "But the key to the traffic accident is really in the hands of the driver himself."

Termites Can Be Controlled Says Entomologist

Don't get panicky if you think you have termites in your house. They aren't going to eat it down right away. This advice comes from James H. Hawkins, extension entomologist.

First make sure they are termites, he says. It's easy to mistake ants for termites. Your county agent can help make positive identification. If they are termites, take your time in deciding what to do as termites work slowly. You will have to know where they are getting into your home so look for their mud tubes. Termites build these tubes as travel routes when they are forced to bridge over concrete, brick, or other non-wood surface.

Use a flashlight and an ice pick and look for termite signs under porch steps, around inside cellar walls, crawl spaces, or outside window sills. Look for mud tubes coming out of the tops of hollow concrete blocks. Jab wood that is in contact with masonry or beams which are near the ground level. If the ice pick goes in readily, it is a sign of trouble.

Several chemicals which are effective and long-lasting in controlling termites if applied properly are chlordane, lindane, and diel-drin, says Hawkins. He suggests using the oil or water emulsion concentrate forms of these materials or wettable powders. Dig a trench around the foundation of your home, dilute the insecticide with water, and pour it into the trench at a rate of four gallons to every linear feet.

If the termites are coming through a crack in a slab of concrete, it may be necessary to drill 1/2-inch holes, one foot apart and six inches from walls and pillars, through the slab. Then pour the chemicals into the holes. Tackling a termite control is hard, dirty work. Even if you have the incentive, in case of concrete slabs with imbedded pipes, better leave it to a professional pest control operator, the entomologist advises.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

Sun glasses -- GOOD or BAD?

Many people ask optometrists every day "is it all right if I wear sunglasses?" The answer isn't exactly simple. Certain conditions of vision require sun lenses while others definitely do not. Light-sensitive vision (photophobia) often is a sign of infections in or near the eyes or in other parts of the body. If sun lenses are used in these cases, the real trouble might merely be covered up and the cause not discovered. Sun glare problems should be carried to your optometrist. Only by a thorough visual examination can he answer the question: "Are Sun Glasses Good or Bad for Me?"

C of C Directors Plan Breakfast For Waples-Platter Officials

Planning for a breakfast meeting honoring the officials of Waples-Platter Company of Fort Worth and Memphis took up much of the time of the regular July meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors in session at noon Monday at the Cyclone Drive Inn.

President Dick Fowler presided at the meeting which was attended by O. E. Bevers, A. L. Galley, Homer Tucker, Allen Dunbar, L. C. Martin, Les Sims, Dr. D. H. Aronofsky, Eddie Foxhall, V. C. Durrett, Jim Beeson and Clifford Farmer. Fowler said that the recently announced expansion of the Waples-Platter Company was very important because it demonstrated the faith this company has in the future of Memphis. The area now served by the local branch of this wholesale grocery firm has been more than doubled with the closing of the Vernon warehouse and transferring of that business here.

After discussion, it was agreed that the week of July 13-18 should be known as Waples-Platter Company week in Memphis as a means of expressing the community's appreciation of this new expansion program here.

V. C. Durrett reported that construction of the District Cotton Classing Office would get underway next week. This office, serving a 12-county district, will be one of the most complete and modern in the entire country, he said.

"The Case Of The Invisible Ear" Is Solved By Perry Mason

Erle Stanley Gardner was one of the first to discover what a tremendous advantage in both comfort and clarity "Target Hearing" brings to an ailing ear. "I can't begin to tell you how much satisfaction I get out of it," he says.

Erle Stanley Gardner, creator of "Perry Mason", says, "I think more people should realize the extent to which recent scientific discoveries can help in restoring lost hearing, just as glasses can sharpen dim vision". Like Mr. Gardner, you'll be amazed at the ease and clarity with which Otation's exclusive, patented "Target Hearing" lets you hear where you look. You'll be amazed, too, when you discover that with "Target Hearing" even your best friends may not know you're wearing a hearing aid unless you tell them. There are no irritating, old-fashioned cords or wires in your hair or clothing, no unsightly "blobs" behind your ear. With revolutionary "Target Hearing" a tiny, almost invisible tube leading to your ear brings you a whole, wonderful world of sound without the annoyance of unwanted "background" noises. Stop in today for a FREE test of your hearing—and try Otation's fabulous "Target Hearing" for yourself. You'll be under no obligation, of course.

therefore the proposition failed of approval.

Mayor Howell read a letter from Attorney Allen Harp of Childress, in which the lawyer asked that the City of Memphis hire him to collect delinquent taxes. After a short discussion, the aldermen voted to invite the attorney to meet with them next month, and discuss the matter further.

Appearing before the Council were Dick Fowler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Clifford Farmer, manager. Fowler asked the council to consider the establishment of street lights along Boykin Drive. He emphasized the fact that he was speaking as a private citizen, and went on to say that the new highway should be well lighted in order to better impress the motoring public.

Mayor Howell told the men that "the lack of money was the only reason new lights had not been installed." He promised that city officials will check into the matter again at an early date.

In other action, the Council decided to call in Shepperd Construction Company crew to do the seal coating of city's paved streets at an early date. It was pointed out that delay is being caused by the need to do repairing prior to seal coating. This work is presently being done by street department workmen, Alderman Rice stated.

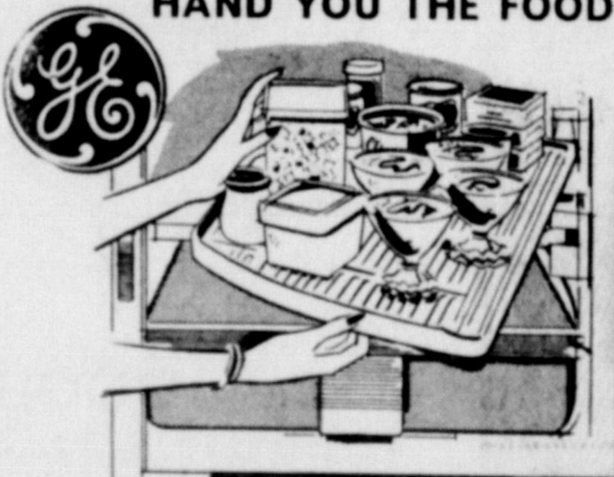

By unanimous vote, the aldermen decided to hire a supervisor to oversee the seal coating of the paved streets.

A petition was read requesting the city block off an alley in the south part of town. After lengthy discussion, the aldermen decided to get additional information before taking action upon the request.

Recognizing that the need is present to spray the city, the Council decided to perform this task at an early date. Several citizens had reported to officials that mosquitoes, flies and other insects had become too numerous, and had requested that "fogging" be done as soon as possible.
