Cotton Begins Flowing To Classing Office This Week

1300 Bales In First Two Days

GINNERS from a 12-county area around Memphis began shipping cotton here Monday for classing at the building and facilities of the Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. was put to use for the first time, V. C. Durrett, president of the organization, announced.

A. E. Anthony, officer in charge of the operation for the government, said that a total of about 1,300 bales had been classed by Thursday morning.

The cotton received Monday was stored overnight for humidification purposes and then Tuesday 530 bales were classed. Wednesday 772 bales were classed and it was estimated that samples from 1000 bales would be received Thursday.

At present Anthony and one other classer are on duty. There are three clerks employed and one laborer. Anthony stated that the staff would be enlarged as the volume of bales increased.

The Rolling Plains Cotton Producers, Inc. provide the building and equipment for the operation and Dept. of Agriculture furnish the personnel and pay utilities for the part of the year the plant is in operation.

The cost of the classing office is estimated at about $50,000. Farmers from the 12-county area will pay for the office by donating 25¢ per bale from their harvest this year. Area gins provided for early construction of the office by letting the organization have the money in advance.

Man Injured In Accident On Highway 287

Troy Crosley, 34, of Vernon received injuries Monday about 3:50 p. m. when his car went off an embankment about 10 miles south of Memphis on Highway 287.

Highway Patrolmen stated that Crosley lost control of his vehicle and it slid off an embankment near a bridge, dropping about 20 feet. Damage to the car was extensive. Crosley was not injured seriously.

Charges were filed against the man for exceeding a safe speed. The road is under construction.

Eight More Days To Enter Annual Cotton Guessing Contest

Readers have eight days to enter the annual cotton guessing contest sponsored by The Memphis Democrat. The contest closes Saturday, Oct. 3, at 5 p. m.

This is the contest in which readers of The Democrat estimate the number of bales of cotton to be produced in Hall County this season.

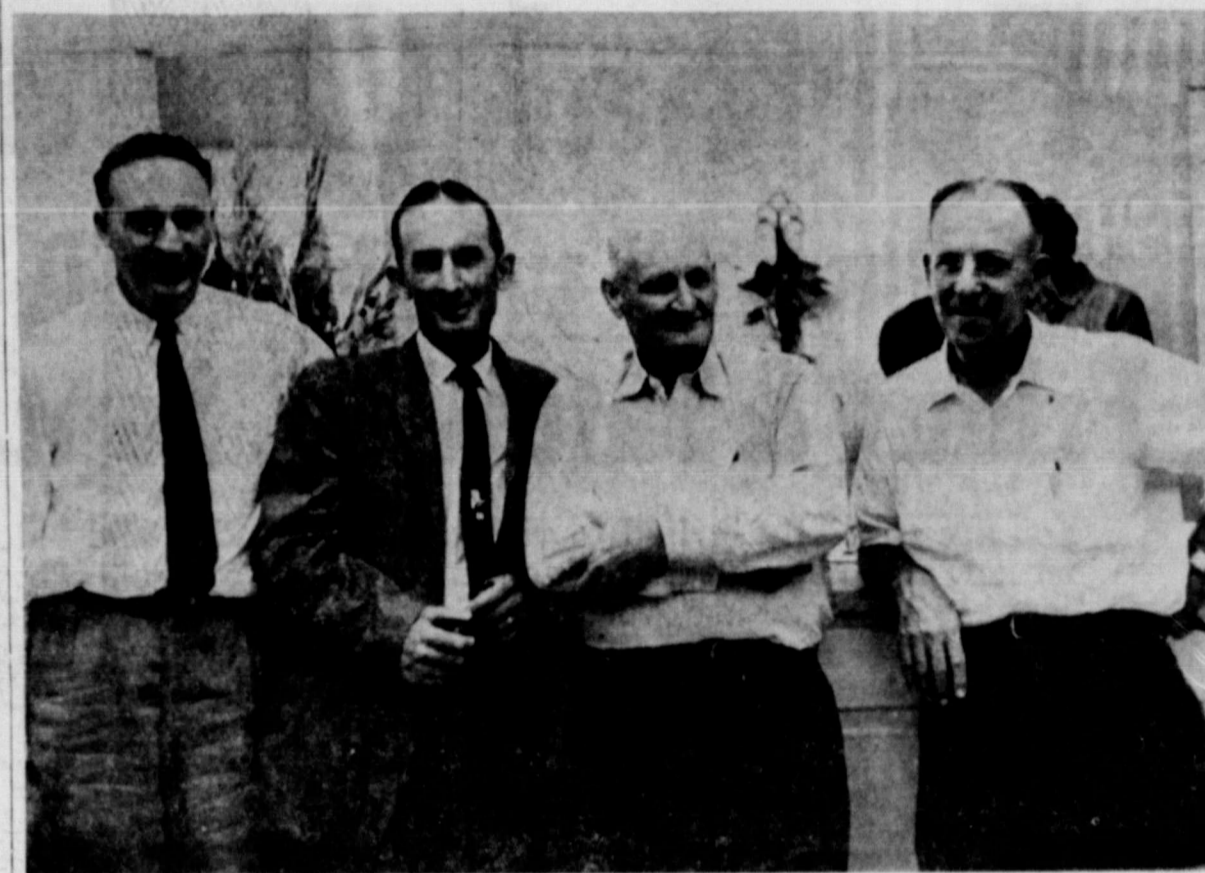

All you have to do to enter is come by the office and list your guess. If you prefer, you may mail the guess in by card or letter. No guesses will be accepted by telephone. Persons should be sure to include their name and mailing address, in addition to their estimate of the cotton production.

Elsewhere on this page is the cotton history of the county for several of the past years. It is estimated that there is about 84,000 acres of cotton in the county at this time.

The person who guesses closest to the actual number of bales ginned will receive a three-year subscription to The Democrat. Second place guesser will receive a two-year subscription and the third place winner will be awarded a one-year subscription.

Any reader of this newspaper is eligible to enter the contest. It is not restricted to any area or state. The winners will be determined by figures released by the U. S. Department of Interior, usually in March.

Tour of Demonstrations On Farms Held Here Recently

Thirty-one Hall County farmers, businessmen, agricultural representatives and out-of-county visitors toured the county September 10, inspecting the various result demonstrations being carried out here under the pilot-farm program, County Agent W. B. Hooser said this week.

The Northwest Texas Result Demonstration Program is under the supervision of representatives of the various state experiment stations, and Extension Service personnel. The field day was the third guided tour of the result demonstrations which have been underway in Hall County.

Extension Service and Experiment Station officials on hand for the event included: Roy Quimby, supt. of the Chilloothe Experiment Station; Wayne McCully, Experiment Station specialist from College Station; B. J. Ragsdale, range specialist from College Station; and J. G. Simmons, district agent from Vernon.

The tour started from the county court house at 9 a. m. and stopped first at the A. L. Gailey farm where the group viewed at Johnson grass eradication demonstration. Five different plots, which included four rows of cotton, were treated with HCA and diesel, C-56 and diesel, Dowpon and water (1 to 5 gal. water), Dowpon and water (1 to 10 gal. water), and napha and diesel. Two check rows were left between each plot.

The second stop was at the Cecil Stargel farm where a grass demonstration planted in 1957 was viewed. Grasses included in the demonstration were six different strains of cane bluestem, four of little bluestem, five of planes bristly grass, twelve of side-oats gramma and two of switch grass.

The group then went to the Brown Smith farm where they visited a sorghum fertilizer result demonstration. The plot size was six rows wide and entire length of the field for each treatment. The soil test showed very low in N and P, and high in K. The fertilizer was applied before planting in twenty inch bands. The six row plots were as follows from south to north; 32-40-0, 16-20-0, 8-10-0, 20-0-0, and 30-0-0.

Third stop of the group was a hybrid grain sorghum demonstration on the Harold Hodges farm. The strain most promising for this area seems to be a cross between 7078 and Koffer, called Hybrid 610. The yield date last year on this demonstration are as follows: 2931x7000 — 3973; RS610 — 38-99; Texas 611 — 3561; RS630 — 3529.

The group visited a mesquite control demonstration of Mrs. Edd Hillhouse's farm near Lakeview. The basal bark treatment was used with a mixture of one pint of 2,4,5-T in three gallons of diesel oil. The tree trunks were sprayed about 12 inches above the ground line until runoff to the ground was noticeable. Trees that were five inches or more in diameter were friled before treatment.

Fifteen gallons of diesel oil and five pints of 2,4,5-T were used in this demonstration. There were 97 sprouts treated.

The group then visited a cotton variety result demonstration on the Del Wells farm and the Paymaster Gin. Eight rows were planted side by side the entire length of the field of each of the following: Acala, Northern Star 11, Lockett 88, Paymaster 54B, Paymaster 105, Gregg, Western Stormproof, Empire, Texcala 54-55, Rex, Blightmaster and Delta-pine.

Highway Traffic South Rerouted

Through traffic south of Memphis for the next week will be routed east and then south to Childress over Highways 256 and 83 while work on Highway 287 is underway, according to an announcement this week.

Grade revision work is underway on the 20-mile stretch of highway and the road should be used only by those persons living in the area.

After a busy time all during the week, many people started Monday the same way, by having a picnic at City Park. The day was spent mostly in visiting and with former neighbors and friends. As one man expressed it: "One sees more acquaintances of years in a few hours at Hall County annual picnic than he can see by traveling hundreds of miles and several days."

Three or four from California were here from the longest distance away. Among them were George Burbee, 93, of Redlands, who still owns property around (Continued on Page 12)

Small Business Adm. Man Explains Program

Dick Teddlie of the Small Business Administration office in Memphis addressed about 40 members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development Monday night in a meeting at the Cyclone Drive

President Dick Fowler served as emcee of the ceremonies, and introduced the speaker.

Teddlie spoke to the group on "The Small Business Administration Is and What It Does." He explained to the group that was created in July of 1953, made a permanent organization in July of 1958.

His main interest to the group was his explanation concerning the rules about Industrial Development. It is possible for an industrial foundation to receive special aid from the SBA in an amount up to 80 per cent of the cost of constructing facilities for a manufacturer.

He explained that the SBA was set up to provide long-term loans to small businesses. The organization does not compete with banks or other lending agencies but provides a place where money may be secured when other financing is not available. He also explained that the agency will make loans on only sound business investments, stating that the loss record was less than one-tenth of one per cent.

The organization not only may make direct loans but may also participate with other lending agencies. Any business with an annual gross of less than one million dollars is considered a small business in the retail field. In wholesale and other fields, the annual gross limit is five million.

In explaining how the organization might help the local Industrial Foundation, Teddlie stated that the local organization might put up 20 per cent of the amount needed to provide a building, etc., for a manufacturer and the SBA would loan the other 80 per cent.

The loan would be for 10 years and renewable for another 10 years, at an interest rate of five and one-half per cent. The loan could be used for construction, expansion, conversion or acquisition of land.

Making the visit with Teddlie was E. D. Alexander, real estate editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Alexander interviewed several local people for articles scheduled for the Sunday Fort Worth paper.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Washington and Khrushchev
Everyone seems to be writing about the Khrushchev visit to the United States. There is little more that can be said which you have not already heard or seen. However, there are a few items in which I thought you might be interested. One is a story which was carried in the Washington Evening Star. A comparison was being made of the different news accounts of Khrushchev's arrival, as written in the different countries. The Evening Star had the following observation in its story:

"According to an Associated Press dispatch from Moscow, Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, reported to the Russian people: 'The bulk of the Washington population (waving handkerchiefs and flags) are employed by private firms, but if private firms. There are very few workers.'"

We do not know whether the few workers referred to had reference to some of those employed by the government, or those employed by private firms, but if the reference was to the latter, it would indicate that there are no workers in the Soviet Union, since there are no private firms and everyone is an employee of the government, directly or indirectly.

I do not know whether this story was carried in other papers, but it was carried in Washington only in the paper referred to, and I have seen no reference to it since. Since there are so many government employees here, perhaps there was some fear that someone might get offended.

Another item which should be explained has to do with the adjournment of Congress. There seemed to be a feeling in many quarters that the Congress was rushing toward adjournment in order to avoid being in session when the Russian Premier came to town, and having to face the decision of whether or not to invite him to a Joint Session of the Congress. Such was not the case at all. There were some Members who felt there should be a Joint Session and that Khrushchev should be permitted to address it in order for the Members to have a firsthand look at the head man in Russia. However, these were private expressions and had nothing to do with the business of Congress. The Congress had been working diligently in an effort to try to adjourn in the early days of August. However, the work at hand did not permit this. Once this was realized, every effort on the part of the Members of the House and Senate was aimed at trying to adjourn at the earliest possible time. This was certainly indicated by the fact that once we got to where adjournment was in sight, we stayed in continuous session all night long in order to get it done. The end came shortly after

NEW CITIZEN . . . Mrs. Marie Poburka recently achieved two goals: her 100th birthday and her U. S. citizenship. The young American lives in Chicago.

6:00 a. m. on the morning of Sept. 15. I can assure you that every Member of Congress was happy over adjournment and was ready to go home. Speaking for myself, I was happy that the Session was ending and extremely happy that the all-night session was over, because I am not qualified at a Night Owl. I like to go to bed early.

The security in the Nation's Capital during Khrushchev's visit has been handled with the greatest finesse. The plain-clothes people have done a splendid job, as well as the uniformed officers. Every precaution has been taken to avoid an incident that could catapult this country into or near an armed conflict. The people themselves have displayed the traditional dignity and courtesy for which our country is famous. They have conducted themselves in a manner exemplifying the splendid training of a good mother and father in a family atmosphere. I am sure that the same manners will be exhibited in other areas of the country.

Soil Conservation News

At this time of the year, as hunting season opens, our interests in wildlife is revived. But, does this interest last long enough? Do we just think about the birds and animals during hunting season, or do we think and plan for wildlife all during the year?

There are very few people that do not enjoy our wildlife. Some enjoy just observing birds and animals in their natural habitat, to others there is no greater thrill than hunting and shooting game, and to others their main enjoyment comes from eating the harvested game.

To insure a continuing supply of wildlife we must make sure that they have ample food and cover, from which they can find year round nourishment, cover in which to hide, and cover in which to nest and raise their young.

There are many ways that we, as farmers and ranchers, can maintain and improve the wildlife of our area. One of the main things is providing food. During the summer, birds and animals usually have no trouble finding plenty to eat. The cold winter months are the critical months for wildlife. We can help them by leaving grain unharvested near the borders of our fields or in areas of the fields that are unhandy to harvest. Another practice that is a great aid to wildlife is to leave stalk fields standing through the winter. Wildlife find food and cover in these fields.

Overgrazing of our native rangeland is a major cause of short food supplies, as well as destroying much needed cover.

We see the natural habitat of wildlife being destroyed in our area every day. We see fence rows being torn down or burned off. And occasionally we still see native rangeland being burned off. Do you think the monetary benefits derived from these practices offsets the destruction of the habitat of the insect eating birds and the homes of our beneficial insects? Also, what about leaving the land open to the destructive forces of wind and water erosion?

Wildlife can be given a great assist by planting food and cover plants, especially for wildlife. Certain shrubs and bushes furnish food, cover, and nesting sittings. Some grasses that provide excellent food and cover are blue panic, switchgrass, lovegrass, and blue-stems.

Reports of what ample cover and food will do for wildlife are heard from over the district nearly every day, especially from areas that have been put in the Conservation Reserve Program. Most of these fields provide ample year-round cover and food for wildlife.

Your Local county agent, game warden, or Soil Conservation Service technician can give you information and guidance in developing and maintaining good food and cover for wildlife.

group singing was led by Buster Helm. Rev. Richard Avery gave the meditation. In her annual greeting message, Mrs. Hamilton said, "In order to have an effective program we have to have workers who are willing, courageous and enthusiastic." Following the president's message, Mrs. Lynn McKown gave an outline of the program for the year which is entitled, "Vision and Venture."

Members of the fifth grade, under the direction of Miss Zady Belle Walker, gave a clever skit portraying the year's programs.

B. J. Thomson, principal, introduced the teachers and Supt. W. C. Davis and County Supt. Tops Gilreath to the group.

During the tea hour, lovely refreshments were served from a tea table centered with a large apple, carrying out the well-known expression, "An Apple for the Teacher." Presiding at the table were Mrs. R. C. Lemons, and Mrs. Wendell Harrison.

Preceding the tea, an executive board meeting was held. Plans for the District 19 workshop, which will be held here on October 6, were made. The meeting will be held in the First Christian Church beginning at 9 a. m. A luncheon will be served at the noon hour and tickets are $1.50. Senator Ralph Yarborough Calls for Passage of Omnibus Farm Bill in 1960

Monday, Sept. 14, U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough called for passage of an omnibus farm bill the second session of the 86th Congress, which will convene in Washington in January, 1959. The senator's plea was made in the Senate the last full day of the session in session prior to the adjournment on the morning of Sept. 15.

He termed the farm bill "renewal legislation, as important as labor legislation which took so much of our time and effort in the past."

In addition, he told the Senate Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and the Administration that he was "an utter lack of confidence" in the Administration's handling of the farm problem.

"It is my strong hope," he said, "that despite the dying-days condition of this administration, continuing heavy threat of a strong and effective farm bill in the second session."

Senator Yarborough, who has sponsored several agricultural bills, said, "It is a matter of regret that the public record of the Administration has lacked the will or the ability to present any constructive program to America's trouble on the farm. Instead, Benson whistles through a graveyard of bankrupt farms, glibly posting statistics to show that surviving farms' gross income is higher, but net income is lower, his unit cost of production is higher and his unit price is lower, and that only 20 per cent of the nation's farmers have gone broke in the last seven years."

He quoted from two articles published in the September edition of the National Union Farmer, a publication of the Farm-Union.

Along with farm reporter John M. he asked, "Is the Department of Agriculture anti-farmer? If it is not — it certainly acts like it is."

Mr. Harms' article, originally published in the County Agent and Vocational Agriculture Teacher Magazine, points out the Agriculture Department is the Cabinet agency charged with looking out for the farmers' interests. Instead, Senator Yarborough quoted Reporter Harms as saying, the USDA "has a six-year record of advocating legislative changes intended to withdraw benefits from the industry for who it acts as spokesman."

Senator Yarborough commented, "Appointing Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to administer national farm laws in which he has no faith is about as sensible as naming a Moslem Muezzin to head the Baptist Church in America."

The second article, written by Charles Bailey, Washington correspondent for the Des Moines Register, sets out twelve statements about agriculture termed "false and misleading which are being circulated these days and the story debunks every one of them."

Pointing to the need for a farm bill, Senator Yarborough said, "In this period of all-time high cost of living, the plight of the family farm operator has gone from bad to worse. During President Truman's last four-year term, net farm income averaged $14.3 billion a year. During the Eisenhower Administration, net farm income has averaged only $12.3 billion annually and has resulted in some 800,000 farmers being driven from their land."

"All of us, Mr. President, must assume some degree of responsibility for our inability, our failure, to legislate an omnibus farm bill. Nothing is more important to the long-range health economy of this nation than finding a system under which farm families can receive a fair return for their farm products."

"It is my belief that in the final analysis, Agriculture Secretary Benson and the Administration must be held largely accountable for the fact that a strong bill for farmers was not worked out."

IN FOR A CLIPPIN'... or he'll get a whippin', from barber dad, KJH Killgaard is makin' a pippin' of a ricket but dad Karl clips on.

Since his election to the Senate in 1957, Senator Yarborough has authored a bill to help farmers rebuild land ruined by drought or flood, and has co-sponsored measures to help spread farm surpluses around equally, help grain sorghum and wheat growers, to encourage disposal of surplus at home and abroad and further research into new methods of using agricultural products in industry.

E. H. Saunders Return From Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Saunders have returned home recently after a ten-day vacation trip touring Oklahoma, Arkansas, Montana, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

Touring highway 7 through the Ozark National Forest was a very beautiful drive, they said. They visited the Marble Falls Trout Farm near Harrison, Ark., and the Mystic Cave.

They stayed two nights at Lakeview, Ark., where they enjoyed trout fishing on the white river. The Saunders then crossed Norfolk Lake on the ferry over to Henderson, Ark. There were 16 cars and pickups aboard. They also visited a large fish hatchery at Norfolk Dam, where they saw trout of all sizes.

They crossed Tennessee, Mississippi and Ohio Rivers and visited the Tobacco farms at Hopkinsville, Ky., as well as the birthplace and monument of President Jefferson Davis.

They also visited Mammoth Cave National Park of Kentucky. While looking through the Mammoth Historical Cave they saw a skeleton of an Indian, which was found in 1935. He was under a large rock which had fallen on him.

When they came out of the cave they boarded the Miss Green River, a 50-foot, twin diesel powered cruiser for a 12 mile trip through scenic areas of Green River.

The Mammoth Cave National Park is one of the world's largest networks of cavern corridors, and is situated beneath the 51,000 acres of picturesque hills and valleys of the park.

They toured on the turnpike from Elizabeth, Ky., to Louisville, Ky., and from Kentucky they continued through Indiana and Illinois.

On the way back they camped for two days and fished at the Bullshoals Lake in Peel, Ark. They visited the Bullshoals Dam Power Plant and visited inside the large dam where they saw a film on how the dam was operated and constructed. They also visited the Indian Museum at Anadarko, Oklahoma.

Special Legal Remedies

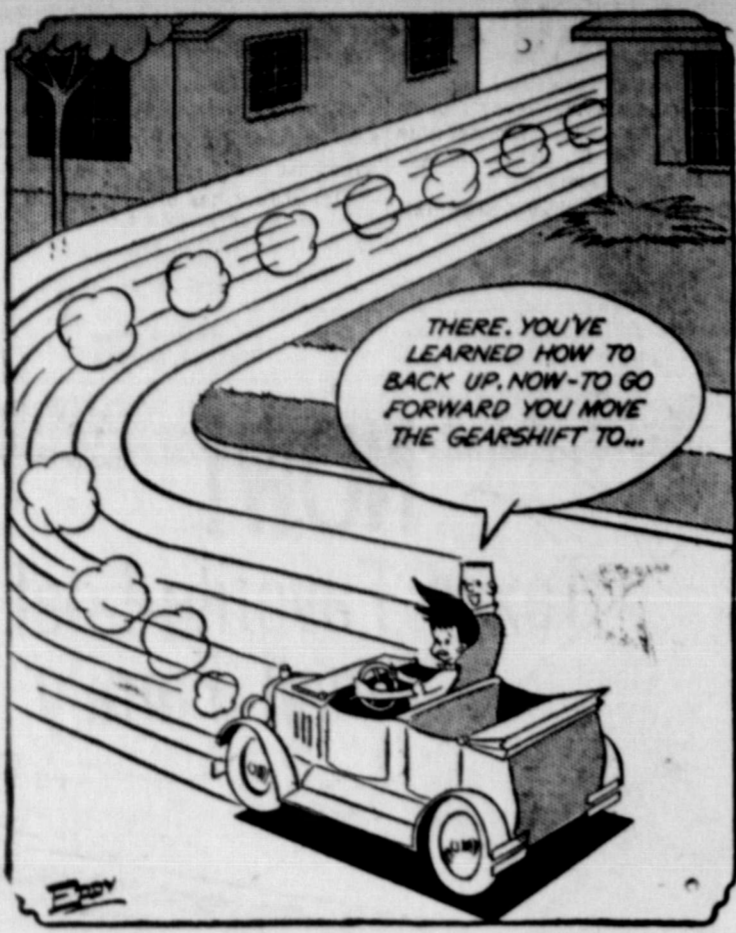

Sometimes you see newspaper stories telling how various courts have issued "injunctions" to protect the owner of a patent from infringing, to stop someone from putting up a building which would be a hazard to the neighbors, or to prevent some other type of activity which might harm one or more persons. Occasionally you read where a "write of mandamus" has been directed against some public official. This column will briefly explain both of these extraordinary legal remedies.

The injunction got its name because in the old days the English King commanded ("enjoined") special action when an ordinary court action could not solve a problem at hand. Today it is an order requiring a person (or corporation) to refrain from doing a particular act.

As a rule, one would first get a "Temporary Restraining Order" which would stop someone from doing something harmful — like polluting a stream or annoying the peace of your home. By granting it the judge preserves the status quo until a hearing has been held to hear both sides of the controversy. Usually, if you want an injunction, your lawyer will take sworn statements into court to show that your grievance is one which could be taken care of only by an injunction.

Often you must put up bond to make up for any damage you do to the other side if the court doesn't see things your way.

After you've made your request, the court arranges to hear the other side. They must "show cause" why the injunction should not be issued. Because most injunctions deal with immediate problems, the court hears the merits of such a case in a very short time.

After the temporary injunction is issued, a "permanent" injunction may be obtained or either party may start a lawsuit to settle the problems which the temporary injunction has cleared up for the moment.

If the court grants an injunction, it must be served on the defendant to be effective. Then if he disobeys the order, he is disobeying the court and is subject to a fine or a jail term for "contempt of court."

"Mandamus" is a special remedy used to right wrongs or enforce proper action by a public official.

When we elect public officers to work for us, we place a great deal of authority in their hands. Sometimes they fail to do their lawful duty. One way to make a government official do his job is to ask the court for a writ of mandamus.

Brownie Troop No. 2 Meets Mon

The Brownie Troop No. 2 met in the Methodist Church Annex Sept. 21 at 3:30 p. m.

President Sue Lynn Parker called the meeting to order. The opening ceremony was the pledging allegiance to the flag. All Brownies present answered roll call by repeating Brownie Scout Promise.

They had a study of nature by mounting, and gathered different kinds of leaves for their scrap book.

Kay Coppedge served refreshments to the following members: Susan Booth, Holly Clark, Perry Jo Glover, Kay McQueen, and Sue Lynn Parker. Leaders present were: Mmes. Grover Booth, Robert Clark and J. W. Coppedge. Guest present was Franklin Scott.

Tax Man — SAM SEZ

Every year the Internal Revenue people are somewhat startled and perhaps a bit amused at the comment, "Well, I guess you folks don't have very much to do now that you have got all caught up with the income tax filing."

Of course, income tax is only one of the many Federal taxes that Internal Revenue enforces, even though it is a big one; however, tax payments and filing deadlines fall throughout the year. There are several tax deadlines in every month of the year. Perhaps the most conclusive proof of the Internal Revenue Service can offer, that taxes are collected on many dates throughout the year besides on April 15, is the figure of $82,925,591.71 collected from North Texas living in the Dallas District during the month of July. July is a small collection month. The biggest collection month is February. But January and February are almost bigger than any you look at it, it takes lots of big problems.

Several thousand taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office every year on a tax audit that concerns their contributions. A large part of these find themselves in the uncomfortable position of having no records of their contributions. Making contributions to the church and charitable organizations by check is a good practice and will furnish you with a record if your tax return is audited. Under our present laws is pays most taxpayers keep good records.

Firemen Will Again Park Cars At Football Game

Local firemen and school officials this week expressed appreciation for the cooperation of fans in parking in an orderly manner at the football stadium at the last home game.

Firemen will again direct traffic this week and stated that the greatest problem encountered last week was from people who brought members of their family to the event and then wanted to leave. They explained that if the persons would follow the directions of firemen, they would be directed out of the park by way of the entrance located immediately east of the vehicle gates into the field.

They also stressed the fact that by going up 16th Street and then approaching the stadium from the north, fans could make a right turn into the parking area and avoid having to make a left-hand turn across the highway.

The 1960 conference will provide the rallying point for a concerted attack on virtually every question that affects the well-being of the next generation.

“Since it is felt that every citizen in Hall County has a vital stake in the future well-being of our young people, we are asking your suggestions as to how we might improve service in our community and state to meet the needs of children and youth,” Judge Davis said.

A Gain In World Politics

Our important visitor from Russia, Nikita S. Khrushchev, has just about completed his visit in this country, and from the many thousands of words which have been written and spoken about the man, American citizens have gained a lot of knowledge about the Russian leader.

We think the people of the U. S. can be happy that there is an intelligent man at the head of the Russian system. For with a man in charge who has the brains to realize the power of the United States and her allies, the chance of another war is lessened.

This, in our opinion, is the greatest danger which exists in the world today—the possibility of the opposing forces under-estimating our capabilities. This is one of the great benefits which we think has been achieved by the visit of Khrushchev.

A less intelligent man like Stalin might be tempted to ignore these things and to try the old policy of brute force, but we believe that as long as the U. S. continues to stay strong, Khrushchev will not gamble on losing a major war.

The New Labor Law

President Eisenhower has signed into law the labor bill over which Congress fought so many months. The Dept. of Labor has geared itself to enforce this new law, which was brought on by the fraud, cruelty, exploitation of gangsterism revealed by the 2 1/2-year investigation of the Senate's McClellan Committee.

This is the law which George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, calls the most damaging anti-labor bill since the Taft-Hartley Act.

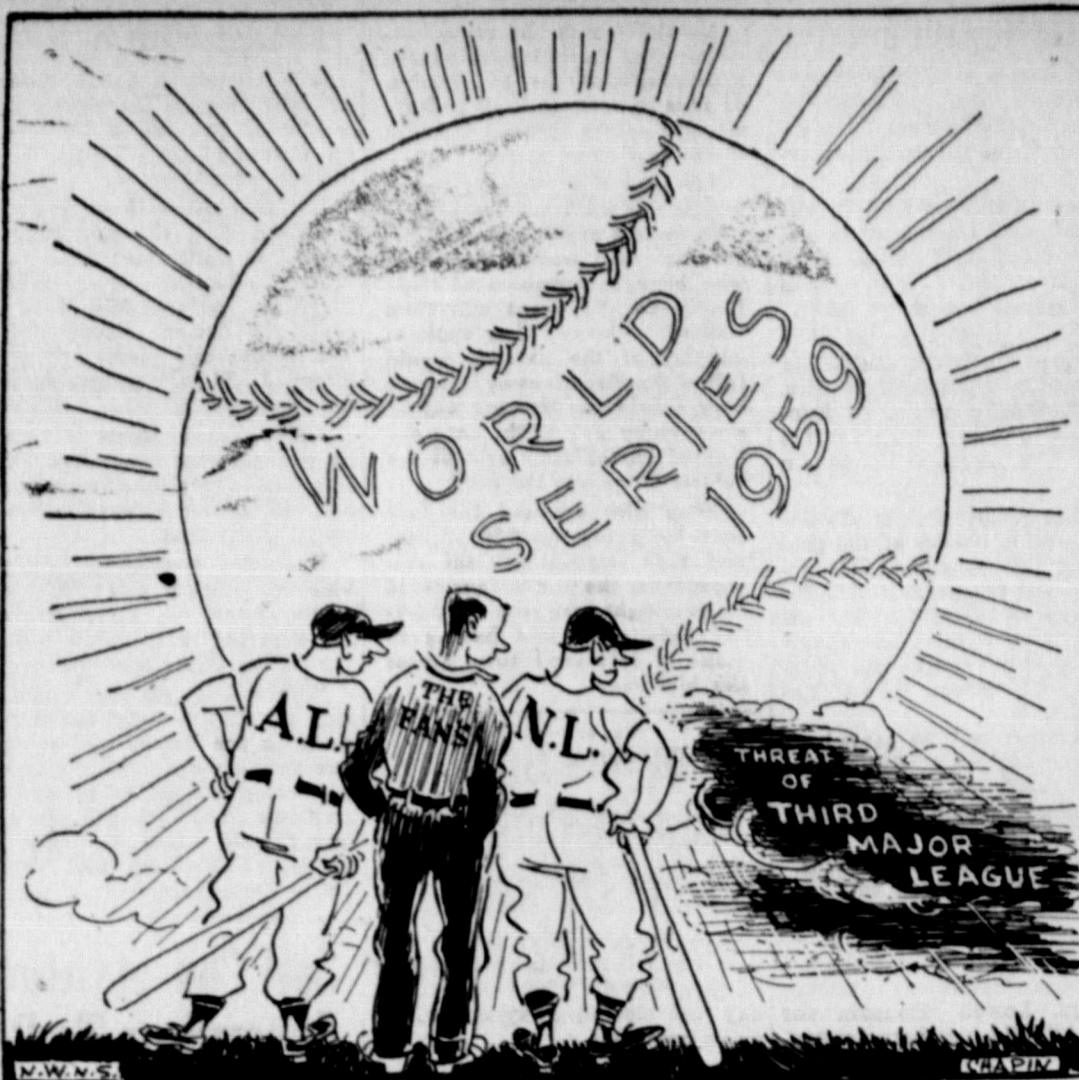

Since the Taft-Hartley law was passed in 1947, unions have grown and prospered. Their treasuries have fattened, their rights to demand more wages and benefits have been unaffected, their freedom to strike unhampered.

If the new law is half as "bad" as Mr. Meany's views hold it to be, labor unions are headed for an even more flourishing era.

If the aims of the new law are attained, this indeed should be the result: for the bill raises the voices of union members in managing their own affairs, requires the officers to publicly account for union funds, provides for secret ballots, bars officers with criminal records, punishes embezzlements and, by its restrictions on goon activities restores respectability to the union movement.

It also reduces the latitudes for abuse and arrogance on which some union bosses have thrived, and even got rich, under the Taft-Hartley law. If this is "damaging" to the honest labor movement, we had better re-define the word—The Fort Worth Press.

CLOUD ON THE HORIZON

Press Paragraphs—

QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Junior Senator Daily News Washington Bureau writer Vernon Louvrieu tells of the solutions Ralph Yarborough has found to the problems facing a junior senator.

Working in the shadows of a man like Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson has not been easy but Ralph Webster Yarborough is surely but surely making his own mark as the junior senator from Texas.

Working ceaselessly and apparently tirelessly, Yarborough is building for himself a reputation in Washington that is certain to appeal to large blocs of voters when he comes up for re-election in 1964, if that is his will.

The senator has aligned himself closely with legislation designed to help farmers, working people, small businessmen, veterans, servicemen and the aged, just to name a few. Yarborough also frequently goes to bat for some of the people who fight him the hardest.

When Yarborough promised he would work hard if elected to the Senate he meant every word of it. He has delivered and in great quantities.

It is not unusual to find the senator at his desk well after midnight when everyone else has gone home. After a few hours sleep he is back on the job before most of his senatorial colleagues have finished their second cup of coffee.

Yarborough came to Washington following a special election in April, 1957, to fill the unexpired Senate term of Gov. Price Daniel. He won afield of 19 candidates, nosing out a fellow Democrat, former Congressman-at-large Martin Dies of Lufkin, and the lone Republican candidate, Thad Hutcheson of Houston.

Last November, Yarborough earned for himself a full six year Senate term by defeating Dallas millionaire William Blakely. Blakely had served briefly as interim senator after Daniel dropped out to become governor.

When it comes to sheer political perseverance Yarborough has few equals. Three times he tried to go to Austin as governor—in 1952, 1954 and 1956—and three times he was turned down by the voters. Still paying off debts incurred in these three elections, Yarborough turned his attention to Washington, and victory finally was his.

Yarborough apparently is content to make a career of the Senate. At a press conference last August he surprised reporters by indicating he had no desire to taking a fourth crack at the governorship.

If background alone were enough to win election, Yarborough could probably attain any office in the land. His biography says that he has been "a farm and wheat harvest hand, oil field worker, country school teacher, lawyer, assistant attorney general, district judge, overseas soldier and civil servant."

Yarborough puts in a lot of time on his three Senate committees—labor and public welfare, interstate and foreign commerce and post office and civil service.

He also is chairman of the veterans affairs and civil service sub-committees.

Yarborough, whose family has been in Texas since the 1840's, was born in 1903 at Chandler in Henderson County. He spent a year at West Point and one term at Sam Houston State Teachers College. Then he taught for three years in the rural schools of Henderson County. In 1927 he was graduated with honors from the University of Texas law school.

While serving as an assistant attorney general, Yarborough wrote the opinion that started Texas leasing of her tidelands and also authorized Texas' first underground water conservation law.

Yarborough married his boyhood sweetheart, the former Opal Warren of Henderson County, in 1938. Their son, Richard, is a lawyer on the senator's Washington staff.

Automobile-bicycle collisions during 1958 injured 59,300 persons.

The tune of the Marine's Hymn, first sung after the Mexican War in 1847, occurs in an old Spanish folk song and in the French comic opera "Genevieve de Brabant" by Jacques Offenbach.

Retail spending for boating this year is expected to top $2,400,000,000 for the first time, according to latest figures.

This issue of the Memphis Democrat is the smallest in number of pages that has been published in many months. Early in the week, it was seen that the Fair edition would not be ready to issue Thursday afternoon, the regular date of publication for the paper. This was occasioned because all advertisements could not be gotten in the paper by this time.

Why we built two cars for 1960... as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium. And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

The pep squad also met and elected Mrs. Jess Whittington as sponsor for the year. They will wear red and white costumes.

The pep squad officers were elected as follows: Retha Kennard, president; Karen Clements, vice president; Winnie Nabers, secretary and treasurer, and Jane Miller, reporter.

The pep squad and new cheerleaders performed for the first time at the game Friday night at the Eagles' Friday night Amato play Boys Ranch.

Social Security

Social Security records are as complete and accurate as human dedication and electronic automation can guarantee. The percentage of error is very small. The working public may rest assured on this point.

However, as in any human undertaking, error does creep in.

The sources of error are:

1. Inaccurate reports sent in by some employers.
2. The failure of a few employers to send in any reports at all.
3. Employees who use wrong social security numbers.
4. Employees who fail to notify the Social Security Administration of a change of name.
5. The inevitable minimum of human error in even the most careful record-keeping.

Even this tiny percentage of error can be almost completely overcome.

This is how: Wage-earners and self-employed persons should check their social security records at least once each three years to make sure that earnings have been correctly reported. Social Security District offices have a handy post card form which may be used to request a statement of earnings.

Accurate records mean benefits. Monthly old-age, survivors and disability benefits are based on average monthly earnings as shown on these records. The fact that these records are nearly perfect is small consolation to those persons whose benefits may be cut or eliminated altogether because, in their cases, earnings were poorly reported — or not reported at all.

The social security system is a public trust. And the public can help keep it trustworthy. This can be done by checking your security social security record once every three years.

Stroehle-Smith Nuptial Vows Are Read in Pretty Church Service Here

Miss Billie Jean Stroehle exchanged wedding vows with Marvin Burley Smith, both of Memphis, at 4 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 5, in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Fern Miller officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Clarence Stroehle of Memphis and the late Mr. Stroehle, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Brown Smith, also of Memphis.

Dr. J. W. Fitzjarrald, the bride's grandfather, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white imported chantilly lace and silk taffeta. The sabrina neckline was daintily trimmed with tiny seed pearls and sequins. The sleeves were long lace and the bodice was set on a full princess skirt of silk taffeta. The headpiece of lace and silk taffeta studded with seed pearls and sequins was attached to finger-tip veil of imported illusion. The bridal bouquet was cascading white roses and stephanotis tufted with maline and showered with tiny white satin streamers.

Miss Mary Frank Garrett of Memphis was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Jean Foxhall and Miss Jo Ann Odom of Memphis, Miss Carolyn Jo Young of Bula, Mrs. Bob Cannon of Lubbock, and Mrs. Richard Cunningham of Liberal, Kansas.

Attendants wore identical dresses of iridescent taffeta in an emerald green. They were fashioned with scoop neck lines that dipped low in the back. The carriage lantern sleeves were accented by a row of tiny covered buttons and complemented by short gloves. The molded long torso waist, highlighted by scallops, held bouffant waltz-length skirts enhanced at the back by bustle bows. They carried bronze fuji mums cascading from mirrored wedding rings and tied with bronze ribbons.

Truman Smith, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Smith and Sandy Smith of Memphis. Jim Walker of Alamogordo, N. M., Bob Cannon of Lubbock, and Billy Combs of Dalhart.

Soloist was Mrs. Herb Pajon of Lubbock; Miss Jan Smith of Memphis was organist.

The mother of the bride wore an electric blue sheer wool dress, with a crushed cummerbund, with matching blue accessories. Mother of the groom wore a powder blue linen jacket dress with complementing accessories. Both wore white, off-the-shoulder, corsages of carnations.

The sanctuary was centered with a heart of white satin and maline frills festooned with large bronze mums. The large heart was flanked by tall columns topped with arrangements of snow ball chrysanthemums and white princess gladiolas. Tiered candelabra holding cathedral tapers and a background of areca palm trees completed the setting. The ceremony area was encircled by white colonial fence of white satin roping and ornamental iron scrolls. The bridal aisle was laid with a white carpet marked by columns and cupids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the social hall of the church. The serving table was draped in bridal satin and floor length tiers of scalloped lace. The scalloped lace was clipped to the table's edge with white rosebuds. A silver center bowl held a Victorian arrangement of white roses and tiny china mums and maiden hair fern.

Members of the house party were Misses Betty Lemons and Jo Beth Barnes of Memphis, Miss Mary Ann Clifton of Lubbock, Miss Katherine Wright of Amarillo, and Mrs. Billy Combs of Dalhart.

For travel the bride wore a mist gray imported tweed suit

Atalantean Club Visits Lubbock To View Art Exhibit

Members of the Atalantean Club journeyed to Lubbock on Sept. 10 to visit the outstanding art exhibit called "Illuminations." This is a special exhibit produced and presented by Life magazine, which displays 50 of the great masterpieces of the world plus a sealed reproduction of the famous Sistine Chapel Ceiling, painted by Michelangelo.

This "Illuminations" exhibit has been made possible by using color transparencies, enlarged to the actual size of the original painting and then lighted by a special process.

"The exhibit is truly a stimulating experience; an experience which is the nearest thing possible to actually viewing the original works of art, and how few of us would have the time or resources to do that. Hundreds of thousands of Americans will not be able to look upon inspiring masterpieces that under ordinary circumstances are available to only a few. This amazing process has brought forward vast strides in art education," members of the club said.

One of the loveliest of the transparencies is the familiar and lovely "Mona Lisa" by Da Vinci, according to reports. Perhaps the largest painting there is the famous "Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande-Atte," painted by George Seurat, in the famous small minute daubs of fashioned with a fitted jacket. She wore matching gray accessories.

The couple will live in Brownfield. Mr. Smith, who is now employed by the Ohio Oil Company in Hobbs, N. M., is a graduate of Texas Technological College. He was a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Kappa Mu Epsilon, Scabbard and Blade, Pi Epsilon Tau, Tau Beta Pi, and was a distinguished military graduate.

The bride is a senior at Texas Technological College. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Lambda Delta, Kappa Mu Epsilon, Lychnos, Phi Kappa Phi, Der Liederkrantz, and Mortar Board.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Smith were hosts at the Rehearsal Dinner on Friday evening, Sept. 4, at the Cyclone Drive Inn.

Peppermint carnations were used as table decorations and places were marked for thirty members of the wedding party and guests with individual place cards.

The guest list included Rev. and Mrs. Fern Miller, Billie Jean Stroehle, Marvin Smith, Mary Frank Garrett, Truman Smith, Jean Foxhall, Jo Ann Odom, Sandy Smith, Janice Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, Mrs. M. L. Smith, Mrs. Clarence Stroehle, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitzjarrald, Carolyn Young of Bula, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Combs of Dalhart, Mary Ann Clifton, Gus Hamblett, Shelbie Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Pajon and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cannon, all of Lubbock, Mrs. Elmer Palmer of San Antonio, Lee Allen Paulsel of Fort Worth, Jim Walker of Waco, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cunningham of Liberal, Kansas.

colors, rather than by the conventional brush strokes. This painting is nearly 7 by 10 feet. Of course the famous "Blue Boy" of Gainsborough is there to be enjoyed. Goya's painting titled "The Witches' Sabbath" is done in a very dark medium, and is outstanding because of the great color depth in the shades of black he used. This painting which was done over 100 years ago is as modern as most of the art of today.

As a whole, this exhibit, with its selection of artists, varying from 14th century to the present day, could not have been more successfully chosen to give the visitors such a fine and varied example of each period of art history, members said.

For most people, the greatest work represented there is the magnificent Sistine Chapel Ceiling. This tremendous work of art by Michelangelo, with its countless figures of biblical history and Renaissance philosophy is lovely beyond words. This actual physical understanding of doing the work in wet plaster (only one day plaster could be applied at a time) is a colossal thing in itself. The ceiling today is as fresh as painted only yesterday, and it is proven to be more durable than the walls of the church itself. The walls have cracked, but not the painting.

Seeing these fabulous paintings will inspire a renewed interest in all great art and will give you the inspiration that produces great art in today's age, as the comment of local members who saw the art exhibit.

Those attending were: Mrs. J. W. Coppedge, W. C. Dickey, N. A. Hightower, Chas. Kincaid, L. C. Martin, Cecil McCollum, H. Morris, J. A. Odom, W. Scott, Miss Imogene King, and three guests, Mrs. John Frank, Miss Wilma Martin and L. C. Dickey.

Heber Johnson Becomes Bride of Jimmy Baisden in Church Wedding Here

Sanctuary of the Travis Church in Memphis was the scene on Sunday Morning, Sept. 20, of the wedding of June Johnson, daughter of Heber Johnson and Mrs. Heber Johnson, and Jimmy Baisden, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barrett. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. L. G. Rasco at 10 o'clock. The bride, given in marriage by her father, Heber Johnson, wore a street length dress of white brocade, with full gored skirt, fitted waist, topped with a bolero of the same material. Her brief hat was accented with pearls. She carried a white Bible attached to a bouquet of turquoise carnations with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Perry Lee Johnson of Memphis attended the bride as matron of honor. She was wearing a waltz-length gown of turquoise sheer nylon over taffeta and her bouquet was turquoise carnations.

The flower girl dressed in turquoise was Miss Jeanie Anthony and the ring bearer was Tony Pounds.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Heber Johnson, wore a burnished gold dress with white and brown accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Baisden, mother of the groom, was wearing a navy blue dress with white and black accessories. She also wore a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Billy Don Johnson, sister-in-law of the bride, registered the guests at the reception immediately following the wedding, held in the church annex.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over turquoise. The three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom and the crystal punch bowl completed the table setting.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Perry Lee Johnson served the cake and Miss Marcene Baisden, sister of the groom, poured the punch.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Baisden will establish residence in Clarendon.

Annual Hall County Picnic Held Sunday

Several hundred county citizens and former residents gathered at the Memphis City Park last Sunday for the annual Hall County Picnic.

There was a total of 132 visitors from out of the county registered and 191 from within the county. The event got underway with the spreading of picnic lunches at the noon hour.

Following this a short program was conducted during which new officers were named. Byron Baldwin was named president of the organization; Roy Gresham, vice president; Mrs. N. A. Hightower, secretary; J. L. Burnett, treasurer, and Rev. O. B. Herring, chaplain.

J. W. Coppedge, president this year, acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion. J. Claude Wells gave the welcome address.

The Blackburn-Shaw Quartet of Amarillo presented about an hour of singing entertainment for the people gathered at the park.

During the program, persons who had traveled the greatest distance, the oldest, etc., were recognized.

Deep Lake. One other, Daisy Wells Casteel of Paso Robles claimed she was a bit farther away than Mr. Bugbee. Other visitors were from various parts of the country—New Mexico, Oklahoma, various parts of Texas, and from all over the Panhandle. All came to see you, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Countian, and you didn't show up. Around 200 residents of the county did show up to have a good time with the 150 visitors.

Next year will be the 70th anniversary of Hall County. Why not observe the occasion with a real homecoming picnic and invite everybody who at one time or another lived in the county? A big celebration of one to three days could be held. It would take some outlay of money and a lot of head and hand work, but what?

sent the following to Comments: MEMPHIS... From deep in the heart of the Eastern Panhandle cotton belt.

It was our good pleasure to attend the opening of the new Government Cotton Classing Office at Memphis. This is a real development for this part of West Texas. Before now, all cotton samples from this 12 county area had to travel to Altus, Okla., or Lubbock, and the card moved back to the owner before his cotton could be placed in the loan or in most cases disposed of at all. This meant days of delay.

Some time back growers and others interested in cotton got busy on the problem. An organization known as the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. came into being and through gifts and loans came up with a building that the Department of Agriculture would accept as a location for this new office. Not only will 12 nearby counties have better service but the town of Memphis will have some 20 more people employed. Congratulations to the hard working people who put over this idea.

Honest Jess says that everyone is making lots of money these days whether they are cotton pickers or guitar pickers and now that if someone would come up with an idea on how we could make a living everything would be fine. You know, he has something there. A man still has to hustle in order to make a living using these cheap dollars.

Employment Comm. Man To Help Secure Field Hands

Earl Brown, formerly of Tell, began work here this week as a representative of the Texas Employment Commission in helping secure boll pullers for farmers.

He will make his headquarters at the Memphis 66 Service Station on Boykin Drive and will be on the job five days of the week to help secure hands.

Drivers Licenses

Persons who are over 14 years of age can, in emergency cases, receive a drivers license by special permission from the Department of Public Safety.

It was also pointed out that drivers license can be issued to persons over 14 years of age who have passed an approved drivers education course in schools.

They also explained that a special license to operate a motor scooter can be obtained by youths 14 years of age or older.

There will be periodic checks within the city to insure that the drivers license law is being observed, they said. It was also pointed out that parents of youths will be filed upon for allowing an underage person to operate a motor vehicle.

The term "pin money" comes from the time when pins were scarce and valuable, and were sold on the first two days of the year.
