New Microwave Channel Approved For Memphis

Memphis television viewers will be receiving reception of another channel on the Vumore microwave system, according to an announcement this week by L. Poff, local manager.

"We are glad to make this announcement," Poff said. "In recent weeks channel 7, which you have been receiving on channel 2 on your dial, has been unsatisfactory. Therefore, the company applied to add this channel to our microwave. This should give a clear picture to local viewers."

The new microwave channel will give customers of the company the choice of three channels.

Representatives from the company included Frank A. Lennberg, company spokesman, D. E. Van Ness, G. T. Sims, W. H. Thomson, L. L. Porter, A. L. Fenner and J. R. Caldwell, all of San Angelo.

The union was represented by Marvin Collins, union spokesman, St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Jo Ann Reed, Ralls, H. M. Pinkston, Whitesboro, C. E. Whitaker, Texarkana, B. J. Limmroth, San Angelo, and L. A. Sykora, Lubbock.

This information was issued jointly by the General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America this week.

The first day's meeting consisted mainly of preliminary discussion of meeting time and place.

The union presented the company certain changes which they desire to be discussed during the bargaining sessions to follow. Further meetings will be held in the conference room of the company's new Revenue Accounting Building, located on Sherwood Way in San Angelo.

The company requested a recess until Monday in order that the union's proposals could be studied and to give the company an opportunity to consolidate its proposals for presentation.

The union is the bargaining agent for some 2850 employees located in a five-state area covering Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Tuesday Is Deadline For Voting Absentee

Next Tuesday, May 3, will be the last day county citizens can vote absentee in the first Democratic Primary, J. Claude Wells, county Democratic executive committee chairman, said this week.

By Wednesday, 28 county voters had cast absentee ballots at the county clerk's office. Seventeen of those voting were from Memphis, nine from Estelline and two from Lakeview.

Chairman Wells also reminded county citizens of the changes in the election laws of the state.

House Bill No. 26 amending Article 46 of Chapter 492, compiled as Article 5.14 of the Election Code of the State of Texas:

Relates to the form of the poll tax receipt; adding a new Article to said Act requiring a declaration of party affiliation as a prerequisite to the holding of party office or the participation in the convention procedure of a political party; providing certain penalties; providing for effective dates; and declaring an emergency.

"(i) Each voter shall present his poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, or an affidavit of its loss, to the election judge the first time such voter participates in a primary election and the election judge shall stamp within the party affiliation space on the face of said poll tax receipt, exemption, or affidavit of loss, the words 'Democrat' or 'Republican' or other party primary." This makes the bearer of the receipt a qualified member of such party for the duration of the poll tax period.

In the event a voter shall vote absentee ballot, the county clerk shall stamp within the party affiliation space on the face of the receipt the above mentioned words.

In the case of persons not required to have a poll tax receipt, a certificate signed by the precinct election judge, or the county clerk in the case of absentee voters, stating that such person has voted in the primary election.

This certificate shall serve as evidence that the person whose name appears thereon has participated in the primary election and is therefore eligible to participate in the convention of the political party holding the primary.

Meet Set For Next Weekend at Austin

Three Memphis High School students qualified to go to the State Interscholastic League Meet to be held at Austin, May 8-9, at regional competition at Lubbock last weekend.

The two senior girls composing the MHS doubles tennis team, Bettye Gidden and Trilby Townsend, won all their matches at region. Miss Gidden was on last year's doubles team which placed second in state. Linda Godfrey Callahan was her partner.

The Gidden-Townsend team drew a bye in their first match, then in the semi-finals, they defeated Junction the first and second sets, 6-0 and 6-3.

In the finals, they walked by the 1-A district winner, Spearman, with shut-out sets of 6-0, 6-0. The team is showing much ability, and should be a strong contender for the state title.

Swayne McCauley is the other MHS student who qualified for the state meet. He placed second at regional in the discus throw. McCauley's longest throw at region was almost 10 feet short of his winning toss at district.

McCauley threw the discus 138 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Buzzy Brewer of Stanton won the event with a toss of 140 feet, 3 inches.

Both McCauley and Brewer will compete in the Red Raider Relays at Lubbock this weekend. The relays are open to state qualifiers.

Other Memphis entries in regional competition did not qualify for state. The boys doubles team, composed of Sam Goodnight and Reggie Curry, won their first match from Spearman, 6-4, 6-0; however, a team from Junction dealt them a defeat by taking the first two sets 4-6, 6-8.

The 440-yard relay team and Jackie Bridges, the school's pole vaulter, failed to qualify.

The MHS golf team turned in a score of 366, to take second place in the competition. However, this score was eight strokes short of the Big Lake team's total of 358 strokes. Dick Morgan shot an 86, Charles Massey, 89, Don Deaver 93, and Jimmy Winters 98.

SENATOR ☆☆☆ Yarborough's Report

To a large degree, the economic growth and development of Texas and the entire Southwest in geared to the development of our rivers and harbors.

Limited progress of water reclamation and harbor improvement delay Texas' industrial growth and slow down the rapid economic expansion which means more jobs and prosperity for more families.

That is the reason why, in recent weeks, I have joined large delegations of Texans in appearing before various Senate and House committees to urge full scale river and harbor development programs.

I believe we should move ahead with all such projects as rapidly as our engineers say the job can be best and most efficiently done. Our rate of economic growth over the past seven years has averaged only 2 1/2 per cent increase per year for the nation. Our economists tell us we need an annual growth rate of 5 per cent for the nation to keep America safely ahead in the race for survival.

In order to develop our natural resources at the faster pace demanded by world events, I am urging appropriations of funds for fiscal 1961 based on the full engineering capabilities of each project.

Opportunity doesn't knock forever and progress isn't inevitable. There's no point in America traveling to its date with destiny at a snail's pace, especially when faster economic growth would mean stronger security and greater prosperity.

On some of these projects, the administration has recommended appropriations for work which the engineers tell us will complete the job on the most efficient schedule. I concur in most of these and am backing such appropriations.

But in the cases where the engineers indicate that the job could be efficiently done on a faster construction schedule, I am urging additional funds for the work next fiscal year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Brock returned last week after visiting four days with relatives in North Texas. While in Fort Worth they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Dollar; in Dallas they visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Feagan; and in Kaufman with Mr. and Mrs. Seth Cox.

HALF-PAST TEEN

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

Fort Worth, when I moved there in 1931, had a population of around 150,000. As a reporter on the Star-Telegram, I was often assigned to the police station and there was a period of a year or so when I attended the luncheon of some service club five noons a week — so that I knew all the detectives, half the patrolmen and nearly all the members of the downtown Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. Now the city has grown to such an extent that I can walk two blocks and not see a single face I know.

Automobile traffic was not a third of what it is today. There were no parking meters. The signals were connected with bells which rang when the signal changed.

This was during the depression and national prohibition. Millions chuckled at Will Rogers' remarks in the daily paper. There was no air conditioning; no TV and even radio was not yet so stabilized but one man operated a station without a license until federal officers walked in, in the middle of a program and jerked the wires loose.

People were talking about a successor to "the greatest engineer in the White House" and a Texan and two former Texans were coming in for consideration — Speaker of the House John N. Garner of Uvalde, Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murry of Oklahoma, who had lived in Parker County, and Melvin Traylor of Chicago, who began his banking career in Malone, in Hill County.

Travelers visiting Fort Worth for the first time inquired the way to the Seibold Cafe, famed for its huge steaks; and gourmets said the specialty at the Virginia Ham Kitchen was better than the ham served in Virginia.

A certain hooded organization had faded, like a spectre, from the scene only a few years before, after having briefly exercised political power in Fort Worth and over the state. There was a rumor it was going to be revived so I was assigned by the city editor to report the meeting. The place of assembly was a hill-top overlooking the Fort Worth-Dallas pike, a quarter of a mile east of the car barns. This hill was said to have been the meeting place during the heyday of the organization. Several hundred men were there none in robes and masks, and a few speeches were made but the old-time ardor was absent and the ghost returned to its tomb.

One weekend the Missouri Pacific railroad ran an excursion to San Antonio. I went. The round-trip fare was $3. (Years ago, the Missouri Pacific gave up passenger service between Fort Worth and San Antonio.) Ten thousand was a good crowd for a T. C. U. football game. The Stock Show was held in the North Side Coliseum. Bowen Air Lines advertised that the fastest passenger planes in the world were in operation between Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Amon Carter already had become an international celebrity. William P. McLean was the State's most renowned trial lawyer. The Rev. Frank Norris was one of the best known ministers in the nation.

The city's most spectacular capitalist of that era was busy in various enterprises. Rated many times over a millionaire at that time, he was to die 20 years later as a guest of a hospital which, in his days of affluence, he had given $50,000.

The old-time West Texas cattle kings, was living in Fort Worth. He was said to be the richest man west of the Mississippi because of the countless cattle and the oil wells on his vast ranch. At this time, he was building Arlington Downs, which came to represent an investment of $2,000,000. But, after a short period, the place was to stand deserted except for the memories of pounding hoofbeats and cheering throngs. After years of desolation, the big grandstand recently was torn down so the land can become part of a great industrial development. Verily, time has brought changes since 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Rogers and Mrs. Regnal Greenhaw of Amarillo visited with Mrs. George Greenhaw over the weekend. Visiting in the home of Mr. and Lonnie Widener and family was J. C. Shields of Hedley Saturday.

Report From Washington

Representative, 18th

One Bureaucracy Leads To Another
Many of you know, the Congress again faces a series of bills which would put another nail in the coffin of individualism. I've received a good number of letters from folks who are understandably concerned about the government's efforts to centralize and direct the government in Washington to seem to have become so much more of a big-and-getting-bigger government can really do anything. Many people all over the country seem to have grown so used to seeing new bureaucracies in Washington that they no longer grasp even the fundamental causes of the basic political system, working as it usually does, carry on some of the finest measures in our history has ever seen a government produce.

about the size to which government has grown, two things are painfully clear. The first is that no agency or bureau can successfully work in the best interests of all people. When a job is turned over to the federal government you may be sure that a great many people somewhere will be short changed. Second, and perhaps most important, federal bureaucratic control almost inevitably becomes an end in itself and means a disheartening reduction of millions of people to the "average." Our people always get either more than they want or need, or they are not allowed to get as much as they could if left to themselves. Not many folks fit the "median" which the government seems to so habitually establish.

There are, of course, many reasons for the agitation favoring more of this government mishandling. These reasons are all derived from commonplace developments and features of our life, but are quite deceptive in the way they are then applied to support this or that legislation.

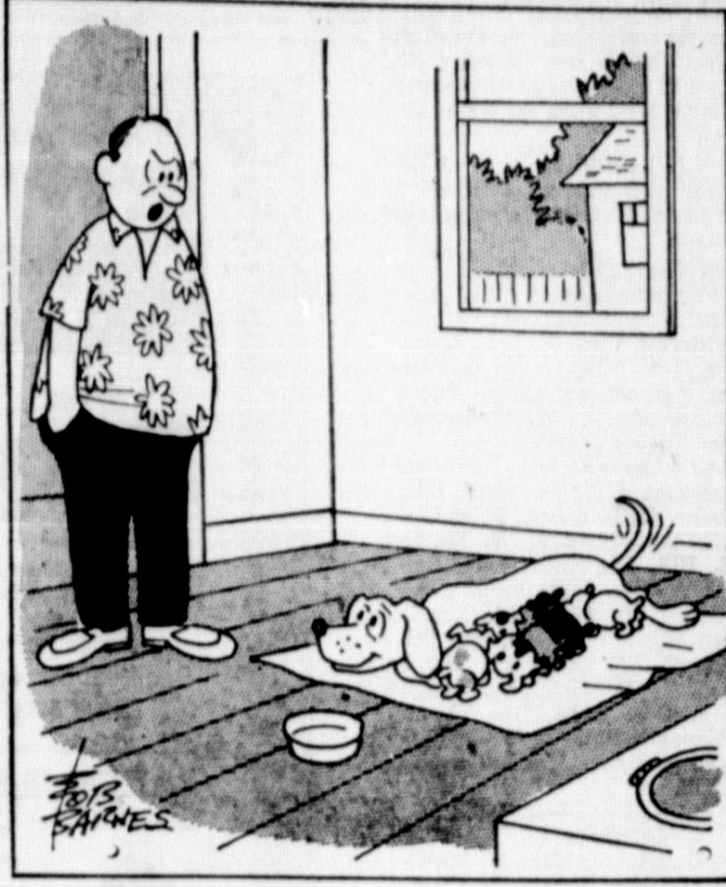

First, since more and more families are moving from one state to another, the advocates of centralism argue that the federal government should establish laws, educational systems or whatnot, thus placing conditions in one state on a level with all the others. This ignores the fact that many families aren't moving across a state boundary every six months.

A second impulse behind the call for more government is the notion that an individual state can't or won't do something on its own. In most cases this is pure nonsense. The people of Texas can be proud of the advances which have been made in their own ways and without coaching by Uncle Sam's hopeful salesmen of more "this is good for you" legislation.

Third, many parts of the country are forced under the federal wing simply because people in another region genuinely need help. Powerful interests in one section of the country may be so strong that the Congress is drawn into the belief that a certain program would be good for everyone. But I have always felt that the people who really need help could get it faster and better from a government closer to the problem than Washington ever could be.

Finally, we have the familiar "special" or "emergency" measures which are urged on us to help solve some short range difficulty. They somehow always seem to be around years later. The "wartime" transportation and communication taxes are an example of this situation. The government often seems to be so captivated with "temporary" interference that it can't bear to part with even an outdated particle.

Travis PTA Meets In Regular Session Wednesday

The Travis P. T. A. met in regular session at the Travis Cafeteria on Wednesday, April 13, at 2:30 p. m.

Representing the Little League was J. W. Coppedge. He stated that Memphis is in the process of organizing an overall recreation program for boys, girls and adult, of which the Little League has been operating here for several years.

O. R. (Doc) Saye spoke on Civil Defense. He described the local Civil Defense set-up, and stated that there are people on duty in the building on top of the courthouse at all times during storm warnings. A two-way radio and telephone connects them directly with fire department and law enforcement agencies.

Joyce Webster spoke on Scouting. He stated that it served the purpose of filling the gap between training at home and at school. He also stated that scouting teaches constructively, interestingly, to cooperate, leadership, and teaches character building.

Mrs. Billy Thompson spoke on Girl Scouting. She stated that there are nine troops in Memphis including Brownie Girl Scouts, and backing of the community. It was pointed out that the program needed patience, support Club work. He stated that Memphis has 561 club members. Without the adult leaders, the program would not go far, he added.

Esteron 99 - kills weeds that other weed killers find too hard to handle ... yet costs as little as 25¢ an acre

It's not what a 2,4-D costs but what it controls that counts. More farmers buy and rely on Esteron 99—for they find it's too costly to experiment with less-known brands. Tests show it's extra effective and easy to apply ... doesn't foam ... mixes easily in hard water, and sprays evenly. A single gallon covers many acres—an extra bushel an acre more than pays the cost. Order your supply of America's leading brand of weed killer today.

It's Time To Decide

A glance at the calendar will show anyone that it's time to decide which candidate will get the vote. Date of the First Democratic Primary is Saturday, May 7.

The tempo of Texas Politics is speeding up only slightly, although the deadline is fast approaching. Absentee voting over the state is not what it should be, and the average citizen is, apparently, still disinterested.

Traditionally Texas voters go to the polls some time the latter part of July to cast their ballots. But the amended election laws changed the timing. For the first time, the people must make their decision the first week in May.

The state-wide race which is receiving most attention is that for Attorney General. Heading the list of candidates is Will Wilson, the incumbent, who is finding a tough opponent in former State Representative Waggoner Carr. Also in the race is Bob Looney, Austin attorney.

The race for governor is receiving more attention as the days pass. Jack Cox, Breckenhridge oilman, who is opposing Governor Price Daniel, recently received much publicity when he got the support and political blessing of former governor Allan Shivers.

The campaign of a young Houston attorney for Lieutenant Governor is gathering speed as he presses his attack against the present holder of that office, Ben Ramsey. Ramsey is seeking his sixth term.

Receiving much attention is the race between Bill Allcorn, Commissioner of the General Land Office, and veteran Jerry Sadler, who has been serving in the House of Representatives. Several months ago predictions were made that Allcorn would not run for re-election due to illness, but he is making an effort to campaign. Sadler, former member of the Railroad Commission, is a campaigner who works around the clock.

Closer to home is the race between Judge James G. Denton and Judge Jesse Owens for chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 7th Supreme Judicial District.

In Congressman Walter Rogers' race for re-election, he is opposed by Arthur Glover, Amarillo accountant. Glover has been using television extensively for many weeks. Rogers has been in Washington most of the time since announcing, and flies home to his district occasionally to campaign.

Will Ehrle of Childress, State Representative, is opposed by Roy L. Taylor of Matador. Both men have been active campaigners for the past several weeks.

Very little interest is manifest over the county as a whole due to the fact that most officials are unopposed. The two races for county commissioner is the focal point of attention.

Along with the date of the First Primary will be the party's precinct conventions. They will be held May 7, and different times have been set in different precincts.

Another item to remember: don't wait to recall where the poll tax receipt was placed. Each voter will be required to present a poll tax receipt when he or she goes to the polling place.

Achievement Award System
A unique "Letter jacket" award system at Happy High School was featured in the current issue of The Interscholastic Leaguer, the official statewide newspaper of the Texas Interscholastic League . . . and we think it's an idea worthy of more than passing note.

Called "the Achievement Award System," it is designed to reward students for taking part in activities other than athletics. The awards are letter jackets identical with those awarded the school's star athletes, except that the big "H" on the jacket carries the legend, "Achievement Award."

Students receive Achievement Award jackets when they earn 200 points or more, and points are earned by such activities as semester grades of A, holding class or club offices, taking part in Interscholastic League literary and academic contests, serving on school newspaper or annual staffs, etc.

The system was worked out under the direction of Supt. Sam T. Bryan and was first tried on an experimental basis in 1955-56, the Leaguer reports. Two years later it became a permanent part of the school program.

This sort of plan makes good sense, it seems to us . . . and a lot more sense-making than the hue and cry periodically raised about "over-emphasis on athletics." Here is a positive approach . . . instead of de-emphasizing athletics, Happy High School is simply putting more emphasis on other school activities.

Instead of trying to reduce football, for example, to the popularity level of algebra, at Happy High School they're trying to raise algebra to the popularity level of football.

Maybe "popularity" isn't the proper word to apply to algebra . . . "prestige" would be more precise and probably a lot easier to achieve.

Armed Services Waste Billions While Crying for More Money

In this frightening era of the cold war and rival worlds building up their arsenals of atomic weapons, the American people have been told time and again that we must spend billions annually to keep abreast of the enemy. Thus there has been little complaint against defense budgets running into $40,000,000,000 and more each year. However, they keep coming to light facts and charges which show we actually have cause for complaint.

To begin with, the armed services have shown no sign they are on the alert to avoid waste in expenditure of the huge funds placed at their disposal. A defense committee staff report pointed to one example when it accused the armed services of failure to complete standardization of its supply systems, an omission which is costing $450,000,000 a year. As Raymond Moley said in a recent Chronicle article: "While the behemoths in the armed services are telling Congress how they are being starved under the President's budget, the bureaucracy over which they preside goes its way-ward wasteful way."

Moley accused the Navy of spending hundreds of thousands more in putting ships in condition to be given to friendly countries than it costs to fix our own fighting ships. In another transaction, three ships for foreign use were equipped with enough spare parts to supply 48 ships.

Now comes Comptroller General Joseph Campbell and flatly says the Navy spent $607,800,000 for planes and radar equipment known from testing to be "incapable" of carrying out their assigned military missions. These faults, the report said, "were not recognized or considered by the Navy to be of sufficient importance to terminate, suspend or reduce volume production; instead, additional quantities were ordered.

The American people certainly do not want necessary defenses to fail for lack of funds. But the very magnitude of the sum needed should make it obligatory on the part of the armed services to see that waste is avoided and economy rigidly practiced.

Successful Fishing

If fishing requires the same mad pace that our daily routine requires, it provides little recreational value.

The best example of successful fishing that we know of is the small boy or the man who sits happily dangling a hook from a country bridge or a shady bank. They may not have boats and fine tackle, they may not catch any fish, but their relaxed attitude is right, and they're having fun. The secret of successful fishing is not catching fish, but taking it easy.

OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45 WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu.-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without beating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in! . . . Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

Chevy middleweight averages 200 miles of back roads a day dogging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crossett, Arkansas.

Delphian Club Honors New Comers To Memphis With Friendship Tea

The Delphian Club honored new members of the town with a Friendship Tea in the Victory class room of the First Methodist Church Sunday, April 24, at 4 o'clock. The guests and members were hosted by the hostesses, Meses. Stults, O. R. Goodall and Mrs. Combs.

In the absence of the president, Mildred Stephens, who is ill, Jack Boone, first vice president, presided. The meeting opened with a few moments of silent prayer.

After Mrs. Boone welcomed the new members, the program was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Stults, with the statement, "Love is blind; friendship tries not to notice."

For the meditation, Mrs. Boone read "The House by the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Johnson.

Mrs. A. Anisman gave an excellent review of Paul Gallico's book, "Arria Goes To New York." The London charwoman's farm, Mrs. Boone, yet resolute nature, which led her to go to the elegant salon in Paris now drives her America—to reunite a child with his GI father. This is the story of Mrs. "Arria's" trip to New York. Mrs. "Arria's" mission was to see her mission completed—but it was an undertaking that she, with all her wiles, did not have accomplished, the new pointed out.

Mrs. "Arria" met the one person who was able to spirit little Gussie into the United States. She found "Enry's" father, an expatriated ambassador and a father alike, and made a child and a father happy. These are a few of the enchanting experiences in the dauntless Mrs. "Arria's" story.

Patti Patton Becomes Bride Of Ronald Doherty

Miss Patti Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Patton, and Ronald Doherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Doherty, were united in marriage at 12:15 Sunday afternoon, April 17, in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. J. S. Tipton performed the double ring ceremony assisted by Rev. S. A. Wolf before an improvised altar decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. H. W. Spear of Lakeview, grandmother of the bride, provided the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Brenda White of Memphis as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Janie Patton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of pastel green nylon with matching accessories and a corsage of green carnations.

Leon Doherty served as his brother's best man.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of white silk over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of pink and white sweetheart roses atop a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. V. M. Patton, mother of the bride, wore a brown silk dress with bone accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. W. P. Doherty, mother of the groom, chose a beige silk dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose to travel a two-piece dress of blue embroidered cotton with blue and white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was a senior in the Quail High School this year. The groom is a graduate of Hedley High School and has served in the U. S. Navy.

The newlyweds are at home in Canyon where the groom is employed.

Ouida Massey Chosen Member Of Baylor Darlings

Ouida Massey, freshman at Baylor University, was one of 13 students chosen as a member of the "Dozen Darlings of the Freshman Class" in an election held early this month.

Winners were chosen from the 25 finalists on the basis of beauty, poise and personality. Each candidate was interviewed by question to be answered from her personal experiences. A total of 60 points were possible on beauty, including hair, complexion and figure; 20 points on personality and outstanding character; and 20 points on poise, including grace, bearing and carriage as judged from the interview.

Ouida is a graduate of the Memphis High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey of Dumas, former Memphis residents.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

The seeding of native grasses is still under way in the Hall County Soil Conservation District. There has been approximately 400 acres of grasses seeded this winter and spring, in the District. This grass is being seeded under several programs: Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), Conservation Reserve or Soil Bank, Great Plains Conservation Program (GPCP); plus several landowners that have seeded grass on their own.

The grasses have been seeded in pure stands and in mixtures. Some of the grasses are blue grama, King Ranch bluestem, sideoats grama, switchgrass, Indiangrass, buffalograss, weeping lovegrass and sand lovegrass.

Roland Salmon, Joe Montgomery, and Benson and Benson, in the Brice and Lesley area, and Sam Cowan, Parnell, report some seedlings up, in the grass they seeded prior to the last rain we had.

Checks on some of the areas or fields seeded to grass reveal that there is going to be a weed problem on some of them. The main problem weeds at this time are lambsquarter and thistles or tumble weeds. These weeds should be controlled where ever possible, as they will crowd out the small grass seedlings and will use the moisture that the grass seedling needs.

These weeds can be mowed or shredded or can be sprayed with weed killer. Weed killer can be put out with ground rigs or airplanes. Spraying should be done in the near future, prior to any cotton coming up in the near vicinity of the fields.

Weed control on an area can mean the difference in a good stand of grass or a failure.

If you are planning to seed native grasses this year, they should be in the ground as soon as possible.

Fields that are planned for seeding to grass, in 1961, should be established to a dead litter cover of drilled sorghums or sudan this summer. This will help keep down weeds and protect the land through the winter and provide a litter in which to seed grass early next spring.

For additional information on seeding grass or controlling weeds, contact your local Soil Conservation Service personnel.

Visiting here last week on Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Weatherby were J. B. Watson, Jr., of Fort Worth and Mrs. Mattie Lou Davenport.

A VOTE FOR Roy L. Taylor

Is A Vote Against The Sales Tax

A not-to-be-reported, headless—in fact, ghostly—campaign to raise $65,000 mostly from big-city Texas businessmen to finance legislative campaigns in rural areas has been discovered.

ED C. BURRIS, executive vice president (and, during legislative sessions, Austin lobbyist) of the Texas Manufacturers Association, wrote Texas businessmen Feb. 12, telling all to contribute to a fund called "PIPE" to be spent in purely rural-area local races. Gen. PRESTON A. WEATHERED, who registered in 1959 only as a lobbyist for Old Republic Life of Chicago, long been identified as a leading lobbyist for Texas businessmen more specific in his letter to other lobbyists. WEATHERED said "field help" has been sent into two Senate and House races in the rural areas, and called for lists of other members from other lobbyists to get to work to save 11 sent representatives and defeat six. Special stress was placed on saving the present Representative from Childress. WEATHERED

Pledge vs. Performance

(From the official House Journal)

The present representative, seeking a third term: says he "fought for better pensions for the aged."

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD—In the 1957 session he voted AGAINST a proposed constitutional amendment to raise the ceiling on total State appropriation for old age assistance to $53,500,000 instead of the $40,000,000 now authorized. See House Journal page 2634 (Feb. 19, 1957). Passage would have meant increased pensions in line with the rising cost of living. In the same session, he voted FOR a proposed constitutional amendment to increase the salaries for legislators from $3,000 to $15,000 per term. (This represents a 400 per cent increase.)

In the 1959 session, the incumbent Representative voted AGAINST bringing up a proposed constitutional amendment to raise the homestead exemption allowed over 65. See House Journal page 2634 (May 6, 1959). This amendment would have provided some tax relief for our aged citizens.

says he "voted for increased taxes on beer." Page 1828 of the HOUSE JOURNAL is only a matter of vote on a parliamentary maneuver to table an amendment which would have increased the taxes on beer. Since amendment was tabled, there is no record showing my opponent voted for increased taxes on beer.

To the people of the 88th District:

TO THE PEOPLE OF HALL COUNTY:

I challenge my opponent on his circular suggesting the "BLASTS DALLAS SALES TAX PROPOSAL" and "Vote For Strong Lobbyist Law". The circular suggests that these articles were taken direct from a newspaper; if so, the usual custom to indicate or quote the source of the paper from which the articles were taken. Since these articles did not appear in any of the weekly or daily newspapers of District 88, I can assume that my opponent is trying to mislead the public by covering up what really happened in Austin (Page 1852 in the House Journal shows that the incumbent voted to table an amendment known as the "Selective and Use Tax Act" and NOT that he voted against the sales tax as he would like to have you believe.) The record shows the incumbent voting AGAINST requiring members of the legislature to file sworn statements of money or gifts received from lobbyists. See page 229-230 (Nov. 5, 1957) in the Official House Journal, and it contradicts the information which the present representative is circulating in his campaign literature for a third term.

DID YOU REALLY HAVE A REPRESENTATIVE IN DISTRICT 88? — Absent 307 times

The present representative has been unable to find the time to adequately represent the people of this district. In the 1959 session, he was absent from the House on 307 recorded roll-call votes covering 38 different days. In the 1957 session, he was absent from his legislative duties on 131 recorded roll-call votes covering 33 different days. These truths are a matter of record in the Official House Journal.

Four years ago the representation from Childress came to the people on a very liberal platform. His voting record in the House was ultra-conservative for the 1959 session. In just four years he has made a complete change. Is it right to tell one group that you will do one thing, and then turn around and tell another group that you will do the opposite? Is this the type of man who represents the best interests of the people who elected him?

At the beginning of the 1959 session, the present representative backed, supported, and campaigned across the State for an unsuccessful candidate for Speaker of the House. The result was in his not being assigned to any of the important legislative committees which is of concern to this district. Work done in various legislative committees represents about 85 per cent of the legislation, and this district missed out on having representation in this important function of the Legislature. I understand that my opponent has again committed himself to a campaign for the Legislative Session beginning next January.

It is time for a change in Austin and it is time for the people of the 88th District to be represented in Austin. If you have a responsibility to choose carefully the man who represents you in the operation of our state government, I sincerely appreciate your serious consideration of my candidacy.

Yours for honest representation

Neighborhood Service Team Is Named To Carry Out Girl Scout Program Here

Memphis Girl Scout leaders and committee members met recently at the Cyclone Drive Inn to select the Neighborhood Service Team for the coming year to carry out the Girl Scout program in Memphis.

Named on the team were Mrs. Brode Hoover, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. W. R. Scott, neighborhood troop organizer; Mrs. Chas. Snowdon, troop consultant; Mrs. Clinton Voyles, neighborhood secretary and Mrs. Elmont Branigan, publicity chairman.

As chairman, Mrs. Hoover will be responsible for maintaining and developing Girl Scouting in the neighborhood. She is in Amarillo this week attending a training course which will enable her to train others as leaders and troop committee members.

Mrs. Scott will make plans to meet the neighborhood troops' needs and to organize and reorganize troops. As troop consultant Mrs. Snowdon will help a leader begin her job and become increasingly better at it.

Memphis troops are members of the Quivera Girl Scout Council and will receive all benefits offered as a council member.

Plans are being made to hold the Girl Scout Day Camp on the Virginia Browder ranch in June. Council headquarters in Pampa will furnish trained leaders to assist the local leaders, Mrs. Branigan said.

Oxygen is the most abundant element on earth.

The Sears contest is a continuing project, Hooser explained. The company furnishes the boars and the winners select their gilts from the litters raised by the previous year's winners. In September, the winners of this year's contest will show their swine in the Hall County Swine Show.

After litters are farrowed next spring, outstanding litters will be judged according to weight in the Sears Area Show in Amarillo. The litters are weighed 56 days after birth. Prizes in the Amarillo competition range from $15 to $50, Hooser said.
