Lions Club's Fifth Annual Park Opener To Be Held Here Tonight

Churches Hold Bible Schools

Vacation Bible school is underway this week at the First Baptist Church and will continue through Wednesday, June 1.

Classes opened at 8 a. m. and continue until 11 a. m. each day.

Other Schools Later

The First Presbyterian Church is making plans to hold its Vacation Bible School later in the summer, possibly in mid-August.

Plans are also made to hold the Church of Christ Bible School later in the summer according to Minister Cecil Hadaway.

Plans now call for the school to be held in connection with the annual summer revival, he said.

The school is held each morning from 8:30 to 11:00 a. m. The First Methodist Church will open its annual Vacation Bible School Tuesday morning, May 31. Classes will be held from 9 to 1:30 each morning.

A five-day school, the classes will continue through Saturday. Three departments will be featured, kindergarten, primary, and junior. Mrs. Lee Brown, Sunday School superintendent, said.

Leaders for the various departments will be Mrs. Gordon Gilliam, kindergarten; Mrs. James Van Pelt, primary, and Mrs. R. C. Lemons, junior.

Estelline Baptist Church Vacation Bible School is also in progress at the First Baptist Church in Estelline. The school opened May 23 and will continue through Wednesday, June 1.

City Swimming Pool Opens For Summer Tuesday

The City Swimming Pool opened for the season Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m., Manager Hubert Dennis said this week.

The pool is located in the City Park southeast of Memphis.

Dennis said that Lucille Gable will again this year serve as cashier for the pool and Dan Goffinett has been employed as life guard.

He said that admission to the pool this year is the same as last year, 40 cents for adults and 20 cents for children. Season tickets of $10 for adults and $7.50 for children can be purchased at the pool or at Tarver-Stanford Pharmacy, Dennis said.

The pool is opened at 1:30 each afternoon and closes when the number of swimmers thin out enough to warrant it. The pool is always closed on Mondays, Dennis said.

Dennis explained that the free swimming lessons will not begin until after the churches finish with Vacation Bible schools and the water gets warmer. This will be about the middle of June, he said.

The schedule of these classes will be announced at a later date.

Dennis said the Wednesday mornings has been set aside for ladies morning. The pool is open from 9 to 11 a. m. to accommodate the ladies.

GEORGE STANLEY
George Stanley Voted MHS Best Thespian

George Stanley, a spring graduate of Memphis High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Koen, was voted Best Thespian of the Year for the 1959-60 term of school.

This is the second year George has received this award, Mrs. Roy L. Guthrie, Thespian sponsor, said. He has been very active during his high school years, holding the office of president of the Thespian Society twice, and is an honor member of that society.

He was voted in this year's Who's Who, and was vice president of the junior and senior classes.

George was business manager of the 1960 Cyclone annual, and his classmates voted him Boy Class Favorite.

High School Sends 23 Transcripts

Clinton Voyles, principal of Memphis High School, reported this week that his office had sent out 23 transcripts to 13 different colleges and universities.

The transcripts are sent from the high schools to the colleges which students think they might attend next fall, he explained.

Local Youth Is Picked Up For Several Break-Ins

A local 15-year-old youth confessed this week to several break-ins in thefts at high school and the break-in theft of Wood Bros. Super Market three weeks ago, Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr. announced this week.

Trial will be held in the juvenile court later this week, Sheriff Baten said.

Four Polling Places Are Set Up For Second Democratic Primary On June 4

Hall County voters will face one of the shortest ballots of Democratic primaries when they go to the polls June 4 for their run-off election, J. Claude Wells, county chairman, pointed out this week.

At the same time the chairman announced that only four polling places will be established within the county for the run-off primary. It has been decided to hold elections at Memphis, Lakeview, Estelline and Turkey only. Voters from all voting precincts within the county boundaries, in which each of the towns is located, will go to the central polling place on June 4.

"It is the aim of the county executive committee to deny no person the right to vote his or her preference," Wells explained. "Although there will be only one run-off in one state office on the county's ballot, every qualified person will have the right to vote."

Only one state-wide office was not decided in the first primary election. That is the race for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals. In this run-off race, the names of W. T. McDonald and Lloyd W. Davidson will appear on the ballot.

No run-off for county, district or precinct office is necessary since all officials were named in the first primary.

According to plans of the executive committee, voters residing in these voting precincts will cast ballots at the court house in Mem-

Over $600 worth of tickets had been sold by Wednesday noon for the Lions Club's 5th Annual Park Opener, which begins at 7 p. m. tonight at the City Park.

Members of the food, serving and cooking committees of the club began arriving at the park early this afternoon to begin the preparations for cooking and serving the giant barbecued hamburgers.

Accompanying the hamburgers will be cold drinks, potato chips and other picnic trimmings. In preparation of the event, club members have been working the past week on the barbecue stand, getting it in top shape for the big park opener.

In case of inclement weather, President Bill Baten said, the Park Opener will be held one week from tonight.

A delegation composed of Baten, Carl Yancey, Les Sims and Pete Shankle, met with the Clarendon Lions Club Tuesday, to continue their annual ticket selling competition with that club. The Clarendon club sells tickets to the annual Park Opener and the Memphis Lions sell Fourth of July celebration tickets for them. President Baten said that Memphis came out victorious last year in the competition.

Entertainment for the opening will be provided by Mac Graham and his band, according to Jack Norman, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Tickets for the event can be purchased at the park at $1 each. Money from the sale of tickets will be used to further the park improvement program and to purchase a boat for use of local Scouts.

Headquarters for the opener will be the barbecue hut, and following serving, everyone is to assemble at the amphitheatre where entertainment will be provided and prizes will be given away.

Over $400 worth of large prizes will be awarded, in addition to dozens of smaller ones.

Colored Youth Drowns In Finger Lake Wed.

Lee Martin Devorce, 19-year-old negro, drowned late Wednesday when the boat in which he was a passenger overturned in the middle of Finger Lake, one and a half miles southwest of Lesley. He is the son of Ellis Devorce.

Blackie Johnson, the other passenger in the boat, was rescued by the caretaker of the lake, when he saw the boat nose over.

The boat was powered by a 22 horsepower motor.

After the accident which occurred about 7:15 last night, a search party was organized. Seven boats from the Childress boat club and four from Memphis joined into the search for the body, which began at 9 a. m. and ended this morning at 8:35 when it was recovered.

Searching stopped at 3:30 a. m. last night, but was resumed at daylight this morning.

Finger Lake is a 30-acre body of water with the deepest part approximately 15 feet in depth. It is about one-half mile across at its largest part.

After the body was recovered, a coroner's inquest was conducted by Justice of Peace J. S. Grimes, and accidental death by drowning was returned.

Devorce's remains were brought to Spicer Funeral Home where funeral services are pending.

According to Sheriff W. P. Baten Jr., the two men were boating on the lake at the time of the accident. Johnson reported that he tried to swim to the east bank of the lake, after the boat overturned. The caretaker's boat is located on this bank. He said that Devorce indicated that he thought the west bank was closer, so he tried to swim to the west bank.

Johnson stated that he had swam about as far as he could when the caretaker's boat reached him. By the time they were able to get into the area where Devorce was supposed to be swimming, he was not in sight.

More About the U-2
The story of the flight of the U-2 plane over Russia and the resulting repercussions will be told for many years to come. It brought many things into glaring focus and brought out the truth about the international picture, untarnished by diplomatic maneuvering and fence-straddling.

It is a well-known and documented fact that Russia has engaged in the most extensive espionage activities in this country for many years and that these activities have been measurably stepped up in the last several years. In fact, the Russians have been caught many times and a number of those active in this practice are now in the penitentiaries of this country. Since May 1, 1946, the history of the United States reflects documentation of 65 Russian spy cases in this country. Among these of course are the cases involving the theft of atom bomb secrets from this country. Each and every case documented, in my opinion, involves facts and figures a great deal more serious in every respect than any information or figures that could have been gathered by a weather plane

15 miles above the earth. A number of the cases involve the use of diplomatic immunity to further espionage activities. Yet, it would seem from the cries of Mr. Khrushchev that only Russia is entitled to gather information about other countries.

Many people have felt for some time that Khrushchev was much more interested in talking about a Summit meeting than in actually engaging in one. They also felt that if the Summit meeting came about, the sole purpose of Khrushchev in participating in it would be to use the meeting as a stage from which to pour forth propaganda or to embarrass the other participating countries, rather than to devote all effort toward a peaceful solution of the many trying world problems. They also felt that when the meeting ceased to serve those purposes for Russia, it would be scuttled. These were some of the many reasons why former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had opposed meetings that could be used as outlined.

The activities of Mr. Khrushchev in recent days have confirmed the fears and feelings of those who felt as expressed in the above paragraph. He grabbed on to the U-2 incident to serve all of his purposes. He used it for propaganda as to the great ability of the Soviet Union to know what is going on in and over their own land. He used it as a means to threaten other nations. He used it as a means to try to embarrass the President of the United States. (But he quickly found that he had more than met his match.) He used it to scuttle the Summit meeting which he did not want to attend in the first place, and thereby avoided the necessity of immediately facing a number of issues which would have proved most embarrassing to him. He thought that the U-2 incident was probably the finest thing that had ever happened in his career to bolster and support him.

But, he may soon find out that it will be the worst possible thing that could have happened to him. He may find it most difficult to explain to many countries, and most especially of all, to his own people, that all of his braggadocio and big talk about Russia's invincibility and invulnerability has turned out to be a lot of hot air. He may find that the Russian people will begin to wonder just how much truth there is in all of his big talk, now that they discover that these flights have been going on over Russia for some four years. Perhaps he thinks that he can keep this truth from the Russian people, but he cannot keep it from the top echelon of the party faithful in the Kremlin, a group that has the reputation of not permitting extended explanations. History will probably record that Mr. Khrushchev, like other dictators, overplayed his hand. He has failed miserably in the greatest opportunity he will ever have to place the USSR in a favorable position insofar as the quest for peace is concerned; a failure from which he will not recover, and one which serves to confirm the suspicions of all free countries as to the lack of sincerity of the USSR concerning their talk of desires for peace.

Roy A. Massey Leaves By Plane For Switzerland

Roy Alvin Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Massey of Dumas, and former residents of Memphis, left Tuesday, May 17, for Bern, Switzerland.

Going by way of New York, he will visit with friends there before taking a jet flight to London. After several days in London, he will proceed to Switzerland where he is going as a representative of the Baha'i World Faith.

Massey said he expected to be gone for an indefinite period of time, but will probably be abroad until 1963. During that time he will be in different parts of the world and may return to the States at odd times to visit his family.

This is Massey's fourth trip to Europe, but the first time he has gone for the Maha'i Faith. He spent most of last year in Europe, where he had roles in two motion pictures produced in Rome. Massey said the Italian director, Roberto Rossolini, has asked him to appear in another one of his movies, and he may do so while he is in Europe this time.

Massey explained that the Baha'i World Faith is a religion which takes its name from its founder, Baha'u'llah. "One of the main teachings of the Faith is the Oneness of Mankind, and it contemplates uniting the world under one order of government and religion," Massey explained.

we could get by with lower quality

...but we make it for you

We make just enough Gladiola Flour for our near neighbors—in Texas and a little bit beyond. These ladies are the best home bakers in the U.S.A.—and the sharpest judges of flour quality.

That works out fine for us. We know precisely what our customers want, and precisely how to make it. That's why snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand, every day, every year.

The women-folk in Kissimmee, Fla., just can't bake biscuits, cakes and pies like yours. They don't have Gladiola Flour. Only you and your neighbors can buy it. And, for the average family, it costs only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

Following the meal, a business session was held. Delegates to the state convention to be held June 10-12 in Houston were named, and include Flo Branigan, Wilma Leslie and Jo Ann Edwards. Iola Wilson was named as alternate. Iola Wilson was elected as corresponding secretary to replace Shirley Miller, who resigned.

Members voted to dispense with meeting during the months of July and August, holding the first fall meeting the first Thursday in September.

It Pays You To Buy Clean Planting Seed

County farmers will be buying seed and they are urged to examine the tag that is attached to each sack of seed. This tag, according to W. B. Hooser, county agricultural agent, has printed on it some valuable information. Seed that has been tested for mechanical purity and germination will be tagged and the percentage for each item will be given. Hooser says the assurance that the seed being purchased is free from all noxious weeds is worth considerable to the farmer who has worked to keep his farm free from noxious weed infestation.

He says that planting seed with high germination test is also a big aid in fighting weeds. A thick stand of strong, vigorous seedlings can compete with weed seedlings if necessary. Strong seedlings help keep the weeds in check until cultivating equipment can be used.

Hooser recommends that farmers use certified seed if possible. It usually is the best seed of a particular variety available and it comes from fields that have been inspected during the growing season. Too, the seed has been handled properly at harvest time, has been cleaned tested for purity and germination and properly stored.

When certified seed is used, farmers know that they are getting what they pay for and can expect to get a crop that will measure up to the claims made for the seed.

That little tag, points out Hooser, is a mighty fine source of valuable information for the farmer when he buys planting seed.

figures direct-by-mail urging, in some cases continue for almost half a lifetime and from the same outfits. They seem never to revise their sucker list, or to catch on that the recipient isn't interested. It could be amusing, except that you sometimes get half a dozen or more "offers" from different outfits in the same mail, and some of them are so cleverly camouflaged that you fear to run the risk of throwing them away unopened lest you destroy something worthwhile. A lot of that kind of stuff is transported and delivered at a direct loss to the Post Office Department. Tornado Warnings

The Memphis area is again in the middle of the tornado season; however, no twisters have been seen in the community so far this year.

Area residents should stop and consider the actions they should take in case the local warning signal is given. If a storm cellar is available in the back yard, then it should be examined.

Cellars, like so many other necessary, but seldom used, constructions tend to deteriorate with age. If the door is leaking, it should be fixed, the roof should not have too much dirt over it, for this will weaken the ceiling, and cause leaks. The cellar should be equipped with some kind of ventilation.

In equipping your cellar, chairs should be installed, to accommodate many more than just the family. Also candles, matches which are placed in a water-tight bag, a small amount of canned food, drinking water, some old bedding, and rain-coats should be available.

In case a tornado does hit your house, the chances of it still being standing when you come out of the cellar are very small. So, you will probably live in the cellar for a short time.

Also, there is the danger of trees or a portion of the house being blown across the cellar door, so an ax would certainly be handy.

The local tornado alert signal is one long, long, long, blast on the fire siren. Fire Chief Lloyd Ward said that if he is the one who turns the siren on, he will just leave it on until he returns from the cellar. However, in any case, it will be a blast of approximately three minutes duration.

This signal cannot be confused with fire siren signals which alert local firemen of fires. The only exception is when firemen get called to out-of-town fires. This signal is one blast on the siren; however, it is never three minutes in duration.

Now that the season is here again, it would be advisable for the citizens of Memphis to sleep lightly, listening to the tornado alert signal, especially on the nights when the weather bureau gives storm alerts for this area.

Spotlight on Leaks

The conviction that the General Accounting Office is a mighty useful watchdog over federal spending is further strengthened by reports of its role in spotlighting a bad Army contract for aircraft engine repair. Its charges prompted an investigation and preventive action which otherwise might have been delayed, or not undertaken at all.

The contract in question was negotiated on the basis of manufacturers' prices for new parts, and later modified to permit use of parts bought from surplus sources. Surplus parts were used, and purchased at far lower prices than those for new parts, but there was no reduction in the contract amount to adjust to this, though in another instance the contract total was increased to cover higher prices for certain parts.

The result, according to GAO, was that the contractor paid only $145,500 for parts as compared with $270,839 allowed for this in the contract. The difference was a neat $125,000 additional profit for the contractor, by GAO's reckoning.

One hundred twenty-five thousand dollars is a relatively minute sum when measured against total government contract expenditures. If many such amounts were to leak away through carelessness or graft, however, the total would soon become a very respectable one. The General Accounting Office, by calling attention to such leaks, performs a most valuable function in our federal government.

What Other Editors Say

Newspaper Serves Its Area

The home-town newspaper is familiar to every American old enough to read. But how well do these readers understand its problems and purposes—its importance in their lives, and the life of the community state and nation?

A home-town newspaper, such as The Leader-Reporter, is so many things. It is similar to, and yet unlike many other businesses, professions and institutions in this community. Its services are so varied that it is part of all the others.

It might be called a mirror of the community, a library of local information, a market place, a partnership in which the owner, advertise, readers and the whole community have a common interest.

IT IS NOT a food store, for it cannot feed the people of the community, but its advertising columns do nurture the food store.

Although it cannot render banking service, it is well known fact that the newspaper is the bank's protector against the damage which misinformation or misguided interference might cause.

It does not practice medicine, but it does play a vital part in preventing disease and the spread of epidemics.

IT LAYS NO CLAIM to being a lawyer or court of law, but it stands ready to prevent or correct injustice.

Neither the publisher, editor nor members of the newspaper's staff claim a superior status in the community. They admit only that the newspaper tries to do its job.

And when information regarding the community is desired the place most often visited is the office of the local newspaper.

The Leader-Reporter can better serve and better mirror this community if it has the support of subscribers. —Graham Leader-Reporter.

One Clear Call No Sales Tax For Texans If there was any clear mandate to be read from the middle of last Saturday's election returns, it was that the people of Texas are overwhelmingly opposed to a general sales tax.

At any rate, Governor Price Daniel won re-election by a sizeable majority over opponent Jack Cox, who had conducted a vigorous state-wide campaign based, primarily, on his advocacy of a 2 per cent sales tax as a cure for the state's fiscal woes.

Governor Daniel, realistically recognizing that no new tax plan is going to generate any mass popularity for its sponsor, kept mum during the campaign on what specific solutions he will propose. . . but made it clear that his solutions would not include a sales tax and denied his opponent's allegation that Daniel would favor a state income tax.

Since obviously more money is going to have to be raised if Texas is to continue in the style to which we have apparently become accustomed, that seems to leave only the old stand-bys. . . natural resources and selective sales. . . to bear the blunt of new or added taxes.

There is another possible solution which apparently hasn't occurred to anybody lately, since we haven't heard it mentioned in this campaign. . . and that is a drastic cutting down of state expenses.

We suggest that this might be accomplished by lopping off about two thirds of the more than two hundred state boards and bureaus which now infest Austin at taxpayers' expense.

But of course, this might create a serious unemployment problem —Canadian Record

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

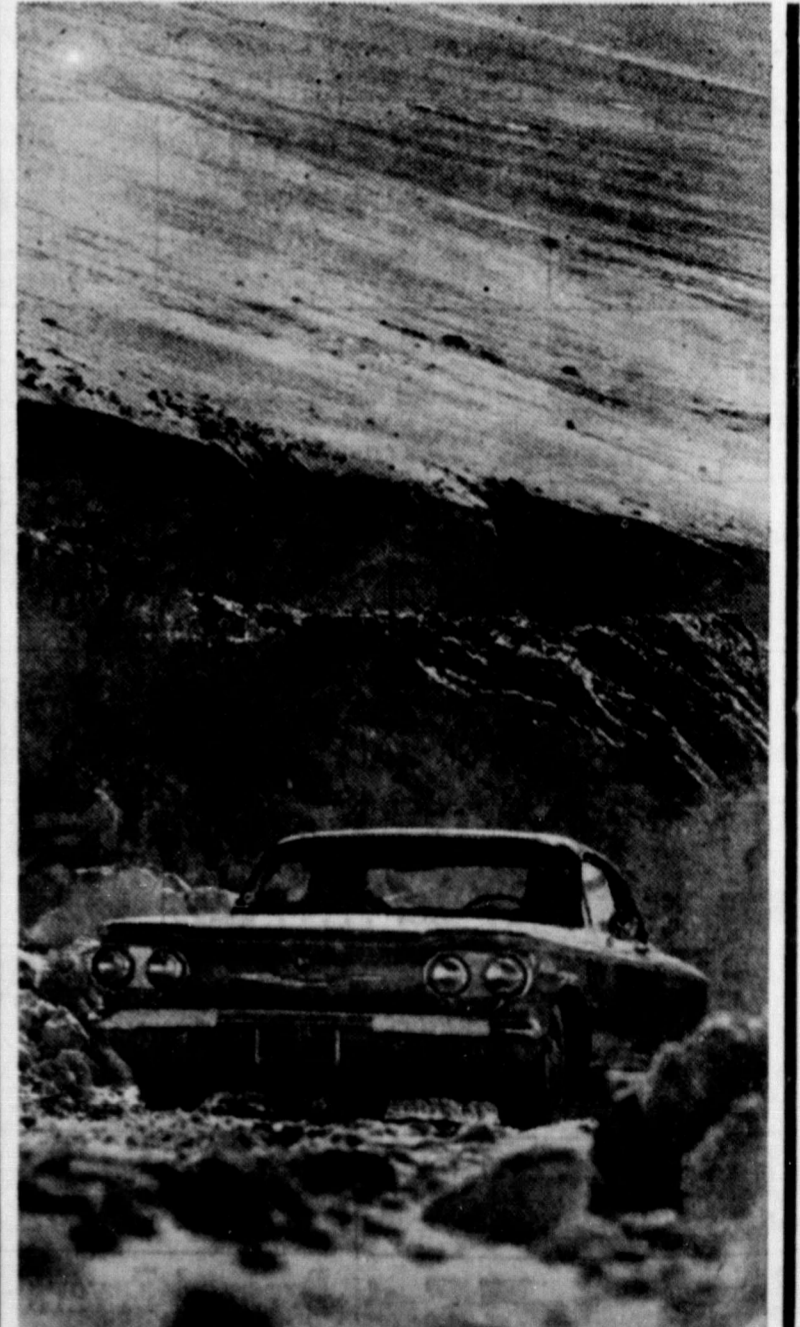

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) perched right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Atalantean Club Concludes Year's Activities With Luncheon Wednesday

The Atalantean Club met in the home of Mrs. Eddie Foxhall Wednesday, May 18, for a 1 o'clock luncheon. The social committee, Mrs. Eddie Foxhall, W. C. Dickey, Robert Sexauer, Ed Hill, and Herbert Williams and Herbert Williams were hostesses for the occasion.

The house was decorated throughout with seasonal flowers, and an attractive arrangement of white and pink peonies from Mrs. Gist's flower garden in Amory was on display. The club special thanks to Mrs. Gist for this lovely bouquet.

The luncheon was centered with an arrangement of pink and white flowers combined with mock orange.

Ed Hill led the group in singing. The menu consisted of fresh ham, green lima beans, succotash, tossed salad, a relish of pickles, ripe and green olives, sweet cucumber pickles, garlic French bread, and chiffon cream pie. This lovely meal was served in buffet style at foursome tables.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Glen Cosby. After the business session, the program was introduced by Mrs. J. W. Coppedge. The theme for the program was "The Closing Door."

Mrs. Cecil McCollum, historian of the club, gave the year's history, "Have We Opened Our Doors?" Her concluding thoughts were: "have we done our best this club year?"

Mrs. Cosby, the outgoing president, installed the incoming officers using the word "Atalantean" as her theme. She handed each officer an individual letter representing their duties for the coming year. The last letter being N, she asked a member-at-large to represent this, stating that each member must be noble, brave and true to these officers.

The Atalantean Club Style Show proceeds will be used to sponsor an individual student of Memphis High School in the American Field Service program. The student will study abroad one summer which will cost $350. It will probably be a year before this project materializes.

Members present were: Mmes. D. H. Aronofsky, J. W. Coppedge, Bill Cosby, Herbert Curry, W. C. Dickey, Eddie Foxhall, Charles Hamilton, N. A. Hightower, Ed Hill, Claud Johnson, C. W. Kinslow, L. C. Martin, Cecil McCollum, J. A. Odom, Jack Rose, W. R. Scott, Robert Sexauer, H. J. Howell, Ralph Williams, D. A. Neeley, and Misses Imogene King and Gertrude Rasco.

In 1912 Dr. Alexis Carrel was the first American to receive the Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology. His prize was for his contribution to surgery of blood vessels.

Around and About
By HELEN COMBS

The wonderful rains of the past week, plus the warming days of May tempered with the gift of free plants finally lulled us into a planting mood. So, with the help of our devoted lawn enthusiast—and mind you're not complaining—we finally made a little showing in the vacant plot.

Each time we go to Fort Worth, Anna Mae, who is the mother of our son-in-law, generously shares some plants with us and usually Pat and A. J. find something for us to bring back, too. This time it was strawberry plants, three Paul scarlet rose bushes, a crepe myrtle, and ornamental pepper plants. Then we found volunteer tomato plants coming up from last year's crop which had to be re-set, and decided we needed some okra . . . so that had to be planted. All in all, it was a busy afternoon at our house Monday.

It was in this month 70 years ago that the first newspaper, the Hall County Herald, began publication in Memphis. The Herald was absorbed by purchase by The Memphis Democrat in August 1928. We discovered this fact Monday as we noticed our publication number would revert back to No. 1.

Our senior partner, J. Claude Wells, has been associated with the paper longer than any other individual throughout its publication. He has worked unselfishly and devotedly for the progress and development of the county during all the years. We, here at the paper, feel that our work is a service to our community in that we strive to promote those things we feel will benefit our community and the citizens who make up our county.

We feel a deep sense of responsibility in our task . . . a responsibility to report the news of local happenings devoid of personal prejudices. We feel the newspaper should reflect our democratic way of life . . . of the people, by the people and for the people.

Speaking in this light, may we add that you have made our task easy, pleasant and enjoyable. You have helped by bringing to us your news; you have made our work enjoyable by being generous with your praise and stingy with our criticisms.

For the H. H. Lindsey's it was an enjoyable weekend. A reunion with their children and grandchildren at the home of their son, Bobby Lindsey, in Dimmitt. The family enjoys two such occasions each year, Mrs. Lindsey said.

Mrs. Edward F. Kennedy, for many years our Estelline correspondent, writes from Broomfield Heights, Colo., that she has been re-elected as English teacher there with a superior rating. She was recently elected secretary of the Broomfield Education Association for 1960-61.

She also passes on the information that Mrs. Marjetta Wilkinson, also formerly of Estelline, was one of the models at the Luncheon and Revue at the Hilton Grand Ballroom, sponsored by the Democratic Women's Division of the State Central Committee, recently. She wore original models of a street costume and a cocktail dress with mink-trimmed sweater. We're sure their many friends here will be interested in these two items of information.

Here at home, we want to say, "Welcome, into the Grandparents Club," Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Martin! For them it's a new grandson, Malcolm, Jr., born last Thursday in Chattanooga, Tenn.

From Lakeview comes this announcement: A shower will be held at the Lakeview school lunch room Friday, May 27, at 8 p. m. for Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowe. We understand Mr. and Mrs. Lowe recently lost all their clothing as well as their household items in a fire which destroyed their home. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, who are past 65 years of age, are sadly in need of clothing as well as household furnishings in order to set up housekeeping again. Everyone who would like to help this couple is invited to attend the shower.

Young folks, we understand you'll have a local drive in theatre to attend before many days. Construction was begun Monday on the Tower Drive-In Theatre.

We are always delighted to see the young folk stay in Memphis and not drift to the larger cities. Thus, may we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Randall Brice who will take over operation of Al's Hickory Barbecue May 30. Friends will remember Mrs. Brice as the former Barbara Winters.

Thought For the Day: It's fine to believe in yourself, but don't be too easily convinced!

Randall Brices To Operate Al's Hickory Barbecue

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Brice, who have been living in Tulsa, will move to Memphis this week to take over operation of Al's Hickory Pit Barbecue on Monday, May 30.

Mrs. Brice will be remembered by her friends as the former Barbara Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Winters.

Mrs. Brice is well known here having been associated with her parents in operating the Cyclone Drive Inn during her high school days and worked regularly for several months after she finished high school until entering Draughton's Business College in Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Brice extend a cordial invitation to their friends and others to come by and eat with them.

Travis PTA Makes Plans For Next Year's Work

The William B. Travis P. T. A. board of directors met on Thursday morning, May 12, at 9:30 o'clock in the cafeteria for a meeting designed to outline the new year's activities under the direction of the president, Mrs. David H. Aronofsky.

A ballot has been circulated throughout the membership of the Travis P. T. A., and returned. Tabulations show that 34 members voted for night meetings, and 28 for afternoon meetings; so the committee decided upon a night meeting with the expectation of having more fathers attend.

The nursery will be open for the tiny tots and there will be films for the larger children.

The board also decided to continue with game night.

The new officers for the coming year are: Mrs. D. H. Aronofsky, president; Mrs. Carl Wood, first vice president; Mrs. Herman Bell, second vice president; Mrs. Ben Moss, third vice president; Mrs. J. L. Bates, secretary; Mrs. Joe Williams, treasurer; Mrs. Bob Ayers, publicity; Mrs. Robert Spicer, historian; Mrs. Brode Hoover, parliamentarian; Mrs. Bob Douthit, health; Mrs. James Van Pelt, safety; Mrs. Olton Pate, international relations; Mrs. Kenneth Dale, publication; Mrs. Temple Deaver Jr., legislature; Mrs. Gayle Greene, study group.

Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served to the following: Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Ayers, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Aronofsky, Mrs. Deaver, Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Spicer, Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Van Pelt, and Miss Hillhouse.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. D. H. Aronofsky and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monofsky of Dallas, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd visited in Amarillo with their niece and her husband and Mrs. Henry Houda over the weekend.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

This week—May 22 through 28—is Soil Stewardship Week. The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various national church organizations have joined together in an effort to remind us of the importance of soil stewardship. "The soil is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," but the responsibility for its stewardship is a sacred trust vested in man. Many other farm and civic organizations are joining in the observance.

Soil Stewardship Week has been an annual recognition for two decades. The increasing interest shown year by year by the people, indicates more and more all are recognizing the importance of soil stewardship through soil and water conservation.

Our obligation to soil stewardship should be recognized whether we have a farm or ranch or just a house and lot in town on which you grow grass and a small garden. If we only eat food, wear clothes, and live in a house filled with furniture, we live from the soil. Our well being depends upon "Stewards of the soil."

We are all servants of the soil. Soil is a living thing. And from the soil comes other living things such as plants and animals, upon which we are all dependent. When we maintain and improve our soils we are good stewards of the soil.

Another important part of soil stewardship is the conservation and management of rainfall. If we lose our moisture either by letting it run off or evaporate from bare soils, we are not being good stewards of the soil.

The following is the Soil Stewardship Proclamation issued by the Governor of Texas:

"The abundance of our soil and water resources has been such that it is only in recent years that we have come to recognize that these and our plant and wildlife resources are not only indispensable but are limited in supply.

"We are learning that water is one of our most wanted yet most wasted natural resources. And we now know that without ample supplies of water we cannot expect the economy of our state to grow to its highest potential.

"The conservation use and the treatment of our farm and ranch lands largely determines the amount of ground water stored and the movement of soil material that becomes destructive sediment downstream. Thus soil conservation and flood prevention works help protect reservoirs from being filled with sediment, which is important to the development of our water resources.

"The work of Soil Conservation Districts, and their 200,000 co-operators, along with other individuals, organizations, and agencies interested in soil and water conservation, is essential to the provision of the necessities of life for our people, the continued stability of our economy and the proper development of the water resources of our State."

Since there is only one run-off in the State and none in the county or district, it is expected that the vote will be very light, and anyone wanting to vote will not be deprived of the chance, but some may have to travel just a few miles further to vote. Tuesday is the final date for voting absentee.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Roberts left today for Miami, Fla., to attend the Rotary International Convention. They expect to leave Dallas by plane Friday morning, and will return in about a week. Of course, they will do a lot of sightseeing while in Miami. If Russia could have a Rotary Club in each of her towns, and adopt the Rotary Code of Ethics then live up to it, she would be willing to scrap all war equipment and live in peace with the rest of the world.

Two service clubs of Memphis had good programs this week. Tuesday, Jack Farwell, a banker of Amarillo, brought a Rotary message at the club luncheon which the members enjoyed and pronounced it to be one of the best messages they had ever heard. Wednesday, at the Lions Club luncheon, Herschel Combs, who visited Convair at Fort Worth, obtained two films which he showed. One was concerning the B-58. It showed the actions of the plane in various places, and its ability to fly faster than sound and near the ground. The other was a view of Cape Canaveral with all its electronic equipment, and the firing of an ICBM which went to its target and was recovered from the ocean to be fired again. Both programs were excellent—one describing what could be done if wars were discontinued, and the other, what can be done in case of war. America doesn't want war, and will do all she can to prevent. But, in case a war is thrust upon her, America can defend herself.

Brenda Duncan, who has been pianist for the Rotary Club, announced her regret at having to resign because she leaves next week to attend North Texas College at Denton. She was recently awarded a music scholarship by NT. Brenda told of how she had enjoyed being the pianist of the club and how much the association with club members had broadened her view, as well as giving her a clearer insight into her duties as a citizen. The club and members presented her with two nice gifts.
