Kennedy 1,192 Nixon 939

Hall County, Texas, and the majority of the citizens in the United States voted Tuesday to elect Senator John F. Kennedy as President of the United States. The county and the state also elected Senator Lyndon B. Johnson Vice President and Senator.

Hall County, one of the seven Panhandle counties to vote Democratic in this election, maintained its record of not having voted for a Republican for President since 1928.

The county voted 1192 for Kennedy-Johnson and 939 for Nixon-Lodge. Only three of the 13 boxes in the county carried for the Republican ticket. These were Memphis No. 1, Newlin and the absentee.

At Baylor, 51 votes were cast. This was estimated by one election official of that community to be 100 per cent of the voters. Citizens there voted 42 for Kennedy-Johnson and 9 for Nixon-Lodge.

Heaviest Democratic vote was cast in the Plaska box. The Democratic nominees received 36 votes to 2 for the Republican standard-bearers.

Vote in the county was large, but was not record-setting.

On the state scale, the Democratic candidate carried Texas by a small margin of 1,103,617 to 1,053,469. The Panhandle, with the exception of Hall, Briscoe, Castro, Lamb, Cottle and Oldham counties, went to the Republican column.

On the national level, the Democratic party candidates won the popular vote by a very small margin of one-half of one per cent, but won a substantial margin of the electoral votes.

Coach Don Lambert stated that the game will go to the team that wants it the most, because both squads lost to Lefors by the same number of points, 10-0.

Canadian had an open date last Friday night, which would give them an opportunity to heal minor injuries, and a chance to work on their defense and offense.

Canadian's offense attack is similar to that of the Cyclone. They rely mostly on their 180-pound fullback, Echals, to carry the ball.

"They use a lot of power plays, only going to the air occasionally," Lambert said.

Canadian's 180-pound halfback, Summer, also carries the ball on several occasions. Canadian will have a definite weight advantage in the backfield.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington By WALTER ROGERS

Securities and Exchange Commission

America reached The Perpetual Pinnacle of Prosperity during the early decades of this century, and for the first time in history the complex activities of financial trade and investment fell into the hands of millions of people all across the country. College boys were selling short between classes, often times on the advice of Aunt Matilda who had just made a fortune in steel. The stock market reports were read with greater intensity than comic strips or the ticker tape pounded out the nation's pulse at an often feverish pace.

It did not require the Great Avalanche of 1929 to reveal certain unpleasant aspects of the securities business. The State of New York enacted legislation as early as 1909 to protect its people from abuses and shady practices, and other States followed suit. Some of the early laws simply required a license to sell securities while others aimed at punishing any fraud after it appeared. A Congressional Committee proposed regulation as early as 1913, but no action was taken at that time. Interest was heightened during World War I when the Liberty Bond drives ran into several snags resulting from the activities of speculators.

The Final Plunge of 1929 provided the fatal blow to unrestrained deals in the securities market. The 1932 platform of the Democratic Party pledged protection of the investing public, and less than a month after Franklin D. Roosevelt swept into the White House he dispatched a message to Congress requesting Federal supervision. The quickly-passed Securities Act of 1933 gave the Federal Trade Commission responsibility to see that the public was provided with full and honest information about securities. No government approval of a specific issue was involved.

In the meantime, a major Congressional investigation was in progress which lasted two years. Elaborate hearings produced a number of proposals, including a Senate bill to create the Securities and Exchange Commission and assign to it the duties with which the FTC had been charged the previous year. The Senate bill won out, and in 1934 the SEC began to police stock exchanges. Margin requirements were to be regulated by the Federal Reserve Board.

Not one scrap of important opposition was voiced against the principle of another independent agency. There was considerable argument, however, which favored assigning the new duties to the already established FTC, particularly since the FTC administered the 1933 Act. Nevertheless, opinion leaned toward a separate body for a host of reasons, including the fact that the new duties would require highly specialized attention. There were two other issues: (1) Should the SEC's powers be specific or general? This was resolved by a compromise which left the law quite specific but gave broad powers of discretion to the agency; (2) Should stock exchange representatives serve on the commission? This was not done because, as was then pointed out, a regulatory body should not be controlled by those to be regulat-

The major purpose of Securities and Exchange Commission remains the same today as when established 25 years ago. The agency seeks to protect claims about stocks and securities and thus protect investor from fraudulent action and allow him to make informed judgment on whether he may wish to purchase. It regulates the trading process in the market, supervises the investment companies, and the courts in certain reorganizations.

Pirates Down Cyclone Friday Night, 14-0

Lightning Memphis Cyclone was downed Friday night by a three-yards-and-a-cloud offense of the Lefors here before a homecoming of approximately 2,000.

Game was truly a defensive from the opening kickoff.

Field House Dedicated

Before the game, a dedication ceremony was held, and a large banner reading Allen Field House was unveiled.

The field house was named M. C. Allen, manager of this Compress Co., who made the construction of the built and equipped field.

Goodnight kicked off for Cyclone, and with the aid of 20 mph wind, the ball went into the end zone. It was brought to the 20. The Pirates netted two plays, and then Cyclone was penalized 5 yards on a member being off-sides.

On the next play, Lefors made a first down, and their drive was underway.

After almost all of the first drive, driving 80 yards on 25 into the teeth of the cold wind, the Pirates scored on a quarterback sneak play with Michael Archer carrying.

With the score 6-0, the Cyclone made the longest drive in ball game and also put damage on the Cyclone plan of using passing attack with the wind in their back.

With the score 6-0, the Cyclone made the longest drive in ball game and also put damage on the Cyclone plan of using passing attack with the wind in their back.

In the second quarter found the line starting their own drive. Local eleven moved to slight mid-field on six plays. At that point it looked like their drive stopped, but a defensive line for Lefors roughed the punt on the fourth down, and Memphis had the ball on the Lefors 35, and 10.

The Cyclone marched steadily in the field to the Lefors 14-line, but there, a fumble lost all to Lefors. Lefors moved all out for one first down, tried a jump pass, and corner Eddie Jones intercepted it and ran it down to the Lefors 27. Cyclone couldn't pick up a down on the fourth try because the ball was lost on a fumble. Lefors took over the ball and it until the half ended. Memphis kicked off after the half and again, Goodnight place-kicked the ball into the end zone. Lefors took over on their 29, were held, and on the fourth down, the Pirates punter got his toe into a punt that carried and rolled 60 yards against the 20 mph wind. Memphis took over on their own 25 and marched for one first down to the 36. There the Cyclone lost the ball for the third time on a fumble, and Lefors took over. However, Lefors fumbled the ball and the Cyclone recovered.

Only two plays later, the Cyclone fumbled again, and Lefors took over the ball. The Cyclone was held for four downs, then Lefors was held forthreedowns, and punted to the Cyclone 6 yard line on the fourth.

Memphis moved for one first down, then was held and QB Bunkkey Adeock punted out to the Cyclone 43. Lefors picked up a first down to the Cyclone 31, and another first to the 18.

At point, three plays netted them three yards, and it looked like the Cyclone would hold, but on the fourth down, HB Danny Wilemon carried around left end, got bottled up, reversed his field, and scampered 17 yards to the Cyclone 1 yard line where Eddie Jones knocked him out of bounds.

Ronnie Line carried over from there to score. Then Waleman went around left end for two points and the score was 14-0.

After the kickoff, Memphis was held and Adeock punted to the Memphis 30. Lefors was held so Memphis took over the ball on their own 24.

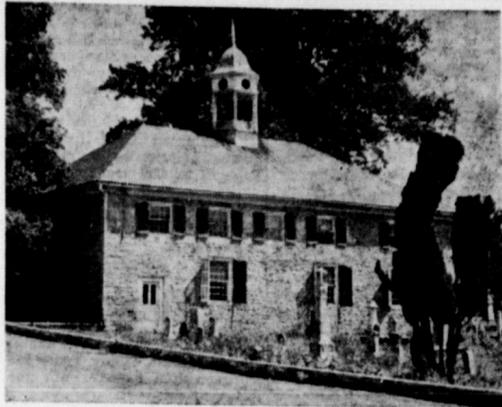

A screen pass was complete to Jones and he picked up 17 yards, completed to Lacy Montgomery, and Memphis had the ball on Lefors' 43.

Another pass from Adeock to End Perry Wright was completed for 7 more yards. But with only seconds left in the game, Memphis failed to make a first down. So Lefors had possession of the ball when the game ended.

Memphis backs netted 74 yards with Eddie Jones carrying 8 times for 10 yards, Robert Gardner carrying 14 times for 37 yards, Lar-

Snapshots: Old Stone Church

Everywhere, in this great land of ours, landmarks of another generation manage to withstand the march of progress and the passing of long, long years. Shown above is the Old Stone Church at Lewisburg, West Virginia. This building was erected in 1796 to replace a log structure built in 1783. Well preserved, this building was constructed of limestone blocks said to have been brought on horseback from the banks of the Greenbrier River, four miles away, by the women of the Presbyterian congregation. The interior has been rearranged, but the original pews, the balcony in which the slaves sat, and the pulpit with sounding board have been preserved.

Many a deer may survive the Texas hunting season because the hunter died first.

According to the State Health Department, there were 181 accidents in Texas, attributed to firearms, in 1958. Last year the number increased to 198.

November is the month when hunting starts in earnest. Normally sane men will start blasting away at one another, on deer leases, or contrive intricate methods of suicide such as climbing over barbed-wire fences with their rifles off safety.

Firearms are not the only threat. Health officials point out that a good many hunters slip and fall over precipices, while gazing off into the distance. Others never get to the lease because they combine a few warming drinks with a fast drive through the pre-dawn chill.

Texas Game and Fish Commission offers these rules for hunting safety:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Always unload and take down guns carried into home or camp.
3. Keep guns clean and be sure to have the right size ammunition.
4. Carry gun so you can control the muzzle, even if you fall.
5. Be sure of your target before you fire.
6. Avoid all horseplay.
7. Keep guns out of reach of children.
8. Never climb a tree or jump

a ditch while carrying a gun.

9. Never shoot at a flat surface.

10. Take no alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

Insurance Hike Asked

A 2.6 per cent increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates has been recommended to the State Board of Insurance.

State Insurance Department statisticians said that the rate increase was needed because of the increased cost of individual claims, rather than an increase in the number of claims.

It would up by $3,000,000 a year the $112,000,000 a year paid by Texas employers for on-the-job insurance of workers.

Crop Dusting Damage Upheld

A landowner is liable for damages caused to neighboring farms by crop dusting activities, the State Supreme Court ruled.

Defendant in the case was the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company which was sued by a group of King County landowners. Suit also was brought against the aerial spraying firm hired by the land company.

Pitchfork Company contended that the spraying firm was solely responsible for any damages, but the high court held the land company responsible too.

Water Pollution Ruling

In another case involving landowner rights, the Austin Court of Civil Appeals upheld a lower court decision awarding damages from salt water pollution.

A Runnels County woman, owner of a 150-acre farm, claimed her fresh water supply had been polluted by salt water discarded by a drilling firm during oil exploration efforts.

District court found the drilling firm negligent in not having sealed the pits in which it discarded the salt water. It awarded the landowner $9,000 in damages.

Pickle Named to TEC

J. J. (Jake) Pickle, Austin public relations man, has been appointed by Gov. Price Daniel to succeed Maurice Acers as employer representative on the Texas Employment Commission.

Acers' term expires Nov 21, but he will remain in office, at the governor's request, until January 9.

Pickle has had a significant background role in many of Texas' major political events in the past decade. He was director of the State Democratic Executive Committee for four years and has worked at one time or another in the political campaigns of Governor Daniel, former Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

Acers, an attorney and former FBI agent, was appointed to TEC by Governor Shivers. He served as Shivers' executive assistant in the governor's office.

Club Rules Due Nov. 21

After listening to a round of protests at a hearing on proposed new regulations of private clubs, the State Liquor Control Board plans to re-study the rules and possibly make some changes.

Administrator Coke R. Stevenson Jr. indicated, however, that the rules would probably be basically the same.

Primarily, says Stevenson, the rules are designed to give the Board a means of preventing the operation of open saloons under the guise of private clubs. They would provide for the licensing of clubs and forbid liquor dealers to deliver liquor to those that did not meet licensing standards.

Representatives of private clubs called some phases of the rules unreasonable, such as requiring a club to be in existence three years before receiving a liquor selling permit. They declared they would welcome some workable guidelines for operation.

News Flashes

Austin Court of Civil Appeals ruled that state hospitals have the right to retain social security payments made for the benefit of patients.

State Securities Board announced that state permits for 56 firms to offer $21,621,541 in securities were issued in September. This is an increase of more than $8,000,000 over securities approved in August and nearly six times the $3,835,490 in securities approved for September, 1959.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a decision in which the defendant was fined $300 for sale of liquor in a dry area because in the trial of the case the state had neglected to prove that Morris County—scene of the event—was a dry county.

Deficit in the state's general revenue fund jumped $6,500,000 in two weeks, making the latest in-the-red figure $58,416,716, according to State Treasurer Jesse James.

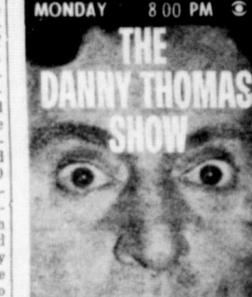

State Highway Department will open sealed bids Nov. 9 and 10 on 143 miles of construction work on state roadways. Low bids are expected to total about $12,300,000.

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD, LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvair 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

Post Office Helps Count Livestock

Rural mail carriers from the Memphis post office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning Nov. 16.

"Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Jim Vallance explained.

In distributing the cards, rural carriers pick boxes at random along their routes.

"This means that not every box will get a card," Vallance said. "For this season, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are: I. S. Johnsey, Route 1; Lloyd Ward, Route 2; C. Dunn, Lakeview Star Route; and E. Anthony, Quail Star Route.

Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for the Texas and national pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines, radio and television.

Sim Goodall Is Named Chairman LCC Campaign

Sim Goodall, local lawyer, has been named as Hall County chairman of the Lubbock Christian College 1960 Financial Campaign, according to Dr. F. W. Mattox, president of the college. Campaign goal has been set at $2,077,000 with the Hall County goal set at $11,600.

Lubbock Christian College, now in its fourth year of operation as a liberal arts junior college, has an enrollment this fall of approximately 380 students. Total campus assets amount to $2,000,000 including the Auditorium-Administration Building, a 60-room women's dormitory, and 14 semi-permanent buildings. A giant field house, 382 by 182 feet, now under construction, will be one of the largest in the nation.

The campaign is designed to complete the financing of the two present permanent buildings, provide for erection and equipment of the field house and build a dormitory to house 130 male students. It also aims to make available a three-year operational fund of $300,000 to assure continued high level academic standards, more teachers and an improved salary level.

A three-year fund of $120,000 to sustain the student work program and provide scholarship aid to gifted students with limited means also will be set up. Another aim is to purchase the additional 100 acres required according to the master plan for campus expansion.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Do you know what happens to the average brood of quail — first of all about half of the nests are destroyed. The average brood of quail consists of 12 birds. Accidents kill 70 per cent of these, hunting kills 10 per cent, enemies kill 7 per cent, disease kills 2 per cent, and starvation kills 11 per cent.

We must look to the land not only for food and fiber but for recreation and relaxation. The farms and ranches of the Hall County Soil Conservation District can provide hunting and fishing as well as the food and fiber that is needed.

Land that is used for cropland and pasture can produce wildlife as a secondary crop. There is land in almost every farm that can be used for wildlife. These small areas over the farm can make an efficient unit for the protection of wildlife. The main wildlife in Hall County SCD is quail, dove, and turkey. They all have the same requirements for living — food, cover and water. This wildlife is going to need help during the winter months. Insects will be gone, snow and ice may cover the ground.

If you are interested in conserving wildlife on your farm it is a good idea to leave a row of grain sorghum along fence rows, ditch banks, odd areas, and old shelterbelts for food this winter. Good cover is also necessary. This will consist of unburned, ungrazed, or unmowed fence rows.

For more information on the conservation of wildlife contact your local Game Warden, County Agent or Soil Conservation Service technician.

Mrs. E. E. Lane and Bill Billington were in Lubbock Monday to attend funeral services of their half-brother, Hayden Billington.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p. m. Monday from the Church of Christ of which he was a member.

A former Hall County resident, Mr. Billington lived here for a number of years before moving to Lubbock several years ago.

Lots of Turkeys And Cranberries For Thanksgiving

Farmers have produced another record harvest, filling Texas food stores with a bounty of good things to eat.

Turkeys and cranberries will be particularly abundant, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

These festive items, traditional for Thanksgiving Day dinners, head the November list of plentiful foods, as determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Also available in heavy supply throughout the month will be onions, cabbage, dates, pork, potatoes, beef, sweet potatoes and vegetable fats and oils.

These items have been given the "plentiful" tag by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service because supplies of each are expected to exceed normal demand.

Food markets throughout the state will tie special promotion efforts to national programs intended to encourage consumption. Consumers will reap the benefits of these activities, as plentiful foods are played up as weekend specials.

This year's turkey crop is estimated at 82.3 million birds, a new record. Heavy-breed birds are especially abundant. Many of these come from Texas' $15 million turkey industry.

MINUTE MEDITATION

"It pays to be a Christian because this life removes fear. Our world is crazy with fear."

We are afraid of the future, fearful of atomic war, scared to die and terrified of the judgement.

Every day folks are going to pieces because they are afraid.

Has it occurred to you that Christianity drives out fear with faith?

If you live for God, you can walk in the certainty that he will never leave you.

The Father will overrule all things for the good of them that love him.

He will provide strength for every trial, wisdom in the hour of decision and courage to face the future.

This is God's world. Who can fight against him?

—Cecil E. Hadaway, Minister - Church of Christ

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Wells:

My daughter, Mrs. George Bonal, and I have just returned from a three weeks vacation in Texas. While visiting Mrs. Louie Goffinett in Memphis the 2nd inst. I went to the Democrat office to pay my subscription and found the office closed.

I was so pleased over the crop conditions in Hall Co. How well I remember every year is not a good crop year, having lived in Hall Co. thirty-five years. My husband and I experienced some very lean years.

Thanks for sending the Democrat after my subscription had expired. I have been a subscriber 40 years.

Resp.,
Mrs. Lee Wheeler

Commendable Spirit Of Cooperation

Evidence of cooperative spirit in this area was seen last Friday night by those who attended the Memphis-Lefors football game and homecoming activities at Cyclone Stadium.

The new football field house was dedicated and named "Allen Field House," in honor of M. C. Allen, manager of the Memphis Compress Co. who made the construction of the building possible.

Through the years Allen has done many things in the development of Memphis and Hall County, especially in the field of building recreational facilities for the young people.

But this is only a part of the evidences of the cooperative spirit which has existed in this community, and in this area over the years. Each summer young boys from Memphis and Esteline participate in the Little League Baseball program.

It takes time and money to carry on a program such as the little league, pony league, and the different farm teams. Each summer volunteers come forward to help in these programs. In some instances it's the same person who helped last year, and the year before, but in other cases it's someone new to the program.

Then, people of Memphis will remember the two fund raising drives recently conducted by the boy and girl scouts. The scouting program in Memphis has seen such an expansion in the past few years, that it would be impossible to really explain. In all instances of growth of good, wholesome activities, cooperative spirit is behind it.

All of the programs so far named are primarily for the young people. Many things are said about the youth of today being the nation's leaders tomorrow.

But in a few short years, these young people will be sitting on our government boards, such as the school boards, city councils, and commissioners court; and even in our state and federal governing bodies.

Also they will be your neighbors who will work with you on all the programs in which you are interested. They will show the same cooperative spirit in which they are accustomed.

Through cooperation all things can be done, all needs can be met, all projects can be completed. The citizens have cooperated in the past, they will work together in the future.

A Plant Is Kept Open

The Wall Street Journal recently carried an interesting and unusual little news story concerning a group of union workers and union officials.

The union men concerned are employed by a company which manufactures various kinds of electrical equipment used in automobiles and boats. But high costs had made it necessary to close one of its plants unless some kind of remedial action was taken. Company officers proposed an incentive pay plan under which going wage scales would be maintained but the productivity of workers would be increased. In other words, it became a matter of more work for the same pay check.

The result: Union officials approved, and the union membership voted for the plan almost unanimously. The plant will be kept open, its production increased, and the jobs involved have been saved.

This group of union workers and officials, and the company, faced and solved a problem in the one sound way. It is a problem which is becoming more and more general in a long list of industries and enterprises. Wages and other payroll costs go up and up — while manhour production goes down or remains static. Then the competitive power of the industry involved becomes steadily weaker — particularly when it must meet foreign competition. Layoffs and plant closures become unavoidable.

Let's have the highest possible wages and working conditions in this country. But we can only have them, without serious unemployment, if we have maximum production for each wage dollar.

Trading At Home!

Hondo is not the only city with problems. We invite you to read about the situations in Sinton and Kerrville and see if they sound familiar.

No one realizes better than the editor of The Enterprise that he may be wasting time, paper, typewriter ribbon, and space to express himself on the problem of "Trading At Home," but we're going to do it anyway! We are not so provincial, so little-minded that we think everything that we need in our business and our homes, our schools, our city halls, our all other places can or should be bought right here in Sinton or other San Patricio County towns. Everything being equal, though, we say that all of us should do this whenever possible. We can't build Sinton, or Taft, or Mathis, or Aransas Pass or Odem, or anywhere else, without encouraging local business people whenever possible to have the things here they want. And most business people are sensible enough to see to it that their prices are right — and by "right" we mean fair, square, and at a level that they can take care of their overhead and still make a profit.

The editor of the Blooming Grove Times, a small town in North Central Texas, puts it this way: "You may think you have a perfect right to spend your income in a nearby town. You are correct. You have the right. But the risk you take is great." He then pointed out what would happen if 100 other people followed your example and started buying everyday needs and services away from home and putting their signatures on out-of-town bank's checks. Well curtailment and closing of business, loss of schools, hampering of churches, deflation of building, would decrease property values by 60 per cent. Foreign buying (and this could be well applied to those who insist on buying foreign-made cars and other items small and large that are putting American laborers out of work) closes local businesses, decreases the population and lessens school and church services. It is a well-known fact that an overwhelming amount of out-of-town buying won't just hurt a town, it will destroy it. Is it worth the risk? Next time, give the local merchant or tradesman a chance. He's trying to build his business to make money and build a better town for all!

Another writer, the editor of the Naples Monitor, a small Northeast Texas town, puts it even more bluntly! He says — and read this and get good and mad, first at us for suggesting it, and then at yourself — "Small town business people are hypocrites."

He points out we preach "trade at home" to build a bigger and better community and then practice something else. The grocer resents it when his wife sees a neighbor buying her food supplies in a nearby larger town. Of course the grocer's wife was over there buying some dry goods, a new dress or new shoes!

Too many local merchants won't buy area produce and force grower to seek a larger market for his produce. Now, we're sure the Monitor-man wasn't picking on grocers. For as he pointed out, he's more guilty than others of this double standard. Said the Monitor: "There's a little bit of

What Other Editors Say

[this same kind of hypocrisy in the plumber, painter, printer, carpenter, editor, appliance salesman, hardware dealer, variety store man, the teacher, preacher, and day laborer. How in the world can we expect others to support home business if the merchant himself won't do it?]

Well, the space has been used, but we hope all of us will do some real thinking about the matter of "risking our rights" and if by so doing does it make us "hypocrites?" Well!

Memphis Students Give Program At 1913 Study Club

The members of the 1913 Study Club met in the home of Mrs. T. M. Harrison the afternoon of November 2 for an enlightening program on "National Affairs."

Following a brief business session conducted by the president, Mrs. W. C. Davis, the program was introduced by Mrs. Carl Yancey. Mrs. Mills Roberts as first speaker emphasized the rights and privileges of her listeners as American citizens and urged each one to exercise her prerogative by voting for the ones of her choice November 8th.

The guest speakers were Misses Elaine Snowdon and Shirley Kenon who, as representatives of the local Odd Fellows Lodge made a trip to New York, via Washington, D. C., this past summer to visit the United Nations building and learn the workings of this powerful organization of nations. They traveled with a group of other teenagers under the auspices of the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth.

Miss Kenon gave highlights of their visit to Washington, the sightseeing tour to the places of interest, and her impression of the capital city. Miss Snowdon gave a detailed account of their sojourn in New York and their experiences in and around the United Nations center. A 30-minute showing of a film strip of their travels made a fitting conclusion to a most interesting program.

Delicious refreshments were served to 19 members and one guest, Mrs. Walter Jameson of Amarillo, by the hostess, Mrs. Harrison.

Mizpah Guild Meets For Study Monday Evening

The Mizpah Guild of the Presbyterian Church met Monday night, Nov. 7, in the home of Mrs. Ora Denny and Gladys Power.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Ila Roberts, after which Mrs. Pearle Ward led the group in prayer.

Following roll call, the business session was held and these officers were elected: Elsie Hoover, first vice president; Gladys Power, fellowship secretary; Mozelle Wright, overseas and supply secretary.

A meditation, "The Deeper Meaning of Words" was given by Gertrude Rasco. Emma Deaver led a group discussion on "Radio and Television."

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction recited in unison.

A new firm of accountants, to be known as Kinard & Kinard, has been established in Abilene, according to information received this week.

The firm will be owned by two well-known former Memphis residents, Cearley R. Kinard and Dwight L. Kinard, sons of Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard and the late Mr. Kinard of Memphis, both men were reared here.

Dwight recently moved to Abilene from Memphis after being associated with A. L. Gailey in the operation of Kinard-Gailey Insurance Agency for several years.

Cearley Kinard, who has lived in Abilene for a number of years, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and of Columbia University and holds a Master of Arts in business administration.

Dwight Kinard is a graduate of Baylor University where he received the Bachelor of Business Administration degree. Both men are certified public accountants. Cearley became a CPA in 1939 and Dwight in 1950.

Fine Corn Crop Grown At Brice

Corn which can compare in quality to that grown in the corn-producing State of Iowa was brought to The Democrat office Tuesday morning by Mrs. Anna Dickson. It came from her farm located in the Brice community. The land is being farmed by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Paschall.

"This is the best corn I have had on my farm during the 60 years I have owned the land," Mrs. Dickson said.

She brought in four ears, two white corn, and two ears called Bluddy Butcher, a red variety. One ear measured 9 1/2 inches in length and another ear was 9 inches in circumference.

Mrs. Dickson would not venture a guess on how much the 100 acres would produce, but said each stalk has two ears. The corn is sold in the shuck by the ton.

"Our cotton is fine, too," she added. "Part of our dry land will make two bales per acre."

Mexico were the Western States going Democratic. In the South, Florida and Tennessee were the only states going to the Republican column. Virginia, Vt., N. H., and Maine were the Eastern Seaboard states voting Republican.

Minn., Mich., Ill., Mo. were the Mid-western states going Democratic.

All four of the constitutional amendments carried in Texas. All Democratic candidates in the state were elected or re-elected with the exception of Rep. Bruce Alger of Dallas, who won re-election on the Republican ticket.

Senator Lyndon Johnson received 1,210,386 votes to John Tower's 866,286 votes. Johnson asserted he had not determined when he will resign his Senate seat. He denied he said earlier Wednesday or ever that he would delay his resignation until the new Congress organizes, according to a news release Thursday.

The new President-elect will start his first term Jan. 20, 1961, with the Democrats holding strong majorities in both the House and the Senate.

Quail Season Modified For Several Areas

The quail season in a number of Texas counties under regulatory control has been modified by the Game and Fish Commission, according to W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant executive secretary.

Biologists reported an "abnormal" quail year throughout the state, with a spotted population. Generally, however, the season was liberalized in those counties not under general law.

In the Possum Kingdom area the new season will be from Nov. 24 through Jan. 20. The daily bag limit will remain at 15 and 45 in possession. Quail numbers in this area are much higher this year, according to the biologists. However, the food supply is short and a carry-over loss can be expected after bad weather sets in.

In the Trinity-Brazos regulatory area the quail season was set at Dec. 1 through Jan. 31. The bag limit here will be 12 per day and 36 in possession.

In the Trans-Pecos area the season will open Nov. 1 and close Dec. 31. Crockett County has been added to the Trans-Pecos area this season.

In the Panhandle area the season will be Dec. 1 through Jan. 16, with the bag limit of 12 and 36 in possession.

No changes were made in either the Northeast Texas or Southeast Texas areas, where the season will be from Dec. 1 through Jan. 16, with the bag limit of 12 and 36. In South Central Texas the season will open Dec. 1, and close Jan. 16, except in Dimmit and Zavala counties where the season will be Nov. 1-Dec. 31, inclusive. All other counties of Texas are under the general laws, to run from Dec. 1 to Jan. 16, except in a few counties where special laws apply.

The president who served the shortest time in office was William Henry Harrison, who died one month after his inauguration. But World Book Encyclopedia says David Rice Atchison, a senate president, is supposed to have served as acting president for one day. That was March 4, 1849, a Sunday—and Zachary Taylor refused to be inaugurated on the Sabbath.
