Bettye Evans, Trilby Baten Are Honored At 'Hall of Fame' Banquet

Two 1960 MHS senior girls, Bettye Gidden and Trilby Townsend, were honored with the title of "Tennis Players of the Year" in the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

They attended the banquet Sunday at the YMCA in Amarillo and were presented "Tennis Athletes of the Year" awards.

Last spring residents of Memphis and this area were elated when word was received that Bettye Gidden, now Mrs. Cleve Evans, Jr., and Trilby Townsend, now Mrs. Eddie Baten of Amarillo, had won Class A state girls' doubles honors.

This climaxed the two girls' high school tennis careers.

Throughout the spring and summer months, it was a familiar sight to see the two young women playing tennis on the local courts during the years they were enrolled in school here.

When they went to state, it was the third time that Bettye had been one-half of the contending team from this district. She and Linda Godfrey Callahan had gone to Austin their sophomore and junior years; however, they were defeated in their second match as sophomores, and in the finals their junior year.

Trilby had played singles during her sophomore and junior years and was defeated in regional competition both years.

The doubles team went through their senior year undefeated, winning district, regional and state as well as the Amarillo Relays and the Memphis Tennis Tournament.

Citizens Must Purchase Poll Taxes Before Feb. 1

Poll taxes must be paid before Feb. 1, 1961, in order for citizens to be qualified to vote in this year's elections, Mrs. Melissa Anderson, Hall County tax assessor-collector, stated this week.

January 31 falls on Tuesday of next week. After 5 p. m. of that date, the tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse will be closed.

Mrs. Anderson said that approximately 825 poll taxes had been paid, which is about one-half of the total purchased at this time last year.

With several important elections already scheduled on the state, city, and school district levels, interest in purchasing poll taxes should be high. The special election to name a U. S. Senator will be held April 4.

In order for a male voter to be eligible to cast a ballot in a City of Memphis election, he must have a state poll tax as well as a city poll tax. However, women voters in city elections must have only the state poll tax receipt.

Glenn Carlos, tax assessor-collector for the City of Memphis, reported that 119 men have purchased poll taxes so far. He stated that last year over 200 city poll tax receipts were issued to city residents.

The deadline for the purchase of state poll taxes is the same as the city poll tax deadline, Jan. 31.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington By WALTER ROGERS

THE MAIL BAG
The mail in the office of a member of Congress brings many varied items. It would be possible to include in one newspaper a discussion of all of the subjects touched on in one day's mail. Usually, this mail increases tremendously during the first part of a session of Congress. Some members have to do with the problems of veterans; others have to do with the problems of the farm-land; perhaps the general farm problem or the trials and tribulations encountered under one of the many facets of the government program. Others have to do with the many segments of commerce, both domestic and international. Passport problems are plentiful. Matters concerning the Social Security system may make up a large part of the mail. The several military services are always high on the yardstick of problems affecting the people of this country. There are many, many more items which could be mentioned, but I want to discuss one particular item which always holds a high place in the concern of the people of this country. This is the mail concerning Communism and the Communist movement in this nation. We are all deeply disturbed by any activities which might appear to be Communist-inspired or advocated.

During the last several weeks, I have received much mail concerning a report that a Communist march on Washington was to be held during Inauguration week, to impress the Congress and the Executive Branch of the government that Communism is very strong in this country, and to pressure Congress into abolishing the Committee on Un-American Activities, curtailing the activities of the FBI, and getting rid of Mr. J. Edgar Hoover. I do not know where this report started, but I have made every attempt to run down any information concerning the report or a proposed march. If such a march is to take place, it is one of the best-concealed secrets in the Capital. And, I might add, with all of the columnists, newspaper reporters, television and radio commentators who are continually on the go in the Nation's Capital, the keeping of a secret by anyone or any group is quite an achievement. If such a march develops, it will be a surprise to many Washingtonians if the Washingtonians notice that a march is in progress. The truth of the matter is that there are quite a number of "marches" on Washington each year. Most of these are about as bona fide as a wooden nickel and about as valuable, before or after inflation. They are usually made up of a sorry-looking bunch of questionable characters who are more interested in getting their own names in the paper or pictures on the television screen than they are in some cause. I would dare say that 95 per cent of them would not know what they are supposed to be marching in favor of or against. But they are exercising a right guaranteed them under the Constitution of the United States under Amendment I, which I quote as follows:

CANDY by Tom Dorr

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

Of course, there are different views as to what constitutes the right of people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances. Some believe this gives them the right to picket the White House. Certain rules and regulations have been adopted which do not violate this right, but do provide certain lines beyond which the pickets cannot go. Many times great publicity has been given to these White House pickets. In Washington, very little if any attention is paid to them. I remember one particular instance where pickets were supposed to have been marching in front of the House for a number of days. I had driven by the White House no less than three or four times each of those days, and had never noticed these pickets. The other Members of the Congress are equally impressed, or perhaps I should say unimpressed with these activities.

As I said before, I have tried to run down all of the reports and stories about this alleged march on the Nation's Capital and the White House. I have checked with the FBI, I have checked with other security agencies, I have checked with the newspapers, the radio and television, as well as many Members of Congress, but have failed to find any information from any of these sources indicating that any mass march of any kind was even contemplated by any groups. I have also checked and re-checked the possible jeopardy to the Un-American Activities Committee, the FBI, and Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, although I was satisfied in my own mind that these groups were in no danger of having their powers or authorities curtailed. I can report to you that I have been reassured that the Un-American Activities Committee will continue with full authority to investigate and to ferret out Communism or other subversives; that the FBI will continue and even step up its relentless pursuit of Communists, subversives, and criminals of all sorts over whom this body has jurisdiction; that Mr. J. Edgar Hoover will continue to head up the FBI at the instance, request, and invitation of President Kennedy. He was requested by President Kennedy to continue in his position and he accepted the appointment. I bring this information to you in this letter so that you may be assured that vigilance is still the watchword and that every effort is being made to meet every challenge by the Communist menace.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

The time for seeding native grasses is here again. Several cooperators of the Hall County Soil Conservation District have indicated that they plan to seed native grasses on their farms or ranches this spring. Grasses will be seeded on retired cropland, waterways, and on poor condition upland, and on areas where brush has been controlled. This grass will be seeded under the Agricultural Conservation Program, Conservation Reserve Program, and Great Plains Conservation Program.

Most grasses, due to small seeds or bulkiness, require a special type grass drill for seeding. The District has several grass drills available for this use. They can be obtained through the vocational agriculture teacher or District supervisors. There is a nominal fee for using these drills. Private contractors are available to seed the grass, too.

Most seedings will be seeded in mixture of grasses. Grasses adapted for seeding in this area are blue grama, side oats grama, Indiangrass, Switchgrass, sand and weeping lovegrass, King Ranch bluestem, sand bluestem, and little bluestem. The mixtures of these grasses should vary, depending on the type of soil and location of the area to be seeded.

Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the District will help with planning of mixture, varieties, and amounts of seed necessary.

There are indications that there is a good supply of grass seeds this year. Even so, dealers recommend early selection of seed so landowners will be able to get the quality and varieties desired.

The recommended dates for seeding grasses, for best results, are from January through early April. The earlier seeding usually proves to be the most successful.

J. Mooney, who was editor of Memphis Commercial Appeal when I entered newspaper, had been an editor in New York City. He remarked to me that the New Yorkers people from anywhere else were as the biggest hicks in the country.

When I happened, however small, to a crowd in New York, he said, sometimes something happens at all and he told me two men, who were walking when they suddenly stopped and looked up at the sky. They were looking at something which was flying in the sky.

Mooney was a master in clever descriptions. There were Memphis politicians who were in office by the anti-forces (of which the editor leader). After getting in the man changed sides and Mooney wrote an article re the politician as 'Flap-lapley', adding, 'They don't political fences too high for jump.'

Southern Oregon

Water skiing in the shadow of Mt. McLoughlin is a favorite summer and fall sport at Lake of the Woods, just northwest of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Swimmers, sunbathers, fishermen and vacationers seeking restful resort life flock to the scenic Lake of the Woods area each year.

The roaring Rogue River, made famous in song and story, helps to bind together one of Oregon's most scenic recreation areas.

This is the huge six-county area of southern Oregon, which contains not only the trout-famous Rogue, but Crater Lake, the Oregon Caves, Diamond Lake, the sea-coast resorts of Brookings and Bandon and numerous salmon-fishing ports.

Only Klamath county misses being linked by the Rogue, but it is as much a part of southern Oregon as any of the other counties. In the northern part of Klamath county is nationally-known Crater Lake, the deep blue gem at the southern end of the Cascade mountain range.

Klamath county, too, can lay claim to Upper Klamath Lake, Oregon's largest inland body of water, and Lake of the Woods, an important forest recreation area.

Douglas county's eastern tip gives the Rogue its start as it winds its way to the Pacific ocean. Near the source of the Rogue is Diamond Lake, apparently destined to become one of the finest fishing lakes in the United States.

When I was out there to serve as technical advisor and writing consultant on "Boom Town", the chief script writer had come up with a scene wherein two brothers, who were shoe-string operators, rushed in and said they had just completed two wildcats as gushers and were in the "big money".

I explained that, in actual life, the shoestrings would have had enough trouble to get up the money for one wildcat, also that the odds were very great against two-out-of-two wildcats hitting oil. Furthermore, the script said this happened in Arizona whereas up to the very moment when we were having this story conference, no oil had ever been hit anywhere in Arizona -- so why not have them drill one wildcat and place it in Wyoming, New Mexico, Arkansas or almost anywhere except Arizona?

But the script stayed "as it was."

MINUTE MEDITATION

There is one body, the church, united by brotherly love and affection.

The church is vitalized by one Spirit which permeates the body, giving it vitality, for the body without Spirit is dead.

The church is comforted by one hope, the heavenly promise toward which God's people are moving.

There is one head, Christ the Lord, to which each member of the church is united, and Jesus himself is the source of authority in all things.

There is one faith which is the Word of God without addition or subtraction.

There is one baptism into the name of the Father, and the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

Finally, there is one God who is the Father of all, who loves all, through all, and in you all.

(Ephesians 4:1-6; James 2:6).

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Women residents in Texas nursing homes and convalescent care institutions out number men residents two to one, State Health Department year-end records show.

Almost 15,000 elderly Texans presently reside in care homes which have passed State Department of Health scrutiny and are licensed under provisions of the home licensure law administered by the health agency.

Despite the fact that Texas was one of the most recent states to spell out regulations aimed at protecting the health, safety and welfare of nursing home patients the standards now enforced in this state equal or exceed those of other states, department officials believe.

That this is true is borne out when the beneficial aspects and results obtained under Texas' standards are compared with the situation in other states, says J. W. Hornburg, director of the Texas licensure program.

The Texas law has been in effect since June 1953.

Hornburg said 321 nursing homes with a capacity of 9,512 beds, and 241 convalescent care homes with a capacity of 4,833 beds, are currently licensed—after having proved the humaneness of their operations.

Average age of home residents is 80 years. About 60 percent of them are recipients of old age assistance checks.

Nursing homes are distinguished from convalescent care homes in that they are required to have supervisory nursing personnel on their staffs. This requirement does not pertain to convalescent care homes, although they must have a physician's statement concerning the physical condition of each patient.

Draft Boards To Call 276 Men In February

The state quota for Texas draft boards in February calls for 276 men, Colonel Morris S. Schartz, state Selective Service director, announced this week.

Local board quotas for the February call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The February quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on February 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

Colonel Schartz also announced that local boards would send around 1,900 men for pre-induction physical and mental examinations.

Nursing home bed needs for any given area are calculated on the basis of a widely accepted formula of three beds per 1,000 population. Applying it to the Texas situation shows that approximately 30 per cent of the Texas need has so far been met.

The Texas law covers all establishments which furnish "food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and in addition provide minor treatment or services which meet some basic need beyond the provision of food, shelter and laundry."

Exempt from the regulations are regularly operated hospitals and homes maintained for adherents to church groups or religious orders which depend entirely on prayer or spiritual means of healing.

What Price Balanced Diets?

As a result of present-day food buying and eating habits, many experts on dietetics are convinced that this nation's livestock and the family pets have a better chance of getting a balanced diet than do many children.

This analysis was discussed recently by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White before a woman's club in San Antonio. "We recoil in horror over the fact that millions of people in the Far East and Latin America are underfed," said Commissioner White. "But there are 25 million people in this country who are just as bad off from a health standpoint."

"America is well off so far as an abundance of food is concerned, but we are not properly selecting and using our foods to their best advantage. Instead, our food products are becoming victims of a fastpaced civilization."

"We have become a nation of the skipped breakfast, the quick lunch and the pre-cooked supper. The food industry has kept up with this demand. Their production methods are geared to this harassing cry for quick and easy meals. These time-savers often prove to be great robbers of nutrition from our meals — and they help deflate our pocket books as well."

In the highly competitive race for the housewife's shopping dollar, White pointed out, food industry advertising concentrates on "easy preparation" and attractive packaging of food.

"Very little is said about the amount of health-giving properties of the product," he said. "As a matter of fact, many of these properties have been refined away in an effort to make it more appealing to the eye — and less nourishing to the stomach."

"When it comes to feeding livestock, the farmer knows that it isn't the fancy feed bag or even the taste of the feed that counts. He realizes that the importance of any food lies primarily in its nutritive value. The farmer's grasp of dietetics is often superior to that of the housewife."

A vast educational program might be part of the answer to convince the housewife that a proper balance should be maintained between fresh foods and staples and the highly refined products. Both processed and natural foods have a place on her table, but one should not be excluded entirely for the other.

New Money For Texas

A unique program — one designed to make money for the State, rather than spend it — has been submitted to the Texas Legislature.

It is a budget request from the Texas Development Board asking $300,000 a year for the next biennium for tourist advertising, to be handled by the State's officially designated tourist agency, The Texas Highway Department.

Action is needed to protect and expand the Texas tourist market, for it is a significant source of income: tourists now pay $17 million in direct State taxes annually. At a time when Texas is facing aggravating tax problems, it makes good sense to take advantage of a source of tax revenue with almost unlimited potential.

Tourism is recognized nationally as a legitimate cornerstone of community development. The U. S. Department of Commerce states that a town which can attract two dozen tourists a day has a source of income equivalent to an industry with a $100,000 annual payroll. The tourist dollar is new income, earned elsewhere but spent in Texas, for the eventual benefit of all Texans.

But while the national tourist market is in the midst of an unprecedented boom, the Texas market is in a spiraling decline due to hot competition from other States. Texas is 20 years behind the times in advertising its bountiful attractions.

When Texas enters this field, the experience of other States indicates it will reap a handsome profit. Our neighbor New Mexico gets $34 in State taxes for each dollar spent for tourist advertising; Arkansas gets $40 in taxes for each advertising dollar. Some other States report even larger dividends. Tourists generally buy those items which carry the stiffest state taxes. Tourist advertising doesn't cost — it pays.

It is not a giveaway; it will bring in new tax revenue, put people to work, stimulate business, and channel millions of new dollars into our State's economy. With the State Treasury not only broke but millions in the red, why not officially invite tourists to come to Texas? They'll enjoy their visit and at the same time help ease our tax burden. Tourist advertising is a sound investment for the State of Texas.

What Other Editors Say

I'm Sorry
I was reminded of all this when a man said to me: "I wish you hadn't printed that picture of my daughter it was a poor one and didn't look like her at all." I said, "I'm sorry."

It wasn't long after that a man complained to me that I was showing favoritism when I failed to print a picture that he was interested in, yet had printed a similar one of a different group last week. I said: "I'm sorry."

Another fellow later asked, "How come you passed up the story on the particular farming activity?" I said, "I'm sorry."

And then there's the time the irate young matron called on the phone and in no uncertain tones said that we had misspelled the name of her new baby. I said, "I'm sorry."

Another member of the gentler sex called one time and informed me that we had omitted a name from her party guest list and that he wanted to cancel her subscription. I said, "I'm sorry." Then I checked the list and found she was a long time in arrears. Still another called one day last winter and indicated that we had intentionally failed to print the story of his vacation trip. I said: "I didn't know about it. I'm sorry." Then there was the fellow who informed me that they didn't want the story of their vacation trip printed in the paper "because somebody might steal our chickens while we are gone and besides it's nobody's business." I said, "I'm sorry." And still another told me once that he thought we used "too much of those little social items.

They don't amount to anything and nobody reads them." I said, "I'm sorry."

Then one day, while in our shop to renew his subscription a man said to me: "We sure like your newspaper. It's so full of news and good pictures, has so many fine departments, so clean and so well printed. No wonder you have such a large circulation." By golly, I couldn't think of a thing to say!

Cadillac, Michigan

A brochure prepared by the local Chamber of Commerce reports the fact that folks live high in Cadillac, Michigan—high above the surrounding country, that is. Cadillac is the highest city in Michigan's Lower Peninsula, and with this height acquires something else the C of C likes to tell folks about—crystal, pine-scented air. A high elevation, the closeness of two large lakes, and probably the pine trees surrounding Cadillac, combine to give Cadillac an air that is "plain exhilarating."

Just about everyone in Cadillac is a fisherman, a hunter, or a skier. Cadillac is the ski-center of the Midwest, with so many nearby facilities a person could ski all day and never go down the same run twice.

Being centrally located, Cadillac is the shopping center for six counties, and some 60,000 people live in this area.

Cadillac boasts diversified industry. Some 21 manufacturers produce rubber products, aluminum and fibre glass boats, iron castings, concrete building products, furniture, canvas products, air conditioners and precision machinery.

For the fisherman, the area offers 1,123 miles of trout streams and 94 lakes, all within a 30-mile radius of Cadillac. There are annually organized bear hunts while individual hunters pursue such game as deer, duck, rabbit, partridge and bobcat. Canoeists enjoy float trips on the Manistee River, with convenient put-in and take-out points.

Nearby are Old Indian Trails and Indian camping grounds and small saw mills which operate in the shadow of a "ghost town," once a thriving locality during lumbering days.

AMERICANA

Quincy, Massachusetts

Cities To See

The City of Quincy, Mass., has a fair share of "firsts" and "onlys." Outstanding is the fact that it is the only city to give two presidents to our nation—John Adams, the second president and John Quincy Adams, the sixth. Another "first," and probably an "only," is represented by the fact that Abigail Adams was the only woman in the history of the United States to have the distinction of being the wife of one president and the mother of another.

In the early 1600's, the area around the Neponset River was the central gathering place of the Moswetuset or Massachusetts Tribe of Indians. In 1625, a trading post was established, eventually to become known as Mount Wollaston, after its founder, Captain Wollaston. To this settlement Quincy dates its origin. Mount Wollaston was annexed to Boston, but in 1640 was incorporated as the Town of Braintree, an area 50 miles square, including what is now the City of Quincy and three other communities.

The first commercial railway in America opened in 1826, using the principle of gravity and horses as motive power, to haul granite from the Bunker Hill Ledge to the Neponset River for the building of Bunker Hill Monument. A Quincy resident, Francis L. Souther, is said to have been the first casualty of the Civil War. He died of wounds received at Baltimore four days after President Lincoln issued his first call for volunteers April 15, 1861.

Quincy was the birthplace of John Hancock, President of the Continental Congress and first signer of the Declaration of Independence. He was first Governor of Massachusetts under the oldest Constitution in the United States 1780.

Quincy made modern-day history through a nationally-recognized off-street parking development which transformed its business section from a dwindling operation to a busy shopping metropolis.

Mrs. H. B. Bennett spent the week in Santa Fe, N. M., visiting with her son, Guthrie.

Mr. Farmer!

CAN YOU CONTROL WEEDS IN ROW CROPS WITH FLAME CULTIVATION?

Will it save you money? These and many other questions can be answered on the night of February 2, 1961 at the County Court House - 7:30 p.m., Clarendon, Texas.

The man who can answer your question about flame cultivation is Dr. Tom Longnecker, agronomist, in charge of the South Plains Foundation Experimental farm at Halfway, Texas, 12 miles west of Plainview.

Doctor Longnecker will be in Clarendon, Texas the night of February 2, to explain and describe the results they have obtained this past year using two flame cultivations in cotton, grain sorghum, sesame, castor bean, corn, and many other experimental crops. He will tell you how much lint cotton was harvested on cotton that was flamed as compared to that which wasn't.

Be sure to attend this meeting Mr. Farmer. See pictures of crops being flamed. Hear a man who knows because he has done it. Flame cultivation is destined to revolutionize farming methods.

Get information first hand. Remember — 7:30 p. m. Thursday night, February 2, 1961, at the County Court House, Clarendon, Texas.

Premeasurement Applications for 1961 Allotment Accepted Thru March 15

Applications for premeasurement of 1961 allotted cotton acreage will be accepted in the Hall County ASC office beginning Feb. 1, and continuing through March 15, Lynn McKown, office manager, has announced.

For 1961, rates for the premeasurement service will be based on the cost of the service on individual farms. The county committee has approved the following guides to be used to determine the total cost:

Two cents per acre for straight rows; three cents per acre for contour rows; $2 for each regular shaped plot; and $3 for each irregular shaped plot.

Mileage will be based on a round trip to the farm from the county office. This will be $3 for the first 20 miles or part thereof plus four cents per mile for all miles in excess of 20. There will be a charge of $2.50 per application for office expense.

The following example was given:

The premeasurement cost for a farm located 15 miles from the county office with 90 acres cotton allotment on the contour in one irregular field will be $11.60. This was determined as follows:

Three cents per acre for 90 acres is $2.70. One irregular shaped plot is $3. Twenty miles and $3 plus 10 miles at four cents is $3.40. Office expense is $2.50 for a total of $11.60.

McKown explained that producers will be required to furnish their own stakes and be present when the premeasurement is made.

They plan to visit Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Macao, Singapore, Thailand, Cambodia, India, Egypt, Lebanon, Jordan, Israel, Turkey and Greece.

The group will make the entire tour by air, flying from Amarillo to Los Angeles and from there to Hawaii.

weather recorder, reported. This is the coldest it has been so far this winter.

With high temperatures of 65 degrees recorded Sunday and Monday, the 35-degree high Wednesday seemed very cold to area residents. Also a few flakes of snow fell Tuesday, and were whipped about by cold north winds.

Temperatures included: Saturday 57-14, Sunday 65-21, Monday 65-27, Tuesday 55-20, Wednesday 35-12 and Thursday morning's low was 15.

The Bloomin' News

Do you intend to vote this year? Better be sure you are qualified by next Tuesday. If you're under 60 and over 21 you must have paid your State and County Poll tax and if the men want to vote in the City election, they also must have a City Poll Tax. The women of our State can elect a Woman Senator if they really want one because they outnumber the men.

The cold this week kindly cooled off the yard and gardening fever but NOW is still the best time to doctor your lawn for crabgrass and to feed it. We have the stuff you need.

We missed a good sale yesterday because we planted all our surplus daffodil bulbs in December. A lady from a neighboring town drove here to buy some. Says she always plants hers in February and has nice flowers. We're going to try this next year and also will save back a few bulbs so our customers can try it too. We're cutting daffodils out of the greenhouse now. We also have some very pretty potted daffs and hyacinths in bloom now.

Don't know if the general public will ever get to using safety belts in our cars or not but people who know say the use of them would probably have prevented two people from receiving very serious injury in an accident at Lakeview this week. I think the next car I get will have them and I will use them, especially when traveling.

Everybody who's seen our new FRANKOMA Pottery thinks it's very attractive and practical and most of them are surprised at the very reasonable price.

We received some new and different polyethylene plastic flowers this week. The prices on these are gradually coming down to where they are practical to use where you need something pretty and permanent.

DID YOU KNOW that through-out our FTD-Interflora network a flowers-by-wire order is transmitted every other second of every day?

Enumeration Of School Children To End Tuesday

Parents who have children that will enter school next fall and have not been contacted by the Census Enumerator are requested to call Miss Ira Hammond at CL 9-2040.

Tuesday is the last day for the annual census of scholastic age children in the Memphis Independent School District, Miss Hammond said this week.

"We do not want to miss any children in the district" Miss Hammond said. "And at times we need the help of parents in locating children who will enter school for the first time this fall."

Children born after Sept. 1, 1943 and on or before Sept. 1, 1955, will be enumerated.

Permit Extension Approved For Salt Fork Dam Study

Water permit for the continuation of studies and planning of a proposed dam on the Salt Fork of the Red River was extended recently by the State Board of Water Engineers upon application of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority.

Directors of the Authority acted on the extension last week in a special session at Childress, agreeing to pay the extension fee by a unanimous vote on a motion by Wendell Harrison, director from Memphis.

The Greenbelt Authority now has exclusive water rights for another two years on Salt Fork water, and will continue planning of the proposed dam and lake to serve Paduah, Hedley, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress and Quanah.

Additional core drilling within the next few months is also planned by the Authority. It became necessary to drill more holes when a new site was pin-pointed after the first location proved unfeasible. The new site is in the western part of Collingsworth County, about two miles east and downstream from the original location.

Ten resolutions prepared by the Texas Water Development Board for presentation to the 57th Legislature were reviewed and discussed at the Childress meeting. Of particular interest to Greenbelt directors was the proposal to allow the Texas Water Development Board a maximum loan capacity of $15,000,000 on projects such as the Greenbelt. It is currently $5,000,000 or one-third of the cost, whichever is smallest.

Greenbelt directors will recommend that the legislature pass separate of the resolutions.
