Darwin's theory of evolution is correct, Chimp was first on earth, therefore sending him to space Tuesday was in complete accord with priority rules. Someone is sent on a trip around the world by America, such person should be an Indian, for he was man's first inhabitant.

Hope Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, will make a ruling that will integrate with our "Darwin-forefathers."

The U. S. Senate race competition to select one to take LBJ's place has filed and will be the ticket for the election on Tuesday. With Chimp being first in space, and another rocket being placed into orbit around the earth this week; and with Congress having a bitter battle on the same day over changing the name of the Portuguese ship (taken by pirates) unloading the passengers; the President's conference shown on TV Tuesday; the whole world watching how Pres. JFK and Khrushchev will get along; Caspian Sea being invaded by Cuba; and with Congress for U. S. Senate beginning to let the dear peepul know that America needs their help—there shouldn't be a dull moment for the next few weeks.

A section of people in and around Hall County, is the group known as farmers who will not have much time to do much listening, watching or reading about the outside world is doing, they will be busily engaged in their farming lands in order to keep the windstorms of spring eroding the loose topsoil and also have everything ready for planting the seed that will grow into a bountiful harvest. This hope is brightened by the moisture-saturated condition of Mother Earth.

Ground Hog saw his shadow this morning, so he goes back into his hole to sleep for forty days, and then when he emerges it will be welcome Springtime.

The annual March of Dimes campaign here comes to a close today. Other than a few dollars raised by Boy Scouts represents a very small sum compared to the amount of money for carry on the work of trying to find something that will aid arthritic sufferers, as has been found in the case of polio. If you haven't been personally contacted, how's about sending a sizeable check in the amount of $10.00 to the March of Dimes, Memphis, Texas?

Not often these days that a man of any organization give thanks to anyone for doing some acts of a nature. But out-going president of the Chamber of Commerce, Ace Gailey, not only thanked each and every one who participated in putting over one of the best annual banquets ever, especially paid tribute to J. F. McIntush for the large amount of work he is continually doing. Such flowers always leave a man feeling in an individual makes all the friends of the dual glow with pride.

It has been repeatedly said, "flowers to the living, not to the dead." Isn't it a shame that people are not equipped with long range telescopic eyes and binoculars when such equipment would enable them to see and appreciate the flowers years hence and the flowers, if any, are placed on their graves?

The banquet last Friday night was declared by most of those attending as a jam-up pleasant affair, and the speech delivered by Congressman Jim Wright declared to be an eloquent tribute to the work being done in this area, and his look into the future was very inspirational and assuring.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington
By WALTER ROGERS

Looking Back On The Inauguration
Washington in recent years is the center of plenty of activities in the ordinary and usual trend of events. This is always tremendously increased during an Inauguration. This is further tremendously increased by a snow storm during the several days of the Inaugural festivities. Those are the circumstances under which John Fitzgerald Kennedy was inaugurated. Thousands upon thousands of people came into Washington to witness the change of Administrations, and the Inauguration of the newly-elected President of the United States. They did not anticipate the turn of the elements, and the thousands and thousands who came to town had thousands and thousands of experiences which they will be able to relate for many years to come. Some pleasant, some unpleasant. We were very happy to have quite a number of visitors from the Panhandle of Texas. Some could not reach the Capitol by car, by foot, or by telephone. If we missed seeing someone I am sorry, because we had a wonderful time with all those who got to the office.

On Inauguration Day the police blocked off the streets around the Capitol and the office buildings. Unless you can show some pretty clear authority to get through, you are stranded outside the blockades. I told all of our folks to be sure to get to the office as early as they could. I got the entire Rogers family up about six o'clock and started for the Capitol. The night before, a snow storm had suddenly descended upon Washington, leaving several inches of snow on the streets and several thousand people stranded. I was in a taxicab just after the storm hit, and it took 55 minutes for us to go a distance of about 25 city blocks. Mary Catherine, our youngest, was on her school bus for four and a half hours coming home from school. Preparations had been made to clear the streets on the Inaugural Parade route but this took all of the available snow equipment; hence, all other streets had to wait. On the morning of Inauguration Day, the sun was out but it was bitter cold and the snow was hard-packed and frozen. We had to bring quite a number of things to the office because I had made arrangements to have some coffee, soft drinks, sandwiches and cookies for all of the folks from the Panhandle. We packed everything in the car, including the clothes that I had to change to in order to be properly dressed for the Inaugural Ceremony. Realizing the possibility of getting stuck in the snow, I did not relish trying to dig out in a morning suit and top hat. Available food and drink in the office is almost a necessity on Inauguration Day because of the tremendous crowds and the impossibility of getting through the barricades to eating places. We got to the office in due time and set up for business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lindsey from Borger and Mr. Dick Kennedy from Clarendon were the first to arrive and then came the Kenneth Kendricks from Stratford, who were followed in short order by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gibson, Mr. Michael Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Mr. John Ketter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rapstine, all from Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cook and their sons Ronny and Larry from Vega, Mr. Jim McAndrews of Hereford, and Mrs. George Oliver of Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. John Boikout and their children almost didn't make it because of the difficulty in obtaining a taxicab. However, they did get up a few minutes before the Inauguration. A number of others missed getting up to the office, including Mr. and Mrs. Asa Willis of Texline, whom we saw later, Mrs. Julia Cooke Smith, Mr. Robert Bruce, and Dr. and Mrs. George Powers of Amarillo; Mrs. Jack Allen of Perryton and

Mr. Joe Berg of Panhandle. There were many others by the office from outside of our District, including Mr. and Mrs. Fred Korth of Fort Worth, Mr. Bill Bailey of Houston, former Congressman and Mrs. John Lyle of Corpus Christi, Texas State Representative Bill Dungan of McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of Plainview, and a number of others.
The open house was most enjoyable and everyone seemed to have a good time. I had to get dressed up in the morning suit and the top hat and get to the House of Representatives by 10:45 a.m., as we paraded to the Presidential platform in a body. Jean and the children and all the other guests went over a little later. Susan was to ride on the Texas float in the Inaugural Parade and the time between the end of the Inauguration and her scheduled appearance on the float was so close that Jean left the Inauguration before President Kennedy had finished his Inaugural Address. She took Susan to the office where she changed into her parade clothes. They then went to the garage where I had left the car, only to discover that there were no keys. I had them in my pocket, on the Presidential stand. This almost created a panic because Susan was overdue. But thanks to the garage attendant and two metropolitan policemen, Mrs. Rogers and Susan made it on time.
After the Inauguration we went down town and joined the Jimmie Smiths and others at the Willard Hotel to watch the parade. After the parade we made a mad dash for home to change clothes and go to the Inaugural Ball. That is another story, because so many things took place that night that there isn't room to even list them in one newsletter.
It was a great occasion. One fellow was heard to remark that with all of the chaos and turmoil, he could understand why these occasions were spaced four years apart.

"Say Gal— Who did you say owns the Electric Company?"

PEOPLE do—Big Boy—thousands of people...farmers, housewives, engineers, doctors, lawyers, secretaries, storekeepers and business men...all kinds of people.

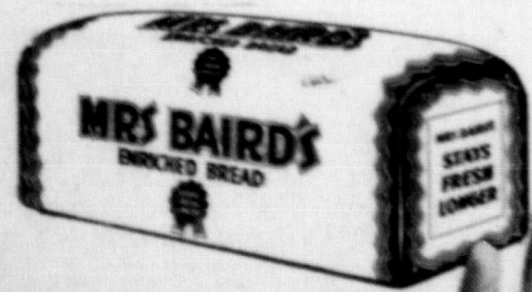

They own the electric company because they invest money in it, and thus help it grow and serve you better.

This kind of ownership made this electric company an investor-owned company. We are not owned by the city nor by the state, nor by any government agency. We are owned by people—many of them are our customers and employees.

We think this is the best kind of ownership in America.

Second Half Of District Play To Begin Tues.

The Memphis Cyclone and Cyclonette finished their first half of conference play Tuesday night, and will have an open date Friday. Next Tuesday the local caker squads will host the conference leading Canadian teams in the local gym.

Both local teams lost two hard-fought games to Lefors Tuesday evening here. The Lefors team pulled ahead in the last two minutes of the game to defeat the local boys team, 55-47. In the girls game, the local team trailed most of the game, and were able to close the gap somewhat in the final period. However, Lefors won 35-31.

In the boys game, Ronald Ables scored 14 points, Blair and Fitch of Lefors scored 14 points to be the game's high scorers.

The two teams were tied 31-31 at halftime, throughout the third and most of the fourth periods of play. In the closing minutes the Lefors boys racked up several baskets to salt the game away.

As the second half of district play gets underway, the local girls have a three loss, one win record; and the boys have a four loss record.

Soil Fertility Is Important

An article which appeared in the Floyd County Hesperian last week written by Cecil Lewis has a good lesson on Soil Fertility.

Mr. Lewis stated: "If you're a homemaker, office worker, tradesman, or merchant it's hard to think of 'soil fertility' as something that affects you.

"But it does, sooner or later, because a lot of our county prosperity, and state prosperity, is wrapped up in soil fertility. Poor soils mean low income to farmers because they're unable to produce their crops at an economical cost. Rich, fertile soils mean high income to farmers because they're able to grow crops more economically."

Mr. Lewis goes on to state that this is an old story, but it can be changed. The days are long past when fields that are "worn out", can be abandoned by the farmer, and new land can be cleared and fenced in a new locality.

Most of the land in the United States, in Texas and in Hall County which can be placed in cultivation, has been growing crops for a number of years. This land can be worn out, or it can be taken care of, and will produce crops for years to come.

It is the concern of every person in the county, that the land we have now will continue to be productive in the future. Our local economy depends on it.

"Rich soils can mean more cars, better homes, better schools, finer churches and high incomes in Floyd County," Mr. Lewis stated. It can mean the same in Hall County.

Within the past two years, county farmers have averaged more bales to the acre than before. This has been due to the abundant rainfall. Hall County has been a principal cotton producing county for a number of years, and will continue to be one as long as the soil will grow this crop.

Soil fertility is important! The maintenance of a fertile soil is not only the concern of the farmer or land owner, it is the concern of every person who lives in this county, whether old or young, because future crops means future income to this county.

How Times Have Changed

Back in the era when workmen considered a job something of value, a sign often found in shops was this: "A Fire in This Plant Will Put Every Man Out of Work. Guard This Plant Against Fire and Protect Your Position."

How times have changed. We can almost anticipate the smirk on the faces of typical workers today should they see such a sign posted. The immediate reaction would be, "It's no skin off me if this dump burns. For a dime I'd strike the match. I could walk across the street and get another job probably better than this one."

Because the modern workman has grown up in an era when jobs are plentiful, few have to deliver their best in order to keep one, many drift from one job to another as they burn all bridges behind them, the person who has a good job seldom has the proper appreciation for it.

It's ironic that man can't recognize and appreciate a good thing when he has it.

Job scarcity is an unhappy time for the workman. It isn't pleasant to live in a state of insecurity. It isn't pleasant when one is given cause to wonder from week to week if he will have a job or will have to be laid off due to hard times. It isn't pleasant to be laid off with no other job in sight. But it tends to make one a better workman as he realizes that the most inefficient will be the first to go when the work forces must be cut.

Yet, when times are good and jobs are plentiful down goes efficiency. In hard times, it's the employee who pays. In good times, it's the employer who pays—and pays—and pays.

Because mankind ignores the Golden Rule, because it is the nature of man to take advantage if his neighbor, the time never comes when both employee and employer are happy at the same time.

What Other Editors Say

TV and The Printed Word
Competition for shares of the advertising dollar gets tougher all the time, and for the first several years of television's existence the TV glamor boys were able to persuade national advertisers that theirs was the only medium.

The honeymoon is long over for television. No longer do they have an easy road of it in selling their wares. Television is primarily entertainment and the costs of producing entertainment are quite high—and this makes the cost of television time high.

National advertisers began to become uneasy a year or so ago when surveys began to reveal that the viewers could identify the star of a particular program but had trouble remembering the product advertised.

The Dodge people found that the Lawrence Weik show sold Lawrence Weik but apparently had little impact upon Dodge sales. One survey following the Bob Hope show found that less than 10 per cent of those interviewed could identify his product—Buick automobiles.

An independent survey was made in Richmond Virginia, a while back and it was found that of more than 41,000 telephone calls made, only about one-fifth of the people had their TV sets turned on. Of that number 81 per cent were able to identify the program but 71 per cent could not name any sponsor or product or type of product being advertised on that program. And even if the people said "soap" instead of a brand name, the research or-

LANKART COTTON

Planted by More Farmers in Texas and Oklahoma than any other variety!

There is a reason. When planted year after year it gives more satisfaction and profit. This is to be expected when one realizes that during the past fifty years the desirable qualities of vigor, high yield, drought resistance, large stormproof boll and quality standard staple have again and again been bred into this cotton by close line breeding methods.

Lankart cottons can be successfully harvested by either of four methods: hand picking, machine picking, hand snapping or by stripper machine. Many thousands of bales of Lankart cotton are stripper machine harvested in the Southwest, annually, at a saving of up to $25.00 per bale. Cotton harvesting may be an important item to the farmer this fall. Now is the time to determine what harvest methods will be used. A prime factor will be to save cost. Many farmers gin their Lankart cotton carefully to prevent gin mixtures and save the seed for their own planting. It has pure-line breeding back of it and does not "run out" in a year or two. We fully recommend this practice to all good farmers.

We produced a good crop of planting seed the past year but our supply of saw cleaned fuzzy Lankart Selection 57 has all been sold for this season. We have a limited supply of acid delinted seed of this variety. In our early maturing Lankart Selection 611 we have a supply of both saw cleaned fuzzy and acid delinted seed at this time.

We have sold our Breeders quality seed in our Trade Marked bags to many cotton gins and seed dealers throughout the state. May we suggest you see your ginner or seed dealer, if he cannot supply you with our seed contact us. Write for circular.

We are the originators and breeders of Lankart Cottons.

No house-to-house canvassing will be made here this year, she said. Those who would contribute are being asked to put their checks or put them in jars which have been loaned in various business houses in town by Boy Scouts under the direction of Ted Myers, master.

Fifty per cent of the money raised in the drive remains in the community while the other 50 per cent is sent to the National Foundation to be used for research.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Man is a being of power, intelligence and love.
He is the lord of his own thoughts and holds the key to every situation.
With God's help, he can make himself what he wills. Achievement is the crown of effort and the jewel of thought.
By the aid of self-control, resolution and purity a man rises in life.
By indolence, impurity, corruption and confusion of thought a man degrades himself.
Every thought-seed sown or allowed to fall into the mind will take root there and produce its own kind.
Good thoughts bear good fruits; bad thoughts bear bad fruits.
Let a man cease from his sinful thoughts, and all the world will soften toward him, and no hard fate will bind him down to wretchedness and shame.

—Cecil E. Hadaway, Minister-Church of Christ

The 'Bloomin' News

During December 1960 FTD handled 1,009,491 wire orders which surely must mean that the public has confidence in our service of sending flowers to your friends, relatives and loved ones in other localities. We are always striving to justify this confidence. We have refused to deliver flowers in a few instances recently where the orders came from a florist who is not a member of our association and whom we did not know simply because there are a few "so-and-so's" in the florist business who will not pay their bills. We have been "stuck" enough times by this class of people that we simply do not take any more chances of getting stuck again. When we get an order from someone whom we do not know, we simply demand that they send the money before we fill the order. All members of FTD have a guaranteed credit rating with us. The other good florists do not hesitate to meet our requirements for payment.

If you want to be sure, and you can tell your friends and relatives this, send your flowers thru a shop that displays this emblem

You are guaranteed delivery and satisfaction by these florists.

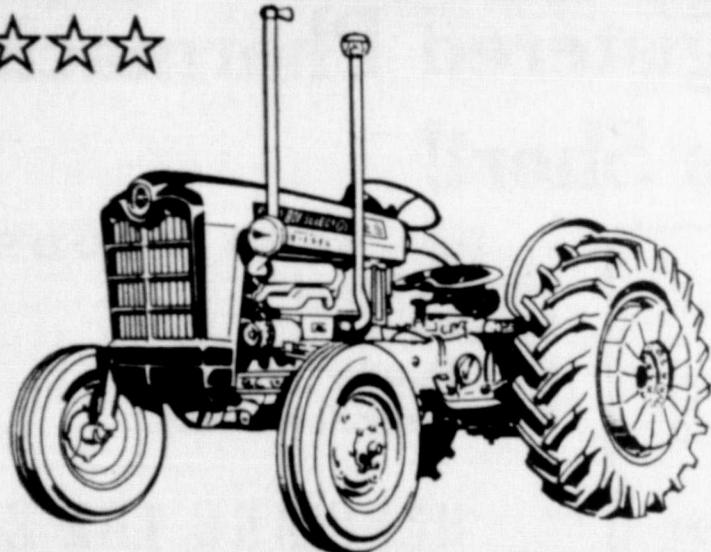

We received our rose bushes last week. We are in the process of putting these in containers now so that you can put them out any time. They are extra nice plants and we have a wide variety of both patented roses and standards.

We also have a supply of dormant rose spray now.

Does your lawn need PAX or other crabgrass killer, feeding or treating? Now's the time to do it. We have the staff and will loan you our spreader.

Our Easter Lilies are growing right on time and are going to be real good. Come by and watch them grow.
