Troop 131 Court Of Honor To Be Sun.

As a part of the worship service Sunday morning, and in observance with Scout Sunday, the First Presbyterian Church, co-sponsor with the First Methodist Church of Scout Troop 131, will have the Court of Honor for that troop.

At the Court of Honor, Bill Cosby will receive the "God and Country Award" and will be promoted to the rank of Life Scout. Larry Helm and Dana Gibson will be promoted to Life Scouts, and Mike Branigan will be advanced to the Star Scout rank. These boys are members of Troop 131 under Scoutmaster B. B. Gibson.

The God and Country Award is one of the highest in Scouting, and takes a minimum of one year to complete qualification. Scout Cosby completed his qualifications Dec. 31, 1960, after 18 months of work with Rev. Richard Avery of the First Presbyterian Church.

During this time Scout Cosby completed work which showed knowledge of the Christian faith, knowledge of Christian outreach in the community, studying the mission and program of the church, and doing practical Christian stewardship within the church.

He is one of the few Scouts in Memphis to ever receive this award.

Bill Cosby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Cosby, Jr., Larry Helm is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Helm, Dana Gibson is the son of Scoutmaster and Mrs. B. B. Gibson, and Mike Branigan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmont Branigan.

City Council Votes To Co-Sponsor Bill In Legislature With Water Dist.

Action Taken Tuesday Night

The City Council voted unanimously at its regular meeting Tuesday night to be co-sponsor with the Donley County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 in seeking the passage of an act by the Texas Legislature which would accomplish two major changes effecting Donley County WC&ID No. 1 and the City of Memphis.

The two changes would include the following:

(1) The proposed bill would authorize the City of Memphis to appoint as directors to the Board of the Water District, residents of Memphis who are property owners and individuals with "reasonable business experience." Such appointments would be made as terms of present directors expire.

(2) Authorize immediate transfer of the properties of the Water District to the City of Memphis at such time as the district becomes debt free.

"The Water District was recently granted an extension of its water franchise as a means of enabling the District to exercise a bond refunding plan over a more extended period. Officials of the Water District indicated that efforts would be made to refund and extend the present bond over a 25-30 year period, lessening the annual bond and interest payments," A. L. Gailey, city secretary, explained.

Members of the Council were enthusiastic about the proposed legislation, pointing out that it would enable the City to acquire its water works when the existing indebtedness is paid off as a gift.

The bill the City and the Water District will sponsor is entitled "An act relating to the selection of members of the Board of Directors of Donley County Water Control and Improvement District Number 1, their qualifications and their terms of office and the transfer by the District to the City of Memphis of District's properties after District becomes debt free; and declaring an emergency." The all-star cast chosen from the five plays presented included Helen Howard, Deeda Hickey, Sue Founds, Drubette Cook, Ronnie Thomson, Reggie Curry, Barbara Elem, Sandra Stargel and Neva Sue Koeninger.

Honor Thespian students were recognized by George Stanley, and included Carleen Harrison, Carolyn Montgomery, Linda Saye, Alice Young, Betty Young, Robert Gardner, Leslie Helm, Elaine Snowdon, Joy Baten, Dick Morgan, Beatrice Hook, Celia Leslie.

The Wellington squad defeated Memphis and Quail. In the finals they defeated Quail 43 to 27. The Quail team took the second place or runner-up trophy.

The Memphis "B" team won the game with the Lakeview squad to take the consolation trophy.

Jerry Stephens Named On Regional Football Team

Jerry Stephens, a member of the Estelline football squad, was recently selected as tackle on the All-Regional Football Team by sportswriters of the Amarillo Globe News.

Honorable mention was given three other Estelline players. They were Bud Teas, guard; Mike Davidson, end; and Paul Corona, fullback.

After the District 11-B basketball conference first half ended in a three-way tie, between Estelline, Quitaque and Turkey boys, the spotlight will be on the second half, district tournament to be held today, tomorrow and Saturday at Turkey.

Conference play ended in a tie after Quitaque defeated Estelline Tuesday night 52-42. A champion will be decided in both the tournament, and first half play-off games to be held next week. If the same team wins the tournament and the playoff, this team will be the district champion.

However, it was explained, if a different team wins the tournament than wins next week's play-offs, then another game will have to be scheduled to determine the district winner.

Tournament play was scheduled to start at 4 p. m. today at Turkey with the Estelline and Flomot girls in the first match, and the Lakeview and Turkey girls in another game. Boys teams scheduled for Thursday are Flomot vs. Lakeview and Estelline vs. Matador.

On Friday, play will begin at 4 p. m. with Quitaque and Turkey boys in the lineup, and Quitaque and Matador girls.

The Matador girls won the round-robin or the first half of the district play. Lakeview and Quitaque tied for second and third, Turkey placed fourth, and Estelline and Flomot tied for fifth and sixth.

In the boys contests, Estelline, Turkey and Quitaque tied for first, second and third, Matador placed fourth, Flomot fifth, and Lakeview sixth.

The sudden death play-off to determine the round-robin winner will be held next week, and if the round-robin winner and the tournament winner are not the same team, then a one-game sudden-death contest will be played to determine the district champion of District 11-B.

MHS Cagers Go To McLean Friday

The Memphis High School cagers will go to McLean Friday night and will host Clarendon's two teams here Tuesday evening, in the last home game of the season. Next Friday they will go to Lefors for the season's last game.

Last Tuesday night, the local teams lost two games to Canadian. The local girls lost 41 to 27 and the Cyclone lost 59 to 48.

In the boys game, the local cagers led at the end of the first quarter 18-14, at the half 30-26, and at the end of the third quarter 43-40. However, in the fourth quarter, the conference leading Canadian team was able to make 19 points to the local squad's 6, which was the difference in the ball game.

Canadian's No. 15 was high point man with 23, and Don Gailey was second high with 15. Ronald Ables scored 13 points, and Bunky Adcock hit for 9 points.

In the girls game the half-time score was 16-14 in favor of the local team. However, in the second half the visitors took a comfortable lead to win the game.

Sharon Petree racked up 22 points for the visitors to be the game's high point player. Sandra Stargel was high for Memphis with 12 points.

Atalantean Club Members Enjoy 33rd Anniversary Breakfast Saturday

Members of the Atalantean Club observed the 33rd anniversary of the organization with a breakfast Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of the president, Mrs. J. W. Coppedge.

An annual event, the club has celebrated the occasion since its organization, Jan. 28, 1928. One of the highlights of the club year, the gala affair, is one to which members look forward to from year to year.

As the members arrived they were greeted by Mrs. Coppedge and the social committee including Mmes. D. H. Aronofsky, Ralph Williams and L. C. Martin.

Members were seated at a long table. Centering the table was an arrangement of pink carnations, white candy tuft and greenery with pink glow candles on either side.

The breakfast was served buffet style from a beautifully appointed table.

The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, canadian bacon, scrambled eggs, sweet rolls, jam and jelly with coffee.

Mrs. Robert Sexauer gave an interesting address entitled, "Leaves." She said each day we turn a leaf in our book of life and we must live for the future, not in the past. The world is in need of fast moving. This must be a thinking generation and one that is not afraid to venture into daring experiences. She said that each of us should achieve leaves of gold in our lives by constant, right living. Here she presented the president, Mrs. Coppedge, with the traditional club gift, the book, "Leaves of Gold," in appreciation of her untiring effort and successful year's work.

Mrs. Coppedge gave a gracious response in her expression of thanks to the club.

Pathfinders Enjoy Health Program On January 24

The members of the Pathfinder's Council held their regular meeting at 3 p. m. on Jan. 24 in the home of Mrs. Anna Dickson, 523 South Sixth Street.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. O. M. Gunstream. The Salute to the Flag was repeated in unison by the members.

The president, Mrs. W. F. McElreath, had charge of the business session. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. J. J. McDaniel.

In keeping with the study of the day, "The Swinging Pendulum Keeps Our Health's Record," Mrs. Mitchell read Matthew IX for the devotional. The quotation for the health program was "The ground work of all happiness is health."

The program was introduced by Mrs. John Smith, program chairman. Mrs. D. C. Messick gave some highlights on Today's Health News. Mrs. McElreath gave a very interesting talk on "Your Headache—Facts and Fallacies." She discussed the causes of headaches, misconception of headache, how to cure a headache and when a physician should be consulted.

Representative, 18th Congressional District Report From Washington
By WALTER ROGERS

State of the Union Message

The new President of the United States of America, John F. Kennedy, made his appearance before a Joint Session of the Congress on January 30, 1961 at 10 p. m. to deliver to the Congress his first State of the Union message. The audience in the Chamber included members of the President's Cabinet, members of the Supreme Court, members of the House of Representatives and members of the House of Representatives of the United States, and present and former members of the House of Representatives of the United States, together with the representatives of foreign governments authorized to be seated in the Chamber during such a session.

The State of the Union message was a hard-hitting, realistic presentation of the condition of the country on both domestic and international issues, as viewed by Kennedy as the new head of the nation. He did not beg the question, he spoke straight from the shoulder. His observations were hard, unapproachable to tough problems. Whether one liked or disliked his observations or his conclusions, no one would doubt that he had the accepted practice of empire at the baseball game; he called them as he saw them.

His message was sprinkled throughout with a clear and concise statements of basic generalities to which most everyone could subscribe. For example, in the very beginning of the speech he said, and I quote:

"To state the facts frankly is not to despair the future nor indict the past. The prudent heir takes careful inventory of his legacies, and gives a faithful accounting to those whom he owes an obligation of trust. And, while the occasion does not call for another recital of our blessings and assets, we have no greater asset than the willingness of a free and determined people, through its elected officials, to face all problems frankly and meet all dangers free from panic or fear."

And another example of a profound statement which could not be misunderstood regardless of the language in which it might be spoken, and I again quote:

"On the Presidential Coat of Arms, the American eagle holds in his right talon the olive branch, while in his left is held a bundle of arrows. We intend to give equal attention to both."

To these and other such quotations the entire populace of America and free men everywhere can subscribe. It is to the specifications as to the means and manners of fulfilling these policies where we find the sources of differences and arguments. I am sure that there will be great controversy during the year 1961 concerning the avenues to be traveled by our government and our people in meeting and resolving our many problems, both domestic and international. We in the Congress look forward to many heated debates, with the votes as close, if not closer, than was the 217 to 212 vote on the proposal to enlarge the Committee on Rules.

Some of the members thought perhaps the President had reference to these potential battles when he said: "Life in 1961 will not be easy."

There were few, if any, subjects of primary concern to the nation which were not treated at length or, at least, by reference in the State of the Union message. The President ran the gauntlet from the economic problems of the farmer, the laborer, small business, large business; thence to unemployment, the dollar gap, the outflow of gold, foreign investments, and inflation. He then moved to the current Federal budget for 1961 and that submitted for Fiscal 1962. He discussed the housing problem and referred to a new "Housing and Urban Affairs Department." This will no doubt be highly controversial, but probably be adopted because of the overwhelming concentration of population in the metropolitan areas, which will be the main recipients of the benefits flowing from such a department. He moved into the problems of the schools and the shortage of classrooms and teachers which he feels have been neglected. He touched on medical care, which is assured of a controversial trip either in or out of Congress; thence to our polluted streams, juvenile delinquency, our military status, our diplomatic problems, and the measures which he feels will be most effective in fighting the cold war against Communism.

It was different from the proverbial Mother Hubbard, which was said to have covered everything and touched nothing. It not only covered everything, but touched it with austerity.

Henry C. Goodpasture Of Dallas Is Recipient Of Civil Servant Award

Henry C. Goodpasture of Dallas, formerly of Memphis and brother of Oreville Goodpasture, received the Federal Civil Servant of the Year Award for 1960 recently in Dallas.

Mr. Goodpasture presently is employed in Dallas as chief, fiscal division, Commodity Stabilization Service Office, an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He received the Federal Civil Servant of the Year Award from the Dallas Federal Business Association, an organization which represents the approximate 10,500 federal employees in the Dallas area. Mr. Goodpasture is the first USDA employee to win the coveted award.

He was given the award after a careful review and appraisal was made of 15 nominations from 14 federal agencies.

He was presented a handsome bronze plaque and personal engraved brochure Jan. 17 at FBA annual luncheon ceremonies held at the Terrace Room, Baker Hotel, with about 175 people in attendance.

His skill and efficiency in handling fiscal matters in the far-flung 12-state area of the Dallas CSS Commodity Office and his part in civic, church, professional and cultural activities won Mr. Goodpasture the coveted award.

Winning the Federal Business Association Award climaxed 25 years of service with USDA, the last 29 of which have been spent in Dallas and the last 12 as chief of the fiscal division.

In 1938 he received a Certificate of Merit and a cash award of $500 for doing an outstanding job as head of the CSS Fiscal Division.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodpasture live at 1188 Tranquilla Drive with their two daughters. Lucille is completing her freshman year at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, and Kathy is a ninth grader at Robert T. Hill Junior High.

MINUTE MEDITATION

"The law of the Lord is perfect converting the soul" (Psalms 19:7).

The law of the Lord converts the sinner by creating faith in his heart. (Romans 10:17).

Faith in the heart leads one to trust in the promises given in God's law. (St. John 20:30,31).

Faith in the heart will also lead one to confess Christ. "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Romans 10:10).

The confession of Christ which is a statement of one's faith in Jesus as the Son of God entitles to the rite of baptism. (Acts 8:36,37).

Baptism is connected to and coupled with repentance and when these two take place, the sinner has been set free from his past sins. (Acts 2:38).

God's law has other things for the converted soul to do after his sins are washed away. (Acts 22:16).

He must assemble with other Christians regularly. (Hebrews 10:25). He must study God's word to approve himself and to be a worker. (2 Timothy 2:15). He must present his body a living sacrifice daily. (Romans 12:1).

The American Field Service Program Is Doing For Memphis

GEORGE STANLEY

Memphis High School with Heinz-Erich (Heiner) Ludemann, from Germany. I wrote my impressions to Miss Laura V. Hamner, who published them in her Amarillo Sunday News column, "Talks To Teens":

"During the Christmas holidays, I had a chance to get better acquainted with the exchange student in our high school, Heinz-Erich (Heiner), as he is known to all the students. Ludemann. A more refreshing personality would be hard to find. Heiner is from Bielefeld, Germany. His 'strong-German character' is pleasing to everyone who meets him. Heiner told me when I was home that his mission was to interest people in the culture of Germany. 'Mission accomplished!' Almost everyone I saw while I was home would greet me in German. Everyone in Memphis knows Heiner; everyone in Memphis loves Heiner. The dividend received by having a student like Heiner in Memphis High School is more than could be achieved by all the diplomats in the State Department, and by all the dollars the United States government sends abroad. Memphis received a great gift when her 'Ambassador from Germany,' Heiner Ludemann arrived.

"I only wish every high school in the Golden Spread could share the wonderful opportunities offered by the American Field Service. This organization is doing a wonderful job in bringing nations closer together through its exchange programs.

"Teenagers, support the American Field Service. It's an organization for your benefit."

I believe what I said in the letter to be very true. Memphis has received a dividend from having Heiner attend school here. Our lives have been enriched by the freshness of his character and our knowledge of Germany has been broadened. The people of Memphis should support the American Field Service wholeheartedly.

Efforts have been underway to enlarge the exchange programs to include Iron Curtain countries. To date, Communists have been standoffish. Predictably, they don't share our willingness to let young people get an unrestricted view of a differing political philosophy.

In Europe there are about ten applicants for every place available; in Japan, there are fifty. Should these programs be stepped up? Virtually all who have participated answer "Yes."

Stephen Galatti, director of American Field Service, observes: "There is no idea that provides so great a return for so small an outlay. For a few hundred dollars, a service club or an individual can make an invaluable contribution to better international understanding."

I hope that Memphis will continue to become a "second home" for students in the American Field Service program. I profoundly believe the citizens of Memphis will find their lives enriched through the AFS exchange programs and that the students of AFS will find a life-long friendship with every citizen in this wonderful city.

Devoted Men In the Scouting Program

This week, February 7 through 13, is being celebrated as Boy Scout week throughout the United States. The Adobe Walls Council, the Comanche District, as well as local scout troops will celebrate the 51st Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

However, along with the boys which make up the scouting program, the devoted men of scouting who spend many hours planning the program should be recognized.

The growth of the scouting program throughout the years pays tribute to the men behind the boys, the business and professional men who by their leadership make Scouting possible in their home towns and communities.

These Scouters are business leaders and busy men. There is none but has other community responsibilities—to his church, his civic clubs, or other organizations.

On Tuesday, February 21 a Comanche District Round-Table Meeting will be held here for all District Scouters. At these, and other meetings scouters get together to compare problems and seek solutions to these problems, making for a better scout program.

This, the 51st Anniversary, the scouts and scouters are honored for work done and encouraged in the programs they are planning for the future.

Farm, Ranch Income Are Down!

According to a January 22, 1961 news release of the Texas Bureau of Business Research, The University of Texas, the 1960 estimated farm cash income for Texas farmers and ranchers amounted to $2,209,219,000, down 3.2 per cent from 1959. Income from livestock was up 2.7 per cent, but this was not enough to offset the 7.6 per cent decrease in income from all crops. The 1960 income from all crops amounted to $1.2 billion, while income from livestock totaled $1.0 billion.

The increase in farm cash income for livestock is principally the result of 24 per cent heavier marketings of cattle in 1960 over 1959. Average prices for cattle were down about 16 per cent, but the heavier marketings more than offset the price decrease, and the net result was that Texas cattle producers received $534,634,000 for their stock, a 4.6 per cent increase over the previous year. This is a case in selling more, but getting 16 per cent less for what you sell.

The Agriculture report stated that the "decrease in farm cash income for crops may be partially attributed to the decrease in income for cotton and cottonseed." In 1959 cotton and cottonseed accounted for approximately 57 per cent of farm cash income for crops, but in 1960 this figure had dropped to about 52 per cent. For cotton, farmers received 15.9 per cent less for their smaller crop with lower prices in 1960 than they did in 1959. Farm cash income for cottonseed was 15.3 percent less in 1960 than in 1959.

Not all of the decrease in income for cotton and cottonseed can be attributed to lower prices, however, the report stated. Part of the 1958 crop was not harvested until 1959. Almost all of the 1959 crop was harvested in that calendar year, but the 1960 crop was not all harvested during the calendar year. As a result there was a change in the marketing pattern which made the year 1960 not quite comparable to some of the other years. Actually, the smaller crop, lower prices, and the shifting marketing pattern were all contributing factors to decreased farm cash income for the cotton crop.

Income from sorghum grain dropped six per cent the previous year. Marketings in 1960 were similar to those of 1959—a record breaking year for sorghum grain producers. The big factor accounting for the decreased income was, of course, lower prices. The average prices received were approximately six per cent less than what they were in 1959 with the result that farm cash income for sorghum grain was down to $194,958,000 in 1960 as contrasted with the 1959 income of $207,479,000.

Farm cash income to Texas wheat growers was 27.6 per cent greater in 1960 than in 1959. Prices received in both years were fairly constant, but volume of marketing was much higher last year. The income for wheat in 1960 was $135,475,000, up considerably from the 1959 income of $106,205,000.

Farm cash income to Texas wool growers for their wool was 14.1 percent greater in 1960 than in 1959. Average prices received were 6.7 per cent greater in 1960 than the previous year, and increased marketings were 6.9 per cent above year earlier levels. As a result, farm cash income for wool jumped up to $21,167,000 for 1960 from the 1959 figure of $18,548,000.

Income for mohair was 12.7 per cent less in 1960 than in 1959. In 1960 there was an average decrease of five per cent in prices and an eight per cent drop in marketings. Lower prices in the latter half of the year were a strong influence in holding income below the previous year's level.

The Texas Crop Production Index for 1960, as compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock reporting service, stands at 138, two points greater than last year and equal to the 1958 level, the second greatest crop year in Texas history. The peak year for Texas agriculture was 1949 when this index, which includes 13 important crops, stood at its all-time high of 145. The larger wheat, sorghum, peanut, and hay crops offset lower production of cotton and corn and were largely responsible for 1960 being a high level year in Texas agriculture.

However, how long Texas farmers and ranchers will be able to produce more in order to offset the declining prices, is not covered in the Bureau of Business Research report.

What Other Editors Say

Everybody Has Pet Peeves
Everybody in the business and professional world has his pet peeves. They vary with the type of endeavor and a study of other people's peeves makes one realize that the grass is not greener on the other side of the fence—it just appears that way.

What are some of the pet peeves? For the shoe salesman it's the woman who tries on all the fancy high-priced shoes, then leaves in the $4.95 loafers.

For the cafe owner, it is the crowd of loafers who wait until close to the noon hour to occupy all the stools and booths to drink 10 cent coffee, while eating patrons fidget nervously or depart.

For the service station man it's the man who brings in a set of mail order tires and borrows tools with which to mount them. Or the bird who drives in for air and water, uses the rest room, gets a free road map and departs on his way.

For the furniture man it's the fellow who prices his merchandise and then goes to Amarillo to do his buying.

For the school superintendent it is the people who get highly incensed when a football coach leaves, but are quite unperturbed when six top notch classroom teachers resign at mid-semester.

For the preacher it is the people that constantly tell him what to do about the church, yet never accept any responsibility themselves, not even contributing to the church budget.

For the Chamber of Commerce manager, it is the critics of the organization who say "what has the Chamber ever done for me" while sitting back and reaping the rewards of trade stimulated through the efforts of dues paying members.

The newspaperman has his pet peeves, too.

At the top of the list is the club reporter who dashes down on a late Tuesday afternoon or maybe Wednesday morning with a club report that simply must be in this week's paper. It turns out that the meeting was held two weeks ago and the report gathered dust on the lady's table all that time.

There is the mother of the bride who brings in a picture of the bride showing the dress in all its glory. Of course, a newspaper engraving on rough newsprint does not do the picture justice, and the girl's face is about pinhead size. The mother then complains that it was hard to recognize her daughter.

Another is the out-of-towner who inserts a small advertisement and specifies what position on what page he wants it to run.

Also the fellow with a mimeographed publicity story about his product which he brings down to be run as a front page news story. If you do it, of course he is spared the expense of running it as a paid advertisement where it belongs.

There is the public official who makes certain statements in the heat of a public meeting. After the paper is published and he hears from some of his constituents, he cries to high heaven that the newspaper "misquoted him."

But the thing that enrages us

National Electrical Week

February 5-11, 1961

MAKE Electricity

WORK FOR YOU

ELECTRICITY, probably more than any other source of energy, has been responsible for the high standards of living enjoyed by millions of Americans today. The nation is more productive, healthier, wealthier, and more secure—thanks in large part to the number of tasks electricity performs.

Today's people live longer because electricity accomplishes the labor that formerly drained their strength and impaired their health. Mass production would be impossible without electricity. At the touch of a button or switch, electricity goes to work in factories, homes, on farms, on the land, in the air, and under the sea—doing the work of millions of people and enabling millions more to enjoy more ease and convenience than ever before. In medicine and in science, electricity enables man to study areas as yet unexplored. Today's children can look forward to a future in which electricity will make even greater contributions to their health, comfort and security.

Electricity stands ready to do even more in the way of improving the world in which we live, whether it is the world of business, science, medicine, research, entertainment. Electricity is ready to create more jobs and whole new industries. It is ready to take on increased tasks on the job, in homes, on farms and in factories. Electricity and its abilities are boundless—they need only to be called upon to serve. This is the electrical industry's message during National Electrical Week, a message to its own employees and to the public: MAKE ELECTRICITY WORK FOR YOU.

Soil Conservation
District News

It has been said "When the soil moves, people move. When the soil fails, life fails."

There are many conservation practices in the Hall County Soil Conservation District that can be used to keep the soil from moving and to control wind and water erosion.

During the next two months it will be wise to keep as much of last year's crop residue from grain sorghums and other high residue producing crops on the surface of the soil as possible. This period is usually the critical wind erosion period of the year.

The residues from these crops will help to conserve moisture, increase the infiltration of snow and rain, reduce soil losses, and will also improve the structure of the soil. On land that does not have sufficient residues emergency tillage operations have been started by many farmers such as listing, chiseling, and the use of a stalk cutter. These measures will provide temporary protection to cropland against soil losses by wind erosion. Many farmers prefer chiseling to listing when the soil is in a condition where it will form clods.

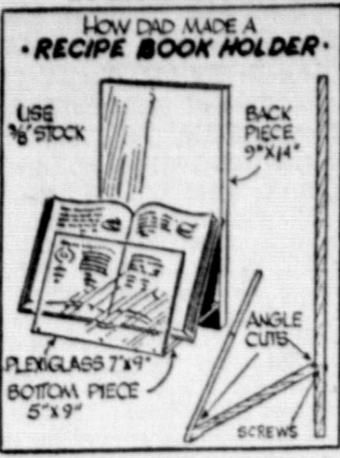

On fields that now have adequate growing crops, sorghum stubble, or other suitable crop residues, we must exercise the greatest care in our management to maintain an effective cover throughout the blowing season.

As soon as he has all of his first teeth, he should begin brushing after every meal. At first you will have to help, but eventually he will be able to take over the job completely. Brushing his teeth regularly is part of the necessary dental care for his first teeth; also habits formed as a small child are likely to be kept throughout life.

Brushing after every meal is the dental health rule suggested because brushing removes food particles from the mouth. If these food particles, especially sugar, are not removed, bacteria act upon them to form acid, which attacks the enamel of the teeth.

When should my child be taken to the dentist for the first time? As soon as he has all of his primary teeth, between the ages of 2½ and 3. On this first visit the child has a chance to become acquainted with the dentist, his office and his equipment. Usually the dentist will clean and x-ray the child's teeth. Since half of all 2-year-olds have one or more decayed teeth, it may also be necessary for the dentist to restore a tooth. The dentist will suggest how often the child should return for subsequent check-ups.

Why should my child's baby teeth be taken care of? He'll lose them anyhow?

One reason is that a child's first teeth are not really "baby" teeth, since some of them remain in his mouth until he is 11 or 12 years old. At least they will if his teeth are properly taken care of.

Primary teeth are needed for exactly the same reasons permanent teeth are needed—for chewing, for appearance and for speaking. In addition, the primary teeth hold the spaces for the permanent teeth.

My 8-year-old is going to have to have a molar removed. My nephew had a space maintainer put in when he lost a back tooth. Will my daughter need a space maintainer too?

Yes, a space maintainer should be inserted when a primary molar is lost prematurely. One of the functions of the first teeth is to hold the space for the permanent teeth. If a molar is lost prematurely and not replaced with a space maintainer, the other teeth drift into the empty space. Then there is not sufficient space for the permanent tooth to erupt in the proper position. The perman-
