Girl Scout Week To Be Observed March 12-18

The Memphis Girl Scouts will observe Girl Scout Week March 12-18 by having a Fair and a magazine selling campaign, it was announced Wednesday by leaders of the organization.

"Only the Intermediate Troops will sell magazines; however, they may take any new subscriptions or renew any subscription of a publication," Mrs. Elmont Branigan, who is in charge of publicity, said.

The Memphis Troops will be allowed to retain 30 per cent of the amount of the total sales. This money will be used to obtain materials to be used by all troops in Memphis. The leaders assisting the girls with these sales will be Mrs. Glenn Bruce, Mrs. Brode Hoover, Mrs. Doyle Fowler and Mrs. Les Sims.

The Girl Scout Fair will be held in Memphis Saturday, March 18, and will be the final phase of Girl Scout Week. The Brownie Troops will have the selling booths and the Intermediate Troops will have display booths concerning the 11 program fields of Girl Scouting.

The theme of the Fair will be "Honor the Past, Serve the Future." The Fair will be held from 4 to 8 p. m., and the place will be announced next week.

There are nine troops in Memphis. The four Brownie Troops are under the leadership of Mrs. Bill Geo. Kesterson, Mrs. Bob Ayers, Mrs. Doug Burgess, Troop 148; Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor, Troop 188; Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Troop 138; Mrs. J. W. Coppedge, Troop 172.

Negro Woman Charged With Home Burglary

A 19-year-old negro woman was apprehended Saturday afternoon and charged with the burglary of the W. M. Davis, Jr., home at 920 South 7th Street.

Dorothy Patterson, who has been living in the Memphis Farmers Co-Op Gin living quarters since the harvesting season, listed her former address as Corpus Christi.

She has been charged with the theft of more than 19 household items including such things as pillow cases, sweaters, blankets, quilts, etc., Sheriff W. P. Baten said. These items, which were in a large box, were found in her living quarters.

Also found, Sheriff Baten said, was a radio which was reported stolen Monday, Feb. 13, by J. W. Johnson. The radio was an Arvin clock model which had been taken from the living room of the home.

The hearing for the case will be held Friday to set bond, Sheriff Baten said, and it will go before the Grand Jury Monday.

Tomorrow Is Deadline On ASC Grain Survey

As was announced last week, the local ASC employees and committee members are trying to contact every farmer in Hall County, who produced grain sorghum during 1959 and 1960. The information must be obtained by tomorrow, March 10, 1961, to obtain a record of this crop.

Records obtained in the feed grain sign-up will be used in future years for feed grain control programs. Therefore, it is to the personal interest of all persons interested in the production of feed grains to report to the ASC office by tomorrow, and establish a record of their production, Lynn McKown, ASC office manager, explained.

Dry, Windy Is Weather Picture

Fires this week destroyed two farm houses, one Memphis house and a business firm here.

At 12:15 a. m. Saturday morning Memphis Volunteer Firemen were summoned to 1721 Bradford to the John B. Evans house. The hot water heater in the house had blown up, setting fire to that portion of the building. Smoke and water damage was heavy, and the fire burned through the roof around the vent pipe.

The house was occupied by the Henry E. Moores.

Then, at 11:40 a. m. Saturday, firemen were called to extinguish a fire at the S. M. Zeigler Janitor Supply house at 614 Bradford. The fire caught in the floor sweep from a trash burning fire.

The building was owned by Mrs. Coleman Duke, and received heavy damage. Firemen battled the blaze for approximately an hour.

Sunday morning, some time between 10 and 12 o'clock, the farm house on the Oren Jones, Mrs. Alice Crawford farm, located two and a half miles southeast of Lesley, completely burned down.

J. R. Summers, the occupant of the house for 22 years, was at church at the time of the fire. The fire was not reported and the six-rooms frame house was completely destroyed by the blaze. The house was covered by insurance, Jones said. However, Summers did not have his furniture or household goods insured.

Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. Memphis firemen were called to a farm house fire 5 miles southeast of Memphis on the Mrs. Ida Hutcherson farm.

The farm house was occupied by the R. L. Driver family. Due to telephone lines being down, the firemen arrived too late to save the five-room house. However, most of the furniture and household goods were rescued.

Apparently the fire started in the attic of the house, it was reported.

With a dry, windy spring ahead, area residents were warned by firemen to be careful when burning trash.

The lumber and accessories for the tables were donated by the Paulsel Lumber Co. of Ft. Worth. Firemen work on the park tables on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week. At present they have completed cutting the lumber and are painting it. Two of the tables they have made are shown in the foreground of the picture. The firemen would appreciate anyone who can use a brush or hammer to help in the project.

Your RIGHT TO VOTE

MR. AND MRS. VOTER, do you feel that you should have an opportunity to vote on legalizing Parimutuel Horse Race Betting?

A constitutional amendment (H.J.R. #4) is being considered whereby Texans will be given an opportunity to legalize horse race betting in Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Galveston, Bexar, Midland, Hidalgo, Cameron and Webb Counties, subject to approval by LOCAL OPTION.

H.J.R. #4 provides for distribution, ANNUALLY, among all counties that do not have race tracks, one-half of the STATE TAX REVENUE obtained from horse racing. Each county would receive approximately $1.00 per capita population the first year. Counties where the tracks are located would receive 2% of parimutuel handle. The state's tax income from horse racing alone would run close to $12,000,000 the very first year—possibly more—besides all the income tourists would bring to Texas—which would amount to millions of dollars, plus a great ad valorem tax on race tracks, breeding farms and many valuable race horses.

Please express your opinion by checking  the appropriate box below.
You do not have to sign your name unless you like, but we would prefer it.

POLL

YES: I feel that the people should have an opportunity to vote on horse race parimutuel betting.

NO: I am not in favor of letting the people vote on the subject.

A Responsibility
We Cannot Shirk

Next to national survival, the public responsibility of most urgency today is that of providing adequate educational opportunities for all of our children.

From our schools must come not only an enlightened citizenship capable of self-government, but also the knowledge and technical skills needed by industry, business, agriculture, the armed forces, and the trades and professions. All these are necessary to the maintenance of a high standard of living for all of the people.

On this occasion of Public School Week, every person has an opportunity to become better acquainted with this vital function of our society. It is a time when we can rededicate ourselves to support the work which is being done by capable administrators and teachers.

All patrons contributing items will have their articles marked with their names so that all can be returned later.

Jerry Gilmore Is City Judge of Cockrell Hill

Jerry C. Gilmore of Dallas, former Memphis resident and brother of Mrs. Gene Lindsey, was recently given publicity in a Dallas newspaper along with other city officials of Cockrell Hill, which is a mile-square city with an aldermanic type of government which maintains its position as a little municipality so closely associated with the large city of Dallas.

Gilmore, who is city judge of Cockrell Hill, is an Oak Cliff resident. He is associated in practice with the law firm of Leftgowitz, Green, Ginsberg & Eades. He is a graduate of W. H. Adamson High School and the University of Texas.

The newspaper article said in part:

"Jerry C. Gilmore is a young man with a sense of justice.

"And justice to him is giving a 'fair shake' to persons who chance to get traffic tickets in Cockrell Hill. He is city judge for the little municipality which is surrounded by Oak Cliff.

"Mr. Gilmore, 27, is sincere in his purpose."

"Our court very often is the only contact some persons have with a court," he observed Wednesday. "What we do here may give these persons a lasting impression of justice, if we handle the cases properly, or misjustice, if we fail in our duty."

"Mr. Gilmore estimates that no more than five per cent of all his decisions are appealed.

"That is far below the usual number of appeals for any court," the young judge said.

Gilmore and his wife, the former Miss Martha Niendorff, and their son, Daniel, live at 1222 Adelaide. Mrs. Gilmore is a graduate of Sunset High School.

Kennedy Less Liberal Than Congress

The general assumption that Congress would prove a more conservative than the new administration, and would exercise a restraining influence upon liberal programs put forward by President Kennedy, may be in need of drastic revision. For at the moment just the opposite appears to be true. Through the proposals he has transmitted to Congress may be branded as liberal in his fiscal approach to them—in his dealings with money matters—President Kennedy has shown a high degree of caution and orthodoxy. It is Congress, or its committees, which has exhibited little regard for financial and economic effects.

Take, for example, the minimum wage bill which a House subcommittee has approved. As was to be expected, President Kennedy proposed that the present $1 hourly minimum wage be raised to $1.25. But he proposed to do it over a three-year period—$1.15 this year, $1.20 next year and $1.25 in 1963. The subcommittee wants to hasten the process, and so the bill it approved calls for the minimum to rise to $1.15 within 30 days after enactment of the legislation and jump to $1.25 a year later.

The bill is certain to receive stiff opposition when it reaches the floor, and its scope may be somewhat narrowed. But the view in Washington is that the Senate will pass a broader bill. Chairman James Roosevelt of the House subcommittee showed scant regard for the impact of the bill upon business now under the minimum wage laws and new ones that would be affected, saying that making the change in two steps instead of three would save the Labor Department much paper work.

The financing of the multi-billion dollar interstate highway program is another case in point. To avoid expenditures from the Treasury that would mean deficit financing of part of the program, Mr. Kennedy recommended that pay-as-you-go financing of the program be continued. Congress, loath to impose the higher taxes this would involve, prefers the method of diverting funds from the general Treasury to the highway program. This would further unbalance a budget already expected to be out of balance, and would mean partial abandonment of pay-as-you-go. The indications are that Congress will compromise by retaining the "temporary" 1 cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase voted in 1958 and due to expire July 1, but will insist that the rest of the needed money come out of general tax revenues.

Besides re-enacting the temporary gasoline tax, Mr. Kennedy's financing proposals would sharply increase the federal tax on automobile tires and tubes, and even more sharply raise the tax on large trucks and the fuel they use. This seems to indicate who is expected to do the sacrificing Mr. Kennedy has called for—a matter which has been in considerable doubt in view of the promised new benefits to many classes of the population.

The intended victims are (1) the already tax-burdened motorist and (2) the business man. It seems clear, however, that this is now the full answer. In view of the trucking industry's warning that higher taxes on over-the-road transportation will mean higher prices to the consumer, and the certainty that higher wage minimums will be a push in the same direction for goods and services, the one who finally will bear the brunt of sacrifice will be long-suffering John Q. Public himself.

What Other Editors Say

Effective Cure for Drunken Driver

In Turkey, of all places, one would not expect to read of police having trouble with motorists who drive while intoxicated. There are 26 million living in that Eurasian nation and they are 99 per cent Moslem, a people whose religion denies them the use of alcohol save as a medicine. Nevertheless, the drinking driver has become a problem to such extent that police have been compelled to devise a means of dealing with him.

And the means adopted has a flavor of Oriental justice. When a Turkish traffic officer stops a motorist who has been tipping too much for his own safety and the safety of the public, he takes him for a ride. The officer drives the tippler 15 miles out of town and tells him to walk back. To make certain the order is followed, the officer drives slowly behind the malefactor until he has completed his sentence. We could learn from the Turks.

The Game of Happiness

Why is it that some people are usually happy and others usually depressed? Why is a certain individual, though relatively lacking in material wealth, perhaps also lacking in nature's physical endowments, nevertheless cheerful and merry, and able to enjoy every day, or most of it?

The experts tell us the happy individual is one who has developed a sound philosophy of life. That means, as we see it, a philosophy which takes into consideration all that we have to be thankful for.

This is the field which so many of us — especially the sour-faced — overlook. And certainly all of us in America have more to be thankful for than the average person in a far away country. We have freedom. We have opportunity. We have great material wealth. We have peace. We have freedom of worship. And we have a strong country.

Then, too, we have the miracle of nature, the beauty of nature, to observe every day, and those of us who enjoy good health have blessings we enjoy. The key to contentment and happiness, then, is found in the state of mind — not the state of the bank account.

The lesson of life, then, is to develop a philosophy, a state of mind, which concentrates on positive thinking, faith and thankfulness and service to others. Going this way will bring rich rewards and contentment through the years. For happiness is truly a state of mind and if you can master that, you have mastered life, and—as Kipling wrote—you are a man, my son.

—The Shamrock Texan

And trivia — if not kept in perspective — can dominate one's thoughts and crowd out of one's personality the thankfulness and humble appreciation for the many

MINUTE MEDITATION

Love "rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."
 Dr. Moffatt says the sense of the passage is this,
 "Love is always eager to believe the best."
 Let us write this great truth upon the door-posts of our house, and upon the walls of our bedchamber, and bind it to our hearts with cords of iron.
 Some people have what we might call an ill-bred appetite for bad news.
 They stand ready to believe the vulgar, ugly things whether they be true or not.
 Such people resemble a scavenger that feeds on dead organic matter.
 But love centers its attention on the good, the pure,
 the just and the true.
 And if there be any virtue, on it love will think.
 Whatsoever things are worthy of praise, of them love will take notice.
 "Love never faileth."
 "And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three;
 but the greatest of these is love."

The Bloomin' News

We now have our Glad, Canna and Caladium bulbs. They are extra nice and are priced right. I think it is just a little early to put them out but several have been calling for them so we're ready now.

During the last six months of 1960 FTD handled over 4 million flower orders. Out of this number, only 328 complaints had to be referred to our headquarters for adjustments. They say you can't please everybody but I would say we came about as close as possible. We really mean what we say when we tell you that we guarantee delivery and satisfaction.

You still have time to get in on the job of building the park tables. Come by 715 West Noel any Tuesday or Thursday night and we will let you help on this project. This is going to be something that is a real asset to our City Park when they are completed.

It isn't too early to place your order for Easter flowers, especially if they are for some friend or loved one who lives away from here. If you place your order by March 20th, we can send it anywhere in the world without any extra transmission charge.
