Lions Club's Sixth Annual Park Opener To Be Held Here Tuesday

No Action Taken On Hospital Site Selection By Commissioners Mon.

The Sixth Annual Lions Club Park Opener is scheduled for next Tuesday, beginning at 7 p. m. in the Memphis City Park. Besides the jumbo barbecued hamburgers the club will serve, entertainment will be furnished and prizes will be given away. Entertainment so far scheduled is Mack Graham and Band, and the Memphis Square Dance Club. Clyde Smith is chairman of the entertainment committee.

The cook committee will arrive at the Park around 5 p. m. to begin preparing the jumbo barbecued hamburgers which will go to each holder of a $1.00 ticket. Other trimmings and drinks will be on hand for those desiring them.

Seven prizes, valued at $400, will be given away at the Park Opener. These include: $100 bill, reclining chair, sewing machine, radio, rod and reel, kitchen stool and a lawn cart.

Members of the ticket selling committee reported that they have no idea how many tickets have been sold to the Park Opener. They were unable to obtain this information because the regular Wednesday meeting was not held due to their All-Sports Banquet Monday.

Cards have been sent out to the members of the club by Bill Baten, assistant chairman of ticket sales, urging an active campaign to get tickets into the hands of area citizens.

Everyone is invited to attend the annual event. The proceeds go to pay for the different projects which the Lions Club sponsors.

The park has been cleaned up, 50 new tables have been placed in the park due to the donation (Continued on Page Twelve)

212 Hall Farmers Sign Feed Grain Agreements

Through Wednesday, May 10, 212 Hall County farmers had signed agreements to participate in the New Feed Grain Program, Lynn McKown, local ASC manager, said.

They will divert 7,593.3 acres of grain sorghum for which they were paid an advance payment of $40,823.82, he said.

Hall County farmers favor the new feed program, he reported. Most farmers agree that the payment rate of $12.80 for the first 20 per cent and $15.40 for the additional acreage is fair and equitable for an average net income from grain sorghum.

The advance payment which is equal to 50 per cent of the lower rate times the acreage diverted is popular with most farmers as this is extra money when it is most needed to produce a crop, he explained.

It was erroneously stated in an earlier release that diverted acreage must be designated at the time of sign-up. No designation needs to be made of diverted acreage at this time, McKown said.

"In fact, a producer can sign up to divert a full 40 per cent and can later reduce his actual diverted acreage to not less than 20 per cent of his base if he chooses," he stated.

The feed grain program is one of the best conservation programs ever offered, McKown explained. A producer can divert 40 per cent of acreage normally planted to grain sorghum to peas, guar or summer fallow, receive cash rental of approximately $14 per acre, plus one-half the cost of seed if guar or peas are seeded, and a guaranteed price support of $1.89 per cwt. on the normal production of the remaining grain sorghum acreage.

"There are only 13 more working days left in the sign-up period. All agreements must be completed by May 31. As most farmers are expected to enter into the program, it is advisable to sign up early and avoid the last minute rush," he concluded.

Two Wrecks In Memphis Cause Property Damage

Two wrecks this week in Memphis resulted in much property damage but only few injuries to four men.

Friday, Preston Parker, line superintendent of the Hall County Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Floyd Hardin, appliance salesman with West Texas Utilities Company in Memphis, collided on the corner of 16th Street and the Lakeview high, west of Memphis.

Hardin suffered a bad cut on the head, and Parker received only minor cuts and bruises in the two-pickup accident.

Damage to the vehicles was extensive, it was reported.

Monday, Coach Don Lambert and Pat Johnson of the Lone Star Gas Company were involved in a pickup-car accident on 12th St., one block north of the high school.

Both the car and the pickup were damaged heavily.

Diverted Acre Uses Enumerated By County Agent

The new Feed Grain Program offers cooperating farmers opportunities to make good use of the acres they've diverted from feed grains, according to W. B. Hooser, Hall County agent.

In answering the question, what are some possibilities of these retired acres, Hooser listed these conservation uses:

1. Permanent-type rotation cover of grasses and legumes. For Hall County area, he suggested alfalfa.
2. Temporary cover of grasses legumes, and small grains. For Hall County area, he suggests wheat, oats, barley, millet, rye or sudan.
3. Water storage.
4. Wildlife food or habitat plantings.
5. Trees or shrubs.
6. Cropland in volunteer natural cover or in protected summer fallow in county committee determines it is not practicable to establish cover.

The county agent said that if the farmers plan to return the diverted land to feed or fiber crops in the future, they should consider putting it in legumes. If they plan to put the land in permanent pasture, they should consider putting it in grasses or grass and legume mixtures.

He explained that close-cover crops such as grasses and legumes will keep out weeds; hold erosion to a minimum; and reduce water run-off and flooding of lower fields. In addition, grass-legume offers feed and cover for wild game.

However, Hooser added, if erosion damage is extensive, the legume-grass cover may be too costly. In that case, he recommended that the farmer consider putting the diverted acres in trees.

"With good management, the farmer can conserve the productivity of the retired land until it is needed," Hooser said. "That way, the land can continue to work for the farmer and for the nation."

Laff Of The Week

"You'll find everything filed in chronological order—whatever that means."

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

One of the most resounding phrases I ever heard in a political campaign goes back to a race for governor in Arkansas many years ago. The leading contender, as the contest began to shape up, was a big impressive-looking attorney who was considered by some as being a bit on the egotistical side. He hailed from a town on the bank of the Ouachita—(pronounced "Wash-e-taw")—river.

The field was large and one of the entries seemed to have filed for the sole purpose of seeing that the favorite was defeated. At any rate, this candidate devoted his speeches almost entirely to criticism and ridicule of the river-town aspirant whom he called "the proud peacock Napoleon of the Ouachita." (Another candidate was the victor.)

Sometimes, one wonders how some businessmen have been able to keep their doors open, they know — or practice — so little of good public relations.

For instance, a store in a large Texas city, a while back, had a window filled with shoes and a large sign, "Big Sale — Save up to half." A small sign read, "Shoes on display not included in the sale."

One year after a big bowl game (not in Texas) the coach of one of the teams complained that he had been unable to obtain hotel rooms for two friends, whereupon the head of a leading hotel was quoted in the press as saying, "I doubt that Coach So-and-so has two friends."

For years I have lugged around heavy suitcases with two big handles, brass trimmings and

Pathfinders' Hear Program On Garden Tips

Members of the Pathfinder's Council held their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. O. M. Gunstream, 1167 Robertson at 3:00 P. M. on April 25.

The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Gunstream. The president Mrs. W. F. McElreath presided over the business meeting. Members answered roll call with a "Miracle Tip for your Garden."

In introducing the program on Springtime, Mrs. John Smith gave an interesting description of the garden in the heart of the business district of Santa Anna, Calif. She told of how the garden retreat is flanked on two sides by the sixty-four year old vine covered Episcopal Church of the Messiah, while the rest of the garden is enclosed by a seventy year old house which serves as the church offices, and by two other churches. The closely trimmed lawn sets off unusual plants from many nations and these trees, shrubs, reeds, herbs, field flowers and vines are all mentioned in the scriptures, Mrs. Smith said. Many difficulties had to be overcome before the dream of this garden could be realized, and she left everyone wishing that someday she might visit Santa Anna and this lovely garden.

Filled, it weighs less than the old-time kind does, empty. And cost less, too. Slowly, the world goes forward.

An interesting talk on "Spring is Bursting out All Over" was given by Mrs. Frank Ritchie. She gave the history, care and uses of many flowers and explained that all the familiar garden flowers of today have been developed from wild flowers. They were chosen because of their beauty, however, she said flowers were first cultivated for food and later for medicine and beauty treatments. As Mrs. Ritchie gave the history of each flower she demonstrated with beautiful and life like plastic flowers which she had made. After these flowers had served to attractively decorate the rooms they were sold and one-half of the proceeds were given to club.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. J. J. McElreath, D. C. Messick, Gene Chamberlain, A. Huckaby, W. F. McElreath, John Smith, J. K. Mitchell, Ritchie, G. M. Duren and the hostess, Mrs. O. M. Gunstream.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions at different times during the past year, Texas producers came up with the highest lint yield per harvested acre on record, 329 pounds. 1946 the yield figure has climbed from 134 pounds to the present record. Fred C. Elliott, Glenn Black, extension cotton specialist, in their 1960 report also said that production saved about $91 million in costs by harvesting over 50 percent of their crop with mechanical and by using mechanical chemical grass and weed control methods. Their work is carried as a part of the 7-Step Cotton program.

A host of relatives and friends called at the family home between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The entertaining rooms were beautifully decorated with a color scheme of white and gold featuring floral arrangements. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth over gold and noted on the buffet was an arrangement of candles and fruit.

A three-tiered wedding cake, punch, mints and nuts were served by Mrs. Amos Weddel, Mrs. T. V. Alexander, Jay Weddel, Mrs. Jimmie Addison, Mrs. Ola Hewitt and Mrs. Elmer Weddel.

"It was a happy couple who sat in the new rubber-tire buggy behind the high stepping horse, 'Old Joe' just after the marriage ceremony had been read by Justice of the Peace Judd Hollis at Grapevine 50 years ago," Mr. and Mrs. Weddel recalled Sunday.

From Grapevine they went to the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Belle Stafford, for a wedding dinner and then on to a little farm home near Grapevine to start their married life.

"Since that time many joys, heartaches and hard years as well as more prosperous years have come," the couple recalled. "But all and all, the joys have outweighed the troubles."

Mr. and Mrs. Weddel came to Hall County in 1932 and spent several years farming in the Deep Lake community. In 1950 they purchased the Jim Nail home, 401 N. 15th St., and moved to Memphis where they still reside.

other recommendations as it deems advisable."

I am sure that many of you will agree with me that it is long past time for a full and complete investigation and appraisal of the employees of the Department of State.

The Department of State or its counterpart in any government is a fertile field for the activities of the enemies of a country. The danger has measurably increased in the past few years. This should point up the vital need of our Department of State being staffed by none other than loyal and capable patriots of this country. It is not the purpose of this Resolution to reflect on any person whomsoever, but it is the purpose of the Resolution to provide the representatives of the people of this country with full information as to whether or not any employees of the Department of State—past, present, and future—might willingly or unwillingly aid or abet those who subscribe to ideologies in conflict with ours. The sensitive nature of this Department of the government requires that there be no question as to the absolute loyalty and abilities of every individual associated with it.

I had hoped that the prior administration would have instituted some program or some procedure to bring about the result sought in this Resolution. The "agonizing reappraisal" so often referred to by the late John Foster Dulles should, in my opinion, have been applied to the personnel of the State Department. The new Administration has made no indication that a different procedure will be followed now. Hence, it is my feeling that Congress should step in and exercise its two major powers: investigation and legislation. The investigation anticipated by this Resolution would provide the means and the knowledge upon which to base legislation to guide the future staffing of the State Department, and it would certainly be the best means of uncovering any suspect activities, if such are present.

Advice to me from the security agencies of the Federal government indicates that these organizations are watching very closely and doing a splendid job with relation to the possible infiltration

House, Senate Pass City-Water Dist. Bill At Austin

Mayor H. J. Howell was notified last Friday by State Representative Will Ehrle that the Texas House of Representatives and the Senate had passed the City of Memphis and Donley County Water Control and Improvement Dist. No. 1 joint bill.

The bill is now on the governor's desk, Representative Ehrle said.

The bill is entitled: "An act relating to the selection of members of the Board of Directors of Donley County Water Control and Improvement District Number 1, their qualifications and their terms of office, and the transfer by the District to the City of Memphis of District's properties after the District becomes debt free, and declaring an emergency."

The bill was introduced into the State Legislature several months ago. The House passed it last month and the Senate passed the bill last week.

It will become effective after it is signed by the governor.

The bill gives the governing body of the City of Memphis the power to appoint directors on the Board of Directors of the Donley County WCID No. 1. It also gives the city the title to the properties of the district at such time as the district is free from debt, approximately in 1995.

of subversives into our government. Nonetheless, I feel that this is a matter which should be thoroughly and exhaustively investigated by the people themselves, through their representatives, to insure that every safeguard is being employed and to provide a means of placing the responsibility in the future.

Memphis, Lakeview School Students Witness Safe Driving Demonstrations

Safe driving must be made a personal habit of every motorist if the slaughter on America's highways is to be curbed, Joe Smetana, safety director of the Texas Farm Bureau safety department, declared Monday as he spoke prior to conducting driving tests at Memphis High School at 11 a. m., and at Lakeview High School at 2 p. m.

"Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents," Smetana said. In the demonstrations which followed, he pointed out the conditions under which even 20, 30 or 40 miles per hour can be excessive.

Smetana added, "when drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway accidents will drop sharply."

The movie, "Death on the Highway" was shown to the students, teachers and guests.

Students and teachers took part in the tests which were conducted in a specially equipped car. The test driver was signalled to stop by an electrically controlled detonator. As the shell was fired, the street was marked with yellow paint. A second bullet was fired as brakes were applied, and a third after the car came to a complete stop. Distances between the spots were carefully measured to determine in feet and inches how far the car traveled before the driver applied the brakes, or the reaction distance, and how far it traveled after the brakes were applied, or the braking distance.

Smetana emphasized the fact that a driver who observes the speed carefully is not a safe driver if he neglects many other items such as proper signalling for turns, approaching an intersection in the proper lane for a turn, the proper way to turn around, and many other things which are essential for safe driving.

The demonstrations were under the sponsorship of the Hall County Farm Bureau, and is a part of a long range program of traffic

Nation's Biggest Industry

One of the little known facts with which we live today is that farming is the nation's biggest industry. This fact is especially unknown among those persons who live in our cities. Statistics furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show some startling facts. For example, four out of ten jobs in private employment are related to agriculture.

Also it is pointed out that farming employs seven and one-half million workers—more than the steel industry, automobile industry, or the transportation and public utilities combined.

Then there are the ten million persons who have jobs storing, processing, transporting and merchandising food and fiber grown upon American farms. Six million other jobs provide the supplies which farmers and their families use.

Here are other figures taken from the 1958 Census of Manufacturers:

Meat and poultry—308,500 employees and a payroll of nearly $1.5 billion.

Dairy—292,600 employees and a payroll of $1.3 billion.

Baking—299,000 employees and a payroll of more than $1.3 billion.

Vegetables and fruits—172,400 employees and a payroll of $591 million.

Cotton broadwoven fabrics—242,500 employees and a $722 million payroll.

Also pointed out is the fact that investment in agriculture is equal to three-fourths of the value of assets of all corporations in this nation, or three-fourths of the market value of all corporations on the New York Stock Exchange.

From facts like those cited above, it can be recognized easily that a sound and stable agriculture is of utmost importance. For this reason, agriculture is our greatest source of strength. For this reason, prosperity in agriculture means prosperity in all facets of American economy.

What Other Editors Say

Newspaper Comments
Preacherman Dale Horton of the Nazarenes blew in the other day with a choice item about an editor who published an answer to critics who raise the devil with their editor for what few mistakes customarily creep into the average newspaper.

The editor's reply:
"If you find any errors, please consider that they appear for the benefit of those readers who always look for them. We try to print something for everybody."

This brings up another choice weekly newspaper tidbit brought in by Grundy Humphreys. It reads: "A small town is where everybody knows what everybody else is doing and they all buy the weekly paper to see how much the editor dared to print."

This is, of course, far-fetched. Primarily, he can print anything that is a matter of public record or supported by the facts within the scope of common sense and decency.

And this one Ida Karrenbrock about the weekly editor who always wrote his own editorials as we do. One week, he was so busily engaged that he couldn't get around to them by his first press run, so he filed the editorial column with the Ten Commandments.

Couple of days later, an avid reader of his editorials telephoned and said:
"Look here, editor, I've been following your editorials for years and I like them, but this week you got too personal."

Why not be a "Neatnick"?
The Texas Highway Department has hunched a new slogan in its anti-litter campaign: "Be a neatnik. Not a litterbug."

This plea comes from Texas Highway Department maintenance crews all over the state as they haul mountains of cans, bottles, paper, decaying food, and other litter from Texas highway right of way.

"Spring houseclean our Texas highways all year long, by fighting that urge to toss litter from your car," they recommend.

"Take a count of the litter objects you see the next time you are on the road. Even though we have regular maintenance crews making periodic litter pickups, that busy litterbug is still way ahead of us. Help us out. Be a 'neatnik.' Litter? Don't throw it; stow it—till you get to a proper disposal unit."

More Babies Won't Bring Prosperity

To read some of the business projections based on population trends it would seem that the United States had discovered a key to unlimited prosperity in its soaring birth rate.

By these projections it's no trick at all to stay permanently prosperous. All that's necessary is to keep on having more babies. Once the babies arrive they will have to be fed, sheltered and clothed that will help the farmers, the home builders and the retail merchants. The new babies will grow up, get married and start rearing families of their own.

Before the country is completely carried away with this idyllic thought there are a few technicalities worth considering. An exuberant birth rate is no

The whole globe is in the midst of a population explosion. It took 2,000 years to reach the first billion people and it is estimated that it will take only a few hundred years to reach the next billion. This is called geometric progression among the learned.

More people mean more demand for things, and this is good as long as everything this great land produces is in surplus. If we ever reach the point where we have eaten up, worn out, or blown up all our natural resources, then more population could be disastrous and we Americans will be reaching for the anti-pregnancy pills.

legislative re-districting occupy a great deal of the night in the waning days of regular session of this Legislature.

now is. In fact it may wind up even larger than that.

Committee Proposal

The Re-districting Committee in the House reported out a proposal which would merely combine our 88th Representative District with the 82nd District.

This would put Donley, Motley, Hall, Childress, Cottle, Harde-man, Foard and Wilbarger counties in a new district.

I, of course, can't agree with this proposal as it does not seem to be quite fair to our area. Perhaps something can be done to effect a better solution to the re-districting problem in our area. Although we live in small towns and in rural areas, I believe our folks are entitled to a strong voice and to adequate representation in our Texas Legislature.

AMERICANA College Notebook The University of Washington

The year 1961 will mark the 100th anniversary of the University of Washington, the oldest publicly-supported institution of higher education on the Pacific Coast. The Territorial University of Washington opened to students November 4, 1861, in a frame schoolhouse in the nine-year-old settlement of Seattle—then the most isolated corner of the American frontier. A total of 31 students attended opening sessions, taught by one instructor.

Founded on a 10-acre trace of wilderness that is now the heart of downtown Seattle, the University was moved in 1895 to a 600-acre campus on the shores of Lakes Washington and Union. It is today the largest university, public or private, in the Pacific Northwest; third largest in the 11 western states, and fourteenth largest in the United States. Two Pulitzer Prize winners are included in a full-time faculty of 1,150.

There were 18,143 students enrolled at the University of Washington in Autumn Quarter, 1960—highest enrollment in the University's history. These figures do not include 10,600 evening class and correspondence enrollments. The University awarded 2,644 bachelor's degrees, 866 advanced and professional degrees, and 455 teaching, nursing and dental certificates during the last school year.

The University of Washington is a state institution of higher learning, one of five in the state. One of the first universities in the country to establish a nuclear engineering program, the University also has the largest College of Engineering on the Pacific Coast.

Last year, contract research funds totaling nearly $14 million, supporting 826 individual projects were received from federal agencies, private foundations, industry and individuals, and the state.

The Columns—four white Ionic columns, a part of the original University building constructed in 1861, stands on the present campus. Of hand-carved cedar, the Columns are in excellent condition despite their age and are expected to stand many more years.

Scout Leaders Meet, Plan Day Camp

Adult leaders of the Memphis Girl Scouts met at the Cyclone Drive-Inn Tuesday to lay plans for the Day Camp to be held June 19 through 23.

The deadline for registration of girls wishing to attend this day camp has been set at May 12 in order to allow enough time to finish preparations. The fee for each girl will be $4.00 which covers transportation, insurance, program supplies at the camp, and cook-out expenses for the group, according to Mrs. Elmont Branigan.

More volunteer workers are needed to help with this program and baby-sitters will be paid in order that the mothers who wish will be free to work, she said.

The Day Camp will again be held at the Giles picnic grounds, courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Houston.

Due to the need for a nurse to be on hand, anyone with qualifications to fill this vacancy and is willing to help is asked to contact Mrs. Brode Hoover.

Those attending the meeting and volunteering to work with the Day Camp were Mrs. Doug Burgess, Mrs. Chas. Johnson, Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor, and Mrs. Chas. Snowden. Mrs. Elmont Branigan will be business manager, and Joy Baten has also volunteered to help.

Anyone wishing to work may contact Mrs. Brode Hoover as soon as possible.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Only in Jesus Christ can the soul of man find peace divine and be safe from all harm.

The nature of this peace is such that the world can never take it away.

The pleasures of the world, however sweet, cannot satisfy our longings and meet our spiritual needs.

Only in the Lord is our bliss complete where our hearts find grace and sweet repose.

The Lord Jesus was slain on the cross to gain the life which man through sin had lost.

Come, let us trust in him to cleanse hearts from sin and make us wise unto salvation by his word.

Then in him will our hearts delight and one day he will come back and take us away to that fair and better land where there is no night.

There we shall sing with the glittering crown upon our brow; all tears shall be wiped away by the hand of God, and death shall be swallowed up in life.

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

District News

This week all over our nation, "Soil Stewardship Week" is being observed. This is a time set aside for emphasizing the importance of our land, and the role it plays in our lives. This is the time that we should all remind ourselves that we are dependent upon the bounty of the good earth for our existence. It's also a time when we should all be thankful for the precious resources that God has given us for use. But we must not forget as the Psalmist wrote "The Earth is The Lords, and the fullness thereof". We really own nothing, but rather are only stewards of God's resources. We came into the world with nothing, and will leave the same way.

Why is the land so important to us? This is something that many of us don't think about and take for granted. Yet we get most of our basic necessities - food, clothing, and shelter, directly from the land. The most pressing problem in the world today is hunger. Half of the people of the world go to bed hungry every night. We are fortunate to have a surplus of food in this country. This is due to our productive land and the great advances made in agricultural industry. But can we continue to produce enough food in the future, with our population rapidly increasing? Many tragic stories have resulted in history because the soil was abused rather than safeguarded. Great civilizations have vanished simply because man was unfaithful in his stewardship of the soil.

Soil erosion in itself is bad enough, but it has a chain of reactions. Excess runoff from the eroded land causes flooding downstream. Our lakes silt up. The people who depend upon the livelihood of the land must leave when it erodes away. When we misuse the land we are storing up trouble for ourselves or our children in the future. We are also breaking the commandment that "Thou shalt not steal", for we are stealing from future generations that must also depend upon the bounty of the good earth for their livelihood. We cannot afford to let our land be destroyed through neglect.

Mr. H. H. Bennett, former Chief, of the Soil Conservation Service in the U.S. once said "Productive soil is God's most precious gift to man". God gave us the use and enjoyment of a "Choice Land" of the world. He expects us to be good stewards of it. When our tenancy is ended, lets leave it a choice land for those who follow after us.

Your Hall County Soil Conservation District emphasizes that we all share an interest in this Soil Steward Week. They also emphasize that soil stewardship is not a matter for this week alone. For once we realize its importance, every week will be soil stewardship week.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

The next time Johnny comes home crying, "Mom, I got something in my eye!"—here's what you should do:

Lift the upper lid, and pull it down over the lower lid. This will give the tears a chance to wash out the offending speck. Tears are nature's own eyewash.

But if the speck doesn't come out, wash the eye with drops of luke warm tap water, using an eye dropper. While doing this, be sure to hold Johnny's head so the water will run away from his nose, toward the side.

If this doesn't dislodge the speck, put a light bandage over the hurt eye to prevent Johnny from rubbing it. Then take him to a physician or an eye clinic.

Keep this in mind: Never try to rub a speck from the eye. It can cause an infection that may scar the cornea, resulting in partial loss of sight.

Ever hear someone say, "My eyes are smply worn out!" That's nothing but a figure of speech.

You cannot "wear out" healthy eyes by overuse.

If your eyes feel strained the trouble may be eye or other disease, a need of glasses or improperly fitted glasses, or failure to heed the rules of good lighting.

Under the right conditions you should be able to use your eyes as much as you want to without "wearing them out." They function with greatest ease and comfort when you sit erect, with your work arranged at 45 to 70 degrees from the horizontal. Tilt-top desks or book easels are best for children because reading material can be kept at the most comfortable eye focus.

Read in bed if you like, so long as you obey the rules of good lighting and good posture. Never read in sunlight, even when your book is shaded.

Watching television won't hurt your eyes provided the picture is clear and steady and there is enough light in the room to prevent too great a contrast with the screen. Don't sit off center when watching TV and don't sit too close.

Protect your eyes from long exposures to sunlight, but don't wear sunglasses merely to be Hollywoodish. Never wear them at night, especially while driving. They reduce your vision to the point where you cannot distinguish dark objects.

Close work calls for eye muscles to work overtime. You can give them the rest they need by closing them for a moment from time to time as you read or do close work. Looking off into the distance occasionally will help. Persistent eye fatigue may indicate you need an eye examination, in spite of having good distance vision.

he cuts beyond the boundary line, he is committing a trespass upon his neighbor's property and may be liable for damages.

If you desire to cut off the overhanging branches of a neighbor's tree, you are not required to give notice unless you have in some way encouraged the continuance of the dangerous condition.

What if neither party cuts off the overhanging limbs and one falls injuring a person or damaging property? Who is responsible?

The fact that the adjoining landowner could have cut off that part of the tree protruding over his lot does not make liable for failing to do so. He has no duty to cut off protruding limbs although he has a right to cut them if he so chooses.

The owner of the land upon which the tree stands, however, does have a duty to remove branches and limbs when it becomes apparent to him, or he reasonably know, that they are in a dangerous condition. So a decayed tree standing on a boundary line falls during a wind, injuring property on adjoining property or the property on which the stands may be liable. A pro- owner, the court has said, no more right to keep the house an unsound tree which it is liable to fall, the and unsafe building in the position."

More than 600 4-H Clubs, Adult leaders, and County Agents gathered at Midwestern University, Saturday, May 6 for the annual District III Elimination Contests. The District includes 23 counties in North Texas. It was estimated that over 400 4-H Club members participated in the teams and demonstration skills that they have learned in 4-H work. There were two divisions, senior and junior. The first two places in the senior division will be allowed to enter the State 4-H Roundup at College Station, June 6-8.

Johnny Fuston, a Hall County 4-H Club boy from Turkey, won first place in the Public Speaking Contest and he will be allowed to enter the State 4-H Club Roundup at College Station in June.

Johnny won a gold filled Medal of Honor for being the outstanding 4-H boy in this contest a few weeks ago. The state award will be provided for the outstanding boy and girl. Bobby Lacy, a Turkey 4-H Club girl placed sixth in the public speaking contest.

MHS Athletes Honored With Banquet Monday

The Memphis Lions Club Monday night entertained the athletes of Memphis High School at the annual all-sports banquet, which was held in the Travis Cafeteria.

O. L. Helm served as master of ceremonies and Rev. Richard Avery gave the invocation.

Following a meal of barbecued chicken, the coaches, Don Lambert, Bob Martin, Don Gilstrap, and Hubert Dennis, and their wives were introduced and presented with gifts.

Principal C. E. Voyles and Band Director Donald Swaim were also recognized with a L. Galley in charge of this part of the program.

Lambert then introduced the members of the football team and Martin presented the boys and girls basketball and tennis teams. Gilstrap introduced the golf team.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of Sam Goodnight as outstanding senior line-man for the past year and Robert Gardner as outstanding senior back. Their names were engraved on a plaque which will be a permanent part of the trophy display at the school.

I read your letter in the Memphis Democrat, and I think you should be enlightened on a few things you undoubtedly do not know. First the people of Hall Co. (except a very few) are standing on their hind legs, even waving their arms trying to get (these few people) to realize what is happening in Hall Co. There certainly is strong opposition to a Hall Co. Hospital. You know the election was crooked even when contested, some will even commit murder for money. Why don't you check and find out how a County Hospital could be financed after they got it. It would come from the Commissioners funds because they don't have it, then it would fall back on the people who make up the County. People have forgotten they are the County, not the commissioners. Were you ever a commissioner? No, then you don't know any thing about them. The commissioners are likened to the trunk of a great huge tree, all the other County officials including the Judge, are the branches. Another thing, Memphis does not need a new Hospital. There is two nice hospitals in Memphis, one almost new, and it is modern. Still another thing, the water HAS NOT been approved; you can't fool all the people all the time. I have heard how Memphis wants every thing; they have tried for years to get the Lakeview school, but many some of the other little towns in Hall Co. want a few things too. It is a shame Hall County's Commissioners Court doesn't have any intelligence. Maybe they would like to trade places with some of the Doctors or Pharmacists in Memphis. I always thought you were a christian gentleman but your letter gives you away.

A FRIEND OF HALL COUNTY

If I had information that would lead me to make statements like some of the above, I would take it to the D.A. and to the Grand Jury and if I were too timid to do this and had proof of such information, I would give it to somebody like old Bill Leslie who had guts enough to bring it out into the open and get something done about it.

If I didn't have any sound reason for being opposed to the Hall County Hospital, but only some personal or petty grievance toward the idea or toward any of the people who are promoting the issue, then I believe I would swallow my pride and go along with the wishes of the majority of the people of the county, even if I were a commissioner.

Yel, strange as it seems this "good" moral man, Cornelius, needed something more. Morality isn't enough to save a man. God told Cornelius to send for Peter, "who shall tell the words whereby thou . . . shalt be saved." (Acts 11:14) Cornelius needed Christ to save him. Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6)

Peter came to Cornelius' house and found his kinsman and near friends ready "to hear all things that are commanded thee of God." Peter preached Christ as the Son of God, the Saviour of the world. He told how Jesus had lived a perfect life, and died for man's sin on the cross. He called on all to believe in the Lord Jesus. They believed and Peter asked: "Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized . . . and he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord." (Acts 10:47-48) Faith in Christ leads one to obey Christ, to "repent and be baptized" for the forgiveness of sins. (Acts 2:38) Jesus said: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. . ." (Mark 16:16)

Millions today, like Cornelius, are generous, and morally "good," but they need Christ. Even at his best, man is still a sinner. If you have not obeyed the gospel of Christ as Cornelius did, You need the blood of Christ to save you from your sins (1 John 1:7). You need to believe in Christ as God's Son, repent of your sins, and be baptized into Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. When you obey Christ in baptism God will add you to the undenominational church of Christ. We urge you to become a Christian today!

Are you willing to follow this wonderful example of Cornelius? Here are five facts you need to face:

1. Man is lost without Christ and cannot save himself. Romans 3:10, Jeremiah 10:23
2. Christ alone can save man. John 14:6
3. Christ died on the cross to make salvation available to all. Matthew 11:20, 30, 1st John 1:7
4. Man must believe in Christ as God's Son and obey the commands of Christ. Mark 16:15-16, Acts 22:16. "He became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey Him." Hebrews 5:9
5. You can be just an undenominational Christian like the Ethiopian.

Cancer Information Now Available At Five Libraries In Hall County

Reference kits especially prepared for library use were presented to Hall County Libraries this week by the Hall County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Herschel Combs announced this week.

Libraries in which the material is now available are the Carnegie Library, Memphis High School Library, Turkey High School Library, Lakeview High School Library, Estelline High School Library, and Morningside School Library.

In making the presentations, Mrs. Combs pointed out that the kits not only provide basic information, but also current information which will be kept up to date by periodic mailings from the Texas Division of the Society.

"The fact that information about cancer, properly acted upon, could save the lives of many thousands of Texans each year has made us very anxious to have this information in our libraries where it will be most easily available to all," Mrs. Combs added.

Included in the kits are folders of information on cancer research, cancer education, facts and figures about cancer, cancer—the disease, and the American Cancer Society and its program resources.

Each library will also receive a copy of "The Truth About Cancer," by Charles S. Cameron, M. D., a book both authoritative and practical by one of the foremost Morality isn't enough?

During the first century after Christ, there was a Roman captain in the occupation army in Palestine. He was a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always. (Acts 10:2)
