Mrs. Eunice Oliver Observes 100th Birthday Today

Mrs. Eunice Oliver, grandmother of Ben D. Oliver of Memphis, is celebrating her 100th birthday anniversary today (Thursday) at her home in Belton. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and girls are in Belton for the occasion.

Mrs. Oliver was born Aug. 10, 1861, near Union, Miss. She grew up in the Reconstruction Days of the Old South, and recalls vividly the days when the kitchen was separated from the house; there were no screens on the windows; and cooking was done in heavy iron vessels over the open fireplace. She can still tell these bits of history vividly and clearly.

Feb. 3, 1882, followed one of the worst blizzards in Mississippi's history, Mrs. Oliver recalls distinctly. She had planned to be married to William Harrison Oliver, a Confederate veteran. He rode 18 miles on horseback through sleet, snow and ice to get the marriage license at Philadelphia, Miss. The wedding had been delayed three days until the groom could get back through the storm.

Mr. Oliver died in 1901, and she came to Texas with her brothers-in-law, Ben Franklin and Augustus Clayton Oliver. Mrs. Oliver has been totally blind since 1953, and partially blind since 1949. But she keeps up with today's world and all its happenings.

and About People

Gravelly, Arkansas We forward to receiving The Saturday and Sunday editions do we enjoy reading your comments, and Sunday was reading the Arkansas I thought about you when the enclosed article and perhaps you would enjoy it.

We live we are 30 miles down of any size, of course in a small town of about 75 per cent are Jim's. So in making your tour Kansas sometime get off the path and come by and see Texans that now live in Arkansas.

There are really plentiful I lot of Texas people would be right now. I think they find enough green peas, beans and okra to feed the of Hall, and tomatoes, what a bountiful crop, people around here are be all black-top in to the big city of Gravelly.

Keep up the nice comments.

Your friends, Jim, Laurel (Ellis), Keith and Cheryl Caviness

P. S. We do have a phone, we're not too far out in the hills. (Thanks for the letter — am sure your friends here enjoy hearing from you, so write again. Did you "tote" the "poke" or have the grocery man "fetch" it? Ed.)

(Excerpts from clipping sent by Laurel and Jim Caviness)

The Hills of Home—July Ends on Cool Green Nite—Uncle Finner Knew It All Along—The Oak Trees Told Him—is the heading.

By Isabel France, Arkansas Gazette)

The old mountaineers are saying this has been the coolest, the wettest, lushest green July they can recollect. Uncle Finner goes around saying, "I told you so last April when oak trees leafed ahead of ash, we would have a summer of wet and splash."

Aunt Callie says that her ancient old saying, "It never rains on a July night", has been smashed to shivers. Three heavy rainy nights in a row, washed up part of the garden and left the roads rougher than a jolt wagon.

Uncle Cader says he has heard more hoot-owls owling in broad open sunlight, more rain-crows croaking, more tree frogs a singing, more red-birds tweeting "wet year, wet year" this July, calling up the dog showers that he ever heard in any such scope of time. It rained St. Swithin's Day, and according to his reckoning, it will shower 40 more days.

A Longview, Texas, tourist camped on Big Frog Creek says he is glad it was a shower which fell St. Swithin's night and not a rain, for at midnight the creek climbed out of its bed and climbed into bed with him. . . The storekeeper knew there would be a mid-summer rainy spell, when July moon new'd, for the cradle was hanging on its point—that's a drippin' moon. . . Heaven prevails upon humanity with countless charms. Cool July nights and heavenly rains are counted as thankful pre-ventings by mountain folk, they make for a fat year. . . Listen sharp for the keening of the first cricket. It always frosts 60 days after that first keen. Vern Carter, on top of Mount Gaylor, has the finest garden man ever laid his looking eyes on, but he says "the hatefals have me tied down so bedcord stout I can't go seeing around my place . . . there goes that blessed thunor in the thickest again."

In spite of the Berlin Crisis, saber rattlings, space shots, crabgrass, Johnson grass and cockle-burs, the July rains and cool nights brought a constant heart-healing balm. Sunset, thunder heads in deep scarlet, rose, gold and gray paraded across the sky. Woodthrushes sang each day to rest. Whipperwills call might ensnare a conqueror's soul. . . (What did Vern Carter mean when he said "The hatefals have me tied down?" Ed.)

GOLDEN DAYS IN COUNTY RECALLED BY DON MAY

Back in 1939, an ambitious young man with limited newspaper experience applied for a job with The Democrat, and to his surprise was put to work. His experience had been on his father's paper at Leonard, Texas, mostly in the back shop. He was assigned a reporter's duties. He had the ability to meet people, and his personality won them. Then he was given the added duty of soliciting ads, and made good in that field.

Don May, his lovely wife and daughter of Dallas stopped in Memphis Friday to visit awhile. He and his son have a lucrative business known as Don May, Advertising, Inc., and represent a lot of newspapers in Texas. Mrs. May is also one of the firm.

It was interesting to hear him recall the may things that happened from 1939 to about 1941. Of most importance was the 50th Golden Anniversary celebration that climaxed anything held up to that date. He drew the design from the small mountain near McQueen's place—which same was engraved on coins and on the monument standing on the southeast corner of the courthouse lawn. He interviewed all the people of the county who had been here 50 years. He wrote many ads for the Golden Anniversary issue, and on and on with reminiscences that had gone back into the "arcaves" of our minds.

One thing Don helped to start and that was to get school boys interested enough to work after school hours at The Democrat office. . . thus beginning a career that has resulted in most of them becoming outstanding printers or publishers of newspapers all over the country.

Hedley, Texas

I enjoyed your comments in last week's paper. I hope you read George Dolan in yesterday's Star-Telegram. This might get Bro. Lowery to thinking, and I hope he is not getting too old to do so. You see Lowery is 10 years older than I, and 15 years older than Brother Bill there in Memphis, and was raised in an altogether different age.

He was raised in an age where people didn't travel much, and the only visits were to go see one's kinfolks. So when work slackened Mother gathered up the kids (and dad if available) and went to see her Mother. Grandmother Leakey got so used to it she had three or four big pots available. When she saw the buggy, hack or wagon approaching, she gathered all the garden trucks around and started cooking.

I can remember the big meals and all the cousins. In fact, I thought the world consisted of about half cousins and the other half people. Lowery being older soon learned to chew tobacco and spin yarns. I have read a couple of our kinsman John Leakey's books, "My Grandfather and I" and "The West That Was" and I believe Lowery learned from him or vice versa. I am not saying either were lying, but I do think they are "just a little careless with the truth."

By the time Bill and I were old enough to learn such accomplishments our Grandfather Dave Leakey and Grandmother died and Mother passed away and we didn't have his opportunities. However, Lowery's daughter Betty, now Mrs. Tony Novack of Pueblo, Colo. her husband, and two daughters stopped off at Memphis and Hedley yesterday on their way from Weatherford to Pueblo. She had read The Democrat and said she actually saw her father studying his 12-pound dictionary.

Now that the important question of "bar ditches" is settled, we can devote some time on "who is going to have to pay Texas out of the red" and "what are we going to do about Berlin."

Jehovah Witness Dist. Assembly To Be Aug. 8-13

Stephen E. Lane, local presiding minister for Jehovah's Witnesses, announced last week that Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, will be the principal speaker for the United Worshipers District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Oklahoma City, Okla. Aug. 8-13.

Approximately four from Memphis will attend the assembly, which will be held at the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds Grandstand.

According to Lane, Mr. Knorr left recently for an inspection tour of branch offices in Europe and to speak at a series of district conventions in Denmark, Germany, Italy, France, Belgium and England. The Oklahoma City gathering will be held the week he returns from his European travels.

"We hear in Memphis are especially looking forward to hearing Mr. Knorr," said Lane, because remarks during the convention will undoubtedly include first-hand information on the condition of thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses known to be undergoing severe persecution behind the iron curtain in Russia and in the various satellite countries.

"The Russians have accused Jehovah's Witnesses of being in the service of 'the most reactionary circles of American capital,'" Lane continued, "and many have been sentenced to long terms in prison. Only recently Wilhelm Sheider, Watchtower Society branch supervisor in Poland, was sentenced to six years in prison for distributing the Bible publications of the Society. And press reports show the branch supervisor in Hungary was also imprisoned last March 13. Mr. Knorr is expected to have further information when he returns from Europe."

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips are vacationing in Colorado this week.

Official Lists Benefits Under Social Security

Recent changes in the Social Security Law mean that a beneficiary, general speaking, can now get more in combined earnings and benefits than he could previously," Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office said last week while in Memphis.

Beneficiaries who earn over $1200 will lose one dollar of benefits for each two dollars of earnings between $1200 and $1700, and a dollar of benefits for each dollar of earnings over $1700. Except that they are eligible for social security benefits for any month in which they do not earn over $100 in wages and have not worked in their own business.

"After age 72, there is no restriction on a person's earnings, although the limits apply to all months before the 72nd birthday," Geldon said.

If you or anyone in your family is receiving old-age and survivors insurance and expect to earn over $1200 during the year, it is important to notify the Social Security Office promptly of such earnings in order to avoid receiving an overpayment. All such overpayments must be repaid.

"This applies to all people receiving social security benefits," Geldon said, "including wives, widows, and dependent children under 18 as well as the retired person."

CWA-GTC Reach Final Settlement On Contract

Communications Workers of America and General Telephone Company of the Southwest reached final settlement on a new one-year contract on July 20. Affected are 2,767 employees throughout the five-state area of the Company's operation.

Final agreement came about on the closing date of the old contract which ran to midnight on July 20. The primary term of the new contract runs from July 21, 1961 to July 21, 1962. The negotiations commenced June 5, 1961, and were continuous during the period except for a two-week recess in June that was necessitated by pressing Union business.

The major issue was wages, and the new contract includes a general wage adjustment for all of the employees in the bargaining unit. Resulting wage increases range from two cents an hour to 13 cents an hour generally depending upon the employee's job classification and length of employment service. The company estimates that the wage adjustment averages 5.5 cents an hour for the bargaining unit, and that it will increase the company's annual payroll costs by some $349,999.

Other changes in the contracts were largely concerned with improvements and clarifications to contract language to promote the day-to-day application and understanding of the contractual provisions. Improvement was made in the service assistant's differential pay, and central office clerk payments during temporary or relief assignments. Also, agreement was reached that call-out emergency assignments on holidays will be paid for a minimum of two hours, the same as previously established for emergency call-outs on non-holidays.

Official signing of the new contract will take place next week after all the separate agreements reached have been reproduced into a formal document. The officializing will be by E. H. Danner, president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest; Frank A. Lenberg, director of personnel for the company; D. L. McGowan, director of the Union's District No. 6, and L. A. Sykora, C. W. A. representative.

L. A. Sykora and Frank Lenberg, chief negotiators for the union and the company, respectively, stated that while the bargaining was more or less intense, the negotiations were conducted in an amicable atmosphere. Both expressed satisfaction that, for the first time in many years, negotiations had not gone beyond the contract anniversary date in the reaching of final settlement.

The union's bargaining committee included L. A. Sykora, C. W. A. representative; B. J. Limmroth, president, Local 6180, H. R. Wright, testboardman, Sherman, J. W. Bishop, storekeeper, Brownfield, and R. H. Fisher, central office repairman, Broken Arrow, Okla.

The company's bargaining committee included Frank A. Lenberg, director of personnel, C. T. Sims, general plant manager, L. L. Porter, general traffic manager, W. H. Thomson, general commercial manager, D. E. Van Ness, treasurer, C. W. Howard, assistant controller, and A. L. Fenner, personnel services supervisor.

All of the negotiations meetings were held at San Angelo. This is the headquarters for General Telephone Company of the Southwest which serves some 322,000 telephones through 261 exchanges in the five-state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. CWA has represented employees of the company, including other former companies previously merged with General Telephone Company of the Southwest, for many years.

Making a comeback this season after a five-year absence will be the Silverton VFW Rodeo and Celebration, to be held Aug. 17, 18 and 19.

There has been no rodeo held in Silverton since the summer of 1956 due to the loss of the rodeo pens and stands during the tornado in the spring of 1957. An intensive rebuilding campaign has been conducted this summer to replace that which the tornado destroyed.

Silverton Boosters will visit neighboring communities on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 11 and 12. On Friday, trips will be made to Claude, Clarendon, Goodnight, Turkey and Memphis. On Saturday the Boosters will go to Quitaque, Plomot, Matador, Floydada, Lockney, Kress, Plainview and Tulia.

The celebration will get underway on Thursday, Aug. 17, with a big free barbecue in the City Park. Everyone is invited to come and bring the family, a spokesman for the celebration said. The barbecue will begin at 5 p. m. and will last until 7 p. m. This event is being sponsored by the Silverton Lions Club.

A fiddler's contest will be held on the square in Silverton Friday, Aug. 18, at 5 p. m. Fiddlers from all over the Panhandle are invited to participate in this contest.

A parade featuring floats and riding clubs will be the highlight of Saturday afternoon.

Western dances will be held in the Silverton Fire Hall after each performance of the rodeo. Dances will begin at 9:30 p. m. each of the three nights.

The three performances of the VFW Rodeo are expected to be the biggest ever held in Silverton. Stock will be furnished by Ratjen Brothers of Happy.

Events will include tie down calf roping, heading and heeling, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, ranch horse cutting contest and opening, and ladies barrel race.

JESUS CHRIST

The Central Figure in all history!

Every letter you write. Every book you read. Every significant event in your life is dated in relation to Jesus' incomparable life! All the armies that ever marched, all the assemblies that ever met, and all the rulers that ever reigned put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as the life of Jesus Christ! Truly Jesus has proved His claim to be "the way, the truth, and the life."

Absolutely Necessary! Yes, indispensable! Notice these striking descriptions of Christ in the Bible! He is the "bread of life" . . . "the water of life" . . . "the door" . . . "the light of the world" . . . "the good shepherd" . . . "the Saviour" . . . "The King." In every instance Jesus Christ is pictured as absolutely indispensable — never an alternative. He said: "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me." John 14:6.

Who is this Indispensable Man? He is "the Son of Man" and also "the Son of the Living God." Nineteen hundred years ago in Judea, God announced: "Unto you this day is born in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Born of a virgin, Jesus came to reveal God's love for a lost world. "He came from the bosom of the Father to the bosom of a woman. He put on humanity that we might put on divinity. He became the Son of Man that we might become sons of God."

"What manner of man is this!" his contemporaries exclaimed. With moving compassion He attracted the poor and the rich, the sick and the well, the unlearned and the wise. He lived the perfect life. Even His enemies could find nothing evil in Him. Yet, strange as it seems, man's reaction to the perfect life was murder on a cross!

But Jesus' death on the cross was more than the murder of an innocent man. It was a perfect offering for sin. Jesus was the lamb of God, slain for the forgiveness of man's sin. But on the cross "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself" . . . I Corinthians 5:19. Jesus "was wounded for our transgressions. He was bruised for our iniquities." . . . Isaiah 53:5. He transformed the shame of the cross to the glory of man's salvation. At the same time by His cross He fulfilled the law of Moses and delivered men from its bondage. Ephesians 2:5.

But Jesus Christ is not still hanging on a cross! "He is risen." After appearing to hundreds of His disciples He ascended to the Father's right hand where He is reigning today. Acts 2:33. He dwells in the lives of all those who obey Him. He is the head, the only head, of His Kingdom, His body, His Church. Colossians 1:18.

But What Has All Of This To Do With You? Very much indeed. You were created "in the image of God" and endowed with an eternal destiny. For you to achieve fullness of life and obtain salvation you must enthroned Christ at the center of your life. Christ is not valued at all unless He is valued above all! He is "the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him . . ." Hebrews 5:9. "What will you do with Jesus who is called Christ?" Will you believe in Him as God's Son, your Saviour? "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16:16. Will you repent of your sins, your violations of God's law? "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus for the remission of sins . . ." Acts 2:38 Will you confess Jesus? "Everyone who shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven." Will you express your faith by obeying Christ's command to be buried with Him in baptism for the forgiveness of your sins? "Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." Romans 6:4. Jesus said: "Except one be born of the water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." John 3:5.

You Can Be Just A Christian. When you obey these commands of Christ, God will add you to the non-denominational body, the church of Christ. Acts 2:47. The early Christians were not members of any sect or denomination. Peter, James and Paul were just Christians. Take Christ as your only creed and the Bible as your only rule of faith and become just a Christian today! Let Christ be the answer to your soul's deep need! Jesus Christ is absolutely Necessary! Yes, Indispensable! to you!

The Problem of Criminals

In the August issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, the national problem of dealing with criminals was discussed forthrightly. In a letter, addressed to all law enforcement officials, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, made the following statement:

Nothing discourages and disheartens law enforcement officers more than the knowledge that their efforts in apprehending criminals are too often no more than useless expenditures of time and money—useless because unwarranted leniency in the form of suspended sentences, parole, or probation so frequently makes a mockery of good police work.

Assuredly, we must continually strive to rehabilitate those persons who have strayed from lawful ways. On the other hand, consideration must be given to protecting society by isolating depraved individuals who have no respect for law and order or the rights of others. The scales of justice must be balanced.

Certainly, the principles of parole, probation, and other rehabilitative measures are good, but maladministration can nullify their worthwhile aspects. Conscientious, hard-working parole and probation officers, frequently underpaid and seldom able to discharge the heavy burdens placed upon them by the archaic clemency systems still existing in some areas, are just not equipped to cope with ever-expanding caseloads. Adding to their dilemma are some misinformed and misguided jurists and an apathetic citizenry who cause and condone the release of hardened criminals who gloatingly accept society's softness and repay it in the coin of treachery.

The realm of vice, which is the breeding ground of greater violence, is winked at in far too many instances. A recent preliminary survey on courts in a large city revealed, for example, that of almost 30,000 individuals arrested for lottery, numbers rackets, gambling, bookmaking, prostitution, and operating a disorderly house, 73 percent were discharged by magistrates! Out of well over 800 gamblers who pleaded guilty, only 12 percent ever went to jail! Fifty-eight percent were ordered to pay fines or costs—which have been correctly described as nothing more than license fees for gamblers. Two hundred and fifty others were given suspended sentences or placed on probation.

When vice, the very fountainhead of crime, is treated lightly, it is not difficult to understand why criminals do not fear the "wrath" of some of this Nation's courts. Inveterate criminals who prey on honest men and still escape punishment are encouraged in their disdain for law and go on to commit depredations of even more heinous proportions.

America is not a vengeful land, it is not a cruel land; but certainly something must be done to make it an internally peaceful land. Crime in 1960 rose 12 percent over the previous year, and in the first quarter of 1961 our country appears headed for a new all-time high annual record. The first part of this year shows an increase of 10 percent in crime in American cities, with a 9 percent jump in murders, a 2 percent rise in forcible rapes, and a 3 percent increase in aggravated assaults.

Between March 1950 and June 1961, there have been 154 individuals on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" list. Of this number, 130 previously received either suspended sentences, parole, or probation. The leniency granted these vicious criminals resulted in untold suffering by their innocent victims.

For a peaceful and wholesome society, it is imperative that the rights of law-abiding citizens be given at least the same respect and consideration as the rights of lawbreakers. We can never hope to see crime abate until the perpetrators of evil deeds are taught the full meaning of the old adage, "Crime doesn't pay." Such a lesson cannot be taught by words alone; only stern action in our courts, involving a philosophy of making the punishment fit the crime, and realistic administration of rehabilitative measures can force back the criminal plague.

Polio Shot Time!

The polio season is with us again. It is nice to report that paralytic polio has been greatly reduced, as a result of the Salk vaccine, and that a relatively small number of Americans will be stricken with it this year.

But still there are millions of Americans who refuse to take the necessary precautions to protect themselves against the polio threat. These are the citizens who refuse to have shots of the Salk vaccine although this vaccine, in just a few years, has reduced the number of paralytic polio cases.

Those citizens who should take advantage of the Salk vaccine without delay are those younger than forty years of age. They are more susceptible to polio than are older persons. While there were mistakes and some tragic ones, in the development and use of this vaccine the over-all results prove that paralytic polio has been dealt a staggering blow by it.

We urge all those below the age of forty, and especially all children, to make immediate use of the vaccine. We sincerely believe it is in their best interest to do so.

New Daily Paper Established At Pecos

A new paper has entered the newspaper field at Pecos, Texas. Vol. I, No. 1 reached our desk Friday, up until June, 1960, the only paper in Pecos was published by Barney Hubbs and Joe B Pouns as a daily, and was a strong advocate of Democratic principles as enunciated by the Democratic party. It seems it questioned the actions of the John Birch Society. The story develops something like this: Two doctors, a dentist and an accountant wanted to get control of the newspaper so much that they offered Hubbs and Pouns several thousands of dollars more than the paper was worth, and the owners let them have it. And the new owners embraced the cause of "Shivercrats" and John Birchers. They editorialized against the police department, and the Texas Press Association, has this to say about a Pecos elected official, etc.

The last issue of the Texas Press Messenger, official publication: "Officials of the Trans-Pecos Industries, Inc., owners and publishers of the Pecos Independent and Enterprise, have announced the purchase of all interest in the corporation held by Dr. John Dunn, who has resigned as treasurer and director of the corporation."

Information has come to us that the business of the paper has fallen off considerably and the daily has gone semi-weekly. And the newly organized Pecos Printing Company, with Billie Sol Estes, pres.; Preston A. Hawks, formerly editor of the Sudan News, v. p.; and publisher; A. B. Foster, sec.-treas.; and F. O. Masten of Sudan, director, is publishing the

What Cost Thou, Coffee Time?

We might have known. With so many electronic computing machines on the scene, one of them had to come up with something on that great American custom, the coffee break. What really surprises us is that the computer didn't get around to the coffee break before they made a name for themselves in last November's presidential election.

Somehow, the coffee break has become established as one of the original American heritages, a hallowed right which is due and accepted by employer and employee alike.

It doesn't hurt the employer, or at least it didn't until one of those know-it-all computing machines came along and figured the cost.

This coffee break is taken as an opportunity to break the monotony of the job, to exchange gossip and swap tall stories with the fellow employees, make plans for the evening and weekend, and simply to take it easy from 10 to 30 minutes of time.

The computing machine figures it out this way (only the language is those of the Machine):

Suppose that you take 30 minutes for coffee. Of course, you start out with the to-be-commended intention of taking only 15 minutes, but by the time you wash your hands, get to the door, wait for your friends, walk to the cafe or drug store, get served, drink the brew, finish the conversation, stop at the cashier's desk and saunter back to work you have gone through 30 minutes at least.

Say you are paid $1.50 per hour, a conservative figure. If you take off a half hour in the morning and another in the afternoon, you have used up $7.50 for a five-day week. If you work Saturday, add another $1.50 to make it an even $9. This is the wages for which you are not working.

Now, to carry on with the Machine's figures. You do this 20 times a month at $1.50 per throw and you come up with $30 that you get as a bonus from the payroll department.

This amount times 12 months equals a yearly stipend of $360, which represents, conservatively, the cost of coffee time for one person.

But that isn't all. You spend 10 cents for a cup of coffee, or 20 cents a day. That makes a $4 guzzling charge for the month. At the end of the year this amounts to $48 that you can add to the $360 in lost time.

Suppose you work for 20 years and retire. Ho'y Mackerel! $7,200 is what the boss paid you for drinking coffee, and you plunked down $960 to pay for the juice of the bean.

Just a minute, fellows. Let us finish this line and turn off the computing machine and we'll be right with you. Who's buying today, anyway?

The Pace Gets Faster

Perhaps the least praiseworthy part of the American way of life, these days, is the conclusion of psychiatrists, doctors and health experts in all fields, that the fast pace of living in the United States is our most serious problem.

In the United States, heart attacks, nervous breakdowns and all sorts of nervous disorders are steadily on the increase, and the experts know the reason for this tragic trend is the terrific pace of life we are setting.

It is an established fact that the executives of America are dying in early life spans which terminate in the early fifties. This is a startling development.

The number of mental disorders, nervous breakdowns and all sorts of other ailments has increased strikingly as a result of the tension of modern living. This tension is brought about by pressure, and drive to out-produce, out-work and out-earn our neighbors.

We have reached the time in the United States when a slow-down in the average business man's daily routine is almost imperative. Some of those who are reading this editorial will take decades, or perhaps even more, from their life span, by not heeding these words.

A number of solutions are available. More leisure time should become a must with many business men. Forms of recreation and hobbies should be seriously cultivated. Lastly, and most important of all, one's mental outlook should be adjusted so that one should not continue to drive himself toward the attainment of an idealistic goal, set perhaps in one's mind and philosophy years before.

Learn to relax and not to worry about the other man, and you will add years to your life and thereby you can earn more money. Moreover, you will probably find that, by relaxing and learning to live all over again, you will be better equipped for whatever you are doing.

Scouts Setting Pace

Cycling Is Leading As Chief Evening Recreation

By BILL COMBS

By riding bicycles, even on the highways, they have been in training for several months, riding out to Exie Sweatt's farm on FM 2361, seven miles west of Memphis.

The Scouts are planning to take a long trip, a distance of approximately 50 miles, along with six 25-mile trips to qualify for the cycling merit badge.

Sixteen boys of this troop made a trip to the Sweatt farm last Thursday afternoon, and through the encouragement of Scout leaders, Les Sims and Soapy Tribble, I volunteered to make the trip with them. The overall distance measured 15 miles, I found out.

This is where I made my mistake. It is based upon the fact that I had not ridden a bicycle since my high school days, and I had forgotten that a bicycle seat can give the same type of saddle soreness that a Spanish saddle can give. I found out on the trip that many of the boys have put sponge rubber on their seats—to make their trips more pleasant in this respect. I, for one, would heartily sanction this precaution.

Borrowing a bicycle from Ronnie Thomson, who works in the back shop of The Democrat, I made plans to make the trip. Ronnie and I agreed that before taking the bike on the trip, the front wheel should be overhauled. Upon examination, it was discovered the front axle was bent, and other parts should be replaced. This discovery was made at 5:30 p. m. Thursday, so the repairs were completed (in rush time) just as the boys were scheduled to leave. I notified the Scouts that I had to go home to get a sandwich and a canteen of water, and would try to catch them before they left. However, I ran late, as usual, and the group had already left when I arrived at the starting place.

After riding two and a half miles out the road, Les Sims showed up (and was I glad to see him).

Addresses Letter To Unknown—

Housewife Discusses Poisoning Of Family Pets in Whaley Area

Enemy sighted—Mission accomplished!

What a feeling of fulfillment our "neighbor" must feel. Our enemies feel so smug and righteous when they have been able to turn one of our own people against us.

How do you explain to your children, or to yourselves for that matter, that dog poisoners are not murderers, communists, or any of the terrible things they have learned in their young lives.

The term "neighbor" is used loosely in this article, for I certainly want to be proud of my neighbors and vice versa. There most certainly is no pride in one who accomplishes what you have set out to do.

Six down, and how many to go? When you have rid yourselves of the four legged "pests", then whom do you plan to exterminate? Most of us are very proud of the young people in Whaley Addition and the many children. No doubt, you our enemy, wish to destroy all happiness in the area, and will stop at nothing. When the canines have vanished, will you then place Arsenic or Strichnine in candy and feed it to the babies of our town. With this complete, you may want to begin on the adults. Yes, you most certainly are capable of any atrocity.

Are you able to rest well at night with all the eyes and hearts of the children on you asking: "why?"

Pleasant dreams!

Larry Craig To Participate In Tech Program

Larry Craig, 1961 graduate of Memphis High School, was among the 100 students in this area to receive an invitation to participate in an Honors Program in Liberal Arts which is being instituted this fall at Texas Technological College.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Craig, Larry graduated with honors as High Ranking Boy from Memphis High School last spring. He was in Lubbock on July 22 for an interview with Dr. John C. Guilds, professor of English and liberal arts advisor, who is director of the Honors Program.

On September 11 he will go to Texas Tech for special examinations given to those students participating in the Honors Program. Subjects students will study will be based on the result of the examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Odum were in Amarillo Tuesday on business.

MINUTE MEDITATION

O God, teach us to govern our temper, to control our tongue and mind our conduct.

Help us to cultivate courage to face disappointment and to press forward against tremendous odds.

Let love and affection flow from our heart and give us the sweetness of a quiet and gentle spirit.

O Lord, teach us the art of thrift, the diligence of industry and the grace of liberality.

Let us despise cruelty and hate arrogance, and look with scorn upon ingratitude.

Holy Father, grant that we may have a healthy body, a strong mind, and a pure and peacable spirit.

Let us admire the dignity of man and the holiness of God, that we may learn to imitate the righteousness of our Lord, through the name of Jesus. Amen.

Around and About
By HELEN COMBS

Pets—and dogs in particular—have a place in our family life. Many dogs become so much a part of the family they know when there is sadness in the household. They watch after the small tots, and in general, set their habits around protection for the whole family, even to the point of giving their lives. And, for this faithful and devoted service, how could the master but show kindness, consideration and love?

These are a few of the reasons why residents of the Whaley Addition cannot understand why poison is being fed to their dogs. The dogs being killed are not strays . . . they are all pets which have been with the families for years. To date six dogs have died . . . and who can be certain that some small child might not come in contact with the same poison.

For a dog in particular—let's take Rusty, the Collie belonging to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Allen. After 11 years of service with the U. S. Postal Department, Rusty retires this week!

It all started 11 years ago when T. O. Pounds took over a city delivery route. A pup then, Rusty wanted to follow T. O. on the route. He was so unhappy when he was kept inside that Flossie and Matthew, after talking it over, decided to give him his freedom. Thereafter, Rusty reported for work each morning at 6:30. He was never late and was always waiting when T. O. opened the back door.

All in all, it is estimated that Rusty has traveled a distance of three times around the world. He has had his share of illness . . . been run over twice and had surgery two times for cancer of the paws.

Why has Rusty retired? It was through no fault of his own . . . but he has accepted the change without grumbling and is enjoying the hot days under the air conditioner. The change came about for Rusty when T. O. gave up his city route to become a rural carrier. Without doubt, occasionally, Rusty will be awarded with a special treat—a trip on the rural route with T. O.

If a building could speak, a rich history of Hall County could be told by the one located on the corner of 6th and Main, now being converted into an ultramodern bowling alley. It was 69 years ago that the building was constructed by W. P. Beachum who operated a general mercantile store in the front and a private bank in the rear.

Byron Baldwin, a pioneer resident, became interested in the history of the building when he watched workmen take down two decorative columns which had adorned the corner entrance these many years. The building will no longer have a corner entrance, but a side entrance instead.

This interest led Byron to do a little research, and the facts given here were supplied by him . . . many through the courtesy of that beloved pioneer, S. S. Montgomery.

Mr. Beckum sold the business to a Mr. Jones who continued to operate it in the same location. Some time later, Mr. Montgomery with other individuals, bought the bank and it became an exchange bank, and was moved to another location—to be known as the First National Bank.

The next owner of the mercantile store was Jo J. Mickle who sold the business to T. R. Garrett in 1904. Later I. N. McCreary brought the store.

It was in 1915 that Harrison-Clover Hardware Company moved into the building. A firm that was later known as Harrison Hardware Company occupied the building for 42 years. During the years the business had expanded to include the adjoining building, and it was in 1957 that the company moved into this part of the building; however, the building still belongs to a member of the family, Mrs. T. M. Harrison. All of us remember that Household Supply Company was the last firm to be housed in the building.

Only those of you who read this story and those pioneers of the area, can believe this building of beauty with all its modern fixtures, complete with snack bar, nursery, ladies lounge, and an eight-lane bowling set-up has stood on that same corner for nearly 70 years.

In today's mail: greetings from Peaches Harrison from Las Vegas, Nev. She was enjoying a weekend there as a guest of Mrs. Martin and son Reuben, former Memphians who now live in California.

ENGAGEMENT REVEALED—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barclay of Lakeview announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kay, to Tony Molloy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Molloy of Plaska. The wedding will be an event of Friday, August 25.

Next week she plans to visit Jet and Dora Fore, also former Memphians.

On display Saturday morning in front of Tarver-Stanford Pharmacy: a rattlesnake measuring 56 inches with 10 rattlers and a button. The reptile was killed, along with a smaller one, by Exie Sweat in the garage at his farm west of town.

Being somewhat of a gardener ourselves, we were most interested in the tomatoes brought to our office last week by Rev. Fern Miller. We have tried our hand at growing tomatoes for several years, and somehow always have plenty of the small varieties and none of the larger type. The ones Rev. Miller has grown are beauties, averaging about a pound each. Rev. Miller lives just over in the next block from us . . . so we're going to have to ask for some gardening tips!

Thought for the day: Our biggest problem is not to save the world, but to make it worth saving.

Texas got hold of a $15 bill, but no one would change it for them. They decided to go over the line into Oklahoma (believing the Okies to be gullible) and get smaller change for the bill. One went into the first store they came to in Ok. with the bill. In a few minutes he came out smiling. The other asked, "Can you get it changed?" "Yes, but not in as small bills as you want. He can give us two $6 bills and one $3 bill for our $15."

The Canyon News—The Canyon city commission is urging all property owners who have lots grown up with weeds to mow the property as soon as possible. Weeds are both a nuisance and a fire hazard. In the summer months weed-infested lots harbor mosquitoes and other such pests. In the winter such lots present a serious fire hazard when the weeds are dead, the commission pointed out, and then "if such property owners fail or refuse to do so within 10 days after notice, the city may cause the same to be done and provision is made for assessing a lien against such property for expenses incurred." (OO wad the power the gif' to gi'e' our city of Memphis a similar law).

The president of the Hall County Picnic, J. M. Ferrel, Jr., before leaving on his vacation, dropped a line asking that mention be made this week that the annual Hall County Picnic will be staged here Sunday, Sept. 17, and that committees are continually working to make the event a huge success. The beebes are being fattened, and all plans being completed. The second unit for the barbecue outlay at the Park is about completed. The Lions will finish the work and paint same soon in time for the picnic.

Many home owners are concerned over the web-worms infesting shrubbery and trees. Several have suggested that, since the City of Memphis has a fogging machine, it wouldn't take much more to secure a spraying machine that can be used in spraying trees, and charge a minimum price to the citizens for using same. Transient operators want an exorbitant price for doing the work, and some of them do not have proper recommendations.

During the years it has been our pleasant chore to visit beauty spots in town and county, whether it be a large vegetable, a beautiful flower, a field of cotton, or ripening grain. Many times we not only viewed such but snapped a picture in color of same. This has happened time and again in Memphis when some one had a lovely yard, decorated with blooming flowers, and artistically designed surroundings. We like to see things growing—barring weeds—and continually make drives over the city to see how many homes are beautified by God's products of Nature. Each year, more and more people are catching the fever and really making attempts to make their homes more attractive. . . have found out that Hall County soil will grow almost anything in the way of crops, fruits, vegetables, lawns and flowers. . . that it takes work is true but the rewards are great. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris, who now operate the Robinson plant farm in North Memphis, this week invited us to take a look at the things they are growing this year. They have made their place attractive with shrubs, flowers and vegetables. Drive by and take a look at the front yard, and if you have time, see the many kind of things they have growing abundantly. Too many things to mention, but among the many varieties of tomatoes is one that was brought to Memphis by Ben Parks from a Southern State—and people around here know it only as the Parks tomato. Beautiful flowers of every name and color cannot be described, but make a gorgeous setting. The Morris couple think more people will want to beautify their own places when they find what this soil will produce, and then Memphis will become known far and wide as the beautiful city.

each award-winning novel should be capable of reaching a wide audience in the belief that the novel was originally conceived as a popular art form and should be so considered today. Each award winner of course must be a work of highest quality, and the basic values of the novel form—characterization, narrative, and literary vitality—will guide the editors in their selection.

In the opinion of the editors,

"Twilight of Honor" is a powerful and gripping novel which in comparison with "Anatomy of Murder." It deals with crime and the law and is set in one of the most beautiful cities in Texas.

The first McGraw-Hill Prize Award was won by Elaine Spencer in 1960 for "The Lighthouse in the Piazza."
