Public School Week March 5-9

Plans were completed Monday for local observance of Public Schools Week in Memphis. From the decisions, a week of observance of fundamental education has been established. Over the state, and appropriate slogan has been adopted: "Texas Public Schools - Democracy in Action." This slogan should be taken to heart by every father and mother, who are interested in the future welfare of their sons and daughters. These young people are receiving 12 years of education in the four schools of Hall County. They will be the parents of tomorrow. They will be guiding the destiny of another generation of boys and girls. Now they are receiving the best education which their schools can provide, guided by dedicated teachers and administrators.

In looking back, we find the basis for public free schools in this nation. In checking the record we find, that "our fathers in their wisdom, recognizing the importance of education in the function and operation of a democracy, established the school to make education available to all."

Education available to all is the key which has promoted the progress of this nation.

Over a hundred years ago, men of vision wrote the Constitution of the State of Texas. In their wisdom they declared, "a general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools."

The above declaration is the basis for education in our state and country.

The 1854 School Law provided for the first Public School System in Texas. As the years passed, laws of the state were strengthened to make sure that all children of a school age shared in this opportunity for public education.

Today the importance of education is not debatable subject. From the podiums all over this nation, wise men are again and again uttering this fact. Thousands of words are being published in the nation's press pointing to the great need for education—and the advancement of knowledge to meet the challenges of the future. It is a recognized fact that our job today is to see that the children of this generation get the best possible education which every school district can give them.

On the occasion of Public Schools Week, parents and patrons have an opportunity of visiting their children and familiarizing themselves with the problems of both teachers and students. From such visitations, we can become more competent in safeguarding the future of education. The advancement and progress of our schools is the key to the future of this nation. The fountainhead of this advancement is the public schools which are educating our boys and girls.

During Public Schools Week, visit the classes of your son or daughter. Talk to his or her teacher and the administrators. Discuss local problems with the members of the school boards. From an active participation such as the week affords, a continued program of progress will be possible in Hall County schools.

Nacogdoches Was Battleground

You could write a book about the battles that were fought for Nacogdoches. Also one about the armies and expeditions that captured this East Texas town.

Two expeditions bent on freeing this land from the Spanish were those of Magee-Gutierrez and Dr. James Long. Both were ill-fated excursions.

As a reminder of this stormy history, one of the oldest of the many historic homes still in Nacogdoches today is that of Adolphus Sterne, the Alcade at the city when it was under Spanish rule. Sam Houston once lived in this house.

Hot Brings Cold

Hot water heaters are used to cool water in Smiley, Texas. Hounds outlandish to say the least, doesn't it? This happy sounding town in Gonzales County has a powerful artesian well that pours forth its own hot water.

The town of Smiley pipes this hot water right into the homes. These fortunate Texans have all the hot water they need. But the residents use hot water tanks, not connected for heating purposes, to store the water long enough to cool it for drinking purposes.

So, when in Smiley, remember to turn on the hot water faucet for a cold shower.

High and Mighty

Naturally it's taller! The Texas State Capitol at Austin is taller than any other state Capitol and reaches higher into the atmosphere than the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

Next time you're in Austin, be sure and make a trip through this majestic domed granite capitol. You'll notice something different every visit.

Take a look at the door hinges, for example, and the inlaid flooring. They were made especially for this building, but often are overlooked by many of the visitors to this great capitol.

Austin is quite a recreational center too; so you'd better plan for a long stay at this Central Texas beauty spot.

Texas Opportunity

Sharp interest is being shown in camping accommodations for 1962 at Texas State Parks, reports S. W. Barlow, assistant executive director of the State Parks Board.

Inquires coming to State Parks headquarters are from all over the nation, as well as from foreign countries. They are running well ahead of last year, in which Texas parks registered 6,614,332 visitors.

Reservations for vacation-time facilities also are heavier than in 1961. J. C. Henderson, manager of Garner State Park which is situated 80 miles West of San Antonio in rugged canyon country, says space already has been allocated as far ahead as September 1962.

On the basis of advance interest and the national trend, Mr. Barlow estimates Texas State parks, now designated as recreational, scenic or historical, may handle more than 8,000,000 visitors this year.

In its parks system, Texas has one of its truly great tourist attractions. It is unfortunate that there are no funds to provide proper maintenance in most state parks, let alone for expanded facilities.

Texas is blessed with some of the nation's most wonderful natural outdoor recreational areas. What these areas require are attractive and convenient facilities to receive visitors and make their stay pleasant and enjoyable.

When will the Legislature do something constructive about this opportunity?

Durable Federal Bureaus

The Defense Department, incredibly massive and complex, is usually thought of as a prime example when complaints are uttered about how unmanageable government can be.

It is interesting, therefore, that a number of high administration officials think of the State Department as no less unwieldy, though in a different way.

What encumbers the ship of state, they say, are the barnacles of custom and tradition.

The criticism, obviously, does not go to the department's top officers and deputies, or to the new breed of diplomats who, one way or another, have been making their mark.

It strikes rather at middle and lower echelon personnel, and at a fair proportion of the broad array of career diplomats.

Chief arguments are that the mills grind too slowly at these levels, and that a good many operatives show signs of resenting change of any kind.

An outsider who now and then hears some of President Kennedy's personal observations quotes him as saying:

"Some of those people in the State Department think I'm interfering when I call up over there."

One administration source suggests that reasonable speed in the production of certain background here in question, they are generally not pushers at all.

Administration men think that a gradual change of faces in some key spots, plus steady prodding, will ultimately infuse this crucial department with a more flexible spirit.

Many skeptical citizens and lawmakers, however, may be tempted to side with one of the latter who, commenting on this specific problem, said:

"The federal agency is an institution which outlasts all presidents. Nobody is going to cut too deep into State — or any other department."

In capsule, that may be one chapter in the story of this age.

Delphian Club Meets in Home of Mrs. A. Anisman

The Delphian Club met in the home of Mrs. A. Anisman on Tuesday, Feb. 20, for the Fine Arts program.

Mrs. C. D. Keith, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. C. L. Smith introduced the guest speaker, Frederick de Vries, who talked on the subject of the "color wheel."

Mr. de Vries said, "It's easy to choose pleasing color combinations for paintings or pictorial subjects, for decorating rooms, for making photographs in color, and arranging flowers. It's as simple as ABC to compose a photograph or a painting if you learn the basic rules of color harmony."

Mr. de Vries used a color wheel that he had designed for his illustrations, with it consisting of 12 full-strength colors.

Continuing, Mr. de Vries explained, "The most famous of the twelve colors are yellow, blue and red — three colors that are traditionally called the primary pigment colors. Equidistant on the wheel, they are entirely unrelated. The other colors on the wheel are derived from these primaries."

"As an illustration of what effect color has on objects, Mr. de Vries said, 'the telephone company in New York City noticed that not enough people were using the dull dark green telephone booths, so someone suggested they be painted red and the volume of business increased by about 40 per cent. Also, in San Antonio a cement company had packed the cement in dark red sacks; the men complained that they were having a terrific amount of back trouble and the color was changed on the sacks, to blue and it was amazing how much less the complaining became. So we see how important color harmony can be," he concluded.

Members in attendance were Mmes. Smith, Keith, Henry Hays, Bob Fowler, Joe Mothershed, Warren Driver, Lynn McKown, Jack Boone, R. H. Wherry, J. L. Barnes, C. C. Hodges, Mildred Stephens, Jim McMurry and the hostess, one visitor, Miss Solvej Bager, was also in attendance.

At the speaker's table was noted a beautiful arrangement of white stock and galley carnations, flanked by red candles in silver holders.

The menu included baked ham, scalloped potatoes with cheese and mushroom sauce, green beans, corned salad, hot rolls, butter, cherry pie topped with ice cream, and iced tea.

Minister Everett Stevens led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag and to the Christian flag, and then led the group in singing several choruses. Swayne McCauley was master-of-ceremonies, and after a brief welcome, offered the invocation for the food.

Immediately following the banquet, the speaker of the evening, Tom Posey, minister of the Paramount Terrace Christian Church of Amarillo, gave a most interesting and informative talk to the group. The talk was based on the scripture text from Romans 12:1, "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Minister Posey emphasized the point, that each youth should realize the importance of their lives and what each one could and should do for Christ.

"Young and old alike should do all that we can, for Him, and God will give us strength and aid to carry on His work. That we don't live this life by ourselves, but that God who created man, is ever present with us. He's blessed us in so many ways, pouring his blessings always on the peoples of the world," the speaker said.

He also brought out the present threat and danger of Communism, by saying, "Communism teaches hate, and brutality, and would take the life of any person who would follow Jesus Christ. God deserves the best, and America has the best to give. God wants our minds, our souls, and our bodies for as long as we live."

The address received a very enthusiastic round of applause from the listeners who heard it.

Minister Posey, a former pastor to the local church, was accompanied to Memphis by his wife.

Sixty-five people attended the banquet.

The benediction was given by Everett Stevens, local minister.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Be not ashamed, neither hesitate to render what you can unto the Lord

just because it may seem little or unimportant to you. Little things work together to make something big, and without the little things there could be nothing big. Let us learn to do well the little things that we have been a part of them.

The mighty oceans and the many seas nearly cover the face of the earth, but they are all made up of little drops of water, and when you have analyzed the thousands of miles of shore line, you find that they are made of little grains of sand.

All of the ages past, present and future may be divided up into little minutes; the heavens are decorated with little stars; the world is composed of little nations; the great church of God is made up of little people who do his will.

Samson with a stone; Dorcas was handy with a needle; so, whether it be little or much, render, therefore, to God the things that are his.

Jesus said, "Well, thou good servant; because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities" (Luke 19-17).

What is that in thy hand? Be not afraid to use it to the glory of God. Fight the good fight of faith.

—Cecil Hadaway

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Nothing is cuter than a group of little girls . . . but boys can be charming, too . . . and they were certainly in evidence at the Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet Tuesday evening at the Travis Cafeteria. Been a long time since we'd seen so many small boys together in a group . . . and all dressed up in their Cub uniforms they made a refreshing picture. Our bouquet of the week goes to Joe Williams and the many other men and women who are busy promoting this worthwhile phase of Scouting. Speaking from past experience, we know they are taking time from their busy routine to serve in the training and development of the youth in their neighborhoods. It is time well spent and something they can look back on with pride in years to come.

And, speaking of girls . . . if you attended the annual beauty contest Friday evening at the high school auditorium, we think you will agree that we have some of the prettiest misses in the Panhandle (perhaps in the nation) right here in Memphis. They all looked so pretty, we're sure it was a task for the judges to designate the winners.

And our youth are intelligent, too! This fact is called to our attention from week to week as we handle press releases from the various colleges and universities where Hall County students are enrolled. We would like to enumerate some of the honors our students have received and review some of their accomplishments as they enter the business world, but our list would be too long for this small space.

As we begin the observance of Public Schools Week, let us not forget to express our appreciation to the fine teachers and school administrators of the county who are working tirelessly to see that our youngsters have the required foundation preparatory for entering college, or the business world.

We were interested in the school statistics given recently by Lutz Giesler, AFS student from Germany, who spoke here at the PTA meeting. He said the German youth have 14 years of school before entering college . . . but that students must pass an entrance examination to enter high school. Only 30 per cent of their students enter high school and only 10 per cent of the high school students graduate.

In comparison, our high school graduates and college graduates well exceed this number. We were pleased to learn this week that 14 per cent of the students of the 1960-61 class of Memphis High School are listed in the upper 10 per cent of college classes this year. A fine showing for the Memphis schools.

At New Positions: Mike Davidson of Estelline began work Monday at Lemons Furniture Company, while a new employee at The Fair Store is Mrs. Felix Jarrell.

Spring is just around the corner . . . and have you seen all the pretty frocks and hats which are arriving at the local stores? Seems each season the clothes get prettier.

Thinking of clothes reminded us of the lovely, full-length hand-knit coat which Bobbie Pate is wearing. And—she knitted it herself! For months now we have been admiring the handwork of Bobbie's mother, Mrs. Bascom Davenport, who crochets those lovely sweaters for her daughters and granddaughters, as well as for herself.

If you are interested in oil painting, mosaic tile design and ceramics, then you have a special invitation to attend a meeting to organize an art class here. The meeting will be held at 1 p. m. Friday in the high school cafeteria.

Granny Bowerman of Lakeview, who is now making her home in Pampa with a son and wife, and Mrs. Jess Bowerman, is celebrating a birthday anniversary March 24, a friend here told us this week. For those friends who would like to remember her with cards the address is Mrs. Twiford St., Pampa.

Mrs. Hollis Boren entered the Medical Arts Hospital in Dallas for medical treatment Tuesday. She is in Room 1803, and we are sure would enjoy cards from many friends here. Mrs. Bill Boren and Hollis Boren accompanied her to Dallas, but have returned home. Mr. Boren will return Dallas the latter part of the week.

Falcon Lake is the vacation spot chosen by a group of Memphians for 10 days of fishing. Ready there are Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen who left Sunday. Leaving today were Mr. and Mrs. James Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Revell. While there they are to go over into Mexico.

And, thinking of vacations, remembered that we had had something in common with Mrs. Guy Smith at the Blue and Gold Banquet Tuesday . . . we were both anticipating visit with grandchildren over the weekend. Mrs. Smith will go to Denton to see her new grandchild and for us it will be a trip to Houston.

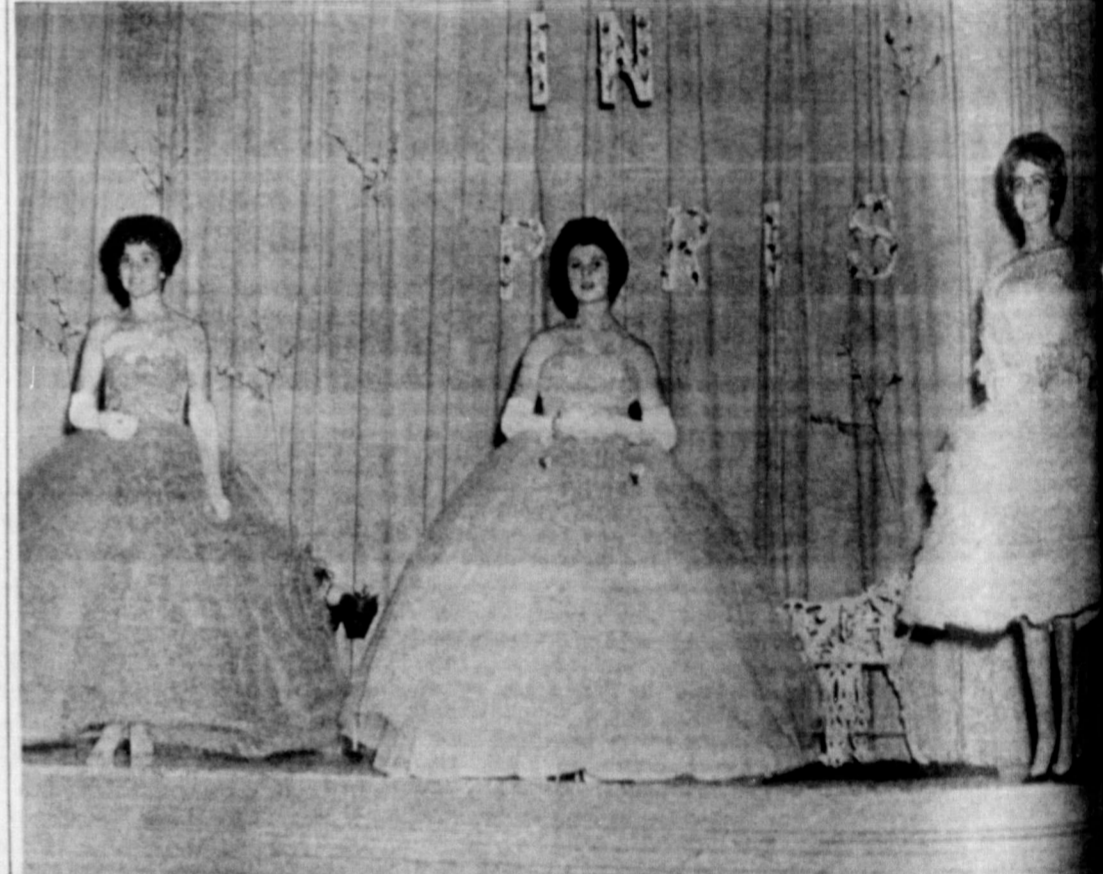

Today's chuckle: "I knew an artist who painted a cobweb so realistically that a maid spent several hours trying to get it down from the ceiling. 'I just don't believe it.' 'Why not?' Artists have been known to do such things." "Yes, but not maids."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to those who came to our hour of need; with their words of sympathy, food, beautiful floral offerings, and God's richest blessings to us of you.

We know that we could not have borne the sorrow that was upon us by the loss of our one if it had not been for our friends.

The Family of Mrs. R. A. B.

Handle Tour Group Featured New Zealand Paper Last Week

Editor's Note: The article which was reprinted from the "New Zealand Herald", printed on February 21 in Timaru, New Zealand, concerns the New Zealand Tour Group which was led by Mrs. D. L. C. Kincaid, a member of the group. The party plans to visit New Zealand about February 21 for Australia, Mrs. Kincaid wrote.

his professional photographer) breezed into Timaru last night on the second leg of their lightning South Island tour. The Americans have already visited the North Island.

They left Amarillo, Texas, on February 6 on a 36-day tour, which takes in Los Angeles, Tahiti, Auckland, Rotorua, Waitomo, Matamata, Christchurch, Timaru, Mount Cook, Queenstown, Lake Te Anau, Milford Sound, Dunedin, and back to Christchurch before flying to Australia.

It was Mr. Cotton John Smith, 42-year-old farm director of Station KGNC, Amarillo, Texas, who sang New Zealand's praises on behalf of the party.

"During the last five years we have visited many countries," said Mr. Smith. "We were in Europe in 1958, Alaska in 1959, Canada in 1960, around the world (17 different countries) in 1961, and now the South and Southwest Pacific this year. Of all those places New Zealand receptions on farms surpass them all."

Geraldine Visit

Mr. Smith cited the party's visit to Mr. J. K. Ludbrook's Te Kuiti farm and yesterday's tour of a 10,000 station at Geraldine as "the highlights" of their many trips.

"Apart from the wonderful hospitality we were shown, both these farms had much to interest us," said Mr. Smith. "At Te Kuiti all the neighbors came along. It was amazing as they 'more or less dropped in.' It was a real picnic. They provided a shearing exhibition (with blades) and the sheep dogs performed for us. Later we were shown around the farm and enjoyed a big tea on the lawns."

The Geraldine station referred to was the Tripp Brothers Estate, which is managed by Mr. R. C. Smith. This property runs 500 Angus and shorthorn cattle and 7500 sheep.

"This is quite an efficient operation," Mr. Smith said. "They certainly get the maximum use from their grasses. The grassland management is really commendable — much more scientific than back home. I was most impressed by the way they are able to carry so many sheep and cattle without grain. They use hay, grass and probably turnips only. The station is well groomed. Here again we were joined by 10 neighboring families. There was afternoon tea, with all the trimmings."

Mr. Ralph Wheeler, a farmer member of the party, "thoroughly endorsed" Mr. Smith's glowing testimonials, mentioning that nothing like such hospitality had ever been shown in Hertfordshire, England, Italy, Alaska, Japan, Holland, India and other countries.

"We have also discovered that New Zealanders are more curious than any other people we have met," said Mr. Smith. "This is true among the children, through to the retired farmers. What makes them so curious I don't know, but they sure ask a lot of questions. They want to know about American politics, farming methods, rural youth organizations, fashions, automobiles, and such like. We can only take it as a compliment, of course."

Mr. Smith's principals, who conduct sponsored programs, will make full use of the films shot in New Zealand. For example the 16-millimeter color films, complete with sound effects — even music scores — will first be shown on television and then edited down to a 30-minute documentary.

Free Public Service

The station's farm department will send the films out as a free public service to radio and television stations in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, and Colorado. The films will reach out to many audiences in civic clubs, agricultural groups, rural youth organizations, women's clubs, schools, churches, and similar bodies seeking programs.

Last night the party attended a film evening in the Caroline Bay Hall as the guests of the provincial executive of South Canterbury Federated Farmers.

This morning the Americans are to be shown over the Smithfield freezing works before journeying on to Mount Cook. They are touring New Zealand by Coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClure and Nancy visited in Wellington Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McClure, and other relatives.

M-G-M Buys Dewlen's New Novel For Movie

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has outbid Warner Bros. for the movie rights to "Twilight of Honor", new novel by Al Dewlen of Amarillo and formerly of Memphis.

Dewlen's novel, story of a sensational trial, was a Book of the Month selection and won the $10,000 McGraw-Hill Fiction Award for 1961.

More than 225,000 copies of the novel have been sold since its release Dec. 13, and in early February the book was on national best-seller lists. In Chicago, it was No. 4, Book Buyer's Guide rated it No. 6 and the New York Times, No. 13.

Brenda Duncan Is Accompanist For NTSU Concert

Brenda Marie Duncan of Memphis is an accompanist for the North Texas State University student woodwind quintet, which presented its first home concert February 22.

The quintet was organized by five School of Music students last fall, but the home performance will be their first full-length concert. The group played at the annual meeting of the Denton County Teachers Credit Union in January, 1962.

A student of Dr. Lee Gibson of the music faculty, Miss Duncan plays the piano. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Duncan, and is a junior music major. She is also a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, the Concert Band, and the Symphony Orchestra.

Howdy, Folks.

The Lord has been real good to us this past week. Our Sunday School attendance was down from 55 to 44 this week, but we had about 60 in worship service. Our Training Union was up a little from 26—best Sunday—to 41 this week. I taught "Sharing Our Savior" in Women's Missionary Society last Tuesday at 3 p. m. Wednesday night Bro. R. B. Phillips from Estelline brought a message on "Brother" at 7 p. m. This Friday we will meet at the church house at 7 p. m. to go visiting for our Lord's work. Hope we will all give an account of ourselves as we go visiting. Our revival is just around the corner. Bro. Henry Hoffman, from Gonzales, Texas, will be with us from March 23 to 30. Let's all pray for the Lord to convict the lost folks of sin and that they might accept Christ as their Savior. The Brice-Lesley Baptist Colored Mission is coming along fine. Bro. George Arthur and I met with colored folks at 8 p. m. Tuesday and led in a church visitation program. Bro. Arthur preached "Do Not Challenge God" last Sunday afternoon as we met at 2:30 p. m. Before the message, Bro. Herbert Lasseter led a group of colored people in two special songs which were really good. We hope that one day the colored people in and around Lesley and Brice will be able to have their own church. God's blessings on them! Well, gotta go. See you all next week. May the good Lord take us all safely through another week.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Lowry.

Memphis Jaycees Win Thurs. Over Clarendon Team Cage

The Memphis Jaycees last Thursday night defeated the team from Clarendon 54 to 47 in a rugged battle at the gymnasium here.

The local Jaycees, prior to the game with Clarendon, played a game against a team composed of Coach Bob Martin and several senior boys.

The Memphis Jaycees lost their first match 88 to 42.

In both of the games the Jaycees showed that they were long on spirit and pep, even if they were short on wind.

For some of the men, it was the first time since 1942 that they had been on a basketball court. Their speed on the floor was good for the first three minutes, and then about every five minutes after that the entire team was changed. This maneuver continued throughout the game.

One of the members confided that it was a new type offense—by changing the entire team every five minutes, the Clarendon Jaycees were unable to adjust to the completely new offense. However, one spectator remarked that it looked to him like the team was just tired.

Whichever way it was, they managed to come out on top as far as the score was concerned, even if they did make some points with one man on top of another man's shoulder.

The event was successful as far as funds were concerned, with the club making about $200, president Al Chappell said.

Three Memphis Boys On All-District

Memphis had three boys on the all-district basketball team, who were named at a meeting of coaches Wednesday night.

Bunky Adcock was named to the second team all-district as an outside man, while Dwight Gailey was elected to the same team as an inside man.

This year the coaches named players simply as outside and inside men in accord with the new methods of play. In prior years, they were known as forwards, guards, etc.

Perry Wright, an outside man, received honorable mention in district play.

The first team all-district was composed of James Allen of Clarendon and Jim Watson of McLean as inside men, and Ken Willingham of McLean, Anthony McCool of Lefors and Jerry Cole of Canadian as outside men.

was made up of Dwight Gailey of Memphis and Bill Spier of Clarendon as inside men; Frankie Mur- of Canadian, Derrity Welch of McLean and Bunky Adcock of Memphis as outside men.

Pictures Taken By Bill Funk Honored In N. M.

Bill Funk, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Funk of Memphis, recently was honored as a photographer by having two of his pictures published in the New Mexico Magazine.

The magazine is known for the excellent color pictures contained therein.

The pictures taken by Funk were two in color of robes and related craftware made by the Indians who live at San Juan Pueblo near Santa Fe.

He also wrote an article used with the pictures telling about "Project Robe" which is an effort by the Indians of the pueblo to manufacture and market a beautifully designed line of robes and related craftware with authentic Indian designs and materials of fine wool fabric.

By this project it is hoped that the people of the pueblo will be provided with a means of income.

The first picture shows an Indian in a blue robe outlined against a blue sky and patches of white clouds in the background.

The second picture shows an Indian with a reddish brown robe against the tan of a pueblo building.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

March 2

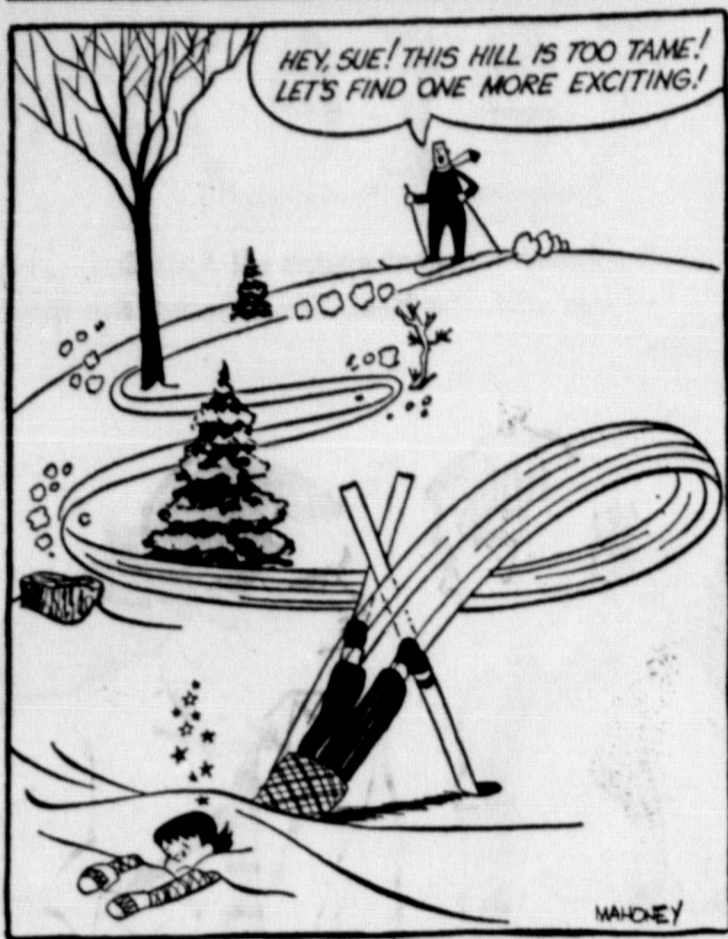

In view of some recent developments in a far-off land in connection with a question asked by an Indonesian of our Attorney General, the Honorable Robert Kennedy, it appeared to me that a little light should be thrown on the subject. It is especially appropriate at this time since March 2 is Texas Independence Day, and one of the great days in the history of mankind in his fight for freedom and independence. I do not know the exact words used and the Indonesian student, but it was the general understanding from reports of the transaction that the Mexican War was a war of aggression on the part of this country against Mexico in which the land area presently constituting Texas was the grand prize. Whether or not this was the actual subject matter of this discussion between the two, I do not know, but correct or incorrect, it was the impression in the minds of those who read the accounts of the statements. Hence, in order to clarify the situation and to redeem any lost prestige suffered by this country, the Attorney General, Texas, or Mexico, I think it would be well to look to the true facts.

The revolution in Texas preceded the Mexican War by some eleven years. According to Stephen F. Austin, this revolution was a stand against military dictatorship. The aim in the beginning was not independence from Mexico. On November 7, 1835, it was declared by the colonists in a consultation at San Felipe de Austin that they had "Taken up arms in defense of the Federal Constitution of Mexico in 1824". It was not until the Alamo was under bombardment on March 2, 1836, that a convention of colonists held at Washington-on-Brazos declared the independence of Texas.

The Mexican War was actually precipitated by the annexation of Texas in 1846. Mexico broke off diplomatic relations with the United States immediately after the admission of Texas as the 28th State of the Union on December 29, 1845. The first encounter was at Palo Alto near Brownsville May 8, 1846. Another engagement was fought at Resaca de la Paloma on the following day. The Mexican forces then withdrew into Mexico proper and no other battles were fought north of the Rio Grande. In the first instance, General Zachary Taylor had been ordered to seize disputed Texas land settled by Mexicans, and it was after the border clash that the United States declared war on May 13, 1846. Ten days later Mexico declared war on the United States. Generals Winfield Scott and Zachary Taylor moved rapidly to Mexico City and it fell on September 14, 1847. The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed on Feb-

LOCALS & PERSONALS

Weekend guest in the home of Mrs. Mildred Stephens and Marcene was Mrs. W. E. Powers of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Seth Stewart returned from Amarillo Sunday where she visited her son, Butler Stewart, and family for a few days.

Swayne McCauley and Phillip Duncan were in Denton over the weekend, visiting on the campus of North Texas State College.

Members of Mexican troops and the defenders were slaughtered to the last man.

So very much could be written about the honor and glory of those stalwart patriots at the Alamo that the space within this newsletter would be wholly insufficient to even pay surface treatment to the subject. However, I would commend to those interested in the true history of our fight for freedom the reading and re-reading of Texas history. Few events in the history of the world can approach the story of the Alamo for sheer bravery, honor, self-sacrifice, devotion to duty, and dedication to the freedom of the individual, and certainly none can surpass it. It was all summed up on February 24, 1836. The previous day Santa Anna had hoisted a blood-red flag, meaning "No Quarter". William Travis replied from the Alamo with a cannon shot. On the next day he sent out his famous message "to the People of Texas and all the Americans in the World":

Fellow citizens and compatriots, I am besieged by a thousand or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna — I have sustained a continual bombardment and cannonade for 24 hours and have not lost a man — The enemy has demanded a surrender at discretion, otherwise the garrison are to be put to the sword, if the fort is taken. . . I shall never surrender or retreat.

Then, I call on you in the name ruary 2, 1848. Mexico relinquished any claim to Texas, including the area below the Nueces. It ceded to the United States that part of the present United States west of Texas and the Louisiana Purchase and south of Oregon. However, the United States paid Mexico 15 million dollars.

It must be kept in mind that all of this transaction took place twelve years subsequent to the declaration of independence by the valiant men of Texas gathered at Washington-on-Brazos on Mar. 2, 1836. It was after the successful conclusion of the revolution as it developed after Mar. 2

1913 Study Club Hears Program On Current Events

Members of the 1913 Study Club met for one of the most in- formative sessions since this club year began in September on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. C. Lemons.

Mrs. Bray Cook, president, called the meeting to order and pre- sided over the business session. One of the outstanding matters of business was the endorsement by the entire membership of Mrs. Jeannette Irons as a candidate for the Santa Rosa District office of Second Vice President.

Mrs. Cook, as first to speak on the afternoon's program, gave an interesting paper telling about the country of Finland in general and the TFWC president, Mrs. Grif- fith's visit to that small but in- dustrious land last summer. Dur- ing their fair, the country set a- side special days to do honor to the state of Texas. Mrs. Griffith was our Lone Star State's honor delegate at that time.

Mrs. Paul Montgomery brought a thought-provoking talk concern- ing "A Youth Today . . . and What of Tomorrow."

But it was the talk of Mrs. Mills Roberts that set the audi- ence to thinking and launched them into a serious discussion as to the state of "the union in which we live today," according to Vir- ginia Browder, club reporter. "An article which Mrs. Roberts read from the March Readers Digest was indeed "a rouser" written to bring us up short and help us to be concerned about the plight of our land of liberty," she said. She implored her listeners to be in- formed, responsible, responsive citizens exercising our rights as such to save our country from socialism.

Supplementing Mrs. Roberts' talk, Mrs. Tarver spoke about the possible demise of the United Na- tions organization and the con- sequent disastrous repercussions such a calamity might bring about. Mrs. George Ferris spoke of the Kennedy-Freeman farm bill and Mrs. Frank Foxhall talked briefly about obscene literature and movies. Mrs. T. J. Dunbar came closer to home by urging everyone to consider and vote wisely.

The program was concluded with some comments by Virginia Browder as to the real intentions of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) combo and the bill set up a department for Urban Affairs and Housing which has been teetering between the House and Senate for some time.

Refreshments were served dur- ing the social hour to 15 members.

Byron Baldwin was in Dallas the first of the week on business.

Public Schools Week --- March 5-9

The Future Rests in the Hands of the Boys and Girls in Our Schools

Visit Our Schools This Week . . . and Commend the Work of Dedicated Teachers and Administrators

For many years, Public School Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time to place emphasis on our education system.

Here in Memphis, much progress has been witnessed during the past years. During this special week of observance, parents are encouraged to visit our schools, where they will recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education.

The goal of the Board of Trustees, the Teachers and Administrators is to make our schools the finest in this state. To aid in achieving this, our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school system, and to cooperate in all efforts which are put forth.

Our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundation necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, in observance of Public School Week, we urge the citizens of this community to take an active part in promoting a better understanding of the vitally important responsibility which rests upon all of us. Our public schools are the foundation of a country which is governed by and for the people. We can be assured of this and do our part by understanding and helping our public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the observance of Public Schools Week, March 5-9.

Sue Stinsman Is Semi-Finalist In AFS Program

Sue Beth Stinsman has been selected as one of the semi-finalist for the American Abroad program, Allen Dunbar said this week.

He was given the information in a letter received from Stephen Galatti, director general of the American Field Service, New York.

"This year, in order that fewer students will have to wait until late spring to know they are not selected, we have made a very stringent first selection. We have approximately 2,500 papers and expect to place about 1,300 students in both summer and school program," Galatti wrote.

Miss Stinsman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stinsman, and is a junior student in the local high school.
