Accident Rate Drops

Last year, for the second time in a row, the citizens of the nation set a record for the lowest accident rate in history. The rate was 50 per 100,000 population, a decrease of three per cent from 1960.

The figures show that the actual toll in lives in 1961 was 91,500, a decrease of approximately 1,500 from the number a year before. The biggest decrease was in accidents in and around the home. Approximately 26,500 were killed in such accidents during 1961, approximately 1,000 less than the preceding year.

Motor vehicle accidents took about 38,000 lives during the year, slightly less than the toll in 1960, and catastrophes, accidents in which five or more persons were killed, were responsible for about 1,250 deaths in the U. S. during 1961, approximately 250 fewer than in 1960.

The main factor in this reduction was the smaller number of fatal injuries in major catastrophes, accidents in which at least 25 persons are killed. Aside from three airplane crashes which killed 78, 77 and 37 persons, the only two natural disasters were Hurricane Carla (50 deaths) and floods in the Midwest, which claimed 25 lives.

In all accidents, the two most dangerous spots to be in are automobiles and our homes. Even though we have made a decrease in the number of lives lost this past year, we should continue to be ever watchful and strive to decrease the number even further next year.

Cancer Battleground

Cancer kills around 270,000 persons a year in the United States, and many think of it as basically an incurable ailment. Yet it is to a considerable — and increasing — degree both curable and preventable. The current recognition of "25 years of progress" in the medical assault on the disease seems thoroughly warranted.

The way ahead is long and still obscured. Though many cancer specialists talk hopefully of finding the big answers soon, none does any cherring today in the face of the heavy toll cancer takes.

It is a fact, however that in the past generation the "cure rate" for those with cancer has improved from one in four to one in three. And Dr. Kenneth M. Endicott, head of the National Cancer Institute, believes this could be advanced to one in two simply by wider and earlier application of known methods.

Thus tens of thousands of lives could be saved even without new breakthroughs in cancer research.

As for prevention, much can be done merely by avoiding the countless chemical culprits which already have been successfully identified as cancer-causing agents. These include, certain oils, coal tar products, other chemicals, and either metallic or radioactive dusts. The list is still growing.

With most of these troublesome agents, long exposure is the key. Industrial workers may be exposed to some in the course of their jobs. Farmers and others who may labor outdoors from dawn to dusk sometimes develop skin cancers from the sun's radiation.

The diet and other individual habits of millions more can produce the long exposure to irritants that leads to trouble. But habits, the cancer experts recognize, are extremely hard to break, even when the alternative is a perilous disease.

If people won't yield old habits, then the specialists believe they can at least work hard at forming what for many would be a totally new habit: taking a tough physical examination every 12 months or less.

The American Cancer Society says only about 23 per cent of all adult Americans report that they have complete, regular checkups.

Dr. I. S. Ravdin, the society's president-elect and an eminent surgeon, notes that three-fourths of the cancers of the lower digestive tract — one of the commonest sites — are easily detectable in the curable stage. Checkups, he says, could save 50,000 lives a year from this kind of cancer alone.

While they are urging "prevention," the cancer researchers hunt for the deeper, broader cures that presumably can come only when they understand the complex, perhaps inter-related causes of what Dr. Endicott labels a "collection of diseases."

Dedicated men are trying to banish this dread scourge. Meantime, we can help ourselves by giving the doctors a change to apply the many things they already know about cancer. Wichita Falls Record News.

A rather droll story told by an Austin newspaperman was converted into the national championship tall tale of 1940. Cowboy Jack Crain ran 80 yards for a touchdown in the final seconds to give the UT Longhorns a 14-13 victory over Arkansas in 1939. One sports writer began his game story: "God and Jack Crain today defeated the University of Arkansas 14-13—"

Donald Day in his excellent book, "Big Country," describes efforts to get Ted Dealey of the Dallas "News" and Amon Carter of the Fort Worth "Star-Telegram" to write their respective versions of the Dallas-Fort Worth feud. Day was refused, with this explanatory anecdote of a father who declined to be taken into his wife's hospital room after the birth of his fifth child. "I haven't spoken to that woman in five years," he told the nurse. When she looked astonished, he added in explanation. "I know what you are thinking. But we aren't that mad at each other." — Curt Bishop.

What Other Editors Say

Communist Danger Real

Dr. James Jauncey, who was the Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker in Perryton last January was keynote speaker at the annual Panhandle Press Association convention in Amarillo last week end and had essentially the same message to present.

This was a message of faith, of courage, and the positive approach. He takes issue with those who see "a Red under every bed." He believes that the greatest danger from Communism comes from outside rather than from inside, while recognizing that danger exists in both places.

Dr. Jauncey says that the Communists have made practically no important gains since 1955 and that Khrushchev is now so busy at home that his program of world wide conquest is faltering. No new nation in Africa has taken up Communism, Dr. Jauncey says and the forces of freedom are winning around the globe.

He insists that Americans should stand firm, be courageous and not be panicked by those professional anti-communist organizations who would have us right now on the brink of doom.

This sort of thing drew some dissenting opinions from some of the Panhandle editors whose political standing must be classified on the right wing. They thought Dr. Jauncey took the wrong approach, and that we are in dire peril from Communist infiltration and that the government is full of Communist sympathizers who would sell us down the river.

Dr. Jauncey, who has made quite a study of the Communist movement, received a Freedom Foundation award in 1960 from a group which is on the right wing of politics. Now, apparently, his views are not quite strong enough to suit some of his former supporters.

After his speech in Amarillo, Dr. Jauncey got into a discussion with some of the Panhandle editors and vigorously defended his position. Some of these editors would have put him in the same category as Attorney General Robert Kennedy who said recently that the Communist Party is a political organization of no danger to the United States.

Dr. Jauncey recognizes that the Communist menace is real and that the Communist Party, working always underground, has followers with influence in high places and operates an efficient espionage system.

The actual Communists who are foreign agents are being dealt with by an efficient FBI, Dr. Jauncey says. Those who would influence our way of thinking by means of propaganda can be met by a vigorous educational program into the methods of Communism and edu-as well as magazines, is not a postal rate increase at all but a "postal tax."

It would levy — without regard to actual handling cost — a one-cent per copy added charge on every newspaper and magazine mailed outside of Garza County at the rate of one cent per 52 weekly issues.

But for a daily newspaper — like the Fort Worth Star-Telegram or the Dallas News — it would mean a postal hike annually of a whopping $3.65 per copy, or a penny a copy for all 365 daily issues a year. You can rest assured, that all of this would have to be passed on to the subscribers.

For a big area paper like the Star-Telegram, for example, this would mean it would have to set up a complete distribution system without the use of mails, or resign itself to being read only by rich ranchers and oilmen.

To us, this "tax" business is but a bungling way to try to raise funds for the "ever in the red" postal department.

We've taken hefty postal hikes before, all along the line, without wiping out the deficit. This is because a big postal rate hike is al-

Hall County residents are urged by C. Lee Rushing, chairman of the War Savings Committee, to tune in their radios tonight at 9 p. m. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard will be among the speakers on the program, which will be broadcast over the blue network. The broadcast will be devoted to discussion of the National War Bond quota system and the 10 per cent payroll savings plan.

Horace Tarver, Memphis druggist, is in a local hospital as the result of injuries sustained late Tuesday afternoon while horse-back riding. Attending physicians report he is suffering from a slight brain concussion and may be hospitalized for from three to six weeks. Tarver was approaching town from near the CCC camp, according to reports, and about the time he reached the highway, ways accompanied by an equally big salary pay boost for all the postal employees which nullifies any gain from postal increases. That is what is going to happen this time, too. And it's no deep dark secret.

Like everything else, the post office and its employees can in many instances price themselves out of business, just like private enterprise, even if it is a government monopoly. Or, at least, it can price newspapers and magazines out of business.

The Dispatch will survive—even though this will mean a forty per cent hike in our annual mailing costs. But we would not like to be in the shoes of Life Magazine, Time, Ladies Home Journal or the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The proposed "surtax" will not destroy the freedom of the press, but it will certainly limit its range.

The fish weighed six pounds and it took Collins about 10 or 15 minutes to bring it into the boat. He was using a rod and reel and minnows for bait. Collins said and his family had been fishing about six hours before the big one took the bait and had caught a few small ones. The fishing party broke up as soon as the bass was in the boat.

Those who follow God's commands may have a life of joy with no fear of tomorrow. In "Daffodils or Jesus Christ?" it was explained that although daffodils are pretty spring flowers, their life cycle can not be used as an allegory to the resurrection of Christ.

Mrs. John Smith told a beautiful Easter story in which a grandmother told in her plain words the story of the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ. She said that Christ's resurrection proves that there is victory on the far side of sin and there is victory on the far side of death.

Mrs. McElreath served a delicious refreshment plate to Mmes. Cleo Murph, Anna Dickson, J. R. Mitchell, J. J. McDaniel, G. M. Duren, A. O. Gidden, John Smith, W. F. Ritchie, O. M. Gunstream, and C. Morris.

MINUTE MEDITATION

Prayer is the key of the day and the key of the night. It may be employed to keep the heart clean, to dispel hatred, to obtain forgiveness and to increase spiritual strength.

Whether in victory or defeat, we need to pray. For God hath said, "Pray without ceasing." Since we are commanded to pray always, God has promised that he will answer our call. He said through one of the prophets, "Before the call I will answer: and while they are yet speaking I will hear."

Jesus said, "Pray to the Father in secret and he shall reward thee openly." David prayed on this wise: "Vainly prayer, blesses be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me."

And this is Paul's prayer: "Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift. . . Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Be not afraid, neither be ashamed to pray fervently to the Father, for great is your reward.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Milford by letter and Verte Flores by Baptism. Our richest blessings upon these three! The W. M. S. met at 3 p. m. last Wednesday for Bible Study. At 3 p. m. we met and went to Clarendon for the Workers' Conference. Wednesday at 7 p. m. we began a new Bible Study program. We are studying the most difficult chapters in the New Testament. Last Wednesday we studied Chapters 1-7 of Matthew. Following this we had a preview of next week's Sunday School lesson. At 8 p. m. we went visiting. The Negro Mission of Brice-Lesley had 25 present last Sunday afternoon. Two came forward during the invitation, one by letter and the other for baptism. God is blessing our humble efforts to find the Negro people a church home. Pray for the work. God bless you all.
Sincerely,

BOUQUET OF VIOLETS TO MRS. E. H. STANFORD

The article below about Mrs. Stanford was published in the Democrat in July, 1942—just 20 years ago, and she is still just as patriotic as during war years. She has an American flag which she flies an every national occasion, and some follow her example.

Once a year, every Christmas, Mrs. Stanford prepares a big dinner with her own hands and all her children and in-laws attend and enjoy the occasion. She is already looking forward to preparing the 65th annual dinner.

Mrs. Stanford's neighbors tell of the many acts of kindness she is continually doing for people even to the present. Following is the item from a 1942 Democrat:

Local Woman Goes 'All Out' in Work For the Red Cross

Mrs. E. H. Stanford knits 24 sweaters, pieces many quilts, and will continue. Mrs. E. M. Stanford of Memphis is 60 years old and weighs less than 100 pounds, but she is a dynamo of energy when it comes to doing work for the Red Cross. She has no sons or grandsons eligible for military service, but that circumstance only makes her feel that she should do all the more for the fighting forces and our allies.

Since January 1, she has worked 73 1/2 hours in the Red Cross sewing rooms. She has pieced and donated six quilt tops, supervised the making of six more quilt tops, and assisted with 17 other quilts. But that is only a small part of her accomplishment. She has also knitted 24 sweaters, 14 of them with long sleeves, and is now working on a woolen afghan.

"All Out for Victory" is more than a mere slogan to Mrs. Stanford. "My work has just begun," she declares. "It will require many, many more sweaters than the 24 I've knitted. My eyes get tired during the knitting, but there was always the vision of the sweater keeping some boy warm and I worked even harder than before."

Highway Patrol Investigates 3 Wrecks In March

The Highway Patrol investigated 3 rural accidents in Hall County during the month of March according to Sergeant D. R. Dowdy, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for an estimated property damage of $875.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Hall County from January through March of 1962 shows a total of 5 crashes. As a result of these crashes there was 1 person injured and no deaths. The estimated property damage amounted to $1,135.00.

With the coming of April, motorists will be getting back out on the highway to enjoy the invigorating atmosphere and colorful country side. The patrol supervisor pointed out that this will cause highway travel to be multiplying by leaps and bounds. He urges motorists, pedestrians and all street and highway users to know and obey traffic laws, regulations, ordinances and their application, and pledge their continuous vigorous support of these laws, so that accidents may be prevented and safety universally promoted.

Swine Raising Can Mean More Money For Grain

For the farmer who raises sorghum grain or corn, and who will learn the basic principles of feeding and management of hogs, the swine enterprise in Hall County can be very profitable, according to W. B. Hooser, County Agent for Hall County.

Hooser says it requires about 700 pounds of grain and 150 pounds of a good protein supplement for the farmer to produce a 200 to 220 pound market hog, where he produces his own pigs. This amount of grain includes the feed eaten by the sow that raised the litter of pigs.

When market hogs are selling at 17 cents per pound, the farmer will get $2.70 per hundred pounds for his home-grown grain, Hooser says. At 18 cents for hogs, he will get $2.90, and with 19 cents for hogs he will market his grain for $3.10 per hundred pounds with a good swine program.

The average family-size farm with a well planned, properly fenced lay-out for hogs can take care of 10 sows and 1 herd sire on 15 acres of land. Another 40 acres of sorghum grain will be needed to produce grain for a 10-sow unit. Here, Hooser figures on 160 pigs raised and sold from two litters per sow each year.

If you are interested in selling your grain through such a swine enterprise, why not talk it over with us. We can furnish you with leaflets and bulletins on hog layouts, watering systems, fences and many other things you will need for a successful hog enterprise.

By HELEN COMBS

Have you ever worked on a committee to serve more than a hundred people here? If not, then you don't know what a job it is to gather up dishes from several places about town and then see that they are sorted and carried back to the proper place.

Recently, before the Atalantean Club dinner, two members began wishfully thinking of buying tables and dishes in order that this task could be eliminated. After an encouraging word from E. E. Roberts, who volunteered the money for one table, the two women set to work and have almost reached the needed goal.

This week the tables and dishes will all be here, and between $150 and $200 is still needed. Many clubs and individuals have donated to this project already... but they do need a little more help! So, if you haven't helped, how about mailing a check, just a very small one, to either Mildred Williams or Wilma Martin. The check may be made out to the Civic Project, or to either of the two women.

The dishes and tables will be stored in the Travis Cafeteria. They will be used at all community dinners, such as the Chamber of Commerce banquet, club dinners, etc.

Congratulations to members of the Delphian Club. They have won honors at the Federated Club convention in Childress last week. They not only received the "Teacher of the Year" and "Outstanding Clubwoman of the Year" awards, but won second place on their year book, too!

The Woman's Culture Club will hold a bake sale downtown Saturday. So, remember the date and you won't have to do that weekend baking... and you can serve the family good home-baked pastries, too!

The 1913 Study Club is planning a treat—that fascinating "White Elephant Sale" It will be a one-day event of May 5, and the publicity says they will have everything from "treasures" to "trash."

Members of the golfing committee at the Country Club are trying to work up a women's tournament for next week. They want just about everyone to enter... beginners, too. It's all in fun! If you'd like to play, call Lena McNally, Violet McQueen or Wanda Webster.

This weekend is one which many families are awaiting with anticipation, because their children will arrive home for the Easter holidays. Neither of our children who are out-of-town will be able to make it this year... Fort Polk, La., and Houston are just a wee bit too far away!

Many friends will enjoy reunions both here and in Lakeview at the annual ex-student banquets. At Lakeview they are having an all-day reunion with steak dinner in the evening. Here in Memphis it will be a banquet in the evening.

New frocks and hats will be brought out Sunday for church services, especially by the younger generation. We can remember as a child our mother sewing for days to have those Easter frocks ready for my two sisters and myself... and we followed along in the same tradition with our three children.

And for three cousins, Cathy Jones, Vickie Jones and Liz Johnson, 13-year-olds, this Easter will have a special thrill. We understand all three girls will have their first "heels!"

Congratulations to the Cyclone Band, which won a first rating in both concert and sight reading at Canyon last Wednesday. We are proud of the Cyclone Band and of the work it is doing... and we are proud for the members to represent our town. For some reason or other, when we see bands performing, we sorta judge the community from which they come by the way the band looks... we decide whether the community is progressive or lacking in community pride.

Remember the revival services scheduled for next week... and Happy Easter!

CARD OF THANKS
To those who came to us in our time of need and sorrow, we will always love and appreciate. The flowers, the food, and the comforting words were all expressions of your thoughtfulness which will always be remembered and cherished by us. We pray that God will bless each of you for trying to help us bear our burden at the time of our great loss for this one who was so dear to us.

The Union Hill and Odd Fellow Cemetery Association at Lakeview will hold an all-day meeting Thursday, May 3, it was announced this week.

College Youth To Conduct Service At Baptist Church

College youth home for the Easter holidays will be in charge of revival services at the Baptist Church in Estelline on Friday evening, it was announced this week.
Burl Bumpus, ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons, will do the preaching. Others participating in the service will be Larry Braidfoot, sophomore at A & M, Carolyn Hoover, student at West Texas State College, and James Dunlap, student at Clarendon Junior College.
The service will begin at 8 p. m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Women's Golf Tournament Set For Next Week

Plans are being made for a golf tournament for women only, to be held at the Memphis Country Club Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 25, 26 and 27, members of the golfing committee announced this week.
Serving on the committee are Mrs. Ira McQueen, Mrs. Joyce Webster and Mrs. M. E. McNally. The tournament is for all women who like golf, and beginners as well as more experienced players are urged to enter.
No professional skill is needed to enter the tournament, committee members stressed.
"With the tournament, we hope to create interest and have more women participating in golfing," they said.
Those who would like to enter the tournament may do so by calling either of the three members of the committee by Monday, April 23.
A Monday deadline was set in order that matches may be worked out before tournament time.

Cancer Checks Should Be Mailed To Ben Parks

Hall County residents are joining with other counties of the state this month to fight against the dreaded disease of cancer by contributing to the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Herschel Combs, county crusade chairman, stated today.
All funds donated will be turned over to the American Cancer Society to be used in the fight against cancer through research and education.
Federated Club women are making house-to-house canvases, but will be unable to see everyone, Mrs. Combs stated.
"If you would like to help with this cause, checks should be mailed to Ben Parks at the First National Bank, president of the local chapter."

Dick Fowler To Head West Texas Pharmacy Assn.

Dick Fowler, local druggist, was installed as president of the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association at the closing session of the annual convention last weekend in Amarillo.
Other officers named were Robert Stumbaugh of Lubbock, first vice president, and Elmer Volle of Amarillo, second vice president.

1913 Study Club To Hold White Elephant Sale

The 1913 Study Club will sponsor a White Elephant Sale on Saturday, May 5, Virginia Browder, publicity chairman, announced Wednesday.
Plans are being made to hold the sale in the Pounds Hotel Building, formerly occupied by Pounds Cafe. The doors will open at 10 a. m. and the sale will continue until 6 p. m.
Items from "treasures" to "trash" will be offered for sale, Mrs. Browder said. Everyone is urged to keep the date in mind and come by and look over the stock and make purchases.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my sincere appreciation to Dr. Stevenson, the nurses, Rev. Herring and friends for their cards, visits and kindness shown me during my illness. May God bless each of you.

Waples - Platter Company Announces Several Key Executive Appointments

Announcement of a number of key executive appointments in the Waples-Platter Company, along with a projection of national distribution within five years, was made by Thomas M. Ryan, Chairman of the Board, at a corporate luncheon presided over by J. D. Gamel, President.

Executive changes announced are appointment of James D. Sweeney as Executive Vice-President of the Waples-Platter Distribution System, Glenn Jackson as Vice-President and General Manager of Graphic Arts Label Company (a Waples-Platter subsidiary), Robert L. (Bob) Malone as Vice-President in charge of the Waples-Platter Fort Worth wholesale operation, and William (Bill) McCormack as Manager of Sales for Great Western Foods Co. and White Swan Coffee Co., both Waples-Platter subsidiaries.

Sweeney is well known in the Southwest's food industry, having been associated for the past fourteen years with Sweeney & Co., San Antonio, one of the largest wholesale grocery firms in South Texas. He has served as Executive Vice-President of Sweeney & Co., of Model Markets, Inc., a San Antonio food store chain, and of Standard Baking Company, retail bakery goods supplies. Previously, Sweeney served as IBM Branch Manager in the San Antonio area.

Jackson's appointment coincides with announcement of the retirement of H. G. Gale as General Manager of Graphic Arts Label Co., following 37 years with the firm. In this time it has grown to become one of the nation's leading producers of labels for canned goods. Also announced was appointment of H. G. (Sonny) Gale, Jr., as Plant Superintendent for Graphic Arts Label Company.

An active executive in the grocery and food industry for 15 years, Malone has held key positions of Frozen Food Manager, Fort Worth Branch Manager and Division Manager of the Waples-Platter organization prior to assuming duties as Vice-President of the Fort Worth Waples-Platter House. In the wholesale grocery trade, he has been associated with leading firms as store planning and development manager, voluntary group manager as well as retail store operations manager. In allied fields, he served as Regional Manager of Friedrich Refrigerators, Inc. in Chicago.

McCormack comes to the Waples-Platter organization with wide experience in national food marketing, sales, promotion, research, packaging and general management. He has served as Product Manager for the Minute Maid Corporation, Orlando, Florida, in New York as Vice President for Marketing for United Biscuit Co. of America, Belle Meade Division, Nashville, Tennessee.

A graduate of the University of Chicago School of Business, McCormack also received engineering training at the University of Tennessee. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II, and worked in the Washington, D. C. office of the Quartermaster General. His memberships include the American Management Association.

Speaking before the luncheon group, Ryan expressed great confidence in the future of the Fort Worth area. He explained that the executive appointments have come "as a result of a highly satisfactory year in terms of both profit and volume," and that the firm's growth is "a reflection of the dynamic growth in industry and population being experienced by Fort Worth generally." Ryan stated "The Board of Directors and officials of Waples-Platter feel that the Company's future has never been more promising."

Waples-Platter, a pioneer Fort Worth firm, is the oldest food wholesaler in the Southwest, and one of the largest. It is now a fully integrated operation, including buying, packing and labeling, in addition to the wholesale operation. Present distribution covers 19 states. Graphic Arts Label, better known as GALECO, is the largest label company of St. Louis.

With the rain we have had and the warmer weather approaching, it is time to begin to think about the control of weeds and competitive vegetation on pastures, areas that have been seeded to grass, and native rangeland. There are several ways to control weeds and undesirable vegetation. Some of the ways are chemical spraying, mowing, or shredding.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House
I am not a mighty hunter. My greatest hunting exploit was when I was not yet 13 years old. I was visiting my Uncle Lonzo's farm in Missouri. My proudest possession was a single-shot .22 rifle. Several of us boys were out hunting. We had seen no game and so we took turns shooting at cans on top of fence posts, bottles placed on logs and paper targets on trees.

At last we actually sighted a squirrel. But by this time, our supply of ammunition was used up. So I volunteered to remain and keep an eye on the squirrel while the others went for more shells. This suggestion was not received with enthusiasm but after all I was the owner of the rifle and furthermore was providing the capital. A package of cartridges was a quarter. These were the black powder kind; the smokeless variety was more expensive—but I didn't mind swabbing the barrel with a bit of rag. Also the 25-cent box was rim-fire; there was another kind which was supposed to be more accurate but they cost more. The full facts are given as every effort is being made to make the account of this exploit absolutely accurate.

However, the state of my finances was such that I had only a nickel in cash. With that, three shells could be bought. So the other boys hastened to the general store, which was a half mile — and was substantially the same distance back. I kept an eye on the squirrel and, as he would circle the tree, I would do likewise but at a distance and in a casual fashion so as not to alarm him. (The insinuations of pseudo-friends that I was smart enough to keep away from a squirrel are passed by as unworthy of notice.) The strain of watching the creature had me almost exhausted when my colleagues returned. In a matter of seconds, the gun had been loaded; I took dead aim—I had agreed to take the first shot) and at the crack of my trusty rifle the squirrel fell to the ground. One squirrel does not provide much meat but it was enough to flavor a large amount of dumplings — and dumplings are the best part of a squirrel, anyhow. And that is the story of my most exciting experience in my hunting career.

County Soil Conservation District are available to work with you on the best methods of controlling competitive vegetation on your grassland. tured are silver mink, copperstone, yellow, pink and turquoise. A feature which helps eliminate "oven watching" is the oven control which gives temperature control down to 140 degrees. The control, a gas exclusive, closely parallels the popular surface burner control, the "burner-with-a-brain" which eliminates "pot-watching". Tests have proven that 140 degrees is the ideal temperature for keeping foods warm without continued cooking. For example, a roast cooked medium rare can remain so for several hours with the oven control.

Your TEXAS Department Of Public Safety

(Editor's Note: Following is the tenth of a series of articles appearing in The Memphis Democrat detailing the evolution and organization of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the numerous vital services this agency provides for the people of Texas.)

Motor Vehicle Inspection—An Effective Safety Program
The objective of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service is to obtain the best inspection possible under existing law by qualified inspection stations of all vehicles coming under the provisions of the Inspection Act. The mission of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service is to discover any maladjustment and, by removing the link, prevent the accident.

The 4,700 inspection stations in Texas which inspect some four and one-half million vehicles once annually are supervised by 58 patrolmen who drove 3,115,598 miles during the past two years in the supervision of these stations. Texas has had the inspection program since 1951 and since that time the percentage of defective vehicles as a causative factor in fatal traffic accidents has decreased from 13 per cent to 5 per cent. Even though 43 per cent of the vehicles inspected in the biennium were found to be defective, the average cost per inspection during the period was $2.00 per vehicle including the $1.00 mandatory inspection fee.

The program is self supporting. It costs the state approximately 11 cents to put an inspection sticker on a vehicle. The sticker is sold

Gin School
On May 8, in Corpus Christi, cotton gin operators and employees will have an opportunity to get practical information on the operation, maintenance and repair of each piece of machinery in a modern cotton gin, says B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning specialist. On that date, cooperating cotton gin machinery manufacturers will staff five schools in which information and training will be presented. Local county agents can provide registration blanks and detailed information, Reeves said.

Piano Auditions To Be Held Here April 24-28

Gertrude Rasco, local chairman for National Guild of Piano Teachers, announced this week that Memphis will be one of the centers for the nationwide auditions. The auditions will be held at the First Methodist Church from April 24 through the 28.

Approximately 75 students from this area will play during the auditions, Miss Rasco said.

Serving as judge this year will be Mrs. Helen Ingle Ezell of Oklahoma City, Okla., who has degrees in piano and public school music from Oklahoma City University and has done graduate work at Julliard, Columbia University and Oklahoma University.

Mrs. Ezell has had numerous piano works published and has studied composition under Otto Luening, Henry Crowell, and Violet Archer.

She has had extensive study in piano under her mother, Cara Ruthledge Ingle, Faye Trumbell, Clarence Burg, Jacques Abram and Digby Hall.

Local teachers who are members of the National Piano Guild of Piano Teachers are Mrs. L. G. Rasco, Mrs. T. L. Rouse and Mrs. M. Conley Ward.

Also entering pupils will be three teachers from Wellington, including Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Miles Pigg and Mrs. John Harper.

Guild auditions are non-competitive, Miss Rasco said. Each student is judged individually on 32 points. This year the Guild is giving the top prize of $10,000 to the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition, which will be held in Fort Worth in September, and is drawing young professionals from all over the world.

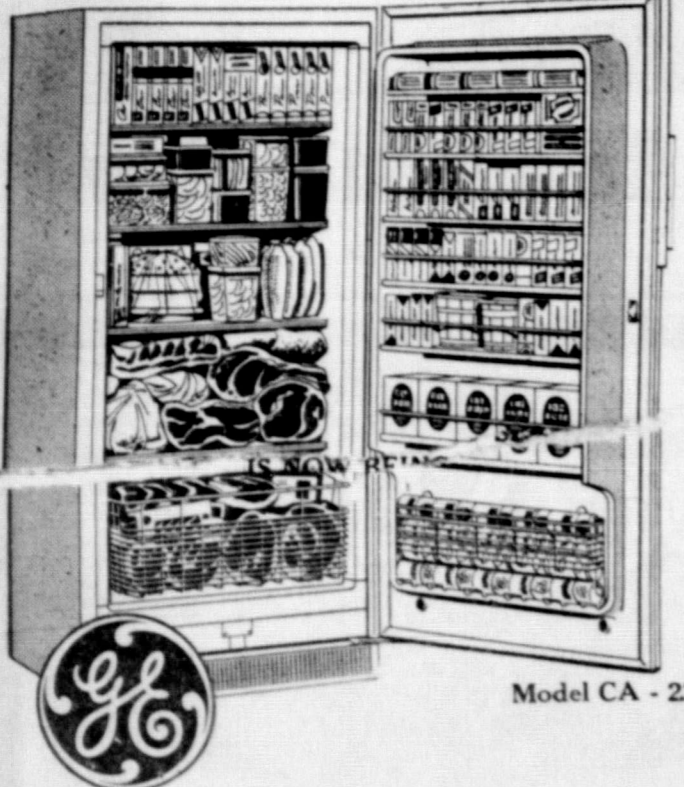

Van Cliburn himself was in Guild auditions nine years and gained experience in playing for different adjudicators. The main purpose of the Guild is to stimulate the average piano student to fuller musical life, but for those who aspire to being professional musicians there are scholarships, competitions and contracts with professionals from other centers.

About 60,000 piano players are expected to participate in the nationwide auditions.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Foreign Trade

Washington is buzzing at the moment on the subject of the Trade Agreements Act of 1960, which is the Trade Agreements Act presented to the Congress last year. The first Trade Agreements Act was passed in 1940 and has been amended many times since. It is a measure which has a direct effect on the business and individuals as well as the country. These effects vary, there are many reactions, and they are many.

The present release, Secretary of Commerce Luther F. Hodges, following statement: "The Soviet Union and members of the Communist Bloc are in a campaign to 'bury' the free world through economic warfare. They are increasing their trade with the world. They feel through trade they can benefit themselves and their allies. They must counterattack the trade offensive of its own, and we must appreciate the complexities of this problem. In many facets of the problem involved, each of which could require many pages to discuss. It occurred to me that many might want some of the facts and figures with relation to our own 18th Congressional District of Texas. This Congressional District includes 28 counties in the Panhandle of Texas. During the 1960-61 crop year the United States exported $4.9 billion of agricultural products; $366.4 million of these products came from the 18th District of Texas. Included were $62.1 million for field crops, $4 million in livestock and livestock products, $241 thousand for vegetables, and $5 thousand for fruits and nuts.

The Panhandle also exported some of the manufactured goods to the tune of $28 million in 1960. There were eleven establishments exporting more than $25,000 each. These establishments employed 3,737 workers out of a total number of manufacturing workers of approximately 12,000. The major exporting industries in the 18th District are chemicals and allied products, petroleum, primary metals, food and kindred products, and non-electrical machinery. The exports of these manufacturers represented over 16 per cent of their total value of shipments.

The equivalent share of agricultural exports from the 18th District is more than three times as large as the equivalent share of competing imports. The imported agricultural products to our District are largely tropical or semi-tropical products such as coffee, tea, spices, bananas, rubber, etc.

These figures will afford you some idea of the overall problems faced by bringing into focus the effect of foreign trade on our own District. The problem that will be faced by the Congress is to create a proper balance between imports and exports to meet the needs of the American consumer at a cost he can afford to pay without impairing the particular industry or segment of the economy in which the consumer makes his living. The problem is made more difficult because of the emerging European Common Market and the greater industrialization of Japan. Our world markets in agriculture, manufacturing products, and raw materials will be vigorously challenged in these markets by the Soviet Union and the Communist Bloc countries. However, this latter challenge will not be as serious now as it is expected to become later on. This is due to the fact that the Soviet Union cannot equal the quality of goods produced in this country, nor the amount. The satellite countries do have abilities in quality products, but the limited production facilities create a situation where most of these are absorbed within the Soviet orbit.

Schools For Cotton Ginners Announced

Schools designed to give operators of cotton gins practical information which will aid in the ginning of highest quality cotton consistent with efficient machinery operation have been announced for Corpus Christi and Lubbock.

The Corpus Christi schools will be held on May 8 while August 21 is the date for the Lubbock sessions, said B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist. Sponsors for the one-day schools are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, Continental Gin Co., The Murray and John E. Mitchell Companies, Lummus Cotton Gin Co., Hardwicke-Elter Co., and Moss-Gordon Co.

Five schools will be held simultaneously on the announced dates and each of the cooperating companies will provide meeting rooms

This can be expected to change in the future. Hence, we must not only gird ourselves for the challenge to be mounted by the Common Market countries and Japan, but we must lay the predicate to meet the additional future challenge of the Soviet.

London merchants "banked" in the Tower of London. Long before there were modern banks with safe-keeping facilities, 17th Century London merchants used to leave their money overnight with prison guards at the Tower of London.

Bells Included
In Easter Egg Traditions

Yes, Virginia, there is an Easter bunny . . . but sometimes, he's a bell.

According to one European legend, church bells, which do not ring from Good Friday to Easter, fly to Rome. On their way back, they drop eggs for children to find.

Bells have always been closely associated with religious observances. Long before Christ, high priests of the Israelites wore bells as a protection against evil spirits. Since the 500's Christians have used bells to summon worshippers.

During the Middle Ages, bells were considered spiritual things. They received the blessing of a bishop and were washed with holy water—a custom popularly known as the baptism bell. The bishop prayed that the bell would summon the faithful to worship, drive away storms and frighten evil spirits.

Bells had other uses, too, such as announcing the curfew or calling attention to the notices of town curiers. They warned of fires and called soldiers together.

In fact, the power of bells to rally people was so great that a conqueror frequently melted down the bells of a town.

for their students. Reeves said participants would receive instructions on the operation, maintenance and repair of each piece of machinery used in a modern cotton gin, including stands, dryers, cleaners, bur machines, extractor-feeders, lint cleaners, and other auxiliary equipment. Experienced factory engineers will serve as instructors.

Reeves said there would be no enrollment fee and added that either a letter or advance registration blank should be sent by the prospective student to the company in charge of the school he plans to attend. The registration should be made at least a week in advance of the school.

The specialist said that additional information is available from any of the sponsors and from local county agents who can also provide the registration blanks. Reeves said that out-of-state cotton ginners are welcome to attend the schools but should send in an advance registration.

If any information is needed pertaining to the census of the Memphis School District, see Miss Hammond. She has been performing this duty for 25 years, and she enjoys the work.

Miss Hammond is a member of the Methodist Church, Wesleyan Guild, Junior and Senior Membership in Alpha Chi National Scholastic Honor Society, Texas State Teachers Association, and Hall County T.S.T.A.

Teaching and taking care of her family have been her life's pattern. She does find time, however, to sew, cook, and experiment with recipes. Her favorite past-time is working in her flower garden. She spent several years as a Girl Scout leader.

Miss Hammond's life has been confining in a way, but it has been a very rich and rewarding one because she has served and experienced the inner feeling of satisfaction. She has traveled to the West Coast and other points of interest, but has never found the time to venture out too often.

Fame, glory, and fortune have never been her lot, but service, friends, and her having a part in the training of over 4,000 students since she started her teaching career is a great satisfaction to her.

Victory Sunday School Class To Hold Banquet

Rev. Robert H. Combs, pastor of Grand Avenue Church of the Nazarene, Amarillo, will be the guest speaker for the seventeenth birthday banquet to be enjoyed Tuesday evening, April 24, by the members of the Victory Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church.

Rev. and Mrs. Combs and their three children, who will sing for the occasion, have been living in Amarillo for the past 18 months. Prior to his service there, he was pastor in Longview, Tex.

Mrs. Combs is the cousin of T. A. Guthrie, president of the Victory Class.

Miss Esta McElrath

Noted for her poetry, Miss McElrath's poems have been used on many club programs throughout the years in Memphis as well as other towns.

She wrote the words for both the Austin and Travis School songs and also for the Delta Kappa Gamma.

Neville Wrenn

College as an assistant laboratory instructor in chemistry. She received the B.A. degree with a chemistry major in May, 1931. She has done graduate work at Texas Tech, University of Colorado, and the University of Texas in the fields of guidance and science.

For the next nine years after graduation, she taught high school sciences in Hereford and went from there to Lubbock High School where she taught chemistry nine years.

Her father passed away in the spring of 1949, leaving her mother alone. She left that she was needed in Memphis at her home so she gave up her place in the Lubbock High School and came to Memphis to teach science and to live with her mother. She came at a lower salary and a heavier load, but she never regretted her move, for she and her mother take care of each other and enjoy a close companionship. In Memphis, Miss Wrenn teaches all the high school sciences. Physics is her favorite subject, although she enjoys teaching all phases of science. She enjoys extra-curricular activities as much as a full teaching load permits. She cherishes the friendship of current students, and keeps in contact with many former students.

She achieved several honors in college—membership in Alpha Chi in the last three years of college work. In her senior year she entered an essay contest, sponsored by the American Chemical Society. She chose "Helium" as the subject of her essay. Through the courtesy of Dr. C. W. Seibel of the Amarillo Helium plant she received first-hand information on helium. Her essay won an award of $500.

Her hobby is any kind of hand work. She likes to sew and does various kinds of needle work as: needle point, tatting, crochet, latch hook rugs, and knitting. Every spring, summer and fall she enjoys working in her garden, raising vegetables and flowers. Her latest adventure is china painting and about which she is very enthusiastic.

Miss Wrenn worked the summer of 1943 for the War Department in Washington, D. C. She went to Washington on a permanent basis, but she did not continue since working with records did not interest her as much as working with people. She has traveled extensively in the United States and Old Mexico, during the summer months.

Miss Wrenn received one of the highest tributes recently from W. C. Davis. He said, "I wish that all people could get along with both students and teachers as well as Neville Wrenn does."

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McKinney were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes of Pampa and Mrs. Hattie Depart of Amarillo.

Lakeview Seniors Will Present Play Friday

The Lakeview Senior Class will present a three-act comedy, "Mountain Gal," on Friday evening, April 20, at 8 p. m. in the Grade School Auditorium.

"Mountain Gal" is a hillbilly play rich in mountain humor which has become so popular in recent seasons, members of the class said. "You'll want to see the Lindsay family of the Ozarks who have a farm, an old truck and a hired man. Compared to most of the hillbillies, they're rich," it was pointed out.

There's Ma Lindsay who has gone to school about two years and considers herself educated. She thinks so highly of herself she has become a tyrant, forcing everybody to live as she wishes. Her special target is Deedee, an orphan girl who has come to work on the Lindsay farm.

Visitors arrive at the farm after Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, tourist from the North, have an accident near the Lindsay farm.

Adding comedy to the story is Oby, the hired man, who is having an awful time proposing to Sophie, the hired girl on the next farm.

Then, there is Captalpa, the Lindsay daughter, who is really a character. Her presence would make any play lively.

These characters will be portrayed by members of the Lakeview Senior Class, which includes: Nellie Pierce, as the mother; Paul Ponder, as Patokah Lindsey; Winnie Nabers as Captalpa Lindsay; Jane Fowler as Peggy; David Payne as Oby; Sherry Lewis as Cophonra; Jerry Clements and Jimmy Lemons as two young lawyers and Tony Sahagun and Patsy Garcia as Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon.

Since that time she has taught speech, drama and English in Amarillo and Canyon High Schools. Her one-act play casts have won three years in succession and this year the Canyon entrants were victorious in six out of nine contests they entered.
