Memphis, Lefors To Decide District Championship Friday

The Memphis Cyclone and the Lefors Pirates will decide who represents District 2-A Friday night when the two teams meet at Lefors. Game time is 7:30 p. m.

The Cyclone has lost one district game in three outings while the Pirates have won all of their district contests so far this year.

After this contest, both have one game left in their scheduled season. Memphis will host Clarendon next Friday night, which will be homecoming at MHS. Lefors will play McLean.

Lefors is running basically the same offense and defense they did last season. The Pirates have two outstanding linemen and two

Outstanding backs on the Pirate squad are their left half-back, Tommy Smith, and the full-back, Rodney Arrington. Both boys weigh about 160 pounds.

In district play last week Lefors defeated Clarendon 35-0. They have defeated Wellington by two touchdowns and Canadian by three touchdowns.

Wellington is the only team that has scored on Lefors. The Pirates are rated as having a strong defense, but their offense is weaker than it was last year.

The Cyclone has been showing steady improvement in each district game. Early season injuries which hurt the local squad are all healed now, and the team is at full strength.

Coach Don Lambert said Tuesday that he was pleased this week with some of the second string sophomore backs who have been running much harder than they did at the first of the season.

The Cyclone will be going to Lefors Friday night to make their bid for the district championship. The game should be one of the hardest fought games of the season.

Girl Scouts To Hold Annual Fund Drive

The annual fund drive for the Quivera Council of the Girl Scouts will be held Nov. 12, Mrs. Elmont Branigan, campaign chairman, announced this week.

Kick-off for the campaign will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Cyclone Drive-In.

Anyone interested in helping with the drive is asked to contact the campaign chairman, Mrs. Branigan.

There are 101 girls actively participating in the Girl Scout program in Memphis, Mrs. Branigan pointed out.

Helping others, giving service whenever and wherever it is needed, working with the group toward a common goal, developing qualities of leadership and learning to work under another's leadership are all packed into the Girl Scout program.

The girls discover that playing the role of an active citizen of the community can be stimulating and they grow into maturity accepting their responsibilities as wives and mothers and as leaders of their community.

Adults working with the ten troops in Memphis are: Meses: L. C. Martin, R. L. Reams, Jean Lindsey, B. G. Kesterson, Jim Lamberson, Joe Williams, Pat Johnson, Olton Pate, W. R. Hearndon, J. F. City Council Is Presented Petition

The Memphis City Council met Tuesday night in their regular monthly session, and received a petition calling for an election. The petition had been signed by 37 residents of the city, and requested the Council to order an election to be held in Memphis.

The purpose of the election would be to authorize the Council to issue $135,000 general obligation bonds for the purpose of constructing a public building. The proposed building would house the City Hall, Fire Station, Police Station and Community Center.

Members of the Council accepted the petition and will study it. Action will be taken at the next regular meeting.

Mayor H. J. Howell announced at the session that he will attend a Civil Defense meeting in Austin Nov. 19-20.

The 1961-62 audit was presented to the Council. Glenn Carlos, city tax assessor-collector, reported the collection of $48,100.47 in city taxes during October, which is the largest percentage of early collections ever.

Following authorization to pay the bills, the Council adjourned.

Winter Driving Courtesies!

Now that November has rolled around, it is time for the driving public in this area to stop and take notice of some of the bad habits they have picked up during the warmer months, which may be costly during winter driving.

The Texas Safety Association's General Manager, J. O. Musick, has taken great pains in trying to inform Texas motorists about the dangers of winter driving.

Every school child knows that "30 days hath November," but here's a bit of factual information for the motorists. Traffic deaths on America's streets and highways in the month of November, 1961, totaled 3,530, according to the National Safety Council. This is an average of a little over 117 fatalities per day in the United States.

November is a good month, with golden sunsets, exciting weekend gridiron games, pleasant evenings by the fireplace, and family reunions for Thanksgiving Day. But is overshadowed by the sombre specter of Death for those relatives and friends who must mourn the loss of a loved one killed in an accident.

The sun sets earlier in November, thus exposing many workers driving home to the dangerous dusk hour; and it won't be long before it will be dark when they leave their jobs at the close of the working day.

What can be done to make the automobile you drive a safer vehicle for winter driving. It would be wise to check on the car's heater, defrosting equipment and batteries. The addition of anti-freeze and putting reinforced tire chains in the trunk should not be postponed until some cold or blizzard morning when thousands of other last-minute car owners are compelled by weather to give emergency attention to their vehicles. Windshield wipers, whose blades may have dried out from summer heat or age, should be inspected.

Brakes, tires, headlights, parking lights, signal lights, exhaust system, anti-skid tire chains and seat belts are also important items to check on.

Now, what are those bad habits that are a "must" for us to change for fall and winter driving?

Speeds which were safe on dry summer pavements will not be as safe on wet autumn roads, particularly on snow or ice, or icy winter roads. Motorists must slow down when they encounter rain, sleet, fog, mist, snow or ice.

Also, even on the coldest days and nights, ventilation is important in a vehicle to prevent drowsiness. And there'll be some days when headlights must be turned on even in midday if visibility becomes poor.

By dimming your bright auto headlights you are saying, "Good evening, fellow driver."

It's this spirit of goodwill on the highway that will make motoring at night much safer during this winter. Area motorists may remember that last year, more than one-half of the fatal accidents occurred at night.

As we go to the football games, or to visit with friends and relatives this Thanksgiving, drive carefully, don't take unnecessary chances. Let's make November a beautiful month in every respect.

November, 1962

It is hard to believe that next-to-the-last month of the year is upon us. Highlights of this November will be elections through the country on November 6, and Thanksgiving Day, November 22.

In addition there are many historical memories connected with the month of November.

The first is All Saint's Day, the fifth is the day William of Orange came to England in 1688. The sixth is the birthday of John Philip Sousa, who wrote many of our most beloved marches.

Martin Luther was born November 10, 1483, and November 11 was Armistice Day for many years—that day having been the day on which the armistice was signed ending World War I.

Thanksgiving Day, of course, is the principal holiday of November, the grandest day of the autumnal season. It is, in reality, a national religious festival in thanksgiving for the many blessings bestowed upon us.

November, then, is a nostalgic, thanksgiving month, when the end of the old year is in sight.

Our Future With the Soviets

A lot of time is wasted worrying about Khrushchev's troubles and what he is telling his own people about his bruised shins in Cuba.

Much comment we have heard, and read, appears to assume a Russian point of view similar to ours. This is hazardous because Russian tradition differs basically from that of the West and because Soviet news is carefully filtered.

We tend to personify the Soviet menace in terms of the men in the Kremlin. The Russian equivalent to the Pentagon, advised and prompted by the capitalist-imperialists in Wall Street. The Pentagon, from the Russian point of view, plotted invasion and subjection of Cuba. Khrushchev has foiled the plot.

Must not the Soviet diplomats be embarrassed that they were caught in an awkward lie? The barefaced lie has been an instrument of Russian diplomacy since long before the Communists. It served their purposes well in the case of the nuclear tests, for instance. While they solemnly promised to suspend them, they were making preparations to resume them, thus getting several months' jump on the trusting United States.

To them this is smart tactics, so long as it works occasionally. They figure there is no harm in trying, meanwhile insisting we agree to another suspension of tests and take their word for it, without inspection.

The timid in this country and among our Allies urged some concessions had to be made to get the Soviets to remove their Cuban missiles. This, also, indicates a false appraisal of Soviet character. It was suggested, for instance, we should offer to remove our missiles from Turkey. Admittedly these bases are becoming outmoded. But such a this-for-that offer would have indicated a willingness to trade off our Allies. It would have signified weakness. The Russians scorn weakness. For might they have a deference which is comparable to our deference for right.

This is not to say we never should concede a point. That would be to say we never should negotiate. There are accommodations which may be reached at such a time as the Soviets honestly want to talk business. But we must never concede at the point of a gun. That kind of appeasement only encourages further aggression and increases the danger of nuclear war.

Conjecture on the future of Khrushchev after this Cuban setback is pretty futile, particularly when it is assumed that, after Khrushchev, we may get someone worse. No one knows whether the Cuban missiles were his idea, or the project of an opposition faction in the Kremlin. Or whether there actually is an influential opposing faction.

What we do know is that, from Stalin to Khrushchev, strategy for the Soviet world conspiracy has not changed a nickel's worth. We must assume, lacking acts to the contrary, that Soviet strategy is not going to change, whether Stalin, or Khrushchev, or Ivan Whatsit is the head man. When we oppose them from weakness, as in Laos, we lose. When we act from strength, as in Cuba, we win. Our consistent defense must be armed might sufficient to forbid the aggression inevitable without it. That is the kind of diplomacy, and the only kind, which carries weight with the Soviets. Cuba is only one proof.

Power and Using It

Hanson W. Baldwin, who has recently written an excellent book on World War I, what it meant and what it was all about and what really happened in that great war, says our failures in the face of Communist aggression in recent years were not due to a lack of United States military power but due to the lack of will to use that power.

This sounds simple to begin with but let us take a look at just what Baldwin (military editor of The New York Times) is saying, especially, for it is of vital importance to every American. He is saying our diplomats and our leaders in Washington have been too hesitant to employ our military power at the proper place.

Baldwin believes that, all in all, there is no question but that the United States today is the most powerful military nation on the face of the earth. Moreover, he thinks this has been true for a long time—ever since the end of World War II.

Yet in the past 17 years, we have backed down, time and again in the face of Communist probing, and testing, being too hesitant to make a proper use of this power.

Thus, with the power, we must be willing to commit it, as the Communists are. If we are to protect the free world and save peoples and weak nations which also want to enjoy democracy and freedom.

This may sometimes cost lives and bring us to the brink. But so long as we have the greatest military power in the world, the Communists will not risk all-out war, and if they are aware that we are willing to use our power, his beats Lefors and Clarendon, and Lefors defeats McLean, then Memphis would represent district with only one defeat. The representative would be selected in the Cyclone's favor because of their victory over the Co-champion team, the Pirates, as the District was decided in 1960, when Memphis lost to Lefors and Lefors lost to McLean.

What about our chances with Lefors. The Pirates have almost as much weight as we have but have a faster bunch of boys. They run practically the same offense and defense they ran last year. Lefors has been beaten and tied this year in non-district games. The Pirates have hard running backs and average linemen. Many of the coaches who have played the Pirates this year say that they don't have as good a squad as last year. The Pirates scored three TD's against Canadian in their first game. I am predicting a hard fought ball game, win, lose or draw. The local squad has been showing steady improvement all year. They will be at full strength Friday night.

Senior Citizens Housing Program Is Liberalized

L. J. Cappleman, state director, Farmers Home Administration, advised the local county supervisor, Claude Moore, that recent legislation amends Title V of the Housing Act of 1949 by adding new provisions which authorize loans and grants for moderate cost housing and related facilities for elderly persons and families in rural areas. It liberalizes some regulations on rural housing loans now being made by Farmers Home Administration and sets up new direct and insured loan programs.

This new legislation will be administered in Hall County by the USDA's Farmers Home Administration. Rural housing loans are made by this agency to farmers and other families living in rural areas who need improved housing and cannot qualify for credit from other sources.

One new provision will give those people, who are 62 years of age or over, special advantages not available under the earlier loan program. First, they can buy previously-occupied existing housing as well as improve their homes. Second, they can finance the cost of the building site as well as the dwelling with the loan proceeds; other families must own the land on which to build the homes before they can apply for a loan. Third, cosigners may be used by elderly applicants who are deficient in repayment ability. Like rural housing loans now being made by Farmers Home Administration, these direct loans will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent and may be repaid over a period not exceeding 33 years.

For detailed information concerning rural housing loans for the senior citizen, Mr. Moore, local county supervisor, Farmers Home Administration, may be contacted.

Governor Signs Christmas Seal Proclamation— Three recovered tuberculosis patients watch Governor Price Daniel sign a proclamation designating Nov. 13 to Dec. 24 as Christmas Seal Days in Texas. The three, all of Austin, are representative of the fact that TB respects no age—or race. Said Governor Daniel's proclamation . . . "In Texas last year, 3,480 new cases of tuberculosis were reported. Each of these is a potential source of infection to others. Yet tuberculosis is a preventable disease which can be eradicated . . . The traditional Christmas Seal campaign is the one annual appeal of the tuberculosis associations for funds to make possible their year-round efforts to curb this needless waste of human life and resources."

CYCLONE DOWNS CANADIAN

Cyclone chalked off a 34 yard punt and Canadian took over on their own 38.

The Wildcats moved for 8 yards in two plays, and then fumbled, and Center Donnie Bridges recovered for Memphis on the Canadian 44. This began the Cyclone's first scoring drive which covered 44 yards in 13 plays. All the yardage was made on the ground.

Carries by Pounds, Gailey, Pounds and Pounds moved the ball to the Canadian 34 and a first down. Then a 5-yard carry by Crow, and two good carries by Gailey moved the ball to the Canadian 20. Three carries, one for 5 yards by Crow, one for 2 yards by Pounds, and then another for 5 yards by Crow took the Cyclone to the 8.

Gailey picked up 5 yards on the next carry, Crow made one more to the 2 yard line, and then, Pounds carried over for the score. A place kick by Sexton was no good and the score was 6-0.

Sexton kicked off for the Cyclone and the ball was returned to the Canadian 43. Three downs were expended in making a minus one yard, and Canadian punted to the Cyclone 38.

The Cyclone threw an incomplete pass, and then Jimmy Sturdevant was dropped for a 4-yard loss before he could hand off the ball. Gailey made 6 yards on the next play. HB Pounds dropped back and got off a high kick. A hard rush was put on the receiver, he fumbled the punt, and Tackle Dale Sexton recovered the ball on the Canadian 16 yard-line setting up the Cyclone's second score.

The Wildcats drew a 15-yard penalty on the Cyclone's 1st down and were penalized half the distance to the goal to their own 8. From there, Pounds carried for 4 yards, Gailey carried for one more, and then, Pounds carried over for the score from 3 yards out. A pass from Gailey to Bridges was good for the two points and the score was 14-0, in the closing minutes of the first quarter.

The Cyclone kicked off to Canadian who took over the ball after a short runback on their own 26. Three downs were expended making one yard and they punted 34 yards to the Cyclone 42.

The Cyclone was stopped this time by the Wildcats defense, and Pounds punted 34 yards to the Canadian 34. This started Canadian's first scoring drive.

Canadian moved to the Cyclone 46 on two carries and a first down. Then, Canadian ran a hidden ball, quarterback keeper, and Keith Yarnold scampered 39 yards before Jack Bridges drove him out-of-bounds.

From the Cyclone 14 yardline, the Wildcats ran around the ends until Robert Lewis carried over for the score. A pass from Lewis to Gordon Rivers netted two points and the score was 14-8.

Memphis took over the ball after the kickoff on their own 30. Four plays netted them a first down to their own 40. In the next series, Memphis drew an off-sides penalty. On the third down, Gailey passed 26 yards to Bridges and Memphis was on the Canadian 33.

In the next series, Memphis was again penalized. However, a 12-yard carry by Pounds and 8 more yards gained by a pass from Gailey to Pounds netted a first to the 15. But here the drive died. The first two downs, the Cyclone threw incomplete passes. Then Pounds made no yardage on one carry and seven yards on the last carry. Canadian took over the ball on their own 8. The half ended a few plays later.

ped and Canadian took over on their own 43.

Then, with only 5 minutes left in the game, pressure was building up on both teams. The Wildcats HB Rivers made 10 yards on one carry and made a first down on the Memphis 47.

Then Yarnold made four yards. But here, Canadian was over powered by the Cyclone line. HB Rivers was dropped for a six yard loss on the second down. And then, Defensive End Dale Sexton dropped Yarnold for a 9-yard loss on the next play. The Wildcats went into punt formation, and their kicker dropped 18 yards back from the line of scrimmage to make sure his punt wasn't blocked, and then got off a short punt, which Center Donnie Bridges caught on the 47. This started the Cyclone's final scoring drive.

HB Gailey and HB Pounds put together two fine carries and moved the ball to the Canadian 38. Then, FB Mike Crow netted 11 yards in two carries for another first.

Gailey made two yards on the next play. On the second down, Pounds made four yards, but the ball was jarred loose and Gailey recovered it three yards behind the line of scrimmage. Facing a third and 11, a Canadian boy jumped off sides before the ball was snapped and set us a third and six. Then, Gailey carried for six yards setting up a first down on the Canadian 13 yardline.

With only a minute and 40 seconds left on the clock, Mike Crow carried for one yard, and then for two more. On the third down, Gailey dropped back, and hit End Bridges in the endzone for the score. Dale Sexton place kicked the extra point making the score 21-14.

Memphis kicked off short to Canadian and they took over on the Cyclone 48. They made no yardage their first down. On the second down, Tackle James Carroll dropped the Wildcats quarterback for a 9 yard loss. On the third down Jack Bridges slapped down a pass. On the fourth down, Rivers made 10 yards but was tackled short of a first down.

On the final play of the game, Gailey made eight yards on a quarterback keeper.

90 Emergency Hospital Units Are Placed In Texas

Texas has 90 "packaged" hospitals on hand, ready for almost instant use following enemy action or a major natural disaster. Most of them are located at least 15 miles from assumed strategic areas. In this area hospitals are located at Wellington and Childress.

The hospitals, costing $21,000 apiece, were provided by the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as part of a nationwide stockpile program. They are administered in Texas by the state Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, with technical cooperation from the Texas State Department of Health.

Outgrowths of the mobile army hospitals developed and tested during the Korean War, they can be completely installed by 40 or 50 people in four or five hours. In one test exercise an installation was made in 70 minutes by experienced personnel.

Local civil defense organizations in designated locations store and otherwise manage the hospitals and equipment. Emergency conditions such as the Cuban crisis are occasions for making sure the hospitals are in a high state of readiness.

Local civil defense provide refrigeration such as insulin and antibiotics. Antidotes and materials with expiration dates labeled "deteriorate" must be inspected and rotated. State civil defense authorities estimate emergency hospitals will provide at least half the hospital beds following enemy action, since most hospitals are located in urban centers which are of enemy action.

Grass, Bark Reduce Grade, Value of Cotton

This is the fourth of a series of articles on cotton classing and problems encountered by cotton producers prepared by K. E. Voelkel of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office, Memphis.

The late cotton crop soon to be ginned in the Memphis office classing territory will cause some problems because of the method of harvesting. Mechanical harvesting of cotton has increased during recent years.

Cotton that is snapped or harvested mechanically tends to be lower in grade and may contain more irregularities than hand-picked cotton. Most of the cotton in this section of the State will be machine-stripped. This method of harvesting strips the cotton plant from bottom to top. In addition to open cotton, immature bolls, limbs, foliage, bark, and grass, gathered with the cotton are often quite difficult to remove at gins even with the best equipment.

The most difficult of the foreign matter to remove by gins is grass and bark, both of which also cause problems in the cotton classing laboratory. Samples that contain grass and bark are reduced in grade, resulting in a lower value of the cotton. When a bale containing grass or bark is used by a cotton mill, this foreign matter must be removed, and therefore means more waste, additional spinning costs, and in many instances, a lower grade of finished product.

Causes for bark in a bale of cotton is usually attributed to maladjusted machinery or stripping too soon after the plant is killed. If the stalk is dry, and the machinery adjusted and operating properly, cotton with bark in it is rare. Farmers should watch their machines closely when harvesting. It should be remembered that the grade of cotton is only as good as the quality of harvested cotton delivered to the gin.

Peace Corps Volunteers Sought By County Agent

Would you like to serve as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Guatemala? Are you between the ages of 18 and 25? Do you have a farm background, 4-H or FFA experience? Have you had experience or training in farm cooperatives? Did you take courses in agriculture or home economics in college? W. B. Hooser, agricultural Extension Agent for Hall County, says if your answer is

CANDY by Tom Dorr

"yes" to the first two questions and one or more of the other you should apply now.

Volunteers in Guatemala will not be required to demonstrate very high proficiency in any specific technical field. They will try to show the Guatemalans how to better their way of life. Encouragement, gentle hints, convincing demonstrations and friendship will be more important than theories or college degrees. The Volunteers will try to get the people to experiment for themselves, and ON THEIR own to utilize the human, financial and technical resources which the country possesses.

The great majority of farm families live in the Indian heartlands where ancient traditions and ignorance have restricted these people from developing into a productive force for their country. Recently they have become interested in developing their lands and using more modern methods of farming. Volunteers will find broad opportunities in teaching agricultural and home making techniques through 4-H type clubs. Through demonstrations, they can introduce better seeds, fertilizers, pesticides and fungicides, better nutritional practices, sewing and homemaking, better livestock management, breeding and vaccination, and better use and maintenance of machinery.

There is also a great need for developing soil conservation practices, and improving sanitation. Volunteers will live and work

GAS saves you a pot-full

Some of the richest people we know always mention economy as a virtue of GAS cooking.

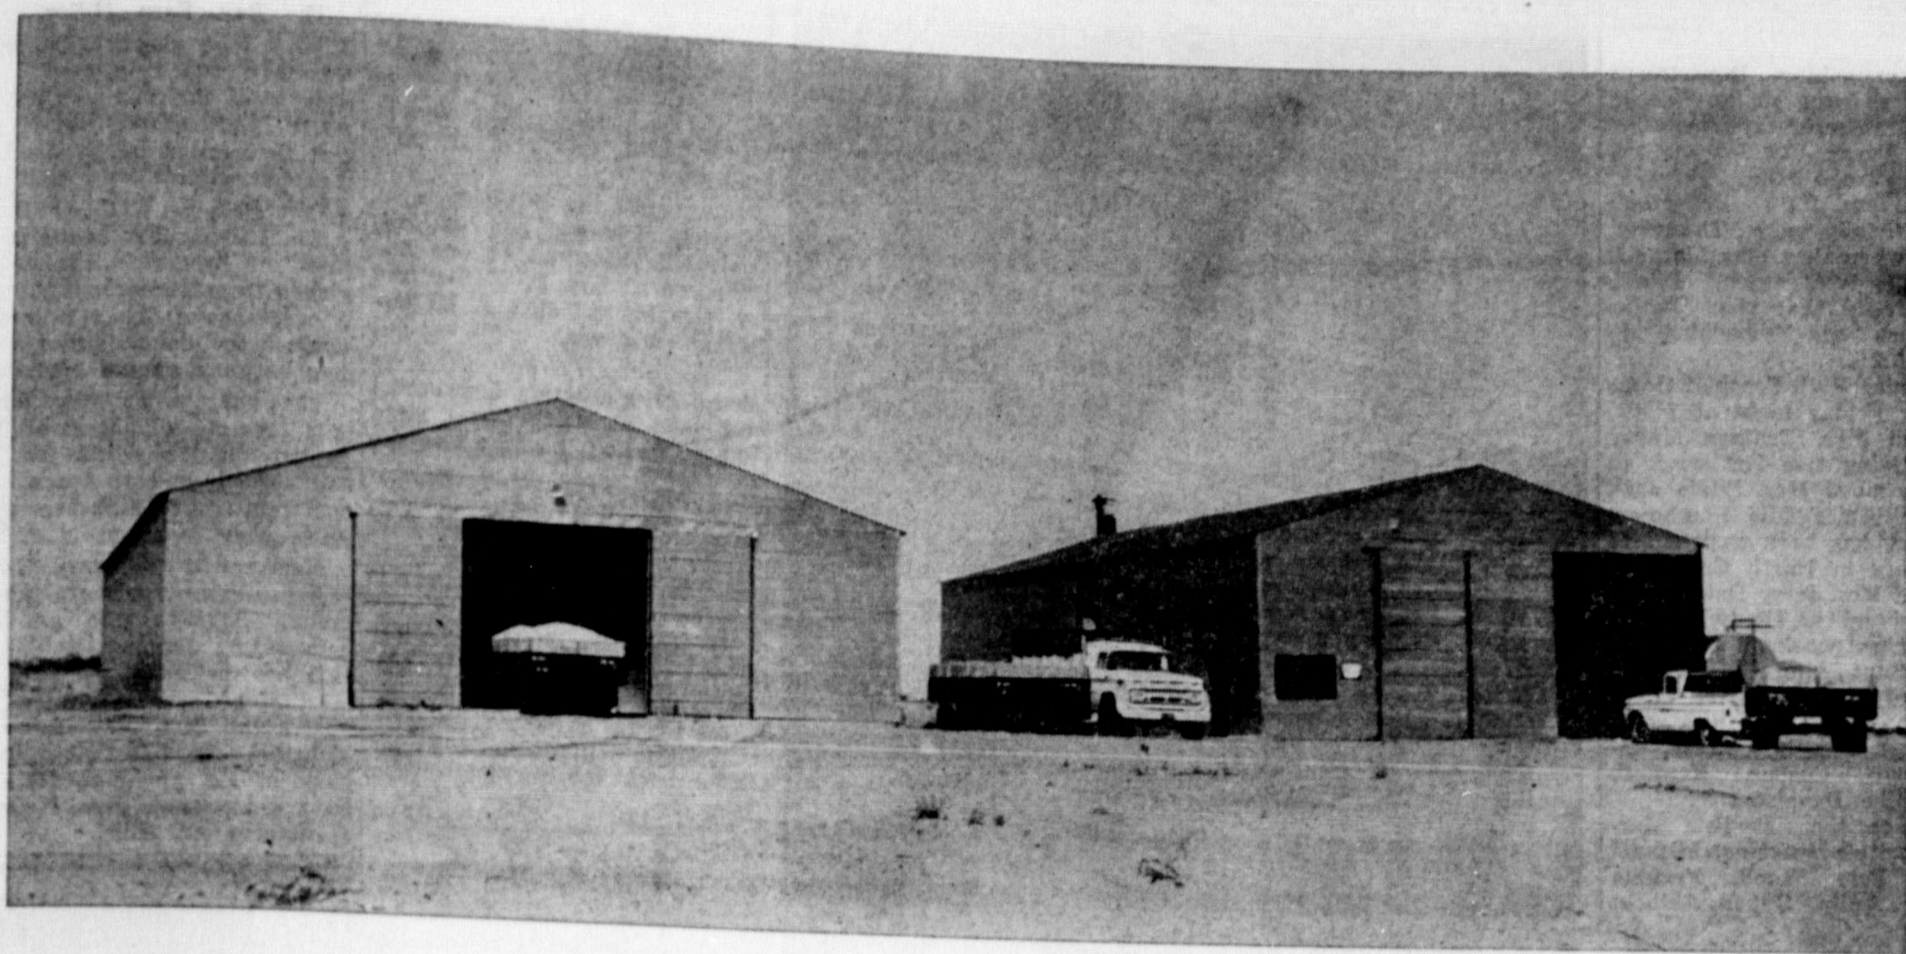

(Maybe that's how come they're so rich.)

But it's true. Low-cost meal preparation is one feature that non-gas cooking doesn't begin to match. Another is speed and control — GAS applies heat faster, removes it instantly (no 'hang-over' heat in your kitchen!) Then there's convenience: like Burner-with-a-brain . . . and the new Cook 'n' Keep oven — latest marvel from GAS.

A new automatic GAS range would do so much for you (and your kitchen). And, luckily they're on sale! So buy now and save an extra pot-full.

Our New Wet Acid Delinting Plant Is Now In Operation

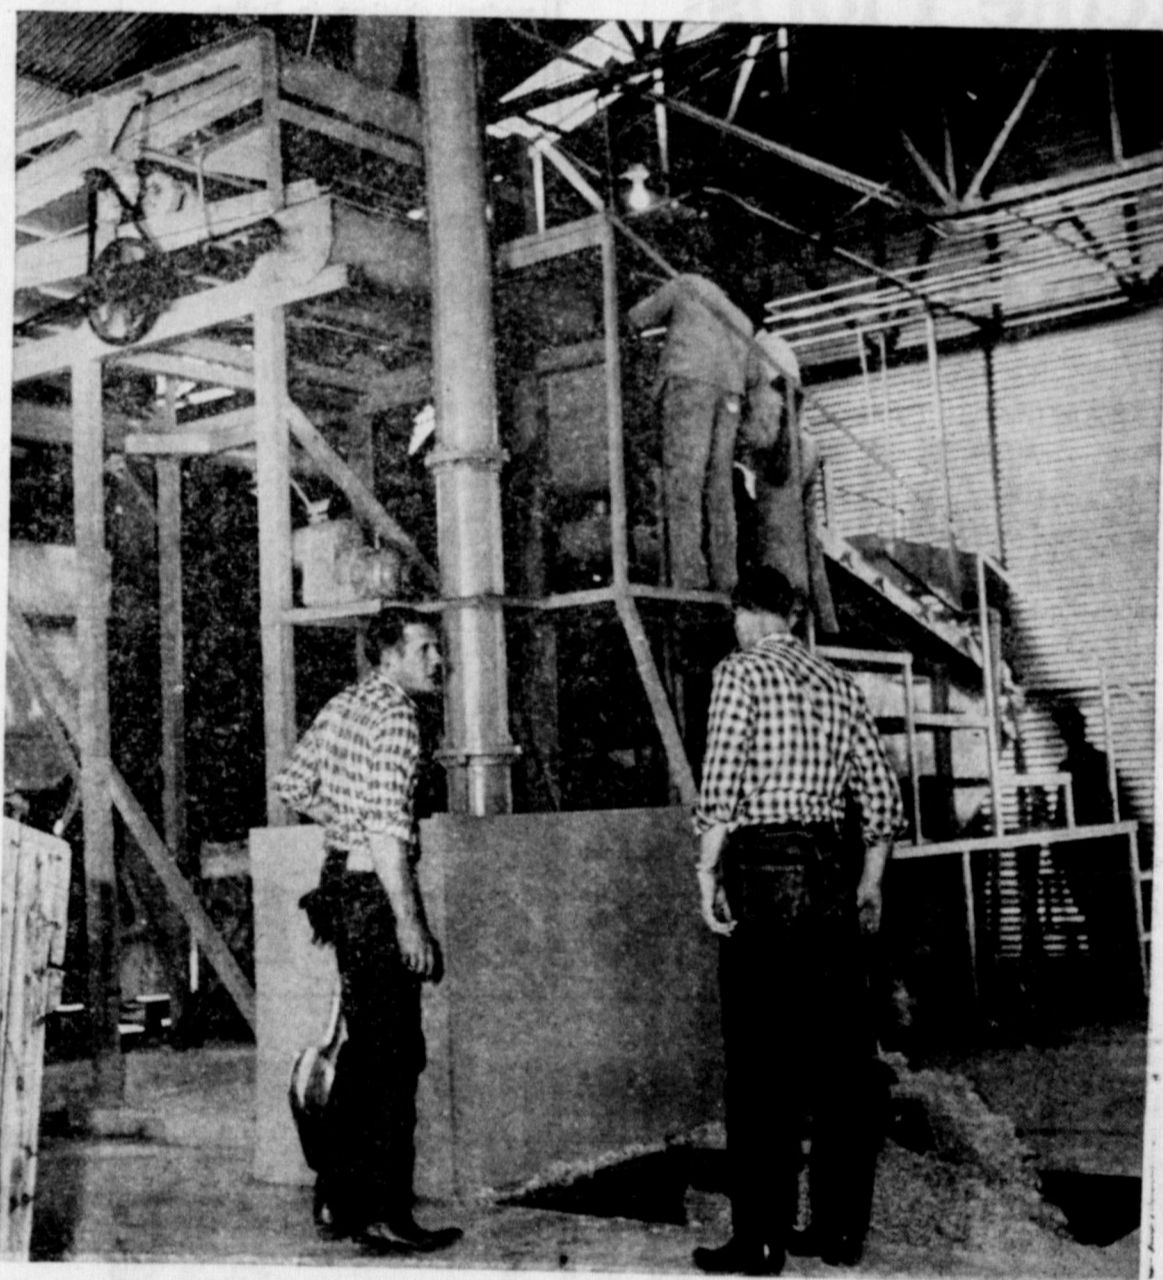

We are glad to announce that we are now delinting cottonseed for the farmers of this area in our new plant, in which we have installed the latest and best equipment that money can buy. A cordial invitation is extended to cotton farmers and other interested persons to come in and look over our plant.

We are not new to the delinting business since we have several years experience in using the Wet Acid process. Our whole operation is designed to please our customers. For example, we do not use any open flame in our process of delinting. All flames are covered, which gives us a controlled heat that never goes above 130 degrees.

By WET ACID DELINTING you take no chance on ruining the germination of your seed. They will come up faster with less moisture, will plant easier, and will give a better stand. All this means better yields. You can carry Wet Acid Delinted cottonseed over for several years with no trouble.

REMEMBER: YOU WILL REALIZE MORE MONEY FROM YOUR COTTON CROP BY PROCESSING YOUR SEED BY WET ACID DELINTING!

NOTICE: We will catch your seed at your gin Free of Charge on our own trailers. Come in and work out a schedule with us.

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th

In Tribute
After this newsletter is written on Sunday, November 11, to be exact—we will observe Veterans Day. There seems to me an appropriate time to consider just what the Armed Forces mean to us.

The lives that have been lost in recent wars were terribly precious—there is nothing more an individual can sacrifice for his country and loved ones. We who enjoy the fruits of their sacrifice owe them a debt that can never be repaid; a debt we can only commemorate by remembering them and by doing everything in our power to maintain the nation which they saved for us. And, there are two major facets to this job. First, as individuals, we must remain constantly aware of what our country means to each and every one of us; we must remember that the maintenance of our nation is infinitely more important than the personal concerns and problems which face us in our daily life. And, collectively, we must do all that is necessary to maintain the strength which permits us to carry on our way of life.

This latter duty is an expensive proposition, in terms of dollars. As I mentioned several months ago, the appropriations for the Department of Defense for the current fiscal year amounted to $47,839,491,000—about sixty cents out of every tax dollar collected. This is a staggering sum of money, but the job to be done with it is also huge. And, I am sure none of us would begrudge a single penny, as long as it is spent carefully and accomplishes the purposes for which it is appropriated.

Out of this total, the amount of $12,901,890,000 is designated for "military personnel." This is the money which pays the guardians of our sovereignty, to whom we all owe a debt of thanks. Although the members of our armed forces are imperfect individuals, as are we all, they are primarily dedicated individuals whose very existence is our shield against any totalitarian system which would take over the world. They are men and women of courage and determination, most of whom could lead easier, better-paid, more relaxed lives as civilians. One of the happiest jobs of a Congressman is the appointment of young men from their areas to the various service academies, and I take a tremendous amount of pride in the fine cadets and officers who represent the Panhandle in the academies and the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marines, and the many young men from the area who serve in the ranks in all the services.

I am sure you all join me in thanks and best wishes to the representatives of our area, and the rest of the nation, who have the front-line responsibility for permitting us to continue to live as a free and happy people.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Native grasses on rangeland in the Hall County Soil Conservation District have made a good seed crop this year says Charley B. Cape of the Soil Conservation Service, thus we should have a good cover crop of grasses next year, provided that we get enough rain.

With proper management through the winter months you can improve your grass crop next year. If pastures are grazed too heavily this winter they can be damaged just as they can from too heavy summer grazing.

Grass seed do not do well on bare ground. A litter of old grasses or vegetation is needed to provide protection for the small plants from the elements. The sun shining on bare ground dries out and bakes the ground before the grass seed can sprout. Also wind

Native LAMBS are now being processed in the Center of the Southwest

Here, in the very heart of the Nation's largest sheep-producing area, a famous packer has established a lamb processing plant. Any new industry contributes to the economy. But a new industry which processes a product of the area is doubly important. We are convinced that this is a growing trend. It has become an important part of our continuing efforts to inform America's business leaders about our industrial advantages. It is another reason why we say that we face GROWTH UNLIMITED here in the Center of the Southwest.

Cotton Allotment Reduced For '63

The national cotton allotment has been reduced 1,791,718 acres for 1963. The reduction of the national allotment to 16,000,000 acres, plus 310,000 acres as a national acreage reserve for minimum farm allotments is the maximum permitted under present law in view of the supply-demand situation.

Indicated production for 1962 exceeds estimated disappearance for 1962-63 season by 1.2 million bales. As a result, the carryover will increase to 8.7 million bales as of August 1, 1963.

It is not anticipated that this will be the final national acreage authorized for the 1963 crop because of new legislation to be recommended to the Congress by the President.

The advisory committee on cotton recommended that a "trade incentive" plan combined with a choice program be considered for 1963.

Establishing the acreage allotment at the statutory minimum for the time being will give the Congress the maximum flexibility in determining the acreage provisions to be included in the new legislation.

The 1963 cotton allotment for Hall County has not been received by the local ASCS office, but on the basis of the national reduction, all cotton farmers should expect about 10 per cent reduction for 1963.

Dec. 11, 1963, has been set as the date for the referendum on 1963 cotton marketing quotas. At least two-thirds of cotton farmers voting must approve the quotas if they are to be effective. If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1963 cotton crop, the allotment program will remain in effect and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

County Gins

(Continued from Page One) of the Cotton Classing Office in Memphis, said this morning that sample receipts have been higher than any time this year. The office is receiving about 1800 samples each day.

Voelkel said, however, that this was below expectations and that most of the gins in the 12-county area report that most farmers are waiting for the killing frost before finishing their harvest.

The cotton still seems to be too green, he said. In classing this week, Voelkel said that many samples had to take a reduction of grade due to bark. Also some samples went deeper into the colored groups.

On the encouraging side, there was a marked improvement in micronaire this past week with over 90 per cent of the cotton falling in the 3.5 bracket and higher. Only two per cent was placed in the 3.0 bracket or lower, he said.

Through Wednesday, the local office had classed 40,000 samples, or approximately 20 per cent of what they expect this year. Last year at this time, the office had classed 110,000 samples.

Two new classers are working at the office. They are John Waller from Ben Franklin and Frank Ortiz from Brownsville. Newly employed clerks include Mrs. Clea Parr, Mrs. J. R. Baker and Mrs. R. E. Crooks.

Of the cotton classed last week by the local office, 14 per cent was white, 71 per cent was light spotted, 14 per cent was spotted and one per cent was in the other color groups. The predominant grade was middling light spotted. The predominant staple length was 15-16 of an inch.

Everyone is invited to come and hear music played by the "Fayros," according to the announcement.

Both were local measures); No. 10 (an amendment to permit state employees to serve as consultants on advisory committees or as members of a public school board); and No. 14 (to provide trial de novo).

Hall Countians turned down all the five amendments which did not pass on a state level, along with three others that were approved.
