Memphis Council Sets Date Of Bond Election For February 2

Memphis City Council Tuesday, after much deliberation, passed an order calling for an election to be held on Saturday, Feb. 2, 1963, on the proposition of building a public building in Memphis to house the fire station, the police station and jail, office for city employees and a center of commerce office, with an auditorium to serve as a community center for Memphis. The bond election is for the amount of $135,000, to the setting of the date of the bond election, which was for by a petition signed by 100 voters in Memphis, the council entered into a financial contract with Joe W. Smith is from Lubbock. The issue of the bond election will be held in the fall with J. W. Coppedge, judge, and Mrs. Jack Mrs. Robert Moss and Mrs. Phillips, clerks. A qualified voter in the city of Memphis own taxable property in the city and have it rendered for him, have a paid County poll tax receipt, be a resident of the State of Texas for six months prior to the date of the election.

itself, which would be located on the city's property, located across the street east of the First Presbyterian Church, call for a one-story building containing 12,836 square feet. The community building would contain a stage, kitchen (fully equipped), and auditorium which would seat 540 persons banquet style or from 1,200 to 1,400 persons in seats. The Fire Station would contain a vehicle garage 47'x30', large enough to house all four of the Fire Department's vehicles, plus a recreation room 25'x26'. The Police Station would have an office and two cells. Located behind the Police and Fire Dept. recreation rooms would be a living quarters containing two bedrooms, a living room-dining room, kitchen and a bath. The north wing of the building would contain offices and a meeting room for the City Council. The building would be surrounded by paved parking areas. If the issue passes, the bonds could be retired after 25 years with a tax increase of slightly over 7 per cent, the financial advisor told the Council. To the city taxpayers, this would mean that for each dollar paid to the city in taxes under the present tax structure, the increase would be slightly over 7 cents. To be exact, the increase would be $0.0715, (or seven and fifteen-hundredths cents). The tax increase on a $10,000 home would be $3.50 a year; on a $4,000 home, $1.40 a year; and on a $2,000 home, it would be 70 cents per year, according to the figures presented.

Other action
The Council passed an order amending the ordinance on the charges of telephone services of extension phones and key set installation and service in Memphis. The rate increase on the extension business telephone is from $1.50 to $1.75 a month. The resident extension increase is from $1.00 per month to $1.25. The Council acted on a request presented to them last month by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The Council appointed M. E. McNally, Jr., and Virginia Broder to serve another two years on the Donley County Water Improvement and Control District No. 1 board of directors. Their terms were expiring, so the Council re-appointed them to the board. The Council approved reports and the paying of the monthly bills before adjourning.

Memphis Enters Dist. Play Tues.

After playing five games on the road, the Memphis Cyclone will return to their home gymnasium Friday night and will host the two teams from Price College in their last non-conference game of the season.

Then, next Tuesday night, the Cyclone will enter district play in the local gym, when they are the host team to the Wellington Skyrocks.

The local cagers lost to Price College at Amarillo earlier in the season, one point in an overtime period, and Coach Bob Martin is expecting the game Friday night to be a good one.

About the opening of district, Coach Martin said that he felt the Memphis squad is ready to go. "We are physically in as good a shape as we could hope to be," he said.

The coach added that he hoped to see a little better team effort as the season progresses, and would like to see less mistakes committed during critical times. However, he said that last year's team had similar problems before the district race started, but these disappeared when the "chips were down."

The coach stated Wednesday that the team is working hard on its offense.

"Our opponents are scoring an average of 37 points a game," he said, "and I feel we have a good defensive team."

The coach said the team is concentrating its efforts on scoring.

Games Results

Last Friday night the Cyclone last to Shamrock in the Wellington Tournament 49-37. Shamrock won the tournament by defeating Wellington. Dwight Gailey was the high scorer for Memphis with 11 points, while Dale Sexton and Bill Pounds scored 9 each for second high honors.

Saturday, Memphis rolled over Paducah to win third place trophy in the tournament. Jacky Bridges scored 27 of the Cyclone's 53 points to be high. Paducah got 38 points.

Tuesday night, the Cyclone got revenge over Silverton, 32-28, in a return match played at Silverton. In what is described as a defensive battle, Memphis came from a third quarter deficit of 26-25 to defeat Silverton. Dwight Gailey made 8 points to be the Cyclone's high point man. Coach Martin said that both teams stalled the ball a lot during the game. However, he added, the local squad hit only 14 of 54 shots. This is one of the coldest nights the local squad has had.

The Cyclone has won 9 and lost 5 so far this season. Scoring averages for the season include: Jacky Bridges 14.1, Dwight Gailey 10.5, Bill Pounds 8.3, Dale Sexton 7.4 and Wayne Sweatt 4.0.

Trimester School System!

One of the growing problems facing the United States today is what to do with the ever-increasing problem of educating the expanding student population of this nation. Educators predict that by 1975 the student population in the U. S. will double or possibly triple itself.

What will be done to provide classroom space for the students is yet in the planning stages. However, recently a new trend has been seen. Some colleges have begun to break away from the two-semester system, which was established during the agricultural society when this nation was young, and have adopted the 15-week trimester system.

The University of Pittsburgh has been one of the first schools to go to the trimester system, which contains three 15-week semesters, each equal and equivalent to a semester in the present two-semester system. The major reason this University has introduced the trimester system is because educators there feel it is wasteful to leave a costly educational plant with an expertly trained faculty idle for a third of a year. It was explained the students can attend any two of the three semesters, or all three of them. If an instructor teaches classes all three semesters, he receives one-third more in salary than if he teaches two of the three semesters.

Many educators in cities across the nation are advocating the adoption of the system in grade schools and high schools to meet the rapidly increasing enrollments.

In agricultural areas, such as most of the counties in the Panhandle, there is still a need for the two-semester system so that farm youths can help out on the farms. However, in areas where the system is put into practice in grade schools and high schools, it will mean that students will be able to complete high school in two and two-thirds years and college in two- and two-thirds years. Many of these students may finish college while they are 17 years old. What effect this will have on the students, or the business world, is yet to be seen, but on the other hand, these students will be able to go ahead and get their masters and doctors degrees, and still have a long useful life ahead of them.

The success of the program, however, will depend a lot on whether the average student in the United States will accept going to school nearly all year long, without the usual summer vacation period in which to go to camps, take vacations, play baseball, go fishing, hunting, swimming, and all the other summer activities so cherished by the youngsters. It is the belief of some, that this is too great a sacrifice to expect the youngsters to accept.

The Time To Pray

We celebrate or observe a special week and normally do nothing about it.

Sometimes there's a week that truly hits home and makes us realize that we are being asked to do something we ought to be doing every week and every day.

Take this week, for instance. This is the Universal Week of Prayer and all the churches are joining its observance.

How does this affect you and me?

That's a question to take to our hearts. What does prayer mean in our lives.

Do we pray when we're in trouble only? Do we pray only when we're deeply in need of help?

Do we offer our prayers of thanks to God only at Thanksgiving dinner or at Christmas time?

Or is prayer, which puts our reliance on God, a part of our life . . . an ever-present part of it?

If we have any religious faith at all, we know that we cannot prove our faith without keeping regular communication with God.

The finest result of this particular week would be that all of us would learn to pray and would establish our reliance on prayer to make our living good and our lives full.

What Other Editors Say

Biblical Law Ignored

One of the basic teachings of the Bible is that of a parent's responsibility to children and the responsibility of children for their parents.

For centuries, in various human civilizations, the aged and infirm have been taken care of by their children, who considered it their duty.

Times have changed. Instead of the children taking care of their parents, the children let the state do it.

A result has been a booming spiral in the cost of "welfare payments" both on the state and national level.

Here in Texas last fall, Texas approved constitutional amendments which boosted the total amount of money to be paid out for needy aged, needy blind and needy children, aid to the disabled.

Millions of dollars are spent each year by the state for these purposes, and it cannot be said that lavish treatment is given to the individual, because the old age pensioner can get a maximum of $75 per month from the state.

But the law governing old age payments has some curious aspects. Relatives are not required to support their old folks at all.

An old age pensioner may own up to 200 acres of land or a town plot worth no more than $5,000 exclusive of improvements and still qualify for old age assistance.

This means that in Texas it is possible for a man to live on a homestead worth considerable money, have wealthy sons and daughters, raise some of his own food requirements and receive the maximum state grant.

A recent study disclosed that 48 per cent of the Texas old age pensioners own real property.

The Texas Research League has done a study on the old age pension problem in Texas and has reached several conclusions. These are (1) Texas has no effective laws requiring welfare recipients to use all of their own resources in solving their problems before qualifying for public assistance (2) Texas has no law requiring responsible adult relatives to come to the aid of an applicant for public assistance (3) Maximum welfare benefits are often too low for certain cases because the funds are too broadly distributed with little reference to individuals with critical or severe needs.

We don't know whether or not the law can be passed that would compel children or close relatives to take care of their own. Probably not. The state hospital for the mentally ill at Austin has been clogged in the past with senile patients who were not actually mentally ill, but who have been committed by court order in order

Farm Income Hits Record High

This year's super-high cotton production in the county, plus a maize crop worth more than $16 million to Lamb County farmers, will probably make 1962 the banner income year of all time, which can only result in a banner year for all lines of business throughout the county in 1963.

Lamb County has almost certainly cinched second place for the state, behind Lubbock County alone, for 1962 cotton production. Standing in the nation is also to be near the top. As of last Friday, gins had processed 205,430 bales, and estimated that between 5000 and 10,000 bales are still in the field or awaiting service in loads at county gins.

The ginning tabulation of all county gins has been done weekly by Texas Employment Commission since harvest began. This tops even the Plains Cotton Growers Association estimate of $45,000 made after a survey by their field agents, and also tops every prognosis by cotton men who are supposed to know, around the county. Estimating the crop is a favorite pastime hereabouts, especially during periods of ginning delay due to weather conditions.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

The 88th Congress

The convening of the 88th Congress will bring a flood of proposals for changes in the Constitution and laws of this country. Some good, some bad.

Contrary to the thinking of many, the passage of a bill through the Congress is not an easy undertaking. The legislative gauntlet through which it must pass provides for a most exhaustive examination of its contents. This should result in practically no mistakes being made; however, many are made, which is proof of the fact that it is "human to err."

All measures introduced during one Congress which do not become law within the two year term of that Congress, die with its adjournment. Hence, it is necessary to re-introduce them. Several measures which I have long advocated and have submitted in prior Congresses but which have not yet been adopted will be re-introduced. One of these will be a Joint Resolution to amend the Constitution as follows:

"No treaty with respect to which the advice and consent of the Senate is required by section 2 of article II of this Constitution may be made without the advice and consent of the House of Representatives."

Another is a Resolution providing for a special subcommittee to investigate and study the problem of obscenity, lewdness, salaciousness, and immorality in connection with the production, distribution, and exhibition in the United States of motion pictures and in connection with advertising related thereto.

I will also re-introduce a Resolution to amend the Constitution to limit the power of the Courts of the U. S. to determine that statutes of the U. S. or of any State are repugnant to the Constitution. This proposal would make it possible for the Congress, by a two-thirds vote, to overrule a decision by the Supreme Court declaring a statute enacted by the Congress of the U. S. or any State unconstitutional.

Another Resolution will be the one calling for a complete investigation of the State Department with relation to personnel, practices and procedures of choosing and assigning personnel, background and capabilities of personnel, including those employed directly by the Department of State as well as by other departments having duties or assignments directly or indirectly connected with the operations of the Department of State. In my opinion, this is a matter of prime importance and should be acted upon with the least possible delay.

Another measure will be a Resolution designed to commence the procedure for the establishment of a diplomatic academy in this country similar to West Point, Annapolis, and the Air Force Academy. Such a procedure, if properly conducted, would make it possible for the foreign service of this country to be open and available to boys and girls from the main streets of the small towns of this nation. Many feel that the foreign service of our country has been dominated by the influences of the Ivy League colleges.

Another Resolution will be directed toward a full investigation and inventory of the real property owned by the United States, with the thought in mind of making it possible to dispose of much of the property now held in public ownership.

Among the bills I will re-introduce will be the measure that I introduced shortly after I came to Congress and which I have re-introduced in each succeeding Congress. This is a bill "To increase the personal income tax exemption of a taxpayer and the additional exemption for his spouse from $600 to $1,000, and to increase the exemption for a dependent from $600 to $1,000." This has been a long, hard fight, but it now seems possible that favorable action can be taken on this or a similar measure this year.

Another measure I expect to re-introduce is a bill I have long advocated. It would require that all decisions of the Supreme Court shall be participated in by the full Court and that any vacancies or absences in the membership of the Court shall be tem-

Charley Craigs Are Injured In African Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Craig, brother and sister-in-law of Tony Craig of Memphis, are now in the All Saints Hospital in Fort Worth where they are being treated for spinal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig received their injuries when the land cruiser (a British-built jeep-like vehicle) crashed down a one-sided sand dune 150 miles from Bengazi in Lybia, Africa, on Dec. 23, 1962. Charley Craig walked about three miles out of the desert to get help, following the accident.

The Craig's 16-year-old daughter was in the vehicle with her parents, and was thrown clear and sustained a cut on her forehead and bruises. The Craigs were flown to the United States and brought to their home town, Fort Worth, for medical treatment.

Tony Craig reported this week they are doing fine. He said his brother was in Africa working for the William Bros. Contracting Co. He added that Charley was unable to come back to the States for Christmas; so his wife and daughter joined him in Africa to spend the holidays. They were sight-seeing on the desert when the accident occurred.

Early Vehicle Safety Check Urged By DPS

"Our weather is getting worse all the time and April 15 will come before you know it," Captain Alan Johnson, Texas Department of Public Safety Supervisor, commented this week.

He was talking about the time for Texas motorists to get 1963 vehicle safety inspections. The seven and one-half month period for getting inspections is more than half finished. Inspections started September 1 and will continue through April 15.

Since the period is so long, Johnson stated, no allowances are made for bad weather. He pointed out that inspections may not be made when streets are wet. "From now until April 15, we usually have a seige of bad weather in this part of the state which eliminates many inspection days," Captain Johnson said.

He also pointed out that inspection of vehicles now will insure that they are safer for the rest of the winter driving period, when good lights, brakes and other equipment are so vital.

Failure to have a 1963 inspection sticker displayed on the windshield of your vehicle after April 15 is a violation of the law and is punishable by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars.

John Deere Day Will Be Monday At Harrison's

Farmers of the area will gather Monday, Jan. 14, to take part in the annual John Deere Day in Memphis, which will be sponsored by Harrison Hardware, at the store, starting at 10 a. m.

Wendell Harrison, host for the show, describes this year's John Deere Day as one of the most interesting he has ever offered.

The full day's program is to be highlighted by a film at the Palace Theater, starting at 1 p. m., featuring the very latest in farm equipment shown under actual working conditions.

These films, according to Harrison, are interlaced with entertainment which features some of Hollywood and TV's most popular personalities.

"We want every farmer in the vicinity to feel welcome," he said. "This invitation is extended to every farmer, no matter what type of equipment he has a preference for. In fact, we think that this is the kind of program that will interest anyone who finds his livelihood closely linked with the soil."

Admission to the program is free, and no tickets are required. Harrison Hardware plans to hold an open house in conjunction with John Deere Day and to put on display late models of tractors and equipment.

Doughnuts and coffee will be served all day at the store.

ments released by farmers in other counties. In 1962, Hall County received 3,158 acres under the release and reapportionment procedure which was allocated to 454 farms on which producers made written applications before the closing date, he said.

Any producer who plans to seed less cotton than his 1963 allotment should release his excess acreage to the county committee for reapportionment, thereby maintaining his cotton history for 1963.

Browning has been serving as the farm labor placement agent of the Texas Employment Commission in Hall County. He said he was notified Friday morning by a representative of the Commission that the Memphis office is to be closed.
