This newspaper stands for progress for Memphis and Hall County, as well as the areas surrounding Memphis and Hall County. Concerning the issue before local residents as to whether or not to vote bonds to build a new City Hall, Fire Station, Police Station and Community Center, this newspaper believes this is a progressive step for Memphis. After weighing the pros and the cons of the project, this newspaper is endorsing the project and encourages the residents of Memphis to vote for the issuing of the bonds for the construction of a much needed public building.

County ACP Handbooks Mailed To Farmers

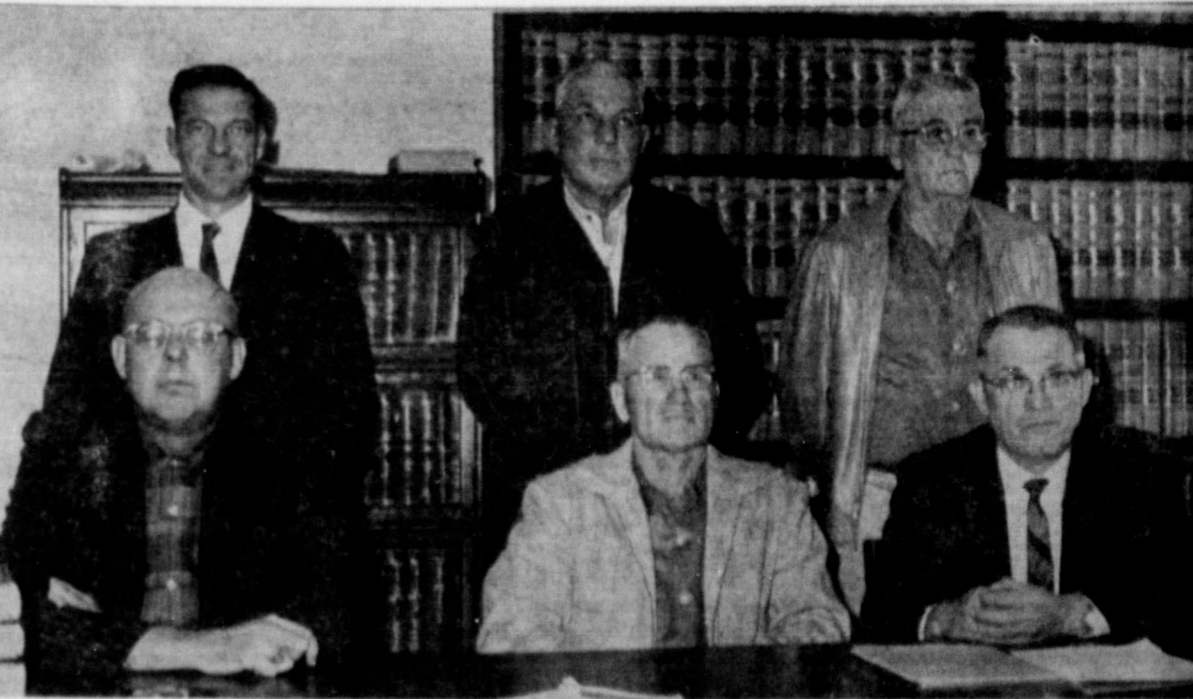

The 1963 Hall County ACP Handbook was mailed to county farmers last weekend, it was announced by Lynn McKown, ASCS office manager, this week. The First National Bank of Memphis and the First State Bank of Memphis jointly paid the printing cost of the ACP Handbook this year as they have done for the past 17 consecutive years as a contribution to conservation farming. The Handbook is a ready guide to farmers in planning the 1963 conservation program for their farm or ranch.

Important Information

The following policies will apply to Hall County ACP for 1963: 1. The maximum cost-share for 1963 will be $1,000 to any person with respect to farming or ranching units. 2. The maximum cost-share for establishing a permanent cover of Midland Bermuda grass for 1963 shall be limited to 25.0 acres per farm. 3. On all applications for cotton burs approved after Jan. 1, 1963, the burs must not be plowed under until after Feb. 15, 1963. 4. All cost-shares for 1963 are based on 50 per cent of the cost; therefore, some cost-share rates have been reduced. Applications for premeasuring 1963 allotted cotton acreage will be accepted beginning Feb. 1, 1963, through March 15, 1963. Rates for this service will be based on an estimate of actual cost. When cotton is planted in normal width rows for 1963, two rows cotton and one row out, it is considered two-thirds cotton. Cotton planted two rows cotton and two rows out will be one-half cotton as will cotton planted four rows cotton and four rows out. However, cotton planted one row cotton and one row out will be counted solid cotton. The sign-up for 1963 Feed Grain will start Feb. 1, 1963, and will close March 22, 1963. Bases have been established, but payment rates have not been received to date by the ASCS office. All producers who have seeded the permitted 15 acres of wheat without a wheat allotment and all producers who have seeded barley for harvest should report their estimated acreage to the county office by Feb. 15, 1963, it was announced.

New Governor Means Progress For Texas

Last week, John Connally took his oath of office as Governor of Texas amid the greatest inaugural ceremony and celebration the state has ever seen. But the underlying factor which came out of the ceremonies and the new Governor's utterances was his plan for progress. This plan was echoed by Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith of Lubbock, and the citizens of our state were assured of their sincerity of purpose and their real desire to work with the 58th Legislature in pushing for a better future.

The new governor is now reorganizing the state government, and is doing this chore after undergoing a rigorous campaign which lasted nearly a year. He is assuming all the other responsibilities which are his in a manner which speaks well for the future.

The inauguration was in fact a near-mass turnover in state government, and has not been seen in Texas since Gov. Jimmy Allred took over in 1935. More new faces are in the Legislative halls of the capitol. The tone as was felt by the thousands who took part in the inauguration and witnessed the ceremonies was one of moving forward while holding down state spending. When Gov. Connally presented his plan for progress to a joint meeting of the Senate and House members, he was met with applause which was tremendous.

One of his views which has met with approval of the members of the Legislature was that of upgrading higher education in the state. This will be much in the news in the months to come.

Another idea which was put forth by the Governor was the strengthening of family sanctity laws. This is being accepted by church leaders and others who are more conscious of present-day society's weaknesses in this respect.

Now it remains to be seen what action the Senators and Representatives will take on all the proposals which have been made and which will be introduced. But the winds at this early hour are blowing toward a moderate, hard-headed solution to the problems which face state government in 1963.

Let's Hope JFK Knows Best

We hope that President Kennedy is right in his estimate that a major tax cut will stimulate American business and industry enough to produce an increase in gross national income sufficiently large to bring the government as much income from lower rates as it has been getting from higher ones.

It is a fascinating economic theory, and we're not disposed to argue with it. Economic concepts of this magnitude are far beyond our capacity to understand... and like most ordinary Americans, we lack the kind of information on which to base a really intelligent opinion.

Unfortunately, lack of information isn't keeping a great many people from forming and loudly proclaiming opinions, pro or con... and we may expect a vast outpouring of such opinions in the press, over radio, and via television in the weeks ahead. The fact that most of the proclaimers will be uninformed, and many of them unintelligent, isn't going to diminish the volume of their proclamations or the intensity of their convictions one whit.

We are personally in favor of giving the President's plan a chance. It is a novel approach, certainly, in these times to advocate tax reduction and tax reform (many do that) but to actually present a definite plan for carrying out such proposals in the here and now.

We believe that President Kennedy is a conscientious executive (which doesn't mean that he's infallible)... and we assume that he is acting on better and more complete information than is available to most of us (which doesn't necessarily mean that his information is infallible, either). We admire his courage in tackling the problem, and we hope that he can pull it off and make it work.

We note that the visionary idea of tax reduction is coupled with a down-to-earth recommendation for tax reform... a loophole-plugging operation that could be expected to recoup some of the lost tax income before it is ever lost. Mr. Kennedy's major problem, we suspect, is not going to be in getting Congressional approval of tax reductions (a politically promising prospect) but in getting Congressional consent, at the same time, for tax reforms (a prickly problem indeed in practical politics).

If Mr. Kennedy fails to balance the federal budget by reducing taxes, his failure isn't going to be much more glaring than that of other recent Presidents who have failed to balance it by raising them... and he will at least have the satisfaction of trying a different approach.

Pay Your Poll Tax!

County residents are reminded that there are seven days left in which to go to the County Tax Assessor-Collector Office in the Hall County Courthouse or see one of the three persons in the County who are selling the poll tax receipts.

Poll tax receipts are being sold by Mrs. Anette Boswell and Mrs. J. H. Barbee at the District Office, General Telephone Company of the Southwest, by Steve Watts of the Memphis Jaycees and by Loetta Ferguson at her office in Turkey.

Because 1963 is an off election year is no reason for residents to fail to purchase a poll tax. Already this year one bond election has been called by the City of Memphis to be held Saturday, Feb. 2. To be qualified voters, Memphis residents must have property rendered for taxation with the City of Memphis (personal or real estate, it makes no difference); be a resident of Texas one year and a resident of Memphis for six months; and have paid their poll tax for this year.

Remember, next Thursday, Jan. 31, 1963 is the last date you can purchase a poll tax, so if you haven't purchased one already, do so before the deadline.

Youth On Wheels... Too Early?

We don't rightfully know how many persons were charged in either Justice of the Peace Court or the city court here during 1962 with not having a driver's license, but we would guess the total number well over 100.

But few such charges that we know of were made against youngsters legally too young to drive.

If the law is to be administered fairly to one and all, these should not be overlooked either.

How widespread the practice is of youngsters too young to legally drive in this area we don't know. Some tell us it's a considerable one.

We don't recall exactly where we read it recently, but some writer was comparing the dangers of today's civilization with that of our forefathers. He said the danger was about even to brave Indian attacks and cross the Great Plains to the west coast a little more than a century ago by covered wagon, or to drive a modern, high speed automobile down a modern highway with only a few inches or a few feet of pavement separating the car you are in with one approaching head-on at a tremendous speed. We bet you never thought of such a comparison; certainly we hadn't. But the danger is there and the comparison seems highly accurate.

Youth is on wheels today—usually years too early—because of many things. One is because youth wants to be. Another is because parents are too lenient due to the "transportation chore" involved if Junior or Mary doesn't drive. A third is because parents always want the best for their youngsters, even when it's not best for them. A fourth is that the youngsters have a way of cajoling what they want, one way or another.

It's a problem and modern automobile insurance rates attest to just how great a problem it has become.

If youngsters below the legal driving age are competent to assume the responsibility of driving the family car, then we'd suggest that everybody pitch in and get the law changed. And if they're not—well, they shouldn't be driving and they should be checked regularly as to whether or not they have a driver's license in their possession when they're behind the wheel.

It ought to be the same law for everybody.

And we'll bet this editorial viewpoint will arouse far more indignation from parents whose teens do drive and shouldn't, than support from the rest of the folks. That's the way the ball bounces in this life, so we have become a bit philosophical about it.

Music and You

The "he-man" sometimes tends to make fun of fine music and in smaller communities or in rough civilizations this sometimes gains acceptance in a community and good music becomes very hard to sell to the youngster and to many men and women of the community.

But good music, like good painting or good writing, is always rewarding if it is understood. That is not to say that everyone will like all good music, but practically everyone will like some form of good music, once he is educated to enjoy it and exposed to it.

And "good" music is not just opera. Much popular music is good and it does not have to be high-brow-longhair stuff to be good.

Most of us underestimate the power of music. It can be made to produce various sensations and responses. The movie makers have long known that music is the key to drama on the screen. The audience reacts, often unknowingly, to the music as much as to the screenplay. And music is the key to success on the legitimate stage in many productions.

Music can also soothe the mind and soul. It can afford relaxation when almost nothing else can. So music has power that is often underrated. And in the United States, too few parents insist that their children study music and learn to play, at least one musical instrument. In many of the world's older countries, it is accepted that a child is not fully rounded unless he can play some musical instrument.

When we fail to teach them of this great human outlet, we rob from them the pleasure which could be theirs if they are properly educated. Countless hours of listening and playing pleasure could be theirs, if they were only taught what exists in the world of music and how to appreciate it. We can get rid of much of this degrading, rut-like tranquilization by learning to appreciate good music. That is the only "out" and that is the road to a higher level of culture.

 At a meeting of the City Council on Thursday evening of last week, contract was made for a special built fire truck. The machine is a Stutz, six-cylinder, 105 horse power, and with a pumping capacity of five hundred gallons per minute. The cost of the machine was $8,550.

The last remains of the old court house have been removed. Contractors Johnsey & Bean, on schedule, were ready to turn the ground over to the builders of the new court house to begin excavation. Already several car loads of material have arrived.

The grand jury, after having been re-called last week, returned twenty-three additional bills of indictment; nine for felonies and fourteen for misdemeanors. This brings the total number of indictments up to fifty-five. This is probably the longest period of time any grand jury has ever been in session here, and from all probability they will be recalled the second time.

Press Names Dan Blocker "Texan-of-the-Year" Award

From the Memphis Press-Scimitar, Tex.— Dan Blocker, a "big" man, will be the recipient of the Texas Press Association's 1963 "Texan-of-the-Year" award.

Blocker, 36, is a member of the Texas Press Association since 1963. He was named "Texan-of-the-Year" for his work in physical education. He changed his major to drama before he was graduated in 1950. From Alpine he went to Boston for summer stock. Then, as did most young men of his time, Dan Blocker received greetings from The President and went overseas for a whirl at Korea.

When he finished his army hitch, he came home with the stripes of a first sergeant, to further impress Dolphia Parker, his college sweetheart. They were married on August 25, 1952. They now have four children, twin girls and two boys.

Blocker went to Sul Ross shortly after his marriage to work on his master's degree. He left classes for one year to teach in the high school at Sonora. Upon receiving his Master's degree in drama and English, he taught school at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

In 1956, he went to Los Angeles for graduate work at UCLA. Almost immediately he was chosen for a feature role in a Gunsmoke episode, where he made more money at Abilene for a semester, then to Sul Ross State College at Alpine, on a football scholarship, in four days than in a month of teaching.

The Texas Press Association, on behalf of its 76 member dailies and 432 weeklies, has presented "Top Texan" awards on two previous occasions. In 1961 the honor went to Paul Richards of baseball fame, a native of Waxahachie, who at the time was manager of the top-ranking Baltimore Orioles. Last year the "Texan of the Year" award went to Van Cliburn, world renowned pianist from Kilgore, Texas.

Selection of the "Texan of the Year" is made from nominations by Texas editors and publishers. Nominees must be well known Texans, outside the field of politics, now residing beyond the borders of the state, but bringing fame to the state by outstanding accomplishments in their chosen fields of endeavor.

The Cyclone Tuesday night overcame one of the biggest threats in the district when they were able to hold Derrith Welch, McLean's 6-foot six-inch center who has been scoring from 20 to 30 points a game, to scoring only 15 points. Much of the credit for this fine defensive show can be given to Dwight Gailey, Jacky Bridges and Dale Sexton. These three Memphis lads did a fine job of defense which accounted for Memphis' 45-36 victory. The victory over McLean gives Memphis their third straight victory with no defeats in district play. Memphis goes to Clarendon Friday night to play the Bronchos. The Bronchos have not won a district ball game in three outings.

The Cyclone gymnasium should be packed next Tuesday night when the Cyclone and the Lefors Pirates tangle in what promises to be the deciding game in District 2-A. However, with two-thirds of the district games left to play, it is impossible to foresee which of the final games will decide the district championship. So far, Memphis and Lefors have won three games. Canadian, Wellington and McLean have lost two and won one while Clarendon has lost three. Friday night Wellington plays Lefors while McLean and Canadian tangle.

Estelline and Lakeview split games Tuesday night at Lakeview. The Estelline boys led by Teddy Barnes who scored 30 points defeated the Lakeview boys team, 65 to 31. Jimmy Neighbors was Lakeview's high scorer with 10 points. The Lakeview girls downed the Estelline girls 47 to 39. Sandy Verden and Karen Clements were high scorers for Lakeview while Linda Bowman was Estelline's high scorer. There is still a lot of basketball to be played in District 9-B. So far, however, the Quitaque boy's team and the Matador girl's team have the edge in won-lost records. Running close seconds are the Lakeview girls and the Estelline boys.

Tuesday night it took the Hedley boys a three-minute overtime to defeat the Samnorwood boys team at Samnorwood, however they were able to come up with a 43-39 victory over the tough opponent. Both Samnorwood and Hedley have good teams so the game must have been an exciting one for the fans. The Samnorwood girls downed the Hedley girls 57 to 41.

Head coach Don Lambert released the 1963 football schedule for the Memphis Cyclone this week. Memphis fans will see four home games next season. The schedule also contains two new teams that Memphis has never played before. The season opens Sept. 6 with Tulia at Tulia. Then Sept. 13 the Cyclone goes to Crowell. On Sept. 20 Memphis will play Friona at Cyclone stadium. The next Friday night, the team will play Sanford-Fritch there, and will have an open date Oct. 4. The schedule calls for the Memphis-Shamrock game to be played at Shamrock on Oct. 11. District opens Oct. 18 when the Wellington Skyrockets come to Memphis, followed the next week by the Memphis-McLean game at Memphis. The Cyclone will have to travel to Canadian Nov. 2 but will have Lefors at home on Nov. 9. Finally, the Memphis-Clarendon game will be played at Clarendon Nov. 16.

Even Coaches have a sense of humor, however. I don't know if the story I hear is true or not, but if it is, then Coach Gene Gibson of Texas Tech (my ol' al'mat'r), has one. The story I have been told is that Coach Gibson said (in the midst of a losing season) "We won't have a very good team next year, we will have all of our boys back." This season, its been rough sledding for the Red Raiders, however, after several years of fine teams, Tech was due one losing team. If I know the students at Tech though, they aren't liking what's happening.

The Stars are considered the funniest basketball team in the country and are unique in the fact they never try to run up a huge score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close devoting much time to comedy stuff. The game begins at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Lakeview Junior High Is 9-B District Champ

District 9-B Junior High Basketball tournament was held last weekend in Turkey. The Lakeview Boys and Matador girls Junior High teams won first in the district.

Lakeview boys defeated the Turkey boys team in the finals. Lakeview took first place, Turkey took second place, Estelline came in third and Quitaque placed fourth.

In the girls bracket, Matador defeated Estelline by seven points to take first place. Estelline placed second, Quitaque placed third and Turkey came in fourth.

Several boys and girls were named to the All-District team at the conclusion of the tournament.

Kirby Hatley, son of Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Hatley of Lakeview, was named on the All-District boys team as was Gary Walker of Estelline.

Two Estelline girls made the All-District girls team. They were Cherri Rapp, a forward and Durlene Ward, a guard.

First Round Over In Dist. 9-B Playoff

After the first round of District 9-B, the Quitaque boys and the Matador girls seem to be in the lead, with the Lakeview girls and the Estelline boys in a close second.

Estelline will host Matador Friday night and then next Tuesday night the team will travel to Flomot. Game time at Flomot is 8:30, the schedule shows.

The Lakeview Eagles will have two home games coming up this week. They will host Turkey Friday night and Matador Tuesday night. Game times are 7 p. m. for the girls and 8:30 for the boys.

Depletion Allowance

Percentage depletion allowance and gas is going to be reauthorized again as the newly convened 86th Congress plunges into a year of tax revision proposals. Such a revision should expect another effort this year to reauthorize the 36-year-old formula and establish the depletion allowance for oil and gas at 27 percent.

Again I will be among members of Congress working to keep the 27 percent allowance. I am convinced this figure is so important to our economy and national interest that bills to be introduced for a reduction in the oil depletion allowance to 15 percent. Proposals in past years have been overwhelmingly defeated; in the case of the 1958 act, opponents of the 27 percent allowance apparently will aim at a more moderate three-step cut to 20 percent early last fall. A new bill may be expected.

Oil and gas depletion allowance is not a tax loophole. It does not permit a royalty owner or oil company to deduct 27 1/2 percent from its income tax. It does not represent cash; it is a deduction from taxable income in figuring tax liability. It is not applicable to all operations of the oil industry; it applies only to the field value of the crude oil and raw gas and only to the extent that it can be produced at a profit.

The purpose of the 1926 act establishing the oil and gas depletion allowance 27 1/2 percent was to avoid crippling an industry by taking away through income taxes the capital needed to stay in business. The act recognized that every barrel of oil found is one less barrel to be found; that every barrel removed from an owner's land depletes the asset value of his land by one barrel. Later this same depletion principle was applied by tax law, in varying percentages, to approximately 100 minerals and other natural resources taken from the earth.

A five-volume report, "Resources for Freedom," issued in 1952 by President Truman's non-partisan Materials Policy Commission, is the most comprehensive study made of our nation's natural resources. The committee formulated a national resources policy for the United States, including a tax policy for mineral deposits. Its report has been, and no doubt will continue to be, an important factor in Congressional debates on the depletion allowance matter. In its recommendations to the President the commission gave full endorsement to the 27 1/2 percent depletion allowance for oil.

Despite this recommendation and the strong fact-based case for continuing the 27 1/2 percent allowance, you may expect new pressures this year as Congress takes up proposals for tax cuts and tax law revision—and searches the body of law for tax inequities. The oil and gas depletion allowance is threatened because in the minds of many citizens the oil industry is regarded as an extremely lucrative and unusually profitable business. They overlook the high-risk position of the industry, its highly competitive nature, the dulling effect on domestic production caused by imports from abroad, the fact that earning rates are in line with other industries.

The First National City Bank of New York reported that oil company earnings, in the 30-year period from 1926 (the year the 27 1/2 percent formula took effect) averaged 9.5 percent of invested capital, compared with 10.6 percent for other manufacturing companies.

Oil is getting harder to find. Drilling costs are up. Wells are going deeper. In view of the industry's profit record, the 27 1/2 percent figure now more than ever does not appear too high

John Fleming Dies In Houston; Service Here

Funeral services for John Albert Fleming, 78, of Houston, former Hall County resident, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the Assembly of God Church with Rev. V. C. Sparks, pastor, officiating assisted by the Rev. T. E. Gibson.

Burial was in Union Hill Cemetery at Lakeview with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

A retired farmer, Mr. Fleming farmed near Lakeview and Esteline. Mrs. Fleming preceded her husband in death in 1949.

Survivors include two sons, Arthur and Elvin, both of Houston, four daughters, Mrs. John Holbert of Cee Vee, Mrs. W. H. Hensley, Mrs. D. L. Helm and Mrs. W. B. Helm, all of Houston; two brothers, William and Walter, both of Paris; three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Burkett, Mrs. J. W. Jones, and Mrs. Wilson Weaver, all of Paris, 35 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

In its purpose of encouraging new drilling. If the depletion allowance were done away with entirely, oil producers would have to find some other way to attract capital for exploration. In the end, the consumer might have to bear the load by paying higher prices for petroleum products.

I expect that again in this session, despite the press for sweeping tax law revision, Congress will be extremely cautious about making any tax structure change that would intimidate the quest for new oil and gas reserves.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank Dr. Clark and the nurses at Odom Hospital; friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers, gifts and food which made my stay in the hospital more pleasant. May God bless each of you.
Mrs. J. D. May

The Wilsons had the first half of July 28-29. The last-innings Cyclone however came back in the third period to tie the game up 78-78, and in the final minutes took the lead. Coach Bob Martin said the local squad seemed to invade a sign of relief when they got ahead, and went on to lead 81-67 at the end of the final period. Lucky Bridges scored up 27 points to be the game's high scorer, and Kenneth Willis scored 20 for Columbia.

The Memphis Cyclone held its second conference Monday night before a large crowd of local supporters. The weather, which was cold and windy, prevented many of the Memphis fans from making the trip, however, the local gym was better than half full with Memphis fans.

The Cyclone took an 18-7 first quarter lead over the Tigers and were able to increase it to 25-5 at half-time. The Tigers were unable to come within 8 points of Memphis in the final half until the final buzzer sounded with the scoreboard clock showing Memphis 42, Wilsons 36.
