City Golf Tournament Is Scheduled For July 4-7

The Annual City Golf Tournament during which the city champion will be named, will get underway Thursday, July 4, at the Memphis Country Club course, Dink Miller, tournament chairman, said Tuesday.

At a tournament committee meeting Tuesday afternoon, July 4 through Sunday, July 7, were selected as dates for the tournament with qualifying rounds to determine the medalist to be played Thursday, July 4.

The entry fee for the tournament was set at $5. Entry deadline is 7 p. m. July 4.

The social highlight of the tournament will be the stag barbecue dinner which will begin at 7 p. m. Saturday, July 6. Barbecued chicken prepared by Tony Craig and associates will be served along with all the trimmings. Those who enter the tournament will receive tickets to the stag party. Tickets for the party can be purchased at $1.50 from Frank Garrett, ticket chairman.

All flights below the championship will be 8-man, and play will be match. Finals will be played Sunday.

The championship flight will contain 16 men when play begins Friday. At the conclusion of Friday's matches, the eight winners of matches will continue play in the championship flight, and the eight losers will form the president's flight.

Each of these flights will have another 18-hole match Saturday, which will limit the field to four men each. Then Sunday, the two flights will play 18-hole stroke (medal) play with the three low shooters receiving prizes.

The three winners of each flight, championship, president's, first flight, second flight, etc., will receive 50 per cent, 30 per cent and 20 per cent of $28.00 in merchandise. The club champion will receive a bonus prize of one dozen golf balls and the medalist will receive six golf balls.

Those eligible to play are dues paying members of the club, and teenagers. Teenage winners will receive trophies instead of cash prizes.

For those who must be out of town or for other reasons which would keep them from qualifying July 4, Miller said, signed score cards for 18-holes play will be acceptable, however, those turning in score cards for play on other days besides July 4 will be ineligible for medalist honors.

Golfers who desire to enter the tournament were warned by the committee that all matches must be played on the day scheduled or forfeited.

Tigers, Giants Are In Tie For 1st Half Title

The Little League Tigers and Giants are presently in a tie for first place in the first half of play, Jerry Burnett, co-ordinator of the program, said Wednesday.

He also announced that a game played Friday night and next Tuesday night are scheduled for the second half of play. The three make up games still lacking in the first half of play are scheduled for the next two Saturday nights.

On Saturday night, June 29, the Yankees will play the Indians the first game, and the Giants and Tigers will settle the first half tie for the championship the second game.

Then on Saturday, July 6, the Indians and Yankees will play their final game to end the first half of play, he said.

The standings as of Wednesday, list the Tigers and Giants with five wins and three losses; the Indians in third place with three wins and four losses, and the Yankees with two wins and five losses.

In the make-up game last Thursday night, the Yankees broke their losing streak with an impressive 20-0 victory over the league-leading Tigers.

Friday night, the Indians edged out the Yankees in the first game, 8-7, and the Giants dined the Tigers 10-5 to claim a piece of the top position.

Tuesday was a night of upsets. The Indians took an early lead over the Giants and went on to defeat them 10-7. The Yankees came close to shutting out the Tigers when they defeated them 8-1. The farm teams played Monday night. The Yankees defeated the Tigers 11-8, and the Indians won from the Giants, 14-11.

Co-ordinator Burnett also announced that the annual money program for the Little League program will get underway next week. Local business establishments will be contacted, he said.

Five Hall County Boys Leave Sunday For Salvation Army Camp Near Dallas

Some 200 boys from cities, towns and rural communities all over Texas, including the 247 Service Units now in operation, took leave of their parents and youthful playmates this week to travel by bus, train and private car to the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas.

During the summer camping season four camp periods of one week each will be conducted for boys in Texas.

Leaving for camp on Sunday, June 23, were Don Cabbler of Alaska, Bobby Patterson of Memphis, David Moses of Lakeview, David Butler and Dennis Jewett of Turkey. The boys were taken to Camp Hoblitzelle Sunday morning. They will return next Sunday.

At camp they will be housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins, and will be furnished meals in the large dining room, prepared by expert chefs to meet the physical needs of healthy, growing youngsters.

Joe Bob Browning, camp chairman for Hall County, was busy for several weeks selecting boys, who otherwise would not have an opportunity to spend a full week in camp. For these boys there will be fun, recreation, companionship, relaxation, crafts, and organized sports—all directed by men whose lives have been dedicated to the task of helping others.

Located on a beautiful wooded tract of 340 acres, Camp Hoblitzelle is seven miles south of Midlothian. There are well arranged playgrounds for all boys' sports with modern playground equipment: swimming pool, a large for boating, water skiing and fishing; archery, horseback riding, and other organized sports under the direction of experienced coaches.

Camp Hoblitzelle has been provided by the Salvation Army for the boys of Texas, through the generous gifts of over a hundred men and women of the state, who provided the money for the purchase of the land, buildings and other improvements that have been made.

DEATH CAR — Shown above is the 1962 model Ford which carried its driver, Emmitt Aden McGee, 37, of Dallas, Texas, to his death in a two-car collision two miles east of Estelline Tuesday night. He was the only passenger in the car.

Newly Purchased Safety Belts Save Lives Of Three In Estelline Wreck

A two-car collision on Highway 287 at 10:15 p. m. Tuesday, two miles southeast of Estelline, took the life of Emmitt Aden McGee, 37, of Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cowan, Jr., and their 16-year-old daughter, of Mansfield, occupants of the other car, escaped with only injuries, and are in Childrens General Hospital.

The Mansfield, Tex., couple were listed in good condition late Wednesday, while their daughter had been released from the hospital, after being treated for minor cuts and bruises.

The Cowans, on what they described as a sudden impulse, said that just a few hours before the accident, they had seat belts installed.

Highway Patrolman Presley Thompson said, "without the seat belts, they undoubtedly would have been seriously injured or killed."

Ambulances and wreckers were called from Memphis and Childrens. The Cowans were taken to Childrens. Spicer Funeral Home ambulance brought McGee's body to Memphis.

Funeral services for McGee will be announced by Sparkman Funeral Home of Dallas.

Mr. McGee is survived by his wife, Carrie Mae of Dallas; three daughters, Patricia Ann, Brenda and Karen, all of Houston; his mother, Mrs. Jamie McGee of Houston; three brothers, Wiley of Mathis, Herman of Texas City, and Albert of Galveston; and two sisters, Mrs. Ola Mae Etzel of Houston, and Mrs. Mary Allen of Houston.

Arley Adolphus Walker was born Oct. 20, 1893, in Collin County, Tex. He was united in marriage to Miss Ruby Walker July 13, 1919, in Dennison. They moved to Childress County in 1925 where they farmed and resided in the Newlin community. After Mr. Walker retired in 1960, the family moved to Childress and made their home there. Cotton Measuring To Begin July 1

The measuring of cotton, grain sorghum and diverted acreages will begin with a three-day performance school on Monday, July 1.

A field force of 15 men has been employed to do this work, consisting of three supervisors and 12 reporters. Two reporters will be assigned to each of the six ACP communities in the county. All reporters will work on a unit basis, being paid by the farms measured, Lynn McKown, manager of the ASCS office here, said this week.

There will be 93,538 acres of cotton to be measured on 930 farms. Grain sorghum producers signed intentions to participate on 434 farms to divert 20,891 acres of their 60,267 acres of feed grain bases. This will require the measuring of 39,376 acres of grain sorghum and 20,891 acres of diverted feed grain acreage.

There is a total of 143,805 acres of cropland that will require detailed determinations before Sept. 1, 1963.

All farmers are requested to cooperate with the reporter. This is one of the most important operations of the year, equal to harvest to the farm, he said.

"The way your cotton, grain sorghum and diverted acreage is measured during July and August will determine your payment and acres of cotton for harvest in September and October. A few hours assisting the reporter now will save time and money later," McKown explained.

National Safe Boating Week, June 30 — July 6!

This week we are joining with Texas Safety Association in urging Texas boating enthusiasts to join in observing National Safe Boating Week, June 30-July 6!

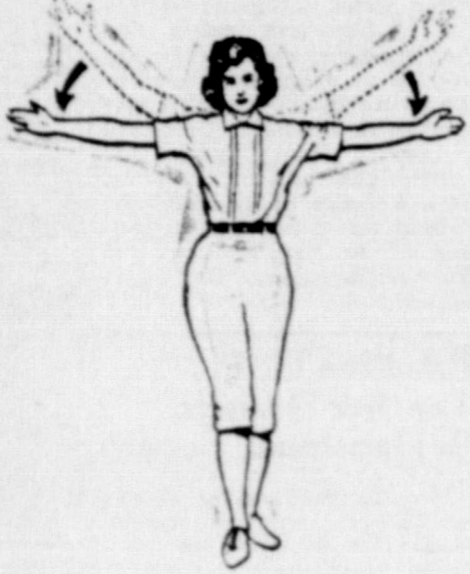

In Memphis as well as over Hall County, more and more families have turned to the water for recreation in the form of fishing, boating, and water skiing. Not only is this a trend in this county, but J. O. Musick, TSA General Manager said, "recreation boating is playing an increasingly important role in the lives of millions of Americans."

"Some 37 million persons go boating each year and more and more boatmen are launching their crafts in Texas waters," he said.

Amazing as it may seem, however, the safety director reported this week that so far, there has been no alarming rise in boating accidents.

"Boatmen can help maintain this fine record in Texas by brushing up on nautical know-how during National Safe Boating Week by displaying caution and courtesy in the water at all times," he concluded.

One of the most important parts in safety is to know the various distress signals which would prove invaluable if an emergency arises while on the lake or at the lake shore. To the right is shown the manual distress signal for day-time use, made by slowly and repeatedly raising and lowering the outstretched arms. This is just one of the many distress signals which have been approved.

For the information of boat owners, following is some tips which should be of interest:

Check boat thoroughly before leaving mooring. Never overload your boat and at all times, be especially careful about non-swimmers and children.

Carry a Coast Guard approved life preserver for every person aboard. Carry filled fire extinguishers, as required by law.

Use extreme caution when filling fuel tanks: don't smoke, wipe up spillage. Turn off all fires and electrical accessories. Hold filling nozzle firmly against fill pipe (grounded). Ventilate engine compartment and all enclosed spaces before restarting motors.

Keep to right when meeting another boat. Give right-of-way to vessels approaching in your danger zone on the starboard (right) side.

Don't turn boats at high speed. Small craft can easily be swamped by their own wash.

Outlaw horseplay around boats. A boat is not a toy for children.

Know the meanings of buoys—what they mark and indicate. Know the various distress signals.

It is a refreshing picture the TSA draws about water safety this year, however, as more and more boats are launched on our water ways, the picture could grow darker until Texas residents will be facing the same staggering statistics on water accidents they now face on the highways. Let's do our part to keep our water ways safe!

At Last A Spending Cut

When Governor John Connally cut out $12.4 million out of the 1964-65 appropriation bill for Texas, he caused eyebrows to raise upward and comments to be muttered around the capitol halls.

Because this was a highly unusual step for an office holder to take—that of cutting out spending of tax money. Of course, this $12.4 million was but a fraction of the whopping $3.1 billion spending measure for Texas, but even at that, it is refreshing to see the governor take this sort of step.

He did it because he believes higher education in Texas ought to have more money. The items he cut out of the budget represented things that could be done without, in his opinion.

Governor Connally believes that more money should be appropriated by the state as an investment in teacher salaries, research and improvement of our system of higher education. With our colleges and universities bursting at the seams now, and with a flood of high school graduates due to hit the colleges in another year or so, the governor believes that the state has a crisis confronting it.

He gave this reason for cutting out the items which he said represented "bricks over brains."

The governor had recommended some $14 million for teaching salaries, research and libraries at the 20 state-supported colleges and universities. When the legislature cut this out, he responded by whacking out the $12.4 million in odds and ends.

Whatever his reason, we still think it unusual to cut spending even temporarily. It has always gone up. Maybe it will continue.

Court Doesn't Bar the Bible From Schools

The long-awaited decision of the Supreme Court still further clarifies the line of separation between church and state by establishing the principle that:

—Bible readings and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in regularly required public school programs constitute religious exercises, and —As such they are forbidden by the Constitutional prohibition against any law respecting establishment of religion by government.

While the offenses complained of in the two cases before the court appear to us as minor, it seems obvious that once the issue was squarely raised there was but one way to rule.

The Ministers of Fort Worth generally agree with the decision. They were not surprised when it was handed down.

The framers of the Constitution and of the Bill of Rights which constitutes the first 10 amendments carefully specified strict neutrality on the part of our government as among religious creeds.

They acted in clear memory of religious wars, some concerned with relative trifles in conflicting creeds, which devastated Europe for generations, and of religious persecutions which brought many of the early colonists as refugees to these shores.

Even though these events seem distant, the danger of religious controversy persists, as was obvious in the last presidential campaign and continues obvious in debate over aid to education.

A Statement by the National Council of Churches, a Protestant organization, holds that "neither true religion nor good education is dependent upon the devotional use of the Bible in the public school program."

Possibilities for controversy are underlined in one statement in the court's decision that "today authorities list 83 separate religious bodies, each with membership exceeding 50,000 existing among our people, and innumerable smaller groups."

Each of these religious bodies presumably has its distinctive set of beliefs to which it is entitled and which the government is required to protect. This decision limits the possibility of giving offense to any of them.

Actually the court does not bar the Bible from the public schools. It points out the Bible is worthy of study for its literary and historic qualities. In fact the decision seems to encourage study of the Bible in the schools—so long as this study is not made a religious exercise.

The Art of Leisure

A union leader gave his members a highly useless piece of advice the other day, if we are to take his remarks seriously as reported in the daily press.

M. J. Fenwick, of the United Steel Workers, offered this tidy bit of philosophy to his members:

"Only when the art of leisure is in full flower and the job relegated to the nuisance category—in which it should be—can man come into his own and revel in the enjoyment of a full life."

This is utter nonsense! The man without productive thought healing the sick a nuisance, cooks who felt cooking food a nuisance, policemen who thought regulating traffic a nuisance, and teachers who thought teaching youngsters nothing but a nuisance.

It would even include farmers who thought growing food a nuisance and processors who thought getting it to the family table a nuisance.

We might find it hard to "revel in the enjoyment of a full life," under those circumstances.

If this is union labor's idea of progress, they can have it.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT

THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounds out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength.

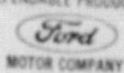

How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in spindles, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, the World 600 at Charlotte, N.C., and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—it's built by Ford, it's built for performance...total performance.

Lewis-Kembel Nuptials Are Read In Church Ceremony

MRS. CLIFFORD LEE EDWARDS

Nuptial vows were solemnized at 8 p. m. Saturday, June 22, in the First Baptist Church of Memphis for Miss Betty Sue Lewis and Richard Kenneth Kembel of Amarillo, with Dr. Jack W. Sisemore of Olsen Park Baptist Church of Amarillo officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Birdie Lewis and the late M. P. Lewis of Memphis, while the groom is the son of Mrs. Henry Spradlin of Amarillo and the late John W. Kembel.

The nuptial space was decorated with vases of yellow and white mums, candelabra and Philodendron. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Music for the double-ring service was provided by Mrs. Carl Smith, organist, who also accompanied Paul D. Thompson, Jr., of Lakeview as he sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride wore a lace and net gown fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves which came to a point over the hands. The skirt was floor length with lace tiers down the back. Her veil was of silk illusion flower girl. Ringbearer was Kenneth Lee.

Mrs. Ned Sweatt of Memphis was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss June Logg and Miss Drucilla Muttes, both of Amarillo.

The attendants wore identical dresses of yellow organza with taffeta underskirts. The dresses were fashioned with jewel necklines, cap sleeves and full gathered skirts. They wore matching slippers and white net hats and carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations tied with white streamers.

Candles were lighted by Miss Sandra Spradlin, sister of the groom, and Master Marvin Frye, both of Amarillo. Miss Spradlin's dress was identical to that of the bridesmaids. She wore a white carnation wrist corsage.

Roscoe Cook of Amarillo served as best man, and groomsmen were Bob Durham and Bill Harrison, both of Amarillo.

The bride's mother chose a sheath dress of blue silk blend accented with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's mother was hostess at a reception held in the church annex. A three-tiered wedding cake and sherbet punch were served to relatives and guests.

For a wedding trip to Red River, N. M., the bride chose for travel a beige and white two-piece dress complimented with white accessories. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and Northwest Texas School of Nursing. She is employed at Northwest Texas Hospital.

The groom completed his high school education and received his diploma while serving with the U. S. Marine Corps, and completed two years of schooling in Air Control. He is employed in the sales department of Morrow-Thomas Hardware in Amarillo.

The newlyweds are at home at 2811 West 7th Ave., Amarillo.

Parker-Edwards Nuptials Are Read In Garland Rites Sat.

Seven-branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers, jade palm trees, and baskets of white gladioli, stock, and majestic daisies decorated the altar, and bouquets of camellias marked the pews of the Peace Lutheran Church in Garland for the Saturday night wedding of Miss Judy Paulette Parker and Clifford Lee Edwards.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Paul Parker of Garland, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Edwards of Memphis.

Rev. Ralph E. Bird, pastor, read the double-ring vows, and nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Bird, soloist, who sang, "Two Dreams in One United," "The Lord's Prayer," and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Harold Lohr, organist, who also played the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of peau de soie with a fitted bodice of French chantilly lace adorned with small sequins and pearls and featuring a scalloped sabrina neckline and long sleeves which tapered to petal points over her hands. The skirt was enhanced with a bustle back which extended to a chapel length train.

Her veil of French illusion cascaded in misty tiers from a princess crown of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center atop her prayer book.

Miss Karen Parker attended her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Arlene Davis, and Miss Sue Southerland of Houston.

Cathy Parker of Texarkana, cousin of the bride, served as Mantilla trimmed in lace edging, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridal attendants were attired in dresses of copan blue organza over taffeta with figurine bodices with round necklines, short sleeves and bell-shaped skirts. An overlay of the skirt was circled up to the waist and appliqued with small low rose buds atop a white Bible.

blue artificial roses of silk. They wore small matching blue pill box hats adorned with tiny seed pearls and tulle veils and carried nosegays of daisies accented with blue ribbon.

The flower girl's dress was full skirted and fashioned after those of the bridesmaid's made of the same material. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Best man was Ronny Edwards, brother of the bridegroom, of Wylie, and groomsmen were Kenneth Whitsell of Dallas, and Gary McAbee of Wylie.

Mike Parker, brother of the bride, and Johnny Edwards, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

Candlelighters were Mike Brantley and Marty Vonderheid.

A reception honoring the couple was held immediately following the ceremony in the church annex.

The bride's table, laid with a white satin cloth and blue tulle, was centered with a white arrangement of stock and daisies and a sterling silver punch bowl. The border of the table was trimmed with blue sweet peas, all carrying out the bride's chosen colors of copan blue and white.

Miss Sue Edwards, sister of the bridegroom, of Memphis and Miss Gloria Ferguson cut the tiered wedding cake, and Mrs. Ronny Ed-

Memphis Jaycees To Sponsor Program July 4

The Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct a project on July 4th to bring to the attention to all citizens of this community the true meaning of the celebration of Independence Day. This project is known as "Let Freedom Ring" and is a promotion of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

At 10 o'clock a. m. CST all Jaycee clubs are organizing all establishments with bells in their communities to ring for five minutes to impress upon the people of their communities that the tenants of the Declaration of Independence are the foundation upon which this great country has grown to its great heights.

Carl Morris is chairman of the project for the Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce. He said that the interest of the members in this project has exemplified that the young men in this community are aware that "we will celebrate the 4th of July as a day in recognition of the true greatness of the American Way of Life and not only as a holiday for fun.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th

A Triumph for Decency
Among criminals, the most reprehensible species are those animals who trade on human prurience by peddling pornography. The lowest form of this vile class are the dealers in obscenity who move their wares among children.

Thus it was with considerable satisfaction that I noted this week the conviction—28 counts of a federal indictment—of one Ralph Ginzburg, a 33-year-old Brooklyn native who was out to pile up a fortune by publishing pure filth. Ginzburg's main endeavor in pushing a variety of erotic material was his magazine "Eros," which when publication began, brought a deluge of complaints to my office and those of other Members of Congress and to the Post Office and Justice departments.

Others who would deal in salaciousness can contemplate the possible penalty Ginzburg could pay, after sentencing is pronounced shortly, for his adventure in defying decency and the law: 140 years in prison and $140,000 in fines.

I am pleased to report to you that the federal government is working diligently to clean the mails of such trash as "Eros" and to bring to justice the men engaged in this despicable "industry." In the period from July 1, 1962, to May 24, 1963, a total of 683 arrests were made in the United States for violations of Postal obscenity statutes—141 more arrests than were made in the same period of the previous year. Convictions totaled 565 in the latest period, compared with 438 for the same period of the year before—an increase of 29 percent. I salute the responsible officials of the Post Office Department and of the Justice Department's Criminal Division for their fine cooperation and aggressiveness in handling these cases. All decent Americans can be proud of this campaign.

I'm not only interested in seeing a curtailment in the flow of mailed obscenity, I am doing what I can to bring a halt to the circulation of lewdness in motion pictures and in movie advertisements. I have introduced in this Session of the Congress H. Res 72, similar to measures I introduced in past Sessions, to bring about a "complete investigation and study of the problem of obscenity, lewdness, salaciousness, and immorality in connection with the production, distribution, and exhibition in the United States of motion pictures and in connection with advertising related thereto." This is the wording of the resolution, which has been referred to the Rules Committee of the House. If approved by the House, the resolution would provide for the appointment of a special subcommittee of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce to hold hearings and make recommendations for corrective legislation.

We must be on guard in this Nation against a laxity in morals that could, as happened in Great Britain with the Profumo scandal, shake the very foundations of the Republic.

Among other measures I've introduced this year in the House is H. Res 67 to investigate personnel and procedures in the U. S. Department of State. The investigation I propose would not be merely a "fishing expedition." It has very definite objectives spelled out in the resolution, which is among the many measures awaiting consideration by the House Rules Committee. Because the State Department's activities are so vital to the continued security of the Nation, I believe it is important that a check be made so that the Congress and the People can make an assessment of its effectiveness.

Specifically, my resolution asks for the creation of a nine-member select House committee to (1) investigate the personnel of the State Department (2) investigate the practices and procedures of choosing personnel in all divisions of the State Department (3) investigate the methods, practices, and procedures in assigning personnel for both routine work and special work or assignments (4) investigate the background and capabilities of all personnel in relation to their duties and assignments (5) investigate personnel who may not be directly connected with the State Department but whose work is tied to State Department activities, and (6) formulate recommendations concerning changes in practices and policies related to State Department staffing of other federal agencies associated with State Department activities.

Members of each profession or branch of business make it a practice to gather in meeting of some kind one or more times a year—most of such gatherings are called conventions. Mrs. Wells and I attended the State Press convention in Fort Worth last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Texas Hotel was the central point in which all activities of the newshounds took place except on Friday afternoon when they visited a new Texas Electric Service Co. at Handley—a sight well worth seeing, and at this place a Western-style barbecue luncheon was served. From Handley, we were taken to the Six Flags Over Texas—a Disney-like show that captures the fancy of all who visit there.

Good programs were presented each day in the meeting place and nationally known speakers presented the various phases of present-day things newspapers have to report. Friday at noon Editor Walter Humphrey of the Fort Worth Press, and Saturday noon Jack Butler, editor of the Star-Telegram, made inspirational addresses.

May I assert that both addresses were above average, but the one made by Walter Humphrey excelled any inspirational speech to newspaper folks it has ever been my privilege to hear. He was the only speaker during the entire convention proceedings to get a standing ovation at the close.

I would certainly be unethical if I did not acknowledge the splendid tribute Editor Humphrey paid The Memphis Democrat's entire staff where two-thirds of my newspapering has taken place, and without such staff's assistance, my efforts would have been as nil.

In Monday's Fort Worth Press, Humphrey, under the Home Town Column, paid a tribute to all who follow the newspaper profession, as follows:

"Impressive Saturday to me were the honors paid to a dozen men in my profession who had served newspapers more than 50 years each . . . The Texas Press Assoc. called them forward at its Saturday luncheon and paid them the honor due them . . . One of them, my good friend, J. Claude Wells of Memphis, is celebrating his 60th year as an active newspaperman . . . He hasn't even thought about quitting . . . There were others like another old friend, O. C. Harrison of Seymour, who's been on the job for 57 years . . . I think this is tremendous, that men who love their jobs and their responsibility keep at those jobs so long and are happiest to keep going . . . You, see, they have so much yet to do, so many things to say, so many fields of service to keep cultivating . . . I didn't hear a word about retirement at this meeting of editors and publishers . . . After all, why should they? There still remains so much to do, and doing it is the greatest pleasure of life."

O. L. Dennis Passes State Plumbing Exam

Dennis has been working in the plumbing business in Memphis since January, 1962, and is associated with Bill Ballew Plumbing.

While in Austin, Dennis also took the plumbing inspectors examination, and is qualified to handle this job also.
