School Board Increases Assessed Evaluation For Memphis District

This Is A Warning!

A warning was officially issued this week by the Memphis City Council and the Memphis Police Department that violators of the following traffic and parking regulations will, if apprehended, receive tickets from law enforcement personnel:

1. Double parking or illegal parking while motorists carry on a conversation, blocking traffic.
 2. Violation of the 15 mile per hour speed limit on the square; and 20 mph on corners.
 3. No crossing of center parking stripes on square. Legal exits are available on three corners of the square. It is unlawful to exit from the southwest corner of the inside parking area.
 4. Tickets will be issued for running red lights located at the corners of 10th and Noel and 5th and Noel. Motorists must come to a complete stop at all stop signs.
 5. Speed zones on Highway 265 on Noel Street will be enforced.
 6. Parking must be done inside the markers and in the right direction.
 7. All residential streets are speed zoned to 30 mph. Around hospitals, churches and on the square are "quiet" zones and motorists are requested to not honk their horns in these areas.
 8. Motorists are reminded that left turns into the parking area at the Post Office when traveling west on Main are illegal.
- The Memphis Police Department and the Memphis City Council have been taking a long look at the violations of traffic regulations in Memphis and at their last regular meeting the council decided to crack down on violators.
- This warning is being issued by the council in the public interest to inform motorists of the primary offenses being noted in their study.

The Memphis School Board Monday night at their regular monthly meeting approved the 1963-64 budget at their public budget hearing.

In a called meeting Friday night, Aug. 9, the board passed the following motion, unanimously "that the assessed evaluation be increased to 41 percent and that the distribution be changed to 80 percent to local Maintenance Fund and 20 percent to go into Interest and Sinking Fund and that the rate remain at $1.40 per $100 valuation."

The board stated that the increase of 6 percent in assessed evaluation from 35 per cent to 41 per cent would bring in the necessary tax revenue to take care of the 1963-64 budget and help liquidate the short term indebtedness which has accumulated over the past several years.

The 1963-64 budget as approved totaled $354,089.00. A total of all local and state tax revenue to the district, with 100 per cent collections, is expected to be $356,367.00, it was announced.

In other action, the board awarded the gasoline contract to Gulf Oil Co. and the milk contract was divided between Goldsmith and Borden Companies.

A detailed account of the district's financial picture will be published at a later time.

Lynn McKown Explains Regulations Governing Soil Bank Land Grazing

Lynn L. McKown, Hall County ASCS Office Manager, this week explained the regulations governing the grazing and haying of Soil Bank and Diverted Acreage.

The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized grazing and haying for a limited period of time of land designated under the Soil Bank, Wheat Stabilization and Feed Grain Diverted Acres programs in Hall County subject to approval by the county ASC committee, he said.

"Regardless of news reports you may have read or heard, such use of this acreage without prior approval of the ASC county committee is a violation of program penalties for which specific regulations, forfeitures and refunds apply," McKown said.

"If you believe permission should be granted for you or some other person to graze or harvest hay on this land on your farm to alleviate a hardship by the unfavorable weather conditions in this area, please notify the county ASCS office immediately so that necessary steps for reaching a decision can be started. A deduction for the value of the grazing or haying will be made from your program payments if this permission is granted," he said.

The Hall County ASCS Committee met in a called meeting, Monday, Aug. 12, and determined the basic deduction for grazing soil bank or diverted acreage. The committee determined that the rate would not be less than $2.40 per acre for permission to graze through Oct. 31, 1963.

The deduction for haying shall not be less than $6.00 per acre and if hay is sold from this acreage the price shall not exceed $20.00 per ton.

The price charged by owners or operators of soil bank and diverted acreage for other persons to graze and hay their land, shall not exceed the appraised rate of deduction per acre by more than $1.50 per acre McKown said.

The winner of the contest will participate in the District Contest Sept. 7 in Amarillo.

Members of the committee include: Mrs. Robert Clark, chairman; Mrs. Wayne Hutcherson, Mrs. J. W. Longshore, Mrs. Cleo Parr, Mrs. H. A. Hodges, Mrs. Alvin Phillips, Mrs. James Moss, Mrs. Don Ferrell, Mrs. Brown Smith, Mrs. M. R. Long, Mrs. Arlie Shawhart, Mrs. Eddie Braidfoot and Mrs. Gus Oreatt.

Mr. Roper had been in failing health for several months, but his death came unexpectedly about 4:30 p. m. Wednesday afternoon at his home, 608 South 7th St.

Over 400 Attend Postex Hall Plant Open House

Over 400 persons were ushered through the Hall Plant of Postex Cotton Mills between 2:30 and 5:30 p. m. Tuesday in the plant's Open House here.

It was reported that 266 persons signed the guest registry.

All persons who attended were ushered through the huge plant, and observed a full force of workers at the equipment.

Present for the occasion was Charles Gibson, president of Burlington Industries Cotton Mills, of Greenville, S. C.

President Gibson said, "I certainly appreciate the efforts of the many people, who through the leadership of Mayor H. J. Howell and Clifford Farmer of the Chamber of Commerce helped us to open up the operation here.

"We think the best evidence of the confidence we have in Memphis and the people of this area is our willingness to go out and spend considerable money for a new, completely air conditioned plant," Mr. Gibson said.

"I was amazed at the large number of people present for the Open House, which is evidence of the interest in the growth of industry in this part of Texas.

"Our experience to date indicates that many people in this area have the dexterity and ability to learn the sewing operation. The biggest problem we have is training those already employed to have sufficient skill to meet productivity requirements common in the sheet and pillowcase business. It is not always easy for people who have lived in a largely agriculture community to adapt themselves to the requirements of modern day industry," Mr. Gibson said.

"There is plenty of room in the existing plant for expansion. The timing of this will depend upon expected continuing demand for goods and the ability to meet problems of the work force," he added.

Serving refreshments to those attending the Open House were Mrs. Douglas Sytles, Mrs. Kent Magness, Mrs. Fred Byerly, Mrs. Jack Beavers and Mildred Burgess.

"Regardless of news reports you may have read or heard, such use of this acreage without prior approval of the ASC county committee is a violation of program penalties for which specific regulations, forfeitures and refunds apply," McKown said.

"If you believe permission should be granted for you or some other person to graze or harvest hay on this land on your farm to alleviate a hardship by the unfavorable weather conditions in this area, please notify the county ASCS office immediately so that necessary steps for reaching a decision can be started. A deduction for the value of the grazing or haying will be made from your program payments if this permission is granted," he said.

"New Hot Check Law For Texas"

On August 24, 1963, in the State of Texas, a new hot check law with teeth in it is going into effect. This law is like the two-edged sword because it cuts both ways. The law was passed by the last session of the Texas Legislature and is an amendment to the Texas law governing fraudulent checks.

The law imposes much stiffer penalties and provides for much more effective enforcement than in the past. Not only does the new law cut deep when dealing with givers of hot checks but its two-way bite also imposes a penalty on businessmen . . . and others . . . who attempt to use the state's law enforcement machinery as a collection agency, by filing hot check charges against offenders and then, having collected the money or made satisfactory settlement, refuse to prosecute or try to have the charges dismissed.

Under the law, any person who files hot check charges and then "requests or suggests dismissal of charges after filing" is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500. In other words, don't bluff, if you file on a hot check, you'll have to go through with it.

But as Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record writes, "This could be a two-edged instrument, tho, which will help businessmen connect on those bouncing checks . . . as soon as the word gets around that when Hard-Hearted John really does file on those paper-hangers, he's not going to be able to turn soft, even if he wants to, when you go in with your hard-luck story and part-payment."

However, by far the sharpest side of the two-edged sword will be turned toward the offender. For the first-offender whose check is less than $50, the penalty on conviction will be not more than two years in the county jail and not more than $1,000 fine. On second conviction for hot checks "under $50" the penalty becomes not less than 30 days and not more than two years in the county jail, and fines not exceeding $2,000.

For third and subsequent offenses, the matter is a felony and the penalty if convicted is not less than two years nor more than ten years in the state penitentiary.

If a hot check is given for over $50, the first offense is a felony and the penalty is not less than two years . . . nor more than ten . . . in the penitentiary.

The new law also provides for more effective enforcement of the law with a new provision which provides that "all prosecutions and process serving" on any hot check case shall be the same as if the offense were of felony grade . . . which means that hot-checkers who dodge across state lines can be extradited . . . and compensation of witnesses at a trial shall be the same as if the offense were of felony grade.

This is intended to make it easier to bring the paper-hangers back to face trial . . . and easier to bring witnesses to the courtroom to testify against them. It's all a part of a movement to put as much heat under the check-writer as he puts on the check.

Business men in Memphis as well as over all the state are hurt annually with the worthless paper they are left holding at the year's end. We hope the new law will give some relief to this hot paper situation!

Science Manpower

The National Science Foundation has compiled figures which show that 2.7 million people in this country, approximately 3.5 per cent of the labor force, are working as scientists, engineers, technicians or teachers of science and mathematics.

The total is almost twice as high as in 1950 and three times what it was before World War II. There are expected to be 4 million about 5 per cent of the labor force, by 1970. The average annual growth rate in science and technology manpower since before the war has been about 5 per cent, compared with 1.5 per cent for population growth.

World War II and the unleashing of atomic power made Americans very conscious of the need and opportunities for people trained in science and technology. The Soviet Sputnik of 1957 and the beginning of the Space Age made them even more aware. As a result, a larger percentage of each year's crop of high school graduates is turning to careers in these fields. And the need for qualified teachers has skyrocketed.

Research and other activities related to national defense and the space program provide a large part of the employment opportunities, but private industry is the biggest employer, employing two of every five scientists and four of every five engineers and technicians. A third of the scientists are at colleges and universities, and most of the others work for the government.

Clearly, the country has made and is continuing to make great strides in overcoming its manpower deficiencies in these fields. Those who, only a few years ago, were deeply concerned about this country's shortage of persons trained in science and technology, especially engineering, can derive considerable gratification from the NSF figures.

Dr. Logan Wilson, president of the American Council on Education, believes that the country has enough talented people to meet the manpower needs in scientific fields for some years to come. The country's colleges and universities still are able to train them, although the smaller institutions are finding it hard to compete for qualified teaching personnel and to obtain the costly teaching equipment needed, with the result that the demands being made upon major universities to provide the trained manpower needed is much greater than it otherwise would be.

The increasing popularity of science and technology as fields for careers continues to worry some educators who are fearful that the country's "science kick" is the trend sometimes is described, is causing medicine, the arts and humanities to be neglected in the nation's educational system.

Dr. Wilson was quoted as saying recently: "We are caught up in a growing web of science and technology. Once it gets going, you can't stop it."

Possibly some day a saturation point will be reached in these fields with respect to manpower, but that point is nowhere in sight yet. And there are some who believe that it may never be reached. The outlook is for more and more people to be employed in these fields and for more and more scientific and technological progress to result.

Memphis Girl Scouts Enjoy Week's Camping At Ki-O-Wah Near Canadian

Memphis Girl Scouts leaders left Sunday, Aug. 11, for a week of camping at Ki-O-Wah near Canadian, Texas. Mrs. Glenn Bruce, Mrs. Paul Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Brode Hoover and Mrs. Brode Hoover and Jerry Elmont accompanied the group. All attended the First Church at Wheeler to have a picnic lunch at the City of Ki-O-Wah.

Particular interest to the camp was the waterfront. They enjoyed the swimming and canoe class. The girls were instructed in the morning and afternoon. The older girls took the art of swamping and emptying the water, re-empting the canoe to an upright position and getting back into it. This is quite an achievement.

Eight troops were encamped as individual troops with a total of fifty-four girls. Senior scouts Elmonette Branigan, Glenna Bruce, Diane Gailey, Ginger Greene, Amy Hillhouse, Regina Hoover, Susan McQueen, Laurel Pounds, and Carol Voyles, with Troop leader Florida Branigan and Intermediate scouts Susan Clark, Holly Clark and Perry Jo Glover with leader Rebecca Clark enjoyed the week.

Mrs. Glenn Bruce, Mrs. W. B. McQueen, Jr., Mrs. Gayle Greene, Ace Gailey and Jerry Burnett brought the group home Saturday. The only criticisms offered by any of the campers were that Mrs. Brode Hoover was unable to stay for the week and the girls would like to have had two weeks of the outing in order to take extended courses such as Lifesaving.

Lost Pines Naturalists

Plants and animal have a habitat and few survive long in conditions unsuited to their growth. This is the mystery to naturalists.

NEWLIN

By Mrs. Annie Hamilton
On Tuesday of last week I went to Childress and visited with Mrs. B. E. Rushing and Robert Elza. Mrs. Rushing spoke of how she used to memorize her home work in English, or maybe it was Language then, to and from school, how she walked through the pastures, over hill and dale, so to speak—to and from school. One time she had to memorize 14 pages of prose or poetry. I wonder if all our memories might be improved if we had to walk one, two or more miles twice each day by ourselves. If you do you surely don't have to worry about the next draft. School was out near where the Helms lived then.
Mrs. Will Smith has been feeling poorly these hot days, but reports she feels better now.

$27 MILLION

... has been spent recently for commercial construction in our service area.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

Recently published figures of industrial expansion in our service area reached a huge $28 million.

Add to that another vast expansion figure and you have an even more impressive total.

$27,000,000 was spent on new commercial construction and for expansion of existing businesses in the same time period, in the same WTU service area. This is why we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

Such industrial and commercial expansion, plus civic and other improvements, strengthen our conviction that this region faces growth unlimited.

Melvin Jennings Attends Special Course In Kansas

Melvin Jennings, Division Plant Superintendent, General Telephone Co. of the Southwest, Memphis, was among those graduated recently from the Management Development Program sponsored by the United States Independent Telephone Association in cooperation with the School of Business of the University of Kansas.

The program, designed to help executives do a more effective job in their current positions and to help them prepare for more challenging responsibilities, was planned by the personnel committee of the United States Independent Telephone Association and the University of Kansas School of Business, which presented the program.

Dr. James R. Surface, vice chancellor of the University of Kansas and former director of the USITA Management Program, in his greetings, said, "speaking from the point of view of the University, our association with the participants of each of these sessions has been a most pleasant and stimulating one; and, we hope that the relationship will continue."

Mr. Harris Allen, Chairman of the USITA Personnel Committee introduced the commencement speaker, Mr. Paul Henson, executive vice president, United Utilities, Incorporated, of Kansas City, Mo.

Early in his talk, Mr. Henson commenting about the need for professionalism remarked, "It should come as no surprise to this class of 1963 to hear the observation that you are all 'Marked Men.' You realize, of course, that the 49 members of this class represent some 2,800 independent operating companies. Perhaps you didn't realize that this class represents but 5/100 of 1 per cent of the approximately 100,000 persons employed in independent telephony. As easier way of saying this is that each of you are 1 in 2,000."

The core of Mr. Henson's remarks centered around the degree of professionalism that the independent telephone industry is continuing to develop. He further added, "we need much more. We need to develop inventiveness and ingenuity. We even need to encourage restlessness and dissatisfaction with that which smacks of the status quo. These qualities can be developed only in the mind that knows that it needs to gain more knowledge, the kind of minds in this audience."

Following the presentation of certificates of completion by director, Frank S. Pinet and assistant director, Roger L. Singleton, a reception was held for the graduates and their guests. Among the many guests present for the graduation ceremonies were families of the participants, former participants, and members and directors of the United States Independent Telephone Association.

Agnes Oliver and Gene Durham of Wichita Falls spent Friday night with Agne's mother, Mrs. J. W. Oliver.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:
Reading continues to be a great pleasure and part of our education. In a very deep sense we were off to a good start as children in school days when we were taught to read.

Immeasurably great is the joy of reading the Bible. Early in life, much pleasure also came in reading newspapers. Once in a while to find a very old copy as far back as 1892, or news in 1916, 17, 18, brings pleasure. It is a wonderful experience to read news of 1900, and to read the names of editors and contributors who wrote much that was valuable reading.

Today, we have the dailies and weekly newspapers from various sections of our Nation. When I was just a boy in Louisiana, I recall in certain papers a man by the name of Bill Arp, who wrote in such a way and style of his own that led me to want to read everything he wrote. Later on in life, such books as "Life on Lights Highway" by Dr. Wayland Hoyt, and others by Dr. Albert Banks, on "Christ and His Friends", "Peter and His Friends", plus on and on.

Mr. Editor: How wonderfully fine to read many of the great Poets. Read the names and history of the great Hymn writers. Often these days, as I write to broken-hearted people in many places, I find it in my heart to quote the words of Jesus when he said: "I will not leave you comfortless". "Lo, I am with you always".
Yes, read and keep reading. Read your local newspaper. It is fine if you select carefully you read.

Congratulations to you Editor, in giving to readers all over America good weekly, The Memphis Democrat. God bless all readers.

tions. Every American would wholeheartedly support such an admirable purpose. My quarrel with foreign aid is that as a weapon it has been entirely too costly for the results it has produced. The proof of this is so very obvious in many parts of the world where underdeveloped nations have been the victims of Communist infiltration. Our defense spending obviously has been effective in the Cold War. Despite my opposition to foreign aid, there is little doubt that it will be approved by the Congress. The reason is that it has wide support in both political parties and by American big business and labor. The support of the latter two groups is undoubtedly due to the fact that 89 percent of the dollars spent on foreign aid remain in the United States—and constitute a giant subsidy to both big business and labor.

I have received a number of inspiring letters on the topic "I Say YES! To America," the subject of what I hesitate to call a "contest." The purpose is to encourage patriotic expression, to encourage Panhandle citizens to think deeply and then express their feelings about their country. To each person who writes a letter I will send booklets explaining our legislative process and aspects of our government. To those who write the five best letters in four categories—grade school, junior and senior high school, and adult—I will send books containing inaugural addresses of all U. S. Presidents and explaining communism and the menace it poses. First place winners will receive U. S. Flags which have been flown over the Capitol. Letters should be post-marked by midnight, August 25. I have had some wonderful letters—and several that sadden me, such as the one from a resident who wrote: "I have nothing to be proud of in America. I am ashamed to the core."

I liked these two sentences from another letter: "Old Glory will continue to wave. Free men, in the sight of God, will have it no other way."

Dates Announced For Boys Ranch Annual Rodeo

The largest crowds in the history of the famed Boys Ranch Rodeo are expected at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch over the Labor Day weekend, September 1 and 2, when the 312 boys now being cared for hold their 19th annual event.

To accommodate the holiday crowds, the rodeo arena seating capacity has been expanded with the construction of 81 new concrete reserved boxes made possible by the Ranch's neighbor, the Texas Sand and Gravel Company, donating materials. The older boys worked on much of the construction as part of their vocational training. The new boxes will provide front row seats for more than 500 spectators with four, six and eight seats in a box.

The Boys Ranch Rodeo is the only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which boys are the only contestants. Riding professional rodeo stock, they attract larger crowds each year with more than 7,000 attending last year's two performances. It is fast-moving entertainment as older boys ride bucking broncs, Brahma bulls and steers while the younger Ranchers take on the calves. All of the boys have some part in the rodeo.

Sammy Carter of Memphis will be riding the steers this year. A rapid sale of reserved box seat tickets is expected by Boys Ranch officials and advance orders are being taken at the Ranch headquarters in Amarillo. The reserved box seats are $2.50, which includes all admission charges. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75c for children and servicemen in uniform. Proceeds from the rodeo will be used for the Ranch's expansion program.

Freemasonry was introduced into the American Colonies before 1730.
