Cotton Classing Office To Open Here Sept. 30

Monday, Sept. 30, marks the opening of the fifth season for the Memphis Cotton Classing Office, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Operated by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, this office classes cotton for farmers in 11 West Texas counties: Briscoe, Carson, Gray, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Donley, Hall, King, Motley and Wheeler.

Kermit E. Voelkel, who has been with the AMS cotton division for 32 years, will be in charge of the Memphis office for the third season.

"Last year, we classed 203,115 bales of cotton under the Smith-Doxey program," Mr. Voelkel said.

Cotton from 56 gins goes to the Memphis office, which has facilities for classing about 5,000 samples per day.

Early ginned cotton in the Memphis territory was classed in Altus. Should a farmer want a review on any of these classifications, the request for review and samples should be sent to Memphis, according to Voelkel.

Cotton is classed without cost for farmers belonging to organized Smith-Doxey cotton improvement groups.

Farmers who know the grade and staple of their cotton are in a good position to get the best market price for it.

"That is why farmers in this area have nearly all of their cotton classed by USDA," Voelkel said.

In addition to classing cotton, the AMS cotton office releases every Friday the "Texas-Oklahoma Cotton Market Review," describing local, state and national market conditions, trends and quotations, plus facts on picking, defoliating, machine harvesting and ginning.

During the harvesting season, AMS issues a cotton quality report by classing offices every Monday and a quality report by districts, monthly.

During the ginning season, it releases a cottonseed review every Thursday.

Persons wanting these cotton reports can get them without cost by writing to Mr. Voelkel, 221 Noel St., Memphis, Texas, 79245.

'Wizard Of Oz' Play Opens Mon.

By BILL COMBS

If you enjoy mystery, fantasy, and entertaining songs, all woven around a beautiful setting and a well-known and loved story, then you should not miss the Wizard of Oz production. It will be presented Monday and Tuesday nights at the Memphis High School Auditorium by the High School Band and Thespian Troupe.

Admission is $1.00 for reserve seats 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for students. The opening curtain will go up both nights at 7:30 p. m.

Cyclone To Travel To Sanford-Fritch Friday

The Memphis Cyclone will travel to Sanford-Fritch Stadium Friday night where the Cyclone and the Eagles will clash in what promises to be a real good football game.

The crippled but spirited Memphis team will match wits, speed and strength with the Eagles in the fourth game of the season for both clubs. The Eagles defeated Booker last week, tied Canadian the week before and lost heavily to Stinnett. Early predictions had the Eagles near top in their district ratings and they will probably be picked the favorite.

The Eagles utilize a straight T offense and their key threat is a hard running halfback, No. 40, Marcum, who weighs 180 pounds. Captains for the Eagles include: Whaley, Rawlins and Scott.

Other starters for the Eagles include: Stottlemire, Stevens, Ikert, Scott, Luersen, Watkins and Weaver.

The Cyclone will have a slight speed advantage but will be giving up about 10 pounds per man in the weight department.

Cyclone Coach Charley Chambliss said Wednesday after work-out, "our kids hit real hard today . . . this was one of our best workouts."

"Sanford-Fritch got their first taste of victory last week, and I expect them to be real tough before their home fans Friday night. They have a senior ball club, with 15 seniors on the squad. This is the first time their school has had seniors; so these boys have been on the A team since they were freshmen," the coach added.

When the Cyclone leaves Friday, they will leave three uniforms of the r 22 behind. Nineteen boys will make the trip.

Offensive starters for the Cyclone will be: No. 87 James Odom, No. 80 Larry Helm, No. 79 Jerry Lowe, No. 71 Jerry Beasley, No. 66 Richard Ellis, No. 63 Larry Wynn, No. 55 Donnie Bridges, No. 18 Jimmy Sturdevant, No. 17 Toby Crooks, No. 45 Mike Crow, and No. 11 Jack Stargel.

James Waites, the Cyclone's utility back, who has played halfback, fullback and quarterback for the team this season, received a shoulder separation in the Memphis-Friona game last week, and will be out of uniform for several weeks.

Jack Stargel, who has seen only limited action the past two weeks due to a muscle injury, will be back in the lineup.

Also expected to see a lot of action are B. H. Cook, Mike Branigan and Bobby Carroll.

Lesley Baptists To Have Revival Meeting Soon

Revival services will begin Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Lesley Baptist Church with Dr. John H. Traylor of Plainview as evangelist.

Services will be held daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. through Oct. 6.

Rev. Traylor, a native of Louisiana, is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Mechanical Engineering and has both the B. D. and Th. D. degree from the New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

After three pastorates in Louisiana and Alabama, he has been pastor of College Heights of Plainview for four years. He is evangelistic at heart and message and is widely used in revivals and evangelistic crusades. Last spring he preached in evangelistic crusades in Korea and toured many of the mission fields of Southern Baptist around the world.

Jack Willard Wright, Jr., of Plainview will be the evangelistic singer. He is a graduate of Plainview High School and a student at Wayland Baptist College. He is widely known as both preacher and singer and leads in Youth Revivals.

The pastor, C. A. Butler, extends to the public a cordial invitation to attend all the services.

Services Are Held Wednesday For Ed Murdock

Mr. Murdock passed away Sunday, Sept. 22, at 5:15 p. m. in a local hospital. He was a farmer and resided eight miles west of Memphis. He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

CHECKING SAMPLES—Shown above is Dr. Riley Eaton testing a blood sample for brucellosis in the mobile lab which was set up early this week on South 5th St. It will take approximately five weeks to check the cattle herds in Hall County.

Brucellosis Lab Unit Arrives Here Mon.

The Brucellosis Mobile Lab No. 4 arrived in Memphis early this week from Lubbock to begin the long job of testing all cattle herds in Hall County.

Dr. Riley D. Eaton of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Animal Disease Eradication Division, said Wednesday that the Mobile Lab will be in Hall County approximately five weeks and it was their mission to test all herds on a purely volunteer basis.

"On big herds we will test the first 50 head, or 20 per cent of the entire herd, depending on whichever figure is higher," Dr. Eaton said.

Testing is on a volunteer basis, however, 90 days after Hall County filed its petition, which will be October 15, 1963, the state law will become effective in this county requiring that each animal herd be tested for brucellosis, Dr. Eaton said.

Schedules are being made up now by Sheriff Elmer Neel and Deputy Sheriff Clyde Rogers of Turkey for the herds to be tested. Farmers and ranchers desiring to

Thomas Clayton Is Fire Dept. Tgn. Officer

Thomas Clayton was named new training officer of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department Monday evening by the members at their regular business meeting at the City Hall.

The firemen also revised their Constitution and By-Laws.

Article XV reads: "Article XV shall be amended to read: Duties of the training officer. Section 1, it shall be the duty of the training officer to plan and supervise all training activities of the department."

"Section 2, the training officer shall have the privilege and authority to appoint such assistants as he may deem necessary to carry out an adequate training program for the department."

"Section 3, it shall be the duty of the training officer to analyze the operation of the department and to use such analysis to further the training program of the department."

The amendment created the new position of training officer, which Clayton now fills.

Present officers are: M. C. Allen, president; Ed Hutcherson, first vice president; J. J. McDaniel, second vice president; Tom Posey, chaplain; Dr. H. R. Stevenson, medical officer; Chr's Linton, mascot; Keith Cunningham, sergeant-at-arms; Kenneth Dale, chief; Glen Bruce, assistant chief; Charlie Grice, captain; Elmer Neel, captain; Bill Leslie, treasurer; Bill G. # New Studebaker Now On Display

The new 1964 Studebakers went on display Tuesday at Brewer Studebaker, Highway 287 North, and in dealer showrooms over the nation.

"The 1964 Studebaker is different . . . by design," Johnnie Brewer said in making the announcement. "It is different from any other car. We are an independent company, with independent ideas. We think the small cars are too cramped and flimsy; the big cars are too expensive and hard to maneuver. This thinking has been built in the new Studebakers."

The full line for 1964 includes 16 models in convertibles, hardtops, 2 and 4-door sedans, station wagons and the sliding-door Wagonaire. Also available are six engines, from the thrifty six to the supercharged Avanti V-8.

Engineering quality that means economy, performance and value to the car buyer, are some of the features, Brewer said. There is extra safety of racing-type disc brakes that stop when soaking wet; fully padded dashboard, safety of Armor Guard frame.

Also available are seven record breaking engines, even a supercharged. The station wagon has a slide-roof for high loads.

Special emphasis is being placed on the hidden beauty of the Studebaker ride.

In the Cruiser — big on luxury and family appeal — is plenty of headroom, leg room with stretch-out comfort on coil spring, foam-rubber seats. It is powered with the Thunderbolt 289 V-8 engine. The Daytona features a 159 cu. in. V-8 engine, with luxurious interiors and special features.

In the low-priced Studebakers are the Lark Challenger and Commander. They are equipped with features which family cars should have, yet priced with budgets in mind.

They come with 15-in. wheels, padded dash if desired; with efficient 6 or V-8 engines.

The Wagonaire is a 3-in-1 car, Brewer said. It's a wagon-convertible with a slide-open roof. Available with Skybolt 6 or V-8 engines.

Other features include wrap-around bumpers, full flow oil filter, and lifetime propeller shaft, U-joint lubrication, climitzter, tinted glass, power steering, power brakes, hill-holder, twin-traction, air conditioner, and many others.

A cordial invitation has been extended to citizens of this area to drive out and inspect the new 1964 Studebakers by the local dealer.

About 21 per cent of the male and 66 per cent of the female population over 30 have never smoked. Almost 50 per cent of the men who smoke and 72 per cent of the women smoke filter tips.

TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT EXPANDS ANTI-LITTER CAMPAIGN

The Texas Highway Department has added two new methods to its continuing anti-litter campaign: a cartoon character printed on its Official Highway Travel Map and revised highway signs reminding drivers they can be fined from $10 to $200 for littering. The cartoon character, "The Litter Longhorn," pleads with the public to "Help Stomp Out Litter." The sign emphasizes that it is against the state law to litter. In 1962 the Highway Department had to spend $1.4 million to pick up litter, an increase of about a hundred thousand dollars over 1961.

Mrs. M. G. Tarver Attends Church Meet In New York

Mrs. M. G. Tarver returned Monday from a national meeting of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, including America's two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii.

This was an unprecedented meeting, with all conference presidents and treasurers, jurisdiction officers and officers of the Woman's Division and staff in attendance, Sept. 18 through 21 at Division Headquarters, 475 Riverside Drive, New York.

The purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the 25th observance of the organization of the Woman's Society and Wesleyan Service Guild in 1965; reviewing the past work of the organization, the changing pattern of progress and needs arising from the change, and how these can be met in the future.

There are 98 conferences in the Division, and there was a percentage of attendance, Tarver said. About 360 were held at Church Center for Nations, Riverside Church, 475 Riverside Drive. The Church Center was formally dedicated, with an impressive Sunday afternoon, Sept. 22.

Mrs. Tarver planned for some extra time in New York for sightseeing in the city which included many attractions. Mrs. M. L. Hines, conference president, Mrs. Cecil Matlock, jurisdiction officer and Mrs. C. Coffee, division office manager, Lubbock were other New York Conference women.

Face powder has brought end to more single men the powder.

Area Sets Trend For A&M's Research Extension Program

...trend in agricultural research and education is taking place in Texas, according to W. ... county agent.

...forecast is for fewer, but better equipped experiment stations and more close-to-home demonstrations to test research findings, he added.

...the pace for things to come is a unique organization of farmer-ranchers, business groups and agricultural agents called the Northwest Research-Demonstration Center. Its activities are centered in a three-county area of the Panhandle.

...movement started in 1956 in Collingsworth and Hall counties as Texas A&M University established a local research station. No one could have predicted their need because the research units were about as far away where different soil conditions pre-facilities and additional technical personnel that a new substation would require, Hooser explained.

Sponsored jointly by the Extension Service and Experiment Station, the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program was originally organized in 1957. Hall County joined the effort, and the program got off the ground in March with the employment of Duane L. Scott, a young Collingsworth County farmer, as farm demonstration assistant.

The program operates within the framework of local program building committees, but everyone is in the act, Hooser pointed out. Farmer-rancher advisory groups kept research scientists at Chillocothe, Lubbock and Bushland informed of problems that need attention and help select suitable demonstration sites to evaluate new developments for local use. USDA and State experiment station scientists, with the help of Extension subject matter specialists, design and layout on-the-farm test plots. Soil conservation districts provide many items of scarce equipment and 20 commercial firms joined together to provide needed seed, fertilizer and herbicides. Bankers, service clubs, chambers of commerce, Farm Bureau, vocational agriculture teachers, county agents and local USDA personnel lend a helping hand.

Last year, 27 demonstrations were carried out on 23 cooperating farms. In them, farmers learned—and taught their neighbors—how to knock out bindweed and Johnson grass, control mesquite, lick the alpha aphid, use fertilizer efficiently and select the best hybrids and varieties for efficient crop production.

The program also has shown that A & M officials were on the right track in seeking a more efficient way to serve the people of Texas, Hooser pointed out. Plans now are underway to select key locations representing major crop producing areas, to develop them into well equipped, completely staffed research-extension centers, and to expand on-the-farm research demonstrations.

No wholesale abandonment of field stations is planned, Hooser said. Some will close while others likely will be retained for out-field experiments and demonstrations. Technical personnel now at these stations will be used to strengthen staffs at the new research-extension centers.

"Our hats are off to the progressive people of Collingsworth, Wheeler and Hall Counties," said R. E. Patterson, A & M's dean of agriculture and Experiment Station director. "This new approach which they have pioneered so successfully will make it possible for us to utilize available funds, personnel and other resources far more effectively in the years to come."

The illegitimate live birth rate, 23 per 1,000 unmarried females (aged 15 to 44) in 1961, was three times higher than that in 1940, and more than one and a half times as high as in 1950 (14 per 1,000).

90 per cent, by weight, of a yearly growth of grass plants can be grazed without serious damage to the root system. Stubble height can be used to some extent in determining when a plant is properly used. However, due to changing climate conditions, grass production varies considerably from year to year and stubble height alone cannot be used as a measuring stick for proper range use.

On all rangeland there are key grasses that can tell you when the range is being grazed properly. This grass is usually the high producer, the most used by livestock. It is your best grass. Keep an eye on it. Proper use of key grasses result in range improvement and more livestock production.

Any reduction in the number of roots of the grass plant reduces the number of "pipelines" that transport water and minerals from the soil to the plant. If the root system becomes short as a result of excessive top growth, the plant cannot pump water from the deep moisture, which is necessary during drought periods. When this occurs, the plant goes dormant or even may die due to a lack of water supply.

Friona Chiefs Outrun Cyclone Friday 33-14

The Friona Chiefs brought too many big guns with them Friday night, exploded to an early lead, and clinched their third victory of the season at the expense of the Memphis Cyclone here, 33-14.

The Cyclone, out-weighted about 10 pounds per man, found the Chiefs to be fast and slippery ball carriers early in the game, with the Friona backs scoring the first three times they got their hands on the ball.

The Chiefs went to work, defensively, holding the Cyclone short of a first down, after the opening kickoff. On the fourth down, a poor snap from the Memphis center, resulted in a partially blocked punt that went about 10 yards.

On Friona's first play, Halfback Everett Gee carried through the Cyclone defense, and scampered 20 yards for the first score. The place kick by Doug Dodd was missed.

Cyclone Halfback James Wa'tes returned the kickoff to the Memphis 17. Fb Mike Crow made 4 yards on a carry, but on the second down, a fumble in the Memphis backfield resulted in a lost ball and Friona was set up for their second score.

It took the Chiefs 8 plays to cover 23 yards, before HB Gee carried over to make the score 12-0. The place kick attempt was missed.

Toby Crooks returned the kickoff to the Memphis 23. On the first play, Crooks slipped through the Chief's defense and almost got loose from the secondary for a gain of 17 yards. The Cyclone marched on down to the Chief's 33 before a fumble lost the ball.

The Chiefs went to the air, and Qb Gary Renner passed complete to End S. D. Baize for a 67-yard TD play. Dodd kicked the extra point, and the score was 19-0.

Memphis was next to get into the scoring column, when Toby Crooks snatched a Friona pass on about the Chief's 35 and raced to the 8 yard line before being stopped. On the next play, FB Mike Crow carried over for the score. He also blasted his way over for the two-point attempt, and the score was 19-8.

The Chiefs came back after the kickoff and marched down the field to score. The score was set up by a pass from QB Renner to End Baize, giving Friona the ball on the 2-yard line. QB Renner carried over on an end sweep and Dodd place-kicked the extra point making the score 26 to 8 at half-time.

After the half, the Friona team developed fumbleitis, losing the ball six times to the Cyclone.

About midway in the third period, Friona got a drive underway. The drive carried 81 yards on 10 plays and HB Gee went over for the score. Dodd kicked the extra point, making the score 33-8.

The Cyclone started a drive in the fourth quarter when Quarterback Sturdevant hit End Larry Helm with a 30-yard pass. But Friona stopped the Cyclone only inches short of a first down on the next series.

The Chiefs took over on their 36, and marched down to the Cyclone 10 before losing the ball on a fumble.

Memphis punted out of the hole and a Friona fumble resulted in a Cyclone recovery on the 39.

On the second down, Quarterback Sturdevant threw to End Jim Odom, who out-ran the Friona secondary to the goaline. The extra point try was no good, and the final score was 33-14.

People Buy Newspapers Because They Want All The News

They are as much interested in the advertising columns as the news columns because advertising is the news of what is available in goods and services at the stores they know.

1913 Study Club Enjoys Brunch Wed.

Members of the 1913 Study Club enjoyed a "Mayflower Brunch" Wednesday morning, Sept. 18, in the home of Mrs. L. G. DeBerry with Mrs. Richard Avery serving as co-hostess.

Members gathered at the DeBerry home at 9:30 a. m. to be greeted by the hostesses, who were costumed as pilgrims. As each member arrived, she was given a yearbook which was her ticket to board the "Mayflower."

Decor throughout the entertaining room further accented the chosen theme. Noted on the buffet in the dining room was a miniature ship depicting the Mayflower with pilgrims ready to board the ship.

Virginia Browder introduced the program with her president's message, "United We Stand."

"When the Pilgrims landed in Plymouth, Mass., in 1620, the two most vital things they brought with them were their tools and their seeds. With the tools they built a home out of the wilderness; the seeds they planted and nurtured to give them food and clothing. Fortunately for us, their descendants, they also planted the seeds of truth, justice and righteousness," she said in her opening remarks.

"With them, too, came tools of another sort, spiritual tools, with which to build their spiritual home. There was the hammer of courage to drive them on in the face of peril, the machete of determination to slash the wilderness of indecision, the ax of understanding, and, above all the shield of faith... faith in the love and compassion of God. These people were our forefathers and, of these things, they wrought our American birthright."

The president concluded by saying, "So long as we make good use of our heritage of 'spiritual tools' so long as we believe in God and ourselves will this country remain the 'land of the free and the home of the brave,' 50 strong states united."

Mrs. T. M. Harrison, program chairman, discussed "The Potential of Our American Heritage." She pointed out that patriotism has not outlived its usefulness. On the contrary these times call for the highest kind of patriotism—the kind found on a real understanding of the American ideal. A dedicated belief in the principles of freedom and a determination to perpetuate America's heritage.

She explained that the club's program for the coming year is "Our American Heritage from Sea to Shining Sea," and the objective of the series of programs is to re-evaluate the American heritage.

During the next nine months, Americanism, education, international problems and conditions, racism, religion, a musicale presented by Mmes. Millard Word and Frank Phelan of Clarendon; a quick look at the Common Market; a review of "An Informal History of Texas" by Frank Tolbert, presented by Mrs. Ed Hutcherson and an exchange program with the Delphian Club; "The Romantic History of Glass" by Mildred Stephens will be included in the regular club meetings, Mrs. Harrison said.

Walker of Plainview will be guest speaker with a travelogue film entitled "Greece, Cradle of Western Liberty." The year's programs will be concluded with "A Futurama Luncheon" in the home of the president, Mrs. Browder, assisted by Mrs. Frank Foxhall.

Interesting highlights on Holiday Happenings were given by members as the roll call for the day.

At the conclusion of the program, members were served a delicious brunch from an attractively laid table centered with an arrangement of seasonal flowers. The menu included ham loaf, deviled eggs, crescent rolls, stuffed tomatoes, a fruit plate and orange date cake and coffee.

W. S. Heatly Is Guest Speaker at Delphian Dinner

Members of the Delphian Club entertained their husbands and invited guests at the Country Club barbeque chicken dinner, Sept. 17, with Mrs. W. S. Heatly as special hostess.

The dinner was served at 7:30 p. m. and guests were seated at six arranged on the sun porch. Arrangements for the day were made by Mrs. W. C. Dickey, speaker table.

is unusual for the same person to serve as chairman of the Appropriations Committee more than once as that in saying "no" to requests does not make for popularity. The speaker brought interesting and timely information about where the tax dollar comes from and where it is spent.

He listed the following four sources in the order of income derived from each: gasoline, 5 cents on the gallon; sales tax; crude oil tax and alcohol, 1.3 cents per bottle.

This year a total of one and one-half billion dollars will be spent on the 143 agencies in Texas with 85 per cent going to five major agencies: public welfare, education, higher education, highways, and hospitals, while all the other agencies such as Fish and Game Commission, Public Safety, Health, etc., is financed with the remaining 15 per cent.

The Welfare Department includes: old age assistance, dependent children, the disabled and the blind, he pointed out.

Texas has 20 colleges and universities in addition to two medical schools. A third medical school is soon to be built in San Antonio and it will make Texas the only state to have more than two medical schools with the exception of New York.

The highways of Texas include 33,000 miles of farm-to-market roads; 2800 miles of state highways; and 2000 miles of interstate highways. The modern six-lane highway requires an annual maintenance of $611 per mile.

Representative Heatly commented that cutting down must come where spending is done, and he asked the question, "Who wants to cut down on welfare, education, highways or hospitals?"

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Martin, Mrs. T. T. Harrison of Lubbock, Mrs. Verabel Rountree, Mrs. W. B. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Hulda Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith, Mrs. R. H. ## Atalanteans Enjoy Breakfast Meeting

The home of Miss Imogene King, 423 South Eighth Street, was the setting for the opening meeting of the Atalantean Club on Wednesday morning, Sept. 18, when members met at 9:30 a. m. for a lovely buffet breakfast.

The invocation was given by Miss Gertrude Rasco after members enjoyed a traditional breakfast of creamed ham, miniature biscuits, doughnuts, date muffins, melon balls, frosted fruit, jelly, butter and coffee.

Preceding the business session, members answered roll call with "When I Joined the Club." There were three charter members present: Mrs. W. C. Dickey, Mrs. C. W. Kinslow and Mrs. D. A. Neely.

New yearbooks were distributed and the theme of study presented to the club by Mrs. K. B. Chick. The theme is "Twenty Keys on a Chain" representing 18 key programs, each member being a key member, and the last key representing a Key Club.

In keeping with the theme the first program was "Looking Through the Keyhole" with a "Forward Look" given by the new president, Mrs. Earl Allen.

"In looking forward to this 1963-64 Atalantean year, it might be well for us to take a brief look backward to see what has happened to the world around us, and just where we, as Atalanteans, fit into that picture," Mrs. Allen said in introducing her topic.

"The world we now live in is a far cry from the sphere on which this club was organized 35 years ago. In these past three decades man has risen to the highest technical and scientific pinnacles in all of civilization's history. Yet despite all his material accomplishments—man has yet to learn the secret of living WITH. He has failed both to live with others and to live with himself.

"So it becomes the challenge with which I confront the Atalantean Club for the coming year. For our study topic, 'Twenty Keys on a Chain,' so ably chosen by our program committee—I challenge myself and each of you to learn to live in our changing world. In our course of study for this year I sincerely hope we can re-group the virtues which have served us so well in the past and apply them in full measure to the knowledge and actions stimulated by 'Twenty Keys on a Chain.'

"Keys, figuratively speaking, are the most important facet in our lives. Without them we can enter nowhere. With the right key we can enter anywhere. The one key we must strive to have and keep is, 'The Key to Vision.'

"No club can long survive without an understanding mind and a vision of what the future may hold. True problems change, but the principals that govern the solution of the problems do not. The laws of God and nature have no date line. The Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments are not out of date. My hopes and prayers for this club will be that we will take what we learn and transfer it to service to others, in our families, our community and its institutions," Mrs. Allen concluded.

Enjoying the meeting were two new members, Mrs. Fred Byerly and Mrs. Kent Magnus, and Mmes. Earl Allen, D. H. Aronofsky, Milton Beasley, K. B. Chick, J. W. Coppage, O. M. Cosby, Jr., W. C. Dickey, Roy Jewell, L. C. Martin, Robert Philpot, W. R. Scott, Robert Sexauer, C. W. Kinslow, D. A. Neely, J. A. Odom, Myrtis Phelan, Miss Gertrude Rasco; two guests, Mrs. May Hayes, Lubbock, and Mrs. T. T. Harrison of Lubbock, a former member of the club, and hostess, Mrs. King.

Other activities have kept us from having a "look-n" on rehearsals now underway on "Wizard of Oz" at the High School Building. But, Son Bill who spent two evenings photographing the production for publicity, tells us it's going to be one of the best productions ever presented by the student group. Dress rehearsals were held on Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. In fact, the students have been working on the play for six weeks.

Also, the parents have spent considerable time and money in making appropriate costumes for the character to be properly portrayed. Mrs. Guthrie and Bill Bradley have worked hard directing the play... so let's all make it a point to see the production either Monday or Tuesday night, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

Among new residents in Memphis are Mr. and Mrs. Julius F. Neel and two daughters, who have moved here from Amarillo. Despite difficulty in finding a house and having part of their furniture misplaced en route, the Neels are about to get settled. Mrs. Neel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Milam and was reared here. Friends welcome them back to Memphis.

You might say she was "up in the air" a week before departing, awaiting the arrival of her third grandchild... little Dale Kent managed to arrive on schedule just four days before she departed. Dale is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tarver, who reside at Lutie, located between Wellington and Shamrock.

Other Memphians who have enjoyed a vacation by jet to another part of the country are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams. They left by plane a week ago from Amarillo for a trip to Spokane, Wash., and other points in the Northwest.

a pit of self-indulgence through the neglect of those things which made our people a great people in years past? Today we indulge in cheap novels, cheap pictures and television programs, over-emphasis on sex in everything, and the social prodding of our youngsters before they are hardly out of kindergarten.

In the years of our grandparents, leisure was a costly thing and usually well spent in the study of the Bible or some classic literature from which inner-strength and courage could be gained. Theirs was not an attempt to escape from the rigors of life but to be drawn more circumspectly into it, where its full force and meaning could be experienced at the highest mental plane, not the lowest.

When was the last time any of us indulged in any cultural self-advancement? We can only solve the problem by starting with No. 1, not our neighbor.

Golf Tournament, Picnic Supper Planned For Sat.

A mixed team golf tournament will be held at the Memphis Country Club Saturday, Violet McQueen, golf chairman, announced this week. That evening a covered dish dinner will be served followed by a putting contest.

All members of the club are invited to participate in the golf tournament. Golfers are asked to be at the club house at 10 a. m. Teams will be chosen at that time and the tournament will get underway. The tournament will consist of 18 holes.

Members do not have to enter the tournament to attend the dinner that evening. All club members are invited to the putting contest and picnic supper, which will be at 7 o'clock. Those who attend are asked to bring a covered dish.

Dr. Eaton explained that when a herd is signed up to be tested, only one technician goes to the herd. This technician can also vaccinate calves for Bangs disease at the same time. Farmers and ranchers are asked to have sufficient personnel on hand to handle the cattle so the blood samples can be taken without too much delay.

Normally, about 80 per cent of all cattle in the county have to be tested under this program, Dr. Eaton said.

It was explained that four men will work in the field taking samples. These include: William Wilkinson and Floyd Morgan, who arrived with the lab this week, and Robert Streit and Mack Tiner, who will join the lab next Monday.

The mobile lab is located at the mountain maintenance barn, located on South 5th Street. Dr. Eaton asked that anyone needing further information concerning the program to call him at 259-2016. However, those desiring a time to have their cattle tested, should contact Sheriff Neel or Deputy Rogers.

The testing of the herds is free, Dr. Eaton explained.

Plastic Ribbons Are Good For Catching Fish

Fisheries biologist, Lou Guerra, has come up with some interesting, though not necessarily conclusive, information on trotline baits, according to K. C. Jurgens, inland fisheries supervisor at Rockport for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

In an effort to determine the success of introducing salt water redfish into Casa Blanca Lake at Laredo, Guerra fished with trotlines and an assortment of natural and artificial baits.

Natural baits such as cut fish and live perch produced the usual catch one would expect in fresh water, such as channel catfish and soft shelled turtle.

Since redfish are caught in salt water with little strips of highly colored plastic ribbons for bait, these, too, were tried. Neither the natural baits nor the plastic ribbon in four colors produced redfish, but Guerra discovered something which may have opened up a new field for fresh water trotlines.

The red plastic ribbon caught nothing, but the blue plastic caught both blue and yellow catfish. The orange ribbon caught channel catfish and carp and the yellow caught large mouth bass and blue catfish.

"No conclusions are intended," Jurgens said, "but it is of interest that, on the basis of the information that is presently available, the plastic ribbon tape commonly used by trotliners on the Coast has been successful in taking several species of fresh water fish."

What Happened To The SR 63 Gift?

By Kay Stinsman

The Senior class of '63 presented M. H. S. with the unique gift of a sign which should read "Home of the Cyclones".

Although the sign was presented in May, it has not been placed in front of the school as yet.

The "Home of the Cyclones" sign would encourage the student body to take more pride in our school. The sooner we get the sign the better.

What is taking so long? It shouldn't be that difficult a task, if someone will get the job done.

First Aid For The Victory Bell

By Kay Stinsman

Can we patch the crack in the spirit of our victory bell?

Do we appreciate it? For a while we did. The bell was a big thing, but like many other things the spirit of the bell died away. Now it sits out at the football field in the rain. No one takes the time to polish it, or even take it out of the weather.

The football boys as well as the student body look forward to the ringing of the victory bell. It should be a symbol of M. H. S., a symbol to be very proud of. How about placing it in the front hall so everyone that walks in can see it. Let's get the bell to all the games and pep rallies.

School Bus Traffic Law Is Emphasized

By Frances Myers

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school through Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be waiting beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist or both, were careless.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear of a bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense

From A Girl's Point Of View

By Janice Pounds

The girls come back this week with their views on boys.

Pamela Lindsey: "I dislike rudeness in a boy. Ambition is a quality I admire. A boy should know where he is going in life—and not be afraid to admit his ambition."

Kay Wines: "I don't like for a boy to talk or brag about himself, nor do I like impoliteness. I like for a boy to be interested in me; to do what I like to do. He should be sensible and at the same time, have a sense of humor."

Susan McQueen: "I like boys with blue or brown eyes and blond hair. As most girls have an image of a boy I, too, have mine. But, even before looks I want a boy with personality and ambition. Also, I look for a boy with a down-to-earth attitude about life and doesn't think the world is just for him and he can do anything he wishes. A boy shouldn't be lazy or self-centered."

Kay Stinsman: "I like boys who are fun and who like to date without getting serious. I don't like boys who have a 'line' for every girl. I like boys who dress casually and act casually." Dianne Gailley: "I like a boy to be understanding, sincere, to take pride in everything he does, to have a sense of humor, and to have firm religious convictions. I like a boy who is not a follower of the crowd. I like someone who has original ideas and isn't afraid to voice his opinion."

Memphis High Band Elects Four Favorites

The band favorite voting for the 1963-64 season ended in ties between Ronald Pate and Jerry Burleson for the boys, and Kay Wines and Lynn Foxhall, for the girls.

The winners will be crowned at the McLean game, it was announced.

The band members announced that ticket sales are in full blast for the "Wizard of Oz" presentation, which the members are co-sponsoring with the Thespian Society.

The members of the student body who have bought tickets are asked to wear the signs they were given.

The band has been given their choice of solos to play for the contest. Freshmen must play a solo, while the upper class members are not obligated to play one, members announced.

Members of the band also have the opportunity to play for entrance into the All-Region Band this week. Memphis is allowed to take 20 this year, and already there have been over this number signed up, which means try-outs again this year.

Homework, Or No Homework

School has started, and the curricular and extra-curricular aspects are the chief topic of discussion here as every where else. However, it doesn't take long after school starts for the annual debate to begin among parents, pupils and teachers, over the merits of homework.

The students are always against it, the parents are divided and the teachers either like it or dislike it, and give it out in varying amounts. And, it seems that the older the student is, the more homework there is to do.

We have just read an article in the current issue of the Texas Outlook, the teachers magazine, which both defended and attacked homework. Written by a Mrs. Fowler, the subject of homework is approached from the angle of a teacher and a parent, as she is both.

Following are some of her ideas: Homework has become a bugaboo in our modern day routine of living, and the question of whether to give or not to give homework has become a sort of controversial bouncing ball which teachers bat about among themselves.

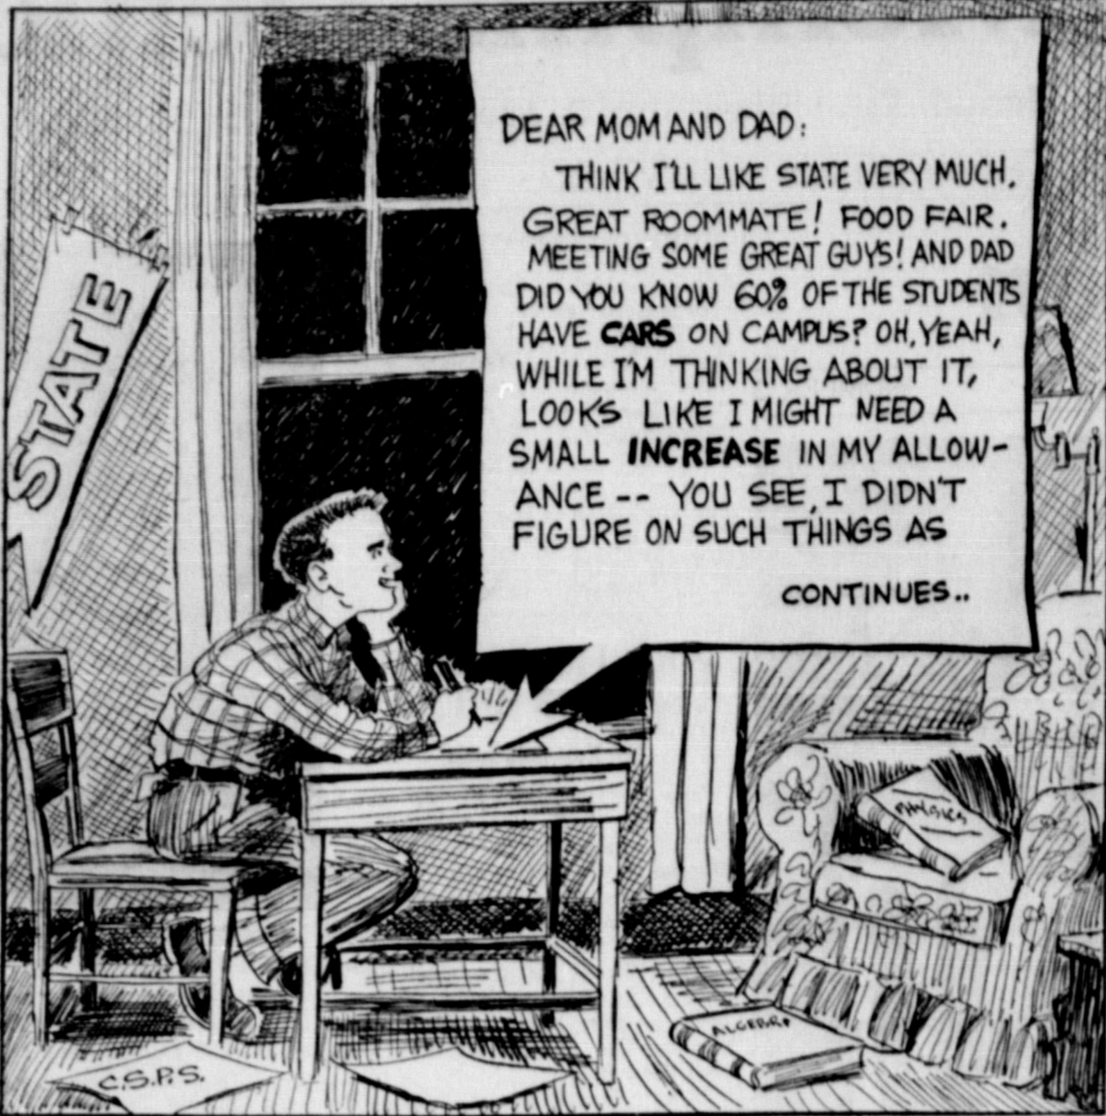

From the parent viewpoint, homework is a downright nuisance, an unwelcome intruder into the few hours that they get to spend with their children.

Mrs. Fowler takes a dim view of giving homework as punishment for misbehavior at school and says this takes the fun out of learning and can seriously affect a student. However, there is a place for homework, she says, when some outside research is necessary to write a theme or paper or on block assignments where the student is given a certain amount of work to do at any rate of speed he desires and if he can't do it in class he can do it at home.

But as a general rule, Mrs. Fowler seems to be on the side of the young people, and she may be in danger of professional criticism from some quarters; however, she says that a teacher, if he or she is worth his or her salt, will arrange things so that learning is done in school hours.

The kids will buy that approach, that's for sure. But we wouldn't count on this point of view getting universal acceptance. As a casual observer, we believe there is more homework now than there used to be. There is more to learn now than in the past.

And, as a result of this and other steps being taken in the teaching profession, we believe the young people are getting smarter.

What Other Editors Say

Patch on Patch is Beggary
 "Patch beside patch," according to an old axiom from Poor Richard's Almanac, "is good housewifery . . . but patch upon patch is sheer beggary."

That is a pretty fair commentary on the sad state of Texas' patch-work State Constitution which the recently-adjourned Legislature has prepared for its annual patching-up with a scrap-basketful of proposed new amendments.

At least two of the three amendments proposed for vote this year . . . in a special general election in November . . . fall in the "patch-upon-patch" category. What's more, they're designed to cover other patches which are, themselves, less than a year old.

One of them would boost the ceiling on state contributions to welfare payments from $54 million to $60 million. Only last November, voters approved an amendment to the Constitution raising the limit from $47 million to $54 million.

Another would permit the state to sell another $150 million in bonds to continue the veteran's land program. Voters gave the Veterans Land Program a new lease on life by Constitutional Amendment last November.

It's ridiculous enough that the Texas Constitution has required a total of 154 amendments since its adoption in 1876 . . . most of them in the past quarter of a century . . . and a total of 247 have

Work on the two new buildings that are considered as milestones in the progress of Memphis and Hall County is being hastened to completion as the expiration of the allotted time for their construction draws nearer. "Patch beside patch," as Poor Richard observed, may be "good housewifery" . . . but "patch upon patch" is becoming downright slovenly. We think it's high time the Texas Legislature forgets about its scrap-bag and turns its attention to cutting a new garment, out of the whole cloth, to cover our Constitutional nakedness. —The Canadian Record

NEW FORDS ON DISPLAY FRIDAY

Performance in a completely restyled package, with distinctive new roof lines, roomier interior, keynote for 1964.

New 1964 Fords will be on display at Foxhall Motor Company at Foxhall Friday, Sept. 27, in dealer showrooms all over the state.

16 models in the 1964 line-up — including the unique 4-door hardtop model — are designed to combine an air look of greater luxury with more of the luxury features that have made Ford our best seller.

Mr. Foxhall, owner of Foxhall Motor Co., said the vehicle has been designed inside as well as outside. The front compartment is one-third and the headroom and seat height are up to an inch more than a year ago and account for more than one out of every five sales.

"We believe we are offering the extra value we call 'performance'." The 1964 Ford expresses our conviction that the car for the money — is the car of total performance — is the car of sales leadership in the competitive low-priced class.

and built into the Ford for 1964, Mr. Foxhall pointed out. He said that as a result of regular testing and knowledge gained through competitive events, all engines have longer lasting main bearings and better oil distribution for longer engine life.

New in the Ford power lineup for 1964 is a Thunderbird Special 352 CID V-8 with 4-barrel carburetion rated at 250 horsepower and offering both good performance and good economy on regular fuel. Five engine choices, four different transmissions and five rear axle ratios in specified combinations complete a choice of performance-economy options designed to tailor a 1964 Ford to every customer's exact driving requirements and preferences.

The three-speed, manual shift, all-synchromesh transmission introduced last year is again standard on all 1964 Fords except 500-XL models and those powered by the Thunderbird High Performance 427 CID V-8 engine.

Added to the three year or 36,000-mile major lubrication interval pioneered on the Ford last year are new extended-life headlamps. Together with a new, longer-life battery, they add a more dependable lighting and electrical supply to the reduced maintenance features. The "24-24" total car warranty — for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first — is continued for the 1964 Ford.

Styling Features

The quality and luxury look of the completely restyled 1964 Ford line is keynoted by a three-dimensional, horizontal bar grille. Widely-spaced dual headlamps and a full-depth full wrap-around bumper give the cars a lower, wider and more massive front end appearance.

The outboard headlamps extend slightly beyond the sides of the body and are faired into the body contour for a richly sculptured look of motion.

The sculptured metal treatment, suggestive of luxury and motion, carries from the rear deck into the rear body panel. The taillights continue the traditional round design but are newly styled for 1964.

Interior Styling

Materials and design have been combined in all Fords for 1964 to provide interiors that are attractive, durable and comfortable. New, high-styled fabrics and trim schemes of nylon cloth and vinyl or all-vinyl interiors are used to make the 1964 line luxurious and practical.

New, thin-shell, front bucket seats provide improved comfort, take up less room and, due to the twin pedestal mount, increase foot room in the rear compartment. The all new door trim panel styles on the 500-XL models feature a unique pull type door handle.

NEW LUXURY—Styling to match its total performance gives a bright, new look to the lineup of Ford cars for 1964. The top-selling Ford Galaxie 500 Series offers three distinctive new roof lines including the 4-door sedan (top photo). Five engines and four transmissions are offered including the Cruise-O-Matic Dual Range three-speed automatic transmission now available with all engines up to 390 cubic inches displacement. The full Ford Galaxie line for 1964 includes 16 models with 2 and 4-door sedans, hardtops, convertibles and station wagons (bottom photo). The completely restyled cars will appear in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.

Power

For 1964, the quiet-running, incredibly-smooth, modern short-stroke Challenger V-8 engine has 283 cubic inches and develops 195 horsepower. Standard on all eight cylinder models, the engine is a proven performance champion with good economy on regular fuel.

The Thunderbird High Performance 427 CID V-8 heads the list of five lively 1964 Ford engine choices. Developing up to 425 horsepower, this engine proved its stamina and performance by winning the first five places in the Daytona 500 in February and by completing a year in which Ford high performance engines were unbeaten in any stock car race of 500 miles or more.

With dual four-barrel carburetion and Ford's all-synchromesh, four speed floor-stick transmission, the Thunderbird High Performance 427 offers the ultimate in performance. For the ultimate in economy, there's the 233 CID 6-cylinder engine with Ford's all-synchromesh three-speed transmission and overdrive.

Five rear axle ratios in specified combinations with four transmissions — standard synchromesh three-speed, overdrive, the Dual Range Cruise-O-Matic and 4-speed manual floor shift—to complete the Ford performance and economy lineup for 1964.

Options

Thunderbird High Performance 427 CID V-8 engines are optionally available in all models except station wagons. To provide suspension, brake and handling characteristics in keeping with Ford's concept of performance in these vehicles, engine packages include heavy duty suspension, 40 ampere alternator, heavy duty battery (70 ampere hour), chrome engine dress-up kit, fade resistant brakes and 6.70 x 15 nylon tubeless tires on 15 inch wheels. Wheel covers are included on Ford Galaxie 500-XL models.

Also available as an option on Thunderbird High Performance 427 CID V-8 engines is Ford's Perma-Tuned Transistor Ignition. This system uses a very small voltage through the contact points to trigger the transistor, which in turn switches a heavy current to the coil.

A new lighting option package which includes lights for ash tray, glove box, trunk, parking brake signal, back-up lights and front- and rear-door courtesy light switches is offered on 1964 on all models.

The '64s from Ford are here: The Year of the Test Drive starts today!

Ford cars have changed. Only a test drive can tell you how much. Races and rallies, economy runs, braking and acceleration tests have bred into our 1964 models the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They are hard-muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed. Open competition helped make them that way. They offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

Virginia Chappell Enjoys Vacation In Mexico

It was an interesting and exciting summer for a local girl, Virginia Chappell, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Chappell, who has been employed in social work in Houston, and spent her vacation in Mexico.

Virginia and two friends from Tulane University, Linda Hickman of Columbia, Tennessee and Glenda Methvin of Aniston, Alabama, worked together in the Social Service Department of M. D. Anderson Hospital for the summer and were traveling companions for two weeks in Mexico.

Beginning their trip with a three-day stay in Monterrey, they went on to spend a week in Mexico City and two days in Acapulco. In Monterrey, besides a tour of the city, the girls enjoyed a scenic visit to Garcia Caverns and a donkey trip to the top of the falls at Horsetail Falls.

In Mexico City the girls were royally entertained by college friends, Bertha Hernandez and Jose Garcia. Their stay in Mexico was filled with thrills, including a bullfight the girls witnessed in which matador was gored so badly he was not expected to live. The girls visited Chapultepec Park, the largest in the city, where is located the castle of the emperor of Mexico, Maximilian. The flowers

Bob Douthit Takes Course In Life Saving

Bob Douthit recently returned from Wakhondah, Mo., where he took special training in Red Cross Life Saving. The course included two weeks training with proper instruction in all the fundamentals essential to life saving. The course qualified Mr. Douthit as an instructor.

Classes are being set up for personnel of General Telephone Company throughout the Southwest Division. Mr. Douthit is also available as an instructor for other groups who are interested in instruction in life saving.

and fountains of the park are magnificent, and the overall beauty beyond description.

A look-see at the University of Mexico, which has 65,000 students and is famous for the ornate architecture of its buildings was another highlight of the trip.

They visited the markets and the craft shops and the beautiful "Floating Gardens" of Xochimilco, which were started several hundred years before the Spaniards came to Mexico and are America's oldest gardens.

Near Mexico City they also saw the ancient pyramids built by the Aztec Indians, and on their way stopped to enjoy a festival by natives dressed in their colorful costumes. With the assistance of their Mexican friends, they were privileged to enter some of the ancient ruins near the pyramids. These ruins, only recently discovered, have never been entered by tourists as the government has forbidden trespassers until the excavation of this ancient city is complete. The excavation was started a year ago, and it is expected to be many years before the work is finished and tourists can visit there.

Another point of interest was the shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe which the girls saw in Mexico City. Here is enshrined the amazing painting of the Virgin which, legend has it, was miraculously given to an Indian peasant hundreds of years ago.

On their last night in Mexico City, the visitors were honored by Miss Hernandez and her brother at a small party at the Jaquarandas — a restaurant famous for its water fall and "dancing fountain." The girls were thrilled by a serenade by Marraeches — a type of Mexican music much loved by natives of Mexico.

With sad good-byes to their gracious hosts and the charms of Mexico City, the girls added a grand finale to their trip with a visit to that beauty spot all tourists want to see, Acapulco. The city, a popular winter resort, is Mexico's chief port on the Pacific Ocean, and noted for its wide, sandy beaches, swimming, surf riding, and fishing. In Acapulco the girls spent most of their time on the beautiful white-sanded beaches where they swam in the Pacific Ocean and took a tour of the bay in a glass bottomed boat. They also witnessed the breathtaking Acapulco divers... young Mexican boys who dive from a high cliff into the ocean.

On their return trip home, the students took the scenic Pan American highway route through the Sierr Madre Mountains so that they could enjoy the awe-inspiring views of the valleys and the primitive villages of thatched huts clinging to the mountain sides. Much of Mexico is mountainous, but the highways are wide and well-banked so that driving is not difficult.

Other interesting side trips were taken to Toluca (near Mexico City) to the famous native market, and to Taxco, the silver manufacturing city of Mexico. In the quaint and picturesque town of Taxco, the girls visited a silver mine, a woolen plant, and the famous cathedral. All along their travel route they stopped to go through colorful villages to see the ancient churches and the beautiful plazas.

September 12th, the three girls enrolled for a second year of graduate study at Tulane University in New Orleans, La. All are students in the School of Social Work.

The Proud, the Humble

"For God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble"

-Proverbs 3:34

Every man has his share of pride. As a nation, we are proud to be Americans. As individuals, we are proud to share in the blessings of Christianity.

Pride in a job well done, in some singular achievement, is well justified. It is only when we begin to feel so proud of ourselves or our achievements that we begin to compare ourselves to others that pride is no longer a blessing.

The individual who makes some kind of a mark in this world can be measured by the manner in which he evaluates his own success. If he becomes the victim of false pride, his happiness is often not so great as that of the man who never achieved quite so much, yet was deeply grateful for everything that came his way.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Landmark Tax Legislation
The most important legislation of the year — the "Revenue Act of 1963" will be before the House of Representatives as most of you read this newsletter. Known to most citizens simply as "the tax bill," this measure's major provisions include an across-the-board cut in individual and corporate income tax rates. Because of its impact on virtually every American citizen and business firm, the tax bill has brought more concentrated public and Congressional attention than any other piece of pending legislation.

You've probably read of the bill's provisions in your newspapers and heard them discussed at length in television and radio reports. Perhaps you've determined by how much your own taxes would be reduced and the effects other provisions in the bill would have on you or your business. Perhaps you've found things in the bill with which you disagree; few persons could agree with every item in a bill 310 pages in length, although they might feel that "on balance" the bill is a good one.

The most significant thing about the tax bill is that it represents a strong reaffirmation of the nation's faith in the free enterprise system. At conflict in recent years have been two theories concerning the way in which government can help bolster the country's economy. On one hand have been those who advocate higher government spending in programs and projects which tie a larger proportion of the labor force and industrial production directly to the government. On the other hand have been those who believe, as I do, that a relaxation of governmental controls and a reduction of the tax burden will encourage the free enterprise system to provide goods, services — and jobs — in ever-increasing abundance.

This bill represents the first effort in history to stimulate economic development by freeing capital, through a reduction in taxes, for higher consumer spending and business investment. Congressman Wilbur Mills, my colleague from Arkansas whose House Ways and Means Committee worked steadily for nine months to write the legislation, stated the philosophy underlying it in these words: "This bill reflects an effort by the Federal government to reduce and remove — not to impose — tax constraints on the economy, to give the private sector of the economy greater wherewithal to do what comes naturally to it and which increases the well-being of all of us."

I am convinced that most Americans are anticipating a tax cut. The current strength of the economy reflects, in part, the conviction of many citizens that a tax cut is coming. The high rate of consumer spending, an increase in business investment, the booming

Senior Girl Scouts Meet, Elect Officers

Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 187 met in the home of the leader, Mrs. Brode Hoover, Sept. 18 for the first regular meeting of the year.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Diane Gailley. Plans were made to continue the operation of the concession at Fowler's Skating Rink on Saturday nights. Mr. Fowler donates a portion of the proceeds in return for the girls working each week, Mrs. Hoover said. These proceeds, along with proceeds from other projects, will be used in taking an educational tour the summer of 1965. Tentative plans were made to tour Denver, Yellowstone Park, Oregon, Yosemite, Grand Canyon, Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest.

The troop has worked at various projects to finance the trip which will be the highlight of its Scouting program.

Officers for the coming year were elected. Amy Hillhouse is the president. Regina Hoover was elected troop scribe, and Elmonette Branigan will act as treasurer for the new year. Mrs. Elmont Branigan will assist Mrs. Hoover as leader.

Senior Scouts Glenda Bruce, Amy Hillhouse, Ginger Greene, Carol Voyles, Diane Gailley, Elmonette Branigan, Laurel Pounds, Regina Hoover and Susan McQueen attended the meeting.

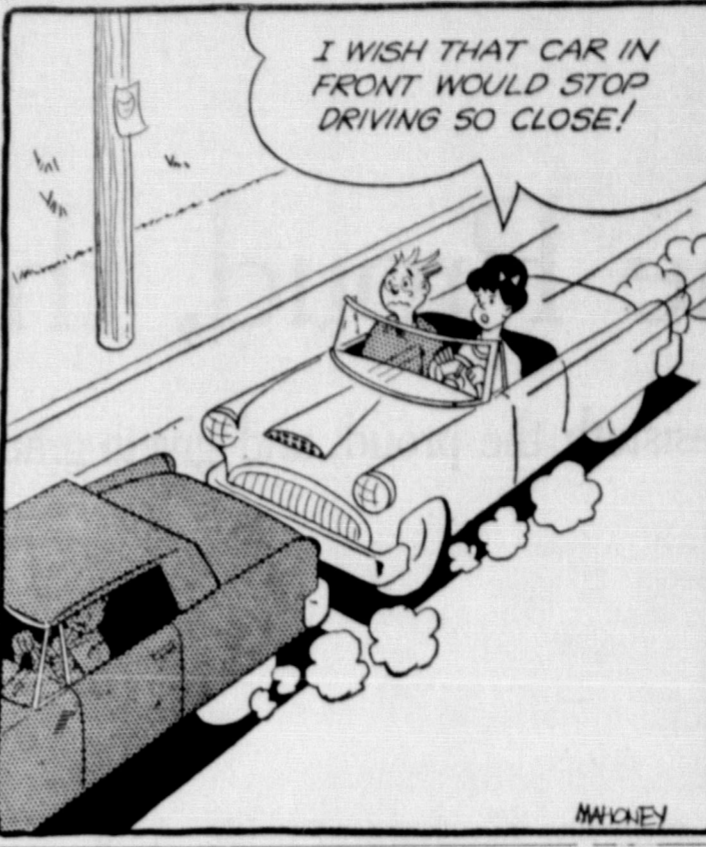

stock market, a drop in the rate of unemployment — this good news is not entirely due to the anticipation of a tax cut, but I believe that the prospect of lowered taxes is part of it.

The tax bill has wide bi-partisan support, the support of business and labor, support of citizens rich and poor.

The main argument being raised against the bill concerns the wisdom of reducing taxes when the certain result would be an at least temporary greater imbalance between the government's receipts and expenditures — in other words, additional budget deficits. As one who has worked long for reduced government spending, I believe that enactment of this legislation will actually help achieve this goal. More Americans than ever will be writing their representatives to say, in effect: "We are glad to have a tax cut — now redouble your efforts to cut spending and balance the budget." Congress, I believe, will become much more conscious of the need for economy with taxes substantially reduced.

The objective of tax reduction is to stimulate the growth of the economy to such an extent that the resultant higher levels of personal and corporate income will thus produce more — not

OES Chapter Entertains With Supper Tuesday

Memphis Chapter No. 351, Order of the Eastern Star, honored Masons and their wives with a supper and program in the Masonic Dining Hall at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Following a delicious ham dinner, the guests were entertained by a play entitled "The 7th Degree" presented by OES members. A fall theme was carried out in table decorations and favors used for the occasion.

less — tax revenue. Section I of the bill, which was authored by Committee Chairman Mills, spells out the objective in these words: "To further the objective of obtaining balanced budgets in the near future, Congress by this action, recognizes the importance of taking all reasonable means to restrain Government spending and urges the President to declare his accord with this objective."

Tax reduction and revision provided for in this bill will help hasten the day when our budgets are balanced in a growing economy, providing adequate employment — and giving full play to the initiative of our free enterprise system.

River District Directors Meet Sunday, Sept. 15

Directors of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation District met Sunday, Sept. 15, at the First National Bank Building in Quitaque, and discussed plans for the future.

According to an announcement following the meeting, the board passed several resolutions pertaining to future efforts of the organization. Senator Andy Rogers of Childress, Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, and Representative H. G. Wells of Tulla will be invited to meet with the directors at a future date. At this meeting, plans will be discussed aimed at the ultimate construction of a dam across Red River.

The Upper Red River District was established by the Texas Legislature in 1939. Much data and information was gathered by the organization prior to World War II. During the last several years, center of interest has been the pollution and sedimentation of Lake Texhoma. The directors contend that a dam on Red River in this area would eliminate most of the above.

Directors of the district are: C. C. Broughton, Childress; O. E. Evers, Lakeview; Carl Hill, Parnell; Orville Setliff, Turkey; O.

New Chevrolets Now On Display

today at Potts Chevrolet Company and dealer-ship are 43 new models in five distinct sizes. This year's Chevrolet models are the greatest the division has ever produced in a single year. This is the industry's best car for 1964 — the most beautiful, quality, and distinction is in the regular Chevrolet line. Chevrolet's five lines of styling and engineering improvements which — with the increase in models — allow the customer a car to his particular requirements as never before. Today like diversification, Potts and Homer choose cars from a wide variety of styles and characteristics. Chevrolet's broad diversity of cars to win the customer's attention is needed to continue the traditional industry.

ular Chevrolets new styling is evident in the regular Chevrolet line, making the big car luxury line so popular. The Sport series features special interior appointments and sport convertible and 1964 models added for regularity to 15 in four series. Over-all dimensions are as in 1963, the wider wheel has a longer, wider side smooth, broader styling and rear ends. Chevrolet models feature exterior trim styling and yet retain the built-in convenience, luxury and traditional with Body tron generator and long-life exhaust system. Seven engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower will be offered. Optional for the first time in 1964 on 409 cubic inch engines is a full transistor ignition system. Four transmissions will be offered and the four-speed Synchron-Mesh includes refinements for smoother shifting and greater durability.

Chevelle

Chevrolet's new automobile line for 1964 embodies a distinctive styling and will be offered in 11 models in three series — the top-of-the-line Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300.

Quality and vehicle width are stressed in the front end design which makes use of dual headlights and horizontal grille bars. Side treatment is clean and a peak line which carries throughout the car gives a look of length.

Built on a 115-inch wheelbase, the chassis is completely new, featuring a primer meter frame. Front suspension makes use of coil springs and rear suspension is of the coil spring four link type.

Fourteen inch wheels, self-adjusting Safety-Master brakes and a high capacity Delcotron generator are standard equipment. Four engines — two six-cylinder and two optional V8's — are offered on all Chevelle models. Four different transmissions are available.

Chevy II

In its third year on the market, the Chevy II continues its popular blend of small car handling, roominess, economy and good taste in a total of 6 models in two series — the Nova and the 100 series.

A V8 engine will be offered for the first time as an extra-cost option on all models. With the V8, which will be Chevrolet's 283 cubic-inch 195 horsepower model, the customer may choose either standard three-speed, optional four-speed or Powerglide transmissions.

Two six-cylinder engines at 120 and 155 horsepower will be available in the two and four-door sedans of the 100 series.

Corvaire

Entering its fifth year, the Corvaire will continue its important place in the Chevrolet lineup by appealing to a group of buyers who like something sportier and less conventional in a small car.

A Monza Spyder series comprised of a top-of-the-line convertible and club coupe is added for 1964, bringing the total models to seven in four series — the Monza Spyder, Monza, 700 and 500 series, plus two Greenbrier Sports Wagons.

All Corvaire models will feature a new larger displacement 164 cubic inch engine that delivers higher performance and top economy.

Graceful lines and Luxury in 1964 Chevrolet Impalas

GRACEFUL LINES — The rich luxurious appearance of the 1964 Impala Sports Coupe (above) blends Chevrolet's traditionally graceful body lines with smart new styling both front and rear. In addition, many new mechanical refinements coupled with new interiors and a choice of 19 power teams were noted today when the new cars were introduced at Chevrolet dealerships. Also offered by Chevrolet are Corvaire, Chevy II, Chevelle and Corvette.

This new engine retains the six-cylinder air-cooled design. Horsepower ranges from 95 to 110 to 150.

Improved brakes and a new suspension design will enhance handling characteristics of all Corvaire models.

Corvette

America's only sports car — fresh from its most successful year in 1963 — continues the famed design of its two Sting Ray models, the convertible and the sport coupe for 1964.

Offering broader appeals to more kinds of buyers, the 1964 Corvette combines the driving and handling enjoyment of a genuine sports car with the luxury and convenience most fine car owners want.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

Today...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that seems to be entirely up to you.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior dimensions of its Body by Fisher provide a generous amount of head, leg and shoulder room. (Chevelle's trunk is big and roomy, too.) The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost.) Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (Like this good-looking Malibu Super Sport, maybe?)
