With only 1,800 poll tax receipts issued up to Thursday morning, Jan. 30, the remainder of Hall County voters have only until Friday, Jan. 31, (tomorrow) to purchase theirs. Mrs. Melissa Anderson, county tax assessor-collector, warned.

Mrs. Anderson said her office in the Hall County Courthouse will remain open Friday afternoon as late as necessary to handle the last-minute rush.

County and civic leaders are urging all persons who have not paid their poll taxes to do so, and thereby be eligible to vote in the school, district, city, county and state elections and any special elections that may come up during the next year.

The poll tax receipts cost $1.75. Receipts may be purchased in the county tax office in Memphis, or at Lyles Insurance Agency or Ferguson Insurance Office in Turkey.

Texas will have a double-standard for voting qualifications this year. The information concerning this is on Page 4 of this issue of The Democrat, under a heading, "Talk At The State Capitol."

Along last the City and Community Building is practically for occupancy—just some touches needed. Now an important part necessary before the Community Building can be used for any and all meetings.

Remember the amount of bonds for the buildings proved inadequate when the final figures made for construction by the contracting firm. The old city had to be sold to make up construction cost.

The important part mentioned in the Community Building report—a major part of same has to be purchased and funds are available. Some of equipment was provided seven months ago through the work committee. But that was just later. At least a sum of $7- must be raised to get the necessary supplies so the building is used.

Let one more day for paying tax in order to vote for state, county and precinct cans, and for President, Vice President, U. S. Senator and Congressman. Without a poll tax one can vote the federal ticket, not the state and local ticket. There are a lot of folks I know would be glad to pay many times the $1.75 for a poll tax, if he were young enough—let, these same people would be willing to push a peanut with their noses, while on their knees, through town when the streets are crowded with people, if such people could be brought about paying the tax. So, why not less than the price of a cigarette for the privilege of voting?

It knew it was coming some woman running for President of the United States. Texas is all the other states in having a woman governor in the person of Miriam Ferguson, but she can claim the distinction of being a woman candidate for President. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, has held the office of U. S. Senator for a number of years, and now throws her hat (parade, bonnet) in the ring for the highest office in the land. It was the distinction already of the first woman ever to be elected to the Senate. Who knows, a lot of men office holders are keeping house while their wives do the thinking and acting on governmental affairs.

Time is a daily miracle. You wake up in the morning, and your purse is magically filled with money—four hours of the unmanipulated tissue of the universe. It is yours. It is the most precious of possessions. No one can take it from you. And no one can give it to you. It is yours. In the realm of time there is aristocracy of wealth, and aristocracy of intellect. Genius is rewarded by even one extra hour a day.—Bennett. To one can add a true statement that not one second of that extra hour time can be recalled to ever again, except in memory. Also, when that day has passed is a day nearer the end of life which is way too short.

Trap Shoot To Be Held Sunday, Feb. 2

A trap shoot will be held at 10 a. m. Sunday, Feb. 2, at the trap near the Memphis airport, west of the city, on Farm Road 1226, according to Morris, president.

Prizes, hams, sugar, coffee, will be given away. Participants will also shoot for trophies. Weather permitting, this should be one of the best trap shoots of the year." President Morris said. Formal invitation is extended to those who are interested in

Teenagers Key To Stop Smoking

Much has been written and said about cigarette smoking since the published report of the Advisory Committee to the Surgeon General of the U. S. As was reported in these columns in last week's issue, the people of this nation are receiving the evidence with mixed emotions.

Locally, sale of cigarettes has declined, but not to the extent expected. Of paramount interest was the tremendous increase in the sale of pipes and pipe tobacco. Women of the area have been wise-cracking that they might turn to the pipe—or cigar.

In this week's newsletter from the Texas State Department of Health, under the caption "Accent on Health," Dr. J. E. Peavy, Commissioner, had this to say:

Medical science points out some disconcerting parallels of smoking to health. With this in mind, the Division of Cancer and Heart of the Texas State Department of Health is determined that today's generation should have the facts when confronted with the decision of smoke or not to smoke.

A first and basic point is that smoking is a habit—similar to an addiction. "The habitual use of tobacco," according to the recent report to the Surgeon General by the Advisory Committee, is related primarily to psychological and social drives, reinforced and perpetuated by the pharmacological actions of nicotine on the central nervous system.

Secondly, teenagers should be aware of the relationship between smoking and health.

Lung cancer, heart and circulatory diseases are linked to the smoking habit. And statistics show that these diseases increase in proportion to the number of cigarettes smoked per day.

Teenagers are challenged to add it all up. A smoke lasts about six minutes, but cuts ten minutes off your lifetime.

Teenagers are further advised that the habit decreases physical endurance and ability, slows thinking processes and discolors fingers and teeth.

Inevitably, the question arises . . . why do teenagers start smoking anyway?

Teenagers say, according to recent studies, they are lured by the persuasive voice of advertisers. They also start because the gang does it, in search of security and stability and in imitation of people they admire.

Parental example appears to be an important contributing example. When both parents smoke, a teenager stands a 40 percent chance of taking up the habit. But when neither parent smokes, the teenager stands only a 22 percent chance of starting.

Today's teenager will make his own decision to form or reject the habit. But he and his generation will have the facts, as well as the myth of the TV commercial, as a bulwark for an adult decision.

Getting Along Depends On The Individual

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then and that he should not take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that even the humblest is a human and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say "good morning" even if it is raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as he is, that they have brains that are as good or even better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone and that it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that the folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior.

He learns that it is more profitable to take stock of himself than to blame someone else for his unfortunate experiences. Eveleth News. —Sleepy Eye (inn.) Herald-Dispatch.

What Other Editors Say

Weekly Newspapers!

Gene Carter in The Wise County Messenger (Decatur): A weekly newspaper publisher of many years once said that in printing a home-town newspaper it is not so important what is put in as what is left out, and as we near our thirty-fifth anniversary in the business we come to realize more and more what he meant. We have never had aspirations for the cold-blooded journalism of the big city daily. Some bits of news a weekly is compelled to publish, but there is more option as to what can be left out than in a daily paper. There are those readers, who want every bit of juicy news published—it is about someone else. If it is about them or their families it is no one else's business and should stay out of the papers. It is surprising how much news value a story has or has not depending on the subject. Occasionally we choose to "sit on" a news story if we think it will accomplish no worthy purpose—and will, on the other hand, cause hurt or injury to an innocent person, especially a child.

There are so many good and uplifting items to write about there is hardly an excuse for a country editor to make his living off the miseries of his fellowman; a weekly newspaper has a closer touch with its readers than a big-city daily, and is more of a personal thing. This doesn't mean that we condone crime or wrongdoings in any person; we just don't take any pleasure in plastering the culprit's name all over the newspaper to satisfy the morbid curiosity of a few people.—Wise County Messenger.

Can't Have Everything

The desire for more leisure and for a higher standard of living are natural aspirations. Employees in the United States have made great gains in both respects. What has made this possible was the steady gain in productivity through our history.

But there is just so much in the way of productivity gain to be divided. Whatever part of our productivity gain is taken in the form of reduced working time is not available for increasing the flow of goods and services, which make up our standard of living—and vice versa.

American industry has neither the power nor the desire to force employees to work longer hours than the employees choose. But everyone must understand that it is a choice.

Altruism is no substitute for production, and whenever we reduce our working time we give up some part of the goods and services we might have produced. For an individual, the trade may seem a good one—but he cannot have it both ways.—Southwest General News.

Atalantean Club Observes 36th Anniversary With Breakfast Sat.

A highlight of Saturday, Jan. 25, was the 36th Anniversary Breakfast given at Odom's Coral and Aqua room for members of the Atalantean Club.

Mrs. Earl Allen, club president, assisted by members of the Social Committee were in charge of arrangements.

Centering the table was a lovely floral arrangement of pink gladiolas sent to the club by Mrs. Emory Barton of Denton in memory of her mother, Mrs. C. R. Webster, who was one of the founders and charter members of the club.

After a delicious buffet breakfast, Mrs. N. A. Hightower, a charter member of the club, paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Webster in saying she considered her friend's life a great treasure and that she held a special place in the hearts of Atalantean members.

Miss Imogene King, in carrying out the theme of the year, "Keys", brought a challenging talk on the "Keys to the Treasure Chest."

Introducing her talk Miss King said, "We, American women are endowed with gifts by nature and an astuteness that will help to secure keys to the Treasure Chest. For American women are the most beautiful women in the world. At first the statement appears to be rather broad and startling, but with a little analysis it takes on a different hue. For if you will consider it for a minute, you will realize that if American women were not the most beautiful in the world something would be drastically amiss. In the first place we are the luckiest group to be found anywhere. Second is that we are fortunate in that we are not included in the great majority living outside the old U.S.A.

"Our very birthright is the basis of beauty and that of course is health. From the day we are born the finest doctors prescribe our every need from orange juice and vitamins to special creams and soaps. What's more, these items are to be found in abundance. We take care of our ladies like no other country in the world, and we don't stop there. For an intelligent woman invariably carries with her an air of beauty. Here again, American women are the only ones on earth endowed with the right and given the way to at least a high school education. Informed, you bet we are. Free press, free radio, T. V., free speech makes it hard for us not to be.

"Things we take for granted here are considered extreme luxuries in Europe and are unheard of in Russia, as a matter of fact I have been told by people who have spent some time in Russia that Khrushchev fears our fashion magazines more than those dealing strictly with news.

"No, we are not a group of women who happened to be born beautiful, it isn't the climate, for we live in all types. It is simply that we are born in a country whose government allows us to make the most of our natural attributes. It is a government worth working, fighting and praying for. It takes courage to do such things. Courage is an item in one's self-respect. Life's supreme adventure is the adventure of living. We are living in an age of transition. The change is so much faster, so much deeper and so much more comprehensive, that it effects every aspect of our personal and social life more profoundly than it has done at any other period in human history. We must be builders of faith.

"The world is in want of adulthood. Many people who have the desire for the life, haven't the will to live. The will to live is to take life as it comes.

"The greatest kind of faith is that which is born of love, knowing that someone has faith in us, we feel bound to justify that faith. Having faith in people, we do not desert them when they disappoint us. Faith born of love is the answer for Love is the glory of man." Miss King concluded.

At the conclusion of the program, a gift was presented to Mrs. Allen, outgoing president.

Places were laid for the following members: Mmes. Earl Allen, D. H. Aronofsky, Milton Beasley, Fred Byerly, K. F. Chick, J. W. Coppedge, W. C. Dickey, H. B. Estes, Eddie Foxhall, N. A. ## 1913 Study Club Members Present Exchange Program For Delphian Club

The Delphian Club met Tuesday, Jan. 21, in the home of Mrs. J. S. McMurry.

During the business session plans were made for a Valentine party for the residents of Cousin's home on February 14.

The Delphian Club and the 1913 Study Club planned to exchange a program this year, and this was the time for the 1913 Club's program for the Delphians. The program topic was "Americanism."

Mrs. Mildred Stephens read the quotation "I was born an American; I shall live an American; I shall die an American" by Daniel Webster, and related the topic to the theme for the year, "Upward Climb the Road."

Mrs. A. Ainsman brought interesting information on the first inaugural ball, which was held 175 years ago in New York, when George Washington became president.

The guests from the 1913 Club were Mrs. H. A. Combs and Mrs. Mac Tarver. Their subject was "The Primrose Path of Centralization."

Mrs. Combs described the gradual development of centralization in the Federal Government. She listed two trends of thought on this subject, the liberals and the conservatives, and defined their views on the relation of the government to the national economy. "The struggle for power is between those who believe in a strong central government and those who believe in the responsibility of the states and local governments," she said. She stated that the problem is not States Rights but States Responsibility. "The pendulum has swung from the free economy established by our Constitution to more and more Federal controls, necessitated by two world wars, and it has not swung back." She displayed a chart, Freedom Or Slavery—The people go from chains to spiritual faith; from Spiritual Faith to Courage; from courage to liberty; from liberty to abundance; from abundance to selfishness; from selfishness to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to dependence; from dependence back again to bondage. She closed with the question, "How far along the way is America?"

Mrs. Tarver spoke on the operation of Centralization in America today. She pointed out some attitudes that are sweeping the country: Conformity, non-involvement, detachment, What's in it for me?, let Jack do it, stay in the grandstand rather than on the field. She suggested that America return to exporting ideas rather than importing them. America created and sold ideas of individual freedom, personal liberty, religious liberty, no taxation without representation, but no basic idea has been sold abroad for 40 years. Rather we are importing the idea of a strong government. For a weak people from our enemy, Russia. She discussed the word "Square" under several aspects: a square deal, a square meal, standing four square. "The meaning of the word has become bent and twisted in today's parlance, and a "Square" is the joker who volunteers for anything, the bloke who becomes so lost in his work that he has to be reminded to go home. In fact, any dedication at all seems to bear the stigma "Square". Nevertheless, statistics seem to indicate that America is beginning to turn back to the ideals of patriotism and hard work. Churches are fuller; more classical records are being sold; museums are being visited; cultural books are being sold; symphonies are becoming popular; and the idea that "It is smart to be smart" is increasing," she said.

Mrs. Tarver closed with the quotation from the Woman's Club Collect, "Teach us to put into actions our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid."

A delicious dessert plate was served to the guests, Mrs. Combs and Mrs. Tarver, and to the following members: Mmes. J. W. Stokes, Keith Cunningham, Bill Lockhart, Mildred Stephens, Joe Bob Browning, C. C. Hodges, Neal Hindman, Henry Hays, Rayford Hutcherson, C. D. Keith, R. H. Wherry, Sim Reeves, Lynn McKown, A. Ainsman, W. C. Dickey, Miss Maud Milam, and the hostess, Mrs. J. S. McMurry.

Talk At The State Capitol— Concern Centers Around Qualification Of Voters In Elections During 1964

By VERN SANFORD
Mgr., Texas Press Assn.

AUSTIN, TEX. (Special)—Capitol talk is centering around Texas' new double-standard for voter qualification.

There's a lot of speculation and some concern in political circles. Ratification by South Dakota placed into effect a Federal constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in future federal elections.

1. Texans who want to vote for state and local, as well as federal officials, still must have poll tax receipts or appropriate exemptions.

2. Those who are content to vote for president, vice president, U. S. senator and congressman only, won't have to pay. But still they must get a free poll tax receipt from their tax collector.

The new "registration" requirement for federal elections takes effect after the U. S. General Services certifies that the amendment is officially part of the federal constitution.

Thirty days will be allowed voters, after the amendment goes into effect to obtain the special receipts stamped "poll tax not paid." These "tickets" admit one to vote in federal elections. After this year, they must be obtained during the regular poll tax period of October 1-January 31.

For tax collectors and election officials these additional headaches will be presented:

Separate poll lists must be compiled for those who have paid the poll tax and those who have not; non-paying voters must get a ballot containing only the offices and propositions which they are eligible to vote on; all propositions except federal offices must be "locked out" on voting machines; and election returns must show separately those voting on free receipts.

Legal experts think the state law passed in anticipation of the federal amendment's ratification takes care of most emergencies and will prevent chaos, if not confusion. Detailed instructions soon will be sent to county tax collectors by Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Gov. John Connally, meanwhile, warned Texans that failure to pay the poll tax commits them to "only half a vote in the 1964 elections." Connally joined groups on all sides of the political fences in the final week's campaign to pump up lagging payments.

15 Baptists Attend Region Evangelism Meet

A regional evangelism conference was held at the First Baptist Church in Lubbock January 23 and 24 and was attended by Baptist pastors and laymen from throughout West Texas.

Phillips, J. M. Ferrel, Jr., and Doyle Fowler; Travis Baptist, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Krieger and Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Barrett.

The meeting was one of five slated across the state this year to replace the Texas Baptist Evangelistic Conference which had been staged annually in Dallas or Fort Worth since its beginning.

Although last year's conference in Dallas drew about 20,000 people, evangelism leaders felt that "carrying the meeting to the people" would enable many to attend who could not travel so far, it was stated. The conferences are geared to the theme "Revival Now."

Memphis Production Credit Assn. Starts Active Year During 1963

The association was chartered on January 5, 1934, and since that date has loaned more than $57,766,000 to farmers and ranchers in its territory.

"We have but one reason for our existence," Van Pelt explained, "and that is to provide a dependable and adequate source of agricultural credit at the lowest possible cost." The 36 associations serving all 254 Texas counties receive their loan funds through the monthly sale of debentures on the nation's commercial money market by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, discount agency for the Texas associations.

Although original capital for the associations was supplied by the federal government, Van Pelt explained, by 1959 all 36 Texas associations had retired all federal funds and association capital became wholly owned and operated by association stockholders.

"At no time have federal funds been used for loan purposes," he emphasized. "We compete for loan funds at the lowest possible interest rates each month on the nation's commercial money market through the sale of our short-term debentures."

In their 30-year history the 36 Texas PCA's, all home-owned and operated, have provided more than $3 billion in credit to the state's farmers, ranchers and dairymen.

Serving on the Memphis Production Credit Association's board of directors, all active in farming and ranching, are President J. C. Emmert of Wellington, Vice President John E. Glover of Childress, L. M. Bartlett of Arlie Route, Childress, W. C. McClendon of Paducah and W. W. George of Urkey.

Offices are operated in Memphis, Matador, Paducah, Quanah and Wellington. Office personnel includes General Manager Van Pelt, Assistant Manager Billy R. Jones, Assistant Treasurer Edna Richardson and Secretary Kathryn Latimer, all of the Memphis central office.

Also, Field Office Manager Ward Rattan and Secretary-Clerk Helen Meyer, Matador; Field Office Manager Chester Havins and Secretary-Clerk of Paducah; Field Officer Manager Herbert Bearden and Secretary-Clerk Clovis Ariney, Wellington.

This facet of this individual's make-up is not commonly known. ### Around and About

By HELEN COMBS
Two fund-raising projects are planned for the weekend . . . and proceeds from both events will be used for good causes.

On Friday night the newly-organized Band Booster Club will hold a Mexican Dinner at the Travis Cafeteria to raise funds for the Cyclone Band. All the food will be homemade and the menu sounds most tempting.

Then on Saturday night the Memphis Little Theatre and U. D. C. Chapter will entertain with Game Night at the Memphis Country Club.

And, speaking of the Community Building Fund, the women's clubs have not yet reached the amount of $5900.00 needed to pay off their obligation at the time the community building is completed.

Then, remember the annual one-act play festival (presented each year by the Thespian Club) will be held Monday night at the high school auditorium.

Lenora Greenhaw is looking forward to the weekend with much anticipation . . . and who wouldn't . . . for on Saturday she will depart by jet for New York City to board the Franconia for a month's cruise in the Caribbean.

Crime Rate Is Climbing In Hall County

In crime on the increase in Hall County? It is known from reports from State and Federal law enforcement agencies that crime is on the increase in the large cities and metropolises over the nation. This week, however, through the cooperation of county officials, figures were gathered which point out that crime is on the increase in Hall County.

The increase in crime during 1963 over 1962 was seen in every phase of law enforcement. Records of the Justice of Peace Court, County Court and the Hall County Grand Jury, all point out an increase, and in some instances a large increase, in the number of violations of the law.

The Hall County Jury met Tuesday and turned in 12 true bills, which brought 1963's total to 33 felony indictments by the Grand Jury.

Sheriff Elmer Neel stated that felony crimes in Hall County showed a sharp increase in 1963 over its level during any of the other years since 1959.

Girl Scouts Visit Palo Duro Park, Museum

Girl Scout Troop No. 148, accompanied by their leaders, enjoyed a visit to the Palo Duro Canyon and the Museum at Canyon on Saturday of last week.

The group drove to the canyon in cars furnished by the two leaders, Mrs. L. C. Martin and Mrs. Bob Ayers, and a Scout mother, Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor. Arriving there, they enjoyed a picnic lunch in the park, a visit to Six Gun City and later visited the museum.

Dr. Jack Rose Named Secretary Of Optometric Soc.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack L. Rose attended the regular quarterly meeting of the Panhandle Optometric Society in Amarillo last Sunday afternoon. The program was report and discussion of industrial vision by the group.

Justice of Peace J. S. Grimes, after checking his records, stated that he had handled 821 cases during 1963 as compared to 721 cases in 1962. This is an increase of exactly 100 cases. The Justice of the Peace Court handles all misdemeanor offenses such as gambling, traffic violations and simple assaults.

Dr. Jack Rose Is Guest Speaker At Estelline PTA

Dr. Jack L. Rose was guest speaker at the Estelline Parent Teacher Association meeting Monday morning.

Travis-Austin News

Mrs. Gurley's 3rd grade room is studying about the care of their eyes and ears in science and health. In arithmetic, the pupils are studying liquid measures, stated Mrs. Gurley.

Mrs. Stroehle's third grade class at Travis is currently studying the Eskimos and are building a miniature Eskimo village. This class has a new pupil: Steven Frazier, from Ralls. The biggest news is that Edward Neal Foxhall has had an appendectomy and is doing very well. He and the class have been corresponding with each other ever since his operation and all the class wishes him well and that he will soon return.

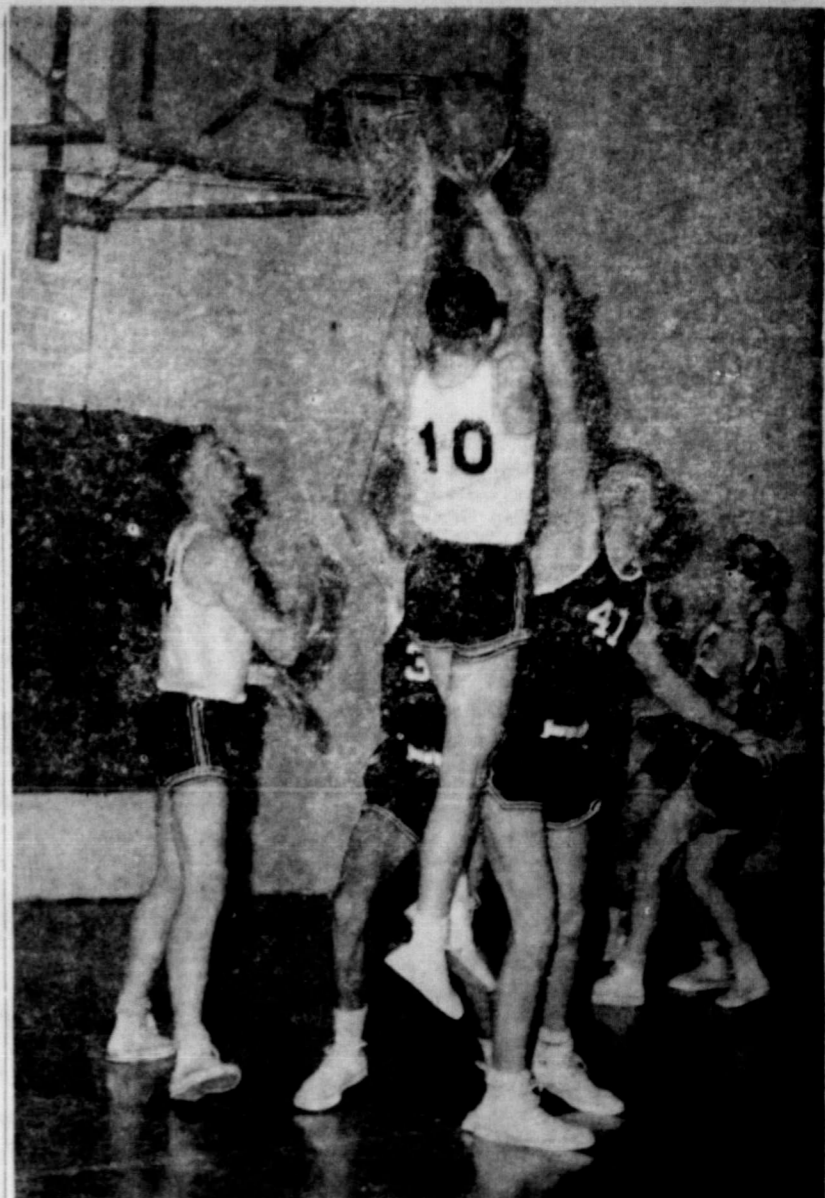

Mrs. Farmer's fourth grade at Travis made Hasting Pudding as their science and math project this past week. The students had to take a recipe for four and multiply each measurement in order to make enough for the whole class, Mrs. Farmer said. The pupils have also learned the value of cleanliness in cooking. Each member of the class tasted the pudding after it was cooked.

Mrs. Lemons' fifth grade at Travis is now studying the stars and planets as well as outer space in their science curriculum. It was announced that on February 6, the 5th and 6th grades of Austin will present a musical program on "Spirituals".

The fifth grade girls presented a playlet, "Betsy's Secret", on Thursday, January 16, to the fourth and sixth grades.

The characters were: Anne Heaton portrayed by Jana Johnson; Susan Percy by Mitzie Lindsey; Jane Morton by Jane Smith, Mary Byerly, Anita Taylor, Caroline Crosley, Sandra Timms, Juanita Torres, and Linda Moore. Lu Gay Godfrey was the student director.

The first grade at Austin School has been enjoying learning by "Playing House" since the holidays. New dolls and dishes are being used for tea parties and visitors in order to develop conversation, courtesy, and vocabulary. These experiences are followed by experience charts used in oral reading.

The boys bring toys, and science stories are developed from them.

They are also learning to read sentences with the new Rolling Reader.

TRAVIS HAS A NEW BOOKMOBILE

The biggest news at Travis is the bookmobile. The bookmobile travels from class to class each week with a wide selection of books for the students in all grades. Many of the new books ordered have already arrived and many more are expected soon. The bookmobile is already in use and many of the pupils are taking advantage of the opportunity. The bookmobile is run like a library, as all the books are checked out for a week at a time until the bookmobile arrives again. Miss Ethel Hillhouse, principal, said this was the first time this approach to reading and circulating literature has been tried. She stated that all the teachers are trying to make this a successful venture.

Mrs. C. D. Morris, principal of Austin, said that this past week the children of Austin brought in and donated a total of $28.57 for the March of Dimes campaign. This money will be used to fight the many dread diseases of childhood now that the cures for polio have been found, stated Mrs. Morris.

From And About The Office

By Bill Pounds

His improved maintenance program consists of cleaning the rooms, repairing the blackboards, installing new bulletin boards, repairing radiators, and keeping the rooms in good condition, including new tops when needed. Mr. Voyles also stated that he would like to re-do the rooms by the end of the year and he would like to immediately start on the halls after completion of the rooms.

Local Merchants Attend Market In Dallas This Week

Several local merchants are in Dallas this week attending the annual January Fashion Market. The market is held from January 26 through the 31.

Among those attending from here are Mrs. A. Ainsman of Popular Dry Goods; Mr. and Mrs. John Shadid of Neva's Shoppe; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin from Baldwins.

During this Market, buyers from all over the Southwest select summer fashions from over 7000 lines, assuring their customers of up-to-the-minute fashion-right apparel.

Sponsored by the National Fashion Exhibitors of America, the American Fashion Association, and Texas Market Creators, Dallas Markets are one of the top three fashion markets in the nation. Four major markets are held there annually, with the January Market featuring clothing and sportswear for the summer season. Merchandise selected at this market will be on sale in retail stores in late spring and early summer. Fashions this year follow the theme, "Summer Festival of Fashion", with emphasis on play and informal wear, as well as dressy summer ensembles.

The Dallas Market, normally held in advance of New York and West Coast Markets, is one of the most complete fashion displays in the nation. Many manufacturers use it to test acceptance of new designs before major production on a style has begun. The general feeling is that if a new item is well accepted in Dallas, it will be a success all across the nation. Southwestern Buyers literally set the national pace!

In addition to many lines of fine sportswear and high fashion warm weather apparel, jewelry, accessories, and lingerie will be displayed during the Summer Festival of Fashion.

Presbyterian Youth Program To Be Discussed

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Pete Cowart of Canyon, is sponsored by the Presbyterian of Plains Youth Subcommittee of Christian Education.

The new program, using the title of the "Texas Plan", was developed in El Paso in response to national concern for the young people of the church. It is designed to make a dynamic program of organizations which have become static.

Copies of the new Texas Plan will be sent to each church participating for study by delegates before the meeting.

TEXAS WEIGHTS & MEASURES ACTIVITIES

Annual inspection of nearly one million weighing devices, measuring units, and pre-packed commodities is under way by the Texas Department of Agriculture for 1964, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. Every conceivable object from gasoline pumps to boxes of bird seed is involved in the work.

"The percentage of deliberate fraud in commercial devices is surprisingly low," Commissioner White pointed out. "Most violations involve old equipment or worn scales which get out of tolerance easily. We condemn and force about 10,000 devices into the junk yard each year."

White noted an interesting fact about gasoline pumps. "Most oil pumps which drift out of adjustment have a tendency to give more gasoline to the buyer than is registered. Chances are 6 out of 10 that the motorist is getting an over measure of gas from a mal-adjusted pump. The 40 per cent of inaccurate pumps are delivering a short supply. The percentage of inaccurate pumps is less than 6 per cent, however."

Violations on pre-parked meats in the grocery store are the most frequent, White pointed out. Meat shrinks in weight, and packagers often fail to make enough allowance for this factor. Housewives are urged to have their meat packages re-weighed at the check-out counter.

"Our most alert investigators should be the consumers themselves," said White. "Taking a printed weight for granted is a big robber of the household budget dollar."

Commissioner White also urged Texans to always look for the familiar green and white circular decal bearing his signature on all scales and pumps. The date of the last inspection by a Texas Department of Agriculture fieldman is indicated on the seal. If no seal is present, it should be reported to the Department in Austin, he said.

White further added that any violation or suspected violation of the Texas Weights and Measures Law should be brought to his attention for immediate action.

World Is Being Changed By Man

COLLEGE STATION—For a dynamic society such as ours to survive it must be able to maintain its labor force, says Reagan Brown, sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

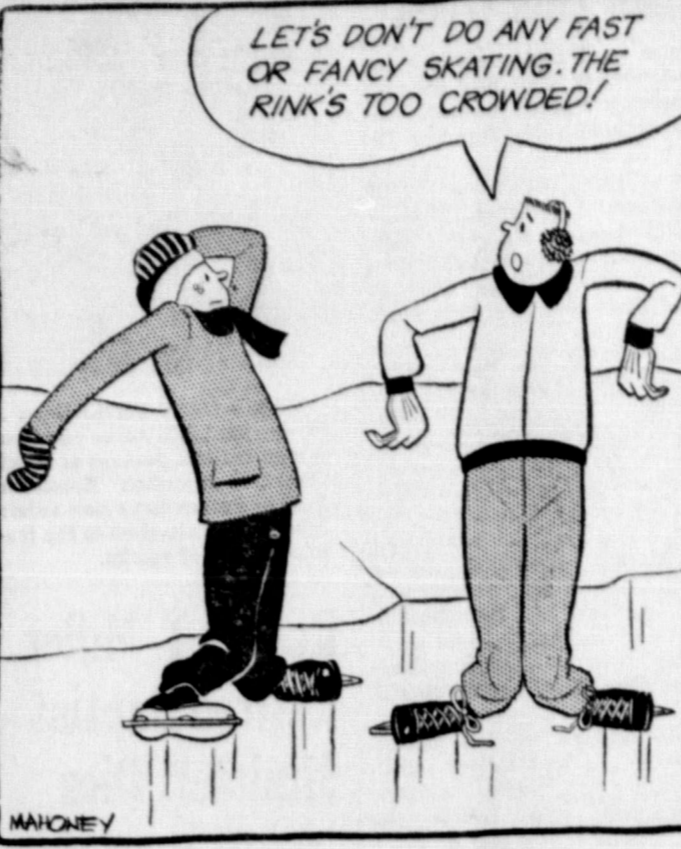

To accomplish this it must replace persons who die or become unable to work, and teach young people to fill a useful place in society, he says.

The United States is doing well in the replacement of personnel, with a rate of 1.8 percent a year, according to Brown. This rate is high for an industrial nation but a significant factor in this picture is the age distribution of these replacements.

The sociologist points out that over half of the increase in the nation's population between 1960 and 1970 will occur among people under 18 years of age or over 65. The number of people between the ages of 35 and 44 will decline slightly as will their proportion to the whole, says Brown. This means there will be more dependents to care for and fewer people of the productive ages to care for them.

In the task of teaching young people to be useful citizens, our nation is not faring so well, explains Brown. Today it is difficult to earn a good living with only an elementary education. Many young boys and girls with limited training, especially those of lower I.Q.'s may never learn to do useful work, he says.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

THE ISSUE OF PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

proposal that would, in effect, create a "crown prince" for the United States of America has been advanced by a group of members of my own profession, the American Bar Association, at the meeting at the request of the American Bar Association, I recommended that a new President be nominated by Congress any time a vacancy occurs in the Vice Presidential office.

two days of hearings into the matter of suggestions proposed as solutions to the problems of presidential succession and disability. I'm certainly not opposed to this study or any other being made. Certainly it is proper for any group to propose any solution deemed appropriate. And, at the same time, it is appropriate for those of us who oppose proposed solutions to speak out.

It is my earnest hope, however, that no proposal ever advances beyond the talking stage if it would permit the appointment of a Vice President of the United States. Into that office carrying the Constitutionally endowed title must go a person elected by the people if our democratic processes are to be served properly.

Presidential succession has always been a knotty issue. Views change from one period in our history to another. It was only natural that the question of presidential disability would become an issue following President Eisenhower's heart attack during his first term. And it was natural that the issue of presidential succession would again be raised following the tragic assassination of President Kennedy and the ascent to the nation's highest office of the then Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

During George Washington's first term, Congress provided that in the case of the removal, death, resignation, or disability of both President and Vice President, the president pro tempore of the Senate, and if there was no president of the Senate, then the Speaker of the House, was to succeed to the Presidency and hold the office until a special election had chosen a President for a four-year term. In 1886, there was neither a president pro tempore of the Senate nor a Speaker of the House. Congress, assuming that there never would be a time when all the cabinet positions would be vacant, changed the line of succession to members of the cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State. In June, 1946, President Truman, having recently succeeded President Franklin D. Roosevelt, recommended abandoning the cabinet succession on the principle that no President that had succeeded from the Vice Presidency ought to be able to designate his own possible successor. In the Act of July, 1947, the Congress followed President Truman's recommendation by providing that the succession be first to the Speaker of the House, a man not only elected from his own constituency, but also chosen by the majority of the members of the House of the majority party, and then to the president pro tempore of the Senate, a Senator elected from his state and then, to provide a presiding officer in the absence of the Vice President, by members of the Senate. Congress also provided that following these officeholders should be ranked members of the cabinet in case of vacancies in the first two offices in the line.

Certainly problems can arise. No system we could devise would be perfect in insuring against any eventuality. But let us be careful before tampering with the present line of succession or the method by which Vice Presidents are

Soil Test Is Suggested For Soil Bank Land

About 50,000 acres of soil bank land will be coming out of the Soil Bank.

Hall County farmers with land coming out of the soil bank will want to test soil fertility, says W. B. Hooser, county agricultural agent. Land out of production for some time may be less fertile than regularly cultivated land, depending on what had been growing on it, Hooser pointed out.

"Don't guess—soil test" is Hooser's advice to farmers in this situation. If the land coming out of the soil bank contracts is to be returned to agricultural production, a soil test should be made even if it is to be used for pasture or hay.

If this land is to remain in a protective cover of grasses and legumes, farmers can apply for cost-sharing assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program for lime and fertilizers to improve or re-establish the cover for forage use.

Soil Tests are the best way, the agent says, to help decide proper fertilizer and lime applications. Test results help farmers decide the treatment to bring land up to most efficient levels of production.

Lefors has a three-win, two-loss record, while Canadian has a 2-win, 3-loss record. Memphis stands with a one-win, four-loss record and Clarendon has yet to win a district game.

In this week's action, at Lefors Tuesday night, the Cyclone had a "cold" night on the court and Lefors walked away with the contest with a 76 to 52 score. Jim Odom scored 21 points for Memphis and Jerry Bromlow scored 20 for Lefors.

The Memphis Cyclone will host the Wellington Skyrocks here Friday night in what promises to be a hot contest.

Coach Milton Miller said, "We want to win this game bad." This is the first time this season for Wellington to play Memphis at the Cyclone gym although they were victorious on two occasions at Wellington.

I am a graduate of Lakeview High School, and have two children in high school, a son 17, and a daughter 15.

In making this announcement, I wish to state that I believe I am qualified to carry out the duties of this exacting office to the fullest extent. I have served six years as tax assessor for the Lakeview Independent School District, and during that time I became familiar with the functions of the county tax assessor and collector's office by cooperating with the personnel there. I have been employed at the Beaty Gin in Memphis for several years in the capacity of bookkeeping and cotton buyer.

If you elect me, I promise to perform the duties of the office as efficiently as it is in my power to do. All details would be handled carefully, and I would devote my full time to the affairs of our citizens, which are handled through the office.

It is my intention to try and see every voter in the county before the first primary. I want to talk with you about my race and the office which I seek. I will appreciate your advice and your help. Meanwhile, I wish to take this means of asking you to carefully consider me as your next Assessor and Collector.
