City To Take Sealed Bids On Municipal Airport Runway Paving

Mayor H. J. Howell Wednesday stated that the City of Memphis is ready to accept sealed bids on paving the north-south runway at the Memphis Airport.

The project, which has been years in planning, is finally moving into the final stages, the mayor said.

The legal notice, submitted this week for publication, stated: "Sealed bids, addressed to H. J. Howell, Mayor of the City of Memphis, Texas, will be received at the City Hall in Memphis, until 3 p. m. Thursday, June 25, 1964, for furnishing all plant, labor, materials and equipment and performing all work required for the construction of grading, drainage, structures, flexible base and asphalt surface treatment at the Memphis Municipal Airport."

"Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the office of Harvey W. Schmidt, consulting engineer, 221 Paramount Bldg., Amarillo, Texas."

Mayor Howell was in Fort Worth Tuesday where he conferred with representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency. He said that the Memphis Airport project was trying to meet a deadline of June 30 to have the federal agency approve the over-all plan.

Many unforeseen details came up at the last minute which had to be taken care of, Howell added, before the city could advertise for bids.

"If our paper work does not get re-tracked somewhere along the line, we should have adequate time to receive the final approval," he said.

The north-south runway will be paved on a cost-share basis by the city and federal government. The city has purchased land on both ends of the airport property in order to lengthen the runway.

Two Wrecks In Memphis Cause Heavy Damages

Citizens Take Steps To Re-Organize Watershed

Approximately 30 persons were present Tuesday night at the watershed planning meeting at Lakeview Grade School auditorium.

ASCS Still Needs Qualified Reporters

Lynn McKown, ASCS office manager, announced today that the performance school for reporters (cotton measurers) will get under way on June 22, and his office still could use a few additional people for these positions.

Applications can be made at the ASCS office in Memphis.

Those present nominated five men to serve as a nominating committee, which will draw up a slate of candidates to be placed on the ballot to elect a new board of directors.

Once the slate has been drawn up, an election will be called by the old board, it was announced at the meeting.

The watershed district contains five main creeks: Brushy Creek, Bitter Creek, John Man Creek, Pole Cat Creek and Oaks Creek. The slate of candidates for directorships of the district will be made up of those individuals who own land in the watershed.

Bob Gordon of the Soil Conservation Service, stated that at the meeting a start was made to re-activate the watershed district. The meeting was encouraging, he said.

Gordon explained that the next step after the organization of the district is the election of a board of directors. Then a planning priority will be set at a public hearing with the State Soil Conservation Board. After the priority is set, planning assistance begins. There are 72 projects at present awaiting planning assistance, Gordon said.

Tornado Precautions!

Residents in Memphis can expect to find themselves in storm warning areas this summer as they have every year and we feel it is time to refresh the memories of our readers on tornado precautions and the local organization and signals for tornado alerts!

Memphis has as modern and effective a system for tornado alert as can be devised with existing facilities. Sheriff Elmer Neel and the Memphis Police Department, along with the unit of the Highway Patrol stationed here, are in direct communication with the Amarillo and Childress offices of the Texas Department of Public Safety, who in turn is in direct communication with the Weather Bureau.

Radar is playing a large part in the warning system for the Panhandle, it has been reported and when damaging weather approaches Memphis, radio cars check to see the extent of the storm.

Residents are reminded that the tornado alert signal is a long, long, long steady blast on the two fire sirens. This blast does not vary in pitch as does fire sirens. Instructions are to turn the siren and leave it on until the danger passes. This is a very effective and easily recognized warning system.

The Texas Department of Public Safety, office of defense and disaster relief, encourages residents not to telephone civil defense, police or weather bureau during time of alert, but get information from newspapers, radio or television. The only reason a private citizen should call the Weather Bureau is to report a tornado. Otherwise, an individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Following is some safety rules to observe: 1. If you are near a tornado cellar—when time permits, go to it, or a cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in open country: Move at right angles to the tornado's path. They usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour; if there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town: Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. Stay away from windows! In homes, the corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offer greatest safety, particularly in frame homes. People in homes without basement can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the houses away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected.

Local Law Enforcement officers stated this week that the tornado signal will not be given in Memphis unless there is a known present danger and it is advised by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Citizens are well aware of the false sighting of tornado clouds which are reported each year. Citizens can rest assured that if the tornado signal is given, it is time for action.

THE OPPORTUNIST

ACROSS the DESK

What Other Editors Say

Publisher J. Claude Wells, writing in The Memphis Democrat, recalls the story which first circulated several years ago:

"During the dry Thirties, many remember well a publisher of a weekly newspaper who ran an item which he published and declared to be true: 'Please mail me a few copies of the paper containing the wedding story of my cousin; also publish the enclosed clipping of my dear cousin's delusion as a school custodian back in Virginia, and I wish you would mention in your local column, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two good milk cows for sale. As my subscription is out, please stop the paper as times are too hard to waste money on newspapers.'"

This story tends to remind us of the services, free services if you please, which newspapers and radio stations perform in a community . . . and which are seldom appreciated or not seen in perspective by many people.

If a person bought a gift in a store, asked that it be gift wrapped, then returned the gift to be re-wrapped because "I don't like the way you wrapped it the first time," we can imagine that somebody's patience might wear a little thin.

If a person asked his neighbor to come over and mow his lawn for him, then complained that it wasn't a good job of mowing, that he missed a small strip of grass back of a hedge, the neighbor who did the mowing probably would "tell him off!"

Yet almost every day a paper or radio station performs free

The pecan is the state tree of Texas.

services, such as running stories publicizing events which may or may not be considered news, and if the story doesn't appear in the best location of the paper, if its headline isn't as large as might be desired, if the story isn't as lengthy as expected, it often happens that the newspaper is rebuked by the person asking the free service. Of course, if everything is all right, no reaction is registered.

Recently we were asked to publicize an event which we did via radio news. After the story was submitted and read, the sender wanted to change the word "celebration" used in the original story, to "observance." Reading it on the radio the second time from the original copy, we failed to change the word. Suddenly realizing we had not complied with the request of the one who submitted the story, we ad libbed, "The event is really an observance rather than a celebration."

Hardly were we off the air until the phone rang and the person snapped that she didn't appreciate "your snide remarks about my story."

Oh, well, one might become a little bitter in such experiences weren't crowded out of one's mind by the kindnesses of other people.

For example, that same day, we received a note of appreciation through the mail in which the writer expressed thanks for one gesture in particular and several others in general. She wound up her note with, "I'm glad you're a citizen of Tullia."

To borrow a worn-out, threadbare expression . . . "it takes all kind of people. . ."

Sincerely yours,
—The Tullia Herald

MR. AND MRS. CLESBY LYNN PATTERSON

Marsene Baisden and Clesby Patterson United In Marriage In Turkey Rites

Marsene Baisden of Turkey and Clesby Lynn Patterson of Hereford were married Sunday, May 24, at 3:00 p. m. in the Methodist Church at Turkey. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt B. Baisden of Turkey, and the bridegroom's parents are Rev. and Mrs. Clesby Patterson of Hereford, and formerly of Lakeview.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father, Rev. Patterson, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church at Hereford. Two white baskets of white stock turquoise carnations and emerald lemon leaves were placed on either side of the altar where the couple exchanged their vows beneath a lighted cross.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white formal gown with the underlay of white organza beneath a lace jacket which was buttoned to the neck. The jacket was designed with elbow-length sleeves. Her voluminous ruffled tiered skirt was fitted at the waistline with a white satin cummerbund accented in front by two white silk organza roses. Her elbow length veil of tulle fell from a headpiece with white organza roses in front. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white carnations. She wore lace mitts and her mother's wedding band for something old. She wore the traditional blue garter, and had a penny in her shoe.

The maid of honor, Miss Sara Turner of Turkey, cousin of the bride, wore a street length dress of turquoise silk shantung with a matching headpiece of turquoise tulle sprinkled with lace motifs. She carried a bouquet of turquoise carnations and tulle. Kermit Rutledge of Merkel, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

Ushers were Bob Baisden of Lubbock and Jim Baisden of Memphis, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Keith Rogers of Turkey played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Jim Baisden of Memphis, sister-in-law of the bride, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a beige ribbon knit dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in light blue. Both wore corsages of turquoise carnations. The reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace cloth. White and turquoise tapers were arranged on either side of the wedding bouquets which were placed in the center of the table. The crystal punch service was at one end, and at the other end of the serving table was the four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch decorated with wedding bells and bridal wreath.

Miss Sara Turner served the cake, and Mrs. Bob Baisden of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, served the punch. Mrs. Aubrey Turner of Turkey and Mrs. Maurine Bonner of Wichita Falls, aunts of the bride, assisted with the serving. Mrs. Jim Baisden registered the guests who attended from Hereford, Lakeview, Littlefield, Lubbock, Merkel, Memphis, Turkey, Silvertown, and Wichita Falls.

The bride's traveling attire was a two-piece lace sheath with matching accessories and the carnation corsage from the bridal bouquet.

After a short trip, the couple will be at home in Silvertown where the bride is employed by Simpson Chevrolet. After a thorough following basic training at Fort Polk, La., the bridegroom will report to Fort Gordon, Ga., for further military service.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Turkey High School and Draughton's Business College of Lubbock. The bridegroom is a graduate of Merkel High School and attended West Texas State in Canyon and North Texas State in Denton.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964. It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six.

4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

Larry Helm Is Elected Official At Boy's State

Larry Helm, one of five delegates from Hall County attending Boy's State in Austin, was elected associate justice of the supreme court in voting Tuesday in Austin. Helm is a member of the Pioneer Party.

Upon arrival at the University of Texas Campus, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties—the Longhorn or Pioneer. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party; he attends its conventions, caucuses and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boys "learn to do by doing."

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Wednesday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day, followed by the Governor's Ball Wednesday evening.

Outstanding speakers scheduled to appear are Department Commander John E. McKelvey, Electra; Dr. Harry Ransom, Chancellor, The University of Texas; Zollie Steakley, Associate Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; American Legion Auxiliary President, Mrs. Harold J. Cooper, Beaumont; National Vice Commander of The American Legion, Harry Wright, Mexico City; Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Texas; and Dave Shanks, Austin American Statesman.

Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 10,406 junior high school boys who have attended since 1950, when Boys State was first inaugurated in Texas.

Of the 65 delegates from the High Plains area, about half were elected to district and county offices.

The delegation is expected to return home on Thursday. Attending from Hall County, other than Helm, are Gregory Lynn Towe of Turkey, Dana Gibson of Lakeview, Dwight Jerry Johnson of Estelline and Michael Branigan of Memphis.

The skin the woman loves to touch is sable.

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)...or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

Memphis Senior Class Give Account Of Trip To Colorado Springs, Colo.

The Memphis Class of '64 would like to express its thanks to the people of Memphis and the surrounding areas for a successful senior trip, which could not have been possible without the generous support of our friends.

The trip will be long remembered by those who enjoyed all the fun at Colorado Springs, Colo. Everyone enjoyed tours of the natural Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds, the Seven Falls, and visiting the Cheyenne Mt. Zoo, the U. S. Air Force, the Royal Gorge, the Royale Ice Arena and Stonewall College (the Colorado State Prison).

The class was entertained in country and western style at the Flying W. Ranch with a delicious chuck wagon supper and western folk and ballad music. Saturday night, everyone enjoyed dancing at the Krazy Kat Klub to the music of the Spectrums.

The class and parent sponsors give most credit for all their fun in Colorado to Mr. Melvin Blum, their kind, courteous, safe, dependable bus driver.

Sponsor's Note: We would like to thank the parents, school staff, and all others who have helped these young folk the past twelve years to succeed and be prepared to take a step into the future as ladies and gentlemen. It made us all swell with pride to hear the nice compliments of the guides, restaurant operators, and other public managers. We were exceedingly happy to say, "Thank you, they are from Memphis, Texas."

THE FIVE BEAUTIFUL NEW

MEDALLION HOMES

LOCATED IN

Coronado Heights Addition

1903, 1904, 1905, 1905
and 1907
on Palo Duro Drive

... WHAT THE MEDALLION MEANS

When you see this Live Better Electrically Medallion you know the homes have been planned to provide the wonderful comfort and convenience of modern electrical living.

THEY HAVE FULL HOUSE POWER

This is important. Only 1 out of 3 new homes today is equipped for modern electrical living. Four out of five older homes have inadequate wiring. The Medallion means the home has an adequate wiring system planned for present and future needs. It means there are plenty of outlets and switches in convenient locations. It means there is plenty of electric power to run the appliances.

IT HAS ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

You'll find a modern electric range in a Medallion Home, plus at least 3 additional major appliances, maybe more. And these appliances are not after thoughts—they go with the plan of the house. They're conveniently placed to spare your back and save you time. So they're sure to make your housework easier, your life more comfortable and your guests more envious. It's electric appliances that can change old Hard-work Hall into a modern Pushbutton Palace ... need we say more?

B&PM Members Attend Session In Fort Worth

Cora Belle Alexander, president of the local Business and Professional Women's Club, and Myrtle Helm, in-coming president, were in Fort Worth over the weekend to attend the 44th annual Convention of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

The convention was held on June 5, 6 and 7 with headquarters at the Texas Hotel. Theme of the convention was "YOU—Your Own Undertaking."

The convention opened with registration Friday morning. That afternoon, delegates enjoyed seeing "Sound of Music" at Casa Manana.

Friday evening, the Round-Up Supper was held in the Grand Ballroom. The banquet speaker was Mable McClanahan, treasurer of the national B&PW Club federation, who spoke on "Who's Responsibility?" She said, "We should strive to elevate the standards of women, have dignity, honesty and loyalty. Strive to be superior and not be counted as average. Do not be afraid to stand up and be counted for fear you will be called a square...if you are an honest citizen, you are called a square. If you work overtime, refuse to cheat on income tax, and are loyal to your boss, then you need not be afraid to face competition," she concluded.

The session opened Saturday morning with a breakfast followed by workshop sessions.

Officers were elected and installed at the afternoon session Saturday, followed by the President Banquet that evening in the Grand Ballroom.

Mrs. Jack Scruggs of Houston was installed as president and Mrs. Carol Haberman of San Antonio as president-elect. Houston was selected as the convention city for next year.

During the business session, resolutions concerning the rights of women were approved and copies sent to President Johnson, Senators Tower and Yarborough.

One resolution requested the employment of women by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and their inclusion in the astronaut program. Another protested the recommendation of the President's Commission on Status of Women that legal discriminations against women be corrected through the court. Instead it requested an equal rights amendment by Congress to save time and money in securing equality for men and women.

Mrs. Hermine D. Tobolowsky, Dallas attorney and state legislative chairman, also won approval of a request that women be granted the same right to trade on the floor of the New York Exchange as men are.

Approximately 1100 delegates attended the convention.

The session closed with a breakfast and memorial services Sunday morning.

Report From Washington

Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Return Problem
Monday, November 3, 1964. Twilight blanketed the Seaboard. The lights are closing. The computers and the computer-aided "naming" of our next president are flashing westward across the mountains and into the Pacific. The polls are still being taken for several hours on television and radio, and millions of Westerners are learning before they know the election trends.

of television, radio, and the printed press as well as in communications technology. The effectiveness of computer vote analysis is improving. Unlike pre-election polls, which (as we have seen this year) are shaded by uncertainties and "undecideds," data computers can predict election outcome with cold accuracy providing the calculations are based on returns from carefully selected precincts with clear histories of past voter performance.

What, if anything should be done if elections are influenced by communications early returns into areas where voting has not been completed? There's no easy answer. It is my view that the Federal government can not prohibit wire or wireless communications from disseminating early returns. I would be opposed to any attempt to impose on the press media or private citizens any restraint on relaying election returns in their possession. To impose such restraints would violate the First Amendment to the Constitution and the prohibition against censorship contained in the Communications Act.

I believe the answer, if one is required, must be found in amending election laws or writing new ones. State legislatures might agree to a uniform election code prohibiting the release of Federal election returns in one State until the polls have closed in all States. As a last resort, would the people of the country be willing for their Congress to separate Federal elections from the election process as it is now constituted and in what way establish time control over the release of Federal election returns? Perhaps some day we will have to wrestle with a solution to this question: The Marshall Islands, now a U. S. Trust Territory in the Pacific, are not hours behind the East Coast—they are a full day ahead of it. In some distant year, if the islanders do attain the vote, will Americans be saying, "As go the Marshall Islands, so goes the Nation?"

Protecting Boat From Damage
Boats often are damaged at temporary camps, due to wave wash from passing boats and skiers, or light storms.

To guard against this damage, lay several small logs (5 or 6 inches in diameter) at the water's edge. Then place two or three logs back of them and you have a good temporary ramp. Then every time you come ashore pull your boat out of the water and onto the log ramp.
