Years ago, Krusch-ake America the horse laugh a- trying to reach the moon— we got there, Russia would beat you to "Moonie" and the whole thing. . . Last America's engineers sent a rocket, filled with camera, and fully landed same on the moon. . . four thousand pictures were sent to earth, proving that the moon had been done. I saw a few pictures. . . Am still waiting for the picture of Krusch-ake getting there.

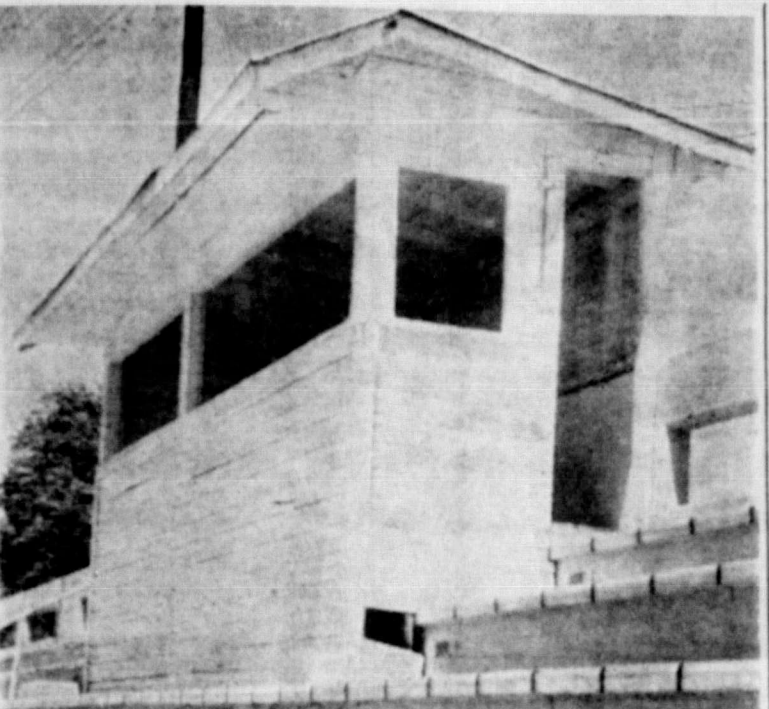

When people are making money by sending groups of people to other countries. By groups, the cost of such trips is reduced. . . I am thinking of going to the moon, so I am not so sure of the trip.

It is possible to keep us happy and gay—but it is up to us to make it happen. The crops are doing fairly well in spite of hot and dry weather continuing day by day. . . How about setting good goals for this week-end?

Tennis Tourney Be Next Week Quitaque

Quitaque Lions Club is sponsoring its second tennis tournament beginning Monday, August 10 through Sunday, August 16.

The Secretary of Agriculture has granted Hall County authorization to continue the haying and grazing of soil bank and diverted acreage through October 31, 1964, Lynn L. McKown, ASCS Office Manager, said.

LAST LOOK—Shown above is the old Press Box at the Cyclone Stadium which was torn down Tuesday afternoon to make room for a new, modern facility. This is the last look at the box which occupied 28 of the choice seats in the concrete stadium. The old box was built by the Cyclone Booster Club and is to be replaced by a new one under the Booster Club sponsorship. Plans have been drawn and approved.

DOWN IT GOES—Thomas Clayton, right, supervises the taking down of the old Press Box at the Cyclone Stadium. Memphis Compress Co. crew did the work in record time Tuesday afternoon. A new press box will be built on poles behind the old location, opening 28 more seats on the 50 yard line. The project for a new box is being undertaken by the Cyclone Booster Club. Clayton will oversee the work. Completion date prior to the first game, Sept. 4.

Emergency Grazing Date Is Extended

The Secretary of Agriculture has granted Hall County authorization to continue the haying and grazing of soil bank and diverted acreage through October 31, 1964, Lynn L. McKown, ASCS Office Manager, said. The established rates for emergency grazing is $1.25 per acre per month for both soil bank and diverted acreage and the rate for haying is 50 per cent of the payment rate. On haying, grazing of the acreage that has been hayed is permitted through October 31, 1964 without additional payment, McKown said.

Cyclone Booster Club Undertakes Press Box Project

The Cyclone Booster Club began their year on a busy note at their meeting Friday night, making plans for this year's booster projects. The club voted to undertake the project of building a new press box at Cyclone Stadium. Plans were submitted to the club by Carl Yancey, chairman of the planning committee. After approval of the plans, Adrain Odom drew up working drawings of the plans. Yancey was appointed coordinating chairman of the whole project. Completion deadline is before Sept. 4. Actual work on the project began Tuesday afternoon when a Memphis Compress Co. crew under Thomas Clayton tore down the old structure. Wednesday, the four supporting poles for the new press box were put into place. The new box will be 30 feet long by 10 feet wide. It will be connected to the top portion of the concrete stands and will rest on four supporting poles. Access will be from two ladders at the top of the stands. When the box is full, these ladders pull up to form gates on the cat walks. The box will have glass on the upper half in front and back and glass partitions between the different booths. There will be a radio booth, spotter booth, officials booth (time keeper and yards and downs man), photographer booth, and P. A. announcer and press booth. It will be well ventilated. In other business, the booster club began planning and organization for the selling of ads in the football program. T. O. Pounds was appointed over-all chairman.

Jaycees Receive Letter Of Thanks

Recently, the Memphis Jaycees held a benefit program and took up a collection of approximately $200 for the Tommy Davis family of Amarillo, former residents of Memphis. Last week the Jaycee President Gene Hamill received the following letter: "Words at a time like this aren't enough, but we the Tommy Davis Family want to say thank you for the thoughtfulness and kindness you have done. We will always be grateful and it is deeply appreciated. "I talked to the doctor last night. He ran another test and he said they (the twins) weren't any better so guess we will have to just wait and see what the outcome is. Again may we say thank you, God bless all of you." The letter was signed: Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davis, Mrs. Wilma Davis and Family, Mrs. Velma McClure. President Hamill said that the Jaycees would like to extend their thanks to all citizens in this area who donated to the project.

Water Consumption At Record High For July

Council Names Corporate Judge

The Memphis City Council Tuesday night appointed a Corporate Court Judge for the City of Memphis and employed Robert E. Anderson, 33, to serve as a city policeman. Tracy Davis was appointed by the City Council to serve as Corporate Judge for the City following a discussion by the council. He is a former county judge. It was announced that he will be on duty in the mornings in the Municipal Building. Anderson took the oath of office as a City Policeman Wednesday morning and went to work immediately, it was announced. He has served as a Deputy Sheriff in Abernathy and served for two and one-half years with the Shore Patrol while in the U. S. Navy. In other business before the council, the sewer tapping charge was increased from $5 to $15 effective immediately. Also, they set a charge of $15 to repair black top streets when they have been cut to extend service utility lines. This charge will be paid by those utility companies who cut the city's streets in order to extend service, it was explained.

The citizens of Memphis consumed more water during the period of June 15 to July 15 this year than ever in the history of the water department, it was reported this week. The report was made official Monday night at the directors meeting of the Donley County Water Control and Improvement Dist. No. 1, which furnishes water to Memphis. Manager of the water system, Frank B. Foxhall, said that Memphis consumed 25,440,000 gallons of water during that period. This was an increase of over 5,000,000 gallons over last year during the same period. It also exceeded last year's August figure by over one million gallons. Foxhall also announced that the water district is having no water problems at this time. Last spring the district put down a new well which is now pumping approximately 350 gallons per minute. Then, last winter, 7,000 feet of eight inch pipe was put down in the well field to deliver more water from the wells to the distribution system. Foxhall pointed out that one of the reasons for the peak consumption last month was the increase in connections. "We have 1,321 customers now and last year we had 1,288," he said. With hot dry weather continuing, water consumption is expected to remain high, but it will be high quality drinking water throughout all twelve months in a year, civic leaders said. Water consumption, on an average, doubles during the summer months.

PUBLIC NOTICE, Its Purpose!

This publication, for the next few weeks, as it has the past two issues, will run a series of articles on public notices in order to inform the citizens in this area of this most important aspect of public print.

The best example of this kind of public notice is seen in the publication of the constitutional amendments each year by the State of Texas. These constitutional amendments are paid for by the State to give the voters an opportunity to study them several weeks prior to the date of the election. This year, Texans will vote on three constitutional amendments on November 3, 1964, the date of the general election.

If you, as a citizen of Texas have not as yet read these amendments by now, you should do so this week or within the next two weeks, for they are only published four times.

Why should you read them, study them, understand their implications? Because it is your civic duty to do so. Because your vote is the most precious thing you have for by casting it unwisely, you have or can defeat good legislation; but on the other hand, a wise vote can defeat poor, unwanted legislative acts.

Are you interested in seeing that your local school district receives more money? That your tax dollar does not support sectarian schools? Read the first of the proposed amendments.

The second of the three proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Texas would establish certain requirements relative to the enactment of laws affecting particular conservation and reclamation districts. One part of this amendment calls for: "No law creating a conservation and reclamation district shall be passed unless notice of the intention to introduce such a bill setting forth the general substance of the contemplated law shall have been published at least thirty days and not more than ninety days prior to the introduction thereof in a newspaper or newspapers having general circulation in the county or counties in which said district or any part thereof is or will be located. . . ."

Here again, the second amendment calls for the publication of a legal notice to inform the public about the working of our government.

Legislation that provides for vendor payments for medical care on behalf of individuals sixty-five years of age or over who are not recipients of Old Age Assistance and who are unable to pay for needed medical services and providing for acceptance of financial aid from the federal government. . . . etc.

The purpose of a public notice is to inform the population concerning the transactions of the public business. In a democracy, the people's "Right to Know" is a priceless privilege. Without this privilege, a democracy dies.

A Dangerous Business

Farming and ranching is a dangerous business! In 1962 there were 8,700 farm people killed and 800,000 injured in accidents. In fact, there are only one or two other industries that are as dangerous as farming.

In other industries there is a concentrated effort made to educate workers in safety. Large amounts of money and time is expended in safety education, safety equipment and safer ways of doing the work.

Familiarity is said to breed contempt and that is probably why there are so many accidents and deaths around farm equipment. A farmer lives every day with machinery and livestock. He knows or thinks he knows just what every "bummer engine" in the routine that makes the accidents.

We hope that every farmer and rancher and everyone who works on a farm will take the time to work carefully, keep the safety guards on his equipment, keep a close watch on that "gentle" bull and conduct his own safety education program.

Let each one do his share to reduce that number killed and injured in the agriculture industry each year.—The Hansford Plainsman.

Does Success Make You Happy?

Dale Carnegie, who made a career out of helping other people be successful, is credited with this bit of philosophy: "Success is getting what you want; happiness is wanting what you get."

There is a great deal of food for thought in this sentence. A great deal of mental anguish and physical pain could be eliminated if more of us would think this bit of advice through and try to decide which way we want to go.

Too many of us confuse success with happiness, when they are not the same thing at all.

Some of the most successful men and women are the unhappiest. In fact, reading the life story of a great many successful people may lead one to the conclusion that a person who is bound and determined to be a success must be prepared to accept a certain amount of unhappiness along the way.

And when you finally reach the pinch of success, you might be surprised to find out that you are not happy, after all.

The churches of this country have been waging war against "materialism" for many years and to be frank about it, not making much headway. Countless sermons have been preached against people throwing all values out the window in an unrelenting quest for the almighty dollar. Still people tend to equate wealth with success and thus with happiness.

People who have a hard time making ends meet think that if they could only get a raise, increase their income, become successful, presto, happiness comes automatically.

Unfortunately it doesn't. Happiness lies in accepting what you have and being glad you have it. This would be a powerful lesson to learn if we could only make a sincere effort to master it.

Newspaper Qualification To Print Public Notices

By CHARLES L. ALLEN
 Director, School of Journalism
 Oklahoma State University

In a democracy the people's "Right to Know" is a privilege beyond the price of rubles. Without this right, demonstrated continuously, guaranteed by the Constitution, fortified by the decisions of the courts, and kept lustrous by newspapers of great courage, democracy dies.

In the complex processes that keep the people informed, none is more important than access to a good newspaper with the power, the knowledge and the courage to try to print the truth. "Truth is the proper word, for what truth is hard to come by." "What truth, said Jesting Pilate, and would not stay for an answer." These famous words of Francis

Bacon, statesman, scholar, scientist and author of the early 17th century, point up the disturbing fact that truth means many things to many people.

I

In most states the legislature has wisely enacted statutes to guarantee that persons affected by legal actions shall have a right to good and sufficient information about them. This information must begin with the public notice, which is, in many instances, the first inkling a person has that he is involved in so serious a matter.

We have discussed the various ways of giving notice to affected parties in a legal matter, and have tried to show why the newspaper, which is the only flexible medium with permanent record, is the best vehicle for conveying notice to the general public. There are many characteristics, however, which differentiate newspapers from other media and from each other. Let us look at the basic qualifications which a newspaper should have to give "due and sufficient" notice.

II

The newspaper selected for public notices should:

1. Be available to each and every adult person in the area where it is published.
2. Not be restricted in its circulation by the constitution or by laws of any fraternal, philanthropic, religious or other association.

the lawyer who must handle legal affairs with dispatch. A newspaper must be available to the legal profession when they need it, with as little loss of time as possible. It must be available to publish legal notices to comply with statutes of its particular locale. And, because it is a man's right to have more than one cursory notice of so important an event, the paper should be frequently published. Government bodies must have frequency of issue to guarantee the best public notice about hearings, proceedings and the spending of public funds.

4. Be published in the English language.

English is the language of the American people in the United States. There are some papers in other languages, but they serve relatively small groups with ethnic, or nationality, or simply language traits that set them apart. It is their responsibility the public officials, to learn English or to get their information from someone who does read it.

5. Be published at least as frequently as once a week.

Excellent journals are published in America at intervals of a month, three months, six months or even a year. They serve their peculiar purposes well. But it is entirely unreasonable to expect that they should be considered qualified to print public notices. The man whose farm is about to be foreclosed cannot wait a month or more for the notice, nor can

London Gazette of England. America's newspapers go back to 1690, with many that have been continuously published 50 to 100 years. One court and commercial newspaper has been published, and many of them are 75 to 100 years old. The majority of America's weekly and daily newspapers, as proved by an examination of any newspaper directory, have more than adequately demonstrated their stability over the past 50 to 200 years.

7. Be reputable.

How can one assess and evaluate the reputation of a newspaper? Perhaps somewhat by the way it looks. By the way it handles news and advertising. By the reputation it has among its subscribers. By the integrity it has shown in supporting community affairs. By the courage its editor has demonstrated in fighting corruption. By the dependability of its delivery service. By its willingness to admit mistakes. By its quick correction of errors. By its completeness. By its editing accuracy. By the accuracy of its reporting. By its ability to report all sides of a public question or report all business transactions and court matters with regularity. And there are still other ways.

A newspaper that has little or no real news about happenings, events, public affairs or business and court matters in the town where it is published should not be allowed to print public notices. No one can tell an editor how much news he should print, or how to display it, but everyone can tell him when the news is skimpy. Unfortunately, the size of the newspaper is no indicator of the amount, or quality, of the news content; some of the big-city dailies print a distressingly small percentage of news.

9. Carry a variety of advertising.

Two measures of a newspaper's service to its community are constant. It is judged as a news medium by the kind and amount of news it prints, and is judged as a service to the economic aspects of the community by the kind and amount of advertising it carries, legal, classified or display. A newspaper should be judged somewhat on its advertising because that part of the paper shows its acceptance by the business and professional men of its town.

10. A newspaper should be decently printed.

The obligation of the publisher and production departments to produce a well-printed, neat, clean, legible paper is inescapable. Assurance of a franchise with the public comes as much from appearance as from performance.

A poorly printed newspaper is almost always a carelessly edited newspaper and one with little acceptance by its readers.

11. Circulation—and what it means.

There never was a newspaper, or a magazine, or any other publication including the BIBLE, that

By HELEN COMBS

Hot, dry weather continues to dominate the weather scene this week . . . and it has reached such a point here that Mary Helen Sexauer suggested we might all get together for an Indian rain dance on the court house square. In fact she even volunteered to bring the "feathers."

Considering the long period of drouth, crops have managed, to this point, to hold up better than could be expected. However, rain is badly needed.

Several friends are in Amarillo hospitals this week. O. E. (Ott) Bevers is undergoing medical tests at St. Anthony's Hospital, Room 330; Dr. J. W. Fitzjarrald underwent surgery in St. Anthony's Hospital Monday and is reported to be doing nicely. In Northwest Texas Hospital are Mrs. Jude (Lucille) Gable, who underwent surgery Tuesday; and Mrs. Brown Smith, who is receiving treatment. We hope they can all be home soon.

May we say "welcome back home" to Johnnie Bice and son, Randy, who arrived recently after spending two years at Fort Leonardwood, Mo., where Dr. Bice has been serving with the U. S. Army Dental Detachment. Johnnie has moved into their new home, located in the Coronado Heights Additions, and Dr. Roddy Bice will join his family here about the middle of the month.

Being a grandparent opens a complete new field of conversation topics. Perhaps the parents can't brag about their children's accomplishments—but we grandparents can and do without any reservations. So it's nice to meet a grandparent, and that way we can find out some information for our paper. You would be surprised at the many interesting items one can pick up here and there.

Found out this week that Zeb Moore of Amarillo, former Memphian, might just possibly enter the Big League baseball field in a few years. His 12-year-old grandson, Donald Charles Moore of Lubbock, pitched a perfect game—struck out 13 players out of 18 batters—the other night in the Little League play-off in Lubbock. This is the second time in the 12-year history of the league that this has been accomplished. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Moore, Jr., of Lubbock. Former Memphians, the family have many friends here.

Enjoyed a short visit Tuesday from another former Memphis couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fultz of Wichita Falls. We had heard many nice compliments paid the couple by friends here and this was our first time to meet Mr. and Mrs. Fultz. We enjoyed our visit to the fullest and can see with their happy outlook on life why they accumulate so many friends as they tread down life's pathway. Mr. and Mrs. Fultz were en route to Eagle Nest for a vacation.

Hiram and Joan Crawford departed this week for Fayetteville, N. C., to visit their son, Bill Morgan, and family and get the first look at their new grandson, Kelly Ray. Bill is serving with the U. S. Army. En route, they will make stops at New Orleans, Natchez, Miss., Washington, D. C., and other points.

And speaking of vacationers, we got a variety of news Monday about the Wendell Harrison family. Frances Eddie was visiting relatives in Sylvester, daughter Rosemary was off to Dallas to visit a cousin and Wendell was in Amarillo attending a meeting . . . and Happy, the basset, wasn't left at home alone . . . Happy was enjoying a vacation at the vet's in Clarendon.

Seems there has been some misunderstanding about the use of the baby grand piano given to the Community Center by the Atalantean Club, Mary Helen Sexauer told us this week. The piano was placed at the center so that all persons may use it who need to do so. A committee has been set up to govern its use and is headed by Glenn Carlos, city tax collector, Mrs. Sexauer and Gertrude Rasco.

There are only three rules governing the use of the piano, and these have been made in order that the piano will remain in good condition throughout the years and be available for use a long time, Mrs. Sexauer stated. The rules are: 1. Do not remove piano from platform; 2. one rehearsal is allowed each performance and if more rehearsals are needed please use piano on floor; 3. Do not remove piano from storage room and from stage back to storage room. Mr. Carlos will be glad to move piano for you.

Mrs. Sexauer said the committee will be glad to answer any of the questions pertaining to the use of the piano and it is hoped those who have need for the piano will contact Mr. Carlos, and he will be glad to move it to the stage at the time needed.

All members of the Memphis Band Club and prospective members and their families are invited to attend the ice cream social at the City Park on Monday evening, to meet the new band instructor, Ronny Wells and his wife. Mr. Wells is anxious to meet as many band parents as possible and we hope all who can will come out to the social Monday evening. Glen Cosby stated in making the announcement.

Electric Cooperative, Inc., will hold its annual meeting in the Community Center . . . this is a change from previous years when a watermelon feast has been held at the City Park. We understand a short program will be presented and refreshments enjoyed by the members. Door prizes will be awarded.

Today's Chuckle: Little Betsy was crying bitterly. Her mother asked what was the matter. "My shoes hurt me," Betsy cried.

GIRL SCOUTING

"Fun, learning, adventure—52 week a year" is a theme with a meaning when you're a girl Scout. Camping, of course, has been synonymous with Girl Scouting and summertime since the first Girl Scouts, ankle length skirts notwithstanding, learned to rough it at the first Girl Scout camp, Camp Lowlands, near Savannah, Georgia, in 1912.

More than 100 area Girl Scouts will arrive at Camp Kiowa near Canadian on August 9, the opening of Quivira Council's established camp and troop encampment.

Cecilia Fowler, council camping co-ordinator, has announced that Barbara Goodnight of Denton will direct the established camp and Mrs. Vaden Fowler of Borger will direct the troop encampment. Twenty-four staff members will supervise the two camps.

Nature in recreation will be emphasized in the camp program. A. S. Jackson, biologist in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, and Mrs. Clifford Drake of Phillips will act as consultants in this field. Other activities offered to those attending troop encampment are: outdoor games, crafts, and cooking, hiking, swimming instruction and practice, sing downs, archery, and council fires. Participating troops will leave Camp Kiowa Saturday, August 15.

Activities included in the established camp programs include: camp craft, arts and crafts, fire-building, cooking, campfires, ceremonies, water safety, swimming, conservation, archery, riflery, hike-conservation, archery, riflery, hike. Established camp will include August 20.

Troop 187 of Memphis led by Mrs. Elmont Branigan will attend the troop encampment. Senior Girl Scouts attending are: Elmonette Branigan, Glenda Bruce, Diane Galley, Ginger Greene, Amy Hillhouse, Regina Hoover, Susan McQueen, Laurel Pounds and Carol Ann Voyles.

In the United States today there are 639 Girl Scout established camps.

"What you have them on the wrong feet."

Betsy kept on crying and would not be comforted. "I haven't any other feet," she sobbed.

Neal Hindman Attends State Vo-Ag. Workshop

Neal Hindman, Vocational Agriculture Teacher in the Memphis High School, will participate in the Statewide In-Service Education Workshop for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture, August 4-7, according to George Hurt, State Director of Vocational Agriculture. The four-day meeting will be held in Houston as a part of the program in Vocational Agriculture to further improve the professional competency of the state's teachers.

Vocational Agriculture Teachers will have the first general session on Tuesday morning, August 4th with an address by Dr. Earl L. Butz, Dean of Agriculture at Purdue University. Dr. Butz has served in a number of educational and governmental capacities and has visited 27 foreign countries and will be speaking on the subject, "Our Daily Bread." The Thursday morning general session will have a presentation by M. A. Browning, Assistant Commissioner for Vocational Education, Texas Education Agency. Browning will discuss the 1963 Vocational Education Acts and their implications for Vocational Agriculture.

Vocational Agriculture Teachers, School Administrators, Legislators, News Media Personnel and others will receive awards and recognitions at the annual Awards Breakfast on Wednesday morning. The Awards Breakfast is a regular activity of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association.

The State Vocational Agriculture Education Staff will direct workshops, and the workshops will be staffed by Vocational Agriculture Teachers and other specialists who especially are well qualified in their respective areas. The full day of workshops is an important phase of the training session.

According to Joe L. Tatum, President of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas, the organization will conduct several meetings at times not in conflict with the workshop program. Officers and Board members will be elected and a program of work for 1964-65 will be adopted by the organization.

The ten area supervisors will work with their teachers in planning special programs of interest to their teachers in their area of the state. These programs will be presented in Area meetings on Tuesday afternoon and Friday morning. Plans for district in-service education program will be finalized by the end of the district meetings.

Four Local Boy Scouts Return From Jamboree At Valley Forge, Penn.

Scouts from all over the world began vacating the Jamboree grounds at Valley Forge, Penna., July 23. Local Boy Scouts Neil Tribble, David Lemons, William Neal McQueen and Mike Branigan returned to Memphis, Sunday 26. The boys had a most enjoyable trip and many new experiences. Neil was selected as Senior Patrol Leader of his troop. All the boys report the country was beautiful and although it rained almost every day, the weather was quite hot.

Mike received some special assignments in the line of duty on Traffic Protection and Security. Of 2,000 applications, 22 Eagle Scouts were selected to work on the Traffic detail. Mr. William Lawrence served as Chief of Inspection Service, Elmer Ogren was head of Traffic Control, Tom Winslow, a Scoutmaster, was assignment chief, Frank McMullen served as Chief Patrolman. Mike worked under Carlos Harvey, Patrolman. A total of 150 Highway Patrolmen were assigned to work at the Jamboree. Nineteen boys were assigned to gates, parking lots and night patrol. Of this group Mike and four other boys were selected to serve as Honor Guard for President Lyndon B. Johnson, The International Chief Executive of Boy Scouts, and movie stars Anita Bryant, Loran Greene, and Dan Blocker. He also participated in the Parade of Flags for the Opening Ceremony of the Jamboree on July 16. Two personalities of Boy Scouting to pass through Gate No. 9 at which Mike worked were Lady Baden-Powell, wife of the of Boy Scouts, and Hubert Nesbitt of North Ireland, secretary to the late founder.

During time off, Mike was able to visit New York City and Newark, Delaware. The boys of Adobe Walls Council toured on the way to Jamboree. Interesting places the scouts visited were Washington, D. C., and the World's Fair at New York.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Pearl Massey and attending the Dennis reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey and Abbie Louise, and Hubert Nesbitt of North Ireland, D. C., and the World's Fair at New York.

Nuptial Vows Read In Amarillo For Miss Hunter, Duane Foard

Miss Marilyn Jean Hunter of Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hunter of Lincoln, Kans., became the bride of David Duane Foard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Foard of Memphis, on Saturday, June 6, at 6 p. m. in the Bivins Memorial Chapel, Amarillo.

Dr. Wood, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, read the double ring ceremony. The couple's only attendants were Miss Ruth Ellen Hunter of Lincoln, Kans., sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, and Tim Leumiller of Colorado Springs who attended the groom as best man. Bennie Foard of Carey, cousin of the groom, was usher.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with scalloped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece studded with seed pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet atop a white Bible. She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something blue" with a sixpence in her shoe. For something old and borrowed, she wore a pearl pendant belonging to the groom's mother. Mrs. Hunter chose for her daughter's wedding a blue satin dress accented with beige accessories, while Mrs. Foard, mother of the groom, wore a blue frock complemented with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. Roy Parker of Amarillo, sister of the bride, registered the guests. A three-tiered, decorated wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served with fruit punch.

Following a wedding trip down state, Mr. and Mrs. Foard are now at home at 1817 Tularosa, Amarillo.

Mrs. Foard is a graduate of Lincoln High School and attended college in Kansas prior to coming to Amarillo where she is employed with Southwest Investment Company.

Mr. Foard is a graduate of the local high school. He attended North Texas State College one year and has also had courses at Clarendon Junior College and Amarillo College while serving with the U. S. Air Force in Amarillo. He recently received his release after four years active service with the U. S. Air Force and is now employed with Russell Stationary Company, Amarillo.

Charlie Smith Who Spends Two Years In Cast Or Brace After Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smith visited in Fort Worth the past weekend with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith, who is a former resident of Hall County.

Charlie Smith was injured in an Automobile accident September 1, 1962. Since that time he has been in a cast or brace. He and his wife visited in Memphis last fall for two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smith.

The following, written by Rev. J. A. Phillips, pastor of the Oak Knoll Baptist Church, was printed in the Fort Worth Tribune.

A Profile of Courage "One who has known and come in contact with Charlie Smith over the past two years has seen a profile of indomitable courage. One who has had this genuine privilege also has seen take place before their very eyes what the Bible says in Romans 5:3—'Tribulation worketh patience.'

"Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith make their home in Pittsburg, Texas. For a number of years he has worked there in one of the automobile houses. They are members of the Bethel Baptist Church there. Being the kind of people who make friends easily, they have many friends in Pittsburg. Among Charlie's friends are many fishermen, for he likes to fish.

"Almost two years ago Charlie was in an automobile accident. God was good to him. He came out of it alive. However, this accident brought to him the greatest challenge of his life. He has accepted the challenge and has been every inch the man. During this time he has learned well the road

H. M. Baggary To Speak Aug. 20 At Quitaque

H. M. Baggary, publisher of the Tullia Herald, Tullia, will be guest speaker for a meeting of the Briscoe County League of Democratic women, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. W. E. Schott, Jr., of Silverton, League president.

The meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, August 20, in the Quitaque High School auditorium, Quitaque. The public is invited to attend along with members of the League of Democratic Women and their husbands.

Baggary, whose editorial columns consistently win top area, state and national awards, attended West Texas State University, the University of Missouri, Harvard University, hold B. A. and M. A. degrees, and has done additional graduate work. Before becoming active in the field of newspaper publishing, he was a business teacher in the Tullia schools.

He was a Naval lieutenant during World War II and served as an aide to Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. He participated in an NBC panel during the Little Rock crisis, and in 1960 travelled with President Lyndon Johnson as a member of his staff.

In addition to writing several columns and the news stories for the Tullia Herald, he has weekly commentaries on radio stations in Texas and New Mexico, including KIXZ, Amarillo; KPDM, Pampa; KHUZ, Borger; KTUE, Tullia; KBIM, Roswell; KENM, Portales; KSVP, Artesia; KHSU, Abilene; and KLMX, Clayton.

Baggary, a dedicated Democrat, traveled to New York recently to receive a National Editorial Association award. While on the trip he conducted his own poll of the Republicans with whom he came in contact—cab drivers, the man on the street, newspapermen. Many had been Republicans all their lives and some had been delegates to the national conventions in past years. The trip was made before the 1964 Republican National Convention, but he was able to receive first-hand information from the "grassroots" voters in the East regarding the Goldwater nomination.

All residents of this area, regardless of their political party affiliation, are invited to hear Mr. Baggary in Quitaque on August 7. There will be no admission charged, and refreshments will be served.

to and from the hospital. Most of the time he has been in a cast that covers two thirds of his body. Disappointment has become to him a regular fare. However, those who have watched him have seen that with each new disappointment, he just draws deeper into a well of courage that will not run dry.

Those who have gone occasionally to the bedside of Charlie Smith, a man of already gentle disposition, have seen him mellow into one of the kindest and sweetest spirits they will ever meet.

"Those who have gone to cheer him up, have gone away having themselves been cheered. So, it seems almost unnecessary to say that Charlie is a Christian. He was saved at 14 year of age in a Baptist Church out from Memphis, Texas in Hall County.

"So, we salute you, Charlie Smith! You have been a blessing to all who have passed your way." At present, Mr. and Mrs. Smith are staying with a sister and brother-in-law. Their address is 1307 Oak Knoll Drive, Fort Worth and would appreciate cards and letters from their friends in Hall County, Mrs. Smith stated.

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

The best protection for the soil against wind and water erosion is a growing crop. Farmers should be planning, now for a cover crop to be on their land during the winter and early spring months, when the county normally has the blowing season.

There are several crops that are adapted to this area that can be used for a winter cover crop. They are small grains, such as rye, oats or barley, winter peas, or vetch with small grains.

Cover crops should be seeded early enough so as to make sufficient growth to protect the soil, prior to extremely cold weather. There are several ways to establish these cover crops. They can be drilled, broadcast, or planted with inter-row seeders. With a cyclone type seeder or inter-row seeder, cover crops can be seeded in existing crops. On land that is not in a crop, drilling is probably the best method of seeding.

For maximum benefits from a cover crop, it should not be grazed or harvested. The cover crop should be left growing as long as possible or until about April 1. When another crop is to follow the cover crop, the cover crop should be shredded and/or disked about two weeks prior to seedbed preparation. Residues left on the surface dry out quickly and are easier to get through while preparing the seedbed. Breaking a cover crop into the soil, tends to give trouble while preparing a seedbed, due to slow deterioration of plant residue.

Fertilization of a cover crop produces a faster growth and a heavier poundage of residues.

The Hall County Soil Conservation District recognizes the need for a large acreage of cover crops, especially for protection of the soil against wind erosion. Also, a cover crop managed properly improves the soil by adding organic material and increasing the intake of water.

The Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Hall County Soil Conservation District are available to assist in the planning for adapted cover crops and the management of their residues.

Prevent Forest Fires Dry fall months can be even more dangerous when it comes to forest fire danger. Nippy weather of fall causes more campfires to be built.

Help prevent a blaze from originating at your campsite by clearing a large circle around the spot where you intend to build your fire.

Also, keep the fire itself as small as possible.

was read by anywhere nearly ALL of the people in a given community. Even if a publisher sent a copy of the paper to every home in the town, readership could still be mighty poor. Readership—or the ability of a paper to deliver a message—is not guaranteed by blanket circulation.

12. Where circulation is needed.

Unless a newspaper circulates in the residential or business area it pretends to serve, it is a poor medium for advertising or for public notice. Circulation, or rather, scattering of many copies, can be obtained anywhere. Only a newspaper devoted to a community can serve it well.

13. What is adequate circulation?

No definition yet proposed has satisfactorily, or conclusively, answered this question. The reason may be that the word "adequate" means all things to all men. Few have tried to define adequate circulation in terms of giving the best notice to the parties most concerned in a public notice matter, and many have become lost in the hopeless argument over numbers. It has never yet been possible, and probably never will be, to define adequate circulation in terms of an arbitrary, or absolute, number. The legislatures of the various states, thoroughly aware of the great differences in population density, economic conditions, rural and urban differences, sizes of geographical areas, and variations in sociological conditions, in the areas of each state, have wisely stipulated only that a newspaper must have "general circulation" to be qualified to print public notices. There are certain publications of a fraternal, political or religious nature which, although they have large circulations, are, by the very nature of their peculiar specializations, not of any value as a medium for public notice.

14. Will the requirement that a notice must be published in "the newspaper with the largest circulation" insure good readership?

Suppose that in a certain county-seat town we have two good newspapers. Newspaper A has 1,500 circulation; Newspaper B has 1,550. Which one of these newspapers should carry public notices? The one with 1,550? Both? Or must we study the characteristics of these papers a lot more before we decide that either one of them, or both, should publish public notices?

When there is a ridiculously large difference between the circulation of two bona fide newspapers in the same town, the choice may be much simpler, but the paper with far less circulation may still do a more efficient job of informing interested parties concerned with a legal matter. Who is so young that he has forgotten the murderous, wasteful circulation of past years? Automobiles and houses were given as prizes for garnering the most circulation money. The worse a paper's list was, the more it spent for subscribers, because it was desperate. These new subscribers seldom stayed long; often dropped out at the end of the first pay period. The newspaper was never a better paper because of this panic-inspired campaign, and often was worse because it couldn't serve the enlarged list with a good paper. All in all, circulations obtained by crisis-born situations are worthless to the community, and so are of little value in giving the people good public notice.

15. Should the newspaper be expected to run a "news" story about every matter, or even the most important matters, that are treated in public notices?

Some critics have alleged that the newspaper should "cover" in news stories many of the financial affairs of public bodies, and thus make it unnecessary for those bodies to publish an accounting of their activities. Carried to its ridiculous lengths, this absurd contention would make the newspaper give away all it has to sell. Nobody would be stupid enough to contend that local grocers should give free food to the community's indigent, or that doctors should give medical care without fee, or that lawyers should give legal assistance without pay. Hundreds of routine matters that involve the handling of the people's money cannot be regarded as substantial news material.

It would be economic suicide for the newspaper to attempt to do in its news stories what officials are obligated to do.

16. Newspapers are vital to the life of every community.

Never let us forget that a town without a newspaper is seriously handicapped. Lawyers cannot discharge their duties to clients without a means of communication; merchants cannot advertise their wares; and the mass of the public will be ill-informed.

Those who blandly, and unconsciously, say that a small circulation newspaper should not be allowed to print public notices (and let it go out of business if it must) are enemies of our society. The death of the littlest one of these papers is a harbinger of the death of the community.

No newspaper will prosper save in the degree of usefulness of its service to its subscriber. No newspaper, weekly or daily, will continue to exist longer than it is needed.

Draft Board Warns of Lagging Registration

Lagging registration under the draft law in Collingworth, Cottle, Hall, Briscoe, and Childress counties this week prompted W. L. Hughes, board chairman of the five-county area, to warn registrars that the average young man must register within five days after his 18th birthday.

Failure to register, he pointed out, may subject men to prosecution or induction into the Army out of town and ahead of other men, Mr. Hughes said.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with any provision of the law, under present law, is a fine of $10,000, or both.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Panhandle Prosper: Gas and Oil

Panhandle continues to prosper. A keystone of the state's economic activity is the gas and oil industry. This report is the first of several I will be publishing on the makeup of the Panhandle-area economy. For several months I have been gathering data from reliable sources in and out of Government and industry, and from business and industrial organizations, State and Federal government sources, and statistics compiled in Government agencies.

This compilation of data will be extremely helpful to farmers, ranchmen, and chambers of commerce and labor organizations, and to citizens who wish to be informed of the great economic strength and potential of the Panhandle.

Another factor in the economy is the 28 counties comprising the 18th Congressional District. The development and production of oil and natural gas resources. According to the latest available information from the Texas Mid-continent Oil and Gas Association, the value of oil and gas produced is $269 million annually.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reports that in 1961 the 26 Panhandle counties produced 39.9 million barrels of oil, with a value of almost $119 million. Natural gas production totaled about 1.2 trillion cubic feet, with a value of $150 million.

From this oil and gas activity comes a $72.7-million-a-year-industry payroll for more than 11,000 employees, according to the Texas Employment Commission. In addition, the Texas Mid-continent Oil and Gas Association estimates a distribution of some $33.6 million annually among the district's farmers, ranchers, and other landowners in payment for production from their acreages.

In 1961, according to the Texas Railroad Commission, producers in the 18th District were operating some 13,550 oil wells and 5,850 gas wells. Corporations and individuals continue to invest millions annually in the search for new fields and development of those already found. "The Oil and Gas Journal" reports that 1,056 wells were drilled in the 28 counties in 1962—and 109 of them were wildcat exploratory wells. Some $6.4 million was spent in the district in 1962 for drilling and about $12 million was lost to dry holes.

Major oil companies have more than 5 million acres under lease in the 18th District—approximately 30 percent of the total land area. In addition to the royalty money distribution cited above, millions of dollars more are paid out in lease rentals and bonuses.

The District has three refineries with a total capacity of some 131,000 barrels of crude oil a day. These are located in Hutchinson, Moore, and Potter counties. The natural gasoline plants which extract liquid products from natural gas total 30, and handle some 3.6 billion cubic feet of gas a day. Seven carbon black plants in the District process about 143 million cubic feet of gas daily.

The 18th District includes nine of the top 100 Texas counties (there are 254 counties in all) ranked according to the value of oil and gas production. With state rankings shown in parentheses, they are: Hutchinson (16), $36 million from crude oil and $13 million from natural gas; Gray (19), $37 million oil and $9 million gas; Hansford (33), $7 million oil and $24 million gas; Sherman (37), $53,000 oil and $26.5 million gas; Carson (44), $13 million oil and $12 million gas; Ochiltree (50), $13 million oil and $9 million gas; Potter (65), $16.5 million gas; Roberts (86), $4 million oil and $8 million gas.

Also important is the Helium Conservation Program, a national program to conserve the limited and irreplaceable resources of helium gas. Congress has authorized obligating $47.5 million a year for the acquisition of helium. In 22-year contracts with four companies—a milestone of partnership between Government and private enterprise—helium is be-

Homeowners Find Control Is Often Necessary

Ants are becoming a nuisance in homes and lawns in many sections of the county. These pests can be effectively controlled when recommended insecticides are used, advises W. B. Hooser, County Agent of Hall County.

Among the more popular and effective insecticides for ant control are chlordane and dieldrin. These may be applied along window and door sills, foundation, racks, baseboards and other possible runways for the ants. Some nesting places for ants are behind walls, in closets, in furniture and other dark undisturbed places. When a nesting place is found, one of the following practices may be followed to destroy the nest.

Effective control, in most instances, depends upon locating and destroying nests and thoroughly treating the area with proper insecticides. When ants are found in the house they may be controlled by apply 2-3 percent chlordane or 0.5 percent dieldrin household sprays. These materials may also be applied with a small brush. Repeat the application as needed to maintain control of the pests.

Outside the home, apply a band of insecticidal dust or spray around the foundation wall and treat all nests found in the yards. For outside control, 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dusts are effective. Granular formulations and sprays of these materials are also available and are convenient to use.

When using these or any other poisons for control of pests around the farm and home, always be sure to read and follow directions printed on the label of the container, says Hooser.

When Ducks Flare Away

When ducks flare from your blind, after showing that they want to come in, look around to find out what they don't like about the setup.

It may be your cigarette smoke, empty shotgun shells, or scraps of luncheon paper fluttering in the wind.

Pick up telltale evidence and see what happens.

John Brown had 18 men with him on the Harper's Ferry raid.

Tree Hunter's Aid
Deer hunting from a tree produces good results but it's often dangerous.

An accident easily can occur if a hunter tries to turn around on the limb where he is standing. Unfortunately he turns instinctively when he hears a sound behind him that might be an approaching buck.

A small mirror angled just right to cover the immediate terrain, to the rear of the hunter, will eliminate the necessity of movement.

Next tie a red bandana, or other brightly-colored cloth, to the dangling end of the line. Then pull the bandana to the top of the tree.

Shrimp spawn offshore and the young one must find their way into the sheltered, less salty bay waters or they perish.

Comments

Deck's Didactics in Wellington Leader: This makes over thirty days of the enervating heat which seems likely to set some kind of a record. In spite of this it is remarkable to note how well most of the cotton continues to hold up during the protracted heat. It should be remembered that cotton is a hot weather plant and we go through this anxious period every year we make a good crop.

After spending about five months just spending, doing nothing, etc., eating, sleeping, fooling around the yard, bothering others at The Democrat office, trying to write a little, and so on and so forth, and wishing I could attend church, I decided to make the plunge last Sunday.

Went to church with Mrs. W., enjoyed the singing, piano and organ played by two young girls, and listening to the sermon, and in the meantime saw other folks at church. At 2 p. m. we enjoyed the County Singing at First Christian Church—it was well worth attending. Following the singing, we went to the Community Center to meet the new Superintendent and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Doss, at a social given in their honor by the School Board and others.

No one, and I mean it, enjoys being able once more to be around and about with my many friends—there is no one I dislike.
