On Thursday morning, Aug. 27, assembly will be held at 8:30 a. m. The public is invited. A full day of school will be held following the assembly program.

Buses will run at regular time Thursday morning, but will not run Wednesday.

Lakeview School

Lakeview High School students, the top four grades, will register Friday, Aug. 28, at 10 to 12 a. m. Students will furnish their own transportation to the school as buses will not run that day, Supt. A. P. Jones said.

There will be pre-registration for grade school students.

Classes at Lakeview will open Monday, Aug. 31 and all buses will run on regular schedule. Classes will take up at 9 a. m. and out at 4 p. m. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria at noon, beginning Monday.

Teachers Needed

Memphis Supt. Doss said there are four vacancies on the Memphis school faculty. "We need a high school science teacher, high school librarian, junior high math and a girls P. E. teacher," he said.

Mr. Jones of Lakeview said that the school there will open with a full staff of teachers.

Estelline has a full staff of teachers with the addition of two new teachers.

Bob Askey has been hired to serve as high school principal. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and has served as principal at Mullins for the past three years. Mrs. R. V. Wood will teach junior high English. Also, Ben Bragg has been employed as bus mechanic and bus foreman, Supt. Cupell said.

Women's Forum To Have John Hancock, Noted Lecturer, World Traveler, Fri.

The Women's Forum of Memphis will present James Hancock, educator, lecturer and world-traveler, on Friday evening, August 28, at the Community Center. Mr. Hancock will speak on "Viewing the Middle East" and show colored slides.

FFA Boys Go To Hereford Assn. Field Day

Durwood Wilkerson, Robert Maddox and Carl Houston, FFA judging team, along with Sponsor Neal Hindman, attended the third annual field day of the Panhandle area Texas Junior Hereford Assn. Saturday at Doctor Hereford's near McLean.

Sponsor Hindman said that besides the judging contest, six demonstrations were set up which were very beneficial to those attending the field day.

Cool Weather Rain, Improve Crop Prospects

Cooler weather and rains this week have made the crop prospect for Hall County much brighter, it was reported.

Although the rainfall last Friday night was not heavy enough to stop irrigation activities, it was most beneficial, it was reported.

Here in Memphis the rainfall Friday night and early Saturday was recorded at one and .30 inches, J. J. McMickin said. Sunday morning Memphis received .02 of an inch, he said.

Reports over the county this week showed that the Turkey area had two rains totaling about two inches. Other areas received from .80 to over an inch and a half.

It was reported that the rainfall was pretty general over all of Hall County last weekend.

Two cool days of temperatures of 80 degrees or below were a welcomed relief from the hot, dry days of the first part of August.

High-low temperatures this week included: Wednesday, 95-69, Tuesday 98-68, Monday 80-67, Sunday 78-57, Saturday 98-75, Friday 101-67, Thursday 86-70.

Estelline Girl Is Seriously Injured Monday

Donna Gayle Wynn, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Wynn of Estelline, is in Hall County Hospital in serious condition from injuries received at 4 p. m. Monday in Estelline.

She received a fractured left right thigh and a skull fracture.

The investigating officer, Highway Patrolman Don Collins, said the accident occurred in the City Limits of Estelline at 4 p. m. Monday on U. S. Highway 287 when Donna Gayle ran into the side of a pickup towing a car. The pickup was being driven by M. J. Rogers, Sr. of 3403 North Mirror, Amarillo.

Donna Wynn was rushed to Hall County Hospital where the attending physician reported her condition as serious, Wednesday.

Beginner Band Has Practice Session Today

Band Director Ronnie Wells said this week that the beginner band is having its first practice session at 10 a. m. this morning and he is expecting approximately 40 students.

They will practice each morning at 10 a. m. until school starts, he said.

The high school band has been working on march music and football show music and is expected to begin marching Friday, preparing their halftime shows.

The marching band will be under the direction of Drum Major Tony Monzingo. Gerry Knight is the Assistant drum major.

Scrimmage Sessions Are Planned For Cyclones

Thirty-four boys reported Monday morning for the first workout session of the 1964 Memphis Cyclone and a few other boys are expected, Coach Charley Chambliss said.

This is not counting our freshmen boys, the coach said. We will have approximately 55 boys in high school out for football this season, he said.

The coaches are planning two scrimmage sessions for the Cyclone squad. The first one will be Saturday morning at 8 a. m. and will be an intersquad scrimmage lasting about one hour.

The second scrimmage will be next Tuesday but the time and place are not definite as yet, Coach Chambliss said.

After these two scrimmages, the Memphis lads will concentrate their efforts getting ready for the Memphis-Crowell football game to be played here Sept. 2.

Coach Chambliss said Wednesday that workouts this week have been going real good and the boys are showing a wonderful attitude. "We're not in real good shape as yet but it is coming along," he said.

Coach Chambliss said he will rely heavily on his experienced boys to carry the main load, however, he felt the other boys are showing much improvement.

Ticket Sales

The reserve seat tickets which went on sale Monday to those who bought reserve seats last year, will be open to the general public today at $6.00 per book for the six home games. "We have contacted all those who had tickets last year and received a fine response," Coach Chambliss said.

"We still have some real good seats available and we are selling them on a first come, first serve basis at the Allen Field House," Coach Chambliss said.

The coach encouraged those who think they want a reserved seat to contact him as soon as possible so that he can show them the seating chart and get them the best seats available.

Beavers Receives 35 Year Term

Jessie Lee Beavers, 38-year-old Negro man, pled guilty to a charge of murder with malice this morning in 100th Judicial District Court, Judge Charles Reynolds, presiding, and a 12-man jury set his sentence at 35 years in the State Penitentiary.

Then, Judge Reynolds sentenced Beavers to 35 years in the State Penitentiary.

Beavers was being tried for the Nov. 13, 1963 killing of Everline Williams.

District Attorney John Forbis said following the trial that the second murder case against Beavers for the killing of Corrine Walker would be dropped since the sentences would run concurrent.

Beavers was charged with the double slaying of the two Negro women at the farm home of Earl Williams, located one mile east and one-half mile south of Lakeview on Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Weeks of hot and dry weather, rains and cooler temperatures have changed the picture to the people around here. They have actually gone to smiling. They have gone to doing something about producing instead of just watching. Weathermen, during the dry spell, got to guessing as to moisture. When the late rains, they are now saying that good rains are on the way. Weather, of this week-end. Weather, of this kind, is a subject that women, sons and daughters will take part. . . . All of us can predict good crops this year. We can dream, can't we?

Weeks and the Hall County Picnic Sunday will be the time will pass rapidly. All who have anything concerning the affair are something about it. Cards being mailed to out-of-town citizens of Hall County. Those who wish to invite friends and neighbors to obtain cards at several businesses in Memphis.

Some towns and some cities get the hot and dry weather along with skimpy amounts of water for personal use. Nothing for keeping yards and gardens growing. Throughout the spell, Memphis Water did not have to cut down on the citizens kept using water. We felt sorry for the citizens of other towns, because we are one of the most useful in the state. People of other towns, most of them, have not realized how much water we have here. Added amount of water already at the one to two inches of rain Friday night swelled the city wells, and gave life to the plants.

A few days or evenings go by without some kind of meat, entertainment, or family gathering being held at Community Center. The more I find out about the more I realize how much fun we have here. For many years to come, nothing will prove its worth any more.

Wesley, Texas, citizen says he is from other city in the States named Hedley. We reason to believe there is not a Hedley in the World.

Did You Pray For Rain?

Hall County farmers Saturday morning who were in town in a much happier mood than we have seen them for several weeks, and it is understandable. Friday night's rain and Saturday's cool, cloudy weather was welcomed relief from the 100-plus dry weather of the past two months.

The rains were certainly an answer to many people's prayers because the fate of this year's cotton crop was hanging in the balance. A dry August and September would have meant slim pickings this fall and winter.

Back in 1935 when dust storms were rolling across the Plains and it was really dry, William Allen White, the well known editor of Kansas' famed Emporia Gazette, published a prayer for rain which has become a classic.

White's prayer was brought to our attention by Ben Ezzell, Canadian Record editor, last week, and the prayer aptly describes what took place in Memphis Friday evening. The prayer is as follows:

"O Lord, in Thy mercy grant us rain and by that we don't mean a shower. We want to go out and watch the lightning rip across the southwestern sky in hot blue forks as the fat clouds roll in on us. We want to hurry home to close the house with the first fat drops the size of marbles, on a suddenly rising wind, chasing us and plunking on the car hood. We want to scramble all over the house, just as the first sheets descend, frantically slamming down the windows.

"O Lord of Hosts, we want to look out of the windows and watch the regiments of close-packed raindrops march diagonally down. We want to hear the gurgle of the gutters under the eaves, and then the sputter of the down-spout.

"God of Israel, Isaac and Jacob, let it come down so hard that the streets and sidewalks seem covered with a six inch fog of spatter-drops. Then let it just keep up for a while, then begin to taper off, and then turn right around and get a lot worse, swishing, pounding, splattering, pouring, drenching, the thunder coming—Crakity—BAM—and the lightning flashing so fast and furious you can't tell which flash goes with which peal of thunder. So that all the women will get scared and climb on top of the beds and scream at you not to get too close to that window.

"And then, O jealous God, repeat the whole act about three times, and in the middle of the second time we will climb the attic stairs and put the wash pan under that tiny leak in the roof which usually you can't even notice in an ordinary rain. And after a couple of hours kind of taper it down, O Lord, to a good steady rain—not a drizzle, but a businesslike one that keeps up until just about dawn and then spits a few drops occasionally during the morning from a gray sky.

"Kansas is indeed the Promised Land, O Lord, and if it gets a break it will flow with milk and honey. But we can't live much longer on promise. So in Thine own way and in Thine own time, make up Thy mind O Lord and we will bow before Thy judgement, and praise Thine everlasting name."

Case for the C Student

More and more young Americans are going to college these days, and more and more of them are finding it harder and harder to get in where they want to go.

Colleges and universities, confronted with the problem of making a choice as to whom they will admit, use the tradition yardstick for admission—grades.

If a youngster has a straight A average, a genius IQ, is a star football player, scores over 700 out of a possible 800 on his College Board exam, he has a chance of getting into a prestige college.

On the other hand, if he finishes high school in the middle third of his class, is active in sports but not really outstanding in any of them, takes part in student organizations but doesn't hold offices in them, if he is just an average, well adjusted youngster, then the colleges apt to have no place for him.

And this is a sad state of affairs.

Last year Jack Maguire, the executive secretary of the University of Texas Ex-Students Association, wrote an outstanding editorial for the ex-student magazine, The Alcade. In this editorial, Maguire put forth the case for the C student in colleges and universities and he has a solid argument in presenting what he calls "The Case for the C Student."

The more outstanding contributions to Texas and the nation in the fields of business, politics, agriculture and culture are made, not by the A student geniuses, but by the C student who went through college getting a well rounded education which included instruction in the social graces in addition to devotion to studying.

Taking a look at the University of Texas graduates who have made a mark in the world since graduating from that institution, Maguire declares that the bulk of the really successful men are not A students, but C students.

Of course, the A students have made their mark, too. A great many of them are college professors, scientists of one sort or another, a few are poets or musicians, but their contribution to society is no greater, may even be less than the C students.

We think it is high time that we recognize the C student and make a place for him to get more education, too. Surely this can be done without penalizing the A students, the geniuses, the brains of this nation.

Certainly there are many C students who could be A students if they worked harder at it. We would not defend laziness, and every student ought to perform up to his capabilities. But if a student does passing work, makes C grades, yet benefits from more education, we think he ought to be allowed to have a chance at it.

After all, we would suspect that a close scrutiny of the federal income tax returns would reveal that the C students are making the most money. Any paying the most taxes with which to support the government program which include A students as economists, physicists, social planners and other workers who made top grades in college.

And after all, if there were no C students, what would happen to the grade curve which allows some to be A's? — Ochiltree County Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parks were in Gruver Saturday to attend funeral services for a friend, Frank Fleck.

Mrs. Julius Gable returned home Sunday from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where she underwent surgery. She is reported to be doing nicely.

Mrs. Brown Smith has returned home from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where she underwent medical treatment.

I want to take this method of thanking the many friends who remembered me with flowers, gifts, cards and visits during my recent stay in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. I sincerely appreciated the many kindnesses shown me by friends. May God bless each of you.

Turning Back Time

From The Democrat Files

50 YEARS AGO

September 23, 1914

Hall county was the last of the counties having exhibits at the Panhandles State Fair last year to definitely determine to bring another exhibit this year. It was feared that because of the way Hall County has been hit by the drop in the cotton market, they might be discouraged and decide to drop out this time. But not so. . . .

The first norther struck us Tuesday morning which put us all to thinking about our winter clothes. . . .

J. E. Cooper last week bought of Chas. Webster a home on west Dover street and will move his household goods tomorrow, and take possession. . . .

Monday one of Memphis' most prized industries opened up for the season. The Memphis Cotton Oil Company started the wheels of the oil mill to turning the products of which will bring many thousands of dollars to Hall County and give employment to a large number of hands. . . .

40 YEARS AGO

September 11, 1924

The proposition of the State Highway Commission, as amended in the communication received from that body last week, conditioned on the construction of a new substantial $200,000 bridge across Red River and a high type of road on the Colorado-Gulf Highway, will be accepted by Hall County, according to a statement given out by the Commissioners Court late Tuesday. . . .

Within one hour after the first bale of this season's crop was brought to Memphis Monday morning, two others came in with hopes of being first here. And later in the afternoon another arrived making a total of four bales for the first day. . . .

Country folks, representing almost every community in this section, began to arrive early Tuesday morning and have continued to come in until today. Fair Park is crowded with visitors at the Fourth Annual Hall County District Fair. The attendance yesterday probably broke all records.

22 YEARS AGO

August 31, 1944

General rains over the area have given a material boost on the part of most observers. Hall County's feed crop will be above normal and the cotton will be average or better. . . .

Definite action on the bus line west from Memphis Dimmitt and east to Halls is expected to be taken at a meeting in Silverton Friday noon. Interested citizens from all intermediate points will be present.

Plans are now being made by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion to send a committee to Washington soon in behalf of the veteran's hospital. . . .

10 YEARS AGO

August 26, 1954

Crops at most points in the area are looking better with passing day as showers and continue to fall. Precipitation occurred on several days the week and prospects for good yields are bright at this time.

Two champions were crowned at the city summer recreation ball program Friday night. The Rockets and the Rockets defeated their opponents in the final games of a tournament which started at City Park. . . .

Twenty-seven boys are out for positions on the High School Cyclone football squad, Coach George Chas. said Wednesday. . . .

Voting in the second District primary in Hall County on Saturday may be as heavy as first primary in July, as balloting indicates. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Post and Mrs. Albert Gerlach have returned from a vacation trip to points of interest in Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and Arkansas. They are at the Grand Ole Opry. Mrs. Hamby of Weatherford accompanied them on the trip.

"LET'S GO!" . . . to scenic Arkansas in General Telephone Country

Prescott-Vacation Headquarters

Situated in Southwest Arkansas, the bustling city of Prescott is the center of many scenic attractions. Eight miles away is ARKLA VILLAGE, an authentic re-creation of a typical frontier town of the mid-1880's, where there's fun for all the family. In another direction you take a ride on the Possum Trot Line of the READER RAILROAD driven by an old-fashioned steam engine. Go another way to a real DIAMOND MINE where, for a small fee, you can dig for your own diamonds (one woman found a $15,000 stone). Then there's OLD WASHINGTON, a famous roadside inn, which around 1830 was the last outpost before reaching the wilderness of the West. To these attractions add NARROWS and WHITE OAK lakes, and you have a wonderful vacation spot — another of the many places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

Plastic Wind Breaker
That plastic bag your clean suits come in can be used to cut down your vulnerability to wintry weather.

Wear one under your fishing clothes. The thin plastic cuts out the wind.

Tissue Will Lead the Way
New bright-colored facial tissues can help you find your way quickly and safely back to camp.

Just tear tissue into pieces and drape at eye level on branches along the route you won't want to forget.

Soft, clinging tissues seldom blow away.

Emergency Rivet
For emergency repairs, an empty .22 rimfire hull makes a good rivet.

Just cut through the soft brass hull, leaving 1-16 inch length protruding through the material you want to rivet. Then insert a ball bearing or rock just slightly larger than the shell size and tap several raps with a hammer to expand the end.

Jumbo Ice Cubes Last
Going on a camping trip and need some ice cubes?

Big ice cubes that last can be improvised by freezing water in your wife's muffin pans. Each cube is king-sized and lasts and lasts.

More Light for Tent
Another use for aluminum foil is to pin it across the back of your tent. Its shiny surface reflects the light and makes the tent lantern glow brighter.

For Cleaner Windshield
A bottle of any kind of carbonated "cola" water poured on your windshield while the wiper is working will keep road film off for hours.

Emergency Tent Repair
Got a spot on your tent that's leaking?

Try rubbing the spot with a regular wax candle. Work wax into the cloth with vigor. Then apply heat in the form of a warm, not hot, iron.

Wax will melt and give a water repellence for a surprisingly long time.

Emergency Ammo Supply

Remove the butt plate of your .22 rifle. Then bore a hole in the stock with a 3-8-inch drill. Next, fill the hole with as many rounds of ammo as it will take. Then replace the butt plate.

Now you've got a nice emergency supply of ammo with but little additional weight added to the rifle.

Triple Duty Pliers

If you carry a pair of pliers in your tackle box, try grinding down one handle until it serves as a screwdriver.

On the other handle, grind the end flat, then "V" the end. Presto, you've got a hook disgorg-er, too.

Glue Rope Ends Tight

So you don't want to take the trouble to whip the end of a rope?

Then try soaking about three inches of the end of the line in waterproof glue. Let it dry and slice off to where the rope is tight. It never will unravel.

FOR BETTER HEALTH

AUSTIN—Those golden years have the possibility of taking on more of a healthier hue now than ever before.

About 20 years ago the average American could expect to die when he reached the retirement age of 65. But today, 17,500,000 Americans are over 65, and the generation being born today may well be the one that can expect to live to be 100 years old.

But living longer isn't enough. Extra years mean little unless they are healthy, active years. You can enjoy all the added years modern medicine has given you—you can keep young in spirit, body and mind—by practicing a little moderation and following some simple rules.

First, see your family physician regularly for a physical checkup. Today he can diagnose and treat successfully almost any disease or ailment, if he finds it early enough. He can also prevent many of the illnesses that may otherwise come your way. As the years pass, you usually need less food, and there is some shift in nutritional requirements. You will need protein, vitamins and fluids, but fewer fats and calories. No one can feel young and peppy when he's carrying extra weight. Adequate rest is essential as both your mind and body need shoulder.

peace and quiet to recoup from the rigors of the day.

The mark of an "old" person is creaking joints, aching back and myriad other complaints. Keep all your body parts in good working order by using them.

Fill your days with productivity. The quickest way to "old age" is through boredom. So keep up your interest in your work and your surroundings.

Participate in community affairs rather than fussing and fretting about yourself at home. If you want to be among the happiest people—the doers—share your time and talents with such things as raising funds for charity, getting out the vote and participating in other civic programs.

Another shortcut to "old age" is worry—and worry, besides putting you in an unpleasant frame of mind, can sometimes lead to illness. Many worries about tomorrow can be avoided if you plan, and act, today.

All Have Interest In Public Notices

By CHARLES L. ALLEN
Director, School of Journalism
Oklahoma State University

It is so easy to see how the other fellow profits from a venture, and so difficult to acknowledge that we also gained from the same deal. Everybody can see that printing a public notice makes some money for the publisher, and for the lawyer, and perhaps a fee for some public office. But few will readily admit that they—the bakers, the butchers, the plumbers, tradesmen in all lines of merchandise and service; and yes, even the teachers and the preachers—also have a deep selfish interest in public notices. They stand to profit the most from this guarantee of "freedom to know."

You may not agree. You also may not agree that a basic freedom guaranteed in the U. S. Constitution—Freedom of the Press—was intended solely for the protection of the people. It does not belong to editors or publishers, or reporters. It was not designed to be a guarantee of a newspaperman's right to tell anything but the facts.

IT IS THE GUARANTEE OF THE PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO KNOW.

It insures the right of YOU and YOU to have access to information which you need to be a good citizen, an intelligent voter, and to protect your rights to free speech, freedom of assembly, trial by jury and your property rights. Think on these matters, and you will soon see how the free press protects YOU, and every one of your freedoms.

It is a basic principle in law and ethics that every right a human enjoys is balanced by some equal obligation or duty. It is also a basic principle of law and ethics that for every right YOU enjoy there is an equal right enjoyed by some other person or persons.

Every right, or privilege, in this world carries with it an awesome responsibility.

It is the tremendous responsibility of the newspapers of America to keep our populace currently and adequately informed. This is the obligation they embrace when they become truly the instruments of a "Free Press."

Public notice is another aspect of the free press principle which also protects the rights of all the people. Everybody, without exception, has a stake in preserving this traditional method of informing the people about legal matters.

Let's consider the business man, the grocer, the grain elevator man, the coal and wood dealer, all the tradesmen. They, more than the average citizen, need to know how the public's funds are being spent—and where. They have a right to know these things because every governmental body should purchase materials, supplies and equipment from local businessmen whenever possible. In several states the state institutions are required to buy from in-state firms if these firms can supply their needs. It is recognized as a principle of good business to keep the money "at home" when you can.

Mothers and fathers, especially those who have children in school, are vitally interested in what the school board does. What it buys, where and what it pays for it.

Furthermore, because the school board does business continuously, the members of the PTA and others with school-age children need to know what is going on from week to week and month to month. Fact is, the money the school board's spending belongs, not to the board, but to these people and other taxpayers.

We could go on and on. Every taxpayer has the right to know what happened at the county commissioner's meeting, how the school district treasurer spent school funds, and exactly what the city council's proposal is for zoning. These, we must repeat, are things the people have a right to know. And they have an equal obligation to become well informed about them.

II

Although everybody has some self-interest in preserving the American system of keeping the people informed, perhaps no one is more affected by it than the public official. We seldom find a dedicated public servant who does not realize the importance of a free press and also the necessity of public notice. In this writer's experience as the editor-publisher of five newspapers, only one official opposed the publishing of a report required by law. His opposition was very short-lived because other school treasurers in the county soon explained things to him.

As a matter of fact, the honest public official—and 99 out of 100 men in public office are both honest and hard-working—WANTS to report to his public periodically. It is the newspaperman's job to publish a paper every week or every day so that the medium will be ready when the public official needs it. This may be seldom, or very often, but the official will most certainly have need for a way to get his story to the people.

There are few notices required to be published in a country ruled by a dictator. For that matter there are mighty few newspapers in any country ruled by a tyrant. He sees to that as soon as he grabs power. The newspapers are immediately shut down, their plants padlocked or confiscated. The few that remain are edited strictly for the dictator's pleasure and to peddle his warped philosophy of life and politics. A free press can exist only in a free country.

Dedicated public officials know what happens when a dictator seizes a country and they know that the second thing he does is to arrest and imprison all public officials who disagree with him. After the newspapers are destroyed, the politicians are next. And those who take over as public officials are completely lacking in a sense of loyalty to the people.

This being true, our American public officials welcome the opportunity to make an accounting of their stewardship. Much of what public figure does makes news, but a great deal more of what he does will never reach the people unless it is brought to them in an official publication. Yet this report of his day-to-day or month-to-month activities—particularly the accounting for the handling of public monies—may be far more important than the extraordinary things that make news.

Publishers acknowledge their gratitude to public officials for the part these public servants have played in helping to draft and to sponsor good laws on public notice. It is earnestly hoped that this fine cooperation will continue, and that the public will be made more aware of these activities that protect the people's "right to know."

III

Some of the townspeople who are most active in civic affairs often forget what they, as individuals, and their organizations owe the newspaper. They are motivated by good ideas and are mostly people of goodwill, but they take a free press too much for granted. They expect the newspaper to get every fact about a civic proposal, and to set it absolutely right. They want the whole story—even if it takes the entire paper to print it. And they think Miss Cheryl Craghead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Craghead of Lakeview, and Ronald Ables, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ables of Memphis, were united in marriage Sunday, Aug. 16, at 3:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. H. Kenneth Rhodes, minister of the Lakeview Church of Christ, officiated.

Double-ring vows were exchanged before a mantle decorated with a centerpiece of white mums and white tapers. Tapers were lighted by Misses Tommie Lou and Judy Lynn Payne, who wore identical dresses of blue eyelet, accented by white accessories and corsages of white carnations.

For her wedding, the bride chose a blue lace two-piece suit complemented with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations caught with blue and white ribbons atop a white Bible.

She was given in marriage by her father and carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue." The something old was a pearl necklace given to her by her maternal grandmother.

Reuben Martin Honored With Tea Plays For Friends At Rasco Home

Reuben Martin of Los Angeles, Calif., former resident of Memphis, was honored at a tea in the home of Mrs. T. M. Harrison last week.

Mrs. J. F. Neel and daughters, Tanga Kay and Jan, presided over the lovely tea table from which punch and tasty refreshments were served.

Mr. Martin showed pictures of the lovely home and piano studio which he and his mother share—she being quite active and entertaining at the age of 87.

After reminiscing with friends, the group drove to the home of Mrs. Rasco and Gertrude where Mr. Martin entertained with piano selections, giving information about the compositions and the suitability for teaching.

The first number was the ever-popular "Clare De Lune" by Debussy, which oddly enough had the shelf for 17 years before its widespread popularity which began about 30 years ago in America. Several excerpts from early compositions were given next and the former mentioned that he also had his students at recitals to give the title of the composition, the composer and form (A, B, A, etc.)—not only training the students, but enlightening the listening audience.

Mr. Martin then gave a recital of "Miniatures" by Debussy, a contemporary composer, many whose works are impressive in style.

For his last selection, "Clare de Lune" by Berge in Spanish style, a modern style of chord playing.

Squirrel-Hunting Tip

No matter how quiet you are, squirrels will scamper when they glimpse a pale face turned toward the sky.

To make your hunt more successful, try coating your face with a strong solution of henna.

Henna gives a nut brown tint to pale skin that blends well with the fall woods. Also it is easy to remove after the hunt is over.

Coat your hands too unless you'll be wearing gloves.

Check Grain Sorghum Fields Hooser Says

Now is the time for grain sorghum growers to check their fields for head smut, advises W. B. Hooser, County Agent of Hall County.

Particular attention should be given to resistance among different varieties. This information can be used in selecting a variety to plant next year.

There is a direct relationship between the percent smutted or sterile heads and the percent yield loss, Hooser points out. A 10 percent smut infection would lower resulting yields by 10 percent.

In a recent survey, they found an average head smut infection of 10 percent.

To insure against infection of next year's crop by this costly disease, the best solution is to plant resistant varieties.

Young People Give Presbyterian Worship Service

In the absence from the pulpit of Mr. Richard Avery, pastor of The First Presbyterian Church, six young people of the church conducted last Sunday morning's worship service in an admirable manner.

Miss Suzanne Sxauer as pianist and Mr. Bill Cosby as organist had prepared and presented a beautiful prelude, offertory, and musical accompaniment for the hymns.

The well-chosen subject of the sermon which was divided into four parts was "Barriers To Faith". Mr. Jimmy Harrison gave the prayer of invocation and was first to speak on the disbelief in the divinity of Christ as one of the barriers. Mr. Jerry Beasley followed with an explanation of the true meaning of "the kingdom of God". Mr. Larry Helm talked of the glory of heaven and the prediction of hell, and Mr. Allyn Harrison, chairman of the group, gave the summation.

The talks of these four young men were thought-provoking and ably presented with poise and dignity which made not only their parents but the entire church family very proud of them.

Allyn will be a junior at Texas Tech this fall while Jimmy, Jerry, and Larry will be high school seniors. The fifth member of this personable quintette is Perry Wright who was home last weekend from his work for Mrs. Baird's Bread Co. this summer. Perry will also be a senior this year. More Christian young adults such as these are needed to make this old world a better place in which to live.

Jehovah Witnesses Cancel Weekend Meet, August 21-23

A highlight of the convention will be the film, "Proclaiming 'Everlasting Good News' Around the World", to be shown Saturday evening.

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH IN Hall County Soil Conservation

The Federal Government offers cost-share assistance to farmers and ranchers for conservation practices needed to assist the producer in carrying out a conservation plan. The Great Plains Conservation Program is the fastest way to complete needed conservation practices on the land. It is a faster and less costly way of solving erosion problems and making yields and income more dependable.

Especially in time of drought—and Plains history shows there is nearly always a drought somewhere in the Plains—the Great Plains Conservation Program is proving effective in protecting soil and conserving moisture. Thus drought, when it comes, is a less costly blow.

A farmer or rancher can get up to an average of $2,500 a year as the Government's contribution in cost-share payments for work on his farm or ranch. The minimum contract period is 3 years, the maximum 10.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is a voluntary one. Its core is a complete soil and water conservation plan, based (1) on the soil, the plant conditions, the available water and (2) on the problems and the needs of the farmer or rancher.

At the beginning, a farmer or rancher enters into an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out his conservation plan. He agrees to apply the needed practices according to a schedule which he works out with the help of men trained in the best farming and ranching methods known for his area.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is geared to the going program of the Soil Conservation District. It makes use of help from other programs, agencies, and organizations at county, state, and federal levels.

Your local Soil Conservation Service personnel are interested in helping you and your operation through the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Navy's Films To Be Shown On Channel 10

Television viewers in the area will have an opportunity to watch the ships, men, aircraft and weapons of the U. S. Navy swing into action the 24th of August at 6:30 a. m. when Channel 10 in Amarillo begins televising the 1964 "Navy Film of the Week" series.

Each film in this series deals with a certain aspect of the Navy and attempts to point out that our Naval power is due to the skilled proficiency and dedication of the men who actually man the ships and fly the planes.

Film subjects include the Navy's famed parachute exhibition team, "The Chuting Stars", the saga of a submerged around-the-world voyage by a nuclear submarine, and a description of the Navy's human and technological leadership as a Navy task force tracks "enemy" submarines off our coast in "Goblin on the Doorstep."

Of special interest to all Americans is a film history of the late President Kennedy's review of the Fleet. All of the Navy's latest equipment and techniques, as well as candid shots of President Kennedy make this an important documentary.

These are only a few of the subjects to be portrayed on "Navy Film of the Week." Channel 10 in Amarillo will televise the series as a public service feature.

All Have—

that everything about their organization is great news. Truth is that most of the activities of local organizations interests many people. Big news is that which affects a lot of people, not just the members of a club. Yet, within his space limitations, the newspaperman does his level best to report the main facts of each club meeting.

What all civic-minded persons must remember is that the newspaper can't possibly print half the things, like the reports of public bodies required by law, are not as defined by law. If we want a newspaper in our town, we must get every week or every day, we must get to make it possible for the paper to pay its bills. We should be interested in every report published in that paper, official notices as well as news stories. We are affected as much by one as by the other, but we don't always realize it.

It is, indeed, easy to think that the newspaperman, the lawyer and the public official all profit by the American tradition of public notices. But the plain fact is that we, all of us—the storekeeper, the coal dealer, the school teacher, the club woman, the teacher, the preacher—every one of us who help to make our town what it is, have a tremendous stake in preserving freedom of the press and the people's right to know.

A New Hospital for Amarillo Air Force Base

Amarillo residents, civilians and military are cheering news that a new hospital for Amarillo Air Force Base is among the ten projects approved in the Military Construction Appropriations Bill. The bill provides a total of $7,927,000 for the hospital in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and the estimated cost is $7.9 million—the largest single item in the bill.

The need for new, permanent facilities at the base was recognized and supported by the City of Amarillo as well as by the Air Force officials at the base. The new hospital will fit well with the center development plans and will replace the old, inadequate, wooden hospital at AAFB as a wartime center.

Among other construction projects approved for Amarillo Air Force Base in the Military Construction Appropriations Bill were these: Alteration of 36 air men dormitories to modernize facilities and appearance; upgrading, three building for dining hall facilities serving 3,750 airmen; building a 300-seat base chapel and an annex for base religious services.

Excellent community relations, which exist between military personnel at the base and civilians in Amarillo could well serve as a model for other communities in the United States. The base is a thriving community all in itself; military and civilian personnel in all categories total approximately 16,000. Approximately 16,000 dependents of base personnel live in the Amarillo area.

Graduates of schools in the Technical Training Center at the base are serving their country all over the world. We all know of the vital role played by the Strategic Air Command, of which the 4128th Strategic Wing at Amarillo Air Force Base is an important component. All of the Panhandle can be proud of Amarillo Air Force Base and of the men and units assigned there.

When the end of a Congress nears, it is impossible to predict from one hour to the next what new development will occur affecting vital legislation. It is therefore extremely difficult to be certain of being able to meet long-standing commitments out of Washington. It was with regret that I and my two colleagues on the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, Congressman Tom Morris of Tucuman, N. M., and Congressman J. Edgar Chenoweth of Trinidad, Colo., were forced to postpone our inspection trip to the site of the proposed "Alibates Flint Quarries and Texas Panhandle Pueblo Culture National Monument" in northeastern Potter County. Congressman Morris and Chenoweth and I have long urged the enactment of legislation to correct problems forced on the American cattle industry by a continuing, excessively high level of beef and meat imports. With the prospect that corrective legislation could be brought before the House, we dared not leave the Capitol. The inspection will be rescheduled at an early date. While I may not be able to attend, I would urge all Panhandle-area residents interested in legislative re-apportionment problems to attend a meeting sponsored by the Texas Legislative Council at 10 a. m. August 20 in the 99th District Court at Lubbock. This is the fifth of a series of hearings being held by the Legislative Council in Texas cities.

Local Florist Attend Annual Meet in Midland

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leslie and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders were in Midland last week to attend the 11th annual convention of the West Texas-New Mexico Florist Association. The convention opened on August 8 and continued through Aug. 11.

Mr. Leslie, who is executive secretary, went to Midland on August 6 to make final arrangements for the convention. Mrs. Leslie and Mr. and Mrs. Sanders joined him on Saturday. The Sanders returned home Sunday while Mr. and Mrs. Leslie remained in Midland until Wednesday.

Approximately 350 delegates attended the convention including some florists from Mexico and one from Tokyo, Japan, who was making a tour of the states.

Of special interest was the design school conducted by Tommy Bright of Chicago, who is internationally famous for her work in the field of design. Many will recognize Mrs. Bright from the flower designs published in Coca-Cola magazine, "Pause For Living", Mr. Leslie stated.

Also of interest were the three business seminars conducted by three leading businessmen in the floral industry in the U. S.

"Delegates to the convention got a taste of what the heat can be like in Midland when the power was cut off for two hours on Monday evening," Mr. Leslie stated. "It was plenty hot," he added. All towns in that area were without power, he stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gilliam left Saturday for their home in Jackson, Miss., after enjoying a week's vacation here with relatives and friends.
