Sen. Andy Rogers Guest Speaker At TSTA Meet Mon.

The Hall County Unit of Texas State Teachers Association met in Travis Elementary Cafetorium, Memphis, Monday night, November 16, at 7:30 o'clock for the first regular meeting of 1964-65. Eighty-one teachers, administrators, Parent-Teacher officers and guests attended the dinner and program.

The tables in the cafeteria were attractively decorated in the Thanksgiving motif with pumpkins holding colorful fall flowers with programs and menus in the shape of miniature turkeys.

Miss Ethel Hillhouse, Memphis, President of the Hall County Unit, presided while C. M. Wooten, Estelline, was in charge of the program. Superintendent Loran Denton of Turkey gave the invocation and a delicious dinner of turkey, dressing, gravy, cranberry salad in lettuce cups, green beans, hot rolls, butter, prune cake and coffee was served buffet style to the group.

Following the dinner Shannon L. Doss, superintendent of Memphis Schools, gave the words of welcome to the entire group. An oboe solo, "Concerto in F Minor", was rendered in a splendid manner by Billy Cosby, accompanied by Mrs. George Ferris.

The Honorable Andy Rogers, Senator of District 31, Childress, brought the message of the evening stressing Education is a line of defense and that business is (Continued on Page 12)

Matador-Wheeler Bi-District Tilt Here

The Matador-Wheeler Bi-District, Class B, football game will be played in Cyclone Stadium in Memphis at 2 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 26, it was announced by officials of both schools after a meeting in Memphis Wednesday night.

School officials from the two schools met at DeVille Restaurant along with members of the Memphis School and Chamber of Commerce representatives. Several towns were seeking selection as the play-off site and also sent representatives to meet with the school officials.

The top two Class B teams in the Panhandle, meeting for the third time, are expected to have a real grudge battle for the Bi-District Crown. Fans of this area are indeed fortunate that the game will be played in Cyclone Stadium.

The game ball and trophy will be furnished by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

It was also determined at the meeting that Matador will be the home team and fans will occupy the east (concrete) bleachers. Clarendon was the scene for the 1962 and 1963 Bi-District contest in which at Matador Matadors were victorious.

J. J. McMickin, official weather observer, reported that his mercury thermometer hit the freezing mark, 32 degrees, last night, and some ice was visible on water this morning.

This gave Memphis and area its first freeze of the year even though it was a light one.

Rains beginning last Sunday afternoon after the passage of the cold front brought the cotton harvest to a close until things dry up. Also, some areas were unfortunate enough to get hail during Sunday's bad weather.

South of Estelline and east of Estelline to Tell area, hail damage was reported. Damage to the cotton crop in these areas was reported as high as 70 percent. Also, light hail was reported in the Brice area and the Lelia Lake area Sunday.

Rainfall over the county was general but the amounts were variable. Mr. McMickin reported Memphis received a total of one and 44 hundredths inches in rains this week.

Lesley reported one and a half half inches, Lakeview, 1.7 inches, Plaska, 1.5 inches, Estelline over one inch, and the Turkey area had rains of over two inches.

Cotton Harvest Slow
The good harvest days last weekend saw a flurry of harvesting in Hall County, and the season's ginning total rose to 4,789 as of this morning.

Last week's ginning in the USDA Cotton Classing Office territory was considerably less. The seasonal total of samples classed through Friday, Nov. 13, was 14,000 as compared with 50,000 as of the same date last year.

The tempo of harvesting increased during the latter part of last week. K. E. Voelkel in charge of the Classing Office stated that the grades were lower and the staple lengths shorter as compared with the week earlier. The micronaire readings were practically unchanged from last week. Based on samples classed this week, white grades decreased from 39 percent to 30 percent, and light spotted and spotted grades increased the same nine percent. Middling was the predominate grade in white cotton with 16 percent. Middling light spotted prevailed in the colored cotton with 38 percent.

Staple length averaged shorter than last week, but 15-16 inch was still the predominate length with 57 percent.

The fiber strength of the cotton tested by the Pressley instrument continued to show the cotton of the Memphis office territory to rank higher than any other active harvesting section in the state, Voelkel said.

Methodist Church To Observe 75th Anniversary Sun.

Marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of the first Methodist service held in Memphis, the First Methodist Church will hold traditional Homecoming services and activities Sunday.

The homecoming turkey dinner will be held in Fellowship Hall following the morning worship service.

Seventy five years ago "late in 1889", Rev. Isaac L. Mills of Clarendon, "driving two white ponies to a buck board, came through Memphis on his new circuit." A few Methodists gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Montgomery to plan the organization of a church in the brand new town of Memphis. The church was formerly organized "early in 1890" with six charter members, none of whom are living today.

The church invites every one to join in the worship and fellowship of the day.

Area Teams Begin Basketball

With only one football game remaining to be played in the county, eyes are turned this week to the upcoming basketball season.

The Turkey-Matador football game will be played at Matador Friday night, rounding out the football season for Hall County teams.

Pedigo Survives Wreck Near Estelline Sunday

R. Pedigo, 17, of Crowley, was pinned one and a half miles inside his automobile right after a one-car wreck on the roadway overpass north of Estelline on Nov. 18.

Members from Foxhall Motors and ambulance crews from Funeral Home, along with Don Collins and Sheriff Don Collins and Sheriff worked until shortly after midnight freeing Pedigo from the wreckage.

He was rushed to Hall County Hospital where his condition was serious Monday. He was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo and is in fair condition.

A standing physician here reported his face bones were cracked and ribs broken to Amarillo so a bone specialist could repair the broken jaw bones.

The accident occurred at 10:15 p. m. when Pedigo's car, traveling north, skidded on the wrong side of the highway shoulder, jumping the safety curb and plowing into the safety rail. The back end of the car was over a 75-foot drop off when the car came to rest embedded on the safety rail by the front end.

It took two wreckers, one holding the car keeping it from falling while the second wrecker, anchored to a big truck, pulled the car loose from the railing and onto the roadbed. Then, one of the wreckers pulled the fire wall away from Pedigo's trapped foot, freeing him. It was discovered the foot was X-rayed that it was not broken.

Due to the wet condition of the highway during the rescue operations, and the narrow working space on top of the roadway overpass, the highway had to be blocked several times, however, no other accidents occurred.

Pedigo was en route to Amarillo from his home where he is to work with his brother, Ralph Pedigo.

Jaycees Ask For Donations To 'Toys For Tots'

The Memphis Jaycee are beginning their big push this week to collect toys for their toys for tots Christmas program this weekend, Chairman of the drive Bill Lockhart said Wednesday.

Boxes to collect the toys have been placed in the grocery stores in Memphis this week and residents are asked to place any broken or unwanted toys in these boxes.

Also, the Memphis Jaycees Friday evening beginning at 7:30 p. m. will run a pickup vehicle with a loud speaker mounted on it which will tour Memphis. Residents will be encouraged to place any toys (Continued on Page 12)

Special Union Thanksgiving Services Are Planned For Next Wednesday Here

Several Memphis Churches will conduct a Union Thanksgiving service at the First Presbyterian Church in Memphis at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 25, it was announced this week.

It was not definitely decided which churches will participate in the special observance as of today, it was announced. However, announcements will be made at the Sunday services of those churches participating.

The Union Thanksgiving service is open to the public and all are invited to attend. An appropriate service is being planned for the special observance next week by the participating churches.

Senior Class To Present Annual Play Nov. 19-20

Area residents who attend the 1964 senior class play, "It Happens Every Summer" written by David Rogers, tonight or tomorrow night beginning at 7:30 p. m., are in for a real treat.

The play, being staged at the Community Center for Thursday and Friday nights, is a three-act comedy and should prove to be very interesting.

The comic situation of what happens to a women's fashion magazine "Debutante Magazine" and its staff when it adds a group a high school and college girls to its staff who recently won a contest to work as Sub-Deb editors in New York for the month of June, is adequately portrayed.

To the visiting Sub-Debs, the opportunities of meeting charming young men, despite previous commitments back home, interviewing celebrities of the fashion and entertainment worlds, and getting their pictures in a national fashion magazine, create holiday atmosphere in what the Editor of "Debutante," Mrs. Woodruff (played by Lana Worthington) wants to be a business office, not a lonely hearts club.

And the young men gather at the office like bees to a blossom, primarily because of one Sub-Deb, Annabelle Ames (played by Minka Sims), a true Southern Belle set on looting the yankees like they looted the south. As the month passes, the emotional conflicts of ambition vs. love, etc., grow to an interesting climax.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at $1 each while adult general admission tickets are 75 cents and student tickets are 50 cents.

The stage setting is remarkably well done, but it presented a difficult problem because the play calls for a three-room office. Many times, action is going on in all three rooms during the same scene and the cast has done a good job of keeping the action moving.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn McKown, who helped the seniors with the stage set, were thanked by the class for their aid and will be recognized for their help.

During three dress rehearsals, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the cast has worked hard putting the final touches to their lines and actions under the direction of Katherine Ivy and John Lemons, student directors, and Miss Jeannie Nesbitt and Clifford Bradshaw, class sponsors.

Larry Helm will serve as the Master of Ceremonies for both nights of the play.

A list of the characters in the play are: Mrs. Woodruff, Lana

Worthington; Gretchen Dana, Dawn Ann Yarbrough, Larae Donohue, Gayle Widener; Marge Dowell, Suzanne Sexauer; Gert, Lana Waites; Jennifer Truer, Lynn Foxhall; Filippy Wonder, C. J. Goodnight; Annabelle Ames, Minka Sims; M. K. Roberts, Doris Ward; Andrea Matlins, Linda Miller; Alga Stone, Kay Stinson; Betsy Stelling, Wanda Grice; Charity Barnes, Lay Lynn Martin; Todd Colbert, Jimmy Srygley; Pudgy Roulette, Jackie Beavers; Zackary Bryan, Ronald Pate; Kenyon McClinton, Jay Dunbar; (Continued on Page Twelve)

W. Doherty, Former Hedley Resident, Dies

Funeral services for Ballen Doherty, who died Nov. 17, in Denver, Colo., will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Hedley Methodist Church.

Mr. Doherty was a member of the Methodist Church and a veteran of World War I.

He was born June 13, 1894 at Cisco and moved to Donley County, locating at Hedley, in 1920.

Mr. Hunt was a member of the Baptist Church, serving as a deacon. He also belonged to the Hedley Baptist Church.

Winter Coming!

This weekend, cold wet weather served to remind all residents of Hall County that winter is fast approaching and now it is the time to begin winterizing your driving habits as well as your automobile.

The weather is promising a cold, wet winter which will bring many icy conditions and make driving considerably hazardous. Are there any steps which can be taken to make winter driving on Texas highways more safe? The Texas Department of Public Safety lists four.

No. one, drivers should slow down and leave more space between cars. Just because the highway speed limit signs read 70 mph does not mean that it is safe to drive 70 in all condition during the daytime. Have you ever stopped to think how long it would take to stop a car sliding on ice if it was traveling at 70 mph? We have never seen the figure but it must be a quarter mile or more.

Secondly, keep windows clear—turn on lights to help others see you. Also, when driving on a highway watch closely for red lights, especially if they are waving back and forth, this means the highway is blocked by a wreck or some other obstruction and you should stop and receive instructions before proceeding.

Thirdly, the DPS said to go extra slow on turns, intersections and at the crest of a hill. Anything can be waiting for you at the top of a hill and hidden from your view.

When braking, pump to avoid locking wheels in skid. If skidding, turn wheel in direction of skid, don't slam on brakes, slow down easily.

Sgt. D. R. Dowdy, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area, stated, "We cannot regulate the weather, but we can regulate our driving." With winter months ahead, the plea is to winterize your driving as well as your car.

The American Way

Some troublesome questions are raised by an election table compiled by United Press International to compare actual voters with those of voting age. Among other things it shows: —Despite intensive "get-out-the-vote" ballyhoo and the costliest campaign in history, a smaller percentage of Americans voted this year than four years ago.

—Nationally, only 60.6 per cent of those who might have voted bothered to go to the polls. This is far below the standard set by most other nations in the Western world.

—Even with President Johnson's landslide, the "silent vote" (meaning those who stayed home) topped the number who voted for him.

—The four worst offenders among the states, all in the deep South, were among the six which went to Sen. Barry Goldwater. They were Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, in that order.

These results tend to confirm our previously expressed notion that the campaign was too long and the voters wound up bored. They also indicate that the Republican Party, in particular, strayed far from the mainstream of American thought in choosing Goldwater.

But most of all, they sound a warning for the future. Today's campaign tactics of slogan, whoopla and smear may amuse the politically minded. But sounder methods of reaching—and involving—the whole electorate are going to have to be found if the presidency is truly to be based on the expressed will of all Americans.

Use of Zip Codes Urged

As a service to both the public and the Post Office Department, the Democrat lists here the Zip code of major Texas cities, and the towns of the Memphis trade area.

Post Office officials urge that everyone use his Zip code on letters and parcels, in or out of town, that it be added to all envelopes, letterheads etc. printed in the future. Insured parcels must have the Zip code, which will be furnished by postal Clerks on request. If you have had trouble with mail misdirected to Memphis, Tennessee, the Zip code will help in getting it to Texas.

The following Zip code are for the main Post Office only. You may use these for residential Zip codes until the addressee advises you of his correct code, or your local Post Office can furnish the correct code for any known address.

What Other Editors Say

Babson Views the Extremists

No one has ever called Roger Babson a liberal. Like J. Edgar Hoover, he has been one of the few whose patriotism has never been attacked by the right wing.

For that reason, it is hoped that the extremists will listen to what Babson has to say concerning those who insist on easy answers to every question, who consider every issue black or white, who despise moderation. Says Babson: "The words 'either-or' have particularly significant uses. For instance, the word 'or' may express indefiniteness, as in the sentence, 'There were ten or twelve people present.' Or it may indicate definiteness, as in 'It is black or white', 'It is plus or minus'.

"The word 'or' is often used loosely with reference to human beings. For example, saying a person is a liberal or a conservative is usually far from precise because most people support elements of both points of view. It is probably that there are very few who are wholly liberal or wholly conservative.

"In the heat of political debate, the backers of one philosophy talk as though the other philosophy were wholly evil, and vice versa. Free enterprise is, of course, the older of the two, for, in its purest form, it is the law of the jungle. Each animal is free to prey on those it can destroy until a stronger one comes along to destroy it. This led to the old concept that wealth is the reward for virtue, and poverty the result of sin. It has led in more modern times to the wage slaves in Northern mills and the Negro slaves in Southern plantations. It has also led to the rise of dictators, Stalin, Hitler, Mao.

"On the other hand, pure socialism leads ultimately to individual stagnation, except perhaps in certain deeply religious societies where true communism has been practiced. This latter is the kind of life practiced by the early Christians. It is thus of much later origin than free enterprise. It stems from the teaching of Jesus, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' Early communism implied that each member of the community was working for the common good. Since the society was made of deeply religious individuals, it needed almost no government. (Communism of the Russian type is, of course, not voluntary but forced.)

"In our government here in the United States we have neither one nor the other of these forms of society, but a mixture of both. We have police departments and fire departments which are run by the community. However, individuals are free to engage in numerous activities without governmental interference.

"Many of the 'socialistic' accretions of the federal government stemmed originally from inability or refusal of individuals, local communities, or states to solve by themselves the problems that confronted them. It was the excesses of the railroad magnates that led to the formation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It was the depression of 1929 that brought into being the numerous government agencies that shored up the economy so it could function—at all in some cases. The federal guarantee of bank deposits at the request of banks has eliminated the likelihood of a run on banks like that of 1933. Price supports in agriculture were instituted to insure us food to eat. Rural electrification made it possible for those living on farms to enjoy some of the conveniences of those who live in the cities.

"If we were to imitate Sweden we could go a long way in both directions, because there they have a higher standard of living for the total population that we have here. They have less unemployment, and less interference with business from government. They have more socialism in the form of job retaining for the unemployed, state care for the sick, needy, and older people.

"If we accept the philosophy of the Declaration of Independence that we are to enjoy 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness', then if—in the pursuit of happiness—one group of our society causes another group to be unhappy, it may sometimes be necessary for the government selected by the people to equalize the pursuit of happiness for everyone. Ideally, government 'of the people, by the people, and for the people' should be able to solve most problems, providing the greatest good for the greatest number. The final result will not be 'either-or'—but a mixture of the two."

We're glad Roger Babson made these very true observations instead of a 'liberal.' They should be studied carefully by those who advocated extremism, who make every issue an "either-or" one—Tulia Herald.

White Deer Wins Dist. 2-A With Clean Slate

Memphis Cyclone finished the 1964 football schedule at Friday night, and came out as a loser to the favored White Deer, who made a sweep of District 2-A and represent the District against the Cyclone this weekend.

The Cyclone took advantage of the fumbles in the early part of the game and turned into scoring drives which led to their early lead. A 75-yard punt return in the second period of the game shows a 24-0 halftime margin.

The Cyclone scored in the third and fourth periods of the game, but White Deer scoring was 30-0.

White Deer recovered the first fumble on the Cyclone during the game, No. 34 Ver-Marlar for White Deer slashing through the Cyclone defense for the score. Randy added a two-point conversion play and White Deer led 8-0.

The Cyclone fouled up the second offensive chance when the Cyclone defense held the Cyclone 32. But again, a 75-yard punt return by the Cyclone backfield recovered by the Bucks on No. 34, Marlar, carried to the Cyclone 40. Then, No. 55 Eddie Waites, a 203 lb. back for the Cyclone, carried over Marlar carrying the two-point conversion. In the second quarter, the Cyclone took over on their own 10 yard line. White Deer drive was stopped by a fumble.

The Cyclone got their only drive in the first half. The pass of QB Hoot Jones to Toby End Jim Odom and End Jim Waites, added with good plays with Crook and HB Stargel carrying, marched the Cyclone to the White Deer 22. The ball was lost on downs. The Cyclone exchanged hands when White Deer punted. On a fourth down, the Cyclone punted to White Deer and the ball rode the field. No. 46 for White Deer (unlisted on program) fielded the ball and raced 75 yards to the endzone. Randy Elliott picking two more points on the conversion.

The second half got underway with Memphis kicking off and White Deer returning the ball to the Bucks 46. This started their next scoring drive. The scoring play was a 31-yard run by Marlar. The PAT was fumbled and the score was 30-0.

A few minutes later, after the Cyclone had killed an Odom punt on the White Deer 4 yardline, the Cyclone received a break. This came when defensive back Jim Odom picked off a White Deer sideline pass and raced down the sideline and into the endzone, but officials ruled he stepped out of bounds on the six yardline.

FB Mike Crow got the ball on two separate plays. He made five yards on the first carry and blasted into the end zone on the second carry for the score. A pitchout to HB Jack Stargel added two more points and the score was 30 to 8.

The Bucks scored again in the fourth period on a 15-yard pass play from QB Phil Hart to Back Randy Elliott. A two-point conversion carry by Marlar was good for the score. In the closing minutes of the game, after the kickoff, the Cyclone took over on their own 20. A pass from QB Jones to End Waites was good for nine yards. The second pass went incomplete. Then, a sideline pass from QB Jones to HB Toby Crooks was completed in the flat. Crooks got by his defender and raced down the sideline and across the goal-line. The play covered 71 yards, one of the longest of the season. A pass for the conversion was no good.

The game ended with White Deer in Possession.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Cotton harvest came to a standstill this week as rains, cloudy skies and cool weather pushed into our area Sunday afternoon . . . bringing scattered hail in the Brice and Estelline communities. The hail fell less than two hours after hail insurance had terminated, we were told.

While heavy rains were falling here Sunday afternoon we were driving from El Paso to Lubbock with our air conditioner turned on to keep cool. The front struck Lubbock just before we arrived there about 4 o'clock and before we reached Memphis we were enjoying the heater on the car.

Herschel and I had a most enjoyable weekend visiting with Adrain, Carnis, Debbie and Kent in El Paso. In many ways it's hard to believe one is still in the State of Texas down in that interesting and picturesque part of the state.

With Beth McNicol and Carnis serving as guides, we enjoyed a tour of Juarez Saturday morning. There is a definite change taking place in Juarez as a part of Mexico's New Frontier program. Just across the border magnificent buildings are being erected to be used for exhibitions, etc. The architecture is most unusual and a dome-shaped building with fiber glass ceiling, surrounded by a moat, houses the new museum. On display is an interesting collection of art work that dates back to the 18th century. Sculpture work of Mexico's patriots, Aztec, Indian culture, painting, handicraft are among the things found in the museum.

From the museum we visited a glass factory and saw workers blowing glass and shaping the colored vases, bowls, and many other items. The work was all done by hand and was most interesting to observe.

Before returning to El Paso we enjoyed dinner at Virginia's . . . a restaurant noted for its fine food. This place, too, was most interesting as it's a home that has been converted into an eating place. The outside of the building was most ordinary and a tourist would never dream that the interior could be so unique from driving down the street. The restaurant has an enclosed garden where guests are served in the summer months, and numerous rooms for private parties. Full glass windows around the enclosed garden give diners inside a view of the garden scene . . . dining is done in a leisurely and relaxed manner.

Before leaving Juarez, we will have to mention the fabulous 5½ million-dollar building recently erected by a group of American businessmen. Don and Beth McNicol, Carnis and Adrian and Herschel and I attended the dog races there on Saturday evening. The three-story building has a complete glass front from which spectators view the race track outside . . . a spiral ramp leads up through the center of the building, which actually is not divided into floors but is open with tiered aisles leading downward. Meals are served with orders taken the same as in any restaurant to members of the Jockey Club (The McNichols are members). Money was not spared in making the entire building a structure of beauty.

Memphis Men Attend State ASC Conference

Three Memphis men attended the first annual Texas ASCS Conference for County Committeemen and County office managers in the Villa Capri Hotel in Austin, Nov. 9-10.

Lynn L. McKown, office manager, Lynn C. Davis, chairman and Joe C. Montgomery, vice chairman of the Hall County ASC committee made the trip.

The Memphis men reported that the conference was most beneficial and covered the whole agriculture picture in the state.

One of the recommendations made after committee study concerned the use of cotton burs on farm land. At one time, the government offered assistance to farmers for spreading cotton burs on their land but this had been stopped. It was recommended that the practice was beneficial especially in curbing wind erosion during winter and early spring, and the committee recommended the assistance be re-established.

The key address at the conference was made by Congressman W. R. Poage of the 11th District, who is deputy chairman of the Agriculture Committee in the House. He spoke on what the new congress might consider in the way of farm legislation next year.

Post Office To Speed Delivery Of Parcel Post

Expanded delivery services and large-scale extension of the Zip Coded parcel post speedup are planned for the immediate future, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski advised G. L. Thompson, acting postmaster for Memphis, this week.

He outlined major steps taken for "the best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever had":

1. A six-day week Dec. 7-31 for parcel post deliveries, instead of a five-day week.

Completion by Nov. 1 of Phase III of the Zip Code parcel handling at about 130 more "sectional center" post offices (strategically-located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with Zip Code.

Mr. Thompson said that the Childress sectional center was activated Saturday, Nov. 14, which is providing overnight service to and between all its satellite offices and to other sectional centers in the state wherever possible.

Local patrons are requested to deposit their mail prior to 5 p. m. to insure dispatch of mail to the Childress sectional center.

"It will help personnel at the local office if mail is separated into 'in-town' and 'out-of-town' bundles," Thompson pointed out.

After-hour mailing may be made at two boxes located outside the local postoffice. One is labeled "in-town" and the other "out-of-town." The mail in the "out-of-town" box will be picked up on Sunday by the star route carrier,

Clarendon Jr. College Names Honor Students

Six students at Clarendon Junior College qualified for the Dean's Honor roll for the first nine-week of the fall semester. To be eligible for the honor roll a student must earn a minimum 2.6 average on 12 or more semester hours.

Among the six listed on the honor roll was Mrs. Sylvia Lewis of Lakeview, who is a sophomore student, and James Boliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Boliver of Hedley, also a sophomore student who enjoys the distinction of having made the Dean's Honor Roll both semesters last year.

Also listed were Jane Denny of Vernon, Jeannie Lowe of Goodnight, Jimmy Blackerby of Hemphill.

and carried to the Childress sectional center, according to the announcement.

Contrary to rumors being circulated recently, all trains through Memphis will leave mail for local distribution, Thompson stated.

Again local citizens were urged to use Zip Codes when addressing all mail, because it will be carried from sectional center to sectional center, and the Zip Code denotes the sectional center of the address.

W. A. Holds 6th Annual Convention

The 15th annual convention of the Communications Workers of America Labor Union, Local 6180, was held in San Angelo, Nov. 14-15. Local 6180 represents employees of the General Telephone Company in a five state area including Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

J. Richardson, Exchange Steward for the Memphis area of Local 6180, attended this convention as the representative of the Union members in the Memphis Unit. This Unit includes members in the area of Clarendon, Panhandle, Wheeler, Wellborn and Turkey, Texas.

One of the most important items taken by the delegates at the convention were: Reading of the Constitution; Report of the Officers and Committees; Accepting the proposed new change. This change will be to date the constitution of Local 6180 to meet the standard of the fast changing electronic industry's proposed amendment for a Biannual Convention for a Biannual Convention.

The two-act play entitled "Good Ol' Mountain Mischief" or "Who Was the Skunk In Possum Holler?" sponsored by The Woman's Forum and recently presented at The Community Center did not play to packed houses but was well received and duly enjoyed by those attending.

The "gate receipts" totaled some $218 with a nominal expense fee to be deducted. The "production staff" (Virginia Browder and Jim Roark) wish to express sincere appreciation to all who so willingly assisted in making this amateur show possible.

"We say 'thank you' to Mrs. Bob Ayers and Mr. Dillon for the clever pastors ballrooming the production; to the players for their good sportsmanship; to the music-makers for their able support; to The Thespians for their assistance with the make-up of the characters; to Top Gilreath and Inez Mason for the programs; to the Democrat staff for publicity and supplies; to Mrs. Charles Snowden for helping with the tickets; to all those from whom we borrowed everything from the gourd dipper to the old cook stove; to Gayle Yancey for sandwiches and Cy Foxhall for the cakes; and, last but not least, to Messrs. Carlos, Neely, and Crump for their endurance and courtesies," they stated.

By such amateur endeavors, hootennanics, carnival booths, lectures, etc., the club women of Memphis who one year ago this September undertook an indebtedness amounting to $5,950.00 for enlargement of the stage and building the basement dressing room we have reduced this debt to around $1,000.00.

We are reminded of the frogs in the churn of buttermilk. One decided he would never get out so gave up and died. The other one kept kicking until he kicked a ball of butter hopped onto it and out of the churn. Our ball of butter is gathering so we will one day jump from the churn but we could not have made it without the gracious co-operation of our friends. We are forever grateful, members of the Forum stated.

Wherever he travels, the President has the world's fastest and most reliable communications available.

"We say 'thank you' to Mrs. Bob Ayers and Mr. Dillon for the clever pastors ballrooming the production; to the players for their good sportsmanship; to the music-makers for their able support; to The Thespians for their assistance with the make-up of the characters; to Top Gilreath and Inez Mason for the programs; to the Democrat staff for publicity and supplies; to Mrs. Charles Snowden for helping with the tickets; to all those from whom we borrowed everything from the gourd dipper to the old cook stove; to Gayle Yancey for sandwiches and Cy Foxhall for the cakes; and, last but not least, to Messrs. Carlos, Neely, and Crump for their endurance and courtesies," they stated.

By such amateur endeavors, hootennanics, carnival booths, lectures, etc., the club women of Memphis who one year ago this September undertook an indebtedness amounting to $5,950.00 for enlargement of the stage and building the basement dressing room we have reduced this debt to around $1,000.00.

We are reminded of the frogs in the churn of buttermilk. One decided he would never get out so gave up and died. The other one kept kicking until he kicked a ball of butter hopped onto it and out of the churn. Our ball of butter is gathering so we will one day jump from the churn but we could not have made it without the gracious co-operation of our friends. We are forever grateful, members of the Forum stated.

TIPS FOR HUNTERS

The Texas Safety Association advises hunters to never trust a gun that's "on safety." The more a hunter counts on a safety catch for protection, the less reliable it becomes. Any mechanical device can fail—unless it's backed up by skill, good sense and safe habits. Know the limitations of the safety catch and check its position frequently while you hunt.

The Russian explorer Bellinghausen first circumnavigated Antarctica in 1819-21.

FIREARMS DANGEROUS

The Texas Safety Association reports that firearm accidents around the home take more lives than hunting accidents. Last year, there were 165 persons killed by firearm accidents in Texas—88 of these fatalities occurred in the home. Be sure to unload all guns before taking them into the house. If there are children in the home, store guns and ammunition separately—under lock and key.

Housewarming Sunday Compliments O. E. Bevers Family At Lakeview

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bevers and son Barney Joe were complimented with a housewarming by their friends and neighbors Sunday afternoon from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

The weather being so unusually bad hindered the visitation which was regretted very much. However, 59 guests registered with many other friends sending gifts.

Mrs. V. C. Durrett, Misses Brenda Durret and Diane McKnight showed the guests through the lovely home.

Mrs. O. L. Favors, Mrs. Ted Montgomery, Mrs. H. M. Thompson and Mrs. E. J. McKnight served the guests harvest punch, coffee and homemade cookies.

The serving table was laid with a lovely lace cloth over a Harvest Gold Skirt and centered with a bouquet of bronze mums in a crystal bowl. Table appointments were in silver and crystal.

Floral arrangements were noted throughout the home and presented by Mrs. Ora Ritchie, the

V. C. Durrets and Mrs. O. L. Bevers. Long-time residents of County, the Bevers family recently moved into their new home at Lakeview from their farm two miles northeast of Lakeview where they had lived for approximately 40 years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bevers were born and reared in Cook County, Texas, but were not acquainted until after moving to this county. Mr. Bevers came to Hall County in Dec., 1913, while Mrs. Bevers was the former Grace Bevers, who was born in Cook County, Texas, and came about three years before Mr. and Mrs. Bevers were married Dec. 11, 1913. They have children, Barney Joe, of the county, and a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Knight of Boaring Springs, with her husband and daughter Diane were present for the occasion Sunday.

Temptation may be strong but seldom overtakes the man who runs from it.

Report From Washington

Proper Representation
The burning issue of our time is the issue of whether State governments are to possess the power to take into account the political, economic, social, and political composition of their States in determining the proper apportionment of seats in State legislatures.

Court decisions pose a threat not only to the sound functioning of State representative government but also to the needs and desires of people residing in the less-populated areas of our 50 States. It seems certain that the effect of the Supreme Court rulings will be to concentrate massive and dominant legislative power in the hands of representatives from high density population areas; it is also certain that many Americans view such power concentrations with deep foreboding.

Would residents of rural and semi-rural areas be well and properly represented in legislatures whose solid majorities are comprised of members unfamiliar with, or who care little about, any but the problems of municipalities? Would not urban-oriented legislatures be susceptible to the corrupting influence of boss rule? Would there not follow a consolidation of many State legislatures into unicameral — one-house — bodies if both their houses are to be structured along lines taking only population into account as a factor in representation?

Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion in the reapportionment cases decided by the Supreme Court provides a reasoned summation against the "one man, one vote" dictum. Justice Harlan observed at one point in his dissent, "In one or another of today's opinions, the Court declares it unconstitutional for a State to give effective consideration to any of the following in establishing legislative districts: (1) history (2) 'economic or other sorts of group interests' (3) area (4) geographical considerations (5) a desire 'to insure effective representation for sparsely settled areas' (6)

HALF-PAST TEEN

'availability of access of citizens to their representatives' (7) theories of bicameralism (except those approved by the Court) (8) occupation (9) 'an attempt to balance urban and rural power' (10) the preference of a majority of voters in the State."

Is not each of these factors vital? I believe they all are, as I believe that people are not ciphers and that they can be represented well only if their variety of interests is taken into account.

Thomas Jefferson believed, as I do, that the Congress of the United States should have the power to overturn unwise decisions of the Supreme Court just as Congress is able to override a veto by the President. I have proposed in past sessions of the Congress—and I shall continue to propose—an amendment to the Constitution to permit Congress to set aside Supreme Court decisions which two-thirds majorities in each house of Congress believe to be at odds with the U. S. Constitution. The strength of the United States rests upon the base of properly representative government, with the people—through their duly elected representatives—making the vital decisions as to the direction to be followed by our Ship of State.
