Memphis football fans and fans from all over the eastern Panhandle will assemble at Cyclone Stadium before 2 p. m. today, to witness the Bi-District play-off game between the Matador Matadors and the Wheeler Mustangs.

Harvest Still Slow, 6,021 Bales Reported

The harvest of the 1964 cotton crop is still at a slow pace although an increase is being seen each day, gin managers reported Wednesday.

To date, 6,021 bales have been ginned in Hall County by the 14 gins. Ginning in the Estelline area has picked up more than any other area. The Brice area is also beginning its harvest on an increased scale. Also, harvest in the Turkey area is ahead of the Memphis, Lakeview and Plaska areas, the report revealed.

Frost the past week has killed the cotton's growth, and harvest is expected to get underway on a large scale, weather permitting, in two weeks.

The Memphis Cotton Classing office had its biggest week last week with 7,000 samples received, K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge, reported.

Also, cotton classed was of a higher quality than the week before. Based on samples classed, 41 percent was in the White grades, with 18 percent Middling.

It was significant to note that with the increased harvesting by mechanical means, there was also

When does freezing weather show up during the winter? Many times freezes occur in October. This year's winter has been many more bales of cotton because of the late start and hot weather during the summer months cause to reach last year's production.

We enter it uninvited, we can lay our hands on it then go out again. Too many of us think we can take it unless we put some life we are foolish.

Who came to Hall County in the early years, made names here, reared families, carried on in spite of hardships. Thompson pointed out on Sunday at the Methodist church.

At a few weeks, the year—1965—will be already many of the things are making plans. It is wonderful if you know who lives in this area and those living who formerly lived here at hand at the Jubilee summer?

Behind the leaders in the church, sincere, Christian, thinking and in action—these children along the road, built school houses and were citizens. None of the first here now. Those of the church started the 75 years of age, and the church people observe the anniversary. Fellowship, a real Thanksgiving dinner with all the enjoyed.

Thanksgiving 1964

Three hundred and forty-three years ago a small number of grateful Pilgrims assembled in prayerful tribute to God for an abundant harvest. That occasion marked the launching of a meaningful custom which has become one of our Nation's most cherished holidays—Thanksgiving Day.

In 1621, the Pilgrim Fathers were bound by spiritual unity love of and faith in the Supreme Being. Their special observance of thanks was a testimonial to their belief that God, in His omnipotent wisdom, looked with favor on their guests for a land where freedom's blessings flow. In this humble and devout setting, the true meaning of Thanksgiving was born.

Today, America is free and strong—a monument to the hopes and ideals of the Pilgrims. It stands as the greatest fortress of brotherhood in the history of man. Conceived under God, our country represents a people whose progress has been blessed with divine guidance and whose history is rich with evidence of His power and glory. We have emerged triumphant from devastating world wars. Our scientific achievements stagger the imagination. Our standard of living surpasses all expectations. Truly, the goodness and mercy of God have been with us.

Regrettably, too many Americans no longer care about religious ideals and heritage. To some, our country is a fantasy-land filled with complimentary handouts of rights and freedoms without obligations. With patent indifference, they shirk the mere suggestion of individual responsibility. Their purpose in life is lost in moral lethargy, self-indulgence, and neglect of duty.

Time and experience have proved our Constitution to be the greatest document for freedom ever drawn by man. This instrument of self-government is a reality envisioned by our Founding Fathers who were dedicated to the ideal that man is superior to the State. It embodies the fundamental principle of liberty which is dearer than life, the precept that men shall live as equals under government by law, not by men.

Law and order are pillars of democracy on which our safety and welfare rest. Without law and order, our society would falter and be destroyed. Law enforcement, as the main line of resistance against all enemies of our heritage, may indeed be proud of its contributions to the growth of a Nation founded on mutual trust, understanding, and faith in God. On this Thanksgiving, we should lift our hearts in humble thanks for this special privilege and pledge to uphold our noble cause to promote tolerance, to preserve the rule of law, and to protect and strengthen our God-given ideals and faith in freedom.

We Americans must never lose sight of the fact that our power, wealth, and happiness come directly or indirectly from our belief in God. Let us commemorate Thanksgiving by refurbishing our religious ideals. And as we meet the forces throughout the world which seek to destroy our way of life, let us find strength in the Biblical quotation, "If God be for us, who can be against us?"
—J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director

Church and Parents

One of the most interesting studies undertaken in the United States related to juvenile crime or misbehavior has been revealed by the New York City Youth Board.

Ten years ago the board sent experts into the homes of about 500 boys, each 6 years old. The expert social workers and psychologists tried to make an estimate of the future potential of each of the youths at that time.

They observed the family life in the home, how the child was supervised, attendance at church services and other religious training and the efficiency of discipline as related to the child.

The children from homes deficient in these qualities were forecast as potential delinquents. Children from homes of good parental attention and basic religious training were forecast as potential "good citizens."

The records of the children were carefully watched for the following 10 years. It is amazing as to how accurate were the forecasts based on the home and church life of the youngsters. The experts found that by the time the children from "bad homes," homes without church guidance, had reached 14 years of age 85 per cent of them were in serious trouble with the authorities. Many of them were repeaters many times over.

On the other hand 95 per cent of the children from homes which provided solid training and discipline and provided basic religious life for the children were what could be described as "good citizens."

Once more this extensive study indicates what we have believed is true. The parents and their religious background have more to do with the ultimate destiny of the children than any other factors.

Here in Wichita Falls and area we have our troubles, and often we are discouraged. But we must know now and prepare for the fact that there is no sudden cure. In other words, starting with even the 6-year-old of today, we must put years of training and discipline into their future and provide them with some kind of religious conviction.

Current problems can best be solved by parents, schools and churches working over the long haul.

There Should Be A Law!

Not too many months ago the Supreme Court handed down a decision that would indicate that when a man presents himself for public office he becomes a prime target for any kind of malicious slander or libel that anyone wants to hurl at him. This ruling of the high court may have been one of the reasons why the recent Presidential campaign was considered to be far below the dignity of the office. There is something wrong with our laws when they permit the slanderous, libelous name-calling practiced in the campaign just closed. Certainly a candidate for the Presidency of our country should be a man of high moral character. He should not have to stoop to name-calling, libelous statements and slanderous remarks in order to secure votes. If it is necessary for him to do such things he doesn't deserve to win and the voters should turn their back on him for all time.

Any candidate that will call an opponent a Communist, or accuse his opponent of treason, when he knows his accusations are incorrect, is deliberately libeling his opponent unless he can prove his statements in court. If he can't he should be subject to criminal punishment.

Congressman Walter Rogers, who was a victim of such tactics in the recent election, proposes to ask the House of Representatives to fully investigate such tactics insofar as the election of Congressmen is concerned. He also suggests that Federal libel laws be passed that will prevent a candidate from vilifying his opponent unless he has actual facts that can be proved in court. If a candidate, or any of his helper-uppers use libelous tactics to defraud the voter, he should be declared guilty and severely punished. If this can be done perhaps we will have cleaner elections and the voters can depend on what they read and head. If candidates, in all races, from the courthouse to the White House, are required to give facts that can be established as facts, we'll see a great difference in future elections — the caliber of men running and holding office.

Voters become confused under the barrage of malicious statements made by men trying to get elected. They are "brainwashed", many times, by politicians whose only goal is to be elected.

We hope Congress will take necessary action to pass necessary laws to prevent a recurrence of a political campaign the likes of which we have just been through.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

- Rust-Proofing Arrows
To keep the points on hunting arrows sharp, dip the heads in paraffin before you store them for the long wait until next season. This way they will stay sharp without rusting.
- Rubber Snubber
Here's how to keep bait-casting reels free from snarls and tangles when transporting them or storing them:
Cut a strip of rubber out of an old inner tube. Then cut a hole in each end. Slip one end over the rod butt or the reel seat; the other end over the reel handle.
Tension holds everything in place.
- Hairpin Sinker Holder
Clip sinkers onto your line through a woman's hairpin. If the sinker gets hung on the bottom, a slight pull will open the wire, leaving the sinker behind. But you can rescue the rest of the rigging.
- Compact Match Box
A handy carrier for transporting matches in your pocket can be made by slipping an empty 12 gauge shotgun shell over an empty 16 gauge shell.
It also is semi-watertight.
- Improved Lure
For catching bluegills and other small fish, improvise a lure by wrapping a pipe cleaner around a pipe cleaner around a long-shank hook. Nifty on a fly rod, or even a spinning rod when a split-shot sinker is added to the line.
- Quiets Safety Chain
Stop the safety chain on your boat trailer from rattling by slipping a section of garden hose over it.
- Handy Handle
Tie a bell-shaped sinker, a small one, on the zipper of your hunting jacket and you won't have to remove gloves to open or close.
- Protects Reel and Line
Tie a plastic bag over your reel before you store it away.
Keeps dirt out, oil in.
- Cooling Sensation
If you have no cool water in camp, you can achieve the same effect by chewing a peppermint lifesaver, then drinking the water. Gives a cooling sensation.
- Blocks Lint
If you want to seal a shotgun barrel from lint after oiling, put an empty shell of appropriate size in the breech, then insert a cork in the muzzle.
- Waterproof Match Box
Quick way to make up a supply of waterproof matches for the field is to put matches in an empty .30.30 cartridge case, then push the open end of the shell into a plug of paraffin to seal it.
- Scope Protector
A two-inch wide band cut from an old rubber inner tube makes fine scope protection. Snap the band over the ends of the scope. It will keep water and dirt off lenses and may be removed quickly.

It's Thanksgiving
And It's Time To Count
Our Blessings

And Thank You For Your Friendship and Patronage

It is natural that attention centers in the traditional feast, when members of families gather around the festive board. This is in the manner of our forefathers who had undergone many hardships back in 1621.

Thanksgiving is a day to review the good things; to recognize those which are most important. First of these is the blessing of living in a free nation where freedom of thought and of action are still considered basic; where there is freedom to worship in the manner of our choice; to vote for issues and candidates which we deem best. It is a day to give thanks for the abundance we enjoy, especially the crops which are being harvested.

On this day, let us bow our heads in prayer and thank Him for all we have and all that we enjoy. Let us reaffirm our faith in our nation and our fellowmen; decide to try harder in the future to pre- many blessings.

GIRL SCOUTING

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS BEGIN TRAINING PROGRAM

The two patrols of Senior Girl Scouts began training courses Saturday, Nov. 21, in Pampa at the Little Scout House. Miss Celia Fowler and Mrs. Elmont Branigan will be training these girls in preparation for the National Round-Up to be attended July 15-17, 1965, at the Farragut Wildlife Management Area, Idaho. This site is on the shore of Lake Pend Oreille, 50 miles northwest of Spokane, Washington. Eight of these girls will attend the Round-Up and eight will make a trip to a point of interest. All girls will be attending all of the training sessions in order to be prepared to go to Round-Up at last minute notice.

Much of this first session was spent going over complete details necessary for preparation. The patrol decided to carry out "The Ranch Life" theme in making swaps, demonstrations, banners, and capers charts. This theme is typical of our section of the country. The scouts planned dates of meeting once a month and scheduled the next meeting to be held December 12 in Pampa. Most of the indoor get-togethers will be held in Pampa and Borger and the camp-outs will bring the group to the southern part of the Council.

An order was made up for the sale of canned nuts which the girls will sell to begin financing these trips. All the support the Scouts will receive in these undertakings will be appreciated. The purpose of sending Scouts to Round-Up is to have representatives from our Council attend forums and communicate with girls from every part of our country as well as some foreign countries. These girls will visit troops all over our Council before going to Round-Up. During these visits the troops on every level will be asked to give their interpretations of "Girl

These views will be taken to Round-Up for further discussion. When the Scouts return they will re-visit all the troops sharing their experiences and information as well as bringing pictures as a colorful report of attending Round-Up. In this manner every Girl Scout of the Council can participate in this national event. Support by these troops in sending these representatives will be appreciated as there is quite an expense involved.
Trainees attending the session in Pampa were Elmonette Branigan, Glenda Bruce, Regina Hoover of Memphis, Susan Davis, Sharon Hawkins, Margaret Ann Brewer, Janey Esley, Prudence Skelly of Pampa, Mary Lynn Wright, Martha Snyder, Cheryl Hensley of Fritch, Pamela Purcell of Borger and Lalinda Sherman of Turkey.

Mrs. Henry Hays returned home Friday from Richardson. She accompanied her daughter, Mrs. John Clark and Russell and Susan, to their home in Richardson on Wednesday.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS
CRANBERRIES HAVE BECOME STANDARD MENU ITEM
Cranberries are becoming a standard menu item, not only at holiday time but throughout the year, says W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent.
Nearly 60 percent of the crop is processed, and consumers have a choice of whole berry and strained and jellied cranberry sauce as well as canned cranberry juice throughout the year. There'll be no shortage of cranberries during the Christmas season.
Fresh cranberries now on the market are sold mostly in one-pound cellophane bags or boxes with a window. The fresh market season for cranberries extends from October through January in most areas, although this varies somewhat according to the locale.
County Agent Hooser suggests that fresh cranberries may be stored in the container in which they are purchased. Keep them refrigerated, for warm temperatures cause them to "sweat" and will cause more rapid spoiling.
One pound of fresh cranberries makes 3 to 3½ cups of sauce, the agent reminds.

The Woman's Culture Club met Wednesday, November 18, in the home of Miss Sybil Gurley for an Americanism program.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Bert Glascock. She used Thanksgiving as her subject, discussing different attitudes toward Thanksgiving. Following the devotional, Mrs. Robert Moss led the group in prayer.

For roll call everyone told about her favorite family tradition at Thanksgiving.

The program was introduced by Mrs. Nat Bradley, program chairman. # Methodist WSCS Meets In Home Of Mrs. Greene

The Methodist Woman's Society Christian Service met Monday, Nov. 23, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. R. S. Greene with Mrs. D. A. Neley and M. W. ... as co-hostesses.

Mrs. W. J. McMaster, the leader, introduced the program with the original Thanksgiving Proclamation issued by Gov. Bradford ... years after the Pilgrims ... Being program material ... Mrs. McMaster explained a variety of instructive literature now in use in the Society. The group sang "Faith of Our Fathers" followed by an impressive meditation entitled, "Thanks to You" by Mrs. M. G. Tarver. In closing with the subject we should especially thank some person each day for a kindness shown us as well as thank our Saviour for a different blessing each day. Also for our trials and problems which are necessary for spiritual growth. Mrs. Tarver led in prayer.

Mrs. F. W. Foxhall discussed the subject of "Making Christ Known to Our Hand," a mission field in itself. Bishop Martin stated at a 1954 convocation that if we do not Christianize the city, it will paganize the world.

Mrs. L. G. DeBerry gave an informative talk on the "World Work of Methodism" pointing up the importance of literacy and education on which leadership and world order depend. She told of Mrs. Oswald Lord, who for 8 years was the U. S. Representative to the United Nation's Human Rights commission and how she found that the Africans were so hungry for any printed reading material even a discarded leaf of instructions from her roll of film. She sends books and magazines to these people.

Mrs. Ed Hutcherson gave a comprehensive talk on the World Federation Women, reminding each of us that we are members. There are 57 independent Christian units in 48 countries on five continents. It is an instrument of the United Nations to create peace

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Thanksgiving Day had its beginning in 1621 when our forefathers, the New England colonists, paused for a day of prayer and praise for the bountiful harvest they had enjoyed. Through the years, we as Americans, have continued to enjoy these blessings and have many things for which to be thankful. For instance this year, our harvest is not yet complete . . . but we can be thankful for a late freeze and frost which allowed late crops a longer growing season. This is from the standpoint of being thankful for material blessing which we receive. But there are many other blessings which we receive that contribute more to our happiness than money that we take for granted. Here we enjoy freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom to come and go as we choose, a society which generates love and respect for our neighbors and friends . . . and even though we may not agree with their ideas on everything, we respect the right to their belief. Yes, fellow Americans, we should with humble gratitude thank God that we live in a country like America!

It was another smashing hit for Senior Class members as they played to almost a full house the second night of the annual production, "It Happens Every Summer," Friday night. And it was a distinct feather in the cap of Miss Jeannie Nesbitt, director, as she watched her first production being well received by the audience.

and understanding. She suggested organizing a prayer telephone for national and world problems.

Mrs. J. J. McDaniel led the group in a Thanksgiving Litany to close the meeting.

Those present, other than the above mentioned, to whom delicious refreshments were served were Mes. Myrtis Phelan, Lee Brown, Louie Goffinet, Bess Crump, J. B. Thompson, Jesse Baker, J. W. Oliver, W. F. McElreath, Kermit Voelkel, Ben Parks and Mary Lou Erwin.

Student directors were John Lemons and Catherine Ivy and co-director and sponsor was Clifford Bradshaw. Members of the cast did a fine job in portraying their respective roles in the play. A lot of hard work went into the production.

And, speaking of our youth, we would like to comment on what a fine job Gloria Wilson is doing with our homemaking department in the local school. Fourteen girls and not all members of the homemaking class, have made garments to enter in the "County Make It With Wool Contest", which was held Monday afternoon at the high school. Winner from here will compete in the district contest later in Lubbock.

We learned from talking to Gloria that at least four of the girls made their garments outside class with supervision under her direction. One is a Senior girl who has already had three years in homemaking, and three others are girls from 10 to 13 years of age. We wish all of you could have inspected the garments made by these girls . . . and have seen them model the fully-lined suits and dresses.

We have long thought that home economics should be a required subject for all girls. Our education in America is technical . . . yet we expect our girls to make good housewives and mothers without the slightest training. A little technical know-how in sewing, cooking, washing and ironing could save a new bride tears of frustration and unhappiness in many instances. All of us enjoy doing the things we feel that we can do well. Those who grow up with the idea that managing a home is something anyone can do will find that they are sadly mistaken. A good homemaker needs to know how to manage money, serve a balanced diet, buy and care for the family's wardrobe, in addition to keeping the house clean and neat . . . and be calm and composed with a happy smile on her face when her husband and children arrive home in the afternoon.

Glynn and Mary Jane Thompson returned Monday night after enjoying an interesting vacation. They went from here to Oklahoma City where Glynn got a good report after a medical check-up. While there they stayed in the 89'er Inn, a stockade design motel reminiscent of the Indian Territory days. Designed by Dean Morgensen, Jr., formerly of Memphis, the motel is ultra modern inside, but from the outside has a most rustic look, Mary Jane said. Waitresses in the dining room are costumed in dresses worn in that period.

From Oklahoma City they enjoyed driving through Eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas to view the beautiful fall foliage of the autumn season and also a stop in Longview with their son, Dayle and wife and their four daughters.

And speaking of vacation, Janice Ferris commented Monday that she really felt her husband, George, and B. P. Watson of Lakeview had a most successful hunting trip to Liberal, Kan., over the weekend. Seemed Janice had to offer a hand in dressing the pheasants they brought back.

If you enjoy football, Memphis will have a treat for you Thanksgiving Day. Matador and Wheel-er will meet here to play off the bi-district game at 2 p. m. in Cyclone Stadium. We understand it will be a good game.

Local Residents Attend Football Game In Lubbock

A large group of local residents were in Lubbock Saturday to attend the Texas Tech-Arkansas football game at Jones Stadium. Among those going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Dink Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norman, Mr. and Mrs. James Bray, Richard Ellis, Lucheryle Tucker, David Duncan, Robert Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goodnight, Mr. and Mrs.

Troy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fowler. Also Supt. and Mrs. Shannon Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Watts, Hoot Jones, Jerry Moss, Jeff Moore, Jerry Lebow, A. C. Sams, Ott Bevers, Barney Jo Bevers, Charlie Johnson, Joe Bob Browning, Woody Frazier and Grady Haynes.

Guests in the Robert A. Wells home over the weekend included Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Evans and Mike, Randy and Jimmy of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Frisbie and Tamara and Cheryl, Jerry Low and Susan Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Hill Wells and Belinda and Terry of Memphis.

We Are Still Pilgrims

We no longer give thanks around a rough wooden table in a forest clearing. Our problems and rewards have taken different shapes too, but they are basically the same.

We are still making a pilgrimage, the same search for a fuller and more fruitful life under freedom or religion. And we are still thankful for the faith that sees us through adversity and guides us on that pilgrimage.

Thanksgiving Day was named for its meaning—the day that we come together to give thanks for our faith and our full life . . . and to remember that we are still pilgrims.

This Thanksgiving Day, pause for a few minutes and give your thanks . . . for fine friends and associates, and for the privilege of progressing in this complicated world under Christian leadership.

Delphian Club Meets in Home of Mrs. J. S. McMurry

The Delphian Club met Tuesday, November 17, in the home of Mrs. J. S. McMurry for a program on National Defense. During a short business session led by the president, Mrs. C. C. Hodges, plans were discussed for the annual Christmas Tour of Homes on December 15. Gifts to the State Hospital in Wichita Falls were brought to this meeting.

To introduce the program, Mrs. Lynn McKown referred to the theme for the year "Prospectus" and the focus of this program, "Graphs—for posting data". The quotation was "Science is organized knowledge" by Spencer. Mrs. Carol Gardenhire brought a meditation, "Charting Our New Discoveries." She stated that it is a wonderful, terrifying thing to be alive at this time. The central thought was that the spiritual should take precedence over the material in the process of charting.

Mrs. McKown's subject was "Protecting Our Men In Space." She pointed out that men, money and missiles form the core of the Air Force Systems Command, and that its far flung functions provide the know-how to new frontiers in space. Congress has been asked for $5.7 billion for the programs of NASA, roughly 6 cents of every tax dollar. Thoughtful critics are asking whether the solar exploration is valid enough for this expenditure, which otherwise might be used for the betterment of man's lot on this earth. Protecting our men in space requires a study of many subjects such as the one being conducted at Texas Woman's College at Denton under a special grant of $90,000 by NASA. These studies include special diets, the effect of a continued reclining position on bone mass, the effect of ionizing radiation and high magnetic fields, and other related subjects.

A film, "The Flight of Faith 7", with the astronaut Gordon Cooper, was shown. This was a vivid portrayal of the physical,

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

KEEP COTTON DRY, LOOSE AND CLEAN

The final grade of lint in a bale of cotton is determined by the condition of the seed cotton when it reaches the gin. For this reason, cotton should be produced, harvested and handled so that it reaches the gin as dry, loose and clean as possible, says W. B. Hooser, County Agricultural Agent.

Picking early in the morning or late in the afternoon when cotton is very moist should be avoided. Loss of color associated with delay in ginning of high-moisture seed cotton accounts for a large part of grade difference between cotton harvested during high-moisture periods and dry periods. To get the best possible prices for cotton, the farmers should harvest it dry and keep it dry. Mr. Hooser points out.

Small capacity transport vehicles have no place in the cotton field, Hooser continues. Four wheel, large capacity, wood-slatted or wire-sided trailers are recommended.

Another quality reducer, which is closely associated with small transports, is tramping the seed cotton in the trailer. Even the most elaborate and expensive ginning systems cannot remove all of the small "pin and pepper" trash that is ground into the cotton by tramping.

Seed cotton should be harvested as clean as possible to permit the use of less gin machinery in obtaining a good grade. Pickers should be cautioned not to allow green leaves, excessive trash, dirt, colored rags, grass and other foreign objects to be mixed in seed cotton.

"Remember," Hooser concludes, "you can help maintain quality in cotton by harvesting seed cotton when it is dry and by keeping it loose and clean."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Editor's Note: The letter published below was written to Mrs. Hubert Dennis who is sharing it with friends here because she feels many will be interested in a direct word from Russell Clark, former editor of the Memphis Democrat. Mr. Clark edited the paper here in the early 1930's during the time the paper was a daily. His letter follows:)
Ward 114—Bed 33
Veteran's Administration Hospital
2002 Holcombe Boulevard
Houston, Texas

November 16, 1964
Dear Miss Lucille,

It was so nice and thoughtful of you to write and I appreciate this very much. However, I am at a loss to understand how you learned I have been in this hospital for seven months.

I have rheumatoid arthritis in both my legs and feet, but have finally gotten out of a wheel chair and I am now hobbling about the hospital with a cane. I have improved so very much. I was brought here in an ambulance and was in a very serious condition, but the specialists at Baylor and those here, coupled with three different therapies, have worked wonders.

Of course, I'll never get around as I once did and will always have to take the medicine the hospital is now giving me and will have to use the cane, but I do expect to get out of here (I hope) around the first of the new year and, if so, I shall go back to my job, because I have no thought of retiring.

I think often of the many friends I used to have in Memphis. Just the other day, the television here was playing a song I used in the "Football Follies of 1934"—30 years ago, and what a flood of memories that song recalled!

During World War II, I served five years in the Navy, entering the service before the war started. I wrote many of the communiqués from the South Pacific, although these were official and my name was in no way connected with them. Then, after the war, I returned to public relations and newspaper work and was called to active duty again in the Korean War, in which I served for almost three years.

Please give Hubert my very best regards and remember me to any of my other friends who may be still living in Memphis, if convenient.

Thanks so much for thinking of me. You will never know how much your card and note has meant to me.

With warm personal regards, I am,
Your friend,
Russell Clark.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Thanksgiving—Present and Past
Most of us will celebrate Thanksgiving Day as the traditional American family holiday, giving thanks for the blessings that have come to us and our loved ones. President Johnson, in his Thanksgiving proclamation, asked that all Americans gather in their homes and places of worship to give thanks to God for His goodness and His generosity to us, and to pray for the forces of peace, justice, and goodwill to prevail throughout the world.

adobe fort which gave the location its name—Kit Carson ordered a halt and corralled the horses inside the crumbling walls. It was well that he exercised such prudence for soon his command was surrounded by more than 3,000 Indian warriors who repeatedly charged the ring of troopers. The battle raged through the day and finally Carson was forced to order a withdrawal back through the destroyed Kiowa village and to the safety of the hills beyond.

Military men who studied the battle believe the U. S. soldiers might have been annihilated, as Custer's command was to be wiped out 12 years later and 1,000 miles to the north, had not Colonel Carson bolstered his cavalry and infantry with two mountain howitzers. The cannon kept the attacking Indians from concentrating their attacks and then provided the necessary support for the retreat. Carson ordered late in the day.

It is believed that the battle in the Panhandle that November day 100 years ago was the largest pitched battle, from the standpoint of the number of men engaged, ever fought between soldiers and Indians west of the Mississippi. Now, visitors occasionally drive to the Turkey Track Ranch to visit the monuments commemorating the Adobe Walls battle fought in 1874, when Billy Dixon and a band of buffalo hunters fought off another force of hostile Indians, not realizing that another stirring chapter of our Panhandle story was written ten years earlier, about a mile and a half away, at Thanksgiving time.

CARD OF THANKS
Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, food, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

GIRL SCOUTING

The regular meeting of the Senior Girl Scouts enrolled in taking the Leader-In-Training course was held in Memphis, November 14, at the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. John Brewer of Pampa is conducting this course. Eight of the Senior Troop No. 187 are enrolled in the course.

This course is designed to teach troop leadership skills to Senior Scouts 16 and 17 years of age through 16 hours of course sessions, plus two or three months of apprenticeship with a troop.

Mid-way in Saturday's session the girls enjoyed a delicious lunch. Mrs. Brode Hoover, Jane Hoover and Mrs. Elmont Branigan were invited to attend the meal.

The next meeting will be held in Pampa and the date will be announced at a later time.

Social Security Trust Fund Is At $22-B Mark

The Social Security Trust Funds total nearly $22 billion, according to Hal Geldon, District Manager of the Amarillo Social Security district office. The funds are expected to increase by about $5 billion by the end of June 1968.

Social security taxes are placed in one of two trust funds. The assets of these funds can be used only for the payment of social security benefits and administrative expenses. The money in these funds not needed for current operation of the program is invested in interest-bearing U. S. Government bonds. The interest earned on these investments is added to the trust funds.

Geldon pointed out that this method of financing the social security system has proven to be a reliable one over the years. The program has always been self-supporting and financially sound.

No part of the social security program has received more careful consideration by Congress than the financing of the system, Geldon stated. It was and is the intent of Congress that social security remain self-supporting both for the long-range future.

HaH County Soil Conservation

Grassed waterways are natural or man-made water courses protected against erosion by a grass cover. They are an important part of a Soil Conservation program. They are important to all of us whether we live on the farm or reside in a town.

To you, the farmer, grassed waterways are important because they serve as safe outlets for terraces and diversions. In addition, they may provide a safe passage-way for water that enters your farm from adjoining land.

Good grass waterways are a must in controlling water erosion on many farms. If you do not have a grassed waterway or you have one that does not function properly, all other parts of the water control system for your farm or field may fail too.

The next time you have a heavy rain on your farm, take a look at the natural drainage way and low areas in your field. Are these finger gullies on the field and silt bars in the low areas? If so, you should consider the need for a grassed waterway.

Properly established grassed waterways can be a profitable

Major Causes Of Color In Cotton Are Explained

Most of the cotton in the Memphis Classing Office territory, according to K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge, is open and exposed to the weather elements. It seems most timely therefore to explain a special subject entitled "What Causes Color in Cotton."

The grade of cotton is composed of three factors—colors, leaf and preparation. These factors in area. Besides serving as a water outlet for the field, it can be used for hay, grass seed production or limited grazing.

To you the town people, grassed waterways are important in controlling erosion. Water coming from a washing field carries many tons of silt. If protection is not provided, this silt eventually makes its way to reservoirs and recreational areas causing untold damage. The next time you are on your favorite lake, walk up to the place where the water enters. See if there is a silt bar. This will tell you if the land is being protected from water erosion.

Grassed waterways are like a foundation that supports a house. The grassed waterway may be supporting all of the water conservation measures on the farm. Make sure your water conservation foundation is strong. If you have any question concerning grassed waterways for your farm, contact your local office of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the HaH County Soil Conservation District.

Weather is the chief factor affecting color in cotton. White is the normal color, but in addition to white, cotton may be light spotted, spotted, tinged, yellow stained, light gray and gray.

Adverse weather conditions can produce any of these color variations.

Freezing weather produces severe damage to immature cotton. The stage of maturity that the bolls are in at the time of the freeze usually determines the degree of discoloration of the lint. This cotton may be light spotted, spotted, tinged, or yellow stained.

Open cotton that is left in the fields exposed to the weather loses its "bloom" and may become dark and dull in color, and therefore lower in grade. As the color becomes duller and darker, the cotton may then fall into the light gray and gray categories.

Besides the weather, insects and diseases contribute largely to discoloration in cotton. Each year enormous losses are experienced by farmers in production yields and quality due to insects and diseases. Discoloration of cotton means lower grades and lower price at the market.
