Memphis Council Has Active Session

The Memphis City Council, at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, made several appointments, took action on a narrow street problem, and asked for bids on a new police car.

The City Council also entered into a financial advisory contract with the First Southwest Company, Joe Smith of Lubbock, representative, concerning the proposed sewer system improvements.

The members of the Council voted unanimously to change the parking in the 600 Block of Main Street from angle to parallel. The new parking will go into effect as soon as street crews paint the necessary lines for parallel.

Also some discussion was made and plans drafted to erect more yield-right-of-way signs and possibly stop signs on the city's streets.

The Council instructed City Secretary A. L. Gailey to contact car agencies and seek bids for a new police vehicle, and a list of specifications were drawn up.

The City Council made two re-appointments to the board of directors of the Donley County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1. M. E. McNally, Jr., and Virginia Browder were reappointed to the board for two-year terms.

The Council also made the following appointments for 1965: A. L. Gailey as city secretary-treasurer; Attorney Sam J. Hamilton, city attorney; Dr. O. R. Goodall, city health officer; Dr. O. R. Goodall, city birth and death registrar.

The First National Bank of Memphis was reappointed the city's depositor bank, beginning Feb. 1, 1965, for two years.

Friends Harvest Brown Smith's Cotton Fields

Farmer neighbors and friends of Brown Smith worked Saturday afternoon and all day Monday harvesting the 110 acres of cotton on the Smith farm.

Providing cotton strippers and trailers for the harvest and operating strippers included: J. B. Skinner, Robert Clark, Gaylon Clark, Danny Clark, Tommy Foster, Arvin Orr, G. D. Hall, Paul Smith and Sandy Smith. Clyde Reed aided with the harvest by hauling trailers to ginning points.

Mrs. Smith, seriously ill for several months, passed away Saturday, Dec. 26.

Lakeview-Turkey Split District Games Tuesday

In the first round of district play, the two teams from Lakeview and Turkey tangled at Turkey Gym, and when the smoke cleared, the night's play was split.

In the girls game, played first, the Lakeview girls trailed in the game until the final period, when they outscored the Turkey girls 5 points to 2 and won the game by a 19 to 18 score. Probably one of the lowest scoring games for both teams this season, saw Tommie Payne of Lakeview score 12 points and Karen Arnold of Tur-

Cyclone Goes To Wellington Meet

The Memphis Cyclone will open play tonight at 7 p. m. in the Wellington basketball tournament and will meet the Paducah Dragons in the first round.

If the local lads win this contest, and since they had defeated Paducah twice so far this season, they are favored, they will play the winner of the Wellington-Dodson game at 8:15 p. m. Friday evening. Wellington is a heavy favorite in this match.

The losers will play at 2:15 p. m. Friday in the consolation portion of the tournament.

Coach Milton Miller said the Memphis boys have been working hard this week and are ready for the tournament and also for the opening of district play next Tuesday when Memphis teams travel to Canadian to play the Wildcats.

"Our boys have played some pretty tough teams and have looked good against them, and we are expecting to do good at the Wellington tournament," Coach Miller said.

He explained that the unknown team in the tournament is the Altus squad. Strong contenders for the first place trophy seem to be Memphis, Clarendon, Wellington, Altus (?), Hedley and Quail. Coach Miller said Paducah has shown strength at times this season and can't be counted out. This is possibly an evenly matched tournament as the local squad has played in, Miller said.

District 2-A

Fans are encouraged to remember that next Tuesday, District 2-A play-offs begin, and the Cyclone travels to Canadian. Next Friday the Cyclone will play host to the Clarendon Bronchos here.

Coach Miller feels that District 2-A race is going to be a toss-up. White Deer, Wellington, Clarendon and Memphis have all looked good at times. However, Canadian and McLean have shown steady improvement.

"I feel confident that our boys will be battling for the crown all the way," Coach Miller stated.

The Cyclone will have an edge in the height department; however Wellington has the experience edge and the team is considered favorite—if any team is.

W. R. Chandler, Retired Farmer, Dies Wednesday

Funeral services for William Riley Chandler, 89, who died Wednesday morning in Hall County Hospital, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Travis Baptist Church.

The Rev. Leroy Gaston, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Virgil Sparks, pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery with services under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Born in Cleburne County, Ala., Mr. Chandler was married to Miss Nancy Magnolia Fuller Oct. 18, 1894, in Sevier County, Ark. They moved to Hall County in 1925 and farmed in the Deep Lake community until his retirement in 1940 when they moved to Memphis.

Mrs. Chandler preceded her husband in death on Dec. 17, 1933.

Surviving are two sons, Dutch W. and Francis F. of Oklahoma City; four daughters, Mrs. W. M. Mitchell and Mrs. Allie Bickerstaff of Panhandle and Mrs. S. G. Garrison and Miss Maggie Chandler of Memphis; 25 grandchildren, 70 great-grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren.

Grandsons will serve as pall bearers.

Ginning Total For 1964 Crop Climbs To 46,100

As the 1964 cotton harvest goes into its final stages, it appears that the total figure will fall short of the 50,000-bale mark, a telephone survey of 14 county gins revealed this morning.

Gin managers reported that 46,

099 bales have been harvested so far, and predicted that slightly over 2,000 bales were yet to be gathered, which would put the final figure somewhere around 48,000 bales.

Also the report showed that for all practical purposes, the Eastell area, the Turkey area, and some areas around Brice are finished, with only a few bales remaining. However, the harvest around Lakeview, Plaska and Memphis still is not completed, and it is in these areas that managers feel the remaining 2,000 bales will be gathered.

Dry weather and unseasonably high temperatures the past week has allowed farmers to gather 4,818 bales since last Thursday's report. Last year, on the same date, 53,225 bales had been harvested.

Classing Report

K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge of the Memphis Cotton Classing Office, stated today that through last night the office had classed 143,000 samples as compared to 190,260 on the same date last year.

"This is an estimate," he said, "but I feel we have classed about 80 per cent of what we will receive from the 57 gins in the 18 counties."

"We are still running with a big backlog, and have been receiving about 2500 samples daily; so it should take us until sometime next week before we will be able to catch up," he stated.

Summing up the quality report,

Memphis Chamber of Commerce To Give $500; Also Trophies, Other Prizes

The Annual Hall County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show, sponsored by the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development, will be held Saturday, Jan. 9, in the Show Barn, located on the City Park road. Judging will begin at 9 a. m.

Bert Beerwinkle, animal husbandry teacher at West Texas University in Canyon, will judge the pigs, sheep and cattle.

Plans for the show are under the direction of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce livestock committee headed by O. R. (Doc) Saye, chairman. The organization has pledged $500.00 to defray expense of the show.

Money, ribbons, rosettes, trophies, halter and a show cane will be given away. Saye will serve as ring master again this year.

Branigan Jewelry and Houston's Chrysler-Plymouth dealership and Houston's Angus Farms are planning on giving away nine trophies to the top winners of the show.

Memphis Production Credit Association will again this year give a halter to the grand champion and reserve champion cattle winners and a show cane to the boy or girl who wins the showmanship award, it was announced.

All hogs, sheep and cattle should be in the show barn by 5 p. m. Friday, Jan. 8. All steers and hogs should first be taken to the Omer Hill Elevator and weighed so that the animals may be placed in the proper weight class.

All hogs and sheep will be shown in the morning, starting at 9 a. m.

In the cattle division, the breeding beef cattle will be shown first, starting at 1:30 p. m. A bull class will be shown for ribbons only, but no prize money. The junior heifer class will be shown first.

This class includes females born in January, February and March of 1964. The senior heifer calf class will be shown second. This class is for females born in September, October, November and December, 1963. After the single class of females, the groups will be shown.

The steers will be shown last. They will be shown as follows: light weight (up to and including 880 pounds) first; medium weight (801 to 900 pounds) second; and heavy weight (901 and over) third.

Rotarians Hear Castor Bean Story Tuesday

Don Sanders, field representative (of Plainview) of the Baker Castor Oil Company of Texas, spoke to members of the Memphis Rotary Club Tuesday on the castor bean crop and the various uses of the beans.

Also attending the meeting was H. J. DuVall, a local buyer of castor beans. During the program, DuVall told the group that the experimental growing of castor beans in this area was not as successful as it could have been, due to the dry spring and late planting. He stated that Ronald Davis harvested 92,000 pounds from his 70-acre field. In all, about 10 farmers planted some castor beans this year, he explained, and harvest is not complete as yet.

In his film slide story of castor beans, Sanders included some slides he took on the R. D. Revell farm west of Lakeview, showing

Ballots Mailed This Week For 1965 Memphis C. of C. Directors Election

Official ballots in the 1965 election of four new directors for the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development were mailed to members of the organization this week, Manager Clifford Farmer said.

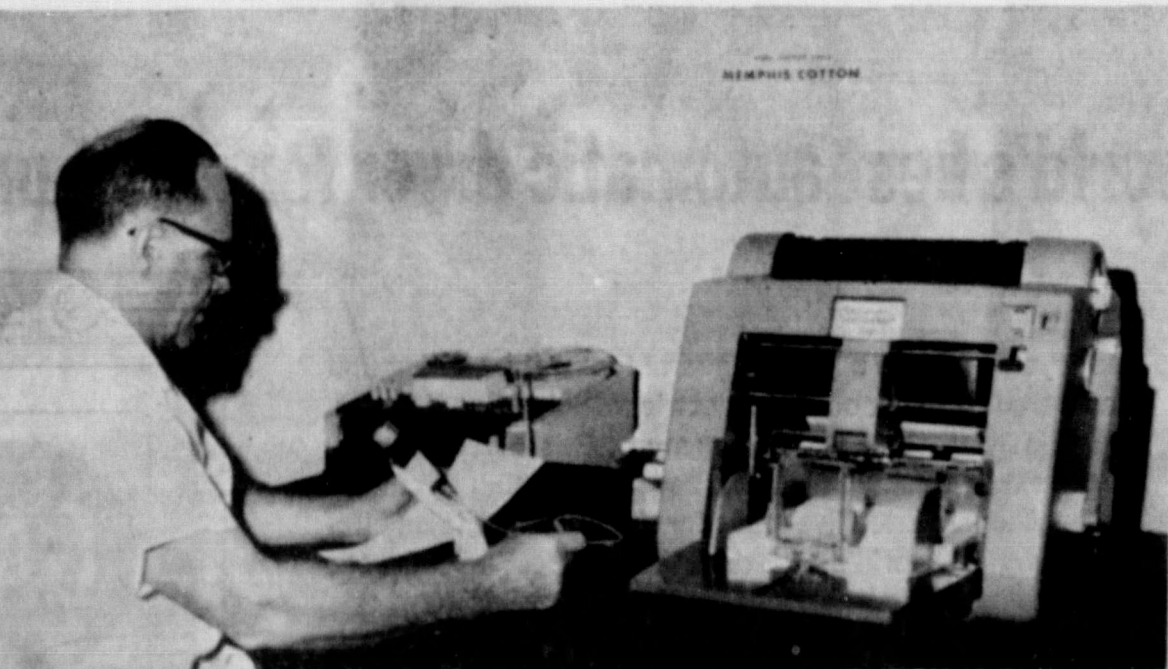

The ballots, to be included in the final tabulation, must be post-marked not later than Jan. 11. Each member will vote for four men, and the men receiving the largest number of vote are elected.

The new directors will be elected for a three-year term to replace the retiring directors: J. M. Ferrel, Jr., Dick Fowler, H. J.

Howell and Dr. H. R. Stevenson. Directors with one-year terms remaining are Warren Driver, A. L. Gailey, James Van Pelt and Tommie M. Potts. Hold-over directors with two-year terms include: Wendell Harrison, Jim Beeson, Fred Byerly and Mills Roberts.

Manager Farmer explained that the four receiving the highest votes will be elected for a three-year term, and the one receiving the next highest vote will fill the unexpired term of Fred Byerly, who has moved from Memphis.

Members of the organization are urged to fill out their ballots and return them as soon as possible.

1964—A Year of Building!

When 1965 drew to a close last week, the smoke had not cleared from the economic picture of Hall County, nor is it expected to clear for several weeks, with a lot of the 1964 crop yet to be harvested and sold.

However, preliminary reports from county bank statements showed that the year ended about on the same note as did last year as far as total assets and total deposits are concerned, and anything remaining should go on the plus side on the ledger.

Why was not a deficit shown in 1964? Numerous factors can be given; however, probably the best explanation can be found in the building index for our area. According to figures released by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, construction totals $1,597,000 in Memphis the past year with $720,000 in residential work.

How did this figure break down? The WT Chamber listed: residential, $720,000; commercial, $510,000; public buildings, $165,000; airport improvements, $40,000; public utilities, $162,000, for a total of $1,597,000.

In comparison, this is five times as much as Wellington, four times as much as Childress, three times as much as Quanah and Shamrock, and equal to construction in Vernon, and one-third more than Tulia.

All considered, Memphis had an other record breaking year in building. This increase was also reflected in the total number of connections reported by utility companies in Memphis.

Donley County Water CID No. 1 reported a steady increase in the number of connections all year long, and listed a record high connection figure of 1,354. This is an increase of 28 over last year.

West Texas Utilities reported a total number of 1,550 through November of last year, 87 more than a year ago. This includes 28 residential and 51 commercial, it was reported.

The latest figure at Lone Star Gas office listed a total number of connections at 1595 through November. This is an increase of 11 over the previous figure a few months earlier.

The district office of General Telephone Company reported that their total number of telephones in Memphis was 1,845, an increase in 11 months of 162 telephones. This figure includes residential, business and extension phones added to the system.

Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1965, listed a total of 178 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in Hall County, and announced this was an increase in the business population of 1.1 percent over January, 1964. There was an increase of two business firms in the county.

However, 1964 was not a peach and cream year by any means. Farmers and ranchers had trying setbacks during the year. The cattle market was not as strong as many would like and the 1964 cotton crop had to battle a dry spring, late rains and hail, mixed with blowing sand, and a dry hot summer. However, it looks like the total cotton crop harvest will still be around 50,000 bales despite these adverse conditions.

We have now entered a new year, the 75th anniversary of Hall County. The year promises to be one of festivities, possible bountiful crops (if rainfall continues as it has this fall and winter) and continued growth and progress.

In President Lyndon B. Johnson's "State of the Union" message Monday night, he stated: "This, then, is the state of the union; free, restless, growing and full of hope. So it was in the beginning. So it shall always be, while God is willing, and we are strong enough to keep the faith."

Planning and working toward a better tomorrow for our area is being done now. By dedication and cooperation the 75th year of our county can be the best in the history, as well it should.

What Other Editors Say

Income Tax Not Simple

If you are a taxpayer, and who isn't these days, you have already received your income tax forms through the mail, a subtle hint from Uncle Sam that he would like for you to please remit without delay.

For the next few months we will hear a lot about the income tax, and the noise will reach a climax just about the time of the deadline, April 15.

And there will be a lot of suggestions about how to make the income tax figuring more simple, it seems to strain the brain of a lot of people to fill out their income tax form and of course a while new profession has grown up over the years—existing almost solely upon the service offered in helping taxpayers figure their income tax.

But the suggestions offered for making the income tax simple fall way short of the mark. They usually wind up with a proposal to cut all deductions and levy a flat fee against an income, disregarding all factors that now make it complicated.

This may seem like a good idea at first glance, but at second glance it can be seen that it is not so fair, at that.

For example, the man who doesn't give anything to church or charity may take a dim view of allowing another man to deduct this from his income. But the man who wants to give to his church or charity feels that he should be allowed to deduct it. Certainly the churches and charity feel more sympathetic with the present system because they certainly get more money that way.

There is a movement underway to disallow deductions for interest charges on home mortgages, and this is opposed by home owners. Probably this proposal was dreamed up by those who live in apartments. So is the crackpot idea that a home owner not only should get any deduction for interest on his mortgage, but that he should pay tax on the rent value of his home, in other words pay what his rent would be if he were renting instead of owning his house.

There is a continuing attack on the capital gains provision of the income tax laws, which allows a taxation of half the regular rates up to a maximum of 25 per cent. Under attack is the depletion allowance which allows 27 1/2 per cent "depreciation" in the oil industry, but it seems likely that it will remain.

There has been a number of proposals to increase the size of the individual exemption, now pegged at $600 which is hardly realistic in this day of high prices. But Congress is hesitant to meddle with this magic figure for fear that some of the flow of money will be shut down in its travels to Washington.

Other areas of "tax reform" are in the field of medical deductions. The man who never has enough of a hospital bill to deduct may think it a good idea to throw out such deductions, but the man with heavy medical expenses may think such a deduction is the difference between solvency and insolvency.

Deduction of state taxes is another point in dispute with some government experts in favor of disallowing them, but it appears that state taxes will continue to be a deductible item.

What it boils down to is that in order to make the income tax simple you have to be unfair about it. What you regard as a "loop-hole" may be regarded in a different light by other taxpayers.

Already millions of people have a simple tax return now. They merely sign a punched card, take the standard deduction, and hope

Other taxpayers, with other income, other deductions, may not like to sweat over filling out an income tax return, and they may wish it were more simple, but they are not yet willing to throw out all their deductions to achieve this simplicity.

And in the struggle over the income tax return, and the finding of money to pay it, more and more of us have lost sight of the real solution. The real solution toward simpler, and lower, income taxes would be for the federal government to reduce its spending.

But here is an area about which much is said and little is done, just like about simplifying income tax returns. There is no really simple solution to either problem.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Mr. AND MRS. BOB ALEWINE

Tom Anderson, minister of the Church of Christ, read the double ring ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents. Vows were exchanged before an archway of greenery. Only immediate members of the two families were in attendance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a winter white wool two-piece suit with matching accessories. She carried red roses and white carnations atop a white Bible belonging to Mrs. Dwain Eller.

Miss Linda Alewine, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor and Dwight Alewine, brother of the groom, was best man.

Miss Alewine wore a red two-piece wool knit suit and carried a bouquet of red rosebuds and white carnations.

Mrs. Salter, mother of the bride, wore a green two-piece suit with black accessories while Mrs. Alewine, mother of the groom, wore a light aqua two-piece wool knit suit. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception
Immediately following the wedding a reception was held. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth which had belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Sweett. Centering the table was an arrangement of red poinsettias. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom unseparated miniature wedding bells, was served with coffee.

Mrs. Alewine is a graduate of Borger Senior High School and attended Clarendon Junior College. At the time of her marriage she was employed with Kesterson Insurance Agency.

Cousins Home Residents Enjoy Happy Holiday

"From the first day of December to the end, it was Christmas at Cousins Home," said one patient. "I thought we had a good Christmas last year, but this one was so much better. Everyone is so nice," she continued.

A man said, "I believe this is the best Christmas I ever had. Everyone at the Home is so nice to us and all of the people of Memphis are so thoughtful and nice. How can we be other than happy?"

The Home was beautifully decorated from the top of the tree to each decoration. The tree was given and trimmed by Mrs. B. M. Durrett, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Corbin and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGlothlin, Abilene.

On the television a pretty madonna was surrounded by red poinsettias, two white toothpick trees were at vantage places, an interesting wreath made from egg crates sprayed white and glitter added, atop the piano, a pretty floral arrangement, a white cornucopia filled with poinsettias and holly, a snifter with a tiny nativity scene, hay and all, mistletoe, and adorable Santa drawn sleigh in a window (the sleigh was made from the breast of a turkey and the reindeer from chicken pulley

...and now let's talk about some other Ford surprises...
Test-drive a Ford—and you're in for some surprises. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines rode quieter than a Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U. S. Auto Club.
When you feel a 1965 Ford in action—with the strongest Ford body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibration... new ultrasonic coil spring suspension—you're bound to be impressed. But the ride is only one of Ford's surprises...
New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. Transmission tunnel is lower for extra foot room. Trunk has more space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.
Handy new "reversal" ignition key—works either side up.
Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models. Smooth, thrifty all-new Bix Six is optional in Ford's class. V-8 options to 425 hp.
All Ford automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two of some competing cars. Result: you pass faster, shift smoother, save on gas. Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears. New Ford LTD 4-door hardtops have 10 courtesy lights, 5 ash trays. Upholstery treated to keep its beauty with Scotchgard® stain repellent. Luxuries you'd expect only in the highest priced cars.
Surprised? You will be... when you visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive the Quiet One. Do it soon!

Federal Income Tax Time Is Around Corner

As the 1964 calendar year draws to a close, the U. S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, reminds citizens that Federal income tax time is around the corner.

Federal income tax returns are filed by every citizen or resident of the United States, including minor children, who had an income of $600 or more in 1964.

Hubert B. Hamill, administrative officer of the Amarillo office of the IRS, reminded taxpayers that the calendar year taxpayer, who is not required to file a return unless his gross income was at least $1,200, he said.

Document No. 5107 which furnishes more detailed information on this subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

Ellis Hamill, Jr., district director of the Dallas District will be through the mail on or about Dec. 31, pre-addressed Form 941, "Employers Quarterly Federal Tax Return." Use of pre-addressed forms, which carry the correct employer identification number, will insure prompt and proper credit to your account when processed through the ADP systems.

Businesses Rise In Hall County Shown By Report

The business population of Hall County is up 1.1% over January, 1964, according to a report issued by Charles L. Swanson, manager of the Amarillo office of the Bradstreet Reference Book.

He states that figures obtained by a physical count of the January, 1965 total 178 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in the county as compared with January, 1964.

Mr. Swanson noted that this is the third year that Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., is sending requests for financial statements to almost three million businesses listed in the Reference Book. These statements are essential to the credit reports issued by business information agencies. Requests are sent to all businesses regardless of size, from the smallest grocery to the million dollar manufacturer.

Because of the constant flux in the American business community, nearly 6,000 changes are now being made daily in Reference Book. Thus the mammoth volume is re-issued every two weeks to keep up-to-date credit information in the hand of manufacturers and wholesalers. The credit reports which stand behind each business in the Reference Book contain...

COTTON BAGGING—Pictured above is the first use of cotton bagging as far as is known. The picture was made Friday afternoon at the Lakeview Co-Op Gin. The gin had received 100 sheets of the new bagging that day from Ralls, and the crew started using it late in the afternoon. Manufactured at the new plant in Ralls, the gin accepted 100 sheets as an experiment. Mgr. John Tuttle (pictured on right) is standing by a bale with jute fiber bagging, while members of the gin crew are pictured with the new bagging. The Ralls-Ex Mill at Ralls also has put on the market cotton fiber hats, such as the one Tuttle is wearing.

Such information as the firm's current payment record, history, ownership, operation, financial stability, Swanson stated.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
 Mrs. Lena M. Martin of Redding, Calif., who was Lena M. Powell when she was my oil painting teacher in Memphis more than fifty years ago, sent me a copy of the Memphis Democrat at Xmas time. The reason was in your Memory Column Turning Back Time 50 years ago. Had my wonderful father's name in it (Dr. J. W. Mickle) about an adv. for the J. W. Mickle Drug Co.

To me it was the dearest Xmas present which I could have received. I devoured the paper from cover to cover for so many names were familiar and brought back wonderful memories of my High School days and friends of long ago.

As I wrote the date on this letter I woke up to fact that this was the anniversary of my marriage to Chester F. Dunbar which was consummated Dec. 27, 1908. He passed away in Memphis March 4, 1912. I have been married to my present husband since March 18, 1915. We have a wonderful son who is now 46, a supervisor for Western Electric Co. in San Leandro, Calif. He has three beautiful children, and his hobby is antique automobiles. He has six

I would like to place an adv. in your paper for an old Chrysler Imperial in case some one in that vicinity might have one to sell.

Please find enclosed my check for a subscription to The Democrat for one year. My youngest sister lives out here near me and we will receive much happiness by reading your columns.

Dear Editor:
 As the year 1964 draws to a close, it is again time to send in for our 1965 subscription. We feel there is a welcome visitor each week.

There's something about most of us,
 No matter where we go

We have within a longing;
 At least I've found it so;
 To keep in touch with loved ones
 While wandering up and down,
 And we love to see the paper
 From the old home town.
 It receives a hearty welcome
 As it makes its regular rounds
 Telling us of old friends,
 And where they may be found;
 It just sort o' keep together
 Heartstrings once entwined;
 It's the voice from our old home town,
 Where town and paper seem Combined.

Wishing each of you Good Health, Happiness and the Best things in Life.
 Sincerely,
 Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Payne

Equal Payment Plan
 For WTU residential customers

Now she knows what her electric service charge will be each month. West Texas Utilities Co. estimated her electric bill for one year and divided it into 12 equal even-dollar payments. This cuts down on her bank-stub arithmetic and helps her maintain her budget. She could even have the bank draft plan working with EPP. At the end of the planned time, one year from the month she signed up, her estimated payments will be balanced against actual metered usage. In case of significant changes in usage... due to abnormal weather or a new major appliance or other reasons... adjustments can be made during the year to re-equalize her payments. Be carefree! Tax Man Sam Sez:

The new form 1040 for 1964 will be mailed out about Jan. 1. The new form has been completely revised. Page 1 of the form looks about the same as the old form, but there are several changes on page 2. There is one column for itemized deductions, and on the left side of the page is a space for listing the income. The Revenue hopes to cut down the number of pages most taxpayers will have to file. My good advice is to read these instructions just like your dollars depend on it—they do.

An estimated 1700 high schools and colleges are teaching 235,000 Texas students to prepare their tax returns each year.

Each year Texas teaches an outstanding job in helping students learn how to prepare income tax returns. Many thousands of students find they have a refund due withheld on their summer pay. Maybe we'll all do a better job of preparing tax returns in the future.

Pointers for Planting Roses
Container-grown rose plants can be planted any time of the year, but many are set out during the winter and early spring months. To insure proper growth response, several things should be considered.

Cut the container down to the bottom on both sides if the nurseryman has not already done so. Then dig a hole about six inches larger than the diameter and equal to the depth of the container. Remove the plant from the silt container and place it in the hole so that the bud union is about even with the soil surface.

Hybrid tea roses should be planted 24 to 30 inches apart, and floribundas should be set 18 to 24 inches apart. Newly planted roses, whether bare-root or from containers, should be watered often enough to keep the soil moist.

In areas where plants are exposed to prevailing winds or in other windy locations, it may be desirable to stake them temporarily until new root systems develop to anchor the bushes securely in the soil.

Using a two-to-three-in. mulch over rose beds is highly recommended. Such a mulch will reduce the frequency of watering, keep the soil cooler and reduce both winter injury and summer drying and tend to keep down weed growth during the growing season. In applying mulches, keep the material about four inches from the bud union.

Good healthy roses, planted properly, will thrive with minimum care. The most important consideration is to keep them from drying out during the growing season.

One precautionary measure contrary to many old-time recommendations and the beliefs of many gardeners is this: Never put fertilizer on roses at the time of planting. This means no fertilizer of any type should be placed below or around the roots or on top of the soil surface. Any excess of fertilizer around a newly planted rose bush may do more to prevent or retard root growth than to promote it.

A good rule is to withhold fertilizer until new feeder roots are well established and plants can assimilate nutrients without ruining themselves.

Close observation will show any

BEGINNING—Laborers Coy Johnson and Don McElreath are shown loading cotton samples from the 57 gins in the 18 counties from the storeroom where they are stored according to the day they were received. The men handle approximately 265 samples per hour, moving bags to the micronaire crews, trays to the classers, and the completed samples back to the storeroom.

person when the plants begin to grow well. If more than three or four roses are planted, do not become concerned if several do not break or grow as rapidly as some of the others.

Newly planted roses often begin growth at different rates. Give all plants sufficient time and water them at frequent intervals to keep the soil uniformly moist but not wet. Once all are established, those that are slow in starting will catch up soon.

After the plants have become established, keep them well-watered or mulch them to a depth of two to three inches to prevent drying out. Follow a regular fertilizing and spraying program to keep them healthy and productive.

The simplest and best schedule to follow is to feed the plants about every 30 days with a complete, commercially prepared fertilizer, using it at the rate recommended by the manufacturer.

When applying fertilizer to roses, follow these simple rules:

1. Wet down the soil the day before fertilizing to avoid burning the roots.
 2. Scatter the fertilizer over the root system area, keeping it at least four inches away from the plant stems. (If mulching is not practiced, the soil can be loosely scratched before the fertilizer is applied. This must be done lightly and carefully to avoid injury to the roots.)
 3. Water the soil well after applying the fertilizer.
- Use an all-purpose rose spray to control insects and diseases. Unless frequent rains make it imperative to spray more frequently, an application once a month is usually sufficient to keep roses in good condition. If dusts are used, they must be applied at much shorter intervals.

A regular program of feeding and preventive pest control will take much of the tiresome work out of growing good roses.

Regular Exercise Can Provide Both Physical and Mental Tonic, says AMA

Stretch (1 to 15 times). Reach high, rise on toes. Highstepper (10 to 20 steps). Run in place, pumping knees and arms. Side Bender (6 to 15 times). Raise first arm then the other straight over head.

Push-up (6 to 15 times). Wax on hands and toes; women on hands and knees. Starting in raised position, with trunk and neck straight, lower trunk to two inches from floor and return. Curl (6 to 15 times). Starting on back with knees bent, hands behind head, tuck chin and "curl" as far forward as possible, aiming elbow to opposite knee. Stride Squat (6 to 15 times). Hands behind head, stride forward deeply with right leg. Keep left foot in place, left knee off floor. Return and exercise opposite.

Compressor (6 to 15 times). Lie spread-eagled on back. Roll onto hip and with leg and arm straight touch toe to opposite hand. Return and exercise opposite. Twister (6 to 15 times). Sit with legs and arms extended straight. Touch fingers to opposite toes. Return and exercise opposite.

ISOMETRIC EXERCISES —

The following exercises do not involve movement, but rather muscular contractions. One of their advantages is that many can be done at times and places where normal exercise would be impossible, such as in the office. Hold each contraction forcefully for six seconds. Repeating is not necessary.

(1) Organ Grinder. Push hand against hand, then pull hand against hand.

(2) Thinker. Push forehead against palm, then push back of head against palm(s).

(3) Bird. Put back of hands against deer jamba, then push palms in the same manner.

(4) Longman. Push palms against deer jamba, then straighten arms high against jamba and push again.

(5) Sleds. Sitting with back against one deer jamba, push feet against other side, then push other feet in same manner.

There's more to physical fitness than mere muscles, but you can't be truly healthy and a bundle of flab at the same time.

To be physically fit you must be both medically fit and dynamically fit. The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, points out Raymond L. White, M.D., director of Environmental Medicine and Medical Services for the American Medical Association.

"Medical fitness means body soundness. This can be determined only by a medical examination. Dynamic fitness or 'action capacity' is a measurement of strength, agility and endurance," he said.

"A person who abuses activity may get a 'clean bill of health' from his doctor but if he can't endure even slight exertion, he's hardly physically fit. On the other hand, neither is the athlete with a chronic or undetected health problem."

In a sense it seems silly to be concerned about strength and endurance in a push-button age.

But the fact is, the human body was not designed for push buttons but for work, said Dr. White. "The absence of dynamic fitness through lack of physical exertion is a detriment to health. Furthermore, muscle tone, or lack of it, can be a factor in your whole outlook on life."

Strength and endurance, developed through regular exercise, leads to skill and agility and adds to poise and grace. Not only do daily tasks become easier, you also look better and so feel more at ease in social situations.

Even more evident, however, are the benefits to physical health, Dr. White pointed out.

Since exercise is a factor in weight control, it indirectly aids in preventing degenerative diseases, such as diabetes and arthritis, which are more prevalent in the obese.

Evidence indicates that exercise also may help prevent heart and blood vessel diseases. Active people have fewer heart attacks and a better recovery rate when such attacks do occur.

The best exercise is enjoyable exercise. Activities such as hiking, swimming, skiing, tennis or gardening along with their physical benefits can provide relief from tension, thus serving as a safe, natural tranquilizer.

When there is no opportunity for taking exercise in such form, however, a daily walk and series of callisthenics can provide much the same tonic.

Above are a few examples of scientifically sound exercises, taken from the AMA pamphlet, "Physical Fitness." Used daily, they will help to increase muscular strength, body suppleness and motor reaction, and to improve circulation and other body functions.

Start out slowly, Dr. White warned, and gradually work up to the point where you can do all of these exercises quickly without stopping.

About Your HEALTH

There's a one to five chance your youngster needs a major teeth straightening job, since an estimated one-fifth of the nation's children suffer from "malocclusion," or improper alignment of teeth.

A generation ago, parents of young children with teeth which did not meet properly were usually advised to "let them alone and nature will correct the situation."

Today we know better. Malocclusion is a condition to be corrected by a dental specialist known as an "orthodontist." Nature by herself is a very poor straightener of crooked teeth.

Although the public is just now becoming aware of the health significance of malocclusion, experience has taught dentists that crooked teeth contribute to decay, faulty speech and malnutrition. One of the worst results of malocclusion is the psychological stress borne by a child singled out for ridicule by his friends because of "buck teeth."

A child with facial deformities such as those caused by misshapen teeth may develop traits of indecision and begin to doubt his ability to cope with problems in his environment, psychologists say.

What causes teeth to erupt irregularly? Dentists agree that heredity is probably one important cause. Another is persistent thumb-sucking and abnormal pressures against the jaw. Living bone, contrary to popular thought, is not always hard and unyielding. The entire jaw structure can be molded by gentle, persistent pressure.

In the case of thumbsucking, dentists believe that if the habit can be broken before age 5, there is a good chance the teeth may return to normal position without harmful effects.

Another cause of malocclusion is prolonged retention of baby teeth. Permanent teeth which follow are then prevented from arranging themselves properly.

On the other hand, when primary teeth are lost too early, adjoining teeth may tend to tip and "migrate," crowding into spaces where permanent teeth should erupt.

There are different methods of bringing teeth into proper alignment. Sometimes it may be necessary to extract teeth to make room.

CLASSING—The heart of the cotton classing operation is the classing room, a special conditioning room, always maintained at 71 degrees and the desired air density. Samples are brought to the room in trays where they stay until conditioned. The classers determine grade and staple and recorders make proper notations. From front to back are: John Egan and Betty Evans, Milton Hall and Marilyn Whitten, Frank Ortiz and Brenda Egan and Shirley Sewell and Teresa Miller. The samples are then put on a conveyor belt bagged, as property of the U. S. Government.

Top Stubble Food Source for Game Birds

Leaving crop stubble as long as possible after harvest serves as a food source for many game birds.

Game birds as quail, doves, wild geese, ducks and geese often find a difficult time finding food in winter and early spring.

W. B. Hooser, agricultural agent of Hall County, says crop residues plus the seed of weeds that are available in stubble fields make one of the best food sources for wild game.

Hooser says some birds, particularly quail, will not utilize the stubble in a field unless there is cover to protect them from natural enemies. Plant stubble left in a field will give this needed protection.

Crops provide especially good feed following harvest if left undisturbed as long as possible. Native weeds and woody vegetation along field borders serve as natural travel lanes for birds attempting to feed in a field.

Leaving stubble on the field is also recognized in many areas as a good soil conservation practice. The stubble aids in controlling both wind and water erosion and in holding snow in Hall County.

The Jesuit Padre Kino introduced cattle ranching to the Indians of Sonora about 1700.

Domestic cats spread all over the world when sailors carried them on board to keep rats and mice in check.

In an atmosphere of hydrogen or helium the human voice sounds high pitched and squeaky. This is due to the lightness of the gas.

Siamese cats were first imported in 1890.

USDA Announces Minimum Support for 1965 Cotton This Week

USDA announced minimum support price for 1965-crop cotton this week, news release revealed. 1965-crop support price for 1-inch cotton was set at 4.35 cents per pound, gross weight, at the location.

In addition to the price support cotton farmers who cooperate in reducing cotton acreage receive payment at the rate of 4.35 cents a pound on the yield of cotton established on the farm times the acreage for harvest. The price support rate has been in effect since the 1964 rate and the loan rate reduced to 30.00 cents.

The standpoint of farm income in 1965 program, with the 1964 rate, offers favorable returns to those who participate in the allotment program, the level and price support rate set for 1965 are designed to encourage participation, a better balance in production and Government support through a reduced equalization payment. Higher price support is aimed at bringing more in line with the large surplus and at the same time increasing income at reasonable levels.

Compared to 1964, production to reduce their cotton acreage participating in the allotment program will get returns than non-participants. This results from the high rate coupled with increases in normal yields on the payment is based, the release stated. Wider market loan level and total support to participants in domestic allotment program encourage larger participation in 1965 with greater reduction in production.

Program adequately protects income of smaller cotton farmers, continuing the increased returns received under the 1964 program. Those with 1965 domestic farm allotments of 15 acres or less qualify for price support payment on normal production of planted acreage by planting within allotment.

In addition to minimum support price for middling 1-inch cotton, USDA also announced a minimum acreage support price (average of the crop) of 28.25 cents per pound. Average of crop is the statutory basis for cotton price support. USDA officials said that announcing a minimum middling 1-inch support price in addition to a national average price will enable cotton farmers to more accurately determine the support price for the qualities of cotton they normally produce.

State Sales Tax Deductible When Listing Income

Texas taxpayers may use a state sales tax table as a guideline when filing their 1964 federal income tax returns. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue said the table is now available.

The table shows the average amount of sales tax paid by Texas resident and may be used by taxpayers who itemize their federal income tax deductions. Similar tables have been prepared for 36 other states and the District of Columbia.

For the first time since 1960 when the tables were originally issued there has been a general revision of amounts, Mr. Campbell said.

The latest tables are based on summary data showing the patterns of consumer expenditures developed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics from a 1960-61 study. Previous tables were based on a 1950 study.

Previously, tables were revised only to select changes in sales tax rates or the commodities covered by the particular state's laws.

The recent study shows that household operations, property taxes, medical care, personal care services, education, and insurance have, for the most part, comprised a larger part of the total consumer expenditures in 1960-61 than they did in 1950. These items are not usually subjected to state sales taxes.

The new tables omit the state sales tax on automobiles purchased, thus providing a uniform treatment of this item for all states. Now taxpayers who purchase an automobile may add the sales taxes paid on the purchase to the amount shown in the table.

The result of the revisions, particularly the elimination of the allowance for autos, has reduced the amount shown on the sales tax tables. The new tables, however, are a more accurate measure of the average sales tax paid in the various states.

Internal Revenue reminds taxpayers that these tables are not required to be used. They are furnished as a guide for the convenience of taxpayers who itemize deductions on their federal income tax returns but who wish to use a standard amount for state sales tax which will not require detailed substantiation. Taxpayers have the choice, of course, of deducting the actual amount of state sales taxes paid.

Cigarette taxes are no longer deductible in Texas, due to the tax law change. The average state sales tax table for Texas tells taxpayers they can deduct 5c per gallon.

Mrs. T. R. Selle of Oklahoma City spent several days here last week visiting with her mother, Mrs. John McQueen, and other relatives. Her husband and two grandchildren came for her over the weekend.

Mothershed-Ekerberg Nuptial Read In Pretty Church Service

The Travis Baptist Church was the setting on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, for the wedding of Miss Nancy Ann Mothershed and James Herbert Ekerberg of Clark, Neb.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mothershed of Memphis while the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Ekerberg of Axtell, Neb.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed at 6:00 p. m. by the bridegroom's father, Rev. Ekerberg, before an arched candelabra holding white tapers and decorated with greenery and wedding bells flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

The bridal aisle was marked with lighted tapers, wedding bells and greenery.

Nuptial selections were provided by Miss Betty Jane Stewart, organist, and Miss Suzanne Sexauer, vocalist. Miss Stewart played as an organ prelude "I'll Walk Beside You," "I Love Thee" and "O Promise Me" and also accompanied Miss Sexauer as she sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Attendants

Miss Susan Mothershed, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Maurine Ekerberg of Axtell, Neb., sister of the groom; Miss Katie Diane Phillips of Memphis, Mrs. Bill Whitten of Memphis and Miss Juliet Ruth Hanson of Bertrand, Neb.

Miss Mothershed was attired in a street-length frock of red velvet fashioned with bell skirt, three-quarter length sleeves and boat neckline. She wore matching shoes and matching crown headpiece with a short veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bride, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white elegance carnations.

The bridesmaids wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

Miss Karen Denise Lamb of McLean, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She, too, wore a dress identical to the maid of honor, and carried a white basket of rose petals.

Acolytes were Donna Katherine Carmen and Regina Sue Lamb, cousins of the bride. They wore white silk and crystal dresses with white satin shoes, white bows in their hair and nosegays of red clipped carnations at the waistline of their dresses.

David Carlson of Rock Island, Ill., served as best man and ushers were Mike Dowlen of Amarillo, cousin of the bride; Randy Lindgren of Axtell, Neb.; Gary Cedergerg of Axtell, Neb., and Gary Dilges of Clark, Neb.

The Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white bridal pois de soie fashioned with Sabrina neckline, and floor-length skirt which fell into a chapel train. The long pointed sleeves were fastened with tiny covered buttons and the same buttons were used down the center back of the bodice. The front of the bodice was trimmed with French imported lace medallions which were re-embroidered with seed pearls.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from an open crown of lace topped with teardrop pearls and she carried a single white orchid atop a white Bible. Her only

MRS. JAMES H. EKERBERG

Jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

She carried out the traditional bridal custom of wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, with a six-pence in her shoe."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mothershed chose a blue silk linen sheath with jacket accented with blue sequin pill box hat and other accessories in white. Mrs. Ekerberg mother of the groom, wore a beige brocaded silk dress with light brown accessories and pill box hat. Both wore orchid corsages.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Mothershed were hosts at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth over white satin and centered with a silver epergne holding white tapers and white elegance carnations.

Miss Helen Howard served the decorated wedding cake, topped with satin wedding bells, while Miss Pamela Lindsey presided at the silver punch service.

Janie Buchanan, cousin of the bride, presided at the bride's book to secure signatures of the guests.

A graduate of the Memphis High School, the bride attended Hardin-Simmons University.

The bridegroom attended Bethany College and holds his B. A. degree from Kearny State. He is head football coach and track coach at Clark's High School, Clark, Neb.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the bride chose for travel a white silk suit accented with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After January 24, the newlyweds will be at home in Clark, Neb.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

The town settled down to routine activities this week after the holiday season. Beautiful weather made traveling a pleasure this year, and many homes had their families together here for the season.

We will admit we've had a little difficulty getting accustomed to the quiet again after six grandchildren were in the house . . . and all grandparents will agree on at least one statement: there's nothing quite like being a grandparent . . . and nothing quite like the glow in one's heart that comes from a big bear hug around one's neck.

Sug and Beth Lemons had a delightful Christmas gift . . . their first grandchild—a girl—arrived on December 23. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Davidson, who are living in Jacksonville, Fla. Confidentially, Sug admitted he's toying with the idea of boarding a plane for Jacksonville when he attends market in Dallas next week . . . and Beth is encouraging him to make the trip!

Mable Meacham was disappointed when her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Hunt and children, had to cancel their Christmas visit this year due to illness of Dr. Humphery, who is the associate of Dr. Hunt in Rupert, Idaho.

But to brighten the disappointment for the Hunt family, Diane wrote us that they won first place in the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored each year by the Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The judges stated this year's decorations were among the finest they had ever judged. Diane wrote, "She gave her husband credit for first place by stating that she is not the artistic one in the family. However, friends here probably will not agree with this statement.

Friends here who would like to send W. B. Funk a word of greeting should address his mail to Box 916, Belmore Convalescent Home, Bowie, Texas. Mr. Funk recently entered the home after living for several months in Mineral Wells. His health is much improved of late.

The Joe Williams family of Plainview renews their paper with the comment that they couldn't do without The Democrat . . . that it's one paper the whole family reads . . . and they enjoy keeping up with friends here and still consider Memphis home. The Williams family made many friends during the years they lived in Memphis.

As the new year begins may we pass on this bit of verse, author unknown, which was brought to our attention:

THE QUITTER

It ain't the failures he may meet
That keeps a man from winnin'.
It's the discouragement complete
That blocks a new beginnin'.
You want to quit your habits bad,
And when the shadows flittin'
Make life seem worthless an's sad,
You want to quit your quittin'!

You want to quit a-layin' down
An' sayin' hope is over,
Because the fields are bare an'
brown

Where once we lived in clover,
When jolted from the water cart
It's painful to be hittin'
The earth; but make another start.
Cheer up, an' quit your quittin'!

Although the game seems rather stiff

Don't be a doleful doubter;
There's always one more innin' if You're not a down-and-outer.
But fortune's pretty sure to flee from folks content with sittin'
Around an' sayin' life's N. G.
You've got to quit your quittin'.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Active Proposals To Be Reintroduced

Reopening of the 89th Congress one phase and begins in the dramatic and fascinating process of our American mental system. With the re-orientation, and having determined priorities of his proposals, the President has requested the Congress with a series of bills for legislation to accomplish what he seeks. Public attention will be shifting to Capitol Hill to the actions of the House and Senate. But it is doubtful that any quick action will be taken on any substantial legislative proposals.

The organization of the House and Senate must be completed. Bills must be prepared and hearings must begin. New bills of Congress—92 in the House and eight in the Senate—will be introduced into the House and Senate in the next few days. And the President will command the House to pass through January 20.

With new proposals to be introduced, those backed by the President and his administration are those offered by House members on their many legislative measures introduced in the 88th Congress. 1963-64 will be reintroduced in the 89th Congress. If they receive consideration, measures must be introduced because all measures not passed in the 88th Congress will be on its adjournment.

Among the measures introduced in past sessions are those which I am going to submit again:

1. An amendment to the tax increase personal and dependent income tax exemption from $1,000 to $1,500.
2. A bill requiring that all decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court be participated in by the President, and that any vacancies or absences in the membership of the Court shall be temporarily filled by circuit judges.

3. An amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act to insure the adequacy of the national railroad freight car supply.
4. Amendments to the Communications Act to prohibit the rule-making powers of an independent agency from being used for changing basic law and policy. It is my belief that change in basic law and governmental policy should be made only by the people through their duly elected representatives.
5. A bill to authorize establishment of the Alibates Flint Quarries and Texas Panhandle Pueblo Culture National Monument near the site of the Canadian River Dam.
6. A resolution providing for a thorough Congressional investigation of State Department personnel and policies.
7. An amendment to the Constitution to permit Congress, by a two-thirds vote of both houses, to overturn decisions of the Supreme Court declaring Federal or State laws to be unconstitutional.
8. An amendment to the Constitution to permit the House of Representatives to have a voice, with the Senate, in ratifying treaties.
9. A bill to close ports of the United States to all ships engaged in trade or commerce with Communist Cuba.
10. A resolution providing for an investigation of the production, distribution, and exhibition of obscene motion pictures and their advertising.

These are a few of the measures I have introduced in the past. I will continue to advocate their adoption. All will be reintroduced so that the appropriate committees of the House may give them consideration.

Lakeview P. M. Makes Appeal For Bad Weather Help

Postmaster Lee M. Robertson today appealed to postal customers on Lakeview rural routes to help their carriers make mail deliveries during bad winter weather. The Lakeview office has two rural routes.

The postmaster listed these points of particular concern: approaches to rural mail boxes must be kept open by customers; and obstructions to delivery of mail on rural routes should be removed or minimized to the fullest extent possible.

Where rural boxes pose a problem, the carrier may leave form 4065, "Your Mailbox Needs Attention," a notice to keep box approaches clear by promptly removing all obstructions, including snow, which may make mail delivery difficult.

Unless approaches are cleared, it may be necessary to temporarily withhold delivery of mail, the Postmaster pointed out.

Rural carriers are not required to perform service on foot when roads cannot be traveled with the vehicles normally used, but they are expected to make every reasonable effort to serve as many of the patrons as possible without physical exertion or added financial cost, he explained.

If excessive detours are necessary to effect delivery of mail, customers should temporarily relocate their boxes on new line of travel, arrange to receive their mails through other patrons' boxes, or make other arrangements until travel on original routes can be resumed.

After a six-week visit with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Paulsel of Fort Worth, Mrs. L. M. Thornton returned home Saturday. Mrs. Paulsel accompanied her home for a short visit.

Comments—

During 1964, many citizens did a lot of work for their county and city—and the results can be seen when one rides around and about. Let's look for greater development in 1965. More and more people get into the act of being unselfish, of doing things for the community, and yet better, get into the act of helping others who need help, sympathy and understanding. Beginning at the last tick of the clock that spells 1965 is born, let's all start thinking of others. Each golden sunshine ushers in new opportunities to do good. Fill every golden minute of each day with right thinking and worthwhile deeds, doing away with selfishness, and there will be joy in each first peep of the sun and in each golden sunset. I wonder how many of us use every opportunity to gather things with us as passports to get through the Pearly Gates of Heaven when the time comes soon or late?

New Credit For Low-Income Rural People Is Listed

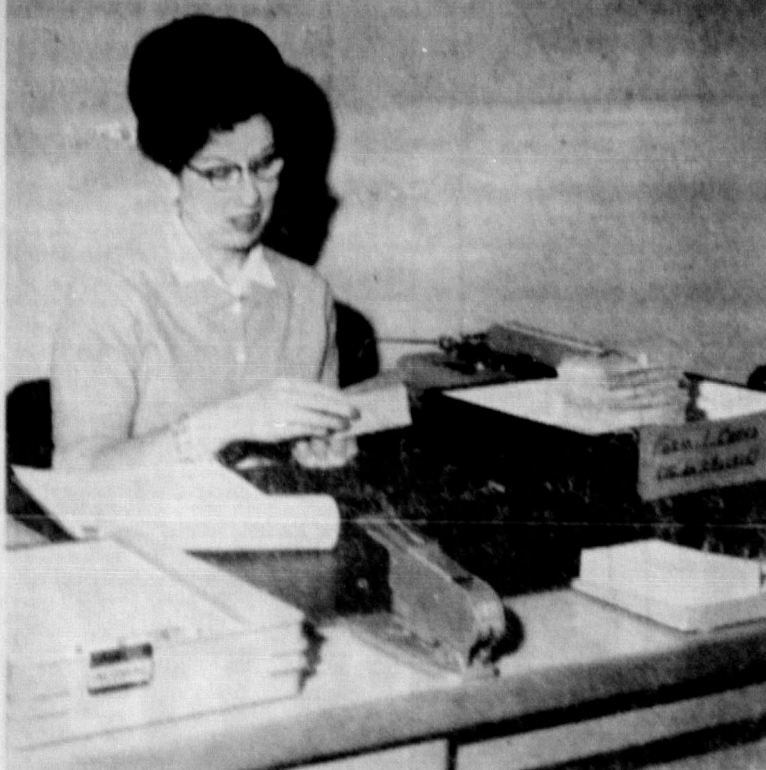

A new credit service to help low-income families in rural areas raise their income is now available in Texas, according to State Director, L. J. Cappelman, Farmers Home Administration.

Mr. Cappelman said today the new service opens up Farmers Home Administration credit aid for the first time to many low-income rural families who previously were unable to obtain either public or private loans to improve their earnings.

All county offices in Texas, Cappelman said, are accepting applications for loans up to $2,500 to finance farming enterprises, small family businesses, trade and services. Rural cooperatives serving low-income families and providing services and facilities not otherwise available may also be eligible for credit under the program.

Borrowers will be provided continuing management aid to help them make a success of their farming enterprises or new businesses.

Farmers Home Administration, a U. S. Department of Agricultural Agency, will administer the new loan service under recently delegated authority from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Liberalized loan terms and conditions for participating low-income families allow of an interest rate of 4-1/8 percent. To be eligible for the new rural credit program, an applicant must live in a rural area, have an income that does not cover basic family necessities, be unable to obtain credit from other sources, including the regular loan program of the Farmers Home Administration, and show a reasonable promise of succeeding in the enterprise to be financed by the loan.

A cooperative, to be eligible, must be primarily composed of and serve low-income rural families and be unable to obtain credit from other sources.

About 2.5 million families in rural areas across the country, including 500,000 farm families, are unable to obtain credit to develop income-increasing enterprises. The new credit program is budgeted at $35,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

In addition to the new credit service, the Farmers Home Administration serves all rural counties in Texas with loans to finance farm operations, buy and enlarge farms, construct rural housing and develop community water systems, recreation areas and grazing land. It also provides a program of emergency loans, watershed loans and rural renewal loans.

Saniters said that the United States imports about 75 per cent of the motor oil from either Brazil or India. He said that motor boats have a stable market of $4.50 to $5.25 per barrel, and an average yield is about 2000 pounds per acre. Around Plainview farmers have about $45 to $50 per acre in costs for planting, weeding, harvesting, etc.

Many things are manufactured from the boat, Saniters said, including varnishes, paints, and other items like foam.

Saniters warned that residents should be informed that motor boats are most poisonous, especially the fatty white portion of the boat.

WORLD'S TALLEST—This is the preliminary proposed design of the tower structure which will be located in the center of the 1965 "Fair of the Americas" to be held in San Antonio. It will be the tallest concrete structure in the world, with a minimum height of 650 to 700 feet stretching almost 70 stories in the air. It will be constructed with a capital investment of $4.5 million and have observation decks and restaurants at the top and intermediate levels.
