EDITORIAL

Legislation Will Have Local Impact

Information is getting out to the public on many proposed changes being introduced by our state and national law makers, and the battle lines are being drawn. The decisions to be made will effect the lives of every resident in Hall County and therefore are of considerable interest to residents.

It is reported that Texas lawmakers are facing two major decisions: What to do about the teacher's pay raise, and how to re-district the state by the population ruler.

Readers remember that last year a suit was brought into court protesting the way Texas was districted, and the court upheld the plaintiff's stand. The Federal Court ruled that Texas lawmakers must re-district Congressional and Senatorial Districts of the state using the population ruler.

A side issue to this is what will the courts rule about redistricting on a local level. There are two court cases in progress which challenge the present districting of county commissioner precincts. One of these comes from Midland and the other from Dumas (both close to home.) In both cases, suits have been filed to force redistricting of commissioner precincts on the basis of population.

The second issue before Texas lawmakers is the teacher's pay raise proposal. Two plans have received much popularity: the TSTA proposal and Governor John Connally's proposal. Most lawmakers are favoring the Governor's plan because it deals with the pay raise over a 10 year period.

Opposition is being expressed to the Governor's plan because of the riders he has attached increasing the local school district taxpayers will have to pay and decreasing the state's share of the financial burden. Especially is this opposition seen in areas where the school districts are paying teachers minimum wages financed completely with state funds.

In the final analysis, however, it will be the majority decision of the members of the Texas House of Representatives and the Texas Senate which will decide the matter of both re-districting and teacher's pay raise.

Nationally, other issues are under discussion. President Johnson has introduced his program for insuring equal rights in voting. The House Ways and Means Committee on March 24 approved a bill on the long-awaited plan for medicare and bigger Social Security pensions and it has been released in full detail. Also, hearings are being held on the proposed changes in cotton legislation for 1966 and after.

These are just a few of the many issues of public interest being aired by our lawmakers at Austin and Washington, D. C. We, as citizens, in order to form educated opinions, must study the information, consider its source, and keep ourselves well informed. The job of governing ourselves is a hard one, one which takes our interest, our time, and our prayers if it is to be done correctly.

What Makes A Community Great?

The two essential elements used in the creation of any community—village, city, state or nation—are land and people. Land by itself is utterly worthless. Any value it acquires must be given to it by the uses made of it by people. The character and personality of a community are also gifts of people. In every community there are three classes. The first class is made up of those who take from the community and give little or nothing to it. They are the ones who break the laws of health and require hospitals. Others break the laws of society and make police prisons and other corrective elements necessary.

Class two is made up of citizens who pay their own way. They run their business efficiently. They are paid adequately for the services they render. They take good care of their homes and families. They do not give much thought to general civic betterment.

Most important is the third class. That is made up of citizens who not only pay their own way but contribute generously to community betterment. They build the hospitals, parks, libraries, schools and other community institutions. They concern themselves with the welfare of all citizens. They not only refrain from harming others, but use their time and energy and money to help their fellow citizens achieve their good purpose. A mere handful of such leaders gives a city a reputation that holds a high place for centuries. The Golden Age of Greece has taken its high place of history because of the creative leadership supplied by no more than 15,000 citizens.

The creative wealth of this third prong of citizens is not their money and other material possessions. What gives them their character and personality which they give to their community are their ideas—their mental wealth.—Taken from the Methodist Hospital and School of Nursing Newsletter.

Local Level Redistricting

We have read much about redistricting on a state level, and redistricting of Congressional and Senatorial districts, but it appears that redistricting on a local level may be closer than a lot of people think.

There are two court cases in progress which challenge the present districting of county commissioner precincts. One of these comes from Midland and the other from Dumas, close to home.

In both cases, suits have been

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Sam Rayburn's Footsteps
Sam Rayburn once said, "Legislation should never be written in a spirit of fair play." This middle road—the road of reason and fair play—is the one to walk, but more often than not it is the path of compromise and justice.
In this spirit that Sam Rayburn served his Nation for 48 years as a member of the House of Representatives. For more than 30 years he presided over the great Texas life are well known to the people of this country's government. The House of Representatives has produced no more illustrious figure for history to emulate than the late beloved Sam.
Six years, during that deplorable period from 1956, Sam Rayburn was chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, the committee often referred to in the press as the "House Commerce Committee." Sam Rayburn and those who served on the committee with him forged such momentous legislative measures as the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Communications Act of 1934, the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, the Motor Carrier Act of 1935. Under Sam Rayburn's leadership, the committee's work produced legislation that did much to alleviate economic distress in those troubled years. In recognition of this, I and other members of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce journeyed to Bonham, the late Speaker's home town, to present to the Sam Rayburn Memorial Library framed copies of the major public laws which had emerged from the committee while he was its chairman.

Because of Sam Rayburn's service on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee it was only fitting that the committee he'd led should be assigned to the most prominently located committee hearing room in the new building bearing his name. The beautifully appointed room is directly opposite the South Capitol Street entrance to the Rayburn House Office Building. On March 23, for the first time, the committee was convened in the new chamber.

Serving in the tradition of Sam Rayburn and the other great committee chairmen of the past is the Honorable Oren Harrison of Arkansas, a member of the committee for 21 years and its chairman since 1957. Congressman Harris led those of us who served with him on the committee in a brief ceremony dedicating the new hearing room when the committee came to order that Tuesday morning. The ceremony was a simple one, but it served to remind us all most forcefully of the history and significance of the committee and its accomplishments—and as an inspiration that our work in the future should be done no less well. The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce was the third committee created by the House of Representatives, having been established in the 4th Congress on December 1, 1795, as the Committee on Commerce and Manufacturers. The committee thus is beginning its 171st year of concern and action on basic matters—transportation, natural resources, public health, power transmission, communications, and finance—which affect the personal lives of every American. On the day the new hearing room was dedicated, the committee conducted a hearing on transportation with commissioners of the Interstate Commerce Commission as witnesses. This was an appropriate subject for the first day's work in the new chamber because in the view of many the 1887 enactment of the Interstate Commerce Act which established the ICC—a law drafted by the committee—was among the most important actions ever taken by Congress.

Every citizen is affected by the decisions made by the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. Its jurisdiction encompasses interstate and foreign commerce generally; civil aeronautics; inland waterways; interstate oil, gas, except on the public lands; public health and quarantine; railroad labor and railroad retirement and unemployment; interstate and foreign communications; interstate and foreign transportation; securities and exchanges, and Weather Bureau activities. These are matters that affect the daily lives of every citizen of the United States.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Slough and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jarrell were Amarillo visitors Sunday.

We shall forever be grateful to each of our friends for the many ways in which you have expressed your concern for us in the time of tragedy.

Memphis Lions, Rotary Clubs Hear Telephone Co. Programs This Week

The Memphis Lions and Rotary clubs on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, heard an informative program about the General Telephone Company with emphasis on the operation here in Memphis.

At the Memphis Lions club, Melvin Jennings, Rotary program chairman of the week, introduced the program at 7:30 p.m. and Lester Campbell, introduced the program at the Lions Club, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The first part of the program presented by Melvin Jennings, discussed service and facilities maintenance for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Constituting the nation's largest independent telephone system, more than 30 domestic telephone operating subsidiaries in more than 7,500 communities in 33 states, Jennings explained.

Three international subsidiaries serve nearly 700,000 telephones principally in British Columbia, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico, and Louisiana with a total of 402,274 telephones. The total number of employees at the end of 1964 was 3,302. The company is divided into six divisions, which the Northern Division headquarters here in Memphis.

The Memphis division serves 68 communities in Texas and Oklahoma with a total of 53,449 telephones.

At home, we have 98 employees here in Memphis with an annual payroll of approximately $1,000,000. We have $194,800 invested locally in tools and vehicles which are serviced by local mechanics. Our Memphis exchange services 1818 telephones. The company's average net plant investment is $351 per telephone. We assume that Memphis is one of our total plant investments would be $638,118," Jennings stated.

Telephone company employees own homes in Memphis valued at approximately $516,000, which we think is a substantial economic contribution," he continued.

Jennings then introduced Woody Yancey, the division forecast engineer, who presented slides concerning forecasting future needs and growth.

Frazier explained the purpose of a forecast engineer and many of the things the engineer uses to make a forecast on a given town. A forecast engineer's survey's effect each resident, he said.

"Our planning for your growth should be anticipated far enough in advance to have the equipment in our central office to furnish the number and have adequate and a sufficient amount of cable distribution to provide for the growth," he said.

"In most cases, our forecasts are based on a minimum of 20 months into the future to as much as five years. To engineer, budget and have the equipment built and installed normally requires 20 to 24 months from the date that a forecast is submitted," he said.

He gave the following recent Memphis population projection: 1970, 4,225; 1975, 4,700; 1980, 5,180; 1985, 5,660.

Frazier introduced Doyle Gilbert, division traffic supervisor, who explained the responsibilities of the traffic department. He stated that modern operators work behind a complex switchboard and to be qualified to operate it they must be continuously trained. "When you pick up your telephone and call your neighbor you are using equipment with a replacement cost in excess of $2,000," he said.

"In 1964, the expenditures of the traffic department in Memphis in salaries alone was $120,000 for 23 employees. This does not include retirement expenses or sick benefits which run in the area of $5,000 per year," he said.

Gilbert introduced Charlie Johnson, division buildings, supplies and construction supervisor, who explained the purposes of the division storeroom. He explained the cost of operating the postal service and motor freight, the cost of operating the company's large vehicle fleet, and utilities expenses.

Then he explained the loss involved in expanding and placing additional facilities in Memphis. The total expenditures for outside order in Memphis for 1965 will be approximately $40,000, he said.

"We paid in excess of $37,000 to local contractors in 1964 for placing outside plant facilities. Combining all of the figures listed that was paid out to Memphis firms in 1964 was approximately $75,000," he said.

Carl Yancey, division sales manager, presented the final portion of the program; an interesting discussion about what the immediate future holds in the communications race.

April 15 Is Deadline For Safety Checks

There will be no extension of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection deadline of April 15, 1965, announced Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, for this area.

"Only two weeks are left before the deadline and there are many motorists who will wait until the last minute," said Captain Johnson. Many thousands of vehicle owners can expect to wait in long lines in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline.

It is almost apparent now that many vehicle owners have waited too long for the inspection stations to safety inspect their vehicles by April 15. "Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," stated the Captain.

The DPS supervisor said, "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident, and by removing the link, prevent the accident."

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith visited in Dimmitt over the weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Maynard. Accompanied by Mrs. Maynard, they made a trip to Red River, N. Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Each year millions of tons of silt move into our streams and lakes. Not only is the productive top soil lost from our farms and ranches, but this most is multiplied many times when the total damage is taken into consideration. The storage capacity of our lakes is greatly reduced each year by sedimentation thus cutting down the amount of water that can be used by our communities for public and industrial use. Many public and private recreational facilities that once provided our public with fishing, boating, swimming, and skiing are now closed because these lakes have been filled with valuable top-soil instead of water.

A good waterway is a key to keeping the top soil in the place where it belongs. A waterway must function properly to perform its duties.

The supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District would like to encourage every co-operator, who has a waterway on his farm to take a close look at it at this time. With the lack of heavy rains in recent months some waterways may not have received proper maintenance. A waterway, like a car or tractor, must have an occasional inspection and needed repairs made if it is going to perform the job it was built for.

The vegetation in the waterway must be maintained at approximately the same condition that the waterway was designed for if it is to function properly. For example: a waterway was designed to have a protective cover of Bermudagrass at a stubble height of 4 inches. If the vegetation is allowed to grow rank, a silting problem will result. If the waterway did not have a cover of grass,

Sgt. Bacon Is Honor Student At A. F. School

Master Sergeant William S. Bacon, son of Mrs. Mildred W. Bacon of Unadilla, N. Y., has been graduated with honors from the U. S. Air Force Senior Non-commissioned Officer Academy at Langley AFB, Va.

Sergeant Bacon, who received advanced leadership and management training, is an education supervisor with a Tactical Command (TAC) unit at Hurlburt Field, Fla. His wing supports the TAC mission of providing fire-power and other air support to U. S. Army forces.

The sergeant, whose wife, Bobbie, is the daughter of William L. Gray of Turkey, Tex., is a graduate of Unadilla Central High School.

Each waterway should also be inspected after every rain and necessary repairs should be made immediately. This is a good time to fill in small rills or gullies. If the waterway has silt bars, they should also be removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hoffman of Lubbock visited here over the weekend with Mrs. A. C. Hoffman and Ruby and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Beeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Boggs and Tiny were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ashford and Peggy last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Theodore Swift is visiting in Dallas with her son and family.

Plymouth sales in Texas prove it!

TEXANS LIKE TEXAS-SIZE PLYMOUTH

'65 Plymouth Fury

It's no surprise that Plymouth sales for the '65 model year are up over last year and still going strong. Texans like things "Texas-size" and Plymouth for '65 certainly fills the bill. The Plymouth Fury is the biggest, plushiest Plymouth ever—but still solidly in the low-price field. And every Plymouth has a 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty.*

*HERE'S HOW PLYMOUTH'S 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU:
Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts, torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Citizens are encouraged to cast ballots for who they think is the outstanding citizen in the Memphis area. Boxes are located in the drug stores and grocery stores in Memphis.

further than the tip of our noses, and also united action will accomplish more for right living. That broadening process causes people to become friends and neighbors. I wonder if friendship isn't the biggest thing in life after all? If one wants to have friends, he must be a friend. Some have said friends are formed in adversity—this is true, indeed. However, the longest and strongest friendships do not depend on poverty or prosperity. The sincere friendships are formed while people are working and mutually interested in some worthy cause of the community or district. Here again, women were not idle.

Never as much as today has society required that the individual direct his life on a basic program of work, honesty, loyalty, and humanity. Therefore, to serve society means to be good citizens, good patriots, to love one's family, one's neighbor, one's country. These are not new elements: one can truthfully say the Lowly Nazarene as He trod the Judean Hills—the club women helped to make Memphis a wonderful place in which to live.

Bill Phleuger of Main Street remembers the 30's very well. He had a large sheep ranch, and he decided it would be a good idea to sell a part to get some money. So he loaded three freight cars with sheep and sent them to market. When the sheep arrived, the buyer sent a telegram asking for more money to finish paying the freight. Phleuger wired back: "Have no money, but can send more sheep."

Graduated Benefit Plan Urged By Nursing Homes

Health care for the aged through Medicare should be geared in part to individual needs, based on actual income, not assets, Mildred Stephens, operator of Cousins Home, said today.

The proposal was a part of a five-point package of amendments to the King-Anderson Bill (H.R. 1) that has been presented by the American Nursing Home Association and adopted by the Texas Nursing Home Association, according to Mrs. Stephens.

Mrs. Stephens has operated the local nursing home for almost two years and is a member of the state-wide association, headquartered in Austin, which studies the benefits of bills concerned with the care of the elderly.

"We feel that our association needs to accept President Johnson's mandate that 'a medicare bill must be passed by this session of Congress, but the amendments proposed will (1) insure higher standards of care and safety for our patients; (2) be safeguards against over-utilization of hospital beds and other health care facilities, and (3) offer benefits scaled to the income levels of the elderly,'" Mrs. Stephens said.

In his February Newsletter, President Phyl Drake, of Alice, outlined the TNHA proposals and urged the Nursing Home Administrators to "let the general public know what the real issues are concerning Medicare," according to Mrs. Stephens.

The amendments have been distributed by President Roy J. McDonald, of the American Nursing Home Association, as they were approved by the 4,700 nursing home operators across the nation.

Turkey Library Has Moved To New Location

The Turkey Public Library has been moved to the west end of the Turkey Clinic Building, it was announced this week. All persons who wish to obtain books can reach the library by the west door of the building.

The librarian has requested the return of all books that were checked out before the library was closed. The books need to be returned or re-checked out immediately, it was stated.

The Turkey Library will participate in the summer reading program. This program is sponsored in cooperation with the Texas State Library of Austin.

A certificate will be awarded when a person has satisfactorily completed the vacation reading requirement, which is a minimum of twelve books between the dates of June 1 and August 31.

The Aspirin

Aspirin is the most widely-used medicine in the world. It was isolated in the laboratory in 1853 by an Alastan chemist, Charles Frederic von Gerhardt. But its medicinal antecedents date back to the days of Hippocrates, "the father of medicine," when an extract from willow bark (which contains salicylates) was prescribed for the relief of the pain of childbirth.

Early Pruning Is Risky Says Horticulturist

Resist the urge to prune trees and shrubs in the garden until you are relatively sure all danger of severe freeze is past, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

Often the impulse to start pruning rose bushes and other shrubs with the first shirt sleeve weather in January and February. In most areas of Texas there is still danger of freeze damage to tender growth as late as mid-March.

Warm weather in January frequently forces the terminal buds to begin growing. If this growth is removed by early pruning, the lateral buds begin to grow during the next warm spell and a late cold snap may cause serious damage to these buds, says Janne.

The following are the only justifications for pruning plants: to remove dead or diseased wood; to repair storm damage or mechanical injury; to balance the top with the root system when transplanting; to develop and maintain a desired shape or size; to rejuvenate older plants; or to improve or increase flowers and fruit.

Flowering trees and shrubs which bloom early in the spring, such as flowering-quince, spiraea, forsythia, lilac, redbud, should not be pruned until after flowering.

Trees and shrubs which flower from early summer through the fall months, such as Crepemyrtle, hybrid tea roses, and shrub althea, usually produce their flower buds on new wood. They should be pruned in late winter or early spring after danger of frost is over and when new growth begins, says Janne.

Woman's Forum Plans Auction

By VIRGINIA ROGERS
After "taking stock" at the end of a year and a half from the time of assuming a $5,950.00 indebtedness for the building of the basement dressing room and enlargement of the stage of the Community Center, The Woman's Forum of Memphis finds there is still $900.00 owing. So, as a money-making project to help defray this debt, these diligent club women have decided to stage a "Spring Cleaning Auction".

The exact date of sale and the location are not as yet definitely set but Bob Ayers will cry the auction and the tentative time is the fourth Saturday in April April 24. So, this premature announcement is a sort of warning. If, in cleaning out your garage or house or storeroom, you have something you don't want and will part with for the cause, be sure to save it until the gathering place for our wares is made public.

No clothes or food will be auctioned. Household gadgets, yard tools, screens, doors, bric-a-brac, all kinds of "odds and ends" will be on display and put up for auction to the highest bidder.

Coffee and snacks will be available and visiting will be free and plentiful. So, keep your ear to the ground and your weather eye out for further news of the auction days, time, and place!

Annette Boswell, president, conducted the business meeting, with club members voting to omit the April meeting and moving the May meeting from the 26th to the 22nd, a Saturday.

The Woman's Forum plans a "garage auction" to be held sometime the latter part of April, Virginia Browder reported, and the Little Theatre voted wholeheartedly to support this project. Money to go toward retiring the indebtedness of the stage and dressing rooms of the Municipal Center.

The program was presented by Mary Helen Sexauer as she gave a brief illustrated talk on the great dramatics in the Theatre to name a few: Helen Hayes' debut in 1905, Richard Mansfield, Lillian Russell, Maud Adams' first performance in Peter Pan in 1905, Anna Held, Otis Skinner, Mr. Fiske, John Drew, the father of the Barrymores, Sarah Bernhardt, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine, Katherine Cornell, John Barrymore as he played in "The Corn is Green", and our Texan—Mary Martin in "South Pacific".

"Our Heritage in drama started in Greece as neighbors worked together in the harvest noticed that they worked together better if someone was chanting. This grew into Festivals that became so great that amphitheatres were erected. This was known as the Golden Age of Greece but lasted for only 33 short years," Mrs. Sexauer said.

"These amphitheatres were built with two ramps, the older men taking the back rows and the women the front row. They wore masks so that if they weren't good they could not be recognized. Chanting was done in the background telling what was taking place. If movements became very harsh, the chanting took on a new meaning," she continued.

"Later the Grecian art was taken over by the Romans, thence to the catholic Church and this was only at Christmas time, using the Nativity Theme. Then the church decided to teach the Bible in miracle plays. Eventually reaching Europe, bringing us to Shakespeare, who wrote great plays, also Marlow and Bacon. Shakespeare was the beginning of the modern drama.

"The American drama started about 1900 and reached its peak in 1930 in a man called Eugene Fields. Fields was known for weaving characters into great plays. He knew the Theatre was to entertain. Our greatest plays
