Three Attend 4-H Camp Last Week At Lueders

Last week, two Hall County 4-H boys and County Agriculture Agent W. B. Hooser attended the Joint District 4-H Leadership Camp, June 14, 15, and 16 at Lueders, Texas, returning home Thursday.

L. B. Snider, Jr., of Memphis and Monty Longhine of Estelline won the honor of making the trip. These Hall County 4-H boys put on a one-act play at the encampment as well as taking part in all other activities of the District Camp.

The adult leaders in each club visited all of the projects in their respective club this month and selected two boys to attend the leadership camp.

The council council selected the members from all the 4-H clubs in the county after two from each club were selected by the adult leaders from each club. The quota for each county was three boys and three girls.

County Agent Hooser said that Longhine and Snider are also on a list of 20 boys who have been selected from the 604 enrolled in the County 4-H Clubs to attend District 4-H Club Boys encampment which will be held July 21-23 at Buffalo Gap near Abilene.

County Agent Hooser said the leadership camp and the encampment are very beneficial to the 4-H program in helping to carry out the annual goal in the year-round calendar of events including recreation, development of leadership, citizenship, increase the size of projects, and develop 4-H members as leaders and useful citizens.

Cotton Measuring To Begin June 21

The measuring of Hall County farms to check compliance with 1965 farm programs began Monday, June 21, Lynn L. McKown, Office Manager, Hall County ASCS, announced today.

There are many farmers who have not completed planting due to continuing rains, but August 1, 1965, has been set as the date for completing the measurement of all farms in Hall County. If this goal is met, all farms ready to measure must be checked immediately. It is to the personal interest of everyone having an interest in agriculture to have all farms measured accurately at the earliest date possible. Over one million dollars in payments are awaiting the completion of checking Hall County farms, McKown said.

The 14 acreage reporters working on compliance checking are employed on a unit basis, at a rate per farm, and will need all the help and cooperation possible. When you help the reporter you are helping yourself as your year's income will be vitally affected by the few hours spent in measuring your farm.

The first visit made to farms in 1965 will be paid by the government, but all additional revisits must be paid by the farmer before the revisit is made. The cost for revisits to determine compliance will be $4.00 per farm, plus $2.00 per plots for all plots in excess of one.

Hall County farmers have all cooperated to the fullest extent possible in measuring their farms which has been appreciated by all concerned. At any time anyone feels an error has been made in the measuring of his farm, he should report immediately to the county office and every effort possible will be made to correct the error. Reporters, this year, are supplied with new aerial photographs made in January, 1964, which have been adequately checked and have proven to be the most accurate maps ever made for Hall County, McKown concluded.

First Aid Is Important

The trend today is away from spectator sports like big league baseball, in the summer time, and more toward participating sports like water skiing, boating, golf, tennis, and swimming.

Baseball has much more popularity as a participant sport than it does as a spectator sport, considering the huge growth in the Little League programs, and the independent adult baseball leagues.

And with everyone taking to the outdoors, it is discovered that laymen need to learn practical first aid as a means of helping stem the current high water fatality rate, and to help those unfortunate ones who have accidents where legs or arms are broken, etc.

The Boy and Girl Scouting programs, the United States Armed Forces, fire departments, the Red Cross, and many, many organizations and private industries have long seen the advantages of having trained first aid personnel and using them to teach courses to their members.

Probably the two major aids a trained first aid man or woman can render are the stopping of bleeding and the use of resuscitation methods on a drowned victim.

The techniques are somewhat complicated but in both instances human life can be saved through proper application.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department issued a statement to laymen concerning the commonly favored treatment for a rescued person from water. They stated it was the mouth-to-mouth or mouth to nose technique.

J. B. Phillips, coordinator for law enforcement whose field force has studied modern resuscitation methods, pointed out that where proper equipment is not immediately available some form of artificial respiration should be started at the earliest possible moment. The urgent necessity, he said, is to maintain an open passageway from the lungs to the mouth and provide for an alternate increase and decrease in the size of the chest, internally or externally to move air in and out of a non-breathing person.

First aid literature concerning the more commonly accepted methods and the reasons therefor are quoted as follows:

"When a person is unconscious and not breathing, the base of the tongue tends to press against and block the upper air passageway. These procedures should provide for an open air passageway when a lone rescuer must perform mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose artificial respiration:

"If there is foreign matter visible in the mouth, wipe it out quickly with your fingers or a cloth wrapped around your fingers. Tilt the head back so the chin is pointing upward. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position.

"These maneuvers should relieve obstruction of the airway by moving the base of the tongue away from the back of the throat.

"Open your mouth wide and place it tightly over the victim's mouth. At the same time pinch the victim's nostrils shut or close the nostrils with your cheek. Or close the victim's mouth and place your mouth over the nose.

"Blow into the victim's mouth or nose. Air may be blown through the victim's teeth, even though they may be clenched. The first blowing efforts should determine whether or not obstruction exists.

"Remove your mouth, turn your head to the side, and listen for the return rush of air that indicates air exchange. Repeat the blowing effort.

"For an adult, blow vigorously at the rate of about 12 breaths per minute. For a child, take relatively shallow breaths appropriate for the child's size, at the rate of about 20 per minute.

"If you are not getting air exchange, recheck the head and jaw position. If you still do not get air exchange, quickly turn the victim on his side and administer several sharp blows between the shoulder blades in the hope of dislodging foreign matter.

"Again sweep your fingers through the victim's mouth to remove foreign matter.

"Those who do not wish to come in contact with the person may hold a cloth over the victim's mouth or nose and breathe through it. The cloth does not greatly effect the exchange of air.

"Rescuers who cannot, or will not, use mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose techniques, should use a manual method. The rescuers should not be limited to the use of a single manual method for all cases, since the nature of the injury in any given case may prevent the use of one method, while favoring another.

"It has already been pointed out that the base of the tongue tends to press against and block the air passage when a person is unconscious and not breathing. This action of the tongue can occur whether the victim is in a face-down or face-up position."

Ten Danger Signals

Paul Harvey, writer in Future magazine, the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce official publication, has a set of "guidelines" for parents who might be interested in their sons.

Harvey, pointing out that times have changed and conditions under which boys today grow up are much changed from the condition of their fathers, cites some examples of things to watch for.

He consulted with many people about these danger signals. He talked with jurists, welfare workers, prison wardens and finally with J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI chief, and these 10 symptoms of delinquent youth were approved without change by Hoover.

Here are the 10 danger signs to watch for in teenage youth before they lead to big trouble.

1. Turbancy.
2. Evidences of alcohol or drugs on the breath, needle marks on arms.
3. Cruelty to animals.
4. Sloppy appearance or dress that exaggerates sex. In boys, uncut hair. In girls, skin-tight jeans.
5. Unexplained cuts, scratches, bruises.
6. Unexplained late hours.
7. Appearance of strange articles that were not purchased.
8. Possession of unnecessary weapons.
9. Flagrant disobedience.
10. Friends he never brings home.

Ten symptoms. If you recognize one in your child, look into it. If you recognize two, look out!

It is difficult for a loving parent to believe ill of his or her offspring. Some of the symptoms may, therefore, shock some "good families" which had merely considered their boy "high spirited."

But these are danger signals compiled by experts. It may be wise to look them over.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Our Changing World

We read excerpts from a speech the other day in which the speaker made three rather startling statements:

90 per cent of all the scientists of history are living today.

90 per cent of all the medicine in use today was not even discovered 10 years ago.

10 years from today, 75 per cent of America's labor force will be engaged in the manufacture of goods not yet invented today.

This makes us realize that we are indeed living in a fast moving world of space travel and new products and greater and greater speed.

It is hard to realize that just 10 years ago the nation's airlines were pioneering the first non-stop flights coast to coast. And they were flying propeller driven planes because the military was the only place with the jets.

Ten years ago there were no intercontinental missiles, no business computers, no man-made diamonds.

Ten years ago there were not even any transistor radios, no electric tooth brushes, no electric carving knives, no electric shoe shine outfits. A primitive society, indeed, although we didn't know it at the time.

It has been just during the past 10 years that the cigarette has come under unceasing attack as a health menace, and during the past ten years we have seen quite a change on the sports scene, with baseball all but dying out in any except the major leagues, and the participation sports such as golf, boating and skiing coming to the front.

Ten years is not a very long time, in some ways.

In other ways it is an astounding stretch of time. Lots of things can happen in just 10 years.—Sunday (Perryton) Herald.

Do Good Intelligently

It is nice for individuals to want to do something worthwhile that will help other human beings. The impulse is creditable but it is not enough. It must be put into action. This requires intelligence and the possession of an understanding as to the existing situation. Goodness is a great virtue. The love of other human beings is to be promoted.

Nevertheless, if all that the individual has is a woody desire to do good, the chances are that he, or she, will do much harm. The good intention, to be useful to the world, must be applied intelligently. Without wisdom, good impulses and a maudlin spirit of brotherhood are just as apt to result in evil as in good.—Shamrock Texan.

Social Security Payments Are Being Made To 1,026, Totaling $685,716

cent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Geldon said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt, Social Security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Hall County," he said.

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Geldon noted that as of January 1, 1965, some 1026 Hall Countians were collecting about $685,716.00 annually from social security, an increase of $39,804 annually over the same date last year.

As of January 1965, in the nation at large, more than 19 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of over $1.3 billion per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $77.57 for all States, while in the State of Texas the average was $69.43, Geldon said.

The following table shows the number and amount of each type of monthly benefit paid in Hall County, as of December 31, 1964:

Retired Worker, 515, $34,796.00.
 Wife or Husband, 210, 37,191.00.
 Widow or Widower, 106, $6,045.00.
 Mothers, Children and Parents, 166, $6,745.00.
 Disabled workers and dependents, 29, $2,366.00.

The year 1965 marks several milestones in the history of social security. The January 1965 benefit payments marked the 300th month of payment since monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940. The number of monthly benefits currently paid will reach the 20 million mark in 1965. In addition, August is the 30th anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Geldon said.

Young Homemakers To Convene In Plainview June 28

Area I Young Homemakers will convene on Wayland Baptist College campus June 28 at a three day program of activities and classes. Plans are nearing completion for the homemakers college being jointly planned by Area I Young Homemaker officers and Dr. Robert Collmer, Dean of Wayland College.

Mrs. Jimmy Cummings and Mrs. Robert Boyd, Area vice-presidents, have secured numerous local program personnel and Wayland faculty members who will serve as resource leaders. The services of public utility home service advisors and other departments have also been secured.

Pace of the entire Homemakers College will be set by Dr. Roy C. McClung, Wayland president, in his main address, "Young Homemakers—the Heart of the Home", which is the theme for the three day event.

Activities begin Monday, June 28, with registration at 4 p. m. when representative members arrive from the area's 40 chapters in the thirty-eight county boundary. It is estimated that over 150 Young Homemakers will attend. This will provide, at low cost, a three day session filled with education, inspiration, and recreation.

The program will include assemblies, talks, classes, exhibits, tours, and a variety of extra-curricular activities.

Outstanding speakers from many businesses and professions will appear on the program, along with faculty members of the various college departments. As a student the women will have the privilege of choosing classes that meet their needs and interests. They may choose from a wide variety of subjects: foods, nutrition, clothing textiles, home furnishings, art, landscaping, health, safety, pre-school children, and topics dealing with family life.

Quivira Girl Scouts To Hold Camp Aug. 8-19

Quivira Girl Scout Established Camp will be held at Camp Kiowa, August 8-19 this year, and is open to every girl from ten through seventeen.

Established Camping is done on a permanent campsite with facilities provided by the Council. It is supervised by qualified, experienced, employed personnel. Individual girls from different troops from all parts of the Council camp together for a continuous period of at least twelve days. The campers use the patrol system in planning their camping activities. This system is the representative form of government basic to all scouting and helps to develop good citizenship, initiative, and self-reliance.

At camp, each girl is part of a small group or unit. Under the unit plan, from 12-20 girls live, work, plan and carry out the Girl Scout program with their leaders or counselors. Campers are placed in tent units according to age/grade, and degree of camping experience to insure each girl's feelings at home and living comfortably within her own small group.

Established Camp offers a variety of activities for the adventurous young camper. She will have an opportunity to learn basic skills or become more proficient in already acquired skills. She may become more adept through practice in the arts of: camcraft, knotcraft, and lashing; firebuilding and cooking; campfires and ceremonies; safety, on land and in water; conservation; sing-downs, folk games, and new songs; archery and riflery (progressing to .22's); compass and wide games; and hiking and trail blazing. Many of these activities help fulfill requirements for barges.

It is the aim in Girl Scout camping to have the income from campers' fees cover the direct services to them. Direct services mean salaries for directors, counselors, program specialists, nurse, food supervisor (cook), program supplies, health and service supplies.

The registration fee of $47.50 may be paid with a minimum reservation fee of $10.00, another payment by July 12, and the balance due July 30. The fee for non-Scouts is $50.00. (The entire fee may be paid at the time of registration.) Buccaneer, Frontier, and Gunn Bros. Savings Stamp books are worth $2.50. S&H Green Books are worth $2.00. Registrations are still being accepted, and forms are available from the Quivira Girl Scout Council, P. O. Box 459, Pampa, Texas. Parents are urged to register their girls as soon as possible that they may be assured a place in camp.

Since a full camp can be operated much more economically than a small one, let's fill our camps to justify the purchase of our Established Camp of the future!

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Morgan were Amarillo visitors Friday.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

How can we attract new business and industry to our town?

First, a town must have an active community development program.

Recent WTU ads have told the story of exceptional community development activities in Stamford, Childress, Robert Lee and Ballinger. These towns, among others served by WTU, are engaged in continuing local development programs, which make them better places to live, work and play. Of more importance, these towns know that community development is the vital and basic first step in attracting tourists and industry for further economic development. They are all PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS. WTU is proud to be a part of these growth conscious towns. Your local WTU manager can obtain additional assistance for your towns.

President Johnson Greets Rural Youth During Ten-Day Tour Of Washington

A surprise visit from President Lyndon B. Johnson on the White House lawn highlighted a tour of Washington, D. C., for Pam Williams of Turkey and Jodie Rapp of Estelline, June 9.

Winners of an oratorical contest sponsored by Hall County Electric Cooperative, Pam and Jodie gathered in the Rose Garden of the Executive Mansion with more than 700 rural youths from all over the nation.

"We are part of the volunteer generation," the President told the youth group referring to 90,000 men and women of the Peace Corps serving in 46 countries. "We have no war except the war on war," he said.

The audience with the President climaxed three days of sightseeing, meetings and educational activities for Pam and Jodie who returned home Monday, June 14, laden with souvenirs and mementos of the ten day Government in Action Tour to Washington.

Among their souvenirs is a set of slides which they will be happy to present before any group upon request.

On the return trip the Texas youths toured Norris Dam in Tennessee where they learned of the development of the Tennessee Valley Authority. This stop included a cable car ride to the top of Lookout Mountain near Chattanooga.

A party honoring the 63 tour winners from Texas was held in Shreveport, Louisiana, on the eve of the arrival back in Dallas, their departure point, on June 14. Tears and promises to keep in touch marked the dispersal for home.

Mrs. Leona Barron Attends Workshop Session At SMU

Mrs. Leona Barron, along with some 1100 other teachers from Texas and Arkansas, attended the orientation program for the Project Head Start Program at Southern Methodist University. In the Flomot School System, this program will be for the pre-school children or for students who did not pass to the second grade in the 1964-65 school year.

The special kindergarten will attempt to give the beginning child a better understanding of the school program and other cultural advantages. The program will try to correct visual, auditory, and physical problems as well as to give the child a larger vocabulary. It is to be a happy and fruitful experience for the child, with many simple learning experiences. The child is a very important individual, and the teacher, the volunteers, the assistants, and the parent aids will become his trusted friends. The problem provide for feeding the children because a full stomach aids the learning process. A good nutritional meal stands for good learning.

Dr. John M. Claunch called the program "a significant new development in education." About fifty faculty members participated as lecturers, teachers, resource people, and consultant. They came from the faculties of SMU, TCU, TWU, and specialists from the national scene.

Following the one-week session at SMU will be eight weeks of classes at the local school or child development centers. The program is expected to reach 600,000 children in the fifty states. Flomot's program will begin on July 5 at the school, which will be air-conditioned.

Covered with a white organdy cloth, the table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli edged in pink. Mrs. Mack Tarver, Mrs. R. S.  Clarence D. Tedder, Pastor

“Religion is the opiate of the people!”

That's what Karl Marx declared. And sometimes it seems that he may have been right. So many people, considering themselves "religious," use their worship as a tranquilizer—a pill taken once a week to remove "the pain of it all." Instead of looking for involvement with the great moral and spiritual issues of society, they look for ways to avoid involvement. They forget the first tenet of their Faith: Love thy neighbor.

That doesn't mean just the people down the block. It means being concerned with the poverty of Appalachia . . . or the problems of everyone trying to get a job . . . or the special difficulties of the elderly—and the young.

If you care, the place where you worship can become—with your help—a rallying point for action in solving the community, national and world problems where great issues are involved. Worship this week. More important, put your faith to work.

in Corpus Christi Tuesday night.

In recognition of his "unselfish and unrelenting aid to his fellow man", Patrolman Nelson was presented with an engraved gold wrist watch and a bronze wall plaque.

Through the efforts of Nelson, and with the help of others, the disabled young man was physically rehabilitated through surgery, provided with a new home, and is now self-supporting.

Announcement of the award and introduction of the 1965 recipient were made by Roland R. Howerton, Fort Worth, chairman of the Awards Committee. Compton, publisher of the Texas Police Journal magazine, presented the

Weather Stations In Space

What did the astronauts see as our Texas high plains? Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward White reported seeing a curious finger-shaped shadow across the Texas plains—either a difference in the underlying rock, or in the atmosphere. This is a challenge for geologists. A significance may lie in the observations by our two astronauts being sifted not only by scientists interested in space but by men and women whose scientific specialties are closer to the puzzle concerning high plains shadow, meteorologists will make a close study of approximately 300 photographs taken by White and McDivitt from orbit.

While attention is focused on manned space program, the United States Weather Bureau is making good progress toward improved weather forecasting through the TIROS weather satellite program. The U. S. has aloft 10 such satellites; three still functioning, relaying data concerning cloud formations. TIROS was designed to help us fill in gaps of knowledge, to make a first step toward developing a fully operational weather satellite capable of reporting global conditions on a continuous, daily basis. Now, our weathermen are able to receive weather data by conventional means for less than 20 percent of the surface of the planet. Data from earth's vast uninhabited and ocean areas is not accessible by these methods, yet the lack of data is a major problem in accurate weather forecasting. TIROS aims at finding the way to provide that data. And now, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Weather Bureau are working to make possible an improved system. When in being, perhaps by early next year, the system will be known as TOS—the letters standing for TIROS Operational Satellite System. TOS will permit observation of the atmosphere each day and thus measurably enhance the weatherman's ability to deliver accurate predictions of weather conditions. We who live in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains are more aware than most Americans of the very vital part weather forecasting plays in our daily activities—and of the impact severe weather can have on lives, property, and on agriculture. Violent weather is no stranger to our area. It is no stranger anywhere on earth—and to be able to predict with great accuracy the imminence and possible consequences would be an enormous boon to mankind. The next generation of U. S. weather satellites will be designed to hasten that day. TIROS satellites were most helpful in plotting the development and course of hurricanes. Data from TIROS was used to brief the crews of ships and planes as to ocean weather conditions, even to dangerous iceberg conditions in shipping lanes. The weather system will, I hope, be able to provide date to tell us of developing threats from hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, droughts, and even sudden frosts and unseasonal spells of hot and cold weather which disrupt harvesting and merchandizing of produce. Means are being developed to broaden the ability of our meteorologists to provide us with swift and accurate forecasts, and the data collection system being planned will not only be placed aloft aboard satellites, but will also be located on ocean buoys and at land stations in remote areas.

County Stockmen Donate Funds To Fight Screwworms

Texas farmers and ranchmen asked this spring to contribute additional funds to help finance the screwworm eradication program through July 1. Their response, reported the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation in late May, was overwhelming. Their contributions almost equaled the $300,000 requested. Farmers and ranchmen in Hall County participated in the fund drive and showed their appreciation for the outstanding results achieved under the program, said Smith, chairman of the county screwworm eradication committee. County stockmen and sportsmen, he added, contributed $10 to the fund. Contributions, he said, were based upon 10 cents per animal unit. Hall County was one of 126 in the state meeting their potential goal. Help Briscoe, Jr., SWAHRF chairman, praised the livestock industry for its support of the program and gave special thanks to the county committeemen for their work in contacting farmers and ranchmen. The foundation chairman said the latest fund drive had brought a total contributed by stockmen and sportsmen in the Southwest almost $4 million. Contributions also come from Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kansas and Indiana.

One of the more calamitous stages teenagers must pass through is the period when young skins are subject to a number of disorders, notably acne. Over-productive skin oil glands can cause this condition, as can rapid body changes peculiar to this age which makes skin more susceptible to bacteria.

Starches, fatty foods and sweets encourage acne, while a diet high in vitamins is probably beneficial. Important to helping to curb this condition is sufficient rest, proper elimination, reasonable skin care, proper food, outdoor exercise and use of external medication with a record of beneficial results.

Flomot School Pays Bonds Ahead Of Schedule

The State Board of Education in session on June 5, granted permission to the Flomot Independent School District to retire $3,000 in bonds out of the 1955 Issue held for the State Permanent School Fund, it was reported this week.

On May 10, the Flomot Board of Education voted to request permission of the State Board of Education to retire the $3,000. This is the second time in the last three years that the Flomot Board has retired $3,000 in bonds ahead of time. By retiring these bonds, it will reduce the total payments due in future years and save in the total amount of interest that the district will have to pay.

H. A. Martin, President of the Flomot Board of Education, states that the Flomot School District is in sound financial condition, and that each individual member of the board should be congratulated for the fine condition of the school. The Flomot Board of Education is: H. A. Martin, President; Leon K. Cloyd, Secretary; and O. D. Calvert, Billy Meyer, Harmon Moseley, E. G. Reed, and L. E. Shorter, members.
