Some former Hall County residents, after seeing the picture of the Diamond Jubilee bumper stickers in The Democrat, are asking me to send one or two to them. I also expect to be living elsewhere requesting the bumper stickers to be on hand at the 75th Anniversary. Mrs. Helmer of Fullerton, Ark., writes, "I also expect to see the Cal Farley Boys Ranch where my three nephews, Woody Rogers of Estelline, Ark., and Glen Cope's letter is published in Letters to the Editor."

Every day, in riding around town, I can't help but notice the additional blocks and alleys that have been cleaned, making those streets more attractive. We will decide the best, second and third best when the cleaning time comes in September. There are a few blocks that have very little or no work done. While Memphis has been beautified, why not join in the work? . . . While our people are in the mood to improve our city, why not get a reunion of ourselves doing something concerning ourselves. Is it true that we have lost some of the enthusiasm and aspiration to work in God's vineyard?

Mariner 4 recently visited Mars, and has sent back several million pictures. The pictures sent back to Earth were unreadable to millions of people. Perhaps a few thousand scientists probably know what the pictures mean. So far, no one in this area has offered to make a trip to Mars—if such a voyage of human beings is attempted. Perhaps such a voyage won't be made until human beings are successful in reaching the moon.

A museum is in the offing for Clarendon and Donley County. Why are we putting off the museum for our own Hall County? We have been doing a lot of talking about a museum, but very little active work has been done. This should be one of the first activities.

Workers are fast completing the new building which will be the home of the First State Bank of Memphis. Having been told that the date for the formal opening of the banking facility will be Sept. 14.

The annual Greenbelt Bowl football game at Childress next month will be dedicated to the memory of M. C. Allen. Tickets for the game will be on sale at Eddleman's Men's Store in Memphis.

A woman is like a newspaper. They both have forms; their numbers are not in demand; they bear looking over; they have a good deal of influence; there's a demand for the bold-faced type; and every man should have one of his own and not go borrowing from his neighbor's. — This was borrowed from another newspaper.

Two Beeves Given, More Are Needed

Byron Baldwin, chairman of the beef committee of Hall County Jubilee Celebration, announced this week that two beeves have been donated, one by Mrs. Vera Dial Dickey and the other by Mrs. Bray Cook. The chairman said that 6 or 7 beeves will be needed to have a good barbecue for the crowd that is anticipated will attend. Persons who would like to contribute a beef are asked to contact the chairman or a member of the committee including Roy Boren, Mrs. Bray Cook, Mrs. Vera Dickey, B. E. Davenport, A. Eddleman, Robert Sexner, and John Fowler.

'Dear Hearts and Gentle People'

California Family Expresses Thanks For Many Kindnesses

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received Wednesday, and is self-explanatory. The Brough family reside at 11812 Edgewood Lane, Garden Grove, Calif.)

To the Editor:
We hope you will publish this letter of thanks and appreciation to the town of Memphis and its people.

"We are the parents of the 'little girl from California', who, while on vacation, needed an emergency appendectomy in Memphis. Mere words cannot tell of the gratitude we feel for the many kindnesses and the interested concern we received from the people of Memphis. However, we would like to try and express our thanks to:

Dr. Stevenson and the nurses and staff of Hall County Hospital, for the wonderful affection and care Julie Ann received, which they also extended to her parents and brothers.

The owners and employees of the DeVile Motel and Restaurant, who never failed to ask about Julie and offer assistance.

The children and youth of Memphis, who visited Julie and entertained her older brothers so thoughtfully.

The ministers of your churches who visited Julie.

The friendly personnel of your business district.

The people of Memphis who visited Julie, who brought flowers, cards, and gifts, and the people who left gifts anonymously for her.

God bless you everyone, for your warm and friendly hearts. We will never forget this vacation, yet we do not consider it as a lost vacation; even Julie does not. For we met you; and found "the quality of mercy is not strained" in Memphis, Texas.

The best way we can say it, is by paraphrasing a song. It fits so aptly, we have said it many times since we left. "We love those dear hearts and gentle people, who live in your hometown"; and we had to tell you so.

Sincerely,
Don and Zoe Bess Brough

Mayor Warns About Turning On Fire Hydrants

Mayor Howell warned violators that this practice is seriously affecting the safety of this community.

When fire hydrants are turned on and left, they release a tremendous amount of water. If they are not found soon enough, all the reserve water of Memphis could be used up. Also, if a fire should break out, the town could

Youth Need An Example!

This past week, law enforcement officers in Memphis called this editor's attention to a scene on the southwest corner of the inside parking area of the square in Memphis which they were concerned about. The scene was a mess created by six beer bottles which had been broken and left.

Residents in Memphis are well aware of the practice of many young people, and some not so young, of parking their cars on this corner at night. Many use this public spot as a parking place when they leave their car to "go riding" in another car.

Law enforcement officers, charged with the responsibility of seeing that our laws are enforced are faced with a problem. The law reads that in a dry area, like Hall County and Memphis, it is illegal not only to sell alcoholic beverages but also it is illegal to drink in a public place.

The officers who looked over the mess of broken beer bottles were agreed that the square was a public place and the control of it will be tightened.

Youth of our area are no better or no worse than those in other areas today, or in years past. But seldom has the problem of broken bottles on the square been as serious as it is now. We feel that part of the problem our citizens face is not knowing what the letter of the law is.

The duty of informing our youth naturally falls on the parents, the church and our civil authorities. How can adults expect today's youth to grow up with respect for the church, law enforcement or the rights of other people, when adults do not set the example or teach their youngsters about these things?

A short survey conducted by this newspaper of several young persons about 18 years of age showed that they were not aware that it was illegal to drink alcoholic beverages in public places in a dry area. They knew it was illegal for minors to be in possession of these beverages and that it was illegal to transport them across state lines, but were unaware of the laws governing consumption of these beverages only in private. To clarify this, an automobile on a public road is not considered a private place.

This newspaper does not like to write editorials about social problems but sometimes they are necessary. Nor do we shut our eyes to these problems, hoping they will go away. We recognize the seriousness of drinking as a social problem and especially as a problem facing our young people. We state our stand with the law governing alcoholic beverages in a dry area, and warn violators of the consequences of violating these laws.

Exploration Of Mars

It is impossible for mere earthlings to find words suitable to describe America's latest space feat. Even "incredible" and "fantastic" somehow seem inadequate.

Just think: A 575-pound robot, pieced together from 138,000 parts made by more than 100 different companies, is rocketed into space and after traveling 325 million miles in 228 days obtains the first close-up pictures of Mars.

It will take some time for scientists to evaluate fully the photos sent back by Mariner-4. But the very fact it snapped the pictures is historic in itself.

Indeed, it is remarkable that in a country where light bulbs still burn out too soon and tires blow out too often such a complex spacecraft could be so well built, to function so reliably over so long a time in so hostile an environment.

For this, the scientists and engineers, the technicians and other workers—in government, in universities, in research labs and in industry—deserve the nation's commendation. In the success of Mariner-4, their achievements stand out in sharp contrast to the seven straight failures recorded by the Soviet Union's Mars missions.

Yet Mariner-4 is only the beginning of man's exploration of Mars. Like other robots sure to follow, it is blazing the trail for the inevitable day when man himself lands on that planet.

How soon this will happen nobody knows. But in this fast-moving age it is safe to say the first real-live Martian explorers are already walking the earth.

TELL AN EXPERT

You can usually tell an expert by the manner in which he approaches his appointed task. If the thing that needs doing is somewhat important, why settle for less than the best?

If you have need for a particular product or service, don't just take your business to anybody. You're taking a chance if you do. Find your own expert. It's not a difficult thing to do.

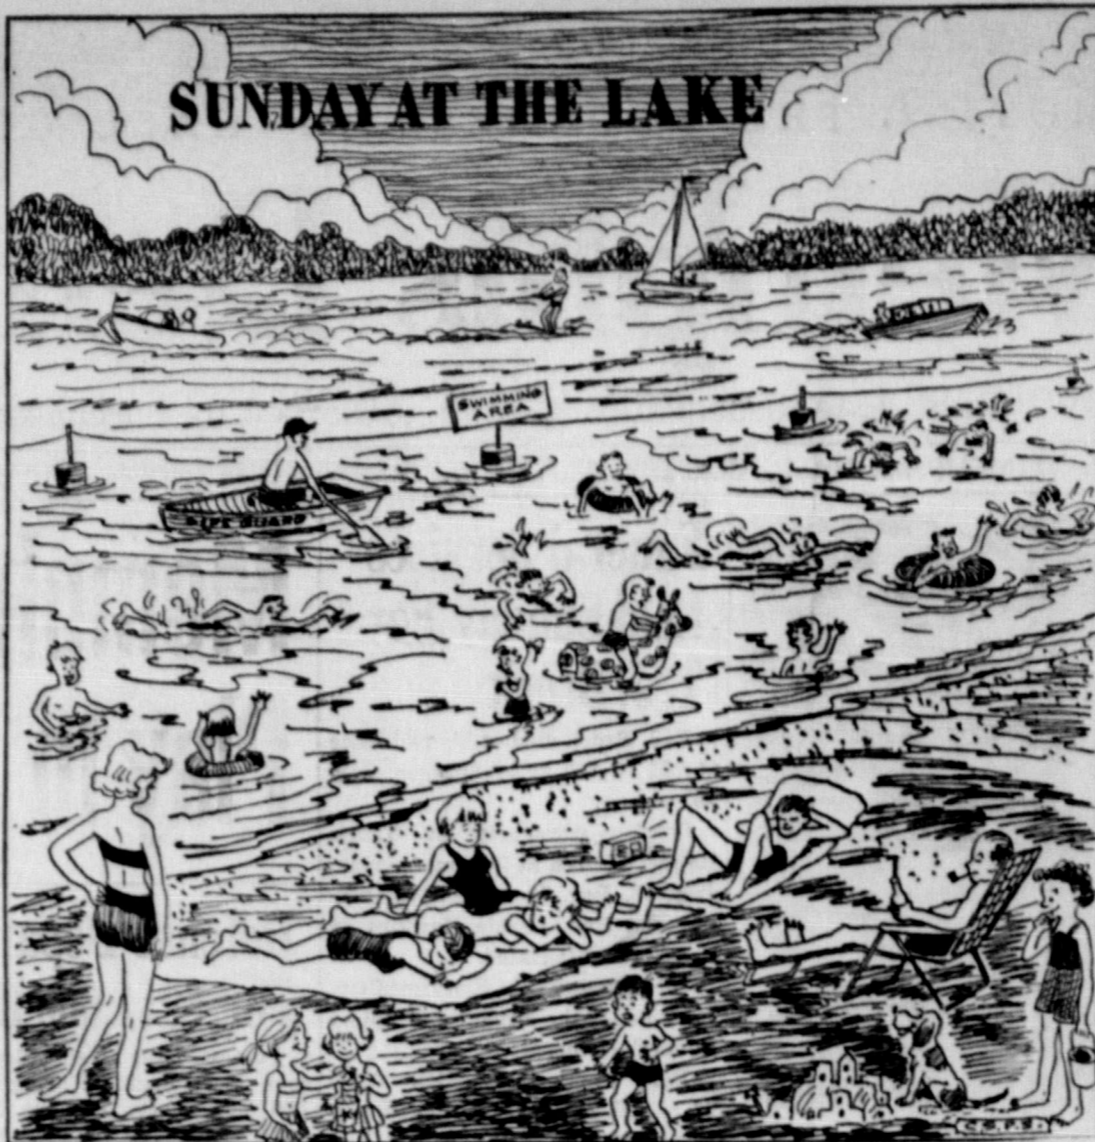

Experience and reputation are two yardsticks for measuring expertness. If a man does an expert job, and does it continuously, satisfied customers will attest to his reliability.

Whatever your individual needs, look first to the local business community. Experts in many fields have been serving your friends and neighbors. They're anxious to do the same for you.

And, when you do business locally, tell folks we suggested that you do so. They're our friends too.

ACROSS THE DESK
What Other Editors Say

It was Louis the Seventh of France back in the fifteenth century, who said of his prime minister, "Let George do it; he's the man of the time." Now, it's simply, "Let George do it, I haven't the time!"

George never misses an opportunity to further his cause. Recently he sat down and wrote the following letter:

"My name is George. I'm an all-around handyman, and I'd like for you to feel free to use my services for any and all chores, errands or duties which you may be too busy to perform.

"Anytime there's something that needs doing and you'd rather not, you just let old George do it.

"I'll write to your congressman for you; I'll write your newspaper editor; I'll serve on the school board in your place; I'll do anything you're too tired or too preoccupied to do. With me around, you can be as lazy as you like. Or you can just have fun. The more the merrier, I always say.

"My services are available to you for all the tedious, time-consuming things that you'd rather duck doing.

"You haven't the time to vote. Just let George do it. No time for jury duty? I have. There is certainly no need for you to concern yourself with attending union meetings. You don't want to accept committee assignments and extra responsibilities, anyway. Let George do it.

"Now, you ask, why should you leave important jobs to somebody you've never met? Well, that's a reasonable question; so let me put your mind at ease.

"I'm no beginner. Maybe I'm not as famous as Khrushchev is, but if it hadn't been for me—you'd never have heard of him. And that goes for Mussolini and Stalin and Hitler, too. I made those guys! And the big time racketeers in the United States! You name 'em; without me, those guys would be nothin'. Why do I want to run errands for you? When I'm the guy who runs all these 'big wheels', why do I want to run errands for you? Don't you see, I get a kick out of electing presidents for school boards and unions and countries. All those things you used to do before you took up chasing dollars and golf balls and things. Don't feel like you are imposing. I'm glad to be of service. Helping you I'm really helping myself. How do you think I was able to take over and run a third of the world already? Because nobody else wants to bother. They said, 'Let George do it,' so I did it! Now I'm taking over in lots of cities and counties in the United States, and I figure it's just a matter of time until I'll take over this country, too."

And I want to thank you for making it possible.

"Remember, now if there is ever any way in which I can be of help, I'm at your service. You just have fun and don't worry about a thing. I'll do your worrying, too.

"I'll bill you later.
Sincerely,
"George."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

July 19, 1965

Dear Editor:

I am watching the progress of the Hall County 75th Anniversary Celebration each week and sending the paper to Bro. Lowery at Jacksboro.

I was wondering if you were going to have it for the just one day or would have a day or so pre-celebration activities and in what way we folks up here could help.

Wendell Harrison, Memphis Director, myself, Hedley director and wife, of the Greenbelt Water Authority attended the appreciation dinner and water show at Quannah Saturday night. A good many of the state officials interested in water were there.

Quannah emptied their mains of the old gyp water and bottled it. They filled them with Donley County water from Lake Creek. I brought back samples of both. The Lake Creek water compared favorably in taste with our water.

While there I talked to Mrs. Tom Easterling. Tom was court reporter under Judge Fires when they lived at Memphis. Wanted the dates and said she would attend.

Also my niece, Ruthie Johnson, now Mrs. Jimmie Whitmire of Wichita Falls, said she planned to come up and bring Lowery for a week's visit. Probably a few days before and I will take him back after the celebration.

Of course, I plan to come. I arrived in Memphis a day or so after Christmas in 1918 flat broke.

Dates of our next Festival are Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16. It is getting a little bigger each year and if we make any cotton may have to start the Thursday night before.

We advertised it on the Highway 287 Caravan south from the other side of Amarillo to past Wichita Falls. Sure enjoyed our supper and visit in Memphis. At most of the celebrations in the area of the Festival and of course will be down to yours.

Next event we have scheduled we have an entry in the Miss Texas Pageant at Fort Worth representing the "Hedley Cotton Festival Area."

Best regards. Will be down to see you some of these times.

Sincerely,
C. L. Johnson,
Hedley, Texas.

CARD OF THANKS

May I take this means of thanking each of you, friends and neighbors, who remembered me on my birthday at the home of Mrs. Vivian Cooper. Do accept my heartfelt thanks and deep appreciation for all the gifts and the hat that was so beautifully and artistically decorated. I will long recall this event and the reading of Edgar A. Guest's beautiful poem of friendship by Mrs. DeWitt Huffine.

Sincerely,
(Miss) John Moreland

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Compton returned Thursday from a trip to Colorado and to Laramie, Wyoming, where they visited several days with relatives. Mrs. Compton's brother and wife of Littleton, Colo., accompanied them to South Fork where they hoped to do a little fishing but found water too high for any luck.

Mrs. O. R. Saye and Mrs. Johnny Harrell and daughter, Chanda, visited in Gainesville Sunday and Monday with their grandmother, Mrs. Henry Sewell, who is 90 years of age. Mrs. Grace Sewell, who had been visiting her mother for several days, accompanied them home on Monday.

The wedding of Miss Kathryn Wherry Fitzjarrald to Howard Mundy III was solemnized Friday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo with Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Fitzjarrald, 2212 Lipscomb, Amarillo, and J. O. Fitzjarrald, 1701 Julian, Amarillo. Mr. Mundy is the son of Mrs. Nelle Mundy of 4119 Washington, Amarillo.

A program of traditional wedding selections was presented by Mrs. Jewel Woodward, organist, and Mrs. F. S. Wood of Liberal, Kan., vocalist.

Candelabra holding lighted tapers and flanked with baskets of white gladioli before an archway of palms decorated the church.

The bride selected a formal wedding gown of white silk organza designed with Sabrina neckline outlined with Venetian lace.

A chapel train fell in panels from the shoulder line. Her imported tiered illusion veil was secured by a band of matching lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Miss RuNell Stitt was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Jerri Zwang, Nancy Coburn and Carol Manhein of Shreveport, La. Junior bridesmaids were Misses Cindy McReynolds of Charlotte, N. C., and Kay Daily of Grapevine, Tex. Each wore a formal dress of yellow crepe designed with empire silhouette style and each carried cascade of white daisies.

Miss Sherry Swanwick And Gary Mackie United In Marriage In Kansas Rites

Vows for Miss Sherry Swanwick and Gary Mackie were solemnized on June 12 in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church in Parsons, Kansas.

The bride is the daughter of Frank Swanwick and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. D. L. Mickie, 2227 Christine, Pampa.

Rev. Francis R. King read the double-ring vows amid a setting of lighted tapers and greenery. Seven branch candelabra and basket arrangements of white gladioli filled the background. White satin bows marked the honor pews.

The bride designed and made her formal gown of silk organza over satin. Features of the gown were a scooped neckline and an empire waistline enhanced with hand-seeded lace applique roses. A-line skirt framed with a full-length train of embroidered silk organza over satin. A crown of seeded lace held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a lavender orchid on a white ribbon.

Miss Durn Jones of Denison, Texas, attired in a waltz-length gown of yellow silk organza over matching taffeta, served as maid of honor. She carried a single long-stemmed yellow rose. Miss Desiree Kay Czapanzky of Gardner, Kansas, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Glenn Woods of Oklahoma City attended the bridegroom as best man. Carrying the rings was Dale McDaniel, a nephew of the bride of Angola, Kansas.

First Presbyterian Church Parlor was the scene of the reception held following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over yellow linen was appointed with a crystal punch service. A three-tiered wedding cake was divided by swan colonades, decorated with yellow roses and topped by a miniature bridal couple. The cake was flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers entwined with yellow ribbons and white wedding bells.

The newlyweds departed immediately following the reception by plane to Acapulco, Mexico.

Around and About

By HELEN COMBS

Vacations are the order of the day . . . and those beautiful sun-tans can be revealing indeed. We didn't have to ask to know that the Billy Hall family had been camping in Colorado . . . not only the boys, but mom and dad came back with deep tans and a reported wonderful vacation.

Baldwin's children's department was a busy place Monday morning as several mothers rushed in shopping for Slim Jim sets before their daughters departed for Pan Fork Baptist Encampment at 1:30 Monday afternoon.

It was just a little after 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, but Reba Stroehle was strolling down the street looking as if she had just stepped out of a smart fashion salon . . . she was wearing a pretty sleeveless frock with wide-brim white hat and other accessories in white. All this we saw as we drove to work down Seventh Street . . . couldn't help but wonder where Reba had been so early in the morning. When you see a woman with a hat on in Memphis you know they have been somewhere or will soon be going!

Speaking of vacations, the Denison Educational Tour group out of Houston spent the night in our city Saturday. Thirty-eight persons from the Houston area were making the tour which will take them through New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and on into Canada. Most of the persons in the group were retired business people, teachers, etc.

The travelers were met by a group of boys, all Scouts, but not serving as members of the Troop, but rather as individuals, who handled the luggage for them; and several members of the Chamber of Commerce met them for breakfast before their early departure Sunday morning.

The travelers were most appreciative of the service they received here and complimentary of our gracious hospitality. In fact, Mrs. Seymour of Columbia stated that she had traveled all over the world and no place had she found to be more hospitable than Memphis. This certainly speaks well for our city . . . and the persons who serve the tourists.

Since we are a central point for down-state tourists traveling to Colorado, we should publicize our city as an overnight stop. We have an ideal City Park where tourists pulling campers (and there are many this year) could stop for a few hours. We should advertise our facilities so that those traveling might know about our assets. No matter how nice a city or town might be, unless we tell the tourists about it, they will speed on down Highway 287 to some other point.

The Vestal Vaughn family of Lubbock drove over to Memphis last Saturday to spend the day with the Harold Smith and complete plans for their forthcoming vacation trip to California. But, before the day was over, their oldest daughter, Jo Dee, who is 16, had to undergo an emergency appendectomy! But all is well that ends well, and Jo Dee is recovering nicely . . . in fact she was able to return to her home in Lubbock Wednesday. Plans still call for the two families to leave Monday on their two-week vacation trip . . . and Jo Dee will be able to go along also, her doctor says.

Judges released a list of blocks that were selected as winners in the beautification contest in the first survey. Now, this does not mean that you will get to keep the title . . . that is unless you work and keep your block, as final winners will be selected in September. All citizens are urged to keep the good work going as much improvement is being shown throughout the city.

Perhaps the property showing the most improvement at this time is the Martin property on Seventh Street where the Explorer Scout Troop is working. Dr. Martin has engaged the Troop to clean up the property and they have taken the job as a summer project. We have heard much favorable comment! The Scouts are doing a good job, aided by some adults.

Two sons of a former Presbyterian pastor, the late William T. Swaim, will be in Memphis Sunday to speak at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Richard Avery said he was turning the morning service over to the two brothers, William T. Swaim, Jr., and the Rev. Robert L. Swaim, who were children when their father was here from 1912 to 1921.

Iris Davis brought us this Cherry Cha Cha Cha recipe. We have not tried it yet, but am sure it is delicious.

Make a graham cracker crust from 2 cups crumbs and ½ cup sugar and ½ cup oleo melted. Bake 10 minutes and cool well. Whip 1 large pkg. of cream, whip according to directions and add 1 small pkg. of Philadelphia cream cheese to this, which is at room temperature, and mix well.

Pour this over the crust and add 3 cups miniature marshmallows, then add 1 can cherry pie mix and top with some graham cracker crumbs.

For best results, let set overnight in refrigerator before eating, and keep refrigerated until eaten.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deaver of Austin are visiting here this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Temple Deaver, Sr., and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Regnald Curry of Austin spent the past weekend with Mr. Curry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Curry.

One hand-operated mill was provided for each group of five to ten men in the Roman army and the soldiers ground their own corn.

MRS. HOWARD MUNDY III

The honorees were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. Wyman Davis and Mrs. Stacy Waites and by their grandmothers, Mrs. T. L. Waddill and Mrs. Waites, in opening the large assortment of beautiful and useful gifts.

The hostess gift was a complete set of stainless steel cooking ware. The hostess list included Mrs. JoEd Cuppell, Reno Pepper, Bill Holland, George Helm, J. N. Helm, Jr., Doc Rogers, Dick Delaney, Ivan Knox, R. E. Elliott, O. B. Hoover, Lula Nelson, A. W. Johnson, Clem Timmons, Joe Merrill, Otis Cobb, Evie Morrison, Bob Askey, Hildred McMinn, Ann Bumpus, Flora Halford, Loyd Asgell, and E. R. Gilbert.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Moore last weekend were Mrs. Bill Johnson, Stacy and Barbara of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Leon Youree, Denise and LeAnne of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore and Larry, also of Amarillo.

A German Diplomat Visits A Texas Ranch

By VIRGINIA BROWDER
 Visiting in the country home of Virginia Browder last weekend was Braulein Barbara Luthgen. Originally from Essen, Germany, better known as "the little Pttsburgh of Germany", Fraulein Luthgen is well qualified by education and intensive training to bear the imposing official title of "Attache to the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany".

Fraulein Luthgen practiced that profession a year before entering the diplomatic field, to concern herself with the work of cultural relations between America and Germany. Proficient in Greek, English, and French, she has engaged assignments in Greece and England before coming to this country nine months ago.

A graduate of the Tuebingen University of Berlin, her particular work in the diplomatic service had to do with student and artist exchange, exhibitions, and the teaching of the German language in the countries to which she is sent on assignment.

Though her father is concerned chiefly with iron and coal mining enterprises in Essen, her brother is busy practicing and researching in the field of veterinary medicine. A wholesome, outdoors type of individual, Fraulein Luthgen enjoyed hiking over Cedar Hills Ranch, playing with the Dalmation dogs, and petting the horses. Following a recent visit to Denver, she has sojourned in Taos, N. M., before coming to Donkey Camp by way of Amarillo.

Madame Ali Ghitto of Amarillo had met her countryman in Taos and, on learning she wanted to see a Texas ranch, invited her to Cedar Hills. Miss Luthgen seems to be favorably impressed with the friendliness of the folks out west and her first sampling of Texas hospitality. It is to be hoped, on her return to her motherland, she will be able to further good relations by a first-hand report on our American way of life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

145 Schubert Path
 Cardiff by the Sea, Calif.

Dear Tomie Potts:
 I wonder if it would be possible for us to receive a bumper sticker. I am sure you can remember when B. F. Cope was vice-president of Hall County Association.

I came to Memphis in 1911 and can remember when there were only four businesses on west side of square.

My Papa had a grocery store where Baldwin's store is or until it changed hands. We have lived out here for almost three years, moving in 1963. Am sure you can remember Glen Cope. We lived out at Deep Lake for years. Our former address was 1501 No. Oak, Mineral Wells, Tex.

A hoping we can make it to the reunion this year. Hope the crops are growing fine with no more hail. We are both feeling fine and hope the same for you. Respectfully yours,
 Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cope

Finkley Killed When Truck Jackknifed Sat.

An independent trucker, Loyd Finkley of Fort Worth, was killed about 2 p. m. Saturday, when his truck jackknifed on Highway 287 south of Memphis near Newlin, and he was thrown out of the cab and pinned against a telephone pole.

He was rushed to Hall County Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Finkley, 50, was transported to Yantis, Texas, near Sulphur Springs, where services and burial were held Tuesday.

The driver of the truck, Leroy Shelley Morgan of Pampa, 48, was not injured.

The accident occurred when Finkley's empty truck was proceeding south of Highway 287 and jackknifed to the driver's side. The cab and trailer skidded across the left lane and came to rest against a telephone pole to the east side of the highway.

Damage to the truck was light. The investigating officer was Highway Patrolman Bobby Chaffin of Childress.

NEW MARKETING PROGRAMS FOR TEXAS

The process of marketing Texas farm production can be stated simply as "getting the buyer and the seller together at an agreed price." But the actual process can get quite complicated.

The Texas Department of Agriculture this fall will begin an expanded marketing program to act as a clearing house of information for both buyers and sellers. The goal is to eliminate some of the stumbling blocks in the marketing road.

Because of the sheer size of the state, one area may have a surplus of one kind of commodity with no buyers available, while another area has ample buyers but the same commodity may be in short supply. Mere lack of information on a state-wide basis prevents the buyers and the sellers from getting together.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced that a new program will get underway this fall with six offices in various parts of the state keeping a constant check of supply with six offices in various parts of the state keeping a constant check of supply and demand on Texas crops. These offices will help farmers find an outlet for their crops and keep buyers informed of supplies.

Area locations for the marketing offices are at Lubbock, Stephenville, Tyler, Houston, San Marcos and Pharr, Texas. The state office at Austin will also serve as a central collection agency for information.

If you were to witness the control room activity of a missile shot, you would see the dials, controls, connections and message-sending apparatus necessary to get the bird off the pad. However, the body you pack around so matter-of-factly contains a control and message system so complex as to make a missile effort look like kindergarten stuff.

The body contains billions of nerve cells, or neurons, with billions of connections. Around the outside of the cerebrum, the largest part of the brain, are about nine billion neurons. Since it is necessary for each of these cells to make connection with several other cells, you can readily understand the fantastic number of connections involved in this one area of the human system.

You can readily understand also, the growing importance of prescriptions in the cure or relief of human ailments. Prescriptions are a specialty at P&L SONS-LOCKHART PHARMACY.

Secretary Freeman Gives Report On New Farm Bill

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman last Thursday testified before the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry on the new farm bill, H. R. 9811, which was approved by the House Agriculture Committee and is before the Congress. The bill contains many cotton provisions and would have significant effect on this important commodity.

Freeman's testimony was the result of a long and arduous process. He said that the bill was the result of a compromise between the interests of the cotton farmer and the interests of the consumer. He said that the bill would provide for a more stable cotton market and would help to increase the income of the cotton farmer.

Freeman said that the bill would provide for a more stable cotton market and would help to increase the income of the cotton farmer. He said that the bill would provide for a more stable cotton market and would help to increase the income of the cotton farmer.

Bill 9811 will be required. It is already late in the season, and there is much opposition from non-farm, anti-farm, and some farm groups.

The Secretary listed the following explanation of the proposed cotton legislation:

The proposed cotton legislation, if passed by the Congress, would not only extend the one-price idea that is in effect this year, it would help the government to bring under control the high costs which otherwise would wreck the entire program. We have too much cotton for our markets—our 16 million acre allotment will produce from 3 to 4 million more bales than it produced when first established by law in 1959. Growers would have maximum freedom of choice in making use of the new program:

1. Farmers could plant within the farm domestic acreage allotment (65 per cent of the regular allotment) and receive a higher per pound income from cotton than they are getting this year. In 1967, this return would be made up of a 21-cent price support loan and payments to bring the total price to 35.65 (higher if market price above loan).
2. Other farmers might choose to plant in excess of their farm domestic allotments—either 75 per cent or 85 per cent of regular allotment—and be eligible for loans and smaller payments which would average 32.30 or 29.73, respectively, for cotton produced (again, higher if market above loan). These rates are all in excess of the 1965 guarantees.
3. Or, if a farmer chooses, he could plant all the cotton he wanted without having to pay penalties. He would simply do without price support loans and payments and would depend on the market price of 21-22 cents per pound.

4. If a farmer with an allotment wants to plant no cotton, he can receive a payment of approximately $45-55 per acre for 15 per cent of his allotment. He could then release the remaining 85 per cent or transfer it to another farmer by lease or sale.

The cotton community would not suffer damage or be destroyed. Actually, cotton income would be maintained. Allotment transfers would be permitted within a county; also within the State if producers agree to such transfer in a referendum.

The Cropland Adjustment Program would assist local and area economies. It is expected that very little cotton acreage would go into the Cropland Adjustment Program—only 628,000 acres of cotton allotment nationwide were enrolled in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank at its peak in the late 1950's. The new program would have a number of safeguards to minimize the impact on any one community.

The release and reapportionment would not be deprived of this allotted acreage. In fact, they could acquire additional acreage permanently by purchase or on a long-term lease.

If the Farm Bill fails to pass, we would go back to the 1958 law on cotton, which price support at 65 to 90 percent of parity and continued overproduction. There would be no effective feed grains, wheat or wool programs. A continuing rise in stocks of cotton would threaten the whole program, while the unfairness of the two-price system would drive American textile mills into still greater use of man-made fibers. (The use of synthetic fibers on a cotton equivalent basis already exceeds the use of cotton.) The two-price system could eventually eliminate a substantial portion of our domestic market.

The program proposed in the Omnibus Bill (H. R. 9811) would make U. S. cotton competitive—both in the world cotton market and with synthetic here at home. The Administration is in favor of a strong cotton economy and would oppose any limitations on payments. The bill provides ways to support the income of cotton farmers through other means if limitations on payments are prescribed by the Congress.

In Summary
The Secretary of Agriculture stated: Farmers have more at stake in this proposed program than does anyone else. The problem facing cotton farmers is more critical than it has been at any other time since programs started in 1933. I hope that the vast majority of growers who stand to benefit substantially from a farm program will give serious thought to the cotton situation and the need for a sound cotton program.

"Now, about these resentments of yours—can you go back any further than the safety-pin sticking you?"

The cotton provisions of the Omnibus Bill, H. R. 9811, as reported by Congressman Harold D. Cooley, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, are not necessarily the final answer on all counts, but they do provide the foundation of a good program. And without this bill, we will return to a discredited program that can only damage growers' incomes, give comfort to the competitors of American cotton, and threaten destruction of the entire program.

Andrew Jackson, seventh president, seldom held cabinet meetings, but rather relied on a small group of advisors whom the newspaper dubbed the "Kitchen Cabinet."

National Farm Safety Week To Be Observed July 25-31

County 4-H Farm Safety Program Is Explained, Graphs Made Of Progress

(Editor's Note—Following is a report of the Hall County 4-H Clubs safety program which was one of the major projects of the 4-H Clubs last school year. Next week being National Farm Safety Week, it is appropriate that this program be explained.)

The County-wide safety program was undertaken by the Hall County 4-H Clubs when at the club meetings the program was explained by the County Agent and a list of commonly overlooked hazards was prepared and given to each club member to check with his parents and neighbors. Danger cross-bones cards furnished by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's Farm Magazine was given to each 4-H Club member.

Some of the club members visited farmers which had been missed and families who did not have club members in their homes. When the questionnaires were all filled out and returned to each club, the members made graphs showing the average number of homes in each community which applied these every day safety measures.

About two months after the first survey, the club members in each club visited the same farms again. On most farms the members were greeted by outstanding improvement. The second graphs showed the club members and farmers had made much progress.

The graphs from each of the six 4-H Clubs in Hall County were collected from each community and county graph was made for Hall County. The county graph showed the following achievements: 424 families reported that they had removed fire hazards; 385 families using information on preventing farm and home accidents; 15 more 4-H club members reported installing first aid boxes in their homes; and 385 families reported using safety-first methods.

The four principles used were as follows: recognize the hazard, place danger cross-bone sign to correct this hazard; remove the hazard; and use caution when hazards can not be entirely removed.

In follow-up meetings, the club members studied the safety program, and hazards from the charts. The 4-H safety program has attracted much interest by the farmers and competition between the club members. This program has created a safety consciousness among the rural people. Each farmer was pleased to hear about the safety project program, and many of them assisted the club members with the survey.

By discussing safety information with all 4-H boys, it was felt that they could do much to carry educational material to the families, and thought they did a good job. 4-H boys distributed much literature on farm safety, prevention of farm fires and accidents on rat-proofing outbuildings.

Actual demonstration of artificial respiration were given at each club meeting over the county.

As a result of the Safety Program, more farmers and ranchers have plowed fire guards and fence rows around their farms and ranches, and we have very few farm fires, Hooser said.

Many of them have a barrel of water and a bucket around their barn, granaries and car sheds in case of fire. They have dug new wells to increase the water supply.

The safety program has had home influence in causing many farmers to check their farm machinery before they are used in order to prevent accidents.

Local adult leaders in the six 4-H clubs of Hall County have really contributed their time, energy and service in the safety program, field days, shows, demonstrations and club meetings, he said.

The adult leaders have met with the clubs once a month, assisted the club members in selecting his project, and the keeping of records; encampment; local, county and state shows; judging teams and other phases of 4-H activities.

The Superintendents of Schools have cooperated with the adult leaders and the Extension Service in the 4-H Club meetings in permitting the use of school buses on tours, field days, shows and encampments.

The contribution of the parents of the club members have really helped the Safety Program and all other phases of the 4-H Club activities. Their assistance is very essential in any club program.

Back in 1847 the U. S. Post Office delivered newspapers for a distance up to 30 miles without charge, but deliveries over 30 miles and under 100 miles were made for a penny.

In 1843 Samuel Morse received an appropriation of $30,000 from the federal government to build a telegraph line from Washington to Baltimore.

Hooser Urges Farm Wives To Be Fire Chiefs

"Every farmer's wife a fire chief." That's what County Agent Hooser is urging to cut down the number of farm fires that kill many persons annually in rural areas.

"Over fifty percent of farm fires start in the farmhouse," Mr. Hooser revealed. "The housewife, therefore, is the logical person to be home Fire Chief and check up on others in the family so they won't start fires through carelessness."

This means she must be especially careful in her own everyday tasks, he pointed out. "Electric irons alone start 40 fires a day in American homes while ignition of hot grease and cook stove fires account for many more."

As Home Fire Chief, the farm wife should deputize a man in the family to check electric connections and outlets regularly to prevent fires from sparks and short circuits, Mr. Hooser declared. "She also should see that dry cleaning is not done near stoves or open flames. Home dry cleaning fires kill more than 800 people every year. Careless smoking causes more than one-third of the 300,000 fires that happen in the home every year. Smoking in bed kills more people than any single cause and should be forbidden."

"Housewives should see that their families use common sense and not take needless fire risks," Mr. Hooser said. "An extra precaution is to have approved fire extinguishers within easy reach in case fires do occur. Properly used, they can keep fire from spreading while help from volunteer or other fire companies is on the way. But the greatest fire-preventive is fire-alertness. And housewives can make their families alert and keep

USDA Studies Farm Accidents

Farm-accident fatalities are not declining in proportion to the decline in farm population, according to a report received by W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent.

One reason cited for the continuing high death rate in farm accidents is the increasing average age of people on farms. Another is that farms are somewhat isolated, with little supervision of work and not much opportunity for an injured person to obtain first aid immediately. Also, traffic on rural highways is less controlled than on urban street.

Accidents resulting in non-fatal injuries occur to about a third of the farm population annually, the report said. About 19 percent of farm people are injured seriously enough in these accidents to lose time from their work, and about 3 percent are permanently disabled each year.

Traffic accidents account for many of the serious injuries of farm people away from the farm. Accidents on the farm are often associated with farm machinery and falls are the most common cause of accidents in farm homes.

The report stated that hospitalization and medical treatment are believed to account for less than a fourth of the total cost of farm accidents. As yet, little is known about the economic loss of wages or production, which probably accounts for a considerable part of the total costs.

The information developed by USDA's Economic Research Service, points out W. B. Hooser, County Agent, is aimed at stimulating more effective accident-prevention programs for farm people. Hooser encourages farm people to make farm and home safety them alert to fire dangers better than anyone in the family."

Home Is Full Of Potential Danger Items

Shoe polish, oven cleaner, hair-waving lotion, wax. They don't sound harmful.

But these items plus kerosene, bleach, toilet cleaner, medicine, turpentine, lighter fluid, deodorant, dry-cleaning fluid and plant spray may be potential dangers in your home, advises County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Why? Because each product contains some hazardous substance that could cause illness or death if taken internally.

Of course, it would be inconvenient, if not possible, to stop using these items in the home. But you can do the next best thing—protect the family, particularly the young children, from accidental contact with these products.

Know what you are buying. Examine the labels—read the small print. Look for these words: "Caution" or "warning"—indicates that the material is a hazardous substance.

"Danger"—refers to substances that are highly toxic, extremely flammable, or corrosive.

"Poison"—refers to products defined as highly toxic.

Some of the labels will carry the skull and crossbones of a part of community planning and program building.

"We can no longer take safety for granted because the ever-increasing use of machinery, electricity, chemicals and other labor saving devices and materials make training in safety a must for farm people," emphasized Hooser. "The safety record of agriculture can stand a lot of improving and it is up to those in the industry to do something about it," concludes the county agent.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

WHY NOT A PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE?

While the "Voting Rights Bill" under debate in the House represented, I was deeply dismayed and disturbed by an amendment which I failed of passage. The amendment was very simple. It required that every person presenting himself to vote would be required to take an oath to defend the Constitution of the United States and to swear or affirm that he was not a member of any organization advocating the violent overthrow of this government. The amendment further provided that penalties against anyone voting falsely or with intent to defraud should be provided.

Further provided THAT MEMBERSHIP IN THE COMMUNIST PARTY OR AN AFFILIATED ORGANIZATION BY TAKING SUCH OATH WOULD BE PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF FALSIFICATION OR INTENT TO DECEIVE. In short, any Communist or member of an affiliated organization taking the oath could be assessed a jail sentence and a substantial fine. At the present time, there is no prohibition of any kind against Communists and those seeking to destroy the Constitutional government of this country from voting. The so-called "Voting Rights Bill" opened this door wider. It was my feeling that there should be some safeguard placed in the bill. Hence, I offered my amendment. I was not only dismayed and shocked at the obvious and open attempt to prevent any debate on the subject and to rush it to a vote without the membership having an opportunity to thoroughly understand it or to discuss it.

The oath that would have been required under my amendment was the same identical oath that is required of members of the Congress when they are sworn in, with one exception; my amendment would have required the further statement that the person wanting to vote was not a member of any organization advocating the violent overthrow of the Constitutional government of this nation. I would support a Constitutional Amendment requiring this addition to the oath taken by members of the United States Congress.

It has always been my feeling, my belief, and my philosophy that the right to vote carried with it a corresponding responsibility. Hence, how could anyone desiring to participate in the electoral process of this government refuse conscientiously to subscribe to the form of government that creates that right?

I feel so deeply on this subject that I am presently preparing a separate bill to accomplish the result which I sought to attain by my amendment. It would be my fondest hope that those individuals, those groups, and those organizations in this country who proclaim themselves champions and advocates of the Constitution would rise up in full support of such a measure, whether it bears my name or the name of others, and let the voice of the people in this country be heard. Let us provide at least one effective

Wills Family Reunion Slated For July 25th

The annual reunion of the family of S. H. Wills will be held here Sunday, July 25, according to an announcement by Doyle Fowler early this week.

Relatives and friends will gather at Fowler's Swimming Pool Sunday morning, and a lunch will be spread in the picnic area at the noon hour. Approximately 150 persons are expected to be present.

Fowler stated that the pool and skating rink will be closed to the public on that date.

weapon against these ideologies of Godlessness, hatred, and enslavement, all dedicated to the destruction of the basic philosophy of the freedom and dignity of the individual.

If support of this undertaking is forthcoming, you may rest assured that the voice of the people will be heard in the halls of Congress and the needed action will be taken. It is by this method that we can effectively bring out into the open these individuals and organizations who are agencies of the destruction of our way of life and everything for which we stand.

Judges List Blocks Chosen In First Survey Of Beautification Program

A list of blocks selected by the judges in the first survey was released this week by the chairman of the Beautification Contest, Mrs. M. G. Tarver. The program is being sponsored by the 1913 Study Club in co-operation with other organizations.

The survey was made by judges from the Memphis Garden Club. The judges named complete blocks, but stated there were many half blocks that qualified in being well kept, and that several of the blocks named at this time were in close competition with others in the area.

Final winners will be named in September. Persons are reminded that blocks selected in the first survey may not be the ones chosen in the final survey. Therefore, all residents are still eligible to enter the contest since final block winners will be named in September.

Swaim Brothers To Speak Sunday At Local Church

Continuing the 75th anniversary observance, two sons of a former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, the late Rev. William T. Swaim, Sr., will speak at the local church Sunday morning, Rev. Richard Avery, pastor, announced this week.

The Swaim family lived in Memphis from 1912 until 1921 while Rev. Swaim served as pastor of the local congregation.

Speakers Sunday at the morning service will be the Rev. William T. Swaim, Jr., of Dillsburg, Pa., and the Rev. Robert L. Swaim, who is professor of Philosophy and Religion at Beaver College, as well as College Chaplain.

The Rev. Robert Swaim attended the University of Tennessee and Maryville College, got his A. B. degree from the University of Pittsburg. From Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburg, he has a degree of S. T. B. and his Doctorate was secured at Liff School of Theology, Denver before coming to Beaver College.

He is married to the former Grace McBurney, who was reared near Pittsburg, and whose picture was in Look Magazine a couple of years ago as one of the pioneer school teachers in teaching the new math. They have an adopted son, Bobby, who is 13 years of age.

Rev. William Swaim is director of Presbyterian Homes of Central Pennsylvania. This includes nine scattered home-like homes for the aging. Rev. Swaim is considered an authority in this field and travels extensively on speaking engagements. He will go from Memphis to Hereford, where he will lecture on homes for the aging.

A cordial invitation is extended the many friends of the Swaim family to be present for the services at 11 o'clock Sunday, Rev. Avery stated.
