Auto Insurance Rates Increase!

Texas motorists can be prepared to expect that auto insurance rates in Texas may rise an average of $2.11 a year per motorist. State insurance Board weighing testimony given at a public hearing on rates last week. Decision probably will be announced soon, since new rates usually are effective, August 1.

If the board follows staff recommendations some of the rate changes could be: Liability (bodily injury and property damage) up 11.9 per cent; Private passenger $50 deductible collision, up 2.4 per cent; Full comprehensive coverage, up 0.3 per cent; and private passenger $50 deductible, comprehensive coverage, up 17.7 per cent.

Among the strong recommendations to the Board were: a driving record classification to reward the safe driver with lower rates and hit the "bad" driver with higher premiums; a more flexible rate schedule for drivers under age 25—with highest rates for young males of 17; a private passenger classification plan to produce a lower rate for drivers with less exposure to accident conditions; and a means by which a driver in the "assigned risk plan" could purchase additional coverage over normal $10,000-$20,000 limits.

The Board earlier announced it was considering feasibility of requiring companies to write an equitable portion of all lines and classes of insurance in order to provide coverage for drivers over 65 and under 25 who face increasing difficulties keeping policies in force.

Whatever the State Insurance Board decision will be, it is almost a certainty that auto insurance rates will again this year take another jump. Motorists may not be aware of one aspect of insurance rates. Rates do vary widely among 26 rating districts in the state.

The trend in auto insurance seems to be toward rewarding good drivers with cheaper rates than required of those with poorer driving records.

There are many benefits in being a good, safe driver, besides cheaper rates. Many times, however, human nature being as it is, we as citizens are motivated more by the cost we must pay than by the benefits derived. If higher auto insurance rates bring about a safer driving public which in turn would save lives, reduce injuries and property loss, then most drivers would welcome this move.

But the reason insurance rates are going up is because more accidents are occurring than ever before. Partially, this is because there are more vehicles on the road and partially because drivers are not adhering to safe driving practices.

It would appear, however, that auto insurance is following certain other trends today, becoming more and more expensive for the same service received.

Metric System Of Measurement

Have you ever really stopped and thought about the different kinds of measuring systems being used in the United States today? If you have been a student of science or have traveled to foreign countries, you are probably familiar with the Metric System of Measure.

Congress recently authorized several million dollars to finance a three-year study of the feasibility of shifting our system of weights and measures over to the metric system. If the results are favorable to such a shift and Congress were to legislate the shift, we would start measuring quantities in terms of kilos, liters and grams, rather than pounds, ounces, quarters and tons.

The job of shifting would require years and mass investments in equipment, scales, bottling equipment, tools and many other items used in business and home. Also, the education process would require billions of man-hours as a conservative guess.

There are advantages to adopting the metric system of weights and measures. The United States and Canada are the only major countries now using the old English system of miles and pounds. As a result, persons engaged in international trade or travel must familiarize themselves with the metric system. The switch back and forth between the two systems is quite burdensome and often costly.

Even England, who was the parent of the Old English System, gave it up many, many years ago. Congress is thinking seriously about a change or the Congressmen would never have authorized the study to be made at public expense.

One humorous thought comes to mind if the system is changed. Can you imagine a housewife trying to change her favorite recipe over to metric measures? It could be confusing to say the least.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

RESEARCH INDICATES TIME TO WATER CROPS

"Many years of irrigation research have led to the development of a number of basic principles farmers can use to decide the time and amount of water to apply to cotton and grain sorghums," says W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agent.

Scientists have found that cotton uses about one-tenth of an inch of water up to about the square stage. Then the plant's water consumption increases rapidly until it reaches a peak of from .25 to .4 inches per day at the peak bloom stage.

"Irrigation should be based on this water-use information," says Hooser. "but, of course, the number of irrigations will be influenced by the rainfall and the watering capability of the irrigation system."

If only one irrigation will be made, the agent says it should ideally go on at early peak bloom.

"Cotton to be irrigated twice or more during the summer has been found to produce more efficiently when the first irrigation is applied in the first white bloom period with the others following in the peak bloom period," Hooser said.

"More than ten years of studies at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, near Lubbock, indicate that a pre-plant plus two summer irrigations will produce the maximum net returns in the long run," Hooser said.

"Additional irrigation naturally increases per acre yields, but the yields do not increase proportionally with the amount of water added. Late irrigations are sometimes not paid for by the small increases in yield and they can lower the cotton's quality," the agent said.

Regardless of the number of irrigations following a pre-plant, the first application generally should not precede the first white bloom. Excessive moisture before bloom generally encourages excessive vegetative growth rather than fruiting. In every row irrigation, the highest yield per acre-inch of water has been obtained with a pre-plant plus one summer irrigation.

"Even this efficiency may be increased along with increases in per acre yields with the same amount of water, by the use of alternate furrow irrigation," says Extension Irrigation Specialist

Bill Lyle of Lubbock. "This permits more timely applications of limited water. Proper timing of irrigation is often more important than the total amount applied."

"Grain sorghum uses less than one-tenth of an inch of water per day up to about the seven leaf stage and then the use rate increases rapidly," Hooser said. "The peak water use of more than 13 inches per day comes between the boot and bloom stage. Research indicates the best grain sorghum yields are produced when available soil moisture is kept at or about about 45 percent of capacity from the pre-boot to the soft dough stage."

Two well-timed seasonal irrigations will generally give good yields and probably near maximum net returns on grain sorghum. The agent says these two irrigations ideally should be applied at pre-boot and at the late-bloom stage.

"As with cotton," Hooser says, "research indicates one irrigation on grain sorghum gives the most efficient water uses. If rainfall is short, the boot stage is the approximate time to apply the one irrigation. However, if conditions allow delaying this irrigation to the milk stage, research shows yields will be better even though earlier moisture stress may shorten the plant more than a foot."

No matter how many irrigations are applied, early moisture followed by later moisture stress should be avoided on grain sorghum if possible.

The agent explained that rapid elongation preceding the boot stage followed by moisture stress during grain development is likely to cause lodging as a result of charcoal rot.

"This irrigation research information may not always work as expected on any one farm," says Hooser. "but local farmers can consider the basic ideas and apply those that fit into their water and crop situation."

The agent said that he has more detailed information on irrigation research and recommendations available at his office.

Outboard Overboard!

During the fishing season many motors are dropped in the water while being mounted on transoms at docksides.

You can eliminate this danger. Simply back your boat to the dock or bank so that your motor won't have to be lugged the length of the boat to reach the transom.

Also—this makes the job a lot easier on tempers as well as muscles.

A litany was directed by Mrs. Alexander with all Guild members answering in unison and joining in a prayer to accept the command of God.

"As is the custom of the Wesleyan Service Guild each year to honor some member for their devotion, stewardship, dedication, loyalty, fellowship and outstanding work in the Guild and Church, a Life membership is presented. This year the one so honored is Mable Lavender. We are indeed grateful for all that Mable does because of these things and it gives us great pleasure to bestow this pin and certificate as our token of appreciation," Mrs. Wynn said.

Memphis Takes Big Step Into Class AA, Season Schedule, Rules, Are Given

By BILL COMBS
Memphis athletes and fans are looking for a big change next fall when the 1966 edition of the Cyclone enters under Head Coach Bert Glascock enters competition with member of District 3-AA.

Time has come when Memphis must step up to Class AA and the University Interscholastic League notified local officials that the move is effective this season.

The effect will this have on Memphis? School officials predict the effect will be nothing. Considering the circumstances, things will be different.

Off Memphis will be playing in the big district. Big in numbers, big in competition, probably the most important as far as fans are concerned in territory covered.

Fans can plan on traveling an average of over 100 miles to any out-of-town district game. There are eight teams in District 3-AA: Lockney, Dimmitt, Abilene, Olton, Floydada, Hale, Friona and Memphis.

Play begins the night of Oct. 30 with the Cyclone traveling to Lockney.

The season's schedule calls for the game to be with Clarksville.

Antiquing Made EASY
Martin Senour's Provincial Color Glaze gives 13 beautiful colors for TV & Appliance

endon on Sept. 9. This should be a good non-district contest.

Then on Sept. 16, Memphis plays host to Shamrock Irish in the first home game of the season.

The next weekend, Class AAA Childress Bobcats will come to Memphis to renew an old time non-district rivalry. This is the weekend of Sept. 25.

Opening district play on Sept. 30 at Lockney, the Cyclone and the Longhorns will be facing each other for the first time. Coach (Doc) Mize's Longhorns wear red and white and play in a stadium in the northeast part of town.

On Oct. 7, the Cyclone plays host to the Dimmitt Bobcats under Coach Brown Smith. The Bobcats wear purple and white uniforms.

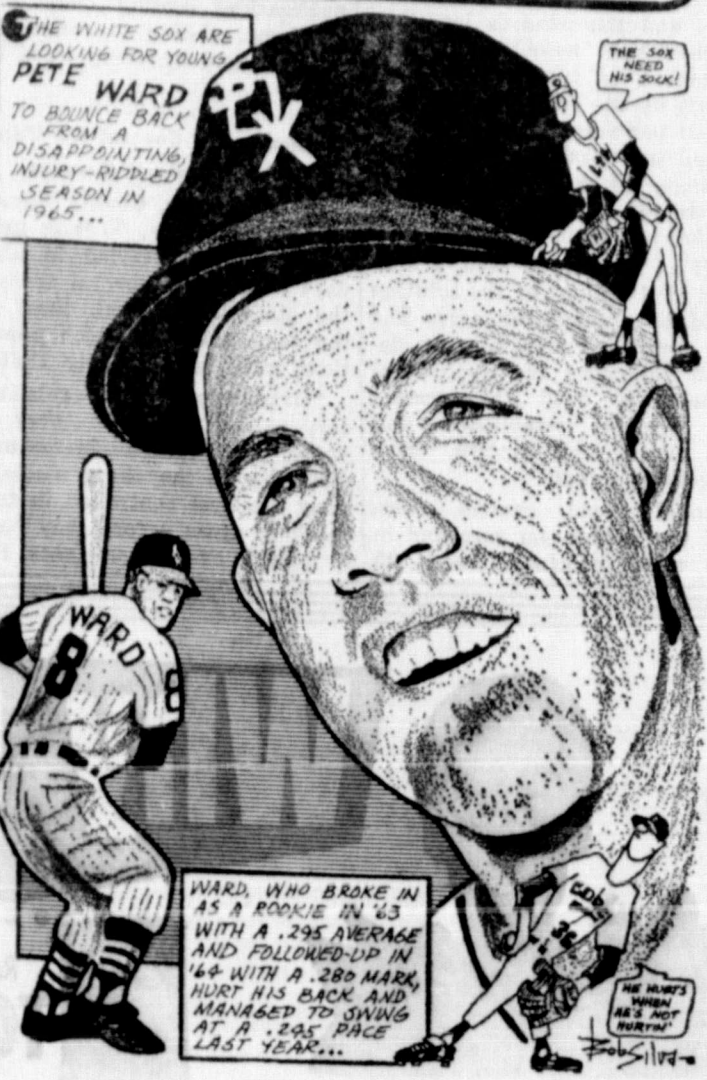

Then, on Oct. 14, Memphis goes to Abernathy to the Antelopes' Stadium located west of the square. Coach Don Williams' Antelopes are one of the district favorites this season.

Oct. 21, the Cyclone plays host to the Olton Mustangs who wear blue and white. Don Beck, who was at Wellington last season and no stranger to Memphis fans, is the head coach of the Mustangs.

Floydada Stadium, the home of the Whirlwinds under Coach Bill Curry, will be the scene of the Oct. 28 district game for the Cyclone. The stadium is located about 10 blocks south of the square and is rather hard to find, it was reported. The Whirlwinds wear green and white.

On Nov. 4, the Cyclone plays host to another district favorite, the Hale Center Owls, under Coach C. H. Keeton, who wears blue and gold uniforms.

SPORTS CORNER

The last scheduled game of the season is a long one for Memphis fans, as the Cyclone travels to the west side of the Panhandle to play the Friona Chiefs, the defending champions of District 3-AA. Don Light's boys are also possible favorites to win again this season. They wear red and white uniforms and the stadium is located on the Hereford Highway.

Memphis fans will be glad to know that the Cyclone is the only team in District 3-AA which has black and gold colors, a big difference over the old District 2-A which had Memphis, Canadian, McLean and at one time Lefors, all in the same colors.

Ray Schultz of Olton was elected chairman of District 3-AA and Joe Turner was elected secretary. The district voted unanimously on Oct. 20 to admit Memphis to the district.

Admission to football games will be $1.25 for adults, and $1.50 for students, to all games.

All district games begin at 7:30 p. m. unless changed by mutual agreement of schools involved. A JV football without a stripe will be used and be kept by the home team unless the winner of the game wishes to purchase the ball. Home team will wear light colored jerseys.

In case of a tie game, the winner will be decided on the night of the game on the basis of penetrations first, and in case penetrations are tied, then on the basis of first downs, then if scores, penetrations and first downs are tied, the game will be considered a tie game and be counted one-half game lost, one-half game won for the district standing. In the event of the season's standings being tied between two teams, and the two teams involved in such a tie are tied for the District Championship, the district representative will be decided by the flip of a coin.

If two teams are tied on percentage basis at the end of the season the team that beat the other will be declared district representative and the two teams will be declared co-champions. If more than two teams are tied on a percentage basis, the District representative will be declared by lot, and all the teams so tied be declared co-champions.

All pre-game ceremonies will be completed by 7:25 p. m. No play by play description of games shall be permitted at the game site and the public address system shall be used only for pre-game ceremonies, emergency announcements, safety slogans, and for describing half-time ceremonies.

Suzette Smithee Named Attorney At Girls State

Mary Suzette Smithee of 1519 Dover Street, Memphis, a citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State, held the past weekend in Austin, at the Texas School for the Blind, was elected Attorney of City F, in the local election. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Amel Smithee and was sponsored to Girls State by the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit 175.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, the purpose of the Girls State Program is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults. They learn the problems of government by performing the same duties as real office holders in the everyday world. Citizens are selected at local levels principally on a basis of character and leadership from students who have just completed their junior year in high school each year.

The 1966 Session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extra-curricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year, 400 girls are in attendance, plus two from Mexico City, making a total of more than 7,200 girls in Texas who have participated in this top-level citizenship program.

Food for the Fourth by Betty Crocker

To get into the spirit of things, let's plan a picnic for the Fourth — at the seashore, in the park, or at home in your own backyard. And for food that's fun, what's more appropriate than good old American hot dogs — ballpark-style with relishes and mustard, or turned into Coney Islands with chili con carne. Balance the menu with deviled eggs, tossed vegetable salad, potato chips and fresh fruit. Add a Yankee Doodle Velvet Crumb Cake for dessert, a few patriotic colors — and, when it's a red-white-and-blue celebration. The cake is fudge in flavor and frosting, because that's the all-American favorite. The perfect choice, wouldn't you say, for Independence Day?

YANKEE DOODLE VELVET CRUMB CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups Bisquick
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 3 tablespoons soft butter
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 350°. Grease and flour a square pan, 8x8x2 inches. Mix Bisquick, sugar and cocoa. Add butter, egg and 1/4 cup of the milk. Beat 1 minute with electric mixer at medium speed. Add remaining milk and the vanilla. Beat 1/2 minute. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake 25 to 40 minutes. Frost, 9 servings.

This cake is a new variation of our old favorite, the Velvet Crumb Cake. Since the original is so popular, we turned it into a fudge cake — just as simple to do, just as fine and even in texture. And to double the fudge pleasure, here's a quick-as-a-wink chocolate icing for it.

OLD GLORY CHOCOLATE ICING

Combine 1 package (8 ounces) semisweet chocolate pieces, 2 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons milk in saucepan. Stir over low heat until chocolate is just melted. Remove from heat. Stir in 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat until smooth, glossy and easy to spread. Enough frosting for 8- or 9-inch square cake. Decorate with tiny American flags at serving time. One jaunty flag in the center of each slice of cake.

RED WHITE AND BLUE TABLE TRIM

Blue oilcloth as a tablecloth, white fingertip towels for napkins, bright red apples in the center. OR large white beach towels — red and blue bandanas.

Happy Fourth, everybody!

Ann Long, Bride-Elect, Complimented At Display Shower In Beavers Home

A miscellaneous display shower honoring Miss Ann Long, bride-elect of Wayland Fronterhouse, was held Friday, June 10, in the spacious home of Mrs. M. J. Beavers.

For the occasion, the honoree chose a white dress with a corsage of white and yellow sweet-heart roses, with yellow slippers, carrying out her chosen colors.

Guests calling during the appointed hours were greeted by Mrs. Beavers, the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Lee Long, and the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. H. L. Fronterhouse. Members of the receiving line wore corsages of white feathered carnations.

Gaylynn Jeffers registered guests in the bride's book, which was marked with a yellow streamer. A miniature bride figure graced the registry.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Mrs. Phillip Mackey and Mrs. David Moore. The table was laid with white net over a petticoat of white damask and edged with double satin bands. Two satin streamers extended from the lovely centerpiece of tiny yellow rosebuds and white baby's breath to the front corners of the table, and were secured with yellow rosebuds. Silver candelabra holding yellow tapers flanked the floral arrangement. Miniature cake squares decorated in yellow and white, and tinted sherbet punch were served from silver and crystal appointments.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Weeds Rob Soil Of Moisture
"Weeds use four to eleven times more water for growth than do the good native grasses. A heavy weed growth is a tough competitor for grass seedlings, retards range improvement and furnishes little forage for beef cattle," reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

"Too," adds Hooser, "some weeds are poisonous to livestock, and death losses can be heavy when desirable forages are not available for grazing. Other weeds can cause mechanical damage to animals' eyes and other parts of their bodies. Weed control is of major importance on grazing lands in Hall County. On root-plowed and seeded areas, weeds may be controlled with herbicides to reduce competition and insure establishment of the seeded grasses.

"Herbicides solutions for weed control must be applied to obtain full coverage when weeds are four to six inches tall, growing vigorously with plenty of soil moisture and when the temperature ranges from 55 to 85 degrees and the wind is less than 10 miles per hour. If ground equipment is used, from 15-20 gallons of the solution should be applied per acre with a broadcast (boomless) nozzle with 00-20 jet openings, 30 pounds of pressure and tractor ground speed of 4 to 5 miles per hour.

"If an airplane is used, a minimum of 4 gallons of the solution should be applied per acre. The weed controlled area must be deferred following the application of chemicals until the grasses have become established and made considerable growth," says the county agent.

Annual weed control costs about two dollars per acre and in areas where rainfall exceeds 25 inches, forage production increases from 1,900 to 5,500 pounds per acre can be expected. In lower rainfall areas, the increase in forage production should be in proportion depending upon the range condition, says Hooser.

The county agent adds that he has available at his office several publications dealing with many problems relating to range management and including weed control.

Grasshopper Control On Range And Pasture Grasses

W. B. Hooser, County Agricultural Agent, says, "Young grasshoppers are appearing in abundant numbers in several areas of the state. In general, these are the same areas in which populations were heavy during 1965.

"Grasshoppers are relatively easy to control when they are young but become increasingly difficult as they near maturity. They are best controlled in their hatching areas before they begin to migrate over larger areas. Frequently, spot treatments of the hatching areas will prevent later widespread damage."

Eggs are usually deposited in late summer and fall in the soil in grassy, uncultivated areas such as roadsides, fence rows, idle crop land and pastures. The young nymphs, after hatching the following spring, feed in the vicinity for several days before beginning to disperse. Applying control measures while the population is still relatively concentrated will reduce later damage to pastures and crops.

Several insecticides give effective control of young grasshoppers. Producers should pay careful attention to the label precautions before applying any insecticide to pastures or crops and observe strictly the prescribed harvest, grazing or slaughter intervals.

Listed below are approved chemicals and restrictions for use on pastures concerning the insecticides, active ingredient, and remarks and restrictions:

Carbaryl (Savin), 0.5-1.5 lb.

per acre, no time limitations. Malathion, 1.25 lb. per acre, time limitations. Apply as directed.

Heptachlor, 3 ounces per acre, do not graze dairy animals in treated areas. Do not graze animals being finished for slaughter within 90 days after application. Toxaphene, 1.5 lbs. per acre. Only one application per year. Do not pasture dairy animals until 7-10 days following application of heptachlor and toxaphene before grazing areas. The cides, Regulation Division. These chemicals should not be used for hopper control on range pasture. For control recommendations on specific field crops, contact the appropriate Texas Agricultural Extension Service control guide.

Miss Gail Stephens of Hall County is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. W. V. Courson.

Of the 165 VA hospitals, 38 hospitals and a number of outpatient clinics are conducting research programs in this field. Special laboratories for aging research are established in seven VA hospitals. Thirty-two cooperative studies, involving three to 30 hospitals each, are directly related to the research.
A program of "satellite laboratories" nourishes new concepts in the problems of aging. In these the VA is obtaining the cooperation of a distinguished group of scientists and physicians who are not otherwise associated with the agency. To them the VA offers facilities and staff assistance in nearby VA hospitals for the advance of their own ideas for research.
Six of these VA satellite laboratories operate at Bedford, Mass., Baltimore, Md., Downey, Ill., Buffalo, N. Y., and two at Sepulveda, Calif. Ten additional satellite laboratories are planned.
Concerned with the physical aspects of aging, researchers at the Sepulveda VA Hospital observed a progressive enlargement of the heart and change of metabolism during the aging process. They noted a decrease in protein albumin carried to the heart muscle, and a decrease in hyaluronic acid present in organs having an increasing amount of connective tissue.
The loss of hyaluronic acid would account for many of the characteristics associated with aging, they contended. In the animal laboratory they were able to demonstrate an increase in albumin and hyaluronic acid in the vital organs following the administration of the female hormone estrogen.

While an expected increase has occurred in the number of patients suffering from the chronic diseases which affect older persons, the VA hospitals have had an increase of 33 percent in the number of arteriosclerotic heart disease patients, and an increase of 50 percent in the number of patients suffering strokes and other brain damage accompanying aging.
Efforts have been intensified in the investigation of heart disease, strokes, emphysema, cancer, diabetes, rheumatism and mental illness, the VA revealed. Emphasis is being placed upon new ideas and new approaches to the multitude of problems presented by aging and the increasing population of senior citizens.
Certain complex body sugars called mucopolysaccharides (MPS) always decrease with age, according to research workers at the VA Hospital in West Roxbury, Mass. They also found an increased resistance to drying by the MPS while the water content decreased with age.
Three major studies now under way represent the scope of the VA research in aging. A long-term study of the aging process in healthy men was launched by the VA Outpatient Clinic at Boston. It will delineate selective anatomic, biochemical, physiologic, and psychosocial aspects of aging in 1,500 initially healthy men ranging in age from 25 to 65 years. The subjects volunteered to return for periodic examinations for the rest of their lives.

This study is expected to provide descriptions of the normal aging processes, prediction of late outcomes, and correlation of variables. The subjects were screened for normality and will return for extensive examinations at intervals of three to five years. Each test series comprises about 15 hours of examination.
The Spanish-American War veterans study is a collaborative effort by trained teams from Brandeis University of Chicago. Surviving veterans of some of the 14,000 Spanish-American War veterans who have been receiving treatment at VA hospitals across the country are interviewed by these teams. The objects is to attempt to learn what factors have influenced the survival of this group of veterans who now average 87 years of age.
The Domiciliary Diet Fat Study at the VA Center in Los Angeles, is an observation of 400 domiciliary members who have had their diets altered so that normal fat has been mostly replaced by unsaturated fats. This experiment is double blind, which means that neither the patients nor their doctors know which patients are receiving experimental diets and which get regular diets.
The six surviving veterans of the Indian Wars and the Spanish American War veterans are the oldest surviving U. S. war veterans. They are followed by more than 2 million veterans of World War I, who now average 71 years of age.

The 21.5 million World War II veterans average 46 years old and the 5.7 million veterans of the Korean Conflict who had some service in World War II average 36 years. An additional 4.5 million Korean Conflict veterans who had no service in World War II average two years younger.

The need for intensive study of the problems of aging is pointed up by the fact that census estimates indicate that 28 million Americans will have passed the age of 60 by the year 1970, an increase of 4 million above the total which had reached that age in 1960, the VA said.
Knowledge gained from the VA research programs in aging will be used to provide better treatment for illnesses which beset senior citizens and will be used to make their lives more comfortable and more productive.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGEKS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Sugar Import Threat

While increasing domestic sugar production, a new round in this old fight is shaping because imports have risen swiftly and threateningly of products or mixtures containing sugar and butterfat and/or flour. These products are ingredients used by, among others, ice cream manufacturers and contain, commonly, approximately 55 percent sugar by bulk. While imports of these products totaled less than 3.5 million pounds in 1965, the import total in only the first five months of this year reached 37 million pounds. In 1964, when the world price of sugar was higher than the U. S. price, there were no imports to this country of these products, but now the world price has fallen and the best market is in this country. Therefore, sugar that once was sold elsewhere is aimed at the U. S. market in a form not covered in the Sugar Act in order that the best price can be obtained.

Importing these products runs directly counter to the mandate of Congress in setting the Sugar Act quotas. The countries pushing the sugar mixtures are Belgium, Denmark, Great Britain, and West Germany, among others. Since none of these countries was assigned quotas for raw sugar, their shipping sugar-containing products or mixtures serves to add to the burden American farmers must carry because of already-excessive import levels. The sugar-containing products being imported are direct substitutions for products Americans could supply.

The Department of Agriculture has been reviewing this problem at the instigation of concerned Members of Congress and the domestic sugar industry and has taken the first step toward limiting the importation of sugar-containing products. Section 206 of the Sugar Act provides that if importation of any such products will substantially interfere with the attainment of objectives of Act, limits may be set on the quantities of such products to be imported. The setting of these limits is now being undertaken. Under the proposal, when proposed quotas become effective, no further imports will be permitted to enter the United States this year except from those countries that still have not shipped the amount specified in their quotas. The proposal also calls for imports to be reduced further in the calendar year beginning, January, 1967.

Meanwhile, those of us interested in obtaining for American farmers the right to serve their own country's needs must continue the right to educate the Congress, officials in the Executive Branch, and the public at large as to the problem and opportunity. Sugar beets are a crop that could accomplish much toward solving economic problems for many farming areas in the United States—if only more Americans were permitted to grow them.

gum, Denmark, Great Britain, and West Germany, among others. Since none of these countries was assigned quotas for raw sugar, their shipping sugar-containing products or mixtures serves to add to the burden American farmers must carry because of already-excessive import levels. The sugar-containing products being imported are direct substitutions for products Americans could supply.

GIRL SCOUTING

A most interesting experience in Indian lore highlighted the 1966 Day Camp program of the Girl Scouts of Memphis, Hedley and Turkey. The site was located four miles west of Memphis on the Alexander ranch on Indian Creek. Five units were situated along the bank of the creek and were shaded with trees which made camping conditions ideal.

The first day of camp was spent selecting sites and determining boundaries which were marked with binder twine for walls. Some units had two door openings and some had one. One unit was completely private as it could not be seen from the creek bed. There was plenty of room for the 71 registered girl scouts to enjoy. Hikes and crafts took most of the time on Tuesday as well as planning menus for the cook-out on Wednesday.

Cooking in the out-of-doors is always a big part of the day camp program for the Brownies to the Seniors. Each girl had a part in preparation of the food and learning how to build a number of different types of camp fires. A good meal was cooked in each unit. Some units prepared a delicious one-pot stew while others cooked meat, potatoes, carrots and onions with seasoning cooked in foil and others made sloppy-joes. Almost everyone enjoyed the traditional "smoors" for dessert made of graham crackers, Hershey bars and marshmallows.

Thursday afternoon was spent getting the camp site ready for visitors. A program was presented at 6:30 p. m. including songs and skits by each unit. Boy Scout Troop No. 30 of Clarendon presented a number of Indian dances. The program closed with the evening Flag Ceremony.

Friday is always a busy day and this year the campers did an exceptional job of breaking camp due to threatening rain and all the surroundings were cleared of any traces that there had been a day camp returning home about 1:30 p. m.

Official Council visitors was Mrs. Elmont Branigan, accompanied by Mrs. Norma Whiteley, District Director of District III. Mrs. W. R. Herndon served as Day Camp Director, and was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Bachman. These ladies had charge of the arrangements of materials and supplies as well as purchases of groceries for the cook-out. Other adults participating in the program were Hazel Williamson, Jo Hamill, Paulette Bolden, Wanda Davis, Nancy Studstill, Pat Chambliss, Rita Hall, Mary Ruth White, Betty Morgan, Evelyn Messer, Hazel Myers, Patsy Sims, Vernell Cotton and Betty Driskill. Senior Aides included Shirley Johnson, Kathy Wedge, Joan Lyles, Glenna Cotton and Laura Eudy.

The 71 registered scouts attending camp were Tanya White, Angela Messer, Marily Maxwell, Patricia Sims, Linda Dickson, Terry Solomon, Pattie Stephens, Renie White, Rebecca McPherson, Shauna White, Debra Gragson, Kendra Sams, Deborah DeBord, Connie DeBord, Rhonda Morgan, Debbie Ivy, Sue Reynolds and Carol Webster of Hedley; Jana Driskill, Dianna Johnson, Juana Lee Cotten, Joan Ferguson, Vanessa Myers, Mary Wedge, Cindy Saunders, Debra Lane, Jeanne Driskill, Denise Lyles and Charmine Fuston, all of Turkey; and Vicki Rea, Kathy Henderson, Kay Johnson, Denise Phillips, Caron Chambliss, Kathy Hall, Ramona Bachman, Sally Brown, Charlotte Carroll, Susan Chick, Paula Graves, Sheri Davis, Patty Hamblin, Debbie Roden, Andrea Bachman, Martha Clark, Sara Fowler, Lee Ann Hamill, Mary Lou Simmons, Glenda Carroll, Carla Cummings, Carla Coleman, Connie Guthrie, Debra Herndon, Helen Bolden, Kathy Danielle, Barbara Hudson, Elaine Shahan, Shari Posey, and Lynanne Studstill, all of Memphis.

Camperships

Several Girl Scouts will attend the Established Camp session at Camp Kiowa, near Canadian, July 17 to 23. Camperships have been awarded several of the girls enabling them to go to camp. The Rotary Club is sponsoring Connie Guthrie, the Lions will send Glenda Carroll. Other Junior girls registered are Debra Herndon, Vicki Rea, Denise Phillips and Carla Coleman. Elmonette Bran-igan will serve on the staff as Rifle-Archery instructor for all the sessions.

Other camperships awarded for the camping season were results of judging the best letter written to the Council office on "What Scouting Means to Me." Patsy Hamblin received the campership to Day Camp in the Brownie division and Dianna Johnson of Turkey, a Junior Scout, received a full campership to Established Camp. Charmaine Fuston of Turkey is also planning to attend this session.

Miss Diane Goundie of Childress spent Saturday visiting Miss Dell McCauley.

Noel Clifton, Jr., of Lubbock and Mrs. S. K. Jones of Estelline were weekend visitors in the Noel Clifton home.

How would you like a travel ticket to anywhere in the United States, foreign lands, outer space? Would you care to meet interesting new people, learn the latest in scientific development, or discover the secrets of ancient times? Your ticket to adventure is a library card from the Memphis Carnegie Library. A whole new world awaits you there, as the already large list of library patrons can testify.

The two-story brick building is located at the corner of 8th and Main Streets. Mrs. Jack Boone serves as librarian and opens Monday through Friday, 1 to 5 p. m.

Nearly all types of books are available for any age level, from the youngest children to adults. Fiction, including the latest best sellers and classics; biographies, histories, reference books, poetry, geography, government books, and religious books offer a range of material to suit any taste. The library also subscribes to 22 magazines for young people and adults, which can be checked out.

A special vacation reading program for youngsters is being conducted this summer under the sponsorship of the Texas State Library, which also loaned 120 new children's books to Memphis Carnegie Library. Over 100 children are participating in the program, and they will receive certificates for each reading twelve books during the summer. The loaned books have proved extremely popular, and have been checked out constantly since their arrival in June, Mrs. Boone said. She is allowed to keep the books for one year.

At least 75 percent of the library's patrons are young people, according to Mrs. Boone, but readership among both adults and children is increasing all the time. During the first twenty days in June, she checked out 985 books, and she expects to check out at least 1,200 books by the end of the month. Summer is the busiest time of the year for the library, but other months keep her almost as busy.

Over Half-Century Old
The Memphis Carnegie Library is operated on funds from the city and county, with a few donations. It was instituted in 1912 with a $10,000 grant from the Andrew Carnegie Foundation.

Country Club Plans July 4th Weekend Events

The Memphis Country Club has an entire weekend of activities for club members and guests scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the July 4th weekend.

A 6 p. m. Friday, July 1, entry deadline has been set for entry into a man-woman team scotch tournament. Play in the tournament will be Saturday, Sunday and Monday; match play with eight teams in each flight.

Entry fees are $1 each person or $2 for each team. First, second and consolation prizes will be given in each flight.

Any golfer, man or woman, who does not have a partner to play with in the tournament should contact either Mrs. Lester Campbell, Charlie Brown or Bill Combs before the deadline Friday afternoon so all teams can be placed in proper brackets. Couples should sign up as teams in the tournament.

Monday evening, July 4th, a putting tournament with a 50 cent entry fee will be held in conjunction with a covered dish supper at the club.

Dance
A club dance will be held Saturday evening, July 2, at the club house for club members and guests. An admission charge will be asked. Bill Lockhart, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced.

Music will be furnished by Jerry Rapp and his group of musicians, a well-known group of area men.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank those who sent flowers and cards and for the visits and calls made during my stay in the hospital. I especially thank Dr. Clark and the nurses of the Hall County Hospital who were so kind to me during my stay.

as it appears of record in the minutes of the City of Memphis, Texas on Page 270, volume 1.

Witness my hand and seal of the City of Memphis this 22nd day of June A. D. 1912. Signed T. H. Read.

These civic-minded men would certainly be delighted to learn that the library is now loaning more books in a month's time than they probably had in the entire building at the beginning.

Mrs. Boone has been librarian since Jan. 1, 1962. Mrs. W. V. Coursey preceded her and worked for about fifteen years. Other librarians who have served were Mrs. Jet Fore, Mrs. Cicero Milan, Byrd Preslar and Mrs. A. W. Guill.

When asked if there was one favorite book among readers now, Mrs. Boone stated that there was not really one that stood out above the others in popularity. "However, the most popular author at present is Mary Stewart," she said. Her books are light fiction with romance and mystery interwoven in the plots.

Mrs. Boone enjoys her work and likes to encourage people to read, especially young people. She said that it is interesting to follow them in their growth and understanding processes, as they begin with simple children's books and gradually work their way around the library to books for older children, younger teens and mature teens.

The librarian related an amusing anecdote about a young lady who had advanced in this way into teen reading. She came in and asked Mrs. Boone where she could find the books of "light romance." Then, seeing Mrs. Boone's smile and afraid the librarian misunderstood, the girl shyly added, "Very light."

Young or old, a long-time lover of the world of books or a brand new acquaintance to its joys, the Memphis Carnegie Library and its librarians offer you a ticket to pleasure and knowledge.
