FILLING IN THE CRACKS---Marcos Lopez, background, who is the street superintendent for the City of Muleshoe, is working with his crew as they fill in the 'cracks' in city streets. Also shown in the 'repair process' are Charles Fanning and Bennie Alarcon. Lopez said workmen are taking advantage of the sunny, warm days to take care of the repairs as the nice weather won't last and we can expect some very cold days ahead before springtime.

Three Way FHA Officer At Meeting

Lykinda Tyson, daughter of Caton and Darance Tyson, recently participated in ExCell '86. ExCell '86 is a four day program offered to the top four state officers in FHA, FFA, 4-H and other organizations.

The program offered help to improve the officers' leadership skills, their public speaking skills, and their appearances which aids in the representation of their organizations. The highlight of the four days, which was sponsored by Texas Power and Light and held at their youth camp facilities at Trinidad, were the two banquets held in honor of the officers and special guests. Guest were Senator Bill Sarpalius and his family and the president of Texas Power and Light and his wife, as well as other employees of Texas Power and Light and Southwest Airlines.

Lykinda is a senior at Three Way High School and she participates in FHA, FFA, and the National Honor Society. She serves as the yearbook editor and is a varsity cheerleader.

Her invitation to ExCell '86 was because she is the State Vice President of the Texas Association of the Future Homemakers of America.

Veterans Land Program Rep To Speak Here

Muleshoe's Knights of Columbus will host an educational seminar on the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program and the Veterans Land Program on January 16, at 8 p.m. in the Catholic Center at 805 E. Hickory in the Country Club Addition in Muleshoe.

Lorenzo M. Sedeno, field representative for the Veterans Land Board will conduct the seminar, which he says is open to the public.

Some 3,990 veterans in Bailey, Lamb and Parmer Counties and real estate professionals interested in participating in the two programs have been invited to attend the seminar.

Sedeno said the Housing Assistance Program offers low interest loans up to $20,000 to apply toward the purchase of a new home. The program is available to veterans who wish to purchase an existing home or to build a new one.

He added that the same program can also be used in conjunction with a no-down payment home loan from the U.S. Veterans Administration and there is no limit on the amount of acreage bought with

Lazbuddie Stock Show January 18

Rick Copp, vo-ag instructor at Lazbuddie Schools, said the annual Livestock Show will be conducted in the ag building at the school on Saturday, January

Animals will be weighed in from 8-12 noon and an entry fee of $5 per animal will be charged, with no limit to the number of animals entered in the show.

Judging will be getting underway at 1:30 p.m., with Melvin Chisum of Earth-Springlake as the judge. Copp said there is no restriction, as anyone who resides in the Lazbuddie School District may exhibit animals.

Banners, pennants and trophies will be presented for the grand champions and reserve grand champions; while buckles will be presented for breed champions.

Copp said two junior and two senior showmanships will be conducted, and time and weather permitting, there will be an adult showmanship.

Contest Set To Select Sauce Name

Like to enter contests? Like to have a chance to earn a few extra dollars? Each and everyone has the opportunity to win $100 or $50 by being the winner in a contest to name Jeff Smith's cooking sauce.

the ingredients in a sauce he uses to marinade and cook steaks. However, he also said the sauce is equally good for chicken, pork or sausage.

He said he always planned to eventually bottle the sauce, and it will be available in stores in the next few months...but, it needs a name.

You will have until January 31, and your entry must bear a postmark no later than that date. Send you entry 'Sauce'', P.O. Box 471, Muleshoe, TX 79347.

A hint -- it should have 'Muleshoe' somewhere in the name. A check for $100 for first place, or $50 for the runner-up will be presented.

"It's hard to say just how many farmers in Bailey County are in trouble or could be considered marginal at this time," said Henry Taylor, supervisor of the local Farmers Home Administration office.

"Anything I might say at this time would be just a pure guess," he continued, "since we have processed only about 25 percent of the farm loans we expect to for this year."

Taylor did add that only about 10 percent of the 25 percent loans processed showed farmers who had financial problems, or were to be considered 'margin-

"With all the servicing actions we can do, it's just not that bad," said the FmHA county executive. According to Taylor, nothing can be definitely determined until the new Farm Program is released, and the county producers all apply for their current farm loans. He also said that many of the producers who are experiencing financial problems are only experiencing "very minor financial problems" as compared to a number of the farmers and ranchers across the nation.

Wednesday, J. Lynn Futch, state FmHA director, said "I can say that we are not going to foreclose on 7,000 Texas farmers. There are only 6,000 in the state who are delinquent in their loan payments. And I am confident that we can work out with a majority - a large majority - a satisfactory cash flow situation.

But, Futch said his office, based in Temple, does not know how many do face foreclosure, nor when that decision will be

He also added that as many as 16,000 Texas farmers borrow from FmHA, and 60 percent are current on their debts. The remaining 40 percent includes those with delinquent debts beginning form $100, he noted. "These with small delinquencies will be easier to take care of with the alternatives we are offering," he added.

New FmHA policy, announced Nov. 1, stated that county FmHA supervisors could try loan deferral, reamortization, restructuring or subordinating a farmers account to bring it current. The loan is expected to show positive cash flow and show signs that 1986 obligations could be met if the farmer is refinanced for the upcoming crop year.

"These are much more liberal terms than a private lender would offer," Futch said.

A primary concern of farmers, small communities and businessmen is the uncertainty of FmHA's impending decisions.

"Those farmers who know they are delinquent should come on in (to the county office). We are working loan applications now," he said. "The farmer should know within 30 days of when he comes to the office whether he'll be financed. And we should nave most of the checks to them by April 1.'

But Futch acknowledged that because of the concern this year, loan applications could bottleneck "like trying to run 1,000 head of cattle at a time through one shoot."

He also said a lack of information about 1986 farm program provisions, among other uncertainties, will make it impossible to "figure cash flow to the penny, but we can get a reasonably close projection.

In a contest to name Jeff mith's cooking sauce. Smith has long been asked for he ingredients in a sauce he ses to marinade and cook teaks. However, he also said he sauce is equally good for the sauce is equally good

District Judge, Jack D. Young has authorized the announcement that he will seek reelection to the office of Judge of the 287th District Court. Judge Young was first appointed by Governor Bill Clements as Judge of the 287th Judicial District of Texas when such District, composed of Bailey and Parmer Counties, Texas, was created in 1981, and was elected to his first full term in that office in 1982.

Judge Young, a Democrat,

"In the early 60's, when we had a band, live at the station every Sunday afternoon, we said, "I appreciate the opportunity of having served the last five years as your District Judge, and feel that this experience will better qualify me to serve you in the future.' Young, a native of Bailey County, finished High School in Muleshoe, holds a B.A. Degree in Government from Texas Tech University and the Degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Texas at Austin. He is licensed to practice in all of the Courts of the State of Texas, the Federal Court for the Northern District of Texas, the United States Court of Appeals, 5th Circuit, and The Supreme Court of the United States.

Judge Young stated, "I pledge to each of you that, if re-elected, I will continue to decide fairly and impartially all matters and cases presented to me, according to law."

Noe Anzaldua Retires From Spanish Station

On Tuesday, December 31, 1985, an era came to an end in Muleshoe. That was the final date for Elias Noe Anzaldua to be the director of the Spanish programming for KMUL Radio.

For 28 years, since June, 1957, when the Spanish programming got underway in Muleshoe with a 30 minute program on Saturday only, the program has grown until it is on currently for five hours per day on Sunday.

Each day, as Anzaldua increased the listeners for the program, it became more popular, until Sunday was added, for one hour per day. Then, in 1959, the Spanish program was on for two hours per day.

When the programming went for two hours per day, many times, a live band would be appearing on the program, and it continued to grow in popularity, said Anzaldua.

There have been a lot of changes since Anzaldua first became director for the program, a position he continued, as his own businesses started to grow and expand.

"We used to run back and forth a lot," said Anzaldua, speaking of the many changes. "We did not have time to take requests, and much of our music was the live bands, as we didn't have the recorded music all our people can enjoy today."

Matters Of Health From West Plains Medical Center

INSOMNIA: WORRY MAKES IT WORSE; A SIMPLE ROU-TINE CAN CURE IT

I have trouble falling asleep, but I don't want to start taking sleeping pills. What else can I

Not all people need the same amount of sleep. For instance some healthy adults sleep three or four hours every night without apparent ill effects. Others may need 10 to 12 hours or they'll feel tired the next

A person has insomnia if his ability to sleep interferes chronically with his efficient daytime functions, regardless of how many hours he sleeps each night. Surveys have shown that as many as 30 percent of American suffer from insomnia to some degree.

Insomnia is not that difficult to cure--it only gets worse the more you worry about it. You can help yourself fall asleep each night and wake up refreshed the next morning by following a few simple steps:

First, rid yourself of stress before bedtime. Don't dwell on the day's unsolved problems. Don't say "I should have done that." Instead, think "I could have done that, and I will soon.

Regular daily exercise, such as jogging, swimming, tennis or brisk walking, will help you sleep better at night. But occasional, one-shot exercise does not directly influence sleep that night. Some quiet exercises before bedtime can help you fall asleep more easily. To help yourself relax, lie down on the floor or sofa and relax your body, one part at a time. Breathe from your abdomen, and as you inhale, feel the breath seeping into all parts of your body, gently massaging all the places that are tired and sore. Now, keep breathing this way and concentrate on the rhythm of your inhales and exhales. You will find yourself slowly relaxing, getting ready for a good night's sleep.

Establish a definite bedtime routine for yourself, and use your bedroom for sleeping and sex. Don't use if for working, studying or watching television. You should think of your bedroom as a quiet, restful place for sleep.

Avoid taking naps during the day. Plan to go to bed at the same time every night, and get up at the same time every morning. This is all part of a healthy bedtime routine. Don't sleep more than you need to feel refreshed, because excessively long periods in bed seem to be related to fragmented and shallow sleep.

A heavy meal close to bed time may keep you awake. However, a light bedtime snack, like a glass of warm milk or a bowl of cereal and milk, seems to help some people sleep. Drinking such caffeine-containing beverages as tea, coffee, chocolate and cola drinks, in the evening disturbs sleep, even in those people who like to think it doesn't.

There is no evidence that an excessively cold room helps you sleep more soundly, but studies have shown that a warm room, above 75 degrees Fahrenheit, can keep a person awake or cause fitful sleep. Noise also can disrupt sleep. If this is a problem, you might consider wearing earplugs.

If you climb into bed and can't fall asleep, it means that your body is not ready to sleep. So instead of worrying, turn on the light and read. And relax. Worry will only keep you awake.

If insomnia continues to be a persistent problem after you have tried all the above suggestions, it may mean that something more than the current situation is disturbing your sleep. In this case, you may consider seeking professional help. Sleep medication is rarely of any use other than on a temporary basis, and if used on a long-term basis, it usually becomes an additional problem.

CREDIT COUNSELING CAN HELP WITH DEBT PROBLEMS --Effective year-round man-agement of spending and credit use can keep consumers from being overloaded with debt. Yet some people find themselves in financial trouble from uncontrolled credit spending over the holidays. If you're facing a financial crisis from credit spending, there are services which can help you work out a plan for getting out of debt, says family economics expert Dr. Marjorie Smith. As part of these services, a counselor studies your financial situation and makes suggestions for more effective money management, explains the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. For example, the Consumer Credit

Miss Logsdon, Scoggin United In Marriage

Logsdon became the bride of Preston Lewis Scoggin Friday, Dec. 27 at 6 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Bill Kent read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Doug Logsdon, Ms. Doris Scoggin and Kearney

Vows were exchanged before an alter accented with a floral arrangement of white and blue daisies and gladiolas. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Pat Watson, organist, and Mrs. Joan Lewis, soloist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian bridal gown featuring Meischelle a lace ruffled stand up collar with a schiffli embroidered yoke. The bodice was accented with lace and ribbon-coming to a ruffled V-waistline in the front and back. The leg-of-mutton sleeves were accented with lace ruffles. The lace flounced hemline extended to form a chapel length train.

Her headdress was a matching bridal hat embellished with lace featuring a net pauf and streamer with satin ribbons.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with small blue and white flowers and satin streamers tied in love

In keeping with tradition for 'something old'', the bride erchief that belonged to her great-great-great grandmother, something borrowed was pearl earrings belonging to her grandmother, "something blue" was her garter and in her shoe she carried a paper mixted in the carried a penny minted in the year of her birth.

Deborah Nieman, attended as maid of honor and Todd Jones attended as best man.

Wedding guest were re-gistered by Kasey Gendy.. Ronnie Logsdon, brother of the bride, and Jason Scoggin, brother of the groom, attended

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Angie Logsdon, Casey King, and Sherry King served cake and punch to the wedding guests.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Deana Finck County Extension Agent

The average person gains 15-25 pounds between the ages of 25 and 50. Most of the weight is gained gradually, a pound or two a year.

The good news for people who like to eat, is that this weight gain typically does not result from overeating.

The bad news for people who don't like to exercise, is that extra pounds most often results from our decreasing physical activity and lower calorie needs as we get older.

To maintain your weight, the calories you burn through physical activity has to equal the calories you consume. If you stick to certain eating habits, but become less and less active, those extra calories will be stored as fat.

So, the key to losing those extra pounds is becoming more physically active. That can be a tough problem for people who work at sedentary jobs, and do not have the time or money for exercise classes or equipment. But added physical activity does not have to be time or money consuming. It can be as simple as taking the stairs instead of the elevator at work, walking around the block while you wait for the kids instead sitting in the car, or taking a bike ride instead of watching television after dinner.

Weight loss researchers agree that one of the best methods of increasing physical activity is to walk every day. By walking for 30 to 40 minutes, 5 times a week, you can raise your metabolic rate to more efficiently burn calories. Over a year that can add up to a weight loss of 10 to 20 pounds.

Floyd Lions Will Audition For Jamboree

Auditions have been scheduled for the Floyd Jamboree, as the New Mexico Floyd Lions Club plans for their 36th Annual Country Jamboree. The auditions will be held today, Sunday.

Panny Bigler, from the Floyd Lions Club public relations department, said all the performances have been moved back to Floyd this year. Last year the Lions Club experimented with using facilities at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

"They were very good to us," siad Bigler, "but, people said it just wasn't the same as having the Jamboree at Floyd, so we moved it back there this year."

For many years, this event has been one of the highlights for the area for the entire year. The three night show attracts between 3500-4000 people annually. It will be March 27-29 at 7 p.m. in the Floyd High School gymnasium.

Each year, many man hours go into this annual production. The performers will practice each Sunday afternoon soon after the audition date and will continue until show time.

As in the past, the Floyd Lions Club members are working on publicity, stage arrangements and programs. This year, a magazine featuring the performers and various other things will be given those who attend the show.

Serving this year as "Big Fuzzy" will be Bob Rogers. He is the general coordinator of the total activity.

Three major awards will be presented---Teacher of the Year, Citizen of the Year, and Citizen Through the Years.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased for $12.00 per person at the Chamber office, 115 West Bedford or reserved by calling 647-2524. Tickets at the door will be $14.00. Also a student ticket is being offered at $7.00 each.

The Honorable Henry G. Cisneros, Mayor Antonio, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. Ray Lynn Britt, President of the organization states, "We are extremely proud and honored to welcome Mayor Cisneros to Littlefield. He is an important figure in the current events of the nation and we look forward to his message. Banquet tickets may be pur-chased for the event at $12.50 each from the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at P.O. Box 507, Littlefield, Texas 79339.

Anyone with country and western, or gospel musical talent is encouraged to audition. Registration for audition will be 2-5 p.m., and all registrants will be auditioned said Bigler. No bands will be auditioned, as the Country Jamboree has its own band for all performers.

Commissioners To Set Dates; Check Reports

Bailey County Commissioners will have several items to consider when they meet at 10 a.m. on Monday, January 13, in the Bailey County courthouse.

Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green has released the agenda with the following Payment of routine county bills; review of monthly report by Treasurer; designate terms for Justice Court and County Court; appoint commissioners as road overseets; consider an order to pay county officials on salary basis rather than fee basis; set rate of pay for jurors; appoint members to the salary grievance committee for 1986 and miscellaneous items.

business. The story of Noe Anzaldua and his family can be said to be one of the biggest 'success' stories for the Muleshoe area. Coming to Muleshoe nearly 30 years ago with virtually nothing, but knowledge and willingness to work, and work hard, the story of Noe Anzaldua is a true 'success.'

School Board Agenda Is Long For Next Meeting

A very lengthy agenda will greet members of the Board of Trustees for the Muleshoe Independent School when they meet in regular session on Monday, January 13 at 7 p.m. in the school administration offices.

Informational reports will be given on the academic program from DeShazo Elementary School; the Educational Service Center XVII Board of Directors election; gold star awards to be presented Muleshoe High School and Dillman Elementary School and a State Board of Education Resolution supporting the Sesquicentennial Celebration on April 21, 1986.

Under financial reports will be bank balances, fund balances and the payment of current routine bills.

Business items include, consider calling a local school board election on Saturday, April 5, for the election of three school board members. Two regular terms of three years, with current incumbents Julie Cage and Ronnie Holt and one unexpired term of two years, formerly held by Sam Harlan.

Other business items will include the approval of classroom grant program for 1986-87 school year; public comment on Discipline Management Plan; approval of the purchase of two new buses; school policy update No. 25 and approval of Career Ladder Procedure Update No.

Personnel considerations will include resignations and employment contracts.

Superintendent H. John Fuller will report on correspondence; school and community events; school board goal setting plans; South Plains School Board meeting and progress on classroom construction.

Wind Erosion Is Controllable Says Technician

By: W.A. Givens SCS Technician

Wind erosion has been a problem in Bailey County a long time. There are several old and new methods of controlling it. Wind erosion control requires the cooperation of all producers in the area, because soil blown from unprotected fields will damage adjoining fields. We all have seen the results of this.

Residue in fields, stubble, stalks and mulching can greatly reduce erosion. Wind strips and wind breaks are most effective when laid out across prevailing wind direction during the critical erosion period.

On a flat field, a wind strip provides shelter 10 times the height of the barrier. Low tillage operations such as drilling wheat in remaining residue is a good way to control erosion and bring in extra income during the winter months by grazing livestock.

The Soil Conservation Service, located at 111 East Avenue D, can assist producers in controlling wind erosion on their

Debbie Vaughn is a Licensed Vocational Nurse, raised in Muleshoe who, in the course of marrying, moved away and has now returned home to live and work in her hometown. Debbie attended nursing school at Tyler Junior College in Tyler, Texas, and graduated in 1985 as a Vocational Nurse. She is a single parent who is in the process of raising three young children, Kimberlee age 8, and twins Michael and David age 6. It's tough being a single parent in today's world but Debbie is able to not only continue working in her chosen field but also keep her family together. She returned to Muleshoe in 1985, not only to be near her family but to work at West Plains Medical Center. Here she is able to care for patients in a variety of different areas. Being a new graduate, she has brought fresh ideas to West Plains Medical Center and she is learning a great deal from the more experienced nurses. After COLLEGE STATION - One of the first Texans to report seeing Halley's Comet says the public should read up on the comet but avoid purchasing top-ofthe-line telescopes they won't need when Halley's has come and gone.

Texas A&M University graduate student Paul Bradley of Irving, who first sighted Halley's in the early hours of Sept. 20, said star charts and a local astronomy club can do much towards helping citizens watch the fabled phenomenon.

In December, he said, someone will be the first person to sight Halley's Comet with the naked eye since 1910, when the comet last visited. In November, many people should be able to find Halley's with binoculars provided the moon and weather cooperate.

Bradley offered a list of suggestions to persons interested in watching Halley's your hands shake too much. Comet and its tail that should be millions of miles long:
