Elementary Students Are Re-located By Local School Board Decision Mon.

The Memphis school board voted unanimously Monday evening to have grades one, two and three students attend school at Travis Elementary, and grades four and five attend Austin Elementary on a one-year trial basis, beginning with the 1967-68 school year.

The action came after a long discussion, reading of letters pro and con, which had been sent in by parents in the district, and a thorough study of estimated enrollment figures for this fall.

Among the advantages in the re-location of elementary students, was the establishment and maintenance of equal teaching loads and uniformity of curriculum.

"The board felt that this move would be better for the overall program of the Memphis Public Schools," the Supt.-elect, Charley Chambless, said.

No action was taken by the board on assignments in the re-location motion. This is expected at a later date.

The board was informed that Neal Hindman, vocational agriculture instructor for the past eight years, has accepted the contract offered him to be Junior High principal. He was offered the contract last month.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gladys Edwards and Mrs. Paul Russell.

Bob Douthit, who has moved to Perryton, has submitted his resignation from the Memphis school board. The board took no action concerning his replacement.

EDITORIAL

Our Moment On the Stage Is Brief

It seems such a short 20 years since World War II ended and many of us tried to pick up where we left off when we quit our civilian chores and donned a military uniform. If we'd admit it, we still are engaged in that process of readjusting to civilian life.

But lots of changes have taken place in this old world during these short two decades. We've seen tremendous progress in the scientific world. We've seen changes in the realm of politics.

Speaking for our own generation, we who thought of ourselves as young men just starting out in life during the war years, we must admit that the next 20 years will be much more momentous than the last.

For one thing, we can expect them to pass much faster than the past 20 years . . . life is like that. We can expect to see even greater scientific progress . . . scientific achievement tends to gain momentum as it speeds along. And finally, in another 20 years, our active years will have been spent. Those of us still around will be on the sidelines, reminiscing about the "good old days."

In another 20 years, those babies about to be born in our hospital will be voting . . . they will be joining a generation now getting ready to start to school next fall in running this nation. We say "running" because they will be the majority. Even the slim young men in tight pants, with guitars and feminine haircuts a la Beatles, will be on their way out of public life, displaced by their juniors.

If he's still around then, President Johnson will be an elder statesman in retirement, about like Harry Truman or Dwight Eisenhower today. President Kennedy, had he lived, would be 70.

The business community in Tulia will be completely changed. Most business houses will be operated by new faces.

Almost no one will be around who knows anything about the depression of the 1930's, the days before social security, the days when farmers were second rate citizens, socially, economically, intellectually. Few will remember when there wasn't television. Many new practices, far more revolutionary, will be the topics of conversation . . . perhaps planetary travel will head the list.

There are many things we could see if we had a crystal ball. What will the rest of the world be like? Who will be our Public Enemy No. 1, internationally speaking? What will have happened to the racial problem? What will man be using for water? What will be new in air travel, other than flying from coast to coast in less than an hour? What will our schools and churches be like? What will Tulians be doing for amusement?

In any event, our generation will probably be willing away our hours in something like a rest home, perhaps casting a vote now and then, but certainly not running things.

After all, our minutes on the stage are very brief. We attend Chamber of Commerce meetings, water meetings, planning meetings, as if we were going to be executing these plans in the year 2000 or 2050.

We talk about bringing water from the Mississippi River. It will be brought from some place . . . but the thing is, it will be another generation that derives the most benefit.

But we wouldn't change things. A wise Creator knew what He was doing when He allotted us about as much time to perform as the ladies who dance with Lawrence Welk each Saturday night.

What Other Editors Say

Today's Not Bad

I guess my age is showing when I begin reflecting into the past. But please understand, this isn't a sentimental journey brought on by nostalgia. I'm not one of those old fogies who cries out for a return to the "good old days." I like today just fine and dandy. I'm no cynic about today. There were crooks, bums hypocrites, and unsavory characters back then just as there are today, and there were wars, meanness and strife back then, too.

Sure, back in the old days there were many honorable men and women. Lots of men did business with a hand shake which was as binding as any kind of legal document.

Lots of good men were identified for their integrity, with a simple phrase, "his word is his bond."

There are still a few around. In fact, if you'll take a good look at your neighbors, they're still just about the same as those back in the "good old days." That is, if you can get them away from the television set long enough for a good look.

Tax Bite Really Pinches

Americans work 2 hours and 25 minutes each day just to meet their federal, state and local tax demands. This is an increase of six minutes in the past year, according to the Tax Foundation. In contrast to this tax bite, Mr. American works only 1 hour and 26 minutes to provide for his housing, 1 hour and 14 minutes for food and tobacco, 40 minutes for transportation, 30 minutes for clothing, 19 minutes for recreation, and 21 minutes for medical expenses. All other expenses take up only 1 hour and six minutes of his day.

Two sections of piling of the Mulberry Creek bridge were washed out by swirling waters of the storm Wednesday night of last week, according to County Judge John Russell. The piling near the south bank of the creek, was too old to withstand the force of the rising water, Judge Russell observed.

The recent hail storm north of Memphis wrecked havoc on the twin-engine Cessna airplane of Ed Foxhall. The stones knocked holes in the fuselage large enough to cause the plane to have to be completely recovered, Foxhall said.

Mrs. J. S. McMurry and Mrs. A. W. Howard were joint hostesses.

Baptist Youth Rally To Be In Hedley Next Thur.

The Panhandle Baptist Association Youth Rally will host evangelist Billy Graham's feature dramatic film, "Shadow of the Boomerang." It will be shown at the First Baptist Church, Hedley, on Thursday, June 22, 8 p.m.

Starring vivacious Georgia Lee television's Buffalo Bill, Jr., and Jack Jones, "Shadow of the Boomerang" is an outdoor action picture with all of the excitement and breath-taking scope of the land, "down under." Setting the screen drama is Australia's "Outback," the continent's interior region where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

The two young Americans head an All-Australian supporting cast, playing brother and sister roles in a turbulent story of homestead life. Their arrival in Australia to manage newly acquired family holdings, plunges the couple into strange surroundings and situations with which they find it difficult to cope. The brother is impetuous and impetuous, slow to accept Australian ways. His sister is much more democratic, readily accepted by her new friends with whom she joins in an attempt to still understanding and tolerance in her brother.

Filmed against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Australian Crusades, "Shadow of the Boomerang" seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts.

LIBRARY LORE

By Jim Roark

"At the end only two things really matter to a man . . . the affection and understanding of his family."

One of the most popular books at the library in Memphis is "All In the Family" by the Pulitzer Prize winning novelist Edwin O'Connor. Most stories about families are absorbing reading, as each of its members is like a thread woven into a tapestry to make the whole. Therefore, the acts of each make the design for the family. This novel for adults is about the Kinsellar family . . . an Irish bogs-to-riches clan three generations out of Ireland. It is sure to be identified by some as the story of a famous American family.

The New Yorker has called Mr. O'Connor "unquestionably one of the most skillful writers of the day."

One hundred books have been borrowed for children and young adults to read from the Texas State Loan Library.

The book "Run Me a River" reviewed in this column last week is for young adults.

Allen-Combs Are Partnership Golf Winners Sunday

The last hole on the Memphis Country Club course was the deciding factor in determining winners in the top flight of the partnership tournament held last Sunday.

The team of M. C. (Mack) Allen and Bill Combs were one over for 17 holes coming in to the 18th. Allen holed out a 30-foot chip shot for a birdie three, to bring the team back to even par and a posted score of 68, which proved to be the winning round in the eight-team first flight.

The most spectacular finish for the day's action was a two under-par, eagle, made by Jimmy Harrison of the Harrison-Larry Parks team on the final hole to give the team undisputed second place with a 69 score.

Gene Lindsey and Alan McNally took third place with a 70, after a birdie was knocked in by McNally on the 18th hole.

The Allen-Combs team in the even-par score, posted five birdies and five bogies in a round described as hot and cold.

There were 48 male entries in the tournament and 16 women golfers. Winners in the second flight of the men's tournament were Mills Roberts and Edgar Daugherty, first place with a 77; Doug Fowler and Mike Helm, second place with a 78; and J. W. Coppedge and Otis Cobb third with a 79.

In the third flight, Harley Taylor and Cliff Farmer had an 80 to win the flight. Don Curl and Steve Blackmon made 84 for second, and Bobby Cosby and Byron Tuck had an 85 for third place.

In the first flight of the women's partnership, a team of Martha Campbell and June Leary had a 90 to win. Second place went to Myrtle Helm and Betty Curl with a 103.

In the second flight, first place went to Yevette Miller and Frances Tuck with a 108, and Betty Evans and Hattie Dem Thompson posted a 113 for second place.

Mrs. Bill Boren and boys left Wednesday for Mt. Vernon where they will visit with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Adams, and other relatives. While there, Mrs. Boren and boys will accompany her family on a fishing trip to Sam Rayburn dam, near Lufkin.

... and County Comments —By HAC

This is the time of the year turbulent weather is expected, and the storm alerts are familiar to all. We regret to hear of tornado damage, or the heavy rains. The high winds of the past few days have dried out the moisture Hall County received in recent rains . . . and all local residents are hopeful that one of the favorable-looking clouds will bring moisture to our county. Late May and June proves to be a trying time each year as farmers strive to get the young cotton up and growing.

After reading in this column last week a quote from Ed Eakin's column, about a substitute for work—a welfare check—the following clipping was handed to me by a reader: "Hello, is this the welfare dept?" "Yes, it is. What can I do for you?" "I need a new crib for my baby." "What's the baby sleeping in now?" "The box my color tv came in."

Have been hearing some talk recently about the possibility of promoting a museum in Memphis to house the items of historical value and relics for Hall County. J. Claude Wells, former columnist of this newspaper, mentioned the need for a museum at irregular intervals for many years. It looks like the idea is receiving more acceptance and more interest. When this happens, a few individuals will furnish the leadership and help in developing the proposal. The first thing needed is some building or large home, which has historical value as well as space. From there something tangible is mentioned as it becomes a conversation piece. Watch for specifics to develop within the months to come.

Hall County's own Gene Gibson is now the senior citizen among the basketball coaches. He succeeded Polk Robison at Texas Tech in Lubbock in 1961, and has coached the fine basketball teams of the college since that time. Hedley also claims Gene. Seems like he guided the teams there back in his younger days.

Have noticed several red ants working in different spots over town. Also, there are the little "sugar" ants, as some people call them, which invade our homes through cracks where doors join baseboards. This is the time to control them. Not being an expert, I have done some questioning of the experts, and have found that the nuisance can be eliminated by using two recommended insecticides. Chlorodane dust applied to nests of the little ants which invade homes (also climb trees) is most effective. Also apply a defensive band around entryways into the home. For the stinging red ants, just spray the beds with a potent solution of dieldrin, (recommended two to five per cent solution). Repeat in about two-week intervals to get the young which have hatched. Important: follow directions given on labels. You are dealing with poisons. If results are not satisfactory, go to your supplier and he will aid in eliminating this problem.

Vacation trips are being taken, or are being planned—and many unusual incidents will be reported. We hope nothing happens to our friends like the couple who landed in Myrtle Beach, S. C. After spending the night, the man left to get gas for the car. When he headed back to pick up his wife, he couldn't remember which of the numerous places was home base. He appealed to the police who took him from motel to motel—until he was united with his wife.

The Open Meetings law is now in effect, as publicity during the past week informed the citizens of Texas. It simply means that sessions of public bodies financed by public funds shall be open to the press at all times with these exceptions: (1) When the subject under discussion has to do with the hiring or firing of an individual; (2) When deliberations relate to planned purchase of real estate, publicity about which would cause land values to hike; (3) deliberations on matters affecting security; and (4) meetings of investigating committees of the legislature. This Open Meetings law, as passed by the legislature, has been in effect in this county as far as we can remember. But the opposite has been recorded in many counties over the state; so the new law was passed. Here we have open meetings (except when the above four problems were confronted) of all public bodies. We are proud to report that we have been reminded by different public officials that a meeting was to be held, and received an invitation to attend. This included called sessions. At such times as our public bodies had occasion to go into "executive session" (closed meeting), with the exception of two times, a representative of this newspaper was invited to listen to the "secret" discussions before the session was again opened. No notes would be taken by the reporter present. No published information would be given about remarks and facts which were evaluated by the governing body. We adhered to this confidence. At the same time, privately, we were better informed about the problems which regularly face the officials we elect. The public should understand this basic fact: after due deliberation in secret, the meeting is "open." A vote will be taken, and recorded, about the decision upon any matter.

As we watch our grandchildren, we were reminded of reading the following last week of the guidance of parenthood. The remark stated: "Trouble

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

PESTICIDES ARE FORMULATED TO KILL

The use of agricultural chemicals, especially pesticides, will increase as crops develop and insect problems multiply.

"Pesticides are a boon to farmers if used at the proper rate and at the right time. "But," warns County Agent W. B. Hooser, "they are formulated to kill and will do that job not only on insects but livestock, pets and even humans can become victims if the materials are carelessly used."

Each container of pesticide carries a label of contents as well as directions and suggestions for its use. This label information should be followed to the letter, advises the county agent. Pesticides formulated for use on crops should not be used on livestock. "Unless storage facilities are available, it is best to purchase only the amount of materials needed for a particular job. This will eliminate problems of storage and disposal," says Hooser.

If chemicals are delivered to the farm before they are needed, make sure they are stored safely and out of reach of children, livestock and pets. They should not be removed from the original containers until they are to be used.

Pesticides are safe in the hands of a careful user. They were designed to do a job and when used for that purpose and according to recommendations can be counted on to give effective results.

A committee of judges from Lakeview will select the "Home of the Month" for June Thursday, June 22, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce beautification committee, has announced.

The annual clean-up drive for the city will be held in July, Mrs. Kinard stated. The city has not as yet set the date.

Fishing creels should never be stored without cleaning them to remove slime and other dirt. Not only will good cleaning improve the odor of your creel, but it also will extend its useful life. To do the job efficiently, use a stiff scrub brush, and a soda and water solution made from one cup of baking soda to a good-sized bucket of water. Wash the basket well, then rinse it, and hang it in the sun to dry.

L. B. Snider, Jr. Places Second in State 4-H Event

L. B. Snider, Jr., Hall County 4-H Club boy from the Memphis 4-H Club, was made very happy this month when he received information from W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agricultural Agent, advising him that he was named by the State Record Judging Committee as first alternate in the 1967 Talent Club and Tour 4-H Award Program.

This information was released in a letter from Mr. Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Club Leader.

This means that in case the first place winner does not accept the award, L. B. Snider, Jr., will be the next in line for the educational trip. The all expense paid educational tour for one boy and one girl from each of the eight Producers Grain Corporation Districts is designed to recognize them for their achievements in 4-H Club work.

The tour will begin with a send-off banquet in Amarillo and a visit to the facilities of Producers Grain Corporation.

A one week tour by chartered bus to points of interest in Texas and other states will follow. A Tour Director and one man and one woman, will accompany the Talent Club winners.

L. B. Snider won first place in the district in this contest last month and his record was sent to College Station to compete in the state contest.

mously adopted it.

The resolution carried the following words as an introduction:

"Whereas, in less than a year, Memphis and the Tri-State area of the Panhandle, lost two outstanding leaders, Mr. and Mrs. J. Claude Wells, who had watched the Plains develop from frontier privation to modern prosperity; and

"Whereas, Mr. Wells died, at the age of 87, on Sept. 27, 1966, and Mrs. Wells preceded him in death, at the age of 84, in December, 1965; * * *

Then followed a condensed history of Mr. and Mrs. Wells from birth until they passed away. An excerpt stated: "Whereas, during nearly seven decades of newspaper work, Mr. Wells and his wife were said to have 'laced streamers of newsprint and printers ink throughout nearly the whole civilized history of the (Plains) area'; * * * (they) have added to the heritage of the Texas Panhandle as a whole."

Joining with Rep. Heatly in drafting the resolution was Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon, who introduced it in the Senate.

History Behind Geographical Names In County Sought

Residents of Hall County were asked this week to help solve the mystery of the origins of several geographical names found on county maps.

The information is needed for a dictionary of Texas place names, including Hall and the other 253 counties, to be published soon by the East Texas State University press. Before Dr. Fred Tarpley, professor of English at the university, submits his final manuscript, he is appealing to county residents for assistance in contributing information about several names with unexplained origins.

With the following exceptions, the reason for the choice of approximately 200 names found on detailed maps of the county have already been determined:

Baylor Creek, Berkle Creek, Bitter Creek, Eli, Elite, Finger Lake, Hancock Lake, Indian Creek, John Mann Creek, Jonah Creek, Mountain Creek, Oaks Creek, Parker Creek, Plaska.

Dr. Tarpley, who started his research on Texas geographical names five years ago, has exhausted material available to him in history books, newspaper files, student research, and interviews with county leaders. He is hoping that the story behind the naming of the communities, creeks, and other geographical sites listed above can be explained before his book goes to press.

Information will be welcomed by Dr. Fred Tarpley, Department of English, East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas 75428.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Watson went to Lubbock Friday on business. While there they also visited for a short time with Mrs. Watson's brother, W. D. Queary.

Giles Picnic Is Declared To Be Most Successful

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

Judging by the attendance, the good food and visiting enjoyed by the picnickers, the annual Giles Picnic was the usual success. Flip Breedlove and Pete Land from Clarendon cooked the barbecue to a Queen's taste and folks were good to bring salads and sweets. So, the food was plentiful and delicious.

The fiddle music, gospel singing, and visiting began about nine o'clock and continued until time for the Giles Junior Rodeo at two o'clock. Even then some lingered to finish their visiting sessions. Bob Ayers kept the festivities rolling but we did miss Rubye Glass who always opened the picnic revels with playing "America" and Malcolm Glass who led the gospel singing.

Copies of The Giles Chronicle were awarded to Fred Watt Sr. for his having been the one boasting the longest continuance residence in the Giles community.

Mike and Laura Parks of Rye, Colo., had come the farthest distance to attend the picnic and a hat and a Giles bonnet were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Ace Gailley, the new owners of the Giles section.

J. B. Yeats and his "Combo" made music during the picnic and for the dance that evening. The supper of beef stew was well attended the evening before.

Only about 350 attended the picnic, not as many as usual, but those present seemed to have a "high heel" time. This was the twelfth picnic gathering since its revival in 1956.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

PLUMBING FOR THE HOME AND FARMSTEAD

How to plan a safe and adequate plumbing system for a new home or farmstead is described in a new U. S. Department of Agriculture publication available at the county extension office reports W. B. Hooser, county agent with the Texas A & M University Cooperative Extension Service.

In "Plumbing for the Home and Farmstead," a 20-page illustrated bulletin, agricultural engineers of USDA's Agricultural Research Service present the best available information on plumbing in new construction or in adding or remodeling a plumbing system in an existing building.

The bulletin gives information, for example, on kinds and sizes of pipes to use in certain locations, protection of water pipes from freezing, water supply and pressure, and location of appliances, fixtures, and faucets in the water distribution system.

Layout of the drainage system, including height and location of sinks and lavatories, floor drains, shower stalls, and measures to prevent sewage and sewage gases from escaping from the system also are discussed.

The publication points out that the plumbing system should be installed by or under the direction of an experienced licensed person. It emphasizes also that plumbing should be done in accordance with applicable state, county, and local plumbing codes.

Soil and Seed-Borne Disease Reduces Crop Yields

"Don't take chances on reduced crop yields which can result from soil- and seed-borne disease organisms," cautions County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Chemical seed treatment is inexpensive and effective and the recommended controls are safe and easy to use.

"The chemical forms a protective coating around the seed and protects it from micro-organism growth during the period of germination. However, seed treatment will not control damping-off after the seedling grows out of the treated zone," says the county agent. "Damping-off organisms develop most rapidly when weather conditions are unfavorable and cause growers to associate damping-off of seedlings with cold, wet weather."

"We have had many faithful members through the years, that not only gave of their time and money while living, but left funds to be used after their deaths," it was stated.

Most commercially purchased planting seeds will be treated and this will be noted on the container tag. Growers who save their own planting seed can purchase seed treatment chemicals at most agricultural supply houses.

If seed are treated on the farm the important thing is to get a uniform covering of the protective fungicide over the seed coat. This can be done with a homemade device which will tumble the seed and mix the fungicide thoroughly with the seed being treated.

The county agent points out the need for using the proper dosage. Lower than recommended dosage may cause the treatment to be ineffective while excessive rates may damage the seed. Some diseases are borne inside the seed and must be treated by different methods.

Hooser advises that detailed information on chemical seed treatment is available at his office.

Catching Paint Drippings

Painting boats, or even lures, can be a messy chore. Eliminate paint drips by dabbing a spot of glue on the bottom of the paint can, then place the can on a paper plate. Wherever you tote the paint can, so goes the paper plate paint-catcher.
