Local Telephone Personnel Go To Disaster Area

Personnel from the Memphis district and Northern Division of the General Telephone Company are in South Texas this week helping to establish emergency telephone service and re-establish normal service following the damage caused by Hurricane Beulah.

General Telephone Company representatives in the South Texas and Valley area between Brownsville and Palacios, and construction crews and emergency equipment from Memphis, Brownsville, Seymour, Littlefield and other areas were among those from throughout the company who were in San Antonio until the damage subsided enough to permit them to work in the Valley area to restore service in General Telephone exchanges which had been struck by Beulah.

Emergency power units, trucks and cars with mobile telephones, each of which came from this area, moved in ahead of construction crews to establish emergency service until normal service is completely restored.

Leaving from Memphis Tuesday of last week were Construction Foreman C. D. Cummings, Roddy Waites, L. F. Jones and Kenneth Solomon.

Wednesday Cable Splicers Dan Lee and Duane Floyd were notified to go to South Texas. Equipment taken from here included one pick-up, a cable truck and the "sky worker" truck.

Communications have been bad between the local office and the office in the storm area, but reports have been received. Cummings and his men are presently working in Raymondville, where they state conditions are good with food and drinking water available. Lee and Floyd are working out of Weslaco where they state, living conditions are better as the city has not been flooded.

No estimate has been made regarding the damage to telephone facilities in the storm area, but the men on the scene report it extensive; and they, at latest report, have no idea how long they will be working in the area.

The coronation ceremony will begin promptly at 7 p. m. Friday night at Cyclone Stadium, with the Cyclone Band providing appropriate scenery and music for the occasion. Local fans are encouraged to arrive at the game early to witness the coronation.

Over 50 Attend Field Day Tour

Fifty-three men signed the register before leaving on the Hall County Result Demonstration Field Day Tour, which was held Monday, leaving by school buses from the courthouse at 9 a. m.

The tour concluded at the Big Restaurant where the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development were host at a luncheon. Also attending the luncheon were the FFA president, Danny Ewing, of Rt. 5, Pittsburg, Memphis chapter president, Gaylon Clark, and Memphis vocational agriculture instructor, Ronald Morris.

Pamphlets explaining the Agricultural Texas Research Demonstration Program were passed to those attending. The field day was sponsored by the Memphis C. of C., Hall County Farm Bureau, the Hall County Program Building Committee, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Experiment Stations. Transportation being furnished by the Memphis Independent School District.

The men on the tour visited seven result demonstration fields which have been set up in the county. These were on the Hight farm south of the Harold Hodges farm north of Plaska, and the Troy Phillips farm on the Friendship road.

The pamphlets explained in detail all seven of the demonstration fields. The tour was both entertaining and informative for those who made it.

Making the tour were: Ben Ray, agronomist, Texas A&M; L. Ray, South Plains Research Center, agronomist; Cal Orr, South Plains Research Center, nematologist; James Rogers, Texas A&M assistant area agronomist of Lubbock.

Local Tornadoes To Travel To Quanah Tonight

The Memphis Tornadoes downed the visiting Shamrock B team at Cyclone Stadium 24 to 8 last Thursday to keep in the undefeated column for the season.

Tonight, the Tornadoes travel to Quanah where their scheduled game against the B team there will start at 7:30 p. m.

"The outstanding characteristic in our game with Shamrock was our spirit and winning attitude," Coach Dentil Lacy said.

Scoring touchdowns for the Tornadoes were Ronald Bradshaw, Dale Steptoe and Bobby Philpot. Two-point conversions were made by Joe Edd Godfrey, Danny Steptoe and Billy Gilbert.

Philpot's touchdown was made when he intercepted a Shamrock pass in the right flat and ran it across.

The game at Quanah is expected to be the toughest so far for the Tornadoes.

Estelline-Morse To Open Dist. Play Fri.

The Estelline Bears will open District 5-B 8-man football race Friday night when they play host to the 1966 defending district champion team from Morse in a game scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Morse comes into the game with a two-one record for the season and five starters back from the championship team of last season.

The game at Estelline promises to be a tough, hard fought affair. The Bears, physically at full strength, have been working hard this week preparing for the contest. Coach Jimmie Don Adams reported.

The visiting team has two fine running backs in Bill Womble and Alva Henderson, as well as experienced, big linemen to block for them.

The Bears will go into the game after a heartbreaking 16 to 12 defeat by the Northside team last week. The Bears supported a 12-0 lead in the first quarter and at halftime.

But after the half, the Northside team played ball control

Homecoming Festivities Kickoff District Opener

Cyclone-Longhorns Open District Play

District 3-AA play-offs begin Friday night with the Memphis Cyclone meeting the Longhorns of Lockney in the opening game of the district at 7:30 p. m. in Cyclone Stadium.

Although, for Lockney and Memphis fans, the game here is the most important of the season to date, most of the areawide attention will be focused on the opening night clash between Olton and Friona.

Abernathy and Floydada are matched together, while Dimmitt takes on Hale Center.

As far as the local Cyclone squad is concerned, the Lockney Longhorns must be overcome Friday night if Memphis is to have any chance whatsoever at another district championship.

Several circumstances are working against local lads, which will make the task of winning Friday night's game even more difficult without even considering the Longhorn's explosive offensive attack and hard-charging defensive play, according to reports.

Some of the local lads are out with the "flu." Chief among the group are both starting tackles, Lanny Crow and Garvin Speed. Fullback Roge Fowler has a badly bruised thigh muscle. Tailback William Welch has an ankle injury, and Halfback Gary Rea has a severe shoulder bruise.

Coach Bert Glascock said, after Wednesday's workout, that the coaches have been doing a lot of shifting around of personnel. One of the major shifts will be the move to tackle of End Richard Parker.

Next, Friday night is Homecoming at Memphis High, which means that the Longhorns can play the role of spoilers—a psychological advantage for Lockney and a disadvantage for the host team.

On the plus side, however, the coach pointed out, except for the sickness and injuries, the local squad has the best mental attitude they've had all year.

"Workouts have been good and there seems to be more determination among individual members of the team than we've seen before," he said.

Lockney Longhorns

The Lockney Longhorns are an explosive ball club capable of scoring from anywhere on the field by either running or passing. Fullback Tim Stansell (170), a co-captain, has scored five touchdowns already this year and Halfback Tommy Ball (168), another co-captain, has scored three touchdowns. The line is led by 230-pound Wavely Washington, and the quickest guards and ends the local team has faced all year. Quarterback Randy Henderson is a fine passer and a running threat and a good field general. The Longhorns have real good team speed and are a big club. They run and pass from a winged-T offensive formation.

In comparison, the Cyclone might have a two-pound per man weight advantage in the line but will be spotting the Longhorns almost 10 pounds per man in the backfield. Although the Lockney team backs are bigger, they still can match the speed found in the Cyclone backfield or secondary, which will put a heavy strain on the Memphis defensive unit.

The Memphis Public Schools extended an invitation to all students of Memphis to attend Friday's Homecoming activities, including the pep rally, queen's coronation and the football game.

The pep rally will be held in the Cyclone Gymnasium at Memphis High beginning at 3:25 p. m. Friday afternoon, and all fans and ex-students are invited to be on hand, Supt. of Schools Charley Chambliss said.

Hubert Dennis, president of the Cyclone Booster Club, will give the pep rally address, the head cheerleader, Judy Bruce, has announced. Also on hand for the pep rally will be the Cyclone cheerleaders and band.

"Lockney has notified us that they will bring three chartered buses of fans to the game; so we need to build all the spirit and enthusiasm we can at the pep rally and game," Miss Bruce said.

Coronation

Senior Misses Donna Sims, Suzan Moreman and Judy Bruce are vying for the title of Homecoming Queen, 1967. It was announced this week. They will be escorted by Gaylon Clark, Bobby Beavers and Sam Houston, respectively, and the queen will be crowned in pre-game ceremonies Friday night.

The Memphis Cyclone Band and the cars containing the candidates will start the coronation ceremonies promptly at 7 p. m. school officials announced. The band will form a crown and play appropriate music. The queen will be announced over the public address system, and her escort will perform the coronation exercises.

B3R Plans To Sell 70 Reg. Angus To Youths

The Bradley 3 Ranch, located southeast of Memphis, is staging something new in Texas for 4-H and FFA members, it was announced recently by Bill Bradley, owner of the ranch. Bradley said that the ranch will sell 60 registered Angus females and 10 steers on Saturday, Nov. 4, at the ranch, which is located 18 miles southeast of Memphis.

The sale will be open only to members of the two farm youth organizations.

Another unique feature of the sale will be that it will not be an auction. By not going to the expense of staging an auction, they plan to pass the savings on to the youngsters, Bradley stated.

"Our intention in holding this type sale is to be able to put a lot of boys and girls in the Angus business in a sound, practical way," Bradley stated.

All the cattle will be sorted into lots according to age and quality, and each lot will be priced accordingly.

The offering will include approximately 30 head of heifer calves, calved after Jan. 1, 1967, that are top prospects for the club heifer show next spring and the following year. The remaining females are bred and open heifers and bred cows for beef projects. The bred cows and heifers will carry the services of the leading herd sires on the ranch.

Ten club steers have also been selected for the sale.

The registered division of the Bradley Ranch has been in operation since 1954. It has shown cattle in seven states, winning 101 championships. The ranch's latest win includes the breeding and fitting of the reserve grand champion steer at the Colorado State Fair in 1967, and the reserve grand champion bull at the West Texas Fair in Abilene.

The Bradley Ranch was honored in 1966 by receiving the Texas Breeder Achievement Award presented by the Texas Angus Association.

A Law Of Self-Preservation

Speed kills. This hard fact of life on the open road is universally accepted by the officers who are charged with the duty of making Texas highways safe, just as it is ignored by many of the drivers using those highways.

Because speed kills — and because the chances of a driver becoming involved in an accident increase with speed — the Texas Department of Public Safety has started a more intensified effort to encourage motorists to stay within a legal speed limit on Texas highways.

"Statistics prove that drivers are more likely to be involved in an accident at speeds over the legal speed limit," explained Major Luther C. Moore, Commander of the Department of Public Safety's Region 5, covering thousands of miles of highways in northwest Texas.

The average motorist might ask some questions about these statistics, and Major Moore can provide some eye-opening answers.

For instance, the motorist might ask if a driver is more likely to be involved in a traffic accident at 70 miles per hour than 65? What about 75 or 80 miles an hour? And if the accident chances increase above 65 miles per hour, then how much do they increase?

The grim history from bloody Texas highways during daylight hours shows a 20 per cent increase in accident involvement at 70 miles per hour, compared to 65 mile per hour rate.

Major Moore pointed out that by increasing the speed from 65 to 75 miles per hour (just 10 miles per hour) the motorist risks a 50 per cent increase in accident involvement, and at 80 miles per hour the risk jumps to 90 per cent.

The fast driver risks even more at night. Accident statistics show that a driver is more likely to become involved in an accident at any speed at night, and at 55 miles per hour the accident rate is nearly two and one half times as great as driving at the same speed in the daytime.

Research also shows that while a driver trying to maintain 80 miles per hour through traffic on typical rural highways can cut about 30 per cent from the time required for the trip at legal speeds, his chances of getting killed in an automobile mishap increase by at least 400 per cent.

In the hope of encouraging drivers to stay within legal speeds, the DPS is increasing both the number of patrolmen on the highways and the number of radar units in use to clock speeds.

State laws should be observed, of course, but the "law of self-preservation" ought to be even more persuasive. —The Canadian Record

It is quite true that absence makes the heart grow fonder. Take the familiar sights right here in our home community. Whenever you are away, isn't it somewhat easy to visualize store fronts, sidewalks, streets and buildings. Our town may look like just another town to the casual visitor. To most of us, it's much much more. There's a history of people and things associated with all the brick and steel and wood and glass that represent our town. Wherever we go, we take with us many fond memories. And these memories are rekindled each time we return home. Maybe we remember because our town is a good place to live, to work, to buy and sell. It's our town.

What Other Editors Say

Perfect Newspaper?

We never have — and never will — print a perfect edition of the Kaufman Herald.

The Dallas News hasn't done it. The London Times hasn't done it. The Wall Street Journal hasn't done it.

Why, then, expect the Kaufman Herald to do it?

Newspapers are bogged down by deadlines. Sometimes there is not time to read proofs. Even when they are read, deadlines may prevent making time consuming corrections.

We have never printed an edition of the Kaufman Herald that didn't make omissions. We have never printed an edition of the Herald that didn't contain typographical errors — even grammatical errors that are overlooked in the hurried action associated with the publication of a weekly.

Some errors in this newspaper are human errors. Some are careless errors. Some are machine errors.

Most of the time, folks are indulgent and understanding. Once in a while, an inflexible individual — one who never errs himself, or herself, finds an error or omission inexcusable.

For such a person, we have only pity. We make so many mistakes ourselves, we have learned to live with them and all around them. There can be only misery for anyone who is so completely inflexible he can not be tolerant of the mistakes of others.

ilians) when other means such as air and highways have bogged down due to congestion. Consider the loss of the RPD's, Railroad Post Offices. At one time there were over 10,000 of the moving post offices on the railroads of the United States and now there are something like 800 still in operation. It was the removal of the mail car from the Denver by the Post Office Department that intensified the effort of the Denver officials to secure permission to discontinue the train. Many people doubt if the removal of the mail service here at all.

The obvious advantage of the RPO was that it was a moving post office. The mail was sorted by experienced handlers as the train moved from one town to another and mail put on the Ft. Grain Sorghum Residue Is Vital To Future Good Production Yields Harvest time is here, Higar and maize are being harvested in Hall County now.

Management of the residues left after combining is a key to good production in the future according to Herb Evans, Soil Conservationist, Memphis.

The grain sorghum residues properly managed on the soil surface do a number of things for your soil.

One of the benefits to your soil is protection from blowing when the residues are left until about April first.

The residues put necessary life into the soil. This life consists of organisms that make fertilizer more effective. The high amount of residues produced by these grain sorghum crops improve the tilth of the soil and when rotated with cotton reduces disease damage to cotton.

The irrigation farmer should double the amount of residues put back to his soils because irrigation farming greatly increases the deterioration of the soil.

Surface management of high residues is one of the basic conservation practices needed in Hall County, Evans concluded.

Turkey Turks Fall In Defeat To Hart Longhorns 26 To 14 Friday

Hart's alert defense scored as W. A. Hawkins returned a quick kick 60 yds. and Har- Bennett had a blocked pass into his hands and scampered into the end zone. These plays, along with the defense that allowed the only five first downs proved to be too much for the Turkey.

After both teams had two chances to move the ball, but were unable to get any offense. Turkey fumbled on its first play, and on the second play, Danny Smith pushed across the Hart 6-0 lead. W. A. Hawkins kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

Turkey took the ensuing kickoff but was forced to punt on the fourth down. After two exchanges, Hart drove to the Turkey yard line where they lost the ball on downs.

Turkey took over the ball and third down, quick kicked out the field where Hawkins picked up the ball and raced down the line untouched for the TD. The extra point was unsuccessful. Hart went to the dressing room half time with a 13-0 lead.

Russell Barnhill took the kickoff after the half on the 20-yd. line and returned it to the 42-yd. line. The Turkey offense bogged down and had to punt.

After an exchange of punts, Hart put the Longhorns deep in their own territory. Hart was unable to move the ball once again. The punt attempt by Hart gave Turkey possession of the ball.

On the Hart 5-yd. line. On a second play, Claud Robinson dove over the middle of the line for the TD. Turkey then tried a pass for the extra points but the pass fell incomplete. Hart now led 13-6.

On the following kickoff, Landria Burington of Hart fumbled on the Hart 34-yd. line where Rod Settiff recovered the ball for Turkey. After losing three yards on the next three plays, David Majors faked a punt and tried to pick up the necessary yardage. He was knocked out of bounds three yards shy of the first down so Hart took over on downs.

On the second play of the next series, Hart fumbled once again and David Lane recovered for the Turkeys on the Hart 45-yd. line. Turkey still unable to get any offense going punted out on the Hart 12-yd. line.

Hart picked up three first downs before fumbling again on their own 47 where Jon Maxwell recovered for Turkey.

Turkey took to the air and completed two passes before Johnny King had a pass blocked and Harold Bennett took it all alone and raced 64 yards for the clinching TD. The kick failed and Hart led 19-6.

On the following kickoff, David Majors took the ball on the 20 and returned to the 40 where he fumbled and Hart recovered.

After picking up three first downs, Joe Quiroz busted over left tackle from two yards out for the TD. Hawkins kicked the extra point and the score was 26-6.

With the game out of reach in the closing minutes, Russell Barnhill passed to Claude Robinson from the 48 and Claud with some good moves carried it over for the TD. Johnny King passed to David Fuston for the two points and the game ended with the score, Hart 26 and Turkey 14.

Turkey is open this Friday night, but will open their district play against Matador Friday night week.

Approval Is Given By H. E. W. For Medicaid In Texas

Approval of the Texas Medical program was announced recently by the Social and Rehabilitation Service (SRS) of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Formal approval was given by SRS Administrator Mary E. Switzer and was effective September 1. Medicaid is the Federal-State program of medical care for low-income people.

Texas, the 27th State to operate a federally approved medical assistance program, plans to provide payments for skilled nursing home care for adults; inpatient and outpatient hospital care; physicians' services; and a number of other benefits for an estimated 379,000 State residents. The U. S. Government will pay approximately 80 percent of the cost, bringing the estimated Federal share to almost $99 million for the first year.

Each State makes its own decision on the number of services it will offer in excess of the minimum Federal requirements. The Texas program offers more than those required by the Medical law.

The State estimated that approximately 379,000 persons, of 3.53 percent of the total population, will be served under the State plan during the first 12 months of operation.

Is gas really cool?

You bet. Here's proof:

We turned a gas burner up to high for five minutes. Then we turned it off and immediately set a frozen pitcher of ice on it! Nary a crack! The pitcher remained intact and good as new. (The reason is no hangover heat with gas.) We tried the very same experiment with an identical pitcher... but on another kind of range. It was a shattering experience. When it comes to being cool, gas makes the difference.

It reads as follows:
My Vacation
My vacation was simply fine
In a position usually supine,
I will admit I much prefer
A stance that's perpendicular
I traveled through the whole wide world

Alpha Circle Meets In Home Of Mrs. W. C. Dickey

The Alpha Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday, Sept. 25, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. W. C. Dickey with Mrs. Myrtis Phelan as co-hostess.

After the opening song, Mrs. F. W. Foxhall gave the meditation, "Keeping Our Souls" based on the scripture from Hebrews 10:30, "We are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed but of those who have faith and keep their souls."

Mrs. W. V. Coursey gave an interesting discussion on "A New Kind of Missionary," telling of mission through all vocations as a useful service. The Latin American churches are receiving missionaries and at the same time they are sending missionaries which makes the best sense spiritually, she said. The servant is being emphasized, and many do not work through any institution, she added.

Mrs. J. W. Coppedge gave added emphasis to the preceding discussion with her talk on "The Missionary Role Not Diminishing." She stated that it is the task of the World Division to maintain a strong Missionary force, providing the resources of personality and humanness to areas of the world which need them. They consider this priority number one for 1966-67, one of the foremost tasks of the missionary movement today is training Christian leadership throughout the world. In no area is their crucial importance so evident as in improvement of the status of women, she said.

GOD'S WILL

"Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God! Let thy good spirit lead me on a level path!"
—Psalms 143:10

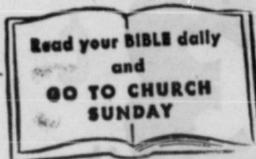

Have you ever turned to God with anything other than a complaint or a request?

Do you hope, in time of need, to borrow strength and courage from God as you would a cup of sugar from the neighbor across the street?

Is your life patterned according to God's will? Do you live a Christian life — not just on Sunday, but every waking hour of every day of your life?

Let God's will motivate your actions and your deeds. Your pathway may not always be level, but it will be straight and directed to a final purpose.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD—Lt. Gen Lawrence J. Lincoln, Fourth U. S. Army commanding general, presents to Mrs. Jean F. Clement the Distinguished Service Cross and Purple Heart posthumously awarded her husband, Capt. Gregory C. Clement, in a formal honor guard ceremony in the Army headquarters quadrangle, San Antonio on August 11. Captain Clement died in action in Vietnam Feb. 23, 1967. Photo Courtesy U. S. Army

Captain Gregory Clement Is Honored Posthumously In Formal Ceremonies

In recent ceremonies at Fort Hood, Texas, honor has been paid to the memory of Captain Gregory C. Clement, who was killed in action in Vietnam February 23, 1967. His wife is the former Mrs. Leslie Foxhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Foxhall of Memphis. Lt. Gen. Lawrence J. Lincoln, Fourth U. S. Army commander, presented Mrs. Clement the Distinguished Service Cross and Purple Heart posthumously awarded her husband in a formal honor guard ceremony in the Army headquarters quadrangle in San Antonio on August 11.

The award reads in part: "For extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam; Captain Clement distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on 23 February, 1967 while serving as senior advisor to a company of Vietnamese Irregular troops. Captain Clement's extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty, at the cost of his life, were in keeping with the highest traditions of military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army."

In a second ceremony held at Ft. Hood, Texas on Sept. 14, an athletic field was named in honor of Captain Clement. In the formal ceremony, Mrs. Clement unveiled the plaque dedicating the field to the memory of her husband.

Mrs. Leslie Foxhall was in Austin and accompanied her daughter to Fort Hood for the ceremony. General Kitchener read the following citation at the ceremony.

"This athletic field is dedicated in memory of Captain Gregory Charles Clement, 090723, Artillery, who on 23 February, 1967 made the supreme sacrifice while in action in Vietnam. Capt. Clement served with the 2nd Armored Division from 15 May, 1965 to 18 September, 1966 with duties as Battery Commander, D Company, 6th Battalion, 92nd Field Artillery and as S-3 Division Artillery. His decorations include the Distinguished Service Cross, Army Commendation Ribbon, Purple Heart, Combat Infantry Badge as well as decorations from the government of the Republic of Vietnam of the National Order Medal, Fifth Class and Gallantry Cross with Palm.

An enthusiastic and competitive sportsman, Captain Clement participated in many sports to include baseball and soft ball. This athletic field, located at Ft. Hood among many artillery activities, symbolizes the active, dedicated soldier and able artillery man for whom it is named. The dedication and continued use of this field serves as a lasting inspiration and example for all of the outstanding duty, devotion and ability of this distinguished soldier."

Faith will not die as long as seed catalogues are printed.

Texas Highway Department Lists Achievements During Past 50 Years

AUSTIN — The first roadside park in Texas consisted of only a couple of tables and benches beneath some live oak trees on State Highway 71 in Fayette County near Smithville.

From this seemingly insignificant beginning in the early 30's the Texas Highway Department's roadside park and beautification program has grown to include 1,100 roadside parks, safety rest areas and scenic turnouts.

These are among the accomplishments of the Highway Department during its first half-century of public service. The Department will celebrate its Golden Anniversary during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30.

The 840 thousand acres of grass, trees, and wildflowers maintained along Texas Highway Department the state's biggest garden.

It is no accident that the Highway Department received a beautification citation of merit for its wildflower program from the U. S. Department of Transportation.

Highway beautification got its first big boost in 1930 when then State Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist urged highway engineers and contractors to save trees whenever possible. Gilchrist also urged them to be on the lookout for sites that could be acquired for use as roadside parks.

It was hard at first for the engineers, most of whom previously had been with the railroads, to become oriented to this new thinking. They were accustomed to building straight highways as they had built the arrow-straight railroads without regard for such things as trees and shrubs which might be in the way.

However, under the leadership of Gilchrist (who retired in 1937 and now living in College Station) and D. C. Greer, who has been State Highway Engineer since 1940, an extensive beautification and roadside parks program has been carried out throughout the state's 68 thousand-mile highway system.

Roadside facilities are individually designed by the Highway Department's landscape architects to complement the natural surroundings. Construction features vary from the modern safety areas comfort stations on Interstate highways, to beautifully laid out parks in East Texas forests, to scenic overlooks which offer magnificent views in West Texas.

The first such rest area with comfort station was opened earlier this year on Interstate Highway 35 between Georgetown and Round Rock in Williamson County. Since then, seven more have been completed on Texas' Interstate system. Three more now in various stages of construction, and five more are in the planning stage.

These safety rest areas with comfort stations actually are two parks, one on each side of the multilane highway. They generally include concrete and steel arbors, concrete tables and benches, drinking fountains and brick fireplaces with neatly stacked firewood. The terrazzo-floored rest rooms have wastepaper disposal units and electric hand dryers.

In addition, each rest area-comfort station has a display center which presents local and statewide travel information and houses a dispenser unit of travel maps. The primary purpose of each roadside facility is to provide a safe place in pleasant surroundings where a motorist may stop to relax, refresh himself or eat something before continuing his drive. An alert driver has fewer accidents. The Highway Department provides rest areas as just one of its many efforts to reduce highway fatalities.

Emphasis on landscaping along Texas highways is also done with the driver's safety — as well as his enjoyment — in mind. Trees and shrubs are strategically placed to focus the motorist's attention on hidden curves, unexpected hazards and traffic signs. This landscaping also saves the taxpayers' money in maintenance costs due to erosion from steep slopes and deep ditches.

The value of the beautification-safety program and its direct relationship to maintenance costs long has been established. For example, maintenance costs on Texas highways average 15 per cent of the budget whereas the national average for all other state highway departments is 25 per cent.

The landscaping and roadside parks program has grown in direction and importance each year since its inception. In addition to general landscaping and construction of safety rest areas, the program includes the installation of irrigation systems; planting of grass, shrubs, trees and flowers; and screening unsightly areas such as junkyards and garbage dumps.

Efforts continue to overcome still another man-made blight on and along the highways as more and more litterbarrels are placed on highway shoulders and rest areas.

With more than a thousand litter barrels strategically placed on Texas highways, the traveling public is a full partner in the campaign against the clutter and refuse which costs the Highway Department $1.5 million to clean up each year.

The program which began as a plea to "save our trees and be on the lookout for likely roadside park sites" has more than proved its worth.

A Department spokesman says: "Beauty pays its own way. The beauty of Texas highways saves taxpayers' money. It saves drivers' lives."

WHITE REFLECTS LIGHT
Don't fret about cleaning the mud or dirt splashes off your hunting casing coat. A dirty coat will aid you in blending better with surrounding marsh foliage. Also, skip shaving before a duck hunt. A clean-shaven upturned face can stand out enough to spook incoming ducks.

HYPOTHOSE SPOONS
If you have your own photography darkroom, try this trick for brightening up silver spoons. Instead of throwing out the used fixer mixture, just drop in your spoons and let them set overnight. Next morning they will be bright like new.

Don't spend your time wondering why a black hen lays white eggs — get the egg.

Messick Attends Training Course At Tifton, Ga.

D. C. Messick, Jr., International Harvester dealer in Memphis, has just completed an intensive one-week training course on tractors and farm equipment at International Harvester's Training Center near Tifton, Georgia.

Messick, along with a class of 20 other dealers from all parts of the United States, studied and operated a large number of tractors, tillage, planting, and hay machines in actual field conditions.

Classes were small enough for personal direction. Each dealer operated a wide variety of International Harvester and competitive farm equipment during the day and attended two-hour discussion classes at night.

The school is designed to help dealers become better acquainted with tractors and farm equipment. The association with other dealers, combined with the actual exposure to the latest equipment, enables those attending to better serve their trade areas.

Cyclone Blasts Bobcats There Friday Night 28-0

The Memphis Cyclone defensive unit played alert, heads-up football, while the offensive unit racked up four TDs as the local lads defeated the Childress Bobcats 28-0 at Childress Friday.

The story of the game was not written in scoreboard lights however, as the Childress defensive line stopped four Cyclone drives inside the Bobcats' 20 yard-line.

Offensively, the Bobcats could not get their passing or running game going, and managed only four first downs against the Cyclone's stubborn defense.

The Bobcats had 51 yards on the ground and 13 yards in the air during the night's play, while the Cyclone rolled up 234 yards on the ground and 154 yards in the air, making 20 first downs.

Although the statistics were decided, the physical contact in the game was bruising.

Memphis had a lot to cheer about from the opening kick-off to the final play of the game. The Cyclone returned the opening kick-off to the Childress 40. In the first series, by virtue of a yard offside penalty against the Cyclone and a 10-yd. pass, the Bobcats and a first down to the Memphis 45.

Three plays netted only five yards, and the Bobcat punter, who was called upon nine times during the night, booted the ball to the Memphis 18.

From this point, FB Roge Fowler cracked through the line for a 12-yd. gain. Then, in the next series, for nine more, HB Gary Rea, carried for six yards and a first down to the Memphis 45.

Then, one of the really exciting plays of the night occurred. Running through a big hole opened by Tackle Lanny Crow, HB Rea cut up field and broke for the side lines, racing 43-yards to the Childress 12 before being downed.

The Bobcats, had other ideas, however, and went into their goal line defense, which stopped the Cyclone offense cold for four plays, and Childress took over on their 9-yard-line.

Using a third down quick-kick to good advantage, the Bobcats gave up the ball to Memphis on the Childress 30.

After Fowler had made three yards, a beautifully thrown pass from QB Pounds to End Allen Booth netted 17 yards to the Childress 11. In the next series, Rea made three yards, TB William Welch was dropped for a 2-yd. loss and an incomplete pass, left the Cyclone facing a fourth down. Tackle Jerry Hall went in to try a field goal, but the Bobcats blocked the kick, and the Cyclone still couldn't get on the scoreboard.

The next time the Cyclone got the ball was on the Childress 48-yd. line. From this point, FB Fowler broke through for an 18-yd. run to the Childress 30. QB Pounds carried for five more and TB Welch added 7 to the Childress 18. Welch carried for six and four yards to the Childress 8, and the Cyclone held its third scoring opportunity.

But again, the Childress defense stopped the drive, allowing Rea two yds., Fowler nothing, Welch two yds. and Fowler 1.

From the Childress 3, the Bobcats marched for one first down to the 16. Then, on a pass play, William Welch grabbed off a Childress pass and raced to the Bobcats 2-yd. line before being stopped.

On the next play, the call went to Fowler, but the officials called a penalty and five yards were stepped off against Memphis. Not to be stopped again, TB Welch took the ball on the next play and crashed his way to the goal line before being downed. Only a foot away, QB Pounds took the snap and dove into the endzone for the score. Jerry Hall came in and placed kicked the ball through the up-rights for the first of four points — after he kicked during the night's play.

In the closing minutes of the first half, the Cyclone staged a beautiful scoring drive, taking over the ball after a Childress punt on the Memphis 29.

A 10-yd. pass play from Pounds to Fowler got the drive going. Then Pounds hit End Richard Parker for 23 yds. and a first down to the Childress 38. Fowler made three more yards on the next play, and then Pounds hit End Roy Long for nine yards.

In the next series, Pounds went back for a pass, found the receivers covered, and raced 12 yds. to the Childress 14. From this point, a 7-yard carry by Welch and a 4-yard carry by Rea put the ball on the Childress three.

On the next play, Pounds hit End Roy Long on a TD pass. Hall booted the conversion and the halftime score was 14-0.

In the second half, the Cyclone took advantage of two big breaks to score against the Bobcats.

The first break came in the third period when Defensive Guard Sam Bruce pounced on a loose Bobcat fumble giving Memphis the ball on the Childress 18-yard line.

On the next play, HB Gary Rea cracked over the right side and with some mighty fancy running, crossed the goal line standing up. Hall added the point after and the score was 21-0.

The Cyclone's final tally came on the first play in the fourth quarter after the Bobcats had been penalized 15 yards on a punt play from the point of the infraction, which gave Memphis the ball on the Childress 37.

A pass from Pounds to End Long was good for four yards. Then, HB Rea made five more yards to the Childress 28. With a third down and one situation, Pounds took advantage of the tight Childress defense to hit HB Rea who turned it on as he picked his way into the endzone for a TD. Hall added the point after and the scoring was complete for the night, 28-0.

In the closing minutes of the fourth period, the Cyclone got a drive going which took the local lads from the Memphis 19-yard line down to the Bobcat 5-yard line when time ran out.

One of the most exciting plays of the night was seen during this drive, when Parker passed a screen pass to HB Rea who scampered 32 yards to the Childress 30.

Yarbrough Urges Skip-Row Relief For Farmers

Sen. Ralph Yarbrough, D-Texas, last week protested the "inequity" with which skip-row cotton farmers in Texas are being treated under the U. S. Department of Agriculture cotton allot regulations.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Yarbrough also suggested that the Department set aside "an unearmarked reserve...for distribution among Texas counties suffering undue hardships," because of adverse weather.

It was the third consecutive year that the senator has differed with the Agriculture Department's system of penalizing skip-row cotton farmers.

Text of the Senator's letter follows:

Dear Mr. Secretary:

As the time for issuing 1965 cotton regulations approaches, cotton farmers in Texas are faced with entering another year with the same penalty for skip-row planting as in the last two years. You will recall that I have protested the unfair regulations of the Department of Agriculture since they were first imposed, and I feel obliged to do so again before this inequity is continued for another year.

Texas farmers who have planted their cotton in skip-row patterns in the base period on which protected yields are calculated have been penalized by projected determinations. Many pounds penalized for their planting practices; Texas farmers have lost millions of dollars as a result. Your Department should correct this.

Another change has been suggested that should also be considered. It is my understanding that the present project yield conditions — in some counties no adjustment at all. It is suggested that an unearmarked reserve sent from the national level to the State ASC committee for distribution among Texas counties suffering undue hardships would be helpful to Texas farmers.

I repeat my hope that the 1968 cotton regulations will restore equity to the Texas cotton farmers.

With best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
/S/ Ralph W. Yarbrough

General Telephone Co. Employee Reports About Hurricane Damage

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Roddy Waites, one of a crew from Memphis sent into the Lower Rio Grande Valley by General Telephone Company, to repair damages caused by Hurricane Beulah. The letter was sent to Roddy's friends at the company's office here.)

Sunday Night Hello You Lucky Bums, Twice the sun has risen, twice the sun has set, and here we are in Texas yet.

We arrived in Raymondville at 4:00 a. m. Thursday. We all had long faces when we got here, so someone said, "cheer up. Things could be worse." So we cheered up—and sure enough things got worse.

It has rained a little over 30 inches here. There are very few spots in town that are not covered with at least one foot of water. We have worked every day in water from knee deep to shoulder deep. We have had no water to bathe in, and no sewer accommodations. (Boy, do we smell good!) There are not many houses

Tax Man Sam Sez—

Last year thousands of young wives filed a joint return with their husbands for the first time and eagerly looked forward to getting their first joint tax refund check. However, when Internal Revenue checked the young wife's name against the Social Security Number computer file, the computer said, "I don't know Mrs. Jones." She forgot to tell Social Security that she had a new name—so Internal Revenue wrote the young wife a letter and eventually got her new name and her old Social Security number together, but she had to wait or her refund check.

Young wives, tell the computer about your new name.

It is a funny feeling to be eating and have a fish swim between your feet. We don't know what dry clothes are any more. I would give a dollar for a good old sandstorm.

We don't know when we will be home yet. I sure hope it will be soon.

Texas Rates First As Cotton State In United States

Texas can be considered the nation's number one cotton state. So reports William F. Harris, director of Cotton Economic Research at the University of Texas, whose article on the place of cotton in the state's economy appears in the current issue of the Texas Business Review. The publication is issued by UT's Bureau of Business Research.

On a national scale, Texas produces from 30 to 34 per cent of U. S. cotton, has 40 per cent of the cotton acreage, 22 per cent of the cotton farms, 26 per cent of the cotton gins, 27 per cent of the cottonseed-oil mills, and 40 per cent of the cotton compresses.

In addition, more than 27 per cent of the nation's cotton merchants and shippers have their headquarters in Texas, and 60 per cent of all cotton exported from the U. S. passes through the Texas Gulf ports.

In Texas cotton has long been king, the number one cash crop, Mr. Harris pointed out. In 1955, Texas cash receipts from produced cotton lint and cottonseed were $633.7 million, a figure which represents more than 47 per cent of the cash receipts of all crops.

Texas' cotton industry also provided a payroll of $311,528,500, and employment for more than 174,000 workers engaged in various segments of the industry—from seed production, farming and ginning through compresses, warehouses, merchants-shippers, transportation, textile mills, apparel industry, cottonseed oil mills, aerial applicators, agricultural chemicals, manufacturers and bankers.

Mr. Harris notes that Texas has some 121,700 cotton farms, the average size of which is more than 690 acres. The four counties which lead in the production of bales are Lubbock (155,108), Dawson (128,284), Cameron (109,133), and Hockley (106,699).

South gate on the west side of the stadium will be open and tickets will be on sale at the gate.

"We were sorry so many fans had to stand in line at the Clarendon game recently, and we will try to do our best to keep the lines short Friday night," Supt. Chambless said.

"We would also encourage fans to use the school's parking lot to the southwest of the stadium area in the southwest gate. Paved sidewalk has been built to this gate," Chambless added.

ENROLLS — Miss Anita Snowdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Snowdon of Memphis, has enrolled in Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, Amarillo, after completing 36 weeks of pre-requisite academic courses at Amarillo College. She is scheduled to graduate in June of 1969, thus becoming eligible to write the State Board examinations to become a professional registered nurse. Miss Snowdon's future plans include specializing in Obstetrics or Surgery.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Fertilizer Can Help Increase Hay Tonnage

Recent rains have greatly improved the prospects for a late cutting of quality hay in the county, W. B. Hooser, county agent, stated this week. Hay, he noted, is in short supply in many areas, especially high quality hay, due to extended dry period this summer.

Adequate fertilizer can help increase the tonnage and at the same time improve the quality of the hay, he said. Too, fertilizer also makes rainfall go further. Forage should be cut for hay before it matures, or, in other words, before seedheads begin to form. At this stage of growth, stems are smaller, more palatable and easier to cure.

Because of the uncertainty of hay harvesting weather in the fall, the county agent said, it is better to cut the hay early rather than taking a chance and having to leave it in the field too long. Hooser further suggested that plans be made now for soil testing and applying needed fertilizer in order to insure a good crop next year.

BEWARE OF FEMME

Watch out for female mosquitos if you don't want to get bit. Scientists have discovered that male mosquitos don't have a mouth shaped for biting. How to tell the female mosquitos from the males is your problem. Wish we could help you!

Estelline—

Starters for the Bears Friday night will be: QB Laddy Fowler, HB Monty Longbine, HB Randy Collins, C Stanley Altman, RG Robert Cruz, RE Jimmy Adcock, LG Joe Joutet and LE Kenneth Moore.

"Top contenders for the crown this year appear to be Guthrie and Morse," Coach Adams said.

"We will have to play our best Friday night."

Cyclone—

About the Childress game, the coach said, "we were disappointed with not scoring the first three times we had the ball."

"The line blocking was the best we've had all year with the exception of missed assignments caused by the jumping defensive linemen of Childress," he said.

The coach cited Gary Rea, Roy Long and Chuck Jennings and Tony Pounds for doing well on offense. Defensively, he had praise for Roy Long, Garvin Speed, Chuck Jennings and Richard Parker who played well.

"Our pass defense was excellent in the past two games being led by Roy Long with three interceptions," Coach Glascock said. The Cyclones face a seven-trick 3-AA contest, begin with Lockney Friday night. Glascock said Friday's opponent may well determine the team develops the momentum to make a successful bid at the district championship. "We have several strong line in this district, all capable of winning ball games," he said.

PONY EXPRESS RACE—Photographer Bob Brown caught the take-off of the heat between Memphis and Lakeview Saturday, Sept. 16, at the pony express races held here. Four teams competed in the round-robin tournament. Each team has eight riders who must ride around the four barrels and pass their saddlebags to the next team member, with the 8th member of the team required to place the saddlebags inside a barrel in the center of the arena. Officials were: Gate-man, Troy Wilks; Starting judge, John McCauley; Arena judges, Lonnie Widener, Mike Webster and Charles Roberson. After each team had run against each of the other teams, Childress was declared the winner, Memphis second and Hollis third. The Memphis Trail Riders sponsored the races as a part of the county celebration.
