Over 400 Are Expected Tonight For Appreciation Banquet

Charles Arnold Gibson, president of B. Cotton Mills, a division of Burlington Industries, Inc., world's largest textile manufacturing organization, is in Memphis today, along with others from Greenville, S. C., for the Industrial Appreciation Day activities for Postex Hall Plant.

Accompanying Mr. Gibson are Walter B. Hildebrandt, executive vice president of Erwin Mills. Also J. C. Penders, personnel manager of Erwin Sheeting Division of Burlington Industries, Inc.

Louie Burkes, general manager of Postex Cotton Mills, Post and Hall Plants, Larry Hopkins, general superintendent of finishing and fabrication for both plants, and Dick Dickson, personnel manager of both plants, are expected to be here.

Postex Hall Plant opened its doors at 1 p. m. today in an open house, which will last until 5 p. m. Those desiring to take the tour who arrive before 3:30 will see the plant in full operation, Overseer Kent Magness said.

Banquet
Highlighting the special activities will be an appreciation banquet to be held at 7:30 p. m. tonight under the sponsorship of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development.

It was reported this morning that a capacity crowd is expected for the banquet in the Community Center, with over 400 tickets having been sold.

Plans are already in progress to try and handle any overflow, chamber officials announced.

Master of ceremonies, Lester Campbell, said that the banquet hall has been attractively decorated by members of the chamber's Welcome Committee in an autumn motif.

Rev. Gene Jorgenson will give the invocation, and Mrs. Ann Chamberlain will provide special dinner music.

Memphis Mayor Kenneth Dale will give the welcome address for the evening. Real western music will be provided by Zipp Durrett, Jerrel Rapp and Ted Bruce.

Local employees of Postex and out-of-town dignitaries of the industry will be recognized.

Climaxing the evening will be the presentation of plaques by representatives of the local chamber.

It was reported today by Overseer Magness that Mrs. Burkes, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Dixon will accompany their husbands to Memphis for the observance.

GENERAL MANAGER—Pictured above is Louie Burkes, General Manager of the Postex Plant at Post and the Postex Hall Plant. Mr. Burkes announced the opening of the sewing plant here over five years ago. He will be here today for the banquet tonight in honor of Postex Hall Plant.

Cyclone Band To Crown Favorites

In pre-game activities Friday night before the Memphis-Floydada football game, approximately at 7 p. m., the Memphis Cyclone Band will crown the 1967-68 Band Favorites.

Candidates for the honor are Sam Houston or Fred Snowdon for the Boy Favorite, and Nancy Simpson or Sheila Fowler for the Girl Favorite.

Band Director Darryl Phillips said Wednesday that, if plans work out, the band will use a little different approach to the crowning this year. The ceremonies will not take too long, he said.

Marching Contest
The Cyclone Marching Band took a Division II at marching contest Tuesday afternoon at Canyon. Director Phillips reported that the band marched the routine the best they have done it, but was criticized by the judges for their playing.

"I'm not disappointed in the least in our performance," the Memphis director said.

Phillips had nothing but high praise for the five girls who competed in the twirling contest.

Dayna Hickey and Sherri Cleveland both had Division I ratings on Class I twirling solos. Jo Ann Scott and Vicki Clifton took Division II ratings on Class I solos, while Vicki Rose took Division III rating in Class I.

None of these girls are regular twirlers. The band is real proud of the work these younger girls have been doing," Director Phillips said.

The director said these are the first Division I ratings Memphis twirlers have earned in two years and the first he can remember from girls other than regular twirlers of the band.

Services Held Monday For Sgt. L. R. Hodges

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 23, at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist Church for S/Sgt. Lee Roy Hodges, 28. Officiating were Rev. Gene Jorgenson, pastor and Rev. Virgil C. Sparks, pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Sgt. Hodges was a special advisor to South Vietnamese troops. He was killed in action in South Vietnam on Monday, Oct. 16, after having been there for a period of nine months.

The sergeant had been a member of the U. S. Army for nine years.

Born in Memphis and a graduate of the local high school in 1958, Sgt. Hodges was united in marriage to Miss Ingeborg H. Fischer March 5, 1965, in Newmarket, Germany. He had been stationed in Germany four years prior to going to South Vietnam.

He is survived by his wife of Memphis; one son, Bob Lee of Memphis; his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rogers of Memphis; one sister, Mrs. Jack Gilbert of Spearman; and his grandmother, Mrs. T. L. McWhorter of Memphis.

Military graveside services were conducted by the unit from Fort Sill, Okla. Active pall bearers were military personnel.

Honorary pall bearers were Bill Don Johnson, Joe Alvin Young, Bruce Willis, Jr., and William H. Thacker.

Annual Cotton Guessing Contest To Begin Friday

No Sign-Up Is To Be Held For 1968 USDA Cropland Adjustment Program

The Cropland Adjustment Program under which farms were offered five to 10-year contracts for retiring cropland from production will not be offered in 1968.

Congress eliminated the 1968 Cropland Adjustment Program from the 1968 appropriation bill, according to an announcement released this week by Roy L. Gresham, chairman, Hall County USC Committee.

"This will in no way affect 1966 or 1967 agreements as funds will be made available to producers for annual and cost-share payments for the entire agreement period," Gresham said.

The long range retirement of cropland has been a popular program in Hall County for over 10 years, the record shows.

"We had 55,458 acres or 472 farms, under the soil bank program in 1960. There are 10,176 acres on 56 farms under the new CAP that were signed up in 1966 and 1967. We still have 16,000 acres on 141 farms under CR contracts in 1967," he stated.

The CR and CAP programs have proven to be satisfactory and economical method to control production, and it is indeed unfortunate that Congress eliminated the program for 1968, he added.

The annual Cotton Guessing Contest of The Memphis Democrat will officially open Friday morning, Oct. 27, at 8 a. m. and will continue through Saturday, Nov. 18, according to Herschel A. Combs, publisher of The Memphis Democrat.

The 21st consecutive cotton guessing contest will be one in which the readers of The Democrat make an effort to estimate the amount of cotton Hall County farmers will gin this season.

With a killing frost not yet visiting the county, opportunities to increase or decrease the number of bales ginned may yet be in the offing, it has been estimated.

The knowledgeable person guessing closest to the actual number of bales ginned, will receive a three-year subscription to The Democrat; second place winner will receive a two-year subscription; and the third place guesser will get a one-year subscription. In case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

All readers are eligible to enter the contest. All a person has to do to enter is come by the office of this newspaper and make a prediction, or, if more convenient, mail a card or letter to The Democrat, P. O. Box 190, Memphis, Texas 79245.

Be sure to list your name, your mailing address, and the number of bales estimated for the 1967 cotton crop. No entries will be taken over the telephone.

The Democrat will publish the names of the winners when the final figures are released on the 1967 crop by the U. S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Census. This report generally arrives the latter part of March each year, the publisher stated.

Last year, the county ginned 36,714 bales of cotton, from approximately 57,909 acres planted to the crop.

Approximately the same number of acres are planted to cotton in Hall County for the 1967 season as was harvested last year. The number of acres planted to cotton vary from year to year, according to the records.

The cotton production record for Hall County for the past 10 years is as follows: 1957, 33,996; 1958, 45,324; 1959, 46,171; 1960, 59,953; 1961, 75,139; 1962, 61,433; 1963, 60,271; 1964, 48,236; 1965, 56,446; and 1966, 36,714.

MRS. REBA STROEHLE

Funeral Services Held Today For Reba Stroehle

Funeral services for Mrs. Reba Stroehle, 57, who had taught in the Memphis Public Schools for 30 years, were held at 4 p. m. today (Thursday) in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Gene Jorgenson, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Stroehle passed away at 8:05 p. m. Tuesday in St. Joseph's Hospital in Houston where she had been a patient for nearly two weeks. She resided here at 315 South 7th Street.

Miss Reba Fitzjarrald was born Sept. 13, 1910, in Charleston, Ark. A Memphis resident for 46 years, she moved here with her parents June 11, 1921. She was united in marriage to Clarence Stroehle in the Fitzjarrald home in Memphis June 16, 1934. Mr. Stroehle preceded her in death on Oct. 27, 1940.

A graduate of Memphis High School, she also attended Colorado Women's College, Colorado University, West Texas State University and Boston Arts and Conservatory.

She taught in the Memphis Public Schools for 30 years and had been school counselor for the past two years.

Cyclone-Whirlwinds To Do Battle Here Friday

The Memphis Cyclone, coming off a heartbreaking 7-6 defeat at Olton last Friday night, will play host to the much-improved Floydada Whirlwinds at 7:30 p. m. Friday in Cyclone Stadium.

The Cyclone has been doing a certain amount of position shifting this week as several of their players have been either sick or injured. The spirit of the team is good, Coach Bert Glascock reported.

Floydada has lost all four district games so far this season by losing to Friona 27-6, Olton 40-0, Abernathy 26-14 and Hale Center 28-16.

"These scores do not indicate the caliber of ball club Floydada has or the tough brand of football they play," Coach Glascock said. "The Whirlwinds just have not been playing together, and if they get together and jell for a night, they are capable of giving any team a run for its money."

The Whirlwinds are a big bunch with No. 25, FB Joe Christian, a senior captain and three-year starter, the key man carrying the pigskin. He is a tough blocker and hard runner with good speed for his size—185 pounds.

Not to be overlooked is Tailback Steve Craig, a junior, (170), who carries the ball a lot and is a good passer on sweeps.

QB Jackie Gregory (145) is guiding the Whirlwinds, and tomorrow night's game will be his third game in that position. Although relatively inexperienced, Gregory is a good ball handler and a running threat, and has been improving steadily.

Wingback or flanker back, Ross Miller (170) is a fine pass receiver and good blocker.

About Olton
Coach Glascock said, "I was real proud of our boys at Olton. They played hard all the way and all the boys on the field were doing their best. Naturally, I was disappointed that we lost the contest for we played well enough to win it."

"The thing that disappointed me the most at Olton, were several statements Coach Don Beck made which were published in the Olton newspaper write-up about the game. Beck said that the Memphis team built up a hate for him when they played against Wellington teams he coached, and this hate carried over when he went to Olton. As I see it, this is a one-sided hate which has been generated in Olton with falsely sent letters, untrue accusations, signs and the general attitude of Olton fans. If it takes this type of coercion to win football games, then I want no part of it," he said.

"Because of this and other things, I was real proud of our boys and fans at Olton Friday night," he said.

Lakeview To Have Beef Production Short Course

A beef production short course for adult farmers will be held Nov. 6 thru 9, 1967 under the sponsorship of the Lakeview High School Vocational Agriculture Department according to Mr. A. P. Jones, Supt. and Mr. Barney J. Bevers, teacher of vocational agriculture.

Mr. W. W. (Bill) Holtzapfle, Beef Production Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A & M University will be the instructor for the course. He is headquartered at Texas A & M University.

Mr. Holtzapfle is a graduate of Texas A & M. He majored in Agricultural Education with much of his work done in livestock production.

Upon graduation he taught Vocational Agriculture at Hearne, Texas, for one year, and he served as County Agriculture Agent for nine years in San Augustine County. This is his third year with the Specialist Program. Mr. Holtzapfle has had much experience in working with beef cattle and operated his own farm with beef cattle and poultry as the main enterprises.

He has worked with commercial and registered breeders in that area and has carried on a very active educational program in beef cattle production.

The short course at Lakeview is scheduled to begin Nov. 6 at 7:30 p. m. in the Grade School Auditorium. Other meetings in the series of Beef Cattle will be held Nov. 7-8-9.

During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Holtzapfle will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction according to Barney J. Bevers.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Mr. A. P. Jones, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Barney J. Bevers. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged.

Beef production short course certificates will be presented to each cattlemen who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Holtzapfle states the field of beef production must take a close look at efficiency of production in the future. With land prices, feed and taxes rising, the producer is meeting more and more competition for the consumers' dollar at the meat counter. From the economic view of beef cattle business, there is every indication that in comparing the producer of yesteryear and the producer of tomorrow, beef must be produced to sell cheaper in order to be a profit-making business. Mr. Holtzapfle indicates that the beef production short course will deal with methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the ways of producing the kind of beef the homemaker wants to buy. He also states that the course will include such important fields as the meat-type steer, selecting bulls and replacement heifers, proper range use, and supplemental winter feeding. The course can be changed to meet the wishes and interests of the farmers and ranchers enrolled.

"Short courses in beef production, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University," states Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agriculture Education at Texas A&M University, who coordinates the program for Texas A&M.

"This cooperative program states Jaska, "is designed to the services of specialists able to conduct short courses under the supervision of schools. Such a program will able teachers of vocational culture to provide educational vices to farm people."

Specialist are now available the fields of beef production, management, farm electrical tractor maintenance, dairy pasture, and oxy-acetylene ing.

Flight training to assist Korean Conflict veterans toward a career goal involving commercial pilot's license is offered by the new GI Bill of 1954 says the Veterans Administration.

If no additional land acreage added to the present State Park system, the supply of land able for development will reach maximum visitor capacity in 1970.

Small Watersheds With Beulah's Rains Stand

Small Watershed projects in Texas took the brunt of Hurricane Beulah's record-breaking rains last month and prevented flood damages, according to report from H. N. Smith, Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Temple.

Gregory, SCS Work Unit Supervisor, of Memphis, said small watershed structures like the ones being planned for the Lakeview Watershed and other citizens would be interested in Mr. Smith's report concerning these structures.

Smith said six projects had been planned with SCS help in the area of the heavy rains and that actions so far showed that they were seriously damaged by storm.

Blair, city councilmen reported that a channel-level project, of the Chittipin-San Fernand creek watershed project, saved city and prevented at least $10,000 in property damages.

Smith said that the heavy rains and that actions so far showed that they were seriously damaged by storm.

The heavy rains again underscored the value of work done by soil and water conservation districts in preventing erosion and sediment damage. Cultivated land with a cover of either a growing cover or crop residues had little damage. Bare land suffered severe damage, Smith said. He also said that bare, brush infested rangeland had scour damage and soil loss while grass-land with good cover was not damaged.

Soil that washed off bare land became the mud that block roads and covered furniture and carpets downstream, Smith pointed out. He said that again bears out the fact that everyone has a stake in soil and water conservation work—from the farmer to the businessman to the housewife.

SCS helps landowners through local conservation districts plan and supply soil and water conservation measures on farm and ranch lands. SCS also helps local sponsors install watershed projects when sponsors are willing to secure needed rights-of-way as well as operate and maintain completed projects. Watershed dams have pipes built through them that automatically release water at a rate slow enough to prevent downstream flooding.

Smith said several pending projects now under consideration by sponsors would have greatly reduced flooding in other areas if they had been installed.

Gregory said that it is highly unlikely that the Lakeview Watershed will ever face a test such as Hurricane Beulah gave the watershed structures in south Texas; however, he pointed out that this country does have unusually large periods of time when conditions are right.

LIBRARY LORE

By Jim Roark

"We owe to books those general benefits which come from high intellectual action. Thus, I think we often owe to them the perception of immortality. They impact sympathetic activity to the moral power. Go with mean people and you think life is mean. Then read Plutarch, and the world is a proud place, peopled with men of positive quality, with heroes and demigods standing around us who will not let us sleep."

"The King of the Castle" follows the tradition of Victoria Holt's preceding Gothic novels with the old traditions of blooding atmosphere, suspense and romance. Q - What right does the IRS have to seize somebody's property or bank account for unpaid taxes?

A - Federal tax law provides several actions that IRS can take to protect the government revenue when a taxpayer refuses to satisfy his obligations voluntarily.

Before enforcement action is taken, a person who owes taxes is given ample opportunity to voluntarily pay his tax liability. A taxpayer is sent several written notices and afforded conferences. If in response to any one of these notices the taxpayer cooperates, no enforcement action is taken. Only when all attempts to gain the taxpayer's cooperation in regard to the settlement of his tax liability have failed, does IRS initiate action to enforce the law.

Q - I give my maid lunch. Do I have to pay Social Security tax on that too?

A - No. The Social Security tax applies only to cash paid to household employees for wages and transportation. You do not have to include the value of the meals you provide.

Q - I just got a letter inviting me to a charity ball. If I buy tickets can I list this as a charitable deduction?

A - This may be a deductible expense if the event is sponsored by a qualified organization. In that case, a deduction may be taken for that portion of the ticket price that exceeds the value you receive by buying the tickets.

In other words, if the tickets entitle you to attend a dance then you would have to subtract what it would cost to attend a similar dance from the amount you pay for the tickets to determine the deduction. If you buy the tickets and do not attend the event the law still requires you to reduce your charitable contribution by the value of your ticket.

To simplify things for contributors, IRS has requested that sponsors of charitable fund-raising events list the actual admission price and the amount solicited as a contribution right on the ticket.

Q - My boss says that since I didn't file a new withholding certificate by May 1, I have to wait until January 1 to do it. Is that right?

A - No. Many employers will let an employee change his withholding certificate at any time. Under the law, however, the employer is only required to make payroll changes four times a year, on January 1, May 1, July 1, or October 1, for changes filed at least 30 days previously.

Postex Hall Plant Has Seen Five Years Of Steady Growth

Over 200 employees of Postex Hall Plant and several visiting officials are showing visitors the plant operation on guided tours this afternoon from 1 until 5 p. m.

The Postex Hall Plant open house today marks five years and two months of operation in Memphis and four years and four months operation in Postex Hall Plant Building.

Citizens making the tour today will find a large number of changes have taken place since the first open house was held on Aug. 13, 1963, in the new building containing 25,000 square feet of floor space in the one story structure.

For one thing, the building has been added on to the west side since then. For another, at that time the plant employed approximately 60 persons, while today there are over 200 employees.

Numerous pieces of equipment also have been added.

Although the Postex Hall Plant has been in operation here for slightly over five years, its history is one of steady and continuing growth.

Beginning July 19, 1962, with the first announcement that a sewing plant would be established in Memphis, the long and laborious job of providing facilities and training personnel took time and a lot of cooperation on the part of everyone concerned.

On July 26, 1962, interviewing for possibly 60 employees of the new plant began, and operation was set up in the Boren Building on Noel Street. J. P. Parnell was plant representative in charge of operations in the pilot plant in the temporary quarters.

The formal announcement of the establishment of Postex Hall Plant came from Burlington Industries on Aug. 2, 1962, in which Louie Burkes, general manager of Postex and Postex Hall Plants of Post was quoted.

Shortly the pilot plant got into production, with the first sheets being sewed on Monday, Aug. 6, 1962 Fred Byerly, Jr. was named local plant manager.

Approximately 60 employees moved from the temporary plant into the newly completed 25,000 sq. ft. one-story structure in northwest Memphis on Monday, June 24, 1963. At the time of the move, Fred Byerly, Jr. was plant manager and Kent Magness was Hall Plant supervisor.

Since the open house on Aug. 13, 1963, the plant has experienced a steady and continuous growth.

Today, Kent Magness is Postex Hall Plant overseer, a position he has held for the past two and a half years. He was plant supervisor for two years here prior to that time.

Robert Smith is the supervisor of the plant, having served in this capacity for the past two and a half years.

Mrs. Billie Alexander and Mrs. Lucille Long are the two floor supervisors.

Mrs. Leon Dale Beavers and Mrs. Nancy Elliott are the office clerks.

The plant employs numerous hemmers, inspectors, folders, making up the major portion of the personnel.

However, the plant also employs a certain number of men, Overseer Magness reported.

Jack Beavers is the head machinist and Travis Maynard is a machinist in the maintenance department.

Allen Murdock is the shipping clerk who is responsible for seeing that the two truck loads of unfinished sheeting is received and the two truck loads of finished sheets are loaded and ready for shipment each day.

Sheet cutting operators are Phillip Mackey, James Madewell and Blas Narvaez.

Lee Long is the head caser with Johnny Williams, Weldel Bolin, Tommy Speed and Clarence Neel serving as casers. Bobby Howe, Norman Archer and Don Riecken are checker sheet men.

Orace Speed is in charge of production control while Kirk Anderson is the sheet table server.

Bobby and Billy Royce Lester of Lubbock spent the weekend here visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lester.

Although the primaries are not until next May, Texas politicians here and there already are beginning to get in and out of statewide races.

Big question still is whether Gov. John Connally will run for an unprecedented fourth term. He says he hasn't made up his mind.

If he doesn't run, it now appears that it will be at least a three-way race in the Democratic primary—between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who already has announced, Speaker Ben Barnes and former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

If Connally does run, Barnes and Carr probably will vie for lieutenant governor, though neither has as yet announced a definite decision.

In the State Supreme Court, both Associate Justice James R. Norvell and Meade F. Griffith say that they will not seek reelection in 1968. Woodrow Bean of El Paso and former state Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio are being mentioned as possible candidates for those two posts.

Highway Officials Promoted

On Jan. 1, B. L. DeBerry, Dallas District highway engineer, will replace Assistant State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall. Dingwall will replace State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer, who is retiring.

There will be four other administrative changes in the Highway Department:

Archie J. Sherrod, now district engineer in Odessa, will be promoted to chief engineer of maintenance operations.

John G. Keller, Beaumont district engineer, will succeed DeBerry.

Franklin Carter Young, district administrative engineer in San Antonio, will take over Keller's job.

Paul H. Coleman, assistant district engineer at Odessa, will replace Sherrod.

Research Award To Texas

Texas Research League was presented the top research award of the Governmental Research Association for its report, "Metropolitan Texas: A Workable Approach To Its Problems."

Award was made in Boston. Accepting were Alvin A. Burger, executive director of the League, and James W. McGrew, research director and head of the project.

League's report was made after an 18-month study requested by Governor Connally. It contained seven legislative recommendations but only one of them passed the legislature. That one provided $250,000 of state money for regional planning.

Texas Tourism Pushed

Texas' official travel exhibit—pushing the state as a vacation land with a "World of Difference"—was seen by approximately 450,000 persons at the Canadian National Exposition at Toronto. So says Walt Warner, director of programs for the Texas Tourist Development Agency, which sponsors the exhibit.

Warner regards Canada as an important but unexplored market for the Texas travel industry. "Many (Canadians) were unaware that Texas lay just 1,200 miles from Toronto's border," he said. "They seemed surprised to find a state so near that offered a warm, tropical climate during the winter months."

Texas' exhibit is being displayed in travel shows all over North America.

COUNTY AGENT SAYS

October and November Is Best Time to Control Peach Tree Borer

The peach tree borer is the most important insect enemy of the peach, according to County Agent W. B. Hooser. Borers feed on the cambium and inner bark of the trunk of the peach tree from two to three inches below the surface of the soil to 10 inches above.

When peach trees are infested with peach tree borers, masses of gum exude from around the base of the trunk of the tree with bits of brownish trash or sawdust mixed with the gum. This insect, in many cases, causes the death of the tree.

The adult female has clean hind wing; the male has both wings clear, and both moths in flight resemble some of the larger wasps. The females lay eggs during July, August and September, and a female may lay as many as 800 eggs. After the eggs hatch, the borers work their way into the bark, and this is where they spend the winter.

Control can be obtained from Oct. 20 to Nov. 15 or before the soil temperature drops below 55 degrees Fahrenheit by placing paradichlorobenzene (PDC) crystals in a band around the trunk of the tree.

All leaf material and grass should be cleaned out and the soil loosened in an area one foot from the tree trunk. The PDC crystals are then placed in a narrow cir-lar or shallow trench about two inches from the trunk of the tree. This band is then covered with soil free from leaf or grass trash, and the soil is mounded around the trunk so as to form a cone-shaped pile about six inches high around the base of the tree. Avoid pushing any of the PDB crystals against the tree since crystals in contact with the tree will cause injury. Compact the soil with the back of the shovel. The mound of soil should be removed in the early spring.

The amount of the PDB crystals to be applied will vary with the age of the tree. For a tree two or three years old, use one-half ounce of crystals; four to five year old trees, three-fourths ounce, and mature trees, one ounce.

Information concerning control of the peach tree borer and other insects that attack peach and other fruit trees is in the "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts" which may be obtained at the county agent's office.

This guide contains the following preventive spray program for small orchards:

"For the homeowner with only a few peach or plum trees, here is a suggested simplified spray schedule. Apply Methoxychlor or malathion and wettable sulfur. (The guide contains the dilution chart for mixing small quantities of sprays.)

Texas production tax rate on oil is 4.6 per cent of value at well 7 per cent on natural gas.

Rev. A. F. Tucker To Speak At Estelline Churches

Rev. Albert F. Tucker, executive director of Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education, Inc., Dallas, will speak at the Estelline Methodist Church at 10 a. m., and in the Estelline Baptist Church at 11 a. m. on Nov. 5.

After serving pastorates in New Mexico and West Texas for 21 years, Rev. Tucker became the first president, and later executive secretary, of the New Mexico Temperance League. In 1958 he was elected the executive head of TANE, members of the Estelline church stated.

The speaker holds certificates of special training from the University of Denver, Yale University and the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism at Loma Linda, Calif. In 1961, Rev. Tucker studied the alcohol problem in Europe and was a delegate to the World Christian Temperance Foundation which met in Oslo, Norway. Among other places of responsibility, Rev. Tucker is a member of the executive committee and board of directors of the American Council on Alcohol Problems, which has headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Some of the phases of TANE's program include a modern printing division; a legislative information service; local option counsel, guidance and material, annual seminars and workshops; as well as scientific, positive visual aids and programs for churches, colleges and schools.

Under Rev. Tucker's leadership, TANE has become known as one of the best organized temperance state programs in the nation, it was announced. Parts of its program and many of its materials are used by several groups in other states and some foreign countries.

During 1965, TANE speakers presented this special message in over 2600 churches in Texas.

All who are interested in civic righteousness and state betterment are welcome to attend the services by special invitation of the host pastors and congregations.

sponsored in Memphis for a number of years by the 1913 Study Club through cooperation with the Memphis Schools.

This year, some 3.5 million American children will take part in the only program in the world where children help children—Trick or Treat—for UNICEF. The good these children help UNICEF to achieve, is so great, so far reaching, that in 1965 the organization won the Nobel Peace Prize, it was announced.

Money collected by these children will be used to buy desperately needed food, vitamins and medicine for needy children in more than 100 countries. For every $1.00 in aid spent by UNICEF recipient countries provide an average of $2.50 in the form of labor, housing facilities and local resources.

Mrs. Tarver said that any person can see how important to the children of the world the UNICEF Trick or Treat Program has become, when it is recognized through UNICEF, just one can provide: penicillin for two children of yaws; or 30 min tablets, or vaccine to give five children from tuberculosis.

The people have been the victors since World War II. Though Japan is a bulwark democracy in that part of the world, its future policies many not be approved by the United States. Its adaptability and progress should be copied by other nations.

EDITORIAL

We Salute Postex Hall Plant!

We, the editorial staff of The Memphis Democrat would like to take this means of saluting the officers and personnel of Postex Hall Plant, Postex Cotton Mills, B. I. Cotton Mills, and Burlington Industries, Inc., on the day proclaimed as "Postex Hall Plant Day" in Memphis by Mayor Kenneth Dale. We wish to join with the many firms and business men, the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Board of Development members, and many many others in expressing appreciation to this fine industry for being such a good citizen in our community.

In saluting Postex Hall Plant, we must salute the good men and women who are employees of this company. But it is even more fitting that we salute the company itself, for the service it provides in filling the need for bed sheets for citizens and service men throughout our nation.

Since the first announcement was made on July 19, 1962, by local leaders in the Industrial Foundation and Chamber of Commerce, that a new sewing industry would locate here, Postex Cotton Mills has met all promises to Memphis citizens and has become a real asset to the area.

Postex Manager Louie Burkes in Aug. 1962 said the plant would begin with 60 employees in a pilot plant, because this was the maximum limit of the Boren Building and that a new structure would be built to house the sewing plant in the near future.

All of this came to pass when the 60 employees of Postex Hall Plant moved into the one-story 25,000 cubic foot structure on Monday, June 24, 1963, after the building was completed by McMillian Construction Co. of Lubbock.

J. P. Parnell was the plant representative in charge of operations when the pilot plant began with its first six employees in early August, 1962. The long job of interviewing and training began on July 26, 1962, and by the time of the move into the new plant in June, 1963, 60 employees were ready.

Fred Byerly, Jr., was local manager of the plant when the move was made. Then, on Aug. 13, 1963, the new plant was open to public inspection at open house with over 400 area residents taking advantage of the invitation to tour the facilities.

Postex Hall Plant officials again extended invitations to area citizens to come back and visit the plant from 1 to 5 p. m. today. Those who make the tour will be amazed at the growth and expansion which has taken place since the 1963 open house was held. The number of employees is 200 plus and numerous pieces of equipment have been added.

Postex Hall Plant has continued to grow and provide job opportunities for men and women who live in and around Memphis. By far the largest percentage of the employees are our friends and neighbors. The economical environment of our entire area has become more stable as the result of industrial payrolls, which help to offset the up and down fluctuations of the agricultural environment.

To pay tribute to Burlington Industries, Inc., is fitting for they are the biggest textile manufacturer in the world. The decision of establishing textile plants in the smaller cities and communities throughout the rural areas of this nation shows the excellent caliber of the executives of Burlington Industries.

In a time when our cities are staggering under the weight of population explosions, and the rural areas have been battling for survival, industrial locations in communities like Memphis are as welcome as spring rains to a dry land cotton farmer.

As far as Postex Hall Plant is concerned, we could not ask for or receive a greater blessing. We repeat, this is a salute to Postex and their personnel, whom we know and work with, on this special day set aside as "Postex Hall Plant Day" in Memphis.

Competition makes things happen. And, successful individuals are successful because competition urges us to laze along, remaining indifferent about our school work, our job attitude, our place in the community. We are spurred to effort when we realize that we are falling behind our friends and neighbors.

In business, competition is keen. And this is the benefit of the consumer. He gets quality goods at fair prices because competition urges the retailer to sell at a reasonable profit in order to earn a fair share of available business. You'd be wise to do your buying locally, with a reputable competitor—someone whose record of service to the community indicates he intends to stay in business by offering the best at the best possible price.

What Other Editors Say

POLITICAL MANEUVERING

Aside from the November election when Childress county voters will decide on the six Constitutional amendments, there isn't any election excitement until next year. However, in 1968 things are expected to bust loose. State officials from Governor on down together with a sprinkling of district and the usual quota of county and precinct elections.

Much is being said about whether Governor John Connally will run for a fourth term. Insiders say he doesn't want to run, but that he would like to see his program completed. No announcement will be coming from the Governor for a few weeks. However, businessmen from over the state are urging the Governor to run.

Without doubt, Connally has tried to make improvements in our state governmental system. They haven't all been popular with politicians and some political toes have been stomped.

Businessmen largely are in accord with the Governor and his program and would like to see the reforms carried out. As a result, businessmen from over the state have urged the Governor to run again.

It could well be that Governor Connally will not seek reelection. Too many political foes will be sniping at him, regardless of how good his program may be for the people of Texas. He made all the Latin Americans in the Valley mad at him over the labor dispute. Just last week in Fort Worth he made county judges and commissioners mad at him over his proposed reforms in county government.

We agree with the Governor on reform of county government. Childress County is operating as it did in the days of the horse and buggy. For example, Childress County commissioners have less roads to maintain than ever before, yet Childress County spends more, owes more money and has more road maintenance equipment than in days of the horse and buggy.

Thoughts for Thursday
THERE COMES a time in the life of every community where public issues divide the people into two camps. It may be a Presidential election, or perhaps a mayor's race, or even a bond issue election. Or it may be a heated church issue in which opinion is divided such problems as the building of a new edifice or keeping the old one. It could even be the problem of consolidating schools or maintaining separate ones.

During these times of tension, differences of opinion become pronounced. Harsh words are spoken. Rifts occur between neighbors and even within families.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—
DURING THESE storms, each person involved finds himself on a spot. He must make one of three decisions. He may align himself with one side or the other or he may attempt to remain neutral.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—
THERE ARE SOME interested in being on what they consider the "rights" side. But that is only one consideration bidding for their support. They are tempted to sacrifice principle in order to be on the winning side. They are tempted to see which side the influential people are on. Or perhaps they value personal popularity so highly that they are tempted to agree with both sides.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—
IT'S OFTEN hazardous to stand by one's convictions. It may cost popularity. It may cost a friend. It may cost a customer.

But in the long run, it pays to be true to one's conscience. The only friends worth having are those who take you for what you are, accepting the bad with the good, allowing you the right to your convictions.

No friend would dominate you—even if he could.

There's an old saying that you can tell a bird-dog hunter anywhere . . . but you can't tell him much.

Likewise you can talk about his wife, his kids, his job, or his family tree . . . but his bird dog is one subject to avoid.

Bird-dog men are like that. If there's one prerequisite such a hunter must have, it is the love of his dogs. Training a blue-ribbon quail dog is no casual and haphazard thing. It requires work and loving patience.

Most important consideration is to get a dog with a hunting background. With bird dogs you pay for quality, like anything else. A dog with natural tendencies for finding and pointing quail will be expensive. Yet a dog of this type, with the right training, is almost assured of becoming a good hunter, while a marginal prospect may never work out.

But, breeding and natural ability are only part of it. Frank Richie trains bird dogs professionally. He owns the Karnes City Shooting resort near the community of Karnes City in south-central Texas. He trains dogs both for his clients to use in hunting, and also for other hunters who have neither the time nor the know-how to train their own dogs.

ed by anyone other than the owner. An outsider quickly learns not to say anything derogatory about the dog, no matter how bad he might be.

There still are a few sacred things left in this world. To a quail hunter, a bird dog is one of them.

According to the new Texas traffic safety laws, all persons under 21 years of age will be issued provisional permit to drive. Provisional licenses will help authorities keep track of accident-prone drivers and Texans For Traffic Safety point out that this is highly desirable as youthful drivers are involved in a disproportionately high percentage of traffic accidents.

BY VERN SANFORD

A truly dedicated hunter will find there is much more to hunting than killing — much, much more.

There is the challenge of the hunt, the suspense, the excitement.

Then there is the enjoyment of getting into the somber woods, away from the hustle and bustle of city life, sharing experiences with companions. Of all, I guess the best part is the companionship.

congenial, understanding bud. Who appreciates the little things that make up the delights of a hunt, who will congratulate you when your aim is true, or sympathize when things go wrong, who turns any hunt into genuine pleasure, whether anything is shot or not.

That a companion who ignores the rules of safe gun handling, who is careless with fire or the owner's property or who is usually griping about conditions or his own luck, can tarnish a hunting trip. This no matter how successful it might be from a sporting standpoint.

Having a good hunting buddy requires effort. It isn't a haphazard thing that should be taken for granted. Every hunter must go out of his way to make the hunt a pleasure for his companions. On such considerations a lasting friendship is bonded.

It is easy enough to be a good hunting companion. All you must do is have full consideration for your gunning partner and practice gun safety and the every-day principles of ordinary courtesy.

Enter into the hunt enthusiastically! If you are the host, try to figure out what type or method will best please your guest. Ask him what's his pleasure. This immediately removes the threat of misunderstanding.

If you are the guest, let the host dictate the order of the day, and do so enthusiastically, whether you approve or not. If you want to do something else, ask him in a polite way and undoubtedly he'll be pleased.

A successful hunting trip is two-way cooperation.

Have a well understood shooting procedure before you start out. Should you be deer hunting, let your companion have the first shot, out of courtesy. Don't try to show him up by killing the first deer or attempting to bag the biggest.

If quail is your game, shoot only at the birds on your side of the cover rise. Await your turn in shooting single birds. If duck hunting, don't spoil your companion's chances by firing too soon. Make sure he is ready and the birds are in range. And take those on your side of the blind only.

In dove hunting don't try to claim every bird that's downed. Should your companion say he got one while inside you feel it was your shot that bagged the bird, let him have it. There's always another chance and to squabble over a bird only sours the hunt.

Everyone should be familiar with the rules of gun safety. Do not be careless. Treat every gun as if it were loaded and never point at anything you don't intend to shoot. Don't take a loaded gun into an automobile or truck.

A careless man with a gun soon finds his invitations to hunt are conspicuous by their absence.

If you're hunting upland game birds, don't try to handle your companion's dog. You are not familiar with the dog, your efforts might confuse him, and your companion is almost sure to resent it. Regardless of who killed the bird, let the dog retrieve it to his master if he desires.

When you go hunting with another gunner, never be a show-off. You may be a much better shot, but don't make him feel it.

Let it be a "we" and "our" hunting trip and he will be more than glad to go with you again.

SMALL GRAIN CROPS DEPEND ON FERTILIZER

The size of next year's small grain crop may well depend upon the kind and amount of fertilizer used at planting time, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The best method for determining the soil fertility is a soil test. Test results provide an index of the nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium in the soil and this in turn a basis for the plant foods to be added.

Currently soil moisture conditions are good in the county and proper fertilization of small grains can play an important part in turning this moisture into forage and grain, says the county agent. If the grains are to be grazed, fertilization at planting time is especially important, he added.

Small grains which get off to a fast start can better utilize the soil moisture and plant nutrients available and also will develop more winter hardiness. Most soils used for small grains contain sufficient potassium but the plants absorb most of the requirements for this element during early growth; therefore, when it is needed it should be applied at planting, advises the county agent.

For maximum production, Hooser suggest a soil test to determine fertilizer needs, then fertilizing at planting time, including some nitrogen especially if the crop is to be grazed and then top-dressing in February or March with nitrogen.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q—I just divorced my wife. Will I have to make any change in my tax withholding?

A—If you have been claiming a withholding exemption for your wife, file a new W-4 withholding certificate with your employer dropping that exemption. You are no longer entitled to claim her exemption since you are divorced.

If you have children and are claiming their exemptions you should drop them too unless you expect to provide more than half their support this year. If your wife is supporting them she will be entitled to their exemption too.

Q—My employer provides me with an expense account to cover food and hotel bills on the business trips I take. Will I have to report these expenses on my tax return?

A—If you account to your employer for these expenses and your reimbursement does not exceed these expenses you will not have to report them on your tax return. Employees who are not reimbursed for their business travel costs should keep records of what they spend and claim a business expense deduction for them when they file their income tax return.

For details on record keeping send a post card to your district director. Ask for publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses."

Q—I've been keeping a record of the tips I receive. Can I report them at the end of the year when I file my tax return?

A—Tips are income and must be reported on your tax return. They should also be reported to your employer each month when they amount to $20 or more. Based on these reports, your employer will withhold the necessary income and Social Security taxes.

Use Form 4070, available at IRS offices, to report tip income to your employer.

Q—Are fees paid to a licensed veterinarian for the care of a pet considered a medical expense?

A—Veterinarian fees are not a medical expense for tax purposes.

Q—To establish a casualty deduction for storm damage to our home will before and after photos be enough?

A—Photos will be helpful but you should also keep records that show the cost of the home including improvements, the value of the property before and after the storm, the cost of repairs and whatever you received as an insurance reimbursement.

Faith doesn't just stand there.

It does something.

If you think all's right with the world, read no further. But if you're like most people, today's headlines are profoundly disturbing. Narcotics. Alcoholism. Murder. Racial strife. Poverty. Cruelty. War. The "inhuman-ness" our society seems to be breeding. Your Faith has something to say about every one of the moral and ethical problems facing us. More important, if you listen to what your Faith has to say, you're in a better position to help solve those problems. But you find out for yourself. Worship this week in your church or synagogue. Then take your Faith out in the world and put it to work. "God's work must truly be our own."

Mustangs Edge By Cyclone There 7-6

The Memphis Cyclone, playing one of their hardest fought games of the season, left the field a loser on Friday night by the 7-6 margin, but received an ovation from the Memphis stands as they determined fourth quarter comeback.

Coach Bert Glascock said after the game, "our boys left like they were physically whipped the power Mustangs by the end of the game, and that they had won the game, regardless of the score."

The Cyclone appeared to have the game twice in the closing minutes of the game, but both drives were called back on penalties.

The Mustangs had what could have been two scoring carries, a return and a long run nullified by clipping penalties, so the Mustangs on the field played important rolls during the night's game.

It was obvious to both stands that the play on the field was bruised from the opening whistle to the closing buzzer, and the statistics revealed that the teams were evenly matched.

The Mustangs, ranked No. 1 in the Panhandle area and No. 6 in the AA state rankings (on some almost completely dominated the first half of the game.

The game opened with a 62-yard drive by Olton's team after No. 44 Benny Akin returned a kickoff to the Mustang's 38-line.

The Mustangs' star halfback carried heavily in the scoring drive, grounding out 25 of the 62 yards himself behind crisp blocking on the part of Olton's strong side line. Also making good carries was No. 35 Kenneth Johnson.

The scoring play was a 23-yd. pass play thrown by Left Halfback Steve Spain to right Halfback Charles McClain, who managed to get behind a Cyclone defender and catch the wobbly pass which was thrown low of the mark, and raced into the endzone for the TD. Spain added the winning place kick to make the score 7-0 mid-way in the first quarter.

This was the last time the Mustangs were able to penetrate the Cyclone's 20-yd. line, while the local squad was credited with three penetrations during the night's play.

In the second period of play, the Cyclone got a good break when the Mustangs' blocking back on a punt formation backed into the Olton punter, Bobby Turner, and the ball was taken over by the Cyclone on the Olton 17-yd. line.

The Mustangs' defense was able to contain two carries by TB James Spruill who netted five yds. on two carries. Then QB Pounds passed to Spruill but the ball was slightly over thrown and went incomplete.

The second half opened on a sour note for the local lads when Smith fumbled on the kickoff return and the Mustangs recovered on the Memphis 32.

The Mustangs, however, could not muster an effort, and on the third down, Center Linebacker Richard Parker intercepted a pass from Mustang's Quarterback Johnny Lewis and Memphis took over on the 34.

The Cyclone offensive unit, which was stopped cold all the first half, got rolling, with two carries by Spruill netting 8 yds. and a keeper by Pounds netting two more yards, and a first down.

Running from the home 44, TB Spruill made four more yards. Then, TB William Welch went into the lineup and slashed off 14 yards in a high stepping display of second effort running.

The drive bogged down at this point, and Parker punted the ball out of bounds on the Olton 5-yd. line.

In the next series Akin broke for a good gain to the Olton 28. Then, running from the 29, the Mustang's talented halfback got loose and went the distance, however a flag was thrown at the point of a clipping infraction and the ball came back. This set up a fumbling situation and Sam Bruce of Memphis grabbed off the fumble and Memphis took over.

Running from the Olton 43, a fine carry by FB Roge Fowler and a two-yd. carry by TB Spruill netted a first to the Olton 30. On a third down pass from Pounds to End Roy Long, the ball hit Long about the same taima an Olton defender hit him and Defender Spain intercepted the loose football.

Olton moved for two first downs, one on a 15-yd. personal foul penalty against Memphis. The Mustangs were held and punted to the Memphis 5.

This started a 95-yd. scoring drive by the Cyclone offensive unit.

The drive started when TB William Welch found running room up the middle, cut to the right sideline and raced 50-yds. to the Olton 40-yd. line before he was pulled down.

From this point, FB Fowler made three yards, and TB Ronnie McFall slashed through for 5 yds. and 10 yards to set the local lads up with a first down on the Olton 22.

On the next play, FB Fowler made six hard yards up the middle. McFall made 3 more, and then QB Pounds made a first down to the 11.

From this point, Welch made one yard and Spruill made two yards. Then, QB Pounds rolled out to his left and with the aid of two key blocks, the first thrown by FB Fowler and the second by

CANDY BY TOM DORR

HB Gary Rea, Pounds hot footed in to the flag and into the endzone for the score, an eight-yd. run.

On the all important try for two points was a pass play from Pounds to HB Gary Rea which was successful but nullified by a 15-yd. holding penalty.

The Cyclone team had left the field and had to be summoned by officials. After stepping off the 15-yd. infraction, one of the officials spotted he ball on the hash-mark of the field, and Memphis Captain Chuck Jennings asked that the ball be spotted in the center of the field. A lot of confusion developed over the request and as a result, the ball never was spotted in the center of the field. A place kick try by Kicker Jerry Hall from the hash-mark, a 35-yd. attempt, was short of the mark and the score was 7-6.

The Cyclone got a second try at winning the game after an Olton punt was fielded by Parker on the Mustangs 42-yd. line.

Facing time difficulties, TB Welch made 5-yds. to the 37. Then, QB Pounds hit FB Fowler on a short pass and Fowler rambled for 24 yds. to the Olton 14 before being knocked out of bounds.

From this point, Pounds made five tough yards. Then Welch was dropped for a two-yd. loss. A third down pass play went wide and Hall went into the line-up for the all important try for a field goal.

The snap from center was on mark, and holder Pounds placed the ball down near the 18-yard line, Hall's kick was on line and the ball hit the cross bar of the goal post and bounced over; however, a red flag was thrown and illegal procedure was called against the Cyclone and the play was nullified.

Again the Cyclone tried a field goal, but this time the ball fell short, even though it was in line with the goal post hitting the ground between the up rights.

The game ended with Olton in possession.

The game was a split-personal-
