Cotton Harvest Hits 42,410 Mark This Week

A total of 42,410 bales of cotton had been ginned in Hall County up to today, according to a telephone survey made by the Memphis Department this morning. Last year 39,567 bales had been harvested.

K. E. Voelkel of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office here, estimated in his report released for publication Dec. 8, that some gin communities were 90 per cent completed in harvesting while others still have about 65 per cent of the crop to harvest. However, with favorable weather the past few days, the percentage for completing the crop has been raised.

As of Wednesday night, total samples classed so far this season at the office here amounted to 106,000 as compared to 83,000 as of the same date last year. It is estimated that the total samples classed thus far represented about 80 per cent of this year's crop.

It is expected the office here will class somewhere between 135,000 and 140,000 bales this season, Voelkel stated. Wednesday night about 14,000 samples were still unclassified. He said that all personnel will work Saturday and the office will probably be open Sunday.

Based on samples classed last week, 15 per cent of the cotton was in the White grades, 73 per cent Light Spotted, and 12 per cent Spotted. The quantity of Spotted cotton doubled that of the previous week.

The leading grades were: Mid-

Local Church To Hold Candlelighting Service

All Must Register Before Voting!

Political party leaders, office holders in the State and County governments, and many interested citizens over our state see a growing need to urge our citizens to register to be qualified to vote in the 1968 elections.

The urgent appeal is being made now because the deadline for registering is Jan. 31, 1968, which is only a month and a half away. All adult citizens, regardless of age, must register to be eligible to vote in 1968 elections.

Here in Hall County, Tax Assessor-Collector, Mrs. Melissa Anderson, reported early this week that 1,600 citizens have already registered; a good start, but far short of the number of eligible voters in Hall County.

Hall County could register several thousand, with a conservative figure of 3,500 being suggested as a possible final registration for the county of over 7,000 people. Since it is now required that all citizens over 20 must register, accurate voter eligibility lists can be compiled.

Since 1968 will be a most important election year, it is to the advantage of every citizen to make the trip to the County Tax Assessor-Collector's office or to other points throughout the county, to register for the voting privilege. It does not cost a red cent to become an eligible voter in the State of Texas.

Voters will elect a President, a Governor and many, many other office holders during 1968 elections so the Jan. 31 deadline is most important to remember. Go down and register now to avoid the rush periods.

A True Story Of Christmas!

(From the County Wide News of Littlefield)

During last year's Christmas season, a certain daily newspaper in this area of the Plains received three letters to Santa Claus, all in one envelope. The letters were from a brother and sisters — one boy and two girls.

One girl's letter consisted of a long list of items "I want." Her brother's letter likewise began with "I want" and his list extended several paragraphs.

Their sister, the third child, wrote something like this:

"Dear Santa:
Please bring my brother and sister all the things they want for Christmas. They have both been very good."
Then she proceeded to repeat the lists already spelled out by her brother and sister. She expressed "love" for Santa, and signed her name.

Seemingly as an after-thought, she added:
"P. S. Oh, yes, I almost forgot. I would like a baby doll."
P. S. This story is true.

Property Tax Problems

The rapid acceptance of the sales tax for the cities of Texas has come as somewhat of a surprise, if not a down-right shock, to a lot of people.

The sales tax was fought bitterly in Texas for years. W. Lee O'Daniel ran successfully for governor on a platform that included a violent antagonism toward the sales tax which he said "would hit the little people." A "transaction tax" nearly passed in his legislature but was finally defeated.

Times have changed. Texas enacted a state sales tax a couple of years ago, and it has been accepted by the people. This state sales tax has boosted state coffers and led to a surplus in the state treasury after the first full year of sales tax collections.

As is always the case, however, surplus in state or national treasuries get spent and now the state faces the prospect of digging up another $150 million or so to cover spending programs passed by not financed, in the last session.

A great many legislators are looking at a sales tax boost for the answer.

So the base of taxes has shifted somewhat from the property tax in the tax field who maintained that the property tax ought to be abolished. Other sources could be found that would raise more money and be a fairer tax, they said.

However, the property tax has not been abandoned. It has been slowed in the rate of taxes levied, but no property tax has been dropped. The state has talked about dropping the ad valorem tax but still likes the money it brings in.

The property tax is somewhat of a nightmare to a lot of people. Tax collectors on the local level have to have steel nerves and a strong digestive system to weather the complaints that hit their office at tax collecting time.

It is hard to levy a really fair and equitable property tax. More than likely the taxpayer has some grounds for discontent.

In some communities the tax structure is altered so that a new industry coming in pays no taxes for a stipulated number of years. This doesn't sit well with the established businesses who continue to pay their taxes at the same rate as before.

In Texas, the property tax varies widely from county to county. In fact, it varies within the county.

The Ochiltree county tax roll varies from the city tax roll in the value placed on taxable property. The school district values property at a different rate from the county.

Most property owners want to be treated fairly, and will pay their taxes even if it seems that the taxes are too high. But let them have an indication that their neighbor is getting by with less taxes and things are bound to get stirred up.

The usual basis for assessing property is on the basis of its current market value. This is a flexible yardstick and one that is often unrealistic like local cattle on the roll at $10 a head or farmland at $7 an acre or a city house at a small percentage of its actual value.

Personal property is even more of a headache. A large percentage of property taxes levied on automobiles goes unpaid unless the owner also owns real property that he can't move.

The property tax can be a nightmare. But it is so important that it is nearly impossible to abandon it. People need to think about it.

MHS Freshmen Prepare For FHA Degrees

By VICKI ROSE

Mitzie Lindsey, Elaine Phillips and LuGay Godfrey, all freshmen in Memphis High this year, are working on their Junior Degrees of Achievement.

These degrees take a tremendous amount of time, work and skill to achieve. The Junior Degree is the first of three degrees in F. H. A. work. These girls are required to keep a record of all school, community, and personal activities, choose goals to work toward and reasons for striving to achieve them. When this degree is earned, these girls will be eligible to run for an area office and receive certificates. The other two degrees are the Chapter and the State Degrees. It takes a full year of hard, diligent work to earn one of these degrees.

Nancy Voyles, having earned her Junior Degree last year, is Degree Chairman this school year. She is helping Mitzie, Elaine and LuGay work on their degrees and, in addition, is working on her Chapter Degree.

You gave us so many things intangible and dear, we couldn't begin to count them all or even make them clear for you wonderful people. The radiant Morn hath passed away — our life is but an autumn sun, its glorious noon how quickly past — and in our sorrow you helped us to look to the bright place beyond the sky.

Hints Are Given On Supplemental Feed For Cattle

Supplementary feeding of range cattle is an important consideration of most Texas producers. Liquid supplemental feeding is giving more and more attention to U. D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman at Texas A&M University, and research has proved that it is feasible. Water soluble nutrients are available and liquid formulations, even for individual cattlemen, can be prepared, says Thompson.

Melasses is the basic material and is the readily available dry source required when feeding non-protein nitrogen (urea) materials. Mineral phosphorus is often deficient in dry rough age and mixed pasture forage and this may be added in the water soluble form, adds the specialist. Vitamin A, sometimes a problem, can also be added in the liquid mix.

The combination of molasses and urea automatically limits consumption to approximately two to four pounds per head per day to mature cattle, depending on quality and quantity of forage. This self-limiting amount, preferred by producers, also will help cut feed costs and permit all cattle in the same pasture a more equitable share of the feed, explains Thompson.

The animal husbandman advises that equipment costs and services should be considered in the appraisal of this feeding method. These can be relatively inexpensive, he says. This factor alone may sometimes cause liquid protein supplements to be more expensive than oil seed protein feed. Thompson believes liquid supplemental feeding has a place in the present and future cattle industry. It is expected to gain a more prominent place when the ingredient prices become more competitive with presently used feed supplement.

Mrs. Thomas Wright of Waco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Magness, visited here over the weekend with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wright had a fire in their home last week and Mrs. Wright lost all her clothing and there was also considerable damage to part of their household furnishings. They were away from home when the fire broke out.

Evans (left) was presented with a certificate for superior performance as a member of the Sweetwater Work Unit and the cash award was $870 divided six ways. On the right is shown Henry D. Gregory who was given a certificate for a sustained above average performance for the last year. The cash award was $315. Gregory and Evans were both well pleased for the SCS awards, and coming just before Christmas they said the cash awards could well be used.

EMPHASIS MEMPHIS

... and County Comments —By HAC

It is good to see Christmas decorations going up all over town. The delay has been traced directly to busy people — in the homes and business firms. But the stress of the season is being seen as shoppers are busy with clerks as gifts are purchased and wrapped. The true meaning of this annual festival of the Christian churches commemorating the birth of Christ is not lost in the tradition of this nation. The time of gift-giving is a way of life, and has a special meaning for the very young as they eagerly await the arrival of Santa Claus. The trend of ever-increasing visitation among relatives is seen as each Christmas passes. Christmas, 1967, in Memphis and Hall County, will be the greatest ever.

Santa Claus from the young boys and girls. We will start printing the annual Christmas edition of this newspaper Sat. Also a note to advertisers: get copy in soon for annual message in this edition. It is expected by readers as you express your sentiments of the season, and is recognized as a kind of "thank you" for having patronized the different business firms and individuals.

Have just received an autographed copy of the second printing of "Trail Dust," written by my friend, Douglas Meador, editor and publisher of The Matador Tribune. I value this book highly as I did not obtain a copy of the first, which was published in 1940, and is now out of print. The edition at hand contains everything which was found in the first edition. It also contains shorter paragraphs which have been published in his column in the Tribune. The philosophy of this writer, ex-cowboy, talented printer and editor, is worth reading. His essays will fascinate the people of this area. His command of words is unexcelled by any writer. In the total of 128 subjects, he covers a vast panorama of an area called West Texas, which he knows and loves dearly.

Here at The Democrat we will accept orders for "Trail Dust" price $3.85. These will be forwarded on to Mr. Meador. At this time the address of his publisher is not known, but will be obtained.

From figures furnished by the Texas Farm Bureau last month, we note that the 1967-68 cotton crop, world-wide, will yield 47.4 million bales. Also, it is short of the 53 million (plus) bales produced in 1965-66. From the current U.S.A. Market News Section "Weekly Cotton Market Review" report for week ending Dec. 7, 1967, comes this information: CCC sales catalogue issued Dec. 1 contained about 1.4 million bales. Cotton in lengths 15-16-in. and shorter totaled 1.2 million bales, or 87 per cent of the total catalogue. Stocks of 1-16-in. and longer cotton amounted to only 41,000 bales. From the above figures any person interested in cotton in this area may draw his own conclusion. From Nov. 13 issue, "Agricultural Outlook Digest," Economic Research Service, USDA, this is reported: Cotton: The 8.1 million bale cotton crop (Oct. 1 estimate) and continued relatively large disappearance point to another significant reduction in U. S. cotton stocks. By next August, stocks may fall to around 6 1/2 million bales — 5 1/2 million bales less than last August.

According to latest reliable information, CCC stocks of cotton will be offered to buyers at two-week intervals at which time catalogues will be issued.

University of Texas Permanent Fund received $27.2 million in petroleum lease rentals, bonuses, and royalty in 1966; total since 1924, $475 million.

County Consumers Help Push GNP To High Point

(Special to The Democrat)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — Residents of Hall County outdid themselves in the past year in total consumer spending for goods and services, the final figures show.

They contributed in good measure, through such outlays, toward producing a record-breaking gross national product (GNP).

The GNP, which represents the total value of all goods and services produced in the country, is regarded by most economists as the principal index of the nation's economic activity.

This output, which came to $743 billion last year and which is rising well above that figure this year, takes into account personal spending, industrial outlays for plant expansion and all other disbursements, public and private, including those for national defense.

The major part of it, by far according to the National Industrial Conference Board and the Department of Commerce, was consumer spending, which amounted to no less than $465 billion, or almost two-thirds of the total.

Hall County accounted for approximately $15,329,000 as its share of this total, carrying its own weight on the basis of population.

Consumer spending for goods and services locally amounted to .0033 percent of the national.

The spending increases were across the board, ranging from house furnishings to personal care and from food purchases to recreation.

Only part of the rise was due to bigger consumer buying. The rest was attributed to higher prices.

Of the outlay in the local area for personal consumption expenditures, $15,329,000 a marked increase over the 1963 total, which was $8,869,000 the reports show that $12,294,000 was spent in retail stores in the area and the remaining $3,035,000 went for services.

Included under "services" was rent, or, in the case of owner-occupied dwellings, their imputed rental value.

At the present time, say the economists, the American people as a whole, what with incomes and savings at a high level, are in an excellent position to increase their spending and boost the GNP to a new record.

As of the middle of this year, their financial assets were at an astronomical $1.5 trillion, it is estimated, or more than $90 billion more than at the beginning of the year.

In the spirit of Christmas, the Delphian Club took their Christmas program to share with the patients at Cousins Home Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 5.

Cousins Home patients were happy recipients of Christmas gifts picked personally for each by members of the Delphian Club.

Club members then adjourned to the home of Mrs. Herschel Combs for their business meeting and refreshments. Mrs. Bill Combs was hostess.

Refreshments were served from an attractively laid tea table and included delicious pumpkin cake compliments of Mrs. Kermit Voelkel.

Memphis Basketball Tournament To Be Held Dec. 28-30; 16 Teams Are Entered

Memphis Coach Denzil Lacy reminded basketball fans this week of the upcoming Memphis Basketball Tournament which will be held in Cyclone Gymnasium Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

Eight boys teams and eight girls teams will be competing in this tournament, the local coach announced this week.

"We are going to put the trophies which will be awarded to winning teams on display downtown, and several brackets will also be put so times of the games will be known," he said.

Coach Lacy said that both the boys and the girls brackets appear to be well balanced and a real exciting tournament is in the making for fans.

"Because this is the first varsity basketball tournament to be held in Memphis in several years, we should go all out to see that the sessions are well attended by spectators," the local coach said.

Teams entered in the boys bracket of the tournament include: Paducah, Turkey, Electra, Quail, Silverton, Estelline, Lockett and Memphis.

Teams entered in the girls bracket are: Paducah, Turkey, Lakeview, Quail, Silverton, Estelline, Lockett and Memphis.

Since the Memphis cager tournament is scheduled for a week-end during the Christmas holidays when very few other activities are scheduled, the tournament should be well attended and provide an interesting three days for spectators.

Opening round matches and tournament times will be announced next week, coach Lacy said.

Department Says Hunting Carries Responsibilities

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recently reminded sportsmen that hunting is a privilege that carries with it certain responsibilities.

First, the hunter has a responsibility to the law. He must obtain the proper hunting license, have permission to enter private property, use only legal means of taking game, and hunt only legal species.

Second, the hunter has a responsibility to the landowner. He must respect the property rights of the landowner and remember that he is a guest.

He should remember to leave gates as he found them and not to shoot near livestock, houses, or barns.

The hunter should know the boundaries of the land on which he hunts, and he should cross fences in a safe and proper way.

Fire is always a hazard, and littering can make an enemy out of the landowner in a short time.

As an act of courtesy and a gesture of good will, the hunter should offer to share game with his host if he is hunting free.

Third, the hunter has a responsibility to himself.

He must know his physical limitations over-exertion can mean a heart attack or other serious physical ailments.

Using the right firearm and ammunition and a well sighted-in rifle will not only make hunting easier, but safer besides.

The hunter should learn all he can about the game hunts. This will increase his chances for a successful hunt and make hunting more enjoyable and exciting.

The hunter should be sure of his target and aim for a clean kill. If he wounds an animal, he should make a conscientious effort to retrieve it.

For safety sake, he should make his practice known to other hunters so they will not mistake him for game.

The hunter should practice good sportsmanship always and obey the 10 commandments of shooting safety.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

USE OF ELECTRIC HEATING CABLE WILL PREVENT WATER PIPE FREEZE-UP

An inexpensive electric heating cable can often prevent water pipe freeze-up problems around the farm and home, says County Agent W. B. Hooser.

The short sections of exposed pipes in unheated barns or outside the home are often vulnerable to freezing, but the use of electric heating cable protects the pipe and saves the homeowner the problem of thawing the pipe or replacing it.

Several types of heating cables are available, ranging in cost from 6 to 20 cents per foot. Hooser says that the only other cost is electricity which seldom exceeds 4 cents for 24 hours for a 25-foot cable. This usage can be kept to a minimum by installing a thermostat control to turn the cable off and on automatically.

Hooser cautions that the cable should be bought in the length desired to avoid splicing or shorting. A cut cable may become too hot and burn out.

If the pipe is well grounded there is no danger of electrical shock.

Some other uses of electrical heating cable are to keep ice from forming in gutters and to warm floors. Lead-covered cables can be used in hotbeds.

The hostess, Mrs. Hays, and co-hostesses, Mrs. J. W. Smith and Mrs. Sim Reeves, served a delicious salad plate with cake and coffee.

Mrs. Hays called the meeting to order, after which Mrs. J. B. Adams led the opening prayer. Mrs. Frank Ellis gave an inspiring devotional from Luke 2 which tells the story of the birth of Christ and the spirit of love and giving. Mrs. Billington led in prayer, and Mrs. Byron Adams told an interesting Christmas story of world war II.

Mrs. T. L. Rouse played several Christmas carols on the piano. The group enjoyed exchanging gifts from a lovely decorated tree. Those present were Meses. T. L. Rouse, Frank Ellis, Nettie Adams, Sally Reeves, Allie Caviness, Edna Merrell, Ethel Fowler, Iva Smith, Dorothy Gurley, Christine Hays, Pauline Wilson, Ida Hutcherson, Sally Cofer, Ocie Scott, Bill Billington and Mary Bownds.

Wellington High School, played several Christmas selections as accompanist. Mrs. Welch read "The Littlest Angel," one of the best liked Christmas stories. At the close of the program, members of the group sang "Silent Night" and "Oh! Come all ye Faithful."

Mrs. Cassandra Deaver was elected unanimously to active membership of the chapter. Miss Esta McElreath, chairman of Necrology, read an eulogy to Mrs. Reba Stroehle.

Low-Rent Housing Project Is At Standstill Here

The plan to provide public low-rent housing for Memphis reached a standstill Tuesday night with the resignation of the members of the city's Public Housing Authority.

The resignations were turned in to Mayor Kenneth Dale, and the City Council at Tuesday's meeting, accepted the blanket resignation with a unanimous vote.

The members of the authority reported that they were resigning due to opposition to the program which raised some doubt as to whether Memphis citizens really wanted public housing of the low-rent variety or not.

The authority had been proceeding on the assumption that, based on a survey of the city, the low-rent housing was needed and the citizens were in favor of building the units, which the city is qualified to construct.

Many area cities have built low-rent housing which has been successful, it was pointed out.

The Memphis City Council is placed in a unique position, and faces a certain amount of obligation in the project which has been in the planning stage for several years.

A group of local men met with the Council Tuesday night, and expressed opposition to certain aspects of the program.

The Council will notify the Public Housing Authority and inform it of latest developments. Whatever future action will be taken is still unclear at this time.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

PARASITES CAN INCREASE FEED BILLS ON LIVESTOCK

Farmers and ranchers in Hall County should be on the lookout for the annual invasion of lice on their livestock. These pests will reduce profits and increase feed bills unless they are controlled, advises County Agent, W. B. Hooser.

The county agent suggests that livestock producers come by his office for a copy of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry."

The publication, he adds, is "chuck-full" of information on insecticide formulations and how to use them in controlling flies, lice, mites, ticks, fleas, cattle grubs and others. It contains a dilution chart for mixing sprays and dips and outlines control programs for beef cattle, nonlactating dairy cattle, sheep and goats, swine, horses and poultry.

To get a head start on lice this winter, Hooser suggests initiating a sound control program now.

Dist. FFA Pres. Gaylon Clark Oversees Banquet

President Gaylon Clark of the Greenbelt FFA District presided at the District Banquet held in Wellington School Cafeteria Monday night.

Miss Christina Moore of Clarendon was elected District FFA Sweetheart, and she will compete in the area Sweetheart Contest in April in Lubbock, President Clark reported.

The talent contest winner was the Turkey band, "The Senders," a highly talented group which will be rated high in the area contest.

President Clark presented winning banners to the first, second and third place winners in the District leadership contest.

There were about 260 members and guests present at the banquet in Wellington. A guest at the banquet was the Area I president from Boys Ranch.

Delegates from all the county chapters, along with sweethearts and guests were on hand for the banquet, it was reported.

Local Auxiliary Assists With Christmas Store

Members of the local American Legion Auxiliary were in Amarillo three days of last week, Monday through Wednesday, to help with the Auxiliary District Christmas Workshop.

An auxiliary project, the workshop is set up to benefit patients in the Amarillo Veteran's Hospital.

Mrs. W. L. Dugger, president of the local auxiliary, said the workshop was one of the most rewarding projects in which she had taken part.

Auxiliary members from various towns in the district went to Amarillo on Monday where they set up shelves in a vacant building and put the many gift items that had been donated on display.

Beginning Tuesday morning Veterans from the hospital came to the store where they were allowed to select gifts for various members of their family. These gifts were wrapped for Christmas and mailed for the veterans by the volunteer workers.

Mrs. Dugger said carts of gifts were later taken to the hospital where bedfast patients were allowed to make their selections. These, too, were later wrapped and mailed to their loved ones.

Mrs. Dugger said about 126 patients selected gifts from the auxiliary Christmas shop.

Those from the local auxiliary who helped with the project were Mrs. Dugger, Mrs. Bill Ballew, Mrs. John McCauley, Mrs. Roy Sprull, Mrs. Louise Nunnally and Mrs. O. T. Hook.

Estelline News

By MIKE HUGHES
COROLYN KNOX

Mrs. Dick Delaney went to Quail Wednesday and Thursday of last week to attend a librarian's workshop.

We are very pleased to announce that the Bears won Consolation prize at the Silverton Tournament last week, and the Bearettes won first. Both teams will play in the Clarendon Tournament this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. We had four students who got all-tournament trophies at the Silverton Tournament — Ted Jones, Cherri Rapp, Anne Rapp and Judy Rogers. Congratulations to these members of our teams.

Representing the Estelline FFA chapter at the District Banquet in Wellington Monday night was Judy Lou Rogers, our chapter sweetheart for 1967-68. Also going were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Rogers; the advisor, Mr. T. H.

Seay, and Mrs. Seay; voting delegates, Kenneth Moore and Mark Jameson; chapter president, Mike Hughes; Charles Moore; Ted Jones; Monty Longbine; Danny Jouett; and Harold Knox.

The Ophelia Club met Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dude Fowler for their Christmas Party.

The Estelline Schools will turn out on Wednesday, December 20, for Christmas holidays. There will be a Christmas Party in the auditorium starting at 1 p. m. under the direction of the Student Council. After the program, the grades will split up to have their individual parties.

Two more Christmas parties to be held are the FFA-FHA Christmas Party, Dec. 18, and a Senior Christmas Party, which will be held on Dec. 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Seay.

The Bears and Bearettes scored two more victories Tuesday night when they defeated the Matador Matadors at Estelline.

Several college students were seen over the weekend. Some of them were: Cindy Gresham and her roommate, Sharon Jenrusch; Gary Walker and Triston Mabry, all of Texas Tech, and Larry Wynn, Danny and David Longbine of South Plains College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cox and Vicky were in Amarillo over the weekend.

Anne Rapp is the Estelline nominee for Queen of the Clarendon Tournament this week. We want to wish Anne all the luck which she deserves. We hope there will be a nice group at Clarendon cheering for the Bears and Bearettes, who are entered in the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and family of Vega visited with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ward recently.

Sandra Wood of Wichita Falls and Rusty Wood of Fort Sill, Oklahoma, visited with their grandmother, Mrs. Alice Eddins during the weekend.

We wish to send Mrs. Paul Collins a "Get Well Wish" as she is spending some time in the Hall County Hospital.

A very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all our friends and readers from the Growl Staff.

Director Says Use Preaddressed Tax Form 1040A

Taxpayers who received a 1967 preaddressed Form 1040A are urged to file that form if it fits their needs and they are eligible to use it.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said last week that substantial savings will be realized if the form provided is used because fewer key-punch operations are necessary to process the return. "It also helps us utilize the full capabilities for which the Automatic Data Processing system was designed," he said.

"If your name or address has changed make the necessary corrections and strike through lightly the preprinted information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address," he stated.

Taxpayers should also verify that their correct social security number is entered on the return they file.

Memphis Men Go To Conference On Gov. Contracts

Several Memphis men were in Boger last Thursday attending an important conference arranged by Rep. Bob Price of government purchasing agencies and major prime contractors, with small business men.

The purpose of the conference was to inform small business men over the area with procedures of bidding on government contracts or working out subcontract agreements with major contractors on government contracts.

Attending from Memphis were Grady Worthington, Bill Cosby, Clifford Farmer, Atty. Jack B. Boone, Charles Snowdon, Morris Davis and Carl Morris.

Worthington, who is on a nationwide bidder list to bid on the sale of pumice, was there to see if government purchasing agents had contracts available to purchase pumice. He holds under lease the pumice deposits located east of Memphis and is in the process of setting up a mining operation in this area.

Snowdon was at the meeting to see about tool working contracts, and Carl Morris about selling sand and gravel to government purchasers. Morris Davis was interested in selling irrigation supplies and equipment.

Atty. Boone, Chamber Manager Farmer and Cosby were at the meeting to supply whatever help they could from a chamber viewpoint in encouraging this new avenue of possible economic development.

A report was given of the conference at the directors meeting of the local chamber of commerce Monday.
