Memphis Junior Football Teams Play Shamrock

The Memphis Junior Varsity football team played the last minute of the game over the Wellborn B team, only to see the game end in an 18-18 tie. The game was hard fought all day as the first quarter ended 4-4, and the half ended with the score 12-12.

Coach Denzil Lacy said, "It was a tough game and our boys should have won and we are a good football team capable of winning." He is getting some of our players back this week. They were out earlier and the team is better this week than we've had all year." Coach Lacy said Memphis will travel to Shamrock for a re-match game at 7 p. m. tonight. Next Thursday the Junior Varsity Tournament will play host to Childress at 7 p. m.

The Bears defeated Patton Darrouzett by a one-sided score of 20-0 last weekend. The Darrouzett team is large with William Piel, 6-1, 205, a running fullback and Cenny Miller at 230, and other players at 200 and 185. QB

Memphis-Electra To Meet In Game Friday

The Memphis Cyclone takes the field Friday night against the Electra Tigers in a contest of the underdogs of District 2-AA as each team has yet to win a district game. Actually, Friday night's contest is one which promises a lot of excitement as Memphis will be playing before a Homecoming crowd and the Tigers would like nothing better than to spoil the Memphis Homecoming. Neither team has had much to brighten spirits this season. For the winner of this contest goes the strong possibility of getting out of the cellar of District 2-AA. To the loser goes the possibility of finishing dead last in the strong AA district. Electra has won one game this season over Notre Dame of Wichita Falls but the Tigers have found other opponents too strong so far this season. The Tigers run from a winged-T formation but have several other sets which they use on offense. No. 23, Ronnie Gaffney, 160, a halfback, is a good runner, and passes well on the halfback pass-run option plays. FB Toby Maah, No. 33, 185, is their power runner and is a good blocker. QB Paul

Combust at 113 lbs. engineers the offense and likes to throw to WB J. Marsh, 154, a good receiver. Marsh also plays quarterback at times. The Tigers biggest lineman is Tackle Johnny Jacob, 191, who is their largest boy on the starting offensive and defensive team. Defensively, the Tigers employ a 5-2 monster alignment with a three deep secondary, known popularly as the Arkansas defense. Monster man is Drexel Sales, 127, and linebackers are Mike Nason, 160, and Billy Robb, 154. By comparison, the Tigers appear to have been having better success at keeping their opponent from scoring than has Memphis, defensively, but offensively, the Tigers appear to be some weaker. The Tigers like to run the sweeps with Gaffney running the football, Gaffney is a good receiver and pass defender, playing center safety back. Coaches Comments Coach Bert Glascock told Memphis Boosters Tuesday night that his team had a good workout Monday but wet weather and sickness hurt workout efforts Tuesday. Speaks; Cuts Ribbon At Triple M Homes Site

Texas Governor Preston Smith in an address before approximately 200 people in the Memphis Community Center today explained the mission and purpose of the Division of State - Local Relations and the project called Texas Communities Tomorrow. Governor Smith came to the meeting directly from the ribbon cutting and open house of Triple M Homes, Inc., Memphis' newest industrial plant. Governor Smith, who was introduced at the meeting by Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, said, the purpose of Texas Communities Tomorrow is not to duplicate or replace programs of state, local or private agencies, but to supplement and coordinate the various efforts in the small community development. "The Division of State - Local Relations will be the information center. It will assist, guide, recommend, and help to train the leaders in the small communities," the Texas Governor said. "This program is designed to assist the community in achieving its own goal, objective, or project, started at the local level," Governor Smith said. "The Governor said that the problems of urban decay and the decline of rural areas cannot be considered as separate problems. "If we continue to worry about urban problems in a relatively exclusive way, without attending to the plight of small towns — we will have only rural wastelands and urban slums," Governor Smith said. In a recent 40-year period, 136 Texas communities completely disappeared from the map, the Governor pointed out. "Yet, our cities are not without liabilities. They tend to be overcrowded. Traffic jams are too frequently marking the start and end of the workday. Downtown centers are threatened with decay — or have already decayed. Slums have risen to replace nearly every slum we have cleared," he said. "As we seek solutions to the aching problems of our urban

Concerning U.I.L. Classification Assignment

Since the announcement two weeks ago by University Interscholastic League re-classifying Memphis School System in Class A, quite a lot of conversation has been generated here and in neighboring towns. Maybe an explanation concerning this would be in order.

Superintendent of Memphis Schools C. L. Chambless, upon request of this editor, took time out this week to explain the circumstances surrounding the drop in classification. Memphis ISD in the top four grades (high school) had an average total enrollment of 223.19 pupils during the school years 1967-68 and 1968-69.

U.I.L. officials this year set the enrollment bracket for Class AA at 230 to 499, and Class A at 120 to 229, the Bureau of Public School Service announced Oct. 15, 1969, in letters to all state's school systems.

Enrollment figures were: AAAA-1100 and up, AAA-500 to 1099; AA-230 to 499; A-120 to 229; B-below 120; six-man and eight-man football under 100.

Supt. Chambless explained that U.I.L. each two years, re-districts all school systems. He said they start with Class AAAA, arranging 32 districts in this class, with even number of teams in each district. Then they set attendance figure requirements for Class AAA, arranging 32 districts in this classification. Then they come down to Class AA and then to Class A, and so on, arranging 32 districts in each classification, so play-offs can be held in orderly bracketing.

As total enrollment figures fluctuate in the state's school systems, he explained, the requirements for participation in the difference classifications also fluctuate. What this all means is that Memphis was too small, total enrollment wise, to continue participation in Class AA for the next two years.

Mr. Chambless said that so far this year, as of the last school board meeting, the total enrollment of Memphis High was 245 pupils in the top four grades. If, he explained, this continues throughout the year, this year, and enrollment next year is at this level or higher, Memphis could easily return to Class AA, provided the minimum enrollment figure doesn't also climb too high.

The superintendent pointed out that Memphis ISD is either a very small Class AA school or a large Class A school. Presently Memphis is the smallest Class AA school in District 2-AA. It was also the smallest three and four years ago in District 3-AA.

Other area towns such as Shamrock and Wellington find themselves on the borderline between the two classifications. A few students, one way or the other, make a difference. It is also noted that several Class AAA schools have dropped back to Class AA for the next two years. Iowa Park remained in Class AA because of the raising of the maximum limit, even though their school was on the borderline between AA and AAA.

The importance of classification in athletics, band and literary events is understood when viewed in the light of how many recruits for activities are available. There is a 599-pupil spread in AAA and a 269-pupil spread in AA, while A has only a 109-pupil spread. Big schools in Class AA like Iowa Park and Childress have almost twice as many pupils to draw from as do small Class AA schools like Memphis, Wellington and Shamrock. The same thing is true in Class A, for a school with 125 pupils competing with a school with 220 pupils is at a definite disadvantage.

It is not always true, but usually, it is the large schools in each classification which capture U.I.L. championships in all activities. Occasionally, a smaller school will excel, capturing a championship, but the smaller school is almost always at the disadvantage, as far as money and talent are concerned.

What Other Editors Say

Justice Necessary At Any Cost

Absolute necessity for a workable plan to assure the farmer a fair price for his produce became evident last week when some of the big cattle feeders reacted to the NFO's decision to hold its grain sorghum for a price somewhat in line with fairness.

No one can argue that a grain sorghum producer in these times does not need a minimum of $2.3¢ for his grain. He too is affected by inflation, higher costs of production including labor and machinery, higher taxes, higher interest rates . . . plus the added hazards of weather, insects, and many other factors that affect his overhead.

When General Motors tells us that it must have a higher price for an automobile due to higher production costs, we don't hear a peep from the public. The public may blame "labor" for forcing up the price of an automobile . . . but it won't blame the automobile manufacturer!

The general attitude of the public, particularly the business community, is that "a business has a right to a reasonable profit". Thus they defend those who increase the prices of their product. Not to do so is not to believe in the free enterprise system! So they say.

But when the farmer finds that he must have a higher price for his product even to break even, the reaction is entirely different.

We received a release from the Texas Cattle Feeders Association last week concerning the action of the NFO in demanding a reasonable price for its members' grain sorghum.

"If the Texas feeding industry is to maintain a competitive position in fed beef production, they must be able to purchase feed grains at competitive prices," it said.

In other words, according to this group, the cost of production is immaterial. If it costs more to produce a bushel of grain than somebody will offer for that bushel, then that is tough luck for the grain producer. He should be thankful that he doesn't have to keep it and eat it himself.

If the farmer needs a tractor, goes into an implement house and offers the dealer what he feels he can afford to pay for a tractor, the dealer will laugh in his face if the amount offered leaves the dealer no profit or perhaps would result in a loss.

If the farmer needs labor and offers an amount he can afford to pay, labor will laugh in his face if the wage is unacceptable for any reason.

If the farmer needs groceries, he pays the amount on the price tag. So it is with his clothing, taxes, insurance, everything else he must buy.

Yet, according to the Texas Cattle Feeders Assn., and it speaks for the non-farm general public, the farmer is supposed to accept any amount offered him, regardless of how absurd a figure it may be, and if he makes any effort to price his own product, the argument is offered that he will injure the area's economy, he will price himself out of the market!

Why isn't that argument ever offered in the case of labor, business?

People continue to pay the prices asked . . . because in most instances they have no other choice. Many things they buy are necessities and must be had at any cost. They can't shop around and find a cheaper product because one isn't available.

We are warned of the evils of inflation, yet those who lecture us on this sin don't bat an eye when they up their prices.

Lending institutions hike interest rates "because money costs us more". That is the only reason they need and they make no apologies for high rates.

Hospitals make no apologies for charging up to $100 a day for a room "because it costs more to operate hospitals".

Labor and business make their prices stick because of organization.

The farmer is entitled to the same device . . . if he can make it stick.

But if he can't . . . if the Texas Cattle Feeders Assn. is correct and feeders will simply find cheaper feed elsewhere where some poor fools haven't been able to agree on a way to establish and demand a just price . . . then government should step in and do for farmers what they can't do for themselves!

The NFO says it can get the job done by farmers voluntarily working together.

Others, skeptical concerning the ability of NFO to achieve its goals, say that the same objective must be accomplished through legislation.

We insist that the objective must be accomplished at any cost! We will go along with any plan or group that can get the job done.

By BYRON BALDWIN

We have different parties — Democrat, Republican, Socialist and many more, but I believe we have one here that has not been mentioned or published. This is the Post Office Party. So many of us meet there in the mornings looking for mail (outside of bills). We exchange morning greetings there and find out how each of us is feeling that particular morning. Have been missing Sim Reeves and Ocie Scott as well as others, but these two I happened to know are in the hospital. Hope they can see me back to the Post Office party. This makes me think, the other day I was by the store and asked Opal Curry how she was feeling. She answered, "Do you really want to know?" I looked at my watch after looking her over, and it was 5 p. m. So I replied, "I don't believe I do today, as it is too late in the afternoon. Let's wait till another day so I can ask you earlier. We will both have time to tell each other because after looking at you and feeling my own aches and pains, it is too late to start today."

I met a nice looking young lady in Memphis the other day who said she was from New York. She had accepted a position here. I started thinking New York has everything except sand storms and tumble weeds. So I wondered if she was in Memphis for either one or both of these things. Think I will try to check up on this a little further and let you know if I find out the reason. However, we need some exchanges as we have furnished New York with some of our top students of Memphis High School.

Had a nice visit with Harold "Frits" Aspreen the other day. He graduated here in the 1955 class. He said John Fowler and his father and mother wanted him to be a pharmacist, but he thought more of making a dentist, but went ahead and joined the Navy. He said figures kept bobbing up in front of him so he wound up by making an accountant of himself and is now living in Berkeley, Calif. Congratulations to him in making an accountant, but there are some figures he has overlooked as he said he was still single and fancy free. So look out for other figures.

I see Roy and Elsie Guthrie have a good stump crop cultivated. It made me think of an instance several years ago one Sunday morning when a man called me to get in the store. So to be accommodating, I met him at the store. He said he wanted some pure pearl buttons as he broke his string of them that he wore around his waist and I asked the reason and he said it was for constipation. So in talking further on his remedies he said he had to go back to Arkansas and get him some stump water for his ulcers. So I thought Roy and Elsie might be entering the medical field with stump water.

Congratulations to Frank King on his 100th birthday. This story was told me of the colored lady who lived to be 100. She was asked to what she attributed her long life and she replied, "When I works, I works hard and when I sets, I sets loose." I believe it is easier to work hard nowadays and it is pretty hard to set loose, especially when you are thinking of the things you did not do and what you should do and trying to figure out how to make ends meet.

I visited Cousins Home Sunday afternoon and enjoyed the visit with different ones and also the good coffee and cake. I found there were five people there 90 years and older. I have their names but thought they might not want everyone to know how old they were. In talking with these 90-year-olds, some were having rheumatic pains, but others with romantic pains and some of them taking a ride in the wheel chair and were happy over the ride. After all, we are all just grown up children and in visiting with Mildred, she seems to know each one of them and their dispositions. She has a house full of children, some are living in the past and others looking toward their future as they improve. The next one to have the 100th birthday will be Mrs. Bartlett who is now 94 years old. While in Cousins Home, I met Alberta Gerlach Rivers. She graduated from M.H.S. in 1930 and is married to Barney Rivers. They now live in Vernon and have one son and two grandchildren.

Visiting in Heritage Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Blum of Floydada. Mrs. Blum was the former Elva Rae Lucado. She said Lewis talked her out of graduating from High School to marry him. She remembered Florence Wherry in her class. Lewis attended school at Salisbury, left Hall County in 1928. He is the only boy of their family now living and two sisters, Emma of California and Blanche of Floydada.

Lee Stewart of Quannah who said he had lived in Quannah almost 100 years, is a wheat farmer and fisherman, heard about Heritage Hall through Claude King of Floydada who was with him. Mr. King said he had farmed in Floyd County the past 41 years and had retired. I believe he said this was his third time through Heritage Hall and liked it better each time.

Cousin Mary and Uncle Kent Magness spent about one hour in Heritage Hall and both thought we had something to be proud of. Kent was formerly here with Post, Texas. Both looked good and guess they have been eating plenty of "Post Toasties".

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hays of Houston, Texas, were in Heritage Hall, his second visit in a week, as he drove to Quannah and brought his wife up to see the many items on display. Mrs. Hays was born Gladys Van Wye in 1902 on the Cherokee Strip in Oklahoma before there was an Indian Territory. Wallace said he worked some for the Memphis Democrat in about 1918 for the former publisher, Jerry Dalton. Mrs. Hays said, "this is wonderful to preserve this good collection."

This cold weather makes me think of Bennett Serf's story of the man who thought he heard someone in his chicken house one cold early morning in October. He got out his shotgun and dressed in his short shirt-tailed gown was standing there with both barrels cocked waiting to see a movement toward the chicken house. Then old pup came up between him and put his cold nose up against him under that gown tail. Both barrels went off right toward the chicken house and he was a chicken picker all that day. Some of you know how cold a dog's nose can get.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toner of San Leandro, Calif., visited Heritage Hall. Mrs. Toner is the former Katherine Frances Milam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Milam. Katherine Frances graduated with the class of 1942 and her sister, Betty Jean Neal in 1944. Katherine Frances remembered the 1942 class so well as so many of the boys left for army service. The Milam families have contributed a good many items to make Heritage Hall what it is today.

Dick Fowler says he had a note from a friend of his in another town who had gathered 36 pecans off his trees and Dick said, "I hope I get 50"; but Doc Saye killed this pecan story, said he would get about 300 pounds out of his back yard.

Following are two notes from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toner, San Leandro, Calif.:

Heritage Hall is wonderful to view, observe and pause to reflect upon; our grand pioneers that brought so much to today's family of Hall County folk. We enjoy the Heritage those pioneers gave us. This Hall is a beautiful dedication to the generations of the past, present and future. This is a tribute that will long endure. Thanks to this generation for the thoughtfulness in opening Heritage Hall for all.

Katherine Frances Milam Toner "Heritage Hall — a real tribute to the pioneers who helped settle this country. Wouldn't it be wonderful if every community across this great nation of ours could stop every once in a while and remember the trials and tribulations suffered by our ancestors and still have the fortitude to build the greatest nation in the world. If only some of the "common sense" type thinking used by these pioneers could be applied today. Congratulations to the people of Hall County for this effort to remind us all that we have a "Heritage" to be proud of.

During the business portion of the meeting, Mrs. Jack Boone, who is area chairman for the Texas Center of the Performing Arts with headquarters office in Amarillo, enumerated the various forms of entertainment available to the smaller towns around Amarillo. The foundation will pay half the fee and the host town or towns, if two or three wish to combine, will be responsible for the other half. The Amarillo symphony, a ballet group, and narrators of John Masefield's "Spoon River Anthology" are three possible performances.

1913 Study Club Sponsors UNICEF Fund Drive

Memphis students will be asked for nickels, dimes and pennies as they make their annual Halloween rounds this year, Mrs. Gayle Speer, chairman of the local UNICEF Drive, has stated.

The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund has been sponsored in Memphis for several years on Halloween by the 1913 Study Club in cooperation with Memphis students.

The Children's Fund was created by the United Nations in 1946 as an emergency operation, a vast effort to rush milk and medicine, clothing and young European victims of W. W. II. It was successful that by 1950, UNICEF assistance could be discontinued in Europe. At that time, the focus of the Children's Fund shifted to the needs of children in the developing countries, particularly in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East.

The funds donated here will be turned into real tools to help millions of needy children in developing countries.

Just 10 cents can provide 50 drops of milk; 25 cents can buy basic education kit for a primary school child and $1.00 is transformed into a stethoscope for a mother and child health center.

On October 31, proclaimed National UNICEF Day by the President of the United States in 1967, Americans across the country have the opportunity to set this day into action. These ghosts of problems can become the magicians bringing health and hope to sick and needy children around the world through UNICEF, Mrs. Speer stated.

"Don't you help when your Trick or Treaters come to your Door? Every coin you can give will make Halloween a magic time for children everywhere," she concluded.

Science Research In The News

A Report on New Products and Process in Everyday Living

Beings From Outer Space
The basic difficulty inherent in any investigation of phenomena, such as those of psychic research or of UFO's, says distinguished scientist Hudson Hoagland of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology is that it is impossible for science ever to prove a universal negative.

In an editorial in Science, Dr. Hoagland points out that there will always be cases which remain unexplained because of lack of data, lack of repeatability, false reporting, wishful thinking — not to mention rumors, and even lies and fraud. Unexplained cases are simply unexplained, and can never constitute evidence for any hypothesis.

Commenting on the recently published "Scientific Study of Unidentified Flying Objects," a study commissioned by the U. S. Air Force and directed by Dr. Edward U. Condon, Hoagland concludes, in agreement with the study, that further investigations of UFO's will be wasteful. Science deals with probabilities, and the Condon investigation adds massive additional weight to the already overwhelming improbability of visits by UFO's guided by intelligent beings.

Despite all this, says Dr. Hoagland, who was instrumental in exposing the fraudulent claims of a Boston medium in the 1920's, it is likely that many believers in UFO's will continue to believe for their own psychological reasons which have nothing to do with science and the rules of evidence.

Today is not only the Space Age; it is also the Chemical Age. One of the main benefits of living in this chemical age is availability of numerous pesticides. They have been useful for the improvement of our agricultural output and therefore for raising our standard of living. Also, these pesticides have been helpful in the control of many insect-borne diseases.

Unfortunately, the most effective pesticides are often the most toxic and precautions against them the most difficult to enforce.

With the increased use of these highly toxic materials, both at home and in industry, it is essential that we stress safety measures at every opportunity. Listed below are some important State Health Department recommendations to remember when handling and using toxic insecticides.

* Follow the instructions on the manufacturer's label to the smallest detail.

* Store toxic sprays and dust away from children and irresponsible individuals, as well as livestock, foods and animal feeds.

* All regular handlers of phosphorus insecticides should have cholinesterase tests at intervals not greater than 10 days during the periods they are working with the materials.

* All applicators should avoid breathing dust, vapors, or spray from the insecticides.

* Respirators which meet the specifications of the U. S. Bureau of Mines or Department of Agriculture should be worn when handling or working around highly toxic insecticides.

* Freshly laundered protective clothing and gloves should be worn when sprays and dust are being applied.

* If toxic insecticides are spilled on the skin or clothing, work should be suspended and the person involved should bathe and change clothes.

* Individuals handling toxic insecticides should bathe and change clothes immediately after completing jobs or during an extensive break.

Vernon Center, urges personnel of the medical profession in Memphis, Ministerial Alliance, school counselors and principals, welfare workers, club women and anyone who is interested in this field of study to attend this meeting.

The program will contain information on the new Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, a pilot program for the state of Texas. Mrs. Speer plans to explain resources available for mental health - mental retardation in this area of Texas. It is possible that citizens of Texas will be asked to vote on legislation for this program in the future, so it is important that they be well informed, Mrs. Speer said.

The Delphian Club extends a cordial invitation to each person interested in this area of study to attend the meeting. "We are sure this program will be well worth your time and efforts," Mrs. Finch said.

MEDICINE SHOW—The Medicine Show of Frank Phillips College, Borger, will present programs at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, Nov. 12 at Memphis High School and at 1 p. m. that day at Turkey High School. God's Will

"And the world passes away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever." —1 John 2:17

Man's greatest architectural achievements are vulnerable to the ravages of time and disuse. The tallest tree in the forest may fall to a mighty wind. Through the centuries, a mountain may crumble slowly into the sea. But, God's will is constant.

Life expectancy continues to increase in this modern age, and yet man's stay upon earth is yet all too short. The wise man will waste it not, but live it, day-to-day, according to the will of God.

God wills a life of love, charity, brotherhood, good works and good deeds. The wise man wills it, too, for such is a life of happiness and fulfillment.

Approximately 75 People Attend Field Day On Bridle Bit Range

Some 75 people were on hand for the Bridle Bit Grazing Association field day Tuesday morning despite the wet, cold weather and muddy conditions.

OUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Whole Cottonseed Used To Feed Cattle

Whole cottonseed may be used as a source of protein and energy when the price of a pound of cottonseed does not exceed the cost of two-fifths of a pound of cottonseed meal and three-fifths of a pound of ground grain sorghum, reports County Agent W. B. Hoeser.

He said the question of feeding cottonseed is often asked during this time of year. Cottonseed, he added, is a 20 percent crude protein feed. Four pounds of seed will furnish as much protein and more than twice as much energy as two pounds of 41 percent cottonseed meal. But no more than four to five pounds of cottonseed should be fed daily per head to mature cattle, the county agent said.

If cattle are fed too much cottonseed, they may scour badly due to the high oil content of the seed. There is no advantage in grinding cottonseed when feeding it to cattle, advises the county agent.

The group saw new reinforced concrete water storage facilities, brush control, and deferred grazing results.

The group participated in the grass identification contest on the tour. The picture above is a portion of those on the tour attempting to identify the 20 grasses.

Those attending enjoyed a barbecue meal provided by the sponsors.

W. H. Dean of Memphis received a pocket knife for winning the adult grass identification portion of the contest.

Mrs. A. Gerlach and Mrs. T. J. Hampton visited in Morton and Lovington, N. M. over the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mahone of New Boston visited here over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tomie Potts and Mrs. David Davenport. Mr. Mahone is a brother of Mrs. Potts and Mrs. Davenport.

Robert White Visits Jehovah's Witnesses Here

A special visit from one of the traveling representatives of the Watchtower Society is in Memphis this week where he is the guest of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mr. Robert White, circuit minister for 17 area congregations is giving a series of talks to the local group the climax of which will be Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m.

The purpose of his visit, according to White, is to review the Bible educational activity of the group as well as to be of encouragement to one another.

"Jehovah's Witnesses have found that such visits stimulate the spiritual growth of all the congregations," White indicated. "This is done principally by giving attention to the spiritual needs of the local ministers, by working with them in our door-to-door ministry and by checking the congregation organization."

White gave his introductory talk Tuesday night to the congregation. Saturday night he will conduct a special program at Kingdom Hall, 507 N. 8th, which will include recommendations to the congregation for different ways they can improve in their ministerial activity.

Both Mr. White and his wife have been sharing in the house-to-house visits with local members of the congregation. White describes the purpose of such visits as being timely reminders to interested persons of where the Bible's timetable fits into the pattern of the events of the world today.

The conclusion of Mr. White's visit will come Sunday afternoon at 5:15 p. m. when he will give an encouraging talk to the congregation. Next week he will be

WHAT'S A PERCH? Not just a perch, but a new world taken by producer-star Wally Taber during the filming of "Safari Moja," scheduled into the Capri Theatre in Memphis Wednesday, Nov. 5. The feature will show for one night only, according to John Wolfe, owner.

Hunting, Fishing And Wildlife Film Coming To Capri Nov. 5th

Anyone for safaris? Or, maybe prefer a trek up the famed Alaskan Highway? Whatever your preference, the color-adventure film, "Safari Moja," promises hunting, fishing, wildlife and nature on two continents and the Polar Ice Cap to boot. John Wolfe, owner of Tower Drive In Capri Theatre in Memphis, share Bwana Taber's hang-up for the out-of-doors, Wolfe said. The film boasts many firsts. Taber bags a massive polar bear with bow and arrow, for example. As if that weren't enough, he blasts half-a-dozen rhino with blunt arrows to precipitate a charge for the camera! On the wild Ruvu River of Tanzania, he performs a canoe safari, while on the majestic Peace River of British Columbia, he uses a rubber life raft to catch up on his fishing. A trip up the famed Alaskan Highway reveals the hunting and fishing available to any who travel that way. Using pack-horses, bush-plane, boat and boot, Taber hunts and fishes up an enviable storm guaranteed to make more sedentary souls green with envy. He tops it with a trip above the Arctic Circle into the little-known Brooks Range for barren-ground caribou.

Daring fate's fickle finger further, the explorer goes above the farthest-north land mass in the world to stalk ice bear on the Polar Ice Cap itself. And, since he could go no farther north than the North Pole, he dropped down the other side of the globe to Mozambique where he filmed primitive man and the denizens that keep him alert. Fish range from trout three feet long to perch big as a boat! And, while Taber doesn't put lion in your lap, he calls the wily predators of many species within spithall-throwing distance. Using a wounded-rabbit call of his own design, he brings coyotes, fox, jaguar, leopard, lion, anything and everything eyeball to eyeball with theatre-goers in an uncanny display that all but defies nature's laws of survival.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to say thanks to all our friends and neighbors for helping us out in the loss of our loved one, and for all the food and flowers, and to Mr. Spicer and his helpers, and all the men who were pall bearers. It would have been harder to bear without our friends and neighbors. God bless you all.

Governor Smith—

center — and all of us know we must — we tend to regard city crises and rural decay as separate and unequal problems. Actually they are intertwined. We cannot deal with the urban problems of education, housing, employment, public health, and welfare — without dealing with rural decay," Governor Smith said.

In Texas, approximately 2 million people, or about 20 percent of the state's population, live in small towns. If surveys are correct, many more would like to live in small communities, but cannot for lack of opportunity. This means jobs, the Governor pointed out.

"The time has come for us to act — to do. Like you, I am sure, I welcome that opportunity. With genuine appreciation for your interests and your capabilities, I welcome you to a partnership in action — action which will benefit the citizens of Texas far beyond my time or yours," the Governor concluded.

At the meeting, Col. Charles Ellis, Jr., of Triple M Homes, Inc., introduced representatives and dignitaries from the home manufacturing association who attended the noon meeting.

President Jimmy Hayes of the Palo Duro Scenic Road Association introduced officers and directors of that organization.

State Senator Jack Hightower introduced visiting legislators from Austin including Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo, Rep. Tom Christian of Claude, and Rep. Healy.

Boez Lion Lester Campbell presided over the meeting, and on behalf of Postex Hall Plant presented the Governor with two bed sheets.

President Jim Hayes, Palo Duro Scenic Road Association, presented Governor Smith with an original painting of a scene in Palo Duro Canyon. The association commissioned Mrs. Glen Bromley of Clarendon to do the painting.

Ribbon Cutting
Governor Smith did the honors of cutting the ribbon at the formal dedication of Triple M Homes, Inc. plant shortly after noon today. Due to the time delay, the dedication ceremony lasted only 15 minutes at the $190,000 plant here.

Col. Ellis presided at the ceremony, which began with City Secretary A. L. Gailey giving the invocation.

Mayor Kenneth Dale welcomed the plant and visiting dignitaries and Senator Hightower introduced Governor Smith.

The Governor spoke of the change in the rural areas from predominately agricultural environment to more and more industrial development. "I believe this trend will continue at an accelerated rate in future years," the Governor said.

Col. Ellis provided the Governor with a pair of scissors to do the honor of cutting the ribbon.

Burglary Charges Filed On 2 Men

Charges of burglary were filed this week against two men, Victor Garza and Arturo Garza. Bond has been set at $1500 each, and by Wednesday, Garza was out on bond.

The charges were filed after an investigation by Hall County Sheriff Elmer Neel of Saturday night's burglary of Midway Store.

bon. Rep. Healy, Senator Hightower, Mrs. Wanda Davis, Mrs. Chip Logan, Col. Ellis and others lined up along the ribbon as it was cut. Mmes. Davis and Logan are employees in the plant office.

Those recognized during the dedication were Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Montgomery, Mrs. Richard R. Burkle, whose husband is vice president of Triple M Homes, Inc., and Mrs. Ellis, wife of Col. Ellis.

The dedication was held inside the plant building due to the muddy conditions.

Donuts, cookies, coffee and apple cider was served and tours of the entire plant area were conducted to approximately 150 attending.

Governor Smith's arrival in Memphis was delayed approximately 45 minutes due to bad weather between Memphis and Austin.

Col. Ellis stated, "The cooperation and enthusiasm with which the people of Memphis and this area have welcomed this plant during its initial phases indicate that the operation can only move in one direction — a successful one."

ment from 16 million to 17 million acres. This will mean an increase in the marketing quota of 941,666 bales," he said.

The congressman spoke on farm credit and its importance and pending tax legislation as it affects farmers and the rural communities.

Officials —

handle under one organization. There has been an increasing effort in the so-called rural areas to form COG's on a smaller and more localized scale.

Encouraged to attend the information meeting in Shamrock are all elected officials from legal sub-divisions of state government. Especially invited are: county judges and commissioners, city mayors and councilmen, directors of Soil and Water Districts, boards of trustees of various school districts, special water district board members, and committees for community development.

The coach was worried about sickness as Carol Thompson and Tommy Johnson, Jr. were both sick at workouts Wednesday. Sophomore James Hansard worked out Monday for the first time since receiving a knee injury after the first game of the season. Terry Wynn, starting center for the team, is still out of action.

Since it is Homecoming night for the Cyclone, the Memphis lads have opportunity of winning a homecoming game for the first time since 1967.

Cyclone field will be wet and slow for the contest. A favorite in the contest would be hard to pick.
