Alfalfa Firm To Locate In Old Oil Mill Property

Industrial and municipal development joined hands Wednesday when it was announced by Mayor Kenneth Dale that Western Alfalfa Corporation of Kansas City, Mo., would begin its operation in a part of the old oil mill property by April 1, 1970. Final negotiations were completed Wednesday in a meeting attended by representatives of the City, Hall County Industrial Foundation, and officials of Western Alfalfa Corporation, one of the largest processors and marketers of alfalfa in the United States. The alfalfa concern agreed to lease a portion of the oil mill property from the City on a lease agreement that will return $30,000 in rentals to the City over the next five years, and an additional $30,000 over the following five years if renewal option is exercised. The City will immediately take steps to exercise an option to purchase the property for $50,000.00, Mayor Dale said. Through this arrangement, not only will Hall County add a new industry, but Western's occupancy of a part of the oil mill property under its lease will enable the City to purchase the entire oil mill property and retain for City use the water tower and the south portion of the property, consisting of some fifty acres, which joins the City dump ground and the City sewer plant. City officials reported that the City of Memphis has been criticized for a number of years by State authorities for not having its own water tower.

County Producers Approve '70 Quotas

A great deal of interest was shown by Hall County Producers when 755 acceptable votes were cast in the 1970 Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum which was held by mail and ran from December 1 through December 5. J. Robert Hanvey, Jr., Chairman of the Hall County ASC Committee announced today. Of the 755 votes cast 748 voted in favor of quotas, while only 10 voted against, making a total of 99 percent of those voting being in favor of quotas. The number favoring quotas is comparable to previous years, since cotton producers have consistently voted in favor of quotas in each referendum held in Hall County. If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the national referendum approve quotas for the 1970 upland cotton crop, they will remain in effect and producers who plant within their allotment will have available a Federal program offering price-support loans and payments.

Daily News And The Millionaire Playboys!

By ADRIAN COMBS
Graduate Journalist, Southern Illinois University

During the recent weeks there has been considerable writing concerning the vice president's attack on the mass communication media. A number of commentators have felt that he was unjustified in his comments and others have taken just the opposite view, stating that it was about time that someone told TV and large newspapers just "where to get off." It is interesting that the discussion to this date has really only dealt with the edge of the problem, and no one has had the guts to even discuss the real centralization of power in the news media.

This concentration is not in the hands of a few newsmen but lies in the palms of a few wealthy owners. Just how few is something of a surprise. And these men, for the most part, know almost nothing and could care less, about the time honored principles of the publishing business. The theory which says "Give the people the facts on page one and your opinions on the editorial page" has no meaning for them. They are in business for only one reason and that is to make money. One good example is the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, a newspaper with a long honored reputation. It rose to great heights under the leadership of Joseph Pulitzer; but now, two generations later, J. P. III is more interested in being an art critic than in publishing the news. That is, as long as his auditors continue to tell him that he is making a good profit. As a result of this there has crept into the newspaper, TV, radio business a "country club" attitude. This is an effort on the part of the communication media to adopt the attitudes and feelings of their banker-type boss. Let us now examine some of the facts behind the millionaire ownership of the communications industry.

The first one is the growth of chains. As of 1967, chains owned 62.16 percent of all daily newspapers in Texas, according to Dr. Bryce Rucker in his book "The First Freedom." They also own over 50 percent of the dailies in 21 states including California, Florida, New York and Ohio, to mention some of the larger. Chains own 19 out of 25 of the top circulation newspapers in the country. In terms of circulation they own 80.86 percent of the daily circulation in these cities. Nationwide the chain newspapers controlled 61.8 percent of the daily newspaper circulation in 1967. This can be compared with 46.1 percent in 1960. These chains include Chicago Tribune, 7 newspapers; Newhouse, 22 papers; Scripps-Howard, 16; Hearst, 8; Gannett, 30; Ridder, 16; Cowles, 11; Los Angeles Times, 3; Cox, 9; Thomson, 36; Copley, 18; Richmond, Va., Newspapers, 4; Block, 5. The first mentioned, the Chicago Tribune papers, have a circulation of 26,264,990 every day. They are listed above in descending order with the last, Block, showing a circulation of 3,211,606. Thus it can be seen the tremendous influence the owners of these 13 chains can exert. And they are not men who know the problems of the average man on the street. Most of them have been wealthy all of their life and live in an entirely different world from the "average citizen." And yet they have the power to say which news stories are fit for common folk to read.

Now we turn to an area which makes the newspapers appear to be wearing a halo. What America sees on the tube is determined largely by those who control the three major television networks, ABC, CBS, NBC. Only about 13 percent of all broadcast time is devoted to local-live programming. Former Federal Communications Commission Chairman William Henry said that the rest of the time stations "throw the network switch, or open a syndicated film package as they would a can of beans." During the prime evening hours about 95 percent of the programs are from the networks. The networks contend that they are merely pipelines for programs produced by others. In practice they use the programs produced by others to further enrich themselves. "Television" magazine stated that "it (is) almost impossible for a producer to sell a show without cutting the network in on the profits in some way." Robert Montgomery, whose weekly series was cancelled off NBC even though advertisers wanted to continue, it told a House subcommittee that NBC was interested in the profits from his show. He said he had been contacted by a large insurance company which wished to back a program but was unable to without assigning ownership of the program and control of its contents to a network. Who are these faceless men behind the TV screen? Few are known to the viewers. At least a newspaper reader can write a letter to the editor, or in the case of a weekly newspaper, corner the editor on the street and have a chance to air his views. But, with the tube, where do you write to tell them that you are tired of seeing the series re-run for the fourth time. And that you would a lot rather see some live debate in Congressional committees than to hear a soap opera.

Roy Thomson, British press lord, has stated that a commercial television license is like receiving a "license to print money." He has used profits realized from his commercial television holdings in Scotland to build his international newspaper chain into the world's largest. In 1966 television profits in the U. S. were 492 million. This is a very healthy profit-to-property rate of almost 100 percent. The three network corporations earned $78 million and their 15 owned-and-operated stations another $108 million. This leaves all the other 593 stations to divide the remaining $307 million. So the cream is really being raked off at the top. It makes one wonder if this is not the real reason that television programs are so bad. If the three of us agree to serve only soup, then the public will have to be happy with soup.

In his book "The First Freedom," Dr. Bryce Rucker states that "no other local medium of mass communications in America has become so chain-dominated as television. Financed by high television profits based on low investments and protected by valuable monopoly FCC grants, enterprising chain broadcasters have virtually taken over television. They now control 73.6 percent of all commercial stations." This is further complicated by the fact that publishers hold interests in a third of the television stations, thus bringing the chain newspapers and televisions together under the flag of profits.

Is there anything wrong with profits? Not in the good old American tradition. But when profits become to mean more than the country itself, then it is time for the industry to decide if they serve Satan or man.

There have been uncovered in recent months a number of cases where the public interest was swept under the rug in order to protect the owners' wealthy friends. Large military contracts continue to be let for weapons which are considered worthless and at the same time research on disease is cut as an economy measure. Nicholas Johnson, Federal Communications Commissioner, recently stated that the mass media reported at length crimes committed by the poor while ignoring "white collar" crimes. He also charged the TV failed to report "a singular recent price fixing case (which) involved a 'robbery' from the American people of more money than was taken in all the country's robberies, burglaries, and larcenies during the years of that criminal price fixing."

ACROSS THE DESK

What Other Editors Say

We must also be listeners. One of the proven facts of my experience is that one can't hear too well when talking, and the whole purpose of vocalization is to have a receiver of it. Following these principles I conclude that free speech in whatever form . . . press assembly, etc. . . requires the responsibility of listening. Speech is an active process while hearing is essentially passive. One cannot exist without the other. Too much passivity on the part of a person or a group is dangerous principally because there are so many assumptions that can be made about a silent, complacent man. On the other hand, there are those who can use the activity of speech in such a way that nothing is accomplished in the way of exchanging ideas. Freedom of speech constitutes listening, expression of thoughts, reacting, analyzing, and finally acting on conclusions. Since the government is the machine by which the people put their will into effect, it should always be listening. And because the people are the government, the individual must both speak and listen. The freedom of speech is impossible for people without ears. Classified ads will get results.

Wet Weather Brings Pause In Harvest

The harvesting of the 1969 cotton crop is beginning to start at ginning points over the state after a week of adverse conditions brought it to a halt.

Memphis received several light rainfalls during the past week, and the white stuff melted as soon as it hit the ground. Monday, it rained during the daylight hours, and to adverse weather, the gins only managed to process 626 bales the past week, bringing the season's total to 21,000, a telephone survey revealed.

The weather also has brought a slack period at the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Memphis, according to Officer in Charge Wiley Cain.

"We are not planning to work today. We are now completely caught up this morning," he said.

Moisture, or fineness and purity tests, from last week's classing, showed 81 per cent in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9.

Grades classed showed 16 per cent white, 71 per cent light spotted, and 13 per cent spotted. The prevailing grades were 41 with 8 per cent, 42 with 43 per cent, 32 with 14 per cent, and 52 with 14 per cent. Staples graded last week showed 8 per cent at 29-32 and shorter, 29 per cent 15-16, and 28 per cent 31-32 in length.

Pressure, or strength, results, performed by Consumer Marketing Service showed 89 per cent read 75,000 pounds per square inch or higher, which is desirable, Cain said.

Market remained active and strong for Memphis area cotton. Average prices reported were 42-29, 18.34; 42-30, 18.30; 42-31, 18.92; 32-29, 19.01; and 32-30, 19.29 cents per pound. All of these prices are for cotton mixing 3.5 to 4.9.

Memphis Basketball Teams Are Playing In Panhandle Tourney

Memphis cage teams began play in the Panhandle Basketball Tournament, beginning with games against Happy teams.

The Cyclonettes are scheduled to play Happy girls at 12:30 p. m. today, and the Cyclone plays the boys at 2 p. m. today.

Friday, Memphis teams will play either Panhandle or Groom, depending on the eight-team bracket.

Other teams entered into the tournament besides Panhandle, Memphis, Groom, and Happy, are Lacy, Vega, Fritch and White.

Last weekend, Memphis teams competed in the Shamrock tournament.

In the first game for the girls, the Cyclonettes, according to the coach, Denzil Lacy, played a fine half of basketball, trailing by only two points behind Panhandle 23 to 21. Panhandle came back the second half and won the game 58 to 29. Susan Sprull had 14 points for Memphis while Panhandle's Denin Labus had 23.

The Cyclone against Panhandle got off to a slow start, while the Panhandle squad was hitting well from outside. Panhandle held an easy 37 to 19 halftime edge. The Cyclone came back in the second half and with a great effort scored 18 points in the third period to Panhandle's 9, and closed the gap considerably. Panhandle won the contest 67 to 53. Ronnie McFalls had 24 for Memphis.

In consolation action, the Cyclonettes met Wellington girls and got behind early in the contest. Wellington won the encounter 64 to 39. Sprull had 18 for Memphis while Pam Guthrie had 22 for Wellington.

The Cyclone-Sannorwood contest was a touch and go affair which Sannorwood won. Final score was 78 to 66.

"We held the lead at times in the fourth quarter," Coach Lacy said. McFalls was again high scorer with 20 points.

Friday will see the Lakeview boys playing either Sannorwood or Lefors, depending on the outcomes of the first games, and the girls will play either Wellington or McLean on Friday.

Traffic Plan Is Endorsed By Safety Group

AUSTIN — The Texas Safety Association has announced endorsement of the state's newly-created traffic safety program.

In reporting a recent action of the TSA board of directors endorsing the state program, Robert F. Miller, president, Trinity Universal Insurance Company, Dallas, and TSA vice president for traffic safety, stated that Governor Smith's office had developed a sound, far-reaching traffic safety program that could put a check to the state's rising traffic crash toll.

"However," Mr. Miller said, "success will depend upon complete implementation of the program and this will demand wholehearted cooperation from the legislature and local governments plus enthusiastic participation by the motoring public."

Additional traffic safety legislation and adequate appropriations by the legislature will be necessary before many parts of the official traffic safety program can be activated.

Pointing out that the next regular session of the state legislature is more than a year away, Mr. Miller urged cities, counties and citizens' organizations to immediately take an active part in the program.

"The Texas Safety Association is ready to help local governments in all parts of the state where safety councils are not now in operation," Mr. Miller said; and added, "we are eager to work with all citizens' groups in planning traffic safety activities. As we are cooperating completely with the Governor's traffic safety program, we are in a position to effectively coordinate safety programs in all sections of the state."

"Texas traffic casualties are now exceeding 18,000 a month and costing $80 million each 30 days. Clearly, traffic crashes with this kind of casualty toll and cost are our state's number one problem and deserve number one attention. This means full and enthusiastic support of the official Texas traffic safety program," Mr. Miller concluded.

The Texas Safety Association may be contacted at 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704.

Christmas Suits For Boys Ranch Fund Under Way

To make Christmas a memorable event for the nearly 350 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund is under way.

For many boys of the Ranch, a new suit for Christmas will be the first they have ever owned, and a long-cherished gift. The boys are allowed to select their own suits from Amarillo merchants who sell them at a special $25.00 rate. The new suits will replace worn ones that were outgrown months ago.

Ranch president Virgil Patterson stated, "These suits mean so much to the boys. They are more than just ordinary gifts because it is a demonstration of the faith and interest that so many people have in them."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, P. O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79105, or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street, Amarillo.

New Wage Law To Be Effective On Feb. 1, 1970

The first Texas minimum wage law will go into effect the first of next February, according to James I. Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The new law will cover those employees not covered by the federal minimum wage law but does not supersede the federal statute. The agriculture section of the state law is designed to keep pace with future federal wage standards with the provision that the state minimum wage will not be less than 20 cents below the federal level. At the 1970 federal level of $1.30 per hour, the Texas minimum wage for certain farm workers will be $1.10 per hour. Non-agricultural employees will receive $1.25 per hour until Feb. 1, 1971. At that time, the minimum wage will be increased to $1.40 per hour.

Wage rates for piece work will become effective on Feb. 1 of 1971 and will be established by the end of 1970 by the Commissioner of Agriculture. The new law provides that the piece rate will be equivalent to the hourly minimum wage for workers of average ability and diligence in harvesting. Mallett added that the piece rate workers will be covered by the hourly wage scale until the Commissioner of Agriculture established the regulations and procedures for administration of the piece rate work sometime next year. Piece rates will also apply to contract labor.

He pointed out that non-agricultural businesses, regardless of size, will be affected by the state law if they are not currently subject to the federal statute.

According to Mallett, the agriculture portion of the state law differs from the federal statute in three basic ways. First, the state law says that the new minimum wage will not apply to employers who did not use more than 300 man-days of labor during any calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year.

This figure of 300 man-days becomes significant when the second basic difference is considered. Under the federal law, a man-day is defined as a person working at least one hour a day. The state law says that a man-day is any day during which an employee performs agricultural labor for at least four hours for wages.

The third difference is the exemptions for persons working with livestock. Under the new law, employees working with dairy operations and production of livestock are exempt from the law. A notable exception, however, is that workers in feedlots are not exempt. The federal law exempts workers in range production of livestock where hours are hard to calculate.

Agricultural employees living on the premises in quarters furnished by the employer must receive at least $30 weekly in cash. The new law also says that any person whose earnings or productive capacity are impaired by age, injury or mental or physical deficiency may work at wages not less than 60 per cent of the minimum wage.

In the case of this reduced pay rate, the employer must secure a medical certificate from a physician. However, this provision does not apply to persons employed in agriculture as piece rate workers.

Issuing false earnings statements by employers is a misdemeanor and can draw a fine of not less than $100 or more than $500 or between five and 30 days in county jail or both. Failure to pay the applicable minimum wage will make the employer liable for twice the unpaid wages plus attorney's fees and costs of action. Mallett emphasized that the

January Draft Call For Texas Is 573 Men

AUSTIN.—The January draft call for Texas is 573, up from 456 for December. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

Col. Schwartz said he had been instructed officially to delay allocation of the call to the state's local boards pending receipt of official instruction on the procedures of random selection. The induction period will be Jan. 15 through Jan. 31.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examination in January is 5,800 men.

In filling this call, in addition to available men 19 to 26 years of age, all available men who will be 18 years and 6 to 11 months of age in January, 1970, may be ordered for examination, as necessary to fill the call, with the oldest first.

The State Selective Service director announced that officials of his Youth Advisory Committee had been elected in an initial meeting of the group in Austin.

The new law does not interfere with the right of employees to bargain collectively for wages that are higher than the minimum established in the law.

The state law lists several exemptions that differ from the federal statute. Information on the state law can be obtained from local county agents or from the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin.

The committee is composed of 17 young people whose purpose is to evaluate the draft law and its administration and offer advice.

Officials elected are: William C. Sarpallus, presiding officer; Michael J. Shearn, vice chairman; and Miss Karen K. Burk, secretary.

Sarpallus is a student at Clarendon Junior College, Shearn is at the University of Texas in Austin, and Miss Burk is at Texas Woman's University.

Other members are Rodney E. Donaldson, University of Texas at Austin; Eddie C. Hill, F. D. Roosevelt High School, Dallas; Larry L. Long, University of Texas at Austin; Peter S. Cotham, Paris Junior College; Jose G. Guerra, Pan-American College.

ed over $54 million for additional construction at Fort Hood, the greatest armed force training center in the free world. This brings the total appropriations for Fort Hood to over $21 million in the bill. The Senate bill includes several projects at Air Force Bases, not in the House bill. We added nearly $8 million in the Senate for Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio. We also added money for construction projects at Laredo Air Force Base, Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio, Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock and at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls. The Senate bill also includes additional money for the Naval Air Station at Chase Field in Beeville and for the Naval Air Station in Kingsville.

These are all projects which were not in the House bill. Now, in the Senate, I am going to push to get these higher figures for Texas approved by all of Congress — its better housing, better training facilities, better medical facilities for the military personnel in Texas.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Start Your Plans For Next Year's Crop

Planning for another crop season begins when tools and equipment are set aside from this year's work. Proper storage of idle equipment is an important first step in preparing for the crop year ahead, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Improper farm machinery storage may result in early bearing failures, slipping belts, slip clutches that don't slip when they should, balers that won't tie a knot, plows that won't scour, sheet metal with rusted holes in it, and fertilizer mechanisms that won't turn.

These troubles not only add to repair bills and shorten the life of the machine but also cause lost time at critical periods, adds the county agent. Proper storage consists basically of protecting metal parts of the machine from rust and corrosion and rubber parts from deterioration. An engine may deteriorate more from rust and corrosion during periods of non-use than from wearing during operation.

Here are general suggestions for preparing equipment for storage. Clean the machine thoroughly. Lubricate all bearings which normally require lubrication. Remove roller chains, clean, and store in oil. Remove belts and store in a cool and dark area. If they cannot be removed, at least loosen them. Coat unprotected metal parts with a rust preventive. Most oil companies carry these in their industrial oils. Liquid rust preventives may be sprayed on.

Block up machines to take the weight off tires.

Don't let weight hand on hydraulic cylinders.

Store machines inside if at all possible.

Read the manufacturer's instruction manual for further suggestions.

List needed repairs and get them during the slack season.

Winter Insect Control on Livestock, Fruit and Nut Trees Is Most Valuable

With the arrival of colder weather, stockmen in Hall County should be on the alert for the annual invasion of lice on livestock. These pests, unless controlled, will reduce profits and increase feed bills, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser.

He suggests that livestock producers come by his office and pick up a copy of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry".

The publication outlines control measures and lists formulations for controlling all major external parasites of livestock and poultry. It also contains a dilution chart for mixing sprays and dips and outlines control programs for all types of livestock and poultry. To get a head start on lice this winter, Hooser suggests initiating a sound control program now.

While it is true, most fruit and nuts are dormant, it should also be remembered that now is the time to make plans for keeping orchards and groves free of insects and diseases.

As an aid to such a program, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has available through its county offices L-245, "Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts". The guide should be a big aid in planning insect and disease control programs for the one-tree homeowner or the commercial producer, says Hooser. Copies are available from his office.

It is necessary to properly time spray applications in order to keep insect and disease losses at a minimum and to produce high quality fruits and nuts.

Plans made now and carried out as needed can mean the difference between a fine crop of excellent quality or a crop failure.

Senator BARBOROUGH'S REPORT

last week a subcommittee of Senate Appropriations Committee completed work on the military construction appropriations bill. As a member of that committee of the Senate I was able to get a substantial increase in funding for many permanent military construction projects in Texas.

The bill, as approved by the Senate, includes over $75 million for permanent military construction in Texas. This figure includes $38 million for the Army and camp, $29 million for Air Force installations and $8 million for the Navy — all to be spent in Texas.

The bill in the Senate is a major advance over the House of Representatives bill. The Senate has more than 50 percent more for Texas projects than the House of Representatives voted. The House bill had just slightly more than $47 million for all the projects for all of Texas.

This higher figure for Texas has now been approved by the full Senate Appropriations Committee. It must now pass the full Senate. Then Senate delegations take in up with House delegations in a conference to settle differences between the two bills. Most of these projects are for housing and medical facilities. They are vital to the health and well being of military personnel and their dependents who are stationed in Texas.

One of the items in the Senate bill which was not in the House bill is the money for a Medical Field Service School at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio. This project will cost nearly $10 million. As chairman of the Senate Health Subcommittee in addition to being on the Military Appropriations Construction Subcommittee, I know how important this medical military school is. In this one army medical field service school are trained the people who save so many lives of our men wounded in combat. That is why we have fewer deaths per 100 men wounded in Vietnam than in any other war in our history.

The Senate Appropriations Subcommittee also added $2 million to the House bill for construction at Fort Bliss, at El Paso, and add-

Memphis Democrat—Thurs., Dec. 11, 1969

AUSTIN — January's draft call for Texans in 573. That is up 117 from December's 456.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, said all location of the call will be delayed to local draft boards until he receives official instructions on procedures for random selection.

Induction period is January 15-31.

Under the new Selective Service rally, men from 19 to 26 ... born on September 14 ... whose last names start with the letter "J" will be the first drafted after January 1.

Under the new lottery procedure 365 capsules are dropped into the hopper. Each capsule bears a number representing a day in the year. These are regarded as birth dates.

Order in which capsules are drawn thus determines the order in which men with matching birth-days will be drafted next year. Same sequence applies to those now deferred, or exempt in the future, when they return to "I-A" classification.

Texas quota for pre-induction and mental examination next month is 5,800.

In addition to available men 19-26, all those 18 years and six to 11 months old in January of 1970, may be ordered for examination to fill the call. Oldest will be ordered first.

A 17-member Youth Advisory Committee to Schwartz elected these officers: William C. Sarapalis, presiding officer; Michael J. Shearn, vice chairman and Miss Karen K. Burk, secretary.

This group will evaluate the draft law and its administration and offer advice.

Other members include Rodney E. Donaldson, Austin; Eddie C. Hill, Dallas; Larry L. Long, Austin; Peter S. Cotham, Paris; Jose G. Guerra, Edinburg; James H. Wilkinson, Houston; Robert L. Jones, Corpus Christi; Robert J. Hodges, Austin; Miss Sandra Coachman, Belton; Jay N. Miller, Odessa; Michael L. Riddle, Lubbock; George H. Gould, Beaumont; Frank L. Sullivan, Nacogdoches and Larry L. Freeman, Houston.

Attorney General Rules

A Texas law requiring publication twice in a newspaper of political subdivision land up for sale does not repeal the statute requiring commissioner's courts to appoint a commissioner to dispose of county real estate at auction, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin also ruled that the new law does repeal the provision that a taxing unit which purchased property at a tax sale may sell it either at a public or a private sale.

In other recent opinions Martin concluded:

*Navigational districts, water districts and river authorities may become subscribers for workmen's compensation insurance for employees.

*Councils of government can accept federal grants for water pollution control programs.

*Soil and water conservation districts are prohibited by budget bill from using state funds to buy liability insurance.

*Counties under the Tort Claims Act do not have to carry workmen's compensation insurance.

*Hospital administrators may refuse to furnish to a widow medical records of a former patient Generation Gap U.S.A.

"Oh, stay as long as you like, Mrs. Muffin. She's not giving me a bit of trouble."

who died shortly after discharge from the hospital.

*Local school fund assignment credit for federal-owned military posts must be proportionately computed on the basis of total territory in the district, including that resulting from annexation of another school district.

*Garden clubs which are institutions of "purely public charity" can be exempt from property tax.

*Salary supplements to get doctors and dentists for state hospitals are legal.

*Former legislators seeking state retirement benefits must, under a new provision, make application by January 1 and pay prior-year contributions.

*Persons who are employees of a participating sub-division the effective date of its joining Texas County District Retirement System automatically become members on the effective date of the agreement.

Appointments

Gov. Preston Smith named L. Rumsey Strickland of Dallas to the board of regents of Texas Woman's University.

Smith also named six to the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners. They are Mrs. Minnie B. Otte of Needville, Mrs. Billie Jo Woodall of Grand Prairie, Mrs. Arnie Fowler Spence of Houston, Dr. Robert Wells Shirey of Hillsboro, Harry H. Miller of Baytown and Mrs. Melba Jo Thomas of Naples.

Humberto Silex Jr. of Austin and El Paso is the new administrative assistant to James W. Griffith, Southwest regional director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court refused to change its rule that the Sunday closing law is constitutional. However, it granted a motion by challengers to stay its mandate pending appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Federal district court here threw out atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair's suit to prevent broadcasting of prayer and Bible readings by astronauts from outer space. She said she will appeal.

State Supreme Court agreed to send back for retrial a medical malpractice suit brought by a farmworker against an Ennis doctor.

High Court was asked to reconsider its finding that a young Army Sgt., Albert Buckman Wharton II, is sole heir to Electra Waggoner's $45 million estate located in six North Texas counties. A foster sister challenged the will. Supreme Court ordered a new trial of a suit resulting from a three-car collision in Collin County.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed itself and upheld the life sentence of a man convicted of having narcotics paraphernalia.

Disaster Tag Urged

Governor Smith has asked that 27 counties in East Texas be declared as disaster areas due to the prolonged drought this summer and fall.

Counties are Anderson, Angelina, Bowie, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Franklin, Gregg, Harrison, Henderson, Hopkins, Houston, Marion, Morris, Nacogdoches, Panola, Rains, Red River, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Smith, Titus, Upshur, Van Zandt and Wood.

Clifford M. Hardin, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture, promptly announced the counties are eligible for emergency assistance under the livestock feed program.

Small Town Safety Program

Interest in developing the town as a safety valve of urbanization is gaining momentum.

Governor Smith started interest in small town development when he announced "Texas Communities Take Self-Help for the State's Rural Communities."

Texas Municipal League led an entire issue of its magazine, "The Solutions."

Governor Smith has said continue to worry about problems in a relatively easy way, without attending to plight of small towns, have only rural wasteland urban slums.

Ex-Legislators Work for

At least eight former legislators have been given state help to complete their application for state retirement pay.

Added to the payrolls were three former legislators: James E. Taylor of Austin or Moore of Houston; James Phillips of Angleton; Willie of Victoria and Vernon of Waxahachie.

Three former House members also were added: Jack Buffalo, Henry Lehman of Dallas and Fred Niemann of Elgin (elected from Youka).

What this country really is a good five cent nickel.

By BYRON BALDWIN

Lee Smith and his wife, took time off to go to their reunion of 1939 in Popular Mo. The original class had 79 members and out of the homecoming and out of the 180 Clyde and Lou the only two that married in their class. One of Lou's old friends took her around to a Texas boy that was there it happened to be Clyde. One other and one lawyer were all professional men in the class. Lou insinuated that she had had the lawyer, but these twenty-five years she satisfied with the pumpkin got. Clyde said one or two of old girls still looked pretty but he was satisfied with each he got. A green pumpkin is good, neither is a green but it seems like times have passed so that we do not stay a young green pumpkin or long enough to see whether are any good or not. I am Dorthy Dix, but one lady married to one of these pumpkins three years before understood his family and no longer scared of them. 20 years the green peach opened and so has the pumpkin could tell by their smile they stayed together and ripen. We never know what we until given time to ripen, green persimmon and see difference when it ripens. We have that old over-ripe spoiled pumpkin, its had, but you can't trade off, but they won't keep long in that condition.

Our first Christmas card this year was from George Stanley in Lawrence, Kans. Just signed "George" so I guess he has not found the right kind of shaving lotion. Noticed in last week's paper that Neal Foxhall was now out of service and hope he can find his place back in Memphis to help carry on here. Lynn Foxhall I understand is in M. D. Anderson Hospital working now and going to school. Hope they have found the right place in the "Heart Starter Department".

Visiting in Heritage Hall three daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webster, Mabel Webster Messer of Littlefield, whose husband was Cloyd and served as commissioner here in 1934. She has two sons, one daughter, 8 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Ruth Webster Curtis, wife of Buford Curtis of Camarillo, Calif. They have two daughters and 4 grandchildren. Margaret Webster Saunders, wife of the late J. D. Saunders of Hedley, mother of five daughters and one son.

We have an old-fashioned Christmas tree decorated in Heritage Hall. Maud Milam strung the popcorn and cranberries and decorated the tree like they did before we became modern. I remember when each church in town had a committee to go out the tree and others came to put the tree up and other members to decorate and place gifts on it. Took a lot of stringing of pop corn and cranberries. Night of the tree, we had a Christmas program before calling out the gifts. I remember the teenage boys sitting back on one side and waiting to see the expression on your best girl's face when she opened up her little box we had put on the tree with a little came in it. You could see a little palpitating across the church! Ladies 10 cent and a few 25 cent handkerchiefs were popular gifts and for the men a 15 or 25 cent pair of socks. That was about as strong as kids could go on their shopping allowance, but there was love in that gift that equaled a $25.00 robe or a $10.00 shirt. I like it modern, but good to have lived under the different period.

We have sent an application to the Secretary of State for a charter for the non-profit organization of Hall County Heritage Hall. We want to pay off one-half of the building which would be $5,000 by January 1, 1970. We have not made any drive for this, but have received a good many volunteer donations which will go a long way on paying the first half of the building. If you have not given anything and if you would like to help preserve the Heritage Hall, help us out. You may leave your donation at First National or First State Bank or mail it to Heritage Hall and will see that you are receipted for it. It will take several good donations for us to meet this goal. If you have not been to Heritage Hall come in and look it over and think you will be proud to have a part in it.

We are still looking for more showcases as we are still receiving many different artifacts and want to keep them under glass. A good write up in Amarillo paper Dec. 5th by Mr. Wortham and appreciate it very much. Did not get names of two of these old boys that have been wheel horses, in this write-up. Think they need a star for all the heavy, heavy and fixing displays as well as others. I want to vote a star on Hubert Dennis and Soapy Tribble for their untiring efforts in putting Heritage Hall over. Thanks to the clubs and all who have had a part in this work.

Sen. Jack Hightower is working on a formal for one of the manequins, but guess he has not finished it yet. But want to give Sen. Jack credit for getting word to County Judge (Gip) McMurry getting permission to move the Hall County Historical marker which is now on the R. R. tracks where only the freight cars go by.

Congratulations to John Vallance on his 50th anniversary of business. We now have his first cash register in Heritage Hall. Elmont Branigan bought it and Soapy Tribble went after it. Several dollars passed through this cash register... wish it could talk. I am sure it could tell us about a lot of good business days. Floyd McIntush brought in the first old fashioned tin covered trunk. It was bought by his mother 99 years ago in Tennessee, but she came to Texas. Back in style again.

Sides-Jouett Nuptials Are Read In Childress Nov. 29

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, November 29, at the First Baptist Church in Childress, Miss Cathy Jane Sides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sides, became the bride of Trilton Joe Jouett of Estelline. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jouett, Rt. 1, Estelline, are the parents of the groom.

The ceremonial area was designated by two standard candelabra decorated with palm fronds and holding white tapers and two spiral candelabra holding crystal votive cups on either side of a white arch that was decorated with emerald green and white gladioli. A white satin bow centered the arch. Red satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

Wedding music was provided by the organist, Mrs. Jimmy Barlow, and the vocalist, Miss Judy Henderson, who sang "Twelfth of Never" and "Wedding Prayer".

Corsages of both mothers were of white carnations. Special guests attending were the grandmothers, Mrs. Jack Sides of Childress, Mrs. T. T. gown of garnet sculptured velvet with long, tapered sleeves and boat neckline. The bodice was defined with a matching velvet ribbon and flat bow. Her headpiece was a garnet velvet Dior bow and she carried a garnet votive cup surrounded by white poms and leather fern on a white salver.

Bridesmaids were Misses Debbie Jouett, sister of the groom, Mrs. H. D. Frost Jr., Mrs. Ronald Frost and Miss Lynna Hawkins. Their gowns of garnet velvet bodices and ivory satin skirts were fashioned identically to the honor attendant's. They also wore garnet velvet Dior bows and carried votive lights on salvers, as did the matron of honor.

Candles were lighted by Miss Marsha Jouett, sister of the groom, and Miss Sherry Davis, cousin of the groom. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Dinah Jouett, and Miss Tammy Rothwell were flower girls. They, too, were dressed as the bridesmaids.

Stanley Altman was best man. Groomsmen were Danny Jouett, brother of the groom, Danny Longbine, Steve Diggs and Charles Moore. Ushers were Edwin Sides, brother of the bride, Jimmy Adcock, Don Proffitt, Ronald Frost, Henry Frost, Jr., and Randy Davis.

Mrs. Sides chose for her daughter's wedding a cypress green A-line silk with wide sleeves buttoned above the wristline. A mandarin collar accented the high neckline. The collar and the fitted area of the sleeves were accented with gold threads and crystals. She wore matching green accessories.

Mrs. Jouett, mother of the groom, wore an A-line sea foam pucker knit with three-quarter length sleeves and jewel neckline.

Other members of the house party were Belinda Mitchell and Wanda Maddox. Lana Kemper and Phyllis Dunn alternated at the serving table which was decorated in Miss Anthony's chosen colors with a white cloth with red ribbon and bows and red and white doves. The centerpiece was of cut flowers.

Davis, Jr., Thurman Eller, Ben Moss, Garland Moore, Jack Peabody, Larry Don Maddox, Smoky Mitchell, Lewis Edwards, W. A. Smith, Monty Alewine, Elmont Branigan, Herman Vallance, Glenn Coleman, J. W. Hancock, Lennis Simpson, T. O. Pounds, Clyde Davidson and Charles Snowdon.

The couple was also honored with a bridal shower in Spearman on Friday night, Dec. 5, where they received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Floy Anthony, Mrs. E. Moreland and Mrs. Delbert Hightower attended as guests from Memphis.

Salvation Army Progress Report On 1969 Activities Is Explained

Funds raised for the Salvation Army last spring in Memphis and Hall County were utilized during the year both at home, and to help hurricane-stricken residents of the Gulf Coast, according to an announcement this week by Ralph Coleman, service unit field representative.

Hurricane "Camille" slashed the Gulf Coast Aug. 17, leaving death and destruction in its wake from Mobile, Ala., to New Orleans, La., he pointed out.

Fifty mobile canteens, many of them from Texas, served round-the-clock in hard-to-reach places, and 150 trucks a day rolled into the area with needed supplies from the Salvation Army.

Although Hall County suffered no major disasters during the last year, the Memphis Service Unit of the Salvation Army helped a dozen persons locally.

According to Unit Chairman W. D. Young, $163.25 was utilized in the immediate area with groceries, shoes and other aid for indigents, and for sending two boys to the Salvation Army's summer camp, Camp Hoblitzelle, near Waxahatchie.

Chairman Young said seven persons were given aid during the past year, when misfortune overtook them while traveling in the Memphis area.

Rep. Coleman said the Memphis unit is very active, with more than a dozen members from Memphis, Esteline, Lakeview and Turkey. All the communities share in the benefits from the annual Salvation Army drive.

Because of the drain on Salvation Army funds by the summer hurricane, funds are still badly needed for normal state and local activities, Coleman said.

Chairman Young urged any person not participating in the drive last spring in Memphis and Hall County to send their donations to the Memphis Service Unit of the Salvation Army, in care of Treasurer Charles R. Brown.

First National Bank, Memphis. When disaster strikes, many wonder how the Salvation Army is invariably first on the scene. It's no secret, Coleman said, because of service units, such as in Memphis, the Salvation Army is already there.

The World's Fare

Students at the University of Nevada turned out for a grand rally to express appreciation for their university president. Such contrary action could lead to a loss of federal grants.

They now say that organized crime is moving in on the Alaska oil boom. That state really needs a Texas Ranger.

Oil drillers in Alaska are not known as wildcaters, as they are in Texas. They are called wild-coosers.

A Texan writes that he learned what "maratorium" meant when he was a young lad and his trousers were caught in a barber-wire fence. He said the harder he pulled the "more he tore 'em".

Definition: A griping taxpayer is one who demands more and more government spending and less and less taxes to foot the bill.

It is likely that the robbers who broke into that empty bank building in Missouri will soon march on Washington and demand reparations for their time and trouble.

After all, Senator, it is much safer for young people to participate in marches than to drive.

Some sage said that the reason there are more twins born nowadays is that children are afraid to come into this world alone.

Pathfinders Meet in Home of Mrs. Smith

The Pathfinder's Council met Tuesday, Dec. 9, in the country home of Mrs. Brown Smith.

Mrs. Herb Evans, president, opened the meeting by reading the Collect for Club Women in unison.

The topic "New Horizons in Creative Homemaking" was the order of study. Several members brought a handmade gift or Christmas arrangement for "Show and Tell".

Afterwards all gathered around the table to make gifts for Cousins Home patients.

To further the Christmas season a tasty plate was served to Mmes. Mary Lou Erwin, Herb Evans, Elsie Gidden, O. M. Gunstream, J. J. McDaniel, Effie McElreath, J. F. McIntush, Maudie Mitchell, Fredia Stafford and hostess, Mrs. Smith.

Daughter of Local Resident Nominated For Nat'l Teacher

Mildred Baker of Roswell, N. M., daughter of Mrs. N. M. Lindsey of Memphis and the late N. M. Lindsey, has been nominated for the National Teacher of the Year. This is a much deserved honor.

Mrs. Baker taught two years in Memphis High School. At present, she is teaching in the elementary school at Roswell where she has taught for 20 years.

Life Magazine selects the teacher of the year from nominations all over the nation.

Mildred and her husband, J. C. Baker, are the parents of two children, one daughter and one son. Shirley, their daughter, graduated as an honor student from Baylor University three years ago while their son, Johnny, is a senior student in Texas Tech at Lubbock.

F. A. Rogers, Brother of Local Man, Dies

Foy Allen Rogers, brother of Bill George Kesterson, died at his home in Albuquerque, N. M. of an apparent heart attack. Funeral services for Mr. Rogers were held Dec. 4 in Albuquerque with burial in the city.

Mr. Rogers was a former resident of Memphis. He moved here to Lockney and had in Albuquerque since 1941. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

It's that time of the year one learns that it is better to than to receive—because deductible.

McIntush Home Scene For Party Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McIntush were hosts to a group of Singers Saturday night, Dec. 6. Several brought their 1970 Stamp-Baxter books and enjoyed the breaking in of the new book.

NOTICE

Are you aware that the average wife will spend 35,000 hours in her lifetime washing dishes. Isn't this revolting?

Want to do something about it?

BUY HER A WHIRLPOOL DISHWASHER

It'll wash and dry all your dishes cleaner than you can by hand. It features a Super Wash system with 2 revolving spray arms that give you total washability. The smaller, narrow nozzles in the spray arms "peel" away tough soil like heavy grease and cooked-on food. It has a filter that constantly cleans the water, then cleans itself. This prevents food from being redeposited on your dishes or from clogging the tiny nozzles. It adds detergent to each wash cycle automatically. Big capacity enables you to keep dirty dishes out of sight, then wash 'em all at once at the end of the day. Come see how very few dollars stand between you and one of these great dishwashers.

We have a large selection of dishwashers on our floor—white, avocado and copper-tone

PRICES START AT $149.95

Also give her a Whirlpool Food Disposer

OUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Household Insect Invasion Increases in Winter
Everyone enjoys a warm fire and a full stomach on days when the wind is brisk and the temperature is down around or below the freezing point. Insects are no exception, points out County Agent B. Hooser, and they have started moving inside.
Many insects move indoors during the winter simply because they are looking for warmth and food. This causes problems for the homeowner, says the county agent. In this winter parade, homeowners can expect to see cockroaches, silverfish, crickets, boxelder bugs, elm leaf beetles, spiders, wasps, moths and many other pest-seekers. As the nights become colder, the invasion can be expected to increase.
An insecticide arier around the foundation is an excellent means of keeping the invaders out. Chlordane applied to the outside foundation, around porches, steps and patios gives effective results.

Spraying is the best method for applying the barrier around the house. Treat the outside walls and foundation from sill to soil and about six inches of the soil surface next to the foundation. Give particular attention to cracks, crevices and entryways into the house.
A paint brush makes a good applicator for treating window sills and thresholds, says the county agent.
Anyone with questions concerning household insect control is invited to pick up a copy of the Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects. It is available from the county Extension office.
Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lemons spent the past weekend visiting in Lubbock with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rondel Davidson and family.
Heard of a sheriff the other day who didn't know the meaning of the word "fear". Fact is, there were lots of words he didn't know.

With winter weather coming on, motorists will have to be more watchful.

More fatal accidents occur during darkness—especially during the evening from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.—than during the daylight hours, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

This sobering fact should be kept in mind by motorists during winter when the hours of daylight are shorter, streets may be wet or icy, and fog and frost on windows may cloud a motorist's visibility. Better control of the car, reduction of speed and increased alertness are very necessary.

The State Health Department and National Safety Association also advise motorists to drive defensively and to:

Pull into traffic more cautiously than in daytime.

Pass with care, making sure you have enough passing room.

Never trust your judgment in estimating speed of an approaching car by its headlights.

Stay well behind the car ahead of you and watch for his signals.

Watch for oncoming drivers who may be out of their lanes.

Be alert for vehicles stopped on the roadway with poor—or no—lights.

Alert other drivers with flares or lights if your car becomes disabled, and get it off the road.

Don't over-drive your headlights. At 60 miles an hour it will take you about 370 feet to stop. Yet, you see only about 200 feet ahead.

Put on directional signals well in advance of turning.

Don't use parking lights when in motion.

Make adjustments for bad weather, which further reduces your vision.

Keep your windshield and windows clean, inside and out. In night driving the glare of oncoming headlights diffused against the film may blind you or make you fail to see unlighted objects.

If an approaching driver fails to dim his lights, don't keep your bright lights on also. Slow down, dim your lights and keep your eyes on the shoulder of the road on the lane edge to guide you.

By observing these rules of the road, you will have a much better chance of not becoming a traffic statistic, says the State Health Department.

One of the most unwelcome guests in anyone's home is fire, but thousands of Texans are issuing invitations to disaster each year through carelessness, says the Texas State Department of Health.

In Texas last year, 462 deaths resulted from various types of fires and explosions. With winter coming on, homeowners and hunters should be especially cautious about their heating equipment.

Faulty gas connections are claim lives. Besides the danger of combustion from escaping gas, improper adjustment of any fuel burning stove or heater can lead to the build-up of deadly carbon monoxide.

Eighty per cent of all fire deaths were caused by smoke inhalation and deadly fumes, the result of combustion. Carbon monoxide alone kills about 1,000 persons annually in the nation each year.

Gas furnaces and space heaters should be properly vented and periodically maintained for safety. Make sure vents have not become clogged during disuse. Sleeping with the bedroom window open at least a crack will help the circulation of fresh air.

Often objects near a stove will catch fire. Make sure furnaces, heaters and stoves, as well as flues and vents, are located well away from combustibles such as curtains, towel racks or bedding.

The most frequent victims of clothing fires are children. The next most frequent victims are elderly people. Clothing fires occur to children playing with matches or cigarette lighters, playing around stoves and heaters, scuffling burning leaves or getting too close to outdoor fires.

Elderly people set their clothes afire while using stoves carelessly, warming themselves in front of open fires or falling asleep while smoking. Smoking in bed results in too many deaths.

Long, loose flowing sleeves or floor length dressing gowns can easily become a burning shroud.

Most homes these days have gasoline-powered mowers, edgers or other equipment. Make sure the fuel is stored properly in metal or plastic containers—not in glass bottles. Never store it near water heaters, since fumes from a leaking or spilled container can result in an explosion or fire. Many homes go up in flames each year from this type of fire.

Science Research In The News

A Report on New Products and Process in Everyday Living

Cloud Seeding
Whether or not cloud seeding technology has advanced sufficiently to justify Federal expenditures on large-scale cloud seeding operations—as distinct from experimental operations—to alleviate water shortages in uncertain, say Jerry Neyman, Elizabeth Scott, and Jerome A. Smith of the University of California at Berkeley.

Reporting in Science on their statistical analysis of the Whitetop rain stimulation experiment, these statisticians note that the average 24-hour precipitation in six concentric regions up to 180 miles from the center of the target on 102 days of cloud seeding was less than that on the 96 days without cloud seeding. For distances less than 30 miles from the target, rain loss caused by seeding was 32 percent.

It is clear that cloud seeding can affect rainfall, but it may do so by increasing or decreasing it. Causes of either increases or decreases are largely unknown. And since these are unknown, it is questionable whether modification technology exists as such.

The benefits to humanity from the identification of these causes would be enormous and encourage further research.
