TOMMY GREENE

Tommy Greene Qualifies For State At Region Solo, Ensemble Contest

Six Cyclone Band soloists and ensembles participated in Region XVI Solo and Ensemble contest last Saturday at Wayland Baptist College and one soloist, Tommy Greene, earned the right to advance to the state contest to be held in June. Greene took a Div. I rating on a Class I French horn solo which entitles him to the State Solo and Ensemble Contest in Austin, Band Director Glen Thompson reported. Three band ensembles played Class I music, but all three received Div II ratings. These included: Clarinet Quartet — Lu Gay Godfrey, Vicki Rose, Mike Chappell and Susan Goodnight. Clarinet Quartet — Ramona Ballew, Johnnie Sue Hancock, Mike Chappell and Carol Foxhall. Brass Quintet — Bobby Cosby, Bobby Clark, Timmy Fowler, Tommy Greene and Carolyn Sparks. Tuba soloist Carl Evans and Clarinet soloist Johnnie Sue Hancock took Div. II ratings on Class 3 solos. Director Thompson said that judges in the contest were strict and awarded only a few first divisions. "I was sorry that I had to be away from the band the week before due to my father's illness and was unable to work with the students, but I feel they did real well considering," he said.

The Lakeview Eagles basketball team, all seven of them, and their coach, Cagle Davis, left Lakeview today for Levelland and the campus of South Plains Junior College for a get acquainted workout session in the gymnasium preparing for their opening game of the Class B Regional Tournament set for 3:30 p. m. Friday against Bronte (12-B). Coach Davis' prediction of "I don't see any reason for stopping at Bi-District," proved to be true as his boys refused to quit against Allison at Shamrock Tuesday night even though they trailed 19 points, 32 to 13 at one point in the second quarter. The Lakeview boys staged a come from behind comeback that left them holding 16 victory points in downing Allison 76 to 60. Coach Davis cited shooting percentages which made the difference in the contest as Lakeview hit 50 per cent from the floor and 80 per cent from the free throw line. The Eagles in their second half comeback hit a remarkable 69 per cent from the floor while scoring 45 points. Allison led for three quarters of the game, 19-13, 40-31, and 51-48, only to see Lakeview take the lead and began a stalling technique. As Allison tried to break the stall, they ended up in fouling trouble losing three starters, Dukes, Miller and Richardson. Lakeview lost Gowdy via the foul route. Scoring for Lakeview went: Terry Wansley 33, Lewis Richburn 2, Richard Gilbreth 12 and Pat Gowdy 5. Off To Region The Eagles will take 20-8 record to Region when they go against Bronte, a team with a 20 to 2 record so far this season. The game will be played Friday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. at Levelland. Should the Eagles have a good fortune to win the opener, they will play the winner of Marathon and Meadows at 10 a. m. Saturday at Levelland. The other half of the eight team bracket has Three Way and Adrian, and Quitaque and Sands. Competition at the Region meet for Class B boys appears to be (Continued on Page 10)

Economic Factors Are Vital To Government Leadership!

Here in these United States, we Americans are prone to select "popular" leaders, men who appeal to us as orators, statesmen or leaders in big business or the military. Our selected leaders are all, almost without exception, successful men in their own right, before entering the political scene.

In our democracy, leaders of our nation have to face the mandate of the people every two, four or six years, in order to remain in positions of leadership and power.

We read Cuba's dictator Fidel Castro is demanding "instant prosperity" for Cuba's citizenship by demanding a sugar crop of 10 million tons this year. To accomplish this goal, Castro is demanding unreasonable sacrifices from the people. Instead of importing needed food to feed the 8.2 million Cubans, he is buying Soviet-bloc tractors. His all-out drive is forcing up to a million men, women and children besides the regular sugar harvesters to labor in the fields without pay.

He is even requiring trained technicians to labor in the fields. Castro has threatened the firing squad for anyone interfering with the harvest. He warns: "From now on, we will assassinate without a single thought of any kind everybody who tries to sabotage the harvest." It is reported that 100,000 of Cuba's 210,000 military men are in the cane fields. Sabotage is being seen as explosions destroy machinery and arsonists set fire to warehouses destroying stored sugar.

Housewives stand in long lines to purchase what meager food is available. Even Black Market supplies are scarce of food and medicine.

What all this sounds like to us is the old story in history of leaders exploiting the working people. If the workers will not work, then they must be made to do so. Castro needs the big sugar harvest to stay in power and stay in good graces with his Communist friends.

Is it any wonder why 650,000 refugees have fled Cuba in Latin America's biggest migration? Most come to the U. S., it is reported.

Here in these United States we are all concerned with the economics of our own country. Farmers are worried about their future of growing cotton and other agriculture products, as prices continue to decline when compared to the rising costs of living and operation.

High interest rates, established by the Nixon Administration to curb inflation, and the decision to stop advanced payments of crop support have farmers in a financial bind, especially considering the sort crop yield of last year.

The Federal Government faces the problem of controlling government programs which are shooting upward out of control as growing numbers of people become eligible for benefits and services the Government is committed to provide. Social Security is up to $30.8 billion, Medicare cost next year is put at $8.8 billion, pensions for Government workers and railroad employees took $2.8 billion in 1961 and are ticketed for $8.1 billion next year. The federal share of aid for the needy shows a jump from $2.2 billion in 1961 to $8.5 billion next year. Veterans' benefits have risen from $4.3 billion to an expected $6.7 billion.

Interest payments, which took 8.1 billion dollars back in 1961 are to siphon off $17.8 billion next year, possibly more.

Industry in our nation faces a business downturn. Companies across the country are tightening their belts, spending less on new facilities, closing plants, paring payrolls even at the "white collar" level. Orders are off, output is dropping, profits are shrinking. Officials are changing their minds about hiring and firing, about buying and building, about prices and products.

Luxury items are down most. Figures read: TV sets and radios down 32 per cent, automobiles down 26 per cent, appliances down 24 per cent. Other products are also down, including farm equipment 13 per cent, lumber 13 per cent, aircraft 10 per cent, iron and steel 8 per cent, beverages 7 per cent, tobacco 5 per cent, leather 5 per cent and textiles 4 per cent.

Workers all over the nation are being laid off, and unemployment rolls are growing.

The 1970 graduates in our universities and colleges are facing fewer job prospects than any graduating class in over a decade. The hiring spree appears to have come to an end. Graduates may have to accept just a job, not that "dreamed of" position they thought would be waiting for them.

The impact of the economic stress is felt in Hall County and all over this area, although not as great as in the strictly industrial centers of this nation. It is true that we are in the midst of inflation along with recession here as everyone knows. Prices keep going up. The income of the average family is not purchasing what it did in the past. We are fortunate that there is very little unemployment in this agricultural area. Jobs can be found by those willing to work. But the question will be answered in the forthcoming elections as voters will again start voting "their pocketbooks". The farmer will take a long look at the ballot box. The businessman and the mass of workers will consider all candidates, and will vote for those who are in sympathy with their desires.

It's time that local citizens should become alarmed.

What Other Editors Say

Nixon Farm Bill!
Cotton farmers who have read something of the proposed Nixon farm bill are dumfounded. You might say they can't believe their eyes. If the bill passes, it will become effective with the 1971 crop. Here are a few of the provisions: The loan rate would be set by the Secretary of Agriculture between 0 and 90 per cent of the world price which is now about 24 cents a pound. Yields on which payments were based would be the yield established for the farm in 1970 with some provision for adjustment. Proven yields would be eliminated and parity would be forgotten.

Hippy Wedding!
A preacher in California wrote: "I conducted my first hippy wedding this year and was a little embarrassed because I was not sure which was the bride and which was the groom. I finally just crossed my eyes and looked both of them in the right eye at the same time. I said, 'Do you take this to be your'n?' and when both said 'That's the way it is, baby,' I said, 'Well, I pronounce you His'n and to be her'n.' I thought I had solved everything until one of the bearded ones in the audience came up and solemnly planted a kiss on the cheek of the most bearded one before me, and now I am not sure which was what'n."

Inflation vs. Interest
Troy Martin, editor of The Canyon News, seems a little worried about the Republican's ability to control inflation. He doesn't seem to realize, what's happening is an age long tradition of the Republican party many thought had long since changed. Troy writes:
Inflation shows no sign of abating. I'm no economist but I don't think the present method of higher and higher interest rates is going to cool inflation at all.

CARD OF THANKS

Since the death of our brother, G. D. Lee, the fact that life without friends would be meaningless has been most profoundly wrought into our awareness. The expressions of condolence: the flowers, food, visits, telephone calls, and cards, have helped immeasurably to assuage our grief because we know they are messages of love and encouragement.

We shall ever treasure each gesture and shall hope that, in some small way, we can do for someone who needs us what others have done for us.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to all our friends and neighbors for the kind expressions of sympathy, floral offerings and memorials for our loved one in our great hour of sorrow.

A very special thanks to Dr. Clark, the nurses, the entire hospital staff and to all who helped in any way.

Little Theater Elects Officers At Wed. Meet

Fourteen members were present when The Memphis Little Theater met in the Bronze Room Feb. 25 with Mrs. Kenneth Parker as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Herschel Combs.

The president, Mildred Stephens, presided at the business session during which time the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the club year beginning Sept. 1970.

The following officers were elected: Helen Combs, president; Kathryn Jones, vice president; Johnnie Bice, recording secretary; Ann Farnsworth, corresponding secretary; Mary Lee Fields, treasurer; Lottie Kinar, parliamentarian; Virginia Browder, reporter and Mary Helen Soxauer, director.

Mrs. Jack Boone, as area chairman for the High Plains Performing Arts Association center in Amarillo, reported and suggested the Little Theater contribute $10 to that organization. The suggestion was accepted and complied with following a discussion of the members.

"The Stevenson Drama" was the title of the paper given by Virginia Browder in which she told the story of the talents, travels and vicissitudes of Robert Louis Stevenson, and his wife, Tonny Van de Grit. It proved to be one of the great love stories of the latter 19th century to which the members listened with interest.

Several interesting pictures were shown and Mrs. Frank Foxhall assisted with this part of the program.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. Jack B. Boone, John Deavener, Johnny Farnsworth, Leo Fields, Gayle Greene, R. S. Greene, T. M. Harrison, Robert Sexauer, Mildred Stephens, Kenneth Parker, Herschel Combs, Virginia Browder, and Frank Foxhall.

The craft was returning from a routine test flight when it crashed on the southwest corner of the landing apron at the Heliport east of Amarillo Air Terminal. The craft burned.

IT IS NOT BY ACCIDENT THAT . . .

Weekly Newspapers Continue In Business

Dependent as the Weekly Press is upon advertising revenue for survival, one would think that the daily newspapers, radio, television, magazines or 'throw aways' would "run them out of business."

SUCH IS NOT THE CASE . . . AND FOR SOME VERY GOOD REASONS:

1. It is still the most thoroughly-read publication invited into the home.
2. National outlets and their advertising media are abstract quantities until they are identified with the local firm.
3. It is, by far, the most economical means of reaching most persons, in the most receptive frame of mind.
4. The mere fact that advertisers are alert and aggressive enough to offer their merchandise in the "show window" of the community, marks them as progressive and good business firms.
5. An active market place (a weekly newspaper) is essential for progress and communication of ideas.

Maud Millam Played Important Era Role

Editor's Note: The Memphis was one of its truly pioneers in the sudden death of Maud Milam on Friday. The death of Mrs. Grace Milam Cochran, her sister, in St. Thomas City, who graciously aided us with the information following could not be written.)

Maud Milam came to Shelby County in 1889 (age 4) with her parents, at which time they owned 320 acres of land one mile west of the present business section of Memphis. There was only one house here then. Their first house was a boxed house about 10 feet with a cellar underneath. Her father farmed, hunted and helped in caring for stock, and near, to make a living. He had hauled wood from the mountains and canyons for fuel.

The nearest trading post was 6 miles away at Salisbury. The town of Memphis was established before 10 years had passed. The first school was Dr. Wanda's. The first church and school were established as soon as possible and the Ft. Smith and Denver railroad passed through Memphis. The Milam family were kept very regular attendance at school and church. After the railroad was built, Mr. Milam (and family) moved and shipped dressed quail, chickens and plover to the city market. He cut cedar from Palo Duro Canyon for fence around the 320 acres. He bought 80 acres on the west of the first purchase. The house was moved and enlarged. Later it was sold and a new house was built on the 80-acre nearest present Memphis. Mrs. Milam was later able to become a ranchman and bought the Indian Creek place which is in the nearness of the city.

Milam's cattle were a mixed breed first, but he was able to have thoroughbred herds.

Maud was as active in the family and community life as one could possibly be. The father bought the Indian Creek place which was 6 miles west of Memphis. Maud did so enjoy this place. She and the mother and brothers gathered wild plums and sold them to an eager market of residents of Memphis. This money often used to buy ready-made furniture which was such a luxury. Mr. and Mrs. Milam were very capable in making furniture. Maud eagerly enjoyed helping. In college she studied manual training and made some really beautiful pieces of furniture. She also did china painting, oils and water color and charcoal pictures.

She finished Memphis High School as valedictorian of her class and at once went to Normal College in Clarendon until she got a first grade teaching certificate good for three years. She became a teacher in a school called Greasy Neck somewhere near Esteline and rode a horse to school each day from her boarding house. She continued alternately attending college and teaching, graduating at the Normal College in Denton and doing summer work in the Colorado State University. She received her Master's Degree from W.T.S.C. in Canyon. Other places she taught in were Pleastan point school near Wellington, Esteline, Lakeview, Friendship, Newlin, Clarendon and in Memphis for many years where she retired from teaching in 1955. Now and then she took off from teaching for a year or two but always returned to love and help children again. She never once retired from church work where she worked with children in Sunday School, played the piano for the Baptist young people's union and sang in the church choir. Some time ago she gave her piano to the primary department where she played for the little ones even to the last Sunday she lived. She never married but never lacked for children to love and teach. Each one she had taught she spoke of as "my child". She was very much loved by her pupils and usually knew all the parents too who cooperated with her and loved her.

She was an active member of Eastern Star from an early age and a life member of the Delphian Club.

She was very active in helping

Did you ever hear of emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Chances are you have since it is one of the hazards of cigarette smoking.

The problem of chronic obstructive lung disease isn't new, but its prominence in the field of health is making known by the rapidity with which it is disabling people from one part of the state to the other.

Pulmonary diseases are the second most common cause of disability in the state and the number of cases is rising rapidly, according to Dr. Albert G. Randall, deputy commissioner for Tuberculosis Control Services with the Texas State Department of Health.

And here's another fact given by Dr. Randall: In the past 10 years the gross mortality from emphysema and chronic bronchitis has more than quadrupled in the United States and continues to grow faster than for any other disease. Put another way, deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis in this country have just about doubled every five years since 1952.

Why should this be of importance to you? You may be a candidate for a pulmonary disease even though you think you have no problem. Statistics gathered during a National Health Survey indicate that some three million Americans have limited activities due to emphysema and chronic bronchitis. And . . . the number is growing annually.

It has been estimated that some 25 per cent of those over age 40 have abnormal lung function. Although women and younger people suffer from emphysema, there are 10 men victims for every woman. Most of the more than 10 million victims are men past 40. And here's another shocker for you who haven't concerned yourself before with emphysema: There are more sufferers from emphysema in the United States than from lung cancer and tuberculosis combined, according to one estimate.

What marks you as a candidate for diagnosis as a sufferer with emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Frequent coughs . . . a lingering cough . . . increasing shortness of breath with normal activities . . . frequent respiratory infections . . . general weakness and a tendency to tire easily . . . a feeling of tightness in the chest. These are signs which shouldn't be ignored but all too often are ignored until serious problems develop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClenney, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cherry, Glyndon Cherry and E. H. Crisler, all of Amarillo and Mrs. Troy Brown and Miss Elexia Brown of Vernon have all been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Crisler recently.

to establish the Heritage Hall Museum, contributing financially and placing many Milam articles of interest there. She served as a hostess when needed.

Maud enjoyed travel. She had been in most of the states of the United States and was in Canada for the second time when she attended the World's Fair there in 1967. She also attended the Expo in New York City two years before. These two trips were by bus with her sister, Grace Cochran, as companion.

Sunday, March 1, was to have been Maud's 85th birthday and she had remained active in all her endeavors with the exception of the last two months. She had undergone surgery last December and very soon after getting home from the hospital, she had what she insisted was old timey 'grippe'. She just could not shake it off quickly and was not able to regain her usual strength. She either fell or had a stroke as she tried to walk up the three steps of her front porch with a bag of groceries in her arms. This happened near 6:30 or 7 p. m. last Wednesday, Feb. 25. There she lay all through the freezing cold night before being found the next morning by Mr. Alvin Phillips as he was on his way to his shop. He called the ambulance and she was rushed to the hospital. She showed much promise of recovery by night. It was afternoon the next day that she had a stroke from which she did not recover and passed away at 3:30 Thursday, Feb. 27.

Her life has been one of full service to God and man. She loved serving in any way that she could be helpful.

FHA Appoints State Swine Project Comm.

The state director of the Farmers Home Administration recently announced appointments of various county supervisors to serve on a statewide approved swine project committee, it was announced last week.

The committee was organized at a meeting in Temple, held Feb. 16. Henry N. Ivey of Cameron was named state coordinate chairman of the committee.

Joe C. Beard of Carthage will serve as vice chairman. Thirteen other county supervisors are the members of the committee including George H. James of Tullia, and Alfred A. Harrison of Floydada.

An approved operating process and building requirements for approved swine projects will be developed by the committee and used throughout the state, it was announced.

The goal is from one to three projects in each county, according to James Chappell.

Each committee member will be expected to keep informed about approved swine projects in his district, including the number and where located.

Records of cost and the money made will be maintained. District tours and meetings will be scheduled to promote the approved swine projects and meetings of the committee will be held from time to time to compare progress and results attained in each district, Chappell pointed out.

During the meeting of the committee held Feb. 16, Henry Ivey presented a program on hog management, which included breeding, feeding and marketing, based on his own personal experience with similar projects in Milam County.

Sonsumer Marketing Specialist Gives Report On 'The American Good Dollar'

What is ahead in the new decade for food products and processes? How will consumers spend their food dollar? What will they want?

For one thing, the homemaker wants and is willing to pay for "instant" heat-and-serve and ready-to-cook foods, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Criteria for convenience foods is changing to quick serve and instant foods instead of foods to which only some degree of preparation has been added, Mrs. Clyatt explains.

For example, a packaged pudding mix which requires stirring in milk and cooking is too old-hat and too much bother, she says, so canned and frozen instant puddings are high style.

Canned soups to which water must be added are losing an increasing percent of their market to the soups with water in the can.

The second trend which the specialist lists is that Americans will eat more meals away from home in the 1970's.

Institutional food sales rose 36 per cent from 1960 to 1966. During this same period sales in food stores rose only 14 per cent. Forecasters say 40 per cent of the food dollar will be spent for meals away from home by 1978.

In 1962, about 25 per cent went for meals away from home. This figure jumped to 35 per cent by 1966.

Mrs. Clyatt attributes this trend to: 1. homemakers working away from home; 2. increased leisure time; 3. improved technology; 4. decreased interest in learning how to cook.

Today 40 per cent of all women more than 16 years old are in the American labor force. The largest segment (57 per cent) of women in the work force are married.

Thirdly, fast foods services will increase in the 1970's. More food chains are going into institutional foods; they're opening franchised dining chains through facilities for on premise food consumption and take-home prepared foods.

Mrs. Clyatt says this trend will continue and probably expand to most major companies.

Forecasters predict that supermarkets will go heavily into food service operations, too, offering all types of prepared take-home foods from chicken dinners, fish and chips, pizzas, and Chinese entrees to fancy gourmet meals completely prepared from appetizer through dessert.

By the mid-1970's, 50 per cent of the supermarkets will have luncheonettes and 84 per cent will have take-out food services.

Mrs. Clyatt lists advances in food technology as the fourth major trend. Scientists will make new products from fabricated foods. As a protein extender in meats, snacks, low-cost meatlike foods and beverages, the soybean leads the parade, she says.

Great strides are being made in the development of cheesecake, meat-like and cellular textures to be used in foods.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hickey had as weekend visitors their children and families, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hickey and Greg of Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. Tom Ford and children of Perryton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Shults of San Antonio.

Mrs. Gladys Davis of Arlington is here visiting with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack I. Davis and boys. She plans to be here for about two or three weeks.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Pasture Management After Use of Chemicals is Important

The management of pastures and range following chemical or mechanical brush and weed control is important in determining the value of the practice.

The treated areas should be deferred for several seasons, explains County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Deferment allows the better forage species to increase, become established and produce a seed crop. The loss of livestock from the grazing of poisonous plants can be reduced.

Livestock should be kept off treated areas until weeds are drying following spraying with herbicides. The palatability of plants change when they begin to wilt following control methods and plants not normally grazed by livestock often are taken readily during the wilting process, explains the county agent.

Too, he adds, may poisonous plants are not grazed unless animals are forced to graze them or they are grazed due to the growth process changes in the plant.

On pastures where control measures have been carried out sufficient numbers of plants which can cause livestock poisoning are present, deferment is encouraged. Such plants as locoweed, pigweed, locos, bitterweed, milkweed, buffalobur, snakeweed, cocklebur, voffee senna, paper flower, desert bailey, golden caltrop, puncturevine, lantana, buckeye, peavine, larkspur, quackgrass, and groundels can cause poisoning if they are present in sufficient numbers, reminds the county agent.

As an aid in the identification of poisonous plants, the county agent suggests that a copy of B-1028, "Texas Plants Poisonous to Livestock" would be very valuable. It is available from the office.

Mrs. J. S. Grimes had as weekend guests Sunday her sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grimes of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grimes of Memphis.

Bob Wills Is In Ft. Worth Nursing Home

Jack Gordon recently devoted his column in the Fort Worth Press to a former Hall County citizen, Bob Wills, who made fame for himself with his western band. Mr. Wills, who suffered a stroke in May of last year, is now a patient in a nursing home in Fort Worth. He has undergone cardiovascular surgery twice since.

Wills has difficulty speaking since the stroke, but he can speak. He suffered the stroke in his Fort Worth home shortly after returning from Austin where Gov. Preston Smith had honored Wills and two other country stars, Tex Ritter and Ernest Tubb. The entertainers had appeared before both the Texas Senate and House of Representatives.

Wills recording of "San Antonio Rose" has sold in the millions. Benefit shows are being planned in four cities, Tulsa, Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio for Wills. The Fort Worth benefit will be held at Panther Hall on March 9. Wills has four cousins who live in Memphis. They are Mrs. J. H. Martin, Mrs. V. P. Fowler, Mrs. O. D. Phillips and Mrs. Mamie Baker.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere gratefulness to all the friends and neighbors who have so warmly extended helping hands and sympathy to us in our deep sorrow. We wish also to express appreciation to Dr. Stevenson and the staff of the hospital. Also to Mr. Alvin Phillips and the hurried assistance and care given by all who helped in the emergency and ambulance service. We were comforted by the floral offerings, the food and ministerial services. May God's blessings be upon all of you is our prayer as we say "Thank You Very Much."

DESTROY OLD DRUGS

"Don't just toss away old medicines," the Texas Safety Association points out. "Make sure they are completely destroyed."

Harmful medicines left in incinerators or waste baskets in the yard may be a temptation for small children. TSA suggests that all medicines, discarded insecticides or cleaning acids be buried or flushed down the drain if it is practical.

By BYRON BALDWIN

the passing away of Miss Milam, we will miss one of the most ardent supporters of the Heritage Hall in time and space. She was one of the first to be a donor to Heritage Hall. She found out we were going to try to make it a permanent project. It took a lot of persuasion from people like Maud to make us keep going. I had been acquainted with her for over 60 years, but I never really knew her until the year and a half in working for the interest of Heritage Hall. There are a lot of people each of us are acquainted with, but still do not know until we have worked with them. I know what is truly their nature of heart. Miss Maud had teaching school in 1903 about 18 years old and in 1955. Some of the schools taught in were Newlin, Lake Clarendon, Greasy Neck, Point in Collingsworth and Memphis, and there were others that we did not know about. Her transportation in the early days was on back in all kinds of weather. She must have taught at three generations and she lived on in the pupils she had. She will also live on in the Heritage Hall because of the artifacts she contributed in making it a permanent place. She is a complete show case of her own that she had preserved. This case is just as it was the day she finished making the display by placing them just where she wanted them. I think she had the premonition that she would not be here in body much longer as she kept insisting that we hurry and get those larger things from her storeroom while she was here. She brings to my mind the statement of Gen. MacArthur, "An old soldier never dies... he just fades away" as she will live on.

Overheard Mrs. Hap Kinsinger talking in a local store the other day, and she was talking about how friendly people were here. Said she had never been in a town like this before, as it seemed like all the people here were on a welcome committee for newcomers. Thanks, Mrs. Kinsinger... glad to have you folks.

Good reports from the District Lions Club meeting here; so many said they wanted to come back to Memphis.

Speaking of senior Citizens, I still think of what a good time everyone was having and seemed that there was not a cranky old person there, and we talked to all ages up to 88. The two sweetest part of human life is a good, sweet well-behaved baby and a mellow-sweet dispositioned old or aged person, and we can reverse this. A spoiled little brat and a cantankerous old person with nothing ever right and everything is all wrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Helm left here on Wednesday morning at 4 a. m., drove to California, took in Disneyland and visited friends and relatives and were back in Memphis the following Sunday at 5 p. m.—2500 miles, back in the horse and buggy days I expect it would have taken a year there and back. I thought this was pretty fast and then here comes Buster Helm who said Lt. Tom Fry and wife, Leslie, with little Tom left Charleston, N. C., Saturday, Feb. 21, and six hours later landed in Germany, which was over 3,000 miles. We are living in a super-fast age, but, of course, our souls travel a lot faster than that from here to eternity, and we are all getting closer all the time.

I thought all of the senior citizens attending the party were grandparents, but in getting a recording of different ones, I found one lady that said she was not a grandmother, but wished that she was and had hoped for the future. We told Mrs. Omer Hill she and Omer better get started singing lullabys and get in practice.

Had a letter from Harry Delaney, former Memphis resident, and a graduate of MHS. He was one of the official singers and actors for all the plays and shows that were put on, and I guess he would have gone on to New York or Hollywood if he had not ruined his voice the night of the womanless wedding when he pitched it so high singing "When You Wore A Tulip and I Wore a Big Red Rose." If he had gone the other route, I bet he would not have Ernestene now; so there is something to be thankful for in failure at times. Harry said in letter he showed his wife the pictures and she said that was the ugliest thing she ever saw. But he reminded her that she married him not for his looks, but for his intelligence. He would not give the answer she gave, but said he still loved Ernestene if she did give that smart answer.

Harry may not remember how dumb we were back in those good old days, as I think back. We knew that birds would sing and bees would sting, and they took us for better or worse, and they kept us even though we came under the worst classification. I am thankful that I was dumb on a lot of things as might have been as I made a bad decision if I had both still living and together, and Willie Mae can keep my collar buttoned. She was gone a few days. I had one of these loops and button-on shirts, and I could not button it; so first morning went by the grocery store and had Herb button it. As I started out, the lady asked me if I got waited on, and I told her I hated to do it but to have my collar buttoned, and was very appreciative of the service. Zada said, "that's all right, come back anytime as we fasten bras and zip dresses all the time for some of our customers." So I told her that was all today, but I might be back another day. This is Service!

Mrs. Ruby Richardson of Amarillo and former resident here in the 40's, visiting Mrs. Mack Richards and Ray Richardson introduced her as their mother, but thought she has been drinking at the fountain of youth as she could pass for a younger sister of these two kids.

Velma and Melba, twins, who graduated here in 1944, were here the past week for the funeral of their brother Jim's wife, Lois McCulloch Smith. They are the daughters of former residents of the Eli community, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith. Both, being twins, will carry on alike as they have three children, each just the same; one boy and two girls. Velma is now Mrs. H. B. White of San Antonio, and Melba is Mrs. M. K. Joy of Amarillo... one a decided blonde and the other a decided brunette.

Heard Neil Hindman say the other day that someone told him blondes were sweeter than brunettes, but said he did not believe it as he had tried both as his wife and been both and he could not tell any difference.

Well, seems like Jackie Gleason and Dennis Ward are doing fine on their diets!

Saw Bill Leslie with a frown on his face, wearing a new pair of shoes. Don't know whether it was the corn or price of shoes that gave him that expression!

We don't have a pancake race here, but if they had a hot roll race, I think we would have the winner, Mrs. Barber, and I wish we knew how many millions she has made.

Our latest contribution to Heritage Hall was brought in by Mrs. Jerald McDaniel for the Brucella Club. Thanks.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. G. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Alvin Baldwin, all of Tyler, came Saturday for a visit in the homes of Mrs. T. L. Rouse and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baldwin. Dr. Baldwin is a brother of Mrs. Rouse and Bryon Baldwin. They left Tuesday morning for Lamesa to visit relatives before returning to their homes in Tyler.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Pink Bud Stage is Time For Spray Application to Peach Trees

The peach twig borer may cause serious damage in peach and plum orchards if control measures are not carried out. Early generations of the peach twig borer larvae tunnel into twigs and buds resulting in growth stoppage or twig death. Later generations feed on the fruit, either penetrating to the pits or hollowing out areas beneath the skin.

Immature larvae of the peach twig borer overwinter beneath the bark in a hollowed out cell called hibernaculum. The overwintered larvae becomes active in early March as the buds swell and begin to open.

The complete generations follow the overwintered generation. Larvae begin to attack fruit as soon as it passes the pit-hardening stage and continue to damage fruit throughout the season.

Control measures applied at the pink bud, petal fall, and shuck-split stages are adequate for control of overwintered peach twig borers. Good initial control can be obtained using only the petal and shuck-split applications. However, it is usually best to make all three applications.

Most expensive spice is Mediterranean saffron which retails for $82 a pound.

tough as Quitaque showed a lot of power defeating Jayton 60 to 38 Tuesday night in Bi-District. However, of all the teams, the team from Adrian appears to be real strong, being one of the few teams who have defeated the Class A Clarendon Bronchos.

Finals in the Regional meet for Class B will be Saturday night. Also in Region play-offs will be Class AAAA teams.

Coach Davis reports his team is physically ready for their Regional debut as there were no injuries. He was pleased with his team's showing against Allison and for their ability to come back. I hope we can have more of these 25-point quarters," Coach Davis said. The coach cited the team's outside shooting as their strongest point. "When we're hitting consistently from outside we can make up for our height disadvantage because it opens up their defense," he said.

"Allison started off hitting from 25 feet out. Their boy, Lohberger, hit 12 field goals from outside, most of them early in the game, and we were missing our shots so we got behind," he said. "When we got to hitting consistently in the last of the second quarter, Allison seemed to cool off. They scored only 20 points the last half against us," he said.

For the Lakeview boys, the trip to Region is their first. They followed last year's Eaglettes team to Region to cheer for their girls team. This year, the situation will be reversed as the girls will be cheering for the boys.

The Eagles of Lakeview were not favored to defeat Allison in Bi-District, but they did. The team has a competitive spirit and a strong desire to win which has been evident all season.

They'll be facing tough competition at Region as only one team will advance to the state playoffs.

Coach Davis' Eagles are going to make their bid for that honor.
