A People On The Move!

When Texas Legislators passed the revised Motor Vehicle Control Law increasing the age youngsters can operate motor vehicles (4-wheel kind) to 16 years, it created a boom in the motor bike business like this state has never seen.

Our younger generation has an itch to travel and they aren't content to wait until they can drive a car, sports or otherwise, to get on the move; so the solution has been to mount the motorized cycle and head for the open road. Parents of these youngsters are also finding the cycle an interesting way of transporting and are creating a new sport—husband and wife hill climbing.

Most of the cycles appearing in Memphis are what is termed the trail bike, a cycle designed to travel over rough terrain. Memphis is even the site selected for a trail bike race by an Amarillo based club.

The cycling fad is growing faster than anything Memphis has seen in years. There have been approximately 50 tags issued for cycles by the county tax assessor-collector, and many are taking their cycling license tests, and having their bikes inspected as required by law.

What is the sport? Well the sport is traveling, primarily over unpaved terrain. Some are even discussing cross country trips along Red River. Most, however, enjoy going over terraces and climbing the abundance of sand hills in the area.

For the driving public, the danger of having more cycles on our streets is also present. As the youngsters tend to run in packs, motorists are going to have to be careful, especially at intersections. So far, locally, there have been no serious accidents but several narrow misses have been reported to us. Memphis has approximately 100 cycles of one kind or other it is being estimated.

We would encourage those who are taking up cycling to abide by the laws for operating their vehicles and to observe the traffic laws and exercise good judgement in selecting trails when out in the rough country.

Cycling is a sport enjoyed by many throughout the years. Memphis has many bicycles as well as motor bikes. The time of year for the sport is upon us; so we would encourage those riding the two wheelers to operate their mounts in a safe fashion.

Beauty is manifest in endless ways but none more impressive than the splendor of the full moon at Easter. It is a symbol of hope in a world that has never known true peace and a light to the faithful whose paths cross valleys of darkness.

Historians are going to have difficulty explaining an age when the greatest nation on earth placed men on the moon but found it impossible to get a letter across a street in Manhattan.

Surrendering to the power of least resistance shapes more destinies than any other single influence. The great in all forms of endeavor must first have discovered refreshing waters from the springs of determination.

The merchants of temptations have done an excellent job in packaging their products.

Perhaps I was less discerning as a youth, but I remember a number of girls who had beautiful hands, despite the fact that they were in dishwater two or three times daily. In most cases the only detergent used in that area was home-made lye soap.

Concern is a reasonable facsimile of devotion if it includes certain small tokens of attention performed under the direction of happiness.

About the most lasting thing we learn about mistakes is that we exercised poor judgement, but that we have not received impenitence.

It is going to be a drab world for us of the senile set if dress designers are able to make popular dress of shoe mouth length.

Beautiful thought

The Power of Words: They sing. They hurt. They teach. They sanctify. They were man's first, immeasurable feat of magic. They liberated us from ignorance and our barbarous past. For without these marvelous scribbles which build letters into words, words into sentences, sentences into systems and sciences and creeds, man would be forever confined to the self-isolated prison of the scuttling fish or the chimpanzee.

JAMES G. DENTON

James G. Denton Seeking Seat On Texas Sup. Court

James G. Denton, a highly respected judge who has served on the bench for almost two decades, is seeking a seat on the Texas Supreme Court in the May 2 Democratic Primary.

Judge Denton, presently Chief Justice of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals headquartered in Amarillo, is a candidate for the Associate Justice spot being vacated by the retirement of Associate Justice Robert W. Hamilton.

Denton cites his experience and integrity as primary qualifications for his ascending to the State Supreme Court.

The Bonham native has held his present Chief Justice post since October, 1959 when he was appointed by Governor Price Daniel. Since that time he has twice been reelected.

His first judgeship came in March, 1950, when he became the first Judge of the County Court of Law in Lubbock. In 1952 he was elected Judge of the 99th District Court in Lubbock County. He served in that position until October 1959 when he accepted his present post.

Denton, born on May 27, 1917, has received widespread support in his campaign from attorneys and laymen alike. Prominent lawyers in all parts of the state have united to spearhead local and regional activities in Denton's behalf. Leading businessmen and executives from all fields have announced their support.

Denton is a 1938 graduate of Texas Tech at Lubbock. He received his law training at the University of Texas. He served in the Navy on minesweepers in both the Atlantic and Pacific during World War II.

He has been active at both community and state levels, serving where needed. Denton has served as vice chairman of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas. He served as district chairman of the Boy Scouts of America. He is a former chairman of the Amarillo Chapter of the American Red Cross, and currently serves on the Midwestern Advisory Council of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army Board.

Denton is married and the father of five children. He is a member of Kiwanis International and the First Baptist Church of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldon Edwards and Mrs. Ben Johnson visited in Abilene Sunday with their sister, Mrs. C. T. Vickers, who is in the hospital there. She is reported to be improving at this time.

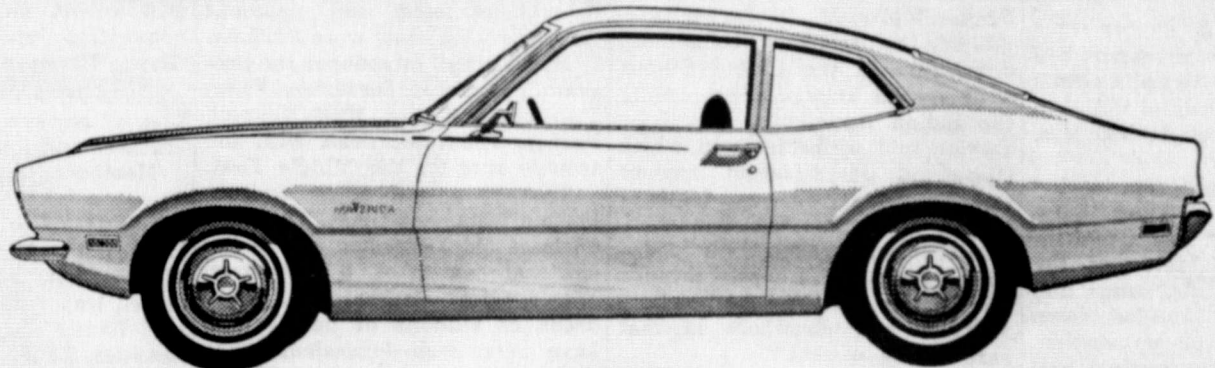

Mr. and Mrs. Creed Lamb and family of McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Al Dewlen of Amarillo visited Sunday with Mrs. Jean Lamb and other relatives.

MAVERICK. $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $30 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: 1 Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. 2 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. 3 Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. 4 Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. 5 Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. 6 Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

Woman's Culture Club Meets In Farmer Home

The Woman's Culture Club met Wednesday, April 1, in the home of Mrs. Clifford Farmer.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. R. E. Clark. The president, Mrs. Irons, then held a business session. An interesting report of the delegates to the Santa Rosa District meeting in Vernon was given by Mrs. David May and Mrs. Irene Bradley. Mrs. Frank Ellis and Mrs. Bert Giascock also attended the meeting.

The theme of the district meeting was "Manana is Today." The Woman's Culture Club received a certificate for a hundred percent subscription to the Texas Club Woman, second place in religion, and a third place for a poem by Miss Esta McElrath.

Following the business meeting, "Classic Myths" was given by Mrs. Robert Moss. She stated mythology began in man's desire to explain the universe. He created stories about the sun and moon and everything that puzzled him. Mythology was one of man's early attempts to relate himself to God.

Primitive man believed in many Gods. Zeus was the greatest of the Greek Gods. The Greeks were the first to turn from fear of life to exultation in it. Aesop, a Greek writer, has been credited with the writing of the most fables, Mrs. Moss concluded.

Continuing the program by discussing "American Folklore," Mrs. Clark stated that it was a real insight into the character of the people. Tales, legends, songs and dances have been handed down from generation to generation. She cited some interesting and amusing episodes from tales and legends of Daniel Boone, John Henry, "the steel driving man," Paul Bunyan, Johnny Appleseed, Pecos Bill and J. Frank Dobie.

Roll call was "My Favorite Superstition."

Refreshments were served to the following members: Miss Alma Bruce, Mmes. Jim Lange, A. W. Howard, Jeanette Irons, David May, L. G. Rasco, Robert Moss, R. E. Clark, Alvin Pyeatt, Theodore Swift, Irene Bradley, L. A. Stilwell and the hostess, Mrs. Farmer.

Lakeview Tennis Team Is Tied By Spearman In Amarillo Relays

The Lakeview Tennis team captured a tie with Spearman in the AA-A-B tennis division of the Amarillo Relays last Saturday. Bad weather made the final rounds be played in the gymnasium.

Lakeview and Spearman each claimed 26 points.

Brenda Durrett of Lakeview, Class B State singles holder, was in good form as she won the girls singles at Amarillo without difficulty. She defeated Spearman's De Anna Sheets 6-1, 6-1 in the finals.

Brenda swept by Lesca Hays 6-0, 6-0 in the first round and downed Debbie Daniel of Spearman 6-0, 6-0 in the semi-finals.

Terry Wansley, Class B State boys singles champ, was defeated by Clarendon's Steve Adams 6-4, 6-3. He won his first match over Spearman's Mark Massie, 6-0, 6-0, and won semifinals over Blaylock, 6-1, 6-3.

The Lakeview girls doubles team of Susie Sams and Brenda Smith lost out in the finals to a Spearman team 6-1, 6-3. Previously they had defeated a Clarendon team of Palmer-Skelton, 6-0, 6-1 and a Phillips team of Moore-Grooters, 8-6, 6-4.

Turkey's boys doubles team, defending State Class B champs, of Adamson and Setliff won the AA-A-B boys doubles title by defeating Wilmeth-Brown of Springlake-Earth 6-2, 6-1.

The Lakeview boys lost to Wilmeth and Brown in the semi-finals in what proved to be a disputed match. The match scores were 3-6, 13-11, 6-4. Outside interference developed over a call on set and match point in the second set which would have given Lakeview the victory. Tennis Sponsor Borney Bevers said the interference was largely responsible for the turnabout in the match and cost Lakeview's team several points which were needed in the team's bid for the Amarillo Relays meet trophy.

Turkey's lads defeated Clarendon's Carter-Tomlinson, 6-4, 6-1 in the semi-finals and Shetron-Ruicka 6-4, 6-1 in the quarter-finals.

Estelline's Jan Rapp won her first match in girls singles and lost in the semi-finals to Sheets, 6-3, 6-3. Turkey's Jake Damron lost his first match to Blaylock of White Deer in the boys singles.

English II Students Display Top Projects

By BILL COMBS
The creativity of youth displayed itself in many different ways in our age of modern technology, scientific advancements and the race toward modernism. It is a rarity to see English II students (sophomores) do an outstanding job on an assignment on "Introduction to Shakespeare" and the Play "Julius Caesar". The great literary classics have not disappeared from the classroom today and the obstacle of inquiring high school students in subjects as classical as a study of Shakespeare in one many English classes find discouraging year after year. Patricia Gardenhire, English teacher, was pleasantly surprised with the group of sophomore students this year when students began bringing in projects on the study of Shakespeare and "Julius Caesar". The students had the same assignment every class of English II have had, but what the students did with the assignment was remarkable.

There are approximately 65 students taking sophomore English and the study of Shakespeare covers about one month. Students turn in a project and a paper on either Wm. Shakespeare or the play, "Julius Caesar".

"Some of the students turned in the usual posters, as do all students at one time or the other, but this year some of the projects were elaborate and students spent many hours on them," Mrs. Gardenhire said.

Projects included: swords by

Donnie Spruill and Dwight Clayton, soap sculpture by Carol Thompson, catapult by E. L. Kirkland, battle standard by Terry Wynn, shadow box, death scene of Caesar by Mark Stevenson, soap sculpture by Dena Gardenhire.

Also swords by Glenn Miller and Larry Simpson, motto plaque by Melissa Jones, salt maps by Mike Chappell and Lawrence Kenyon, sugar cube coliseum by Barry Simmons, salt scene by Tanya Wood.

Also, house by Cindy Phillips, salt map by Marsha Browning, theater stage by Ramona Ballew, death scene by Larry Moore, masques of drama by Carol Foxhall, bust of Shakespeare by Jackie Martin, charcoal sketch by Randy Davis, salt scene by Chris Liner, shield by Bobby Clark and sword by James Hansard. Other students also turned in posters and projects but the ones listed above are pictured.

"We're going to keep the projects on display in our classroom for several weeks," Mrs. Gardenhire said. "I'm real pleased and proud of them."

Message From Our Past—

A. W. Read Speech To Commercial Club In 1912 Is Still Timely Now

(Editor's Note: Following is a condensed version of Secretary A. W. Read's report made at the First Annual Banquet of the Memphis Commercial Club, May 1912. This club was the forerunner of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Read, now deceased, is the father of Mrs. Lucile Wright and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard of Memphis.)

Introduction

For several years the need of organized effort on the part of our people has been recognized by the more thoughtful among us, and from time to time efforts have been made to secure it. Several organizations have been effected, all doing good as long as they lasted, but soon interest died out, and while seeming failure attended their efforts each was no doubt a stepping stone to the final organization of the present Commercial Club.

Early in May last year a few public spirited men began to discuss the need of a more systematic and more effective exploitation of the resources of Memphis and Hall County; these talks were at first only casual, but the idea proved popular and gained impetus as they became more general until finally they took concrete form; several mass meetings were held in our different churches and matters of civic interest were discussed and general interest was awakened among the people and it was clear that the time had arrived when action should be taken looking to a permanent organization.

On the 24th day of May, a public meeting was called in the Opera House, and the Memphis Commercial Club was organized; it has now been in existence one year like one month; and it is meet that on this auspicious occasion a statement of what has been accomplished and some of the things in prospect should be made. We have built no great factories, nor railroads, no great commercial enterprises have been projected, real estate has not jumped in price, nor has there been a grand rush of immigrants to the country, and one who looks on the surface might be led to conclude that nothing of great importance had been accomplished. But, gentlemen, if you will follow me closely, and carefully consider the matters I shall bring to your attention, I believe that every public spirited man present will recognize that the benefits that have come to Memphis and Hall County through the efforts of the Club have been ample to warrant the splendid support our people have given this organization.

(Editor's Note: Next on the speech came a statement of policy of club management. In summary it was explained that the directors reasoned there was not a need for greater mercantile establishments, or additional banks and it would not be wise to bid for great industries and offer bonuses for institutions whose success would be problematic.)

It was therefore decided that the wise course to pursue would be to direct our energies to the development of the resources we already had, thereby strengthening our own people and turning into their coffers whatever gain might come from such development; And wisely they reasoned that to build a great city of Memphis it was necessary to strengthen the country surrounding Memphis; therefore, the matter of interesting prosperous farmers from other parts of the country and helping those we already had to become more prosperous was considered the first and most important step toward building a greater Memphis.

Secretary Read explained that in order to give rise to prosperity the wonderful fertility of our soil, and the many advantages of our country as an agricultural, horticultural and live stock country must be widely publicized to attract outside interests. A booklet was prepared and distributed to newspapers, advertising was placed in a number of papers, descriptive literature was sent to those inquiring about the area and desiring to locate here. Descriptive articles were sent to out-of-state newspapers and periodicals.

The Club acting in cooperation with the merchants undertook the establishment of first Monday gatherings or Trade's Day, and premiums were on different farm products. The Club raised nearly $500 to be used as premiums for the October Carnival and to bear the expenses of the exhibit at the Dallas Fair. Over 7,000 booklets were passed out at the Fair exhibition. The Club did work on securing the meetings of different organizations and conventions. "We have secured the 1912 meeting of the Panhandle Confederate Soldiers Reunion and we now have plans laid which if consummated will make this not only the greatest gathering ever had in the Panhandle," Mr. Read said in the report.

Work In The Country

As stated a moment ago the Directors of the Club recognized at the beginning that to help and encourage the farmers of our territory was a most important work of the Club. Therefore, one of the first things taken up was to get concerted action of the people in war on the Russian Thistle which has proven such a pest in some parts of the county. The Club has also spent several hundred dollars on roads leading into Memphis which has greatly benefited the business interests of the town, as well as to lessen the difficulty of the farmer in marketing his products.

The Club has done much work among the farmers in encouraging more systematic and diversified farming and has aroused considerable interest along the line. The farmers have appreciated our efforts and several have joined the Club; and we believe that the Club has done much toward the cultivation of a more intimate relation between the farmer and the businessmen without which no town or county can prosper.

Work In The City

While the Club has gone out on broad lines and has looked well to the development of the country and has used every possible means to properly bring our resources to the notice of the outside world it has not been unmindful of improvement in the city. Immediately on its organization the Club set out to get the Carnegie Library and while we have as yet no visible evidence of the success of our labors, we are glad to report that we have secured $10,000 donation from Mr. Carnegie, and as soon as he O.K.'s our plans, work will be started and our city will shortly have a beautiful library building. We also are working on the development of the Montgomery Park. Also we have under way a plan for a beautiful park in connection with the Carnegie Library.

We have on foot looking to the building of a compress this summer and also correspondence with parties asking location for a cotton mill. So while it may seem that most of our undertakings are as yet incomplete, we believe that the years work has been very successful and owing to the fact that our organization had to be started from the ground floor, office, furniture, stationery, etc, to purchase, we believe that the results obtained and those in immediate prospect fully warrant the outlay of money and energy expended.

Things That Are Out Before Us

We have on foot to be worked out several matters. First the old Soldiers Reunion which to my mind is the greatest opportunity for publicity that has ever come to us; also that the Press Association is to be entertained, and this is also an exceptional opportunity to get our country and town before the people. The Library is to be finished. The Parks are to be improved and many minor things are under consideration, and there can be no doubt but that there lies out before the Commercial Club a field of usefulness that is second to no institution in our midst.

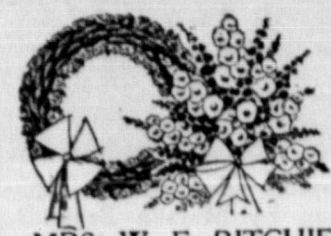

Gentlemen, your Commercial Club has been a potent factor in many things in our city life during the year; it has been a factor in business affairs; it has held up a high standard in moral and civic developments of our county and town; it has been a vital moving force in the exploitation of our resources. But I consider that one of the greatest benefits that has come to Memphis and her people by reason of the Commercial Club is that it is bringing our men to the realization of the importance of cooperation; it is training them the art of pulling together, and cultivating in them a spirit of patriotism and love for their town and county that means more for Memphis in the days that shall come, than you and I can tell for I declare to you that the men of Memphis and Hall County, the businessmen and farmers shall direct their united efforts, their combined business tact, and their matchless energies to the upbuilding of our city and county, there is no power on earth that can hinder, and the preachers and teachers, and the lawyer, the Doctor, the farmers, the mechanic, the merchant, the banks, all pull together for the development of the county and town, old Hall County and the Upper Red River Valley will then not only be known as a good cotton country, but will be famous as the greatest agricultural, horticultural and live stock belt of the great Southwest; Then her apple orchards will put to shame proud old Arkansas, her Alberta peaches will stun the man from Tyler, her vineyards will rival those of California, her alfalfa fields arouse the envy of Kansas and Nebraska, her fine horses and mules will surpass those of Missouri and Kentucky, her pork and beef productions will compete with Illinois and Iowa, and her people be as the sands of the sea — Then Memphis will be nestling here against the foot hills of the Great Plains, a city; which not only can lay claim to the title Queen of the Upper Red River Valley, but Queen and Master of all she surveys. Other great manufacturing, commercial and financial institutions will be added which will proclaim to the world her commercial supremacy of Northwest Texas. Railroads will be pointing from all parts of the compass to this undisputed center. Our business streets will be paved and the rattle of the street cars may be heard, oil and gas fields will be developed and natural gas will be our fuel, a great City Hall will grace some prominent corner in the business district, a Board of Trade building will house our Commercial Club and other civic and business organizations, our beautiful library will tell to the world our love of literature, a magnificent High School building will adorn some prominent hill, nearby, and substantial ward buildings will be in each subdivision of the city, and perchance, a College over look all. Our residences will have all kept lawns, our streets will be lined on either side with beautiful shade trees, our public parks will furnish with natoriums, gymnasiums, and play grounds, and our people, young and old will be filled with civic pride, and the hope of our women for a city beautiful will be realized. To our present, great churches will be added, many others YMCA and YWCA will supplement them, and our city will not only be famous as a great commercial center, but will stand out before the world as a model for business integrity, political purity, civic attractiveness, educational, moral and religious attainments as well. Gentlemen, these things are knocking at our door, shall we in the latch string or shall we swing wide our portals and let them come in? (Editor's Note: The Commercial Club became the Memphis County Chamber of Commerce in 1919. The present organization, Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Hall County Chamber of Development is in its 50th year of operation. The Chamber are the same as the Chamber of the Commercial Club as pressed by the late A. W. Read in May, 1912. Many of Read's predictions have come true. In years to come, many more of them will become reality.)

Dick Fowler Attends Austin Drug Conference

Dick Fowler was in Austin last Thursday to attend a Conference on Public Health and Drugs. The conference evolved from the recent announcement on an "all-out war" on drug abuse made by Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Speaker G. F. "Gus" Mutscher and Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

Sponsored by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, the meeting included the Texas Association for Mental Health, Texas Association of Osteopathic Physical and Surgeons, Texas Dental Association, Texas Hospital Association, Texas Medical Association, Texas Nurses Association and Texas Nursing Home Association.

Conference recommendations will be considered in coordinating state efforts to solve the problem — a task headed by Harold Dudley of the Criminal Justice Council, Fowler said.

"We must educate, cure and enforce laws in a harmonious combination that will bring drug use under control," the governor said in opening the meeting.

Texas faces a crisis from drug abuse and the crisis is "outstripping" our ability to study the problem," Smith said.

Providing accurate information is the only way to discourage intelligent young people from trying marijuana and other drugs, he added.

Other than the keynote address which was given by Gov. Smith, several other speakers appeared on the program including Winston Bode of Austin, director of Public Information, Texas Assn. for Mental Health; R. L. Stratton, D. O. of Arlington president of the Texas Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Also speaking were Robert B. Dixon of Austin, Texas Dental Assn.; Jesse V. Hayes of Austin, Texas Hospital Assn.; William G. Aikerson, M. D. of Brownwood, Texas Medical Assn.; Lillian E. Taubert, R. N. Texas Nurses Association, executive director; Wanda Iltis of Gonzales, secretary Texas Nursing Home Assn. and Ed L. Baker, R. PH. of Arlington, President of Texas Pharmaceutical Assn.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yancey and family of San Angelo visited here over the Easter weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Don Carman and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bruce and family.

Memphis FHA Chapter Observes Nat. FHA Week With Series Of Activities

The Memphis FHA Chapter has scheduled a number of activities this week in observance of National FHA Week, which began Sunday, April 5, and will conclude April 11.

During this week the 41 members of the local FHA Chapter are carrying out special projects and activities designed to share their experiences and achievements with family, friends and neighbors.

The theme chosen for this year's National FHA week is "25 Years of Sterling Opportunity," tying in with the objective for this 25th anniversary year of Future Homemakers of America, "To Promote Communications for the Improvement of Human Relationships."

Mrs. Betty Romans, State Advisor, points out that several million young people have been challenged by the unlimited opportunities offered through membership in Future Homemakers of America over the 25 years since its establishment as a national organization. "They have had an opportunity to grow as an individual," she stated, "to contribute to home and family living, develop leadership and cooperation, open doors of service to others, prepare for a vocation or profession, make new friends, find new experiences, gain an understanding of others, make creative and constructive use of leisure time, and most importantly, be a part of a national organization of 604,000 teenagers concerned with people, families, and communities."

Among activities participated in by the local chapter during the week included attending church services in a group at the First United Methodist Church Sunday; Monday, secret brother day; each member draws a boy's name and gives him a secret gift.

Tuesday was named as slave day and members were sold to the boys of MHS for at least 50 cents. The girls were required to carry the boys' books during the day.

On Wednesday at noon, the chapter honored the FFA boys with a noon buffet. Wednesday was also degree day for the girls working on their FHA degrees.

Thursday was named Teacher Appreciation Day and a Silver Anniversary tea was given for the faculty in the Homemaking Dept.

Friday, the last day of the observance, all members of the chapter will wear the FHA colors, red and white.

Fowers Rexall Drug

B. Shots

By BYRON BALDWIN

the passing away of a mormon here, Fred Clark, who a druggist here for several years, we started trying to think many or rather the names of many drug stores since I had lived here. The number kept living here. Each one I would give (so with the help of a druggist, Mac Tarver) I came up with the following store names in Memphis: Drug, Randel Drug, Chas. Montgomery Drug, Jim Montgomery Drug, Madden Drug, Jot Drug, Clark Drug, Jot Drug, R. E. Martin Drug, Williams Drug, Tomlinson Drug, Fickas Drug, Durbin Drug, Stanford Drug, Jones Drug, Cecil McCollum Drug, Edna Bryan Drug, Thompson Drug, Thompson Tarver Drug, Cockrell and Johnson Drug, Baldwin Drug, Wright Drug, Elrod Drug, Alexander Drug, Pharmacy, Foote-Fowler Drug - Stanford Drug, Lockhart, Meacham Drug, Diggs Drug, Lock Drug, Stanford Pharmacy.

I have not overlooked any store that we have had. There were over three prescriber drug stores at one time, and happened one man (who was a druggist owned all three drug stores, but he others operating them and sold them out to young fellows in business for themselves. This man was a long time here, the late Henry Bald-Back in the old days, the side of the square was the rent district, as it was considered the choice location in town especially for drug stores. I believe the last drug store operated on the north side of the square was Tarver Drug which occupied the old First National Bank Building on the northeast corner of the square (with the Cupelo) on top of the building. The list of stores I have compiled, I think is 37, and it shows quite a turn over in operations and I guess the largest of any kind of business is that length of time. It was a pretty hard life back in the old days as they didn't have forty hour weeks but opened around 5 or 6 o'clock in the morning and stayed around 5 or 6 o'clock every night. There were periods of time when it was 7 days a week. I would like to pay tribute to these old time druggists who weathered the storms of life through the early days and helped make this a better place to live in and own a drug store. We of modern times are prone to forget our heritage. Some of the older drug boys that I am talking about that can remember those good old days, when sometimes they had to serve "As Law west of the Pecos" are Oren Jones, Mac Tarver, Cecil McCollum, Abie Stanford, John Fowler and Sandy Parsons. I remember when Sandy was Soda Skeet here for Charlie Meacham in 1930. He might not want you to know he was that old, but I saw his hair piece last Thursday and it is getting worn pretty thin.

In the old days, they rendered a lot of service with their sales. This story was told me for the truth by one of these druggists several years ago. Lady drove up in front of drug store, honked her car horn, and druggist came out to the car door and puts the coke and napkin on the tray. Lady honks her horn again, and druggist comes back to the car and she wants to know if she could buy a two cent stamp, so he gets the stamp brings it back to the car.

but she is not quite through with her coke. Then she honks the horn again for him to get the tray and she told him to just charge the coke and stamp to her account. She starts the motor on her car, and honks her horn again, and druggist comes back and she asks him to make out a check for one dollar cash as she needs to stop at post office and buy a dollar's worth of stamps. The druggist goes back and gets the dollar and check made out and made a happy customer. All of this volume of business and a lot of activity for a 5 cent coke and 2 cent stamp. (I forgot to ask the druggist if the check cleared the bank.)

Drug stores gave opportunity to a good many boys to work as Soda Skeets. Two of them now are Sug Lemons and Hubert Dennis in their teen-age years. He said a man hard of hearing came in after his prescription and asked how much it was and the druggist said 55 cents but the man did not hear good he laid 35 cents down on the counter and started walking out and the druggist called out to him that he said 55 cents, but the man did not hear that so the Soda Skeet asked the druggist if he wanted him called back and the druggist replied, "let him go. I made 25 cents anyway! (no quote on names of druggist or Soda Skeet.)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cowan, of Plainview now, taught in our schools 1928 to 1940. One daughter and one son born in Memphis. Their daughter Mrs. Storey lives in Tulsa and their son is an engineer now living in Florida. They are landowners and tax-payers in Hall County. They say they are readers of the local paper and keep up with what is going on here. Good to see them and have a nice visit.

We had seventeen in Heritage Hall Saturday afternoon at one time and that was good traffic. Vena Molloy Kulp of Westchester, Pa., was in last week and is another donor to Heritage Hall. Vena is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Molloy and sister of the late Alvin Molloy. She was a graduate of Canyon, Texas in 1941 and married Carl Kulp. They left here in 1953. They have three boys and two girls, ages 11 to 23, all in Westchester, Pa. Vena formerly operated a dress shop in Memphis and Carl is now with Boling. Statement from Vena, "I thing Heritage Hall is great and am so pleased and happy that something such as this was started here and will be anxious to watch the progress it makes." Visiting in Heritage Hall, Mrs.

Stones "Day Care" class, 5 boys and one girl.

Beverly Whitten, den mother, with her Troop 35 Cub Scouts. Both of the groups enjoyed seeing the two-headed calf, "Three Toes" the wolf, the buffalo head and hide also the old-fashioned Bicycle and 1902 Buggy, as well as the deer heads other items. Both bunches of kids, well behaved, with a happy smile on their faces. We always welcome the youngsters with their teachers and chaperones. Weldon Melton in Heritage Hall with his wife Odena from Plainview, both graduates of MHS in 1939. Weldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Melton of Memphis. Odena Yarbrough Melton, daughter of Vick Yarbrough now of Plainview, but former residents of Hall County.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. (Slim) Nabors, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Nabers, Maribeth, Keith and Todd Nabers, all of Valmeier, Ill. They represented 3 generations of the late Luther Nabers, long-time residents of Hall County. Slim was a graduate of Lakeview High School in 1924. Slim's wife is a Missouri girl and we gave them a good showing. They liked Heritage Hall very much and made a nice contribution to Heritage Hall. Thanks for your interest.

Others visiting Heritage Hall were Mary Milam Kesnet and daughters Denise and Michelle of Dallas. They said they enjoyed that hour very much going through the displays. Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cochran of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Cochran is a sister of the late Mary Milam. She and her husband were both surprised that we had grown so much since she first saw the museum.

Another contribution for Heritage Hall in memory of Miss Maud. They had known each other for several years. This was Miss Agnes Nelson.

Lorene Mitchell Bradfoot of Panhandle in Heritage Hall. She was a former Hall County girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell and graduate of Lakeview Schools in 1945.

Another show case filled for display in Heritage Hall by United Methodist Church. Mrs. W. V. Coursey arranged display.

I have read this scripture "Pride goeth before the Fall." Well, Easter Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cobb were dressed up for Easter (Ruth with new dress, white gloves and orchid corsage) and they drove up and parked beside another car, and Ruth opened the door of the car put one foot on the wet, icy ground and that did it, slipped and fell between the two cars in the mud; nose started bleeding and of course he dress caught part of the blood and her white gloves caught the rest of it and with bruised up face and leg, Otis got her back in the car and back home they went. I think David Hamblin should give them "A" for effort in attendance even though they did not make it. (She did not break her glasses.)

Everyone seemed to enjoy food and games at Senior Citizen party last Saturday in the community building. I overheard one lady say she belonged to the TOPS Club and was asked what that meant and she said "Take Off Pounds". Well, I had quoted this wrong to someone before that as I thought was T.O.P. "Take Other Pill."

Lottie Kinard has a speedometer that does not quit after reading her travel article last week, and this is not the half of it. She has been around the world on special trips besides several more trips. I have not checked with her on her speedometer, but if I was questioned I would say she has traveled a half million miles in the past ten years. On this last trip in conversation with her daughter, I asked about her health and Jerry says, "fine" in travel cures what ails her. She has been ailing a little since back home. She is one of the widely traveled persons in the Panhandle of Texas. We congratulate her on her activity and ability to keep up with this generation and do not think she is even conscious of a generation gap. Lottie Keep up your speed.
