Invitational Golf Tourney Is Set For This Weekend

Tournament officials of the Memphis Country Club are hoping for three good days of weather in which to run off one of the most elaborately planned Invitational Golf Tournaments in recent years.

Several of the Panhandle's top golfers have indicated they will enter the tournament. Max Hick of Pampa, the defending champion, indicated Wednesday he will play in the tournament.

Hickey won the tournament in 1969 with a four over par 140, after finishing the last day with an even par round of 68.

Also golfers from Oklahoma may again appear here in an annual tournament.

The big prize being offered to the winners of the tournament is a chance to win a new car, a 1970 Oldsmobile, given for the first hole-in-one on the Par 3 No. 1 hole. The prize is being given by the Memphis Country Club as an added incentive. Golfers have four chances to win the car, since they play the hole twice in each 18-hole round.

Prizes have also been upped this year to include new irons for all flight winners, new woods for the runners-up and large size golf bags for the consolation winners in all the flights.

Qualifying is Friday, and ends at 6 p. m. on that day. Entry fee is $17.50.

Also, a putting tournament will be held Friday. Saturday evening at 6 p. m. a barbecue dinner will be served to the golfers and those who want to purchase extra tickets. This will be followed by dancing in the club's ballroom.

If enough entries come in, the tournament will have five flights of 16-men in each. The championship flight will contain at least 10 men, and can possibly be larger if enough golfers qualify for participation in this flight.

Championship flight golfers are asked to qualify. The qualifying medalist will receive golf as his prize as will the winners in the putting tournament Friday evening.

The nine-hole golf course is in excellent condition. Two sets of markers will be used, making the back nine a little more difficult than the front nine, especially on Nos. 15 and No. 17.

The Country Club tournament committee includes: Barry Ward, chairman; and Danny Searlough, Bill Combs.

"We hope to have entries from all over this area," Chairman Ward said Wednesday.

All boys who are interested in playing as caddies are being asked to check at the pro shop.

HONORING OUR PATRIOTS—Pictured above, Mrs. L. G. (Ona) Rasco, Gold Star Mother, places a Memorial Day Wreath on the "Our Patriots" Monument on the Hall County Courthouse lawn during Memorial Day activities last Saturday morning. Assisting were L. G. Rasco and Boy Scout Ben Edd Hillhouse.

LL First Half Team To Be Decided Tues.

With the half-way mark of the Memphis Little League play-off fast approaching, a Friday night make-up game scheduled for the Yankees and the Tigers, and three of four teams each with four wins to their credit, things are getting tense in the summer baseball program.

Two weeks ago, the Indians were riding high, winning their first four games. Then, as fortune would have it, they lost the last three and find themselves in a second place tie with the Giants at this moment, but a few percentage points.

The Tigers, by virtue of having played one less game, has a 4-2 record, and is leading at this point.

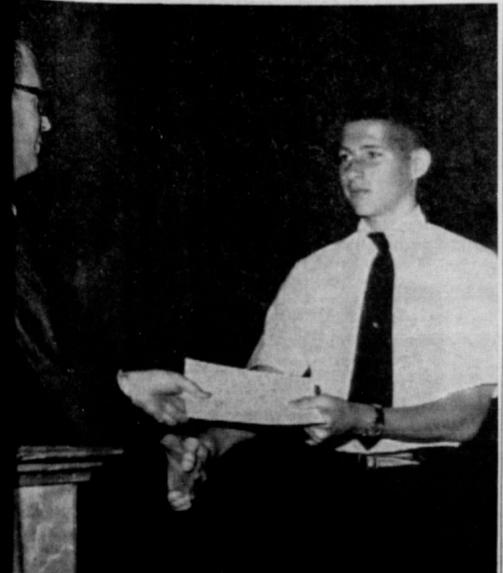

Even the Yankees, who have had a hard season up until Tuesday night still looking for that first victory, pulled off a 13 to 10 win over the Indians, which is one of the key factors in the league race.

In the second game Tuesday, the Tigers had to come from behind in the final inning to down a determined Giant team 11 to 10. The game only went four innings due to the time limit, but it was an exciting affair.

Next Tuesday night is the final evening for the first half of play. The first half winner will play the second half winner for the league championship this year, Royce Frisbie said.

"We began early enough this season to have our regulation 18 games," he added.

The games tonight begin at 6:30 and 8 p. m. Friday night's make-up game will begin at 7 p. m.

Methodists Make Some Changes In Area Pastorates

Ministerial appointments for the seven districts comprising the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church were read Sunday afternoon as the annual meeting came to a close in Abilene.

The appointments affected several churches in the area.

Rev. David Hamblin, who has served as pastor of the Memphis church for the past five years, will go to Littlefield. He and his wife, Wanda, and son, Bill, and daughter, Patti, will move to Littlefield Thursday.

Moving to Memphis will be Thomas E. Nelson, who has been serving as pastor of the Olton Church.

Elmer Wain, who has been pastor of the Estelline Methodist Church, has been assigned to Aspermont. He will be replaced by C. R. Smelser.

No changes will be made in the Turkey, Hedley and Lakeview churches. Roy E. Havens is pastor at Turkey; E. H. Martin at Lakeview; and Billy Wilson at Hedley.

Attending the conference from here were Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parks.

The Memphis City Council spent last Tuesday evening handling regular business and working on budget items.

June is the month the Council has the preliminary reading of the budget before the regular budget hearing on the first Monday in July.

The budget is of vital importance to the expenditure of public funds for the city. Each department is given a certain amount of operating money to be used during the next fiscal year. The City Council determines in advance how much it will take to run the city's business by drafting a budget and then sets the taxation required to meet the budget outlined.

City officials indicated that the city sales tax has made possible a little plus margin in which to operate. This money is being utilized in all phases of the budget.

Citizens interested in the expenditures of the city should contact their aldermen or plan to attend the July session of the Memphis City Council.

City Joins PRPC

The Memphis City Council approved a resolution last month to join the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission and at the same time voted to have Mayor Kenneth Dale and Alderman Johnny Farnsworth as the city's representatives to this commission.

The city's request to join the PRPC has been accepted and appropriate documents have been signed.

The Regional Planning Commission is located in Amarillo and legally organized under Article 1011m, Cernon's Annotated Civil Statutes.

It is composed of a voluntary association of local governments with a voting majority of elected officials, for the purpose of working together on state and federal projects.

Approximately 785 boys have been enrolled, making it necessary to expand the program by two Boys State Cities, making a total of 18. Each Boys State City is named in honor of a past department commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

The American Legion stresses its belief that youth should be offered a better perspective of the practical operation of government; that the individual is an integral part of, commensurately responsible for, the character and success of his government, Gregory explained.

Are We Banking On Time?

A Panhandle newspaper editor asked this question of his readers last week. "If you had a bank that credited your account each morning with $43,200, the only catch being that you were not permitted to carry over any balance to the next day's account and that you lost the amount you failed to use during the day, what would you do?"

He answered it by saying, "If you are like most of us, you would do your best to spend every cent, every day."

But do we really? Would we never tire of spending . . . always finding the inner strength to rush about this business of spending $43,200 every day; or would we plop back in our easy chairs, let the world pass by, watch the re-runs on TV, and spend only that which is convenient for us to spend, when the mood moved us to buy something.

We feel that the later state of affairs is more accurate than the first, because we observe this every day. You know we do have such a bank, with its accounts containing no money, but time. Every morning we are given 43,200 seconds and every night that is gone and the seconds that were not used will never be put back into that account again.

There are no overdrafts as the account is closed each evening and the records are burned each night so that what we don't use is lost and the loss belongs to each individual and no one else.

The Perryton editor, Harold Hudson, is most accurate in his summation: "Every person and every living thing eventually comes to the point where he has used up all his time on this earth. As has been said by many theologians, it is well that man does not know the exact moment that life here will end because if he did he would be miserable in the years before that instant worrying about it."

"The best advice is probably to continue to live a day at a time, yet keeping sight of long term goals and objectives in order to be prepared for that inevitable moment that faces all of us."

Some people are prone to ignore a large portion of each day, drifting in day dreams, seeking idle entertainment, making elaborate plans about how to accomplish their chores in the least amount of time and wondering how many they can postpone until a more favorable season.

There are others who busy themselves accomplishing goals, seeking prizes or positions or climbing from one level to the next on a financial ladder.

Then we have the vast majority which is between these two separate approaches as to how people use time.

Time is relative, as Einstein proved, but time is still something that each individual can control as far as his individual actions go. Every individual eventually has a moment in which he stops to reflect and sometimes wonder just where the years have gone and what he has done with them.

Men live by different clocks. The farmers live by the crops they plant and the seasons of the year. School teachers live by the semester and school year. Businessmen live by the store hours they keep, and professional men live by their appointment books. Ranchers live by the needs of their livestock.

Newspapermen live by their publication deadlines for the presses will roll, deadlines will be met.

It has been said that reality is only what things are now, today. Yesterday is history and tomorrow is only a dream. We are all given 43,200 seconds each day to do with as we may. That's all we have to handle the problems we face in our world today. If we don't use it wisely, our account will be closed out.

Farmer Profit Squeeze

Much has been written in recent years about the communication gap between the urban resident and the rural resident. A recent article in the Reader's Digest emphasizes this lack of understanding and accuses the farm programs of increasing the cost of food. Farm leaders contend this is completely untrue—that in reality they are a subsidy for the consumer for no farmer could stay in business at today's prices with no subsidy.

Farm prices today are 7% less, including government payments, than they were 10 years ago yet farm costs have risen 50%, yet food cost to consumers—which is an entirely different matter from what the farmer receives—are up only 13%. Farm leaders also say that Americans today are eating the best quality and biggest variety of food in larger quantities and at the least cost of any country in the world, thanks to the efficiency of the American farmer. Less than 17% of our income goes for food, compared to 40% in Japan and Western Europe and 70% in less developed countries. Goods and services in the luxury and convenience Americans enjoy would be impossible except for an agricultural efficiency which frees millions to work in other occupations.

Actually most farmers would prefer to farm without subsidies if they could buy their supplies at world prices. If they could secure clothing, drugs, gasoline, oil, tractors, and other equipment at world prices they could sell food and fiber at world prices. But the white collar worker and the blue collar worker is not able to work for Japanese or Western European wages and raise a family at U. S. prices any more than the average farmer can. And we might as well remember that practically all of Wellington's economy is agricultural.

—The Wellington Leader

Farmers Squeezed

The trend toward larger farms and fewer farmers is well established in this nation, but what is not generally apparent is the trend toward bankruptcy facing a lot of farmers these days.

At the present time there is a Congressional debate over a farm program and news reports show that there are still a number of Congressmen and their constituents who believe that the taxpayer is providing the farmer with a comfortable, even indolent, means of support.

The harsh fact is that more and more dry land wheat farmers are being forced off their land and having to find another way to make a living.

The number of farm sales in the high plains area, both of land and equipment, is one indication that farmers are either throwing in the sponge because they can't make a satisfactory living, or they are selling in order to stave off bankruptcy.

The wheat farmer is probably as hard hit by the cost-price squeeze as any farming segment. Cash price of wheat has been within a narrow price range for the past year, staying extremely close to the government loan rate of $1.22. In this area the cash price has dipped down to $1.12, and last year the wheat crop was so low in protein that cash prices were even more depressed.

The value of the wheat contained in a loaf of bread today is just the same as it was in 1950, exactly 3.3 cents. The price of bread, of course, has not remained at the 1950 price but has more than doubled in that period of time.

Meanwhile, the price of the machinery, tools and supplies that the farmer has to have in order to raise a crop have risen by leaps and bounds, as well as the cost of labor and taxes and other items of expense.

Apparently too many Congressmen are remembering the articles about farm prosperity back about 1947 and 1948 when wheat was $3.00 a bushel and tractor drivers worked for $8.00 a day.

Those days are gone, and, apparently, forever. The farmer, in asking for a farm program, is not asking for a handout, but he is sure entitled to ask for some relief from his cost-price squeeze. All businesses, particularly the small business, has the same kind of squeeze, but we will have to admit that the farmer is squeezed harder than anybody.

The real facts of the farming situation needs to be carefully explained to Congressmen, city dwellers and the mass media, who need to know that it is vital to this nation to keep farmers producing food.

One For The Road

A liquor store sent this card to their customers: "If you cannot refrain from drinking, why not start a saloon in your own home? Be the only customer and you will not have to buy a license. Give your wife $55.00 to buy a case of whiskey. There are 240 drinks in a case. Buy all your drinks from your wife at 60c a drink and in 12 days (when the case is gone) your wife will have $89.00 to put in the bank and $55.00 to buy another case. If you live 10 years and continue to buy all your whiskey from your wife and die in your boots, your widow will have $27,985.47 on deposit—enough to bring up your children, pay off the mortgage on the house, marry a decent man, and forget she ever knew a bum like you."

Thanks go out to all who helped make the 15th annual Giles Picnic a success: the musicians, the fellows who mowed the grass and moved in the furniture, the good ladies who helped serve the food and J. M. Dickson who served the stew.

Cub Scouts Receive Badges

"I promise to do my best, to do my duty to God and my country, to be square and to obey the law of the Pack." This was the promise made by a number of eight-year-olds last fall as they were given their Bobcat pins and started on the Wolf Trail of Cub Scouting.

They also learned the Law of the Pack, "The Cub Scout fellows Akela, the Cub Scout helps the Pack go, the Pack helps the Cub Scout grow and the Cub Scout gives Goodwill."

Under supervision of their parents and Den mothers, they worked hard to accomplish the 12 achievements demanded of them in these areas: feats of skill, flag, keeping healthy, your home and community, whittling, collections, conservation, tying things, home safety, family fun, religious activities and books.

Upon completion of their basic requirements some of the boys gained extra credit in gold and silver arrows by working off 10 or 20 projects in the electives of the wolf trail. They were Bob Kehr and Allen Beasley.

Finally after weekly Den meetings, monthly Pack 35 meetings, these Bobcats finished the Wolf Trail and received their badges as the privilege of staying on the Bear Trail at age nine: Steve Becker, Steve Chick, Randy Glascock, Brad Whitten, Brock Whitten and Timmy Wiginton.

THOMPSON BROS. CO.

The following is Mrs. Metcalf's definition of a Contemporary Woman:

"The Contemporary woman should be aggressive and in step with the present, totally ageless and attuned to the times. She should strive to have a better understanding of our young people just because a young man has long hair does not mean he is not a good boy. Many of our great men in the past had long hair. We women are always changing our hairdos. Young people appreciate our wisdom and advice and are glad to know that someone cares. A community should afford opportunities for spiritual, moral, and educational growth.

"Today's Contemporary woman must look her best at all times for she is called upon to make decisions on the spur of the moment, to come up with the answers, and to solve many problems. In the fast moving world of today the Contemporary woman carries a tremendous burden. She must guard her health and not let the heavy responsibilities weigh her down to the point very similar to that known in the military as battle fatigue.

"The Contemporary woman, in recognizing her responsibility to her town and to her county, should keep herself well abreast and informed of the political issues of her day. We all know we cannot do anything within ourselves and without the guiding hand of our Heavenly Father, our lives would have no meaning. Remembering that to have friends we must be friendly, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself' and 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' If we will first examine ourselves and ask ourselves what others might think of us, we will not be so quick to judge or criticize others, because what we think or feel does not mean that we are right and everyone must conform to our way of thinking. That is why we live in America."

Mrs. W. W. Dunn Would Appreciate Cards, Letters

Mrs. W. W. Dunn, the former Alcenia Hoover of Memphis, stated in a letter to The Democrat this week that she would enjoy receiving cards and letters from friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and daughter now reside at 705 N. Crockett, Sherman, Texas 75090. Mrs. Dunn has been ill for several months.

She stated in her letter that she is suffering from muscular sclerosis and is now only able to walk with the aid of a walker, and even this is difficult.

She wrote in her letter: "I would appreciate cards and letters from friends as the mail is about all I have to look forward to."

Memphis has some of the best people in the world and I always call it home. Remember me in your prayers."

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this means to express our sincere thanks and deepest appreciation to each and everyone who has helped us in any way at this time of the loss of our home which was destroyed by fire recently.

To the Memphis Fire Department and to all of our dear friends and neighbors, we will always be grateful. Also, we thank those who in any way helped with our shower which was held on Sunday evening.

Again may we say, "many thanks" to each of you for each gift or kind word that has come our way. May God bless each of you.

BYRON BALDWIN

As a sad story to us Tuesday of last week that Hamblin was leaving us as of the Methodist Church. He was pastor and friend of us. He came here from all Texas 5 years ago with on his face and has been a pastor to all with that of his corns hurt or he had it, it did not show. I heard going to Littlefield, but sound better to say to David seemed to be a Baptist preacher pastor of the Methodist Church. Anyway, David and his have been great assets to and they will be where go and "May the Goodness and keep them" in his to mankind.

daughter just graduated from high school, Vickey Williams, who has been selected by the Rotary Clubs in their district to be an exchange student from the clubs. She is to be in Virum, Denmark, Aug. 3 for a two-week Danish language course. She expects to be in Denmark 11 months studying elementary education. Chas. left here in 1952. I want to congratulate him and Grandpa Charlie on this fine family I met. They were very much impressed with Heritage Hall and said they were coming back to see it again.

Others visiting Heritage Hall were Mrs. A. B. Jones and sister, Ellen Blades Souder, wife of the late Lucian Souder. Ellen is now living in Amarillo. She and Mrs. Jones liked Heritage Hall very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Williams of Temple liked Heritage Hall well enough they made part of the rounds Friday and back to finish Saturday. Carroll is the son of Mrs. Paul Morris and attended school here in 1937, grandson of the late Perry Robinson. Mrs. Williams is now working for Scott and White where she has been an employee the past 20 years.

Had a very interesting visit with two people in Heritage Hall representing two of our early day families of Hall County, Dr. and Mrs. Byran Todd of Waterford, Calif., where he is pastor of the First Baptist Church. He has spent most of his ministry serving churches in California. I think I am right that he spent 3 years in Hawaii in Christian education. He was on a two-week vacation and on his way to the Southern Baptist Convention in Denver, Colo. The A. P. Todd family moved to Hall County in 1911 and farmed down near Newlin. There were 6 boys and 2 girls in this family. Alice married Leonard Mitchell and lives in Modesto, Calif. Lola Todd is the wife of Rev. R. T. Dyess, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Wellington. Dexter Todd is now owner and operator of a mortuary of Clovis, N. M. Dr. C. Ed Todd is a professor of education, A&I at Kingsville. H. B. Todd is now living in Amarillo in the advertising business. T. C. Todd moved to Amarillo, raised a family of 5 children and passed away in 1963. I accused Byran of being one of the "Singing Todds", but he says his brothers did the singing and he did the preaching. Byran's religious life started from Tabernacle Baptist Church north-east of Salisbury in the early days that some of you can remember.

The other family represented here with the Todds was Mrs. Byran Todd, who, before her marriage to Byran, was Altha Denton. The S. C. Denton family moved from Bosque Co. to Lakeview in 1925. Both parents now are deceased. Altha said since she married Byran Todd, she had been a minister's wife, school teacher, musician and artist. One of her early schools in which she taught was Parnell where Marietta Ferrell taught. Lillian Denton married Cecil (Cotton) Williams and they now live in Pampa. Loran Denton is Supl. of the schools in Turkey. Forrest Denton is now retired after 30 years with the Santa Fe Railroad and living at Lelia Lake. Rachael is married to W. J. Kleinpeter and lives in Amarillo. Rev. J. C. is pastor of the Baptist Church in Borger. Clarence Denton is Dist. auditor for South-west Public Service, living in Plainview. Charles Denton is employed by an implement manufacturer in Nebraska. Dale is employed by a bread company in Amarillo. The way the census look now we won't have such a large population in Hall Co. but per capita wise, I think this county would head the list in furnishing good citizens in other places to help this world be a better place to live.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. White and Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Yarbrough visited in Heritage Hall the past Sunday.

Mark Reeves and sons, Robert and Kerry, were in looking Heritage Hall over. They are from Silverton, the son and grandsons of Mrs. Sim Reeves of Memphis. Dixie and Renee Doblins, Mrs. S. D. Colburn and Mrs. Blanche Tooke, all of Pasadena, visited Heritage Hall. All are relatives of Mrs. H. T. Tooke. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cruse of Turkey visited the Hall, said they were coming back and bring the 3 young Cruses. Mrs. Cruse, the former Lawana Wynn, daughter of Pete Wynn, was born in Hall Co. Mrs. Ruth Hindman and Mrs. Abbott of Lubbock were in looking Heritage Hall over, thought we had a nice one. They are relatives of Neal Hindman.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bourgoin from California were en route to Romey A.F.B., Puerto Rico. Mrs. Bourgoin is the daughter of Mrs. D. H. Moore and was known to us as Patricia and a graduate of MHS.

We have word to us that Mrs. Hembree of Dallas, former resident of Hall County, is having her 100th birthday June 6. Her address is Mrs. J. W. Hembree, 6966 South Ridge, Dallas 75214. Some of the tourists past Sunday were on their way to Southern Baptist Convention in Denver, and stopped here for church services.

Some of the families visiting here were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Larrimore and son Mark from Jackson, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yarbrough from Jacksonville, Ark. They stopped off here for a visit, as they were on their way to Alaska for a vacation. Mrs. Yarbrough was the former Johnnie Martin and niece of the Garden-hires. She graduated with the Class of 1936 and left here in 1938.

Memphis City Park Is Being Renovated

By BILL COMBS

The Lions Club Park Opener last Friday night at which almost a thousand people flocked to the Memphis City Park heralded the opening of the picnic season and summertime in this area.

Although the weather was ideal for the Park Opener, a cold front moved into the Panhandle and has kept temperatures in the low 70's and cooler much of this week.

The cool weather was preceded by a nice rain and some hail which fell in the Memphis area last Thursday afternoon.

Because of the cool weather, swimming pools have not been very busy and the usual crowd of outdoor picnickers in the City Park is not to be found until more favorable weather.

Memphis has been fortunate for many years to have a public park facility so ideally located and so naturally designed with the abundance of trees in a natural bowl, adequate parking, a creek with natural beauty, and industrious ancestors who spent many hours and a lot of money to turn the park into Memphis' largest tourist attraction.

For several years, the park has been left to the care of a parttime caretaker to see after its varied needs.

This year, however, the City of Memphis crews began to renovate the facilities. First to be renovated was the old VFW barn which was taken over by the City of Memphis as a maintenance building.

A citizen who hasn't seen the old VFW building since the improvements were made, probably would not recognize the area.

Then the city crews under the direction of Johnny Hancock moved into the park. They found broken tables, turned over tables, and much damage to many of the picnic facilities as well as many trees which needed to be removed.

Concrete was poured into the old fish pond and the pond became a speakers stand after railings were erected. Drinking fountains were placed over the park, and all the separate picnic nooks were renovated.

Many of the visitors last Friday night noticed the improvements. Others possibly didn't pay that much attention.

The City of Memphis is interested in maintaining an attractive City Park, not only for local citizens to use and enjoy, but for visitors from other areas and states.

Plans are in the making for additional rest room facilities to be erected within the park proper and city fathers are planning to continue the effort of improving the City Park and making it a beauty spot.

In past years, many of the local civic and women's clubs have done much work in the park. Any organization or individual desiring to help in the effort of improvement will be welcome. Several of the clubs are planning to try and restore their projects to their original beauty by replacing dead shrubbery, etc.

Memphis has a lot of things to be proud of, but the Memphis City Park, even at its worst is one of the most interesting places to visit in the southeastern Panhandle. When the park is well groomed, it takes a back seat to no city park in this part of the country.

Some folks make a specialty of getting into trouble.

Most cities the size of Memphis, or even considerably larger, have city parks with a capacity of accommodating no more than a few picnickers. The park here has accommodated as many as 3,500 to 4,000 in a single day, and many of these were not even using the amphitheatre which seats several hundred.

The Park Opener and the annual Hall County Picnic attract the largest crowds to the park each year with a combined total of possibly 3,500 on the average year. To this can be added the picnickers, the swimmers, the motor bike riders who utilize the back portion of the park to climb hills, those who ride around the park circle, the soft ball players, and all others, it is easy to estimate that some 8,000 people enter the City Park in Memphis each year.

City employees and city fathers are to be commended on their efforts to renovate the park, and all interested citizens should lend their support to the park effort during the next few months.

JAMES LEE McDONALD

James McDonald Is New SCS Employee Here

James Lee McDonald, soil conservationist, has been hired by the Soil Conservation Service and has been assigned to the Memphis work unit, according to Henry D. Gregory, district conservationist. McDonald is filling the vacancy left open when Mike Bogard, soil conservationist, transferred to Lamesa recently.

McDonald has worked during the summers of 1966 and 1967 as a student trainee with the Soil Conservation Service at Crowell. He graduated from Texas Techological College at Lubbock in June, 1967. Following his graduation from college he has been teaching high school science for the past two years at Anton.

While serving as a conservationist on the Memphis work unit staff, he will be assisting landowners, operators and other land users in the Hall County Soil and Water Conservation District develop and apply conservation plans on their farms and ranches.

McDonald, his wife, Katie Nell, and four-month-old daughter, Stacey Lanell, are residing at 622 North 14th Street, Memphis.

In making the announcement of the assignment, Gregory stated, "We are happy to have McDonald as a member of our conservation team and welcome the family to Memphis."

Well-timed silence is more eloquent than speech—and most silence is well-timed.

It's a safe bet that the man who is around asking for sympathy will make bad use of it.

cleared through such a regional council prior to official approval.

The major advantage of membership in PRPC is in obtaining fast and accurate information of the numerous and varied governmental programs offered to small communities and rural areas. Many projects require unusually large amounts of paper work and red tape involved before approval can be granted.

At periodic times, meetings of members of PRPC will be held with governmental agencies and officials to improve health, safety and the general welfare of this area.

PRPC states the objective and purpose of the commission is: "the formation of The Commission shall be and is to encourage and permit local units of government to join and cooperate with one another to improve the health, safety and the general welfare of their citizens and to plan for the future development of the regional area embraced within the Panhandle area."

Parents who attend can enjoy a picnic lunch with their sons, tour the facilities of the camp and observe the Order of the Arrow ceremonies that evening, it was announced.
