HOMER TUCKER

Homer Tucker New U. S. Hwy. 287 Assn. Pres.

By BILL COMBS
Because of the efforts of its citizens, Memphis, Texas is better known today than ever before; and, because of the willingness of its citizens to serve, it is thought of with high regard from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Tallahassee, Fla.

This fact was made clear when the second Memphis citizen, Homer Tucker, was chosen to be the president of the U. S. Hwy. 287 Assn. last month.

When Chamber Manager Clifford Farmer was elected president of the newly formed highway association in its infancy, local businessmen and chamber officials here began supporting and helping the association to grow into a worthwhile tourist promotional group.

Now, the association, which has joined with Highway 2 and Highway 90 Associations to make a route from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Tallahassee, Fla., has 3,500 members and is the largest Highway Assn. in the United States.

Besides President Tucker, other officers are Davy Marquith, of Rawlins, Wyo., vice president; Worth Coffey of Vernon, secretary; and Bill Givens of Quanah, treasurer.

Tucker was elected president at the National Directors Meeting held Sunday, June 7, at the Colonial Club at Helena, Mont., during the beginning of the summer caravan to Fairbanks, Alaska, which assembled at West Yellowstone, Mont., on Friday, June 5.

Saturday evening, the caravan enjoyed Frontier Town, 12 miles west of Helena, where they met Montana Governor Forrest Anderson and the Lt. Governor, and State Hwy. Engineer Lewis Chittam, and other dignitaries.

"The association has just welcomed two new directors from Fairbanks, into the association. I haven't met them as yet but have received correspondence from them," Tucker said.

Howard King of Wichita Falls is the field representative of the association and has traveled the entire route.

The new president said the next directors meeting will be Oct. 16, 1970 at Estes Park, Colo.

Tourism, according to Tucker, is the biggest industry in 44 states and second and third largest in—

The Hall County Soil and Water Conservation District has been transferred to the Pampa Area from the Vernon Area effective July 1, it was announced this week.

Area Conservationist of Pampa, Douglas Cunningham, and Acting Area Clerk Melba E. Musgrove are in Memphis today handling the necessary paper work affecting the changing of Hall County SWCD to the Pampa Area.

"As Area Conservationist, I am pleased to get the Hall County District in my area for the district has a good staff and is one of the state's high production units in conservation," Mr. Cunningham said.

Mr. Cunningham said the major reason for the changing of the Hall County SWCD to the Pampa area was to realign the Conservation Area boundaries with the Governor's Planning Regions.

"Several County districts have been shuffled all over the state in order to align them with Governor's Planning Region boundaries," Conservationist Cunningham said.

The Area Conservationist reported that the Pampa Area now has 12 counties and 12 SWCD units under its jurisdiction. "We have the districts of Collingsworth and Donley counties," he said.

Mr. Cunningham said the Pampa Area is one of the largest in the state. "I feel we have a good staff

The City of Lakeview is asking its citizens to cooperate and participate in a clean-up drive which will begin with pickups on Wednesday, July 8.

A crew will begin on that day picking up all trash and litter which has been placed in containers and these put in a convenient place for pickup, City Secretary C. Stepp said.

The trash hauling crew will work beginning Wednesday and continuing through the weekend, he said, and citizens are urged to cooperate by cleaning up their property.

For the town-wide clean-up to be beneficial, it will take the cooperation of citizens in the project.

Dates Set For Club Golf Tour. In July

Memphis Country Club Tournament Chairman Barry Ward announced the date of the Club's annual tournament to be the week of July 18 through 26.

All flights will be 8-man and winners will be decided by match play in all flights this year, it was announced. Entry fee will be $10 per person. The deadline for entry is noon, Friday, July 17.

First round matches will be held on either the 18th or 19th of July, Saturday or Sunday. Second round matches will be played anytime during Monday, July 20, through Friday, July 24. Final match are Saturday or Sunday, July 25 or 26.

Winners in each flight will be awarded golfing merchandise amounting to: $35 for first place, $25 for second place and $11 for consolation.

Chairman Ward explained that there will be no qualifying in the tournament. Golfers will be placed in flights according to their handicap.

A handicap chart has been up since last January for local golfers to place their scores on, and most all of the golfers have operated by turning in their scores. A new handicap for all golfers will be figured before the tournament so golfers desiring to compete accurately with their handicap should be careful to list current scores.

The top 8 golfers, selected by handicap, will compete in the championship flight and vie for for the Club Championship. Larry Parks is current holder of the title, having won this tournament last year.

This tournament is open to all male members of the Memphis Country Club and all are urged to plan to participate. By allowing two weekends and one week to play matches, golfers are given opportunity to play their matches at their convenience.

"Some of our golfers can't play on Saturday, due to business reasons. Also, we are setting up the brackets Friday, July 17, and want as many as can play to be at the club Friday evening for a pre-tournament get together," Ward said.

Most Firms In City To Close On July 4th

July 4th will be observed by almost all Memphis merchants as a holiday, and their firms will be closed, it was announced this week.

Bill Hall, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce retailers committee, said that local merchants want to encourage citizens to shop early because Memphis stores will be closed on Independence Day.

Declaring Independence In 1776!

Within a few days, this nation will pause to observe the birthday of this nation, recognized as such because a group of brave men, meeting in public assembly, drafted and signed a document known as The Declaration of Independence of the United States of America.

Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Roger Sherman, Robert R. Livingston and Benjamin Franklin were the committee to draft the document and presented it for first reading on June 28, 1776. On July 2, a resolution was adopted declaring the colonies free and independent States, and on July 4, the Declaration of Independence was agreed to, engrossed on paper, and signed by John Hancock, President. Other members of this congress signed the document at a later date.

This document lead the way for the founding of the form of government used in the United States today. "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these, are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

The purpose of the Declaration of Independence document was to serve notice on Mother England that her colonies were throwing off the government of the King of England. Force was necessary and force was used to do this.

Ofttimes overlooked are the "seeds of revolution" which brought about the signing of such a document and the Revolutionary War between the 13 colonies and Great Britain. The document lists 27 grievances for which the colonists petitioned for redress and received only repeated injury.

Among these grievances were the right to representative government, the right to a fair trial by jury, imposing taxes upon the colonists without their consent, quartering large bodies of armed troops among the colonies, for abolishing the free system of English laws, and abolishing the colonists' charters and the colonists' most valuable laws.

We feel it would be valuable for every citizen today to read the grievances cited by the American Congress. If there are Americans today who can read these 27 facts and not feel the Declaration of Independence was justified, then the spirit of free men is dead in this country.

This brings the question of the problems facing this nation today. We have those in our nation who express grievances of various kinds. On our college campuses large groups of young people gather to express their displeasure over our form of government.

Our forefathers, when they set up the democratic form of government in this nation almost 200 years ago, placed into it the protection of the "rights" of the governed, the people, to petition; and also established the court system whereby laws may be continually tested. Each citizen is represented by lawmakers of their choice in the House and Senate. Each citizen has the right to vote for the Chief Executive and the Vice President, every four years.

Many judges are elected by popular vote to the people, State governments are run by the will of the people. Grievances, when they have enough popular support, are enacted into law. These things have not been changed.

Never before in history had a nation founded its life on the belief that people are the heart of government. We declare that government exists to secure the happiness of the people; that government gets its power only through approval of the people it governs. In 1776 these beliefs were new. Today, generations of Americans have lived under them, have sacrificed whatever was necessary to preserve these beliefs, and the United States has grown beyond the dreams of man in material blessings.

All Americans have good reason to celebrate the Fourth of July, 1776.

All Americans also have good reason to actively participate in the selection and planning of the future of this country by studying the issues and the candidates in all elections and voting intelligently.

What Other Editors Say

Time is running out

The following message was printed this week as a full-page advertisement in "Publisher's Auxiliary," a publication of the National Newspaper Association which is distributed nationally to newspaper publishers. Because it is also of vital concern to the American public, we are reproducing the text here as a message of some urgency for all of us who use the mails:

IT HAS BEEN:
Four years since the collapse of mail service in Chicago.
Three years since Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien warned that the postal service was in a race with catastrophe.
Three years since President Johnson created the Commission on Postal Organization, headed by Frederick R. Kappad, former Chairman of the Board of AT&T.
Two years since the Kappad Commission urgently recommended complete overhaul of the post office.
One year since President Nixon and Postmaster General Blount submitted his proposal to create a new, modern United States Postal Service.
Three months since the first postal strike in U. S. history.
Two months since the negotiated agreement with the Administration, the postal unions, and the AFL-CIO for a broadly-supported organization plan.
How long before the next postal employee strike? the next breakdown in mail service?
We urge all postal employees, all editors and publishers of newspapers and magazines, all third class mailers, all users of parcel post, all airlines, all railroads, all members of the trucking industry, all private express companies . . . yes, every citizen . . . to do everything they can to bring about passage of total postal reform.

THE REAL MAJORITY

mechanical devices called time clocks and whistles told us when to work, when to eat, when to stretch the legs and even when to go to the bathroom?
Most of us wouldn't like it and would also look forward to the end of the day when we could do something we really liked to do. We could endure such a job only if it paid well and we felt secure in it.
All of us need to have our urge to create satisfied. That's why the farmer who creates grain and sees life develop in livestock has a contentment others cannot find. The teacher who sees the being of a child unfold before her like a flower in early morning gets a sense of satisfaction found nowhere else.
The doctor who cures a patient, the lawyer who brings contentment to clients, all have their creative urge fulfilled.
It is those in jobs without creativity who have the problem. And it isn't a problem to be cured with money, either. Those of us who do have a job we like need to sit down sometime and count our blessings. There may be more of them than we have been telling each other.
— Perryton Herald

switching and the like can be blamed, not on poor pay, but on the simple fact that a job is dull and bores the worker out of his skull.
Assembly line workers have complained for years that their jobs bored them. They get no satisfaction out of their work, but look forward to the end of the day when they can chuck it and at last think about something else.
A great many jobs that are not assembly line jobs have their moments of boredom, too. The retail clerk gets tired of opening cartons and marking and straightening stock and looking pleasant while a shopper drags out the merchandise piece by piece.
The lawyer gets tired of reading briefs and hearing the same old tired tale of domestic woe from people bent on a divorce.
The doctor must get tired of day after day of peering down throats and listening to complaints about aches and pains.
The teacher gets weary of the endless grading of papers and the trivia that often seem to do nothing but distract from the main job, that of imparting knowledge to others.
Some companies have tried a new "honor system" with their blue collar employees in an attempt to beat the boredom on the job. They allow the worker to handle his job about any way he wants to as long as he maintains certain production. This can lead to swapping jobs with a fellow worker, stepping down the hall for a while, or in other ways breaking the chains that seem to tie one to his machine.
And why not? How motivated would any of us be if our job consisted of tightening five bolts with a torque wrench a thousand times a day, and if in addition, mechanical devices called time clocks and whistles told us when to work, when to eat, when to stretch the legs and even when to go to the bathroom?

Most of us wouldn't like it and would also look forward to the end of the day when we could do something we really liked to do. We could endure such a job only if it paid well and we felt secure in it.

All of us need to have our urge to create satisfied. That's why the farmer who creates grain and sees life develop in livestock has a contentment others cannot find. ## Why would a smart farmer like you work harder for less profit?

Just about everyone understands the need for irrigation, but it's just as important to realize the value of efficient irrigation. To be efficient, an irrigation system must:

- Offer maximum return on minimum investment
- Be reliably available when needed
- Cost as little as possible to operate

There are lots of ways to water a crop, but it takes a Boss Lateral-Roll Irrigation system to meet the requirements of efficiency. Obsolete, high-cost irrigation may be better than none, but it makes your work harder, your profits less. That's why smart farmers like you are asking Boss for the complete story.

County Agent Says Grasshoppers Now Striking In Hall

Grasshoppers are causing damage to rangeland as well as cultivated crops in Hall County. Control should start when grasshoppers become noticeably abundant, County Agent W. B. Hooser stated last week.

Signs of threatening infestations of grasshoppers can be found along roadsides, canals, and ditch banks as well as in and along the sides of idle fields.

Field margins are usually the hatching places for grasshoppers that damage row crops. Early treatment of such areas before the young grasshoppers move in to the field will reduce the acreage that otherwise needs treatment.

Insecticides in the form of sprays, dusts or baits can be used to control grasshoppers. Sprays give higher initial kills than dusts and continue to kill for a longer period of time.

Information on the selection and use of insecticides for control of grasshoppers on cultivated crops or rangeland can be obtained at the county agricultural agent's office.

"Tomato Blight" Is Controlled With Fungicides

Tomato blight can ruin an otherwise healthy crop if proper fungus control isn't practiced, according to Jerral D. Johnson, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

Both the early and late varieties of blight cause the ripening tomato fruit to take on a soft, watery appearance. However, these diseases can be controlled by regular spraying with a fungicide such as Palygram, Polpet or one of the many types.

Johnson says to spray the plants at ten to 14-day intervals by completely covering the foliage. This will prevent rotting of the fruit as it matures this summer.

It takes very little to satisfy people who are self-satisfied.

A few generations ago we gave very little thought to the possibility that in this century we might see the end of clean rivers. Now it is up to us. Pollution has increased to a point where water and wildlife will suffer and even people will perish. It is horrible to contemplate. Today, scientists are working diligently on methods of pollution prevention. But we, the people, are doing our darndest to bring it about. We have turned river and lake banks into settlements. Literally thousands of houses are without proper sanitary facilities. We toss our empty bottles, cans and old tires into the streams. Or leave them where they will wash into the water with the first heavy rain. We operate thousands of house-boats on our lakes . . . and nearly all of them are without proper sanitary facilities. It seems that we do just about everything possible to ruin our water. This is the water we drink. We bathe in it. We use it for our crops and our flowers. We even baptize with this water. Yet we pollute it. Official steps are being taken to correct this situation, but it still remains a personal obligation, too. Each of us benefits and each of us pays the price. Some hope may be available from the Scenic Rivers bill now in Congress. This measure sets up a national policy for the protection of wild and scenic streams. Coverage by the bill includes a

Maj. Jack Helm Graduates From US Air College

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Major Jack Helm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Helm, Sr., of Memphis, was graduated from the U. S. Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala., June 5.

Major Helm was among selected government officials and officers from U. S. and allied armed forces enrolled in his class. The curriculum covered advanced military leadership, management and use of aerospace forces.

The 10-month program is part of the Air University's professional education system to prepare officers for higher command and staff positions.

The major, a 1947 graduate of Estelle High School, received his B. S. degree in 1966 from Southwestern State Teachers College, Weatherford, Okla.

Major Helm, who holds the aeronautical rating of senior pilot, was commissioned in 1957 upon completion of Officer Candidate School.

stream or a section of a stream or a tributary and the adjacent lands. Measure passed without opposition in the Senate, but encountered trouble in the House. This because some of the Congressmen were more interested in building dams and providing industry than keeping any scenic beauty for the future generations. You can give support to this bill by writing your own congressman and letting him know that you believe some of our beautiful streams should be kept for posterity. Also pledge to him your support in keeping the streams of our areas as free from pollution as possible.

City ordinances and state laws exist, but there is a lack of enforcement and few teeth in the laws. Therefore it becomes an individual problem. Every one of us must do something to save our rivers, our fish and wildlife, our recreational areas and even our lives.

Don't depend on luck unless you are willing to work hard to bring it your way.

DIET ICE CREAM
(1 gallon freezer)
4 large eggs or 5 medium eggs
2 1/2 cups sugar or equivalent of sugar substitute
1/4 cup flour
1 qt. low fat, 2% or skim milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin softened in 1/2 cup cold water
1 large can undiluted condensed milk
2 tablespoons vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
Reconstituted powdered milk, 2% or skim milk to finish filling freezer can to 3/4 full.

Use a heavy sauce pan (2 1/2 qt. or larger) for cooking the custard mixture over medium-low heat or use a double boiler over medium-high heat.

Beat the eggs well in the saucepan. Add sugar mixed with the flour (or if sugar substitute is used, mix the flour with a little milk to make a smooth paste) then add to the eggs. Add salt and 1 quart of low fat milk. Cook stirring constantly, until eggs are done and custard is thickened. While mixture is still hot, add the softened gelatine and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved. Add 1 large can of undiluted condensed milk and 2 T. vanilla. Allow the mixture to cool. It will take considerably less ice to freeze if the mixture is allowed to chill overnight in the refrigerator. The mixture will be thick and jelled but just beat it a little and pour it into the freezer can. Then finish filling the freezer can to 3/4 full with reconstituted powdered milk, 2 percent or skim milk. Freeze and serve as you would ordinary ice cream. Chilled fruit may be added after the paddle is removed from the freezer but the ice cream will have to be packed down longer or set longer in a freezer to become firm.

NOTE: Double the amount of powdered milk in reconstituting to liquid form for freezing purposes. If sweeteners are used instead of sugar, tablets must be dissolved in a little water. There will be less chance of an "off taste" if the sweetener is added after the custard base is cooked and cooled. Submitted By Mrs. Lynn McKown

Memphis TOPS Make Plans For Area Meeting

The Memphis TOPS is four months old, has average attendance of 15 members out of 22, records net loss of 202 pounds.

Of several small success stories this tale is perhaps the biggest. One member has lost 33 1/2 pounds, changed dress sizes from 24 1/2 to 20 1/2, measures now 43-33-44 instead of 48-38-48 and possesses a twice as cheerful personality, yet is only half-way to her goal, still showing no signs of weakening.

This summing-up of accomplishments took place at June 29th Memphis TOPS chapter meeting at the American Legion Home at 9 a. m.

Committee assignments were made by Carol Ann Gardenhire, general chairman, for the area rally day to be held in Memphis on September 26 for 158 TOPS members from several neighboring towns.

A lively program was provided which included a relay game where members tried to transfer beans from one plate to another across the room by means of a teaspoon. Another was a fourth of July blow-out game in which small paper bags were blown up and burst.

Self-Application Good Method For Controlling Flies

COLLEGE STATION — Beef and dairy cattle, including lactating cows, can treat themselves with safe, approved insecticides to control the troublesome horn flies that attack during warm weather.

All that is needed, advises Extension Entomologist Weldon Newton, is a self-applier bag properly stocked with dust containing either three percent Clo-drin or a one percent coumaphos (Co-Ral) and located so the cattle will contact the bag as they go about their daily routine.

For dairy cattle, the most convenient location for the dustbag is in the exit chute leading from the milking parlor.

For beef cattle, it may be located in the gateway to a fenced off watering trough, a salt box or in the entrance to a resting area, says Newton.

Commercial, ready-filled bags can be purchased from livestock supply outlets or they can be inexpensively made. All that is needed are a few medium to fine mesh burlap bags to hold the dust, some hardware, including hooks on which to hang the bags, and a few grommets to serve as hook eyes.

A roof to protect the device from rainy weather is strongly recommended. Newton suggests using double strength burlap by placing one bag within another to better hold the dust.

Stock each double-layer bag with 5 to 10 pounds of the selected insecticide and hang them in pairs in such a way the animals will be forced to walk between the pair.

For best results, Newton says the bags should overlap each other by four to six inches. The bottoms should be about 18 inches from the ground for small cattle and 24 inches for the larger breeds.

Each time an animal walks through the self-applier it will brush its head, neck, shoulders and back against the bags and pick up enough of the insecticide to keep the horn flies under control. Weekly maintenance is suggested.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Welch and daughters, Susan, Carolyn and Diane, of Austin spent the past weekend visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Combs and Debra and Bill Combs and family. Susan, Carolyn and Diane remained in Memphis to visit with their grandparents for two weeks.

Correction

Mrs. Ollie Speer, who passed away June 20 in Happy, was a sister of H. W. Spear of Lakeview. We stated in last week's paper that Mrs. Speer was a sister of Mrs. Spear and this was in error.

We are sorry for the error and misspelling of Mrs. Speer's name and happy to make the correction.

Accidents, the fourth most frequent cause of death, killed approximately 115,000 persons in the United States in 1968. Only heart disease, cancer and strokes claimed more lives.

right, each of these R families had two children. Looking back,
I agree with Oliver Wendell Holmes who said, "To be seventy years young is far more cheerful,
and hopeful than to be forty years old." To know the limitations of life, yet be content is wisdom."

We find a good many people
now bouncing around like a rubber ball. John Clark and wife, Patsy Hays Clark, came down from Lansing, Mich., bounced in for 24 hours and are on their way back after visiting Mrs. Katie Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hays and John's brother, Dr. Robert and family. But their children did not bounce back in 24 hours but stayed to get their visit out.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Howell of Ennis, former Memphis residents
here, bounced in here on Monday night spent the night and bounced out on their way to California to visit with their son, Don and family. Two more former Memphis girls bounced in and out last Wednesday, Mary Helen McNeely Sen-
sabough of Dallas and her sister, Carolyn McNeely Freeman of Houston. They were en route to Mexico and Colorado for a cooler climate. They left some items here for Heritage Hall and said they would be back to see Heritage Hall and their friends here. Thank you for your interest in Heritage Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Combs bounced in a few days ago and the first thing I knew they had bounced out again, back to school in Illinois. Debbie stayed with Grandpa Herschel and Grandma Helen, and is making a regular hand getting the paper out.

Visiting in Heritage Hall a few days ago were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris of Marne, Mich., said they were looking for the p. m. and found Heritage Hall.

The following statement from Bob, "Heritage Hall is a fine project and a credit to the community." Mrs. Harris said her father attended school one year to make a pharmacist and her four brothers had to go four years each and they were going to make it a five year course.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Srygley
of Phillips looking things over.
Clayton graduated here in the 1942 class, in the marines, two years, lived in the state of Washington for a time and back to Phillips in 1947. His wife Mary is an Oklahoma girl. They have one daughter and two sons.

Don Whallen of Marshall and Donna Tarver of Topeka, Kans., in Heritage Hall taking a rest from their cowboy jobs on the ranch. They are the grandchildren of Mrs. Earl Allen of Quail.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Griffin of Houston, along with Fredia Miller

of Childress, enjoying a tour through Heritage Hall. Mr. Griffin has retired after working for the Hughes Tool Co. for 41 years.
Other young friends visiting Heritage Hall were Amy and Alison Hightower of Vernon and Jane Lilly of Houston. They are the daughters of Sen. Jack Hightower and Laura Mae Hightower Lilly, granddaughters of Mrs. W. T.
Hightower who flew in with them
on Father's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward of Borger visiting Heritage Hall and think they enjoyed the school room very much. Mrs. Ward was the former Oline Molloy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Molloy.
She taught school here in 1943-1945. She could count about 8 of the graduating class of 1945
who now live in Borger and she taught their kids. A few of them are Estelle Sweatt, Ila Sue Davis, Clara Jo Hayes, Scottie Pullen,
and Bennie Dennis and Fleets McCreary.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Byars of Lac Cruces, N. M. said, "We do not look as dry here as they are." Don is the grandson of Ray Sneed, and Ray made the 2nd trip through Heritage Hall as he came back with Don for the second round.

Bobby Nell and Patricia Ann Ray of Fresno, Calif., were in Heritage Hall Saturday with sister, Mrs. Davis. Bobbie Nell left here in 1947, taught 2 years in Japan, then back to California.
Mmes. Ray and Davis are daughters of the late Joe Barnett of Lakeview. There are five sons and these two daughters living. Mrs.
Davis left two items for Heritage
Hall, a monkey wrench used by her father several years and a tobacco cutter that Mr. Odum, a merchant in Lakeview, gave her husband.

Tucky Arnold McDavitt and wife, C. J. Goodnight, McDavitt, were visiting in Heritage Hall the past Saturday. They were both high school graduates of the 1928
class that so many of the members of the class claim was the largest and smartest class that ever graduated. Tucky and C. J. are now living in Plainview. They liked Heritage Hall very much and were coming back when they had more time as they had to get back to attend the football game
in Lubbock. They have two chilren, one living in Oklahoma City and one in Lubbock. They have two granddaughters. Tucky Mc-Davitt will be remembered as the son of the late Flora Arnold Mc-Davitt and grandson of a pioneer family, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Arnold. I think there were seven children in the Arnold family and I think the only one now living is Ruth. C. J. McDavitt was the former C. J. Goodnight, daughter of the late W. H. Goodnight, sister of Hal, W. H. and Pauling Goodnight Knight.

Their dad was a long time merchant in Memphis back in the good old days where there were a lot of cows, chickens, eggs and cream for a money crop. I think C. J. was surprised to wake up to the fact that she had been married over 40 years. But anyway,
she and Tucky married in 1929
and moved away and I think that would make the forty-one.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Wakefield of Amarillo visiting Heritage Hall Saturday. They were both born in Hall County (different parts) and their parents both left here when they were about 6 years old. After all these years these two Hall Co. kids met and married. He is the son of Ernest and his wife is the daughter of Mattie Smith Eastland of Amarillo and granddaughter of Mr.
and Mrs. W. S. Smith. I asked the Wakefields how they met and they said about 6 years ago they met at a square dance. I think have heard it said on television or radio "around and around she goes and where she stops nobody knows." I think time stopped right for them.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Carpenter and sons Chris and Aubrey of Corpus Christi were recent visitors. Mrs. Carpenter was born in Memphis on west main street.
Billie Joe Roberts, daughter of the late Claude Roberts and Lucy McCollum Roberts. Lucy was an Estelline girl. Billie Jo was born while her dad was still in France.
Claude, Jr., is now living in California, has 4 children and one grandchild. The Carpenters liked Heritage Hall very much. They were visiting Lois Miller and Nettie Beach (sisters of Billie Jo's

father) Claude who passed away 21 years ago just before his grandson arrived. This pioneer family came to Memphis in 1909,
only Nettie and Lois of Memphis
survive today.

These few items taken from
"The Breeze" MHS paper in the 20's.

Mr. Vaughn asked this question, "What is a farm?" and Forest Brant replied, "A body of land surrounded by a mortgage."
John Forkner asked how can women be made to dress more sensibly? Louise answered, "Kill off all the men."

H. D. Stringer asks, "How many shirts can you get out of a yard?" Rabb Harrison replied,
"It depends on whose yard you are in."

Of the 1094 women who fainted
last year 1091 fell in the arms of men, 2 fell on the floor and one fell in the kitchen sink.

(A lot of things have not changed so much in the past 50 years, just glamorized and more expensive today. The girls now do not have their union suit legg stuffed down in their stockings.)

Mrs. John McWhorter visited with her son, Frankie McWhorter, who is a patient in a Canadian hospital, Sunday.

Mrs. Grace Monzingo, Mrs.
Myrtle Howard, Mrs. Mary Lenoir,
Mrs. Flossie Allen and her sister,
Mrs. Bradshaw of Dallas, left Wednesday on an extended vacation trip to the northwest states.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Richardson attended the football game at Teasx Tech stadium over the weekend.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

A recent issue of a national magazine called attention to the serious conditions which exist in our nation's veterans hospitals. The study of inadequate care and facilities shocked the nation. The magazine, through words and pictures, dramatically told the story in the Senate Veterans Subcommittee have been trying to get across to the American public, Senator Alan Cranston of California was appointed by me to chair the hearings on Veterans Administration Hospital care and did a thorough and exceedingly capable job.

This nation used to pride itself in the quality of care it furnished its war veterans. Now that care is becoming a national disgrace. As the war in Southeast Asia continues, the casualty lists grow and grow. The demands on our veterans hospitals are greater each day but the care is not there.

There are 166 Veterans Administration Hospitals and 202 Veterans Administration out-patient clinics across the country. The hospitals are overcrowded and many are outmoded, approaching obsolescence. The hospitals and clinics are understaffed.

We have nine of these Veterans Administration Hospitals in Texas. They are located in Dallas, Houston, Amarillo, Bonham, Waco, Kerrville, Marlin, Big Spring, and Temple. The needs of these hospitals are typical of the needs of the Veterans Administration Hospitals in the other states. In addition to these hospitals, I have gotten through the Congress a Veterans Administration Hospital for South Texas to be built in San Antonio. Last year I was able to get an appropriation of $25 million dollars to build that San Antonio hospital, but the Administration has frozen this money and will not build the hospital.

The Dallas Veterans Administration Hospital is short 65 staff positions and needs an additional $260,000 a year for drugs and other medical and dental supplies to properly treat the veterans there. The Veterans Administration Hospital in Houston needs money to staff over 200 positions and $900,000 for medical and dental supplies. The story is similar in the other VA Hospitals in Texas.

Over the country there are just half as many attendants per 100 veterans in Veterans Administration Hospitals as there are attendants per 100 patients in civilian hospitals.

The budget sent to Congress this year simply does not ask for enough money to meet the growing need.

As ranking majority member of the Senate Veterans Affairs Subcommittee, I am working to get an additional $174 million for medical and hospital care for our veterans. As a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I will be pushing for more funds for Veterans Administration medical and hospital programs necessary to care for these veterans.

The major business going on today at the local office was inventory and signing the paper work for the transfer of the district to Pampa area.

dustry in the remaining states. "It is second largest in Texas we are told," he said. The tourist dollar changes hands seven times in the community it is spent in. If motels in Memphis were filling to capacity each night by tourists, and these tourists spent just half of the national average for over-night lodging in Memphis, this would mean a $6,438,000 boost to local economy each year, he pointed out.

The new president and his wife have taken several opportunities to travel with U. S. 287 caravans in the past. He reported that everywhere they went, they were received with hearty welcomes and much enthusiasm. "It seems other tourists far more than we do in Texas, recognize and appreciate Texas," he said.

The association distributes over 70,000 maps to travelers on its highway each year. Also, plans have been made to get involved in Travel Shows over the nation by sitting up booths to distribute literature about sights on the Florida to Alaska route.

Tucker also reported that Bob Huddleston of Amarillo has been hired by the association to film 30 minutes of color film to be used for promotion of the route including Hwy. 90 and Canada 2 which covers the Southwest and Northwest.

"This film will be ready soon and I want to show it here in Memphis when it can be arranged," Tucker said.

Tucker also pointed out that the Palo Duro Scenic Road would be an excellent opportunity to encourage more tourism in the state. "I was talking with the director of the program in Montana who came here our south bound caravan," he said. "This Plains country is beautiful with its craggy mountains. Naturally, I thought the tourists of Montana were here," Tucker said.
