Early estimates that the 1970 Hall County cotton crop would be around 25,000 bales appears to be a bit shy, but only by a 1,000 bales or so, as most ginning points in the county report the harvest about over.

Hall County has harvested 24,454 bales of cotton as of this morning, a telephone survey of the 12 county ginning points indicate.

However, gins in the Estelline and Turkey areas report they still have more cotton yet to be harvested. Turkey area indicated they would have about three or four more days of steady ginning before the taper off started.

Estelline gin reported this morning that harvesting was still continuing and they liked quite a bit more before the season would be over.

Gins in the Memphis, Pliska, Lakeview, Lesley and Brice areas all indicated the season is just about over for them. Some expect to get maybe one or two hundred more bales, possibly.

If favorable harvesting weather continued this month, it is possible that the 1970 cotton crop may all be harvested in 1970, a rather rare situation, considering many times it is late January before the ginning season is completed.

Classing Report

Ideal weather in the Greenbelt area has allowed farmers to strip cotton at full speed, according to Wiley Cain at the USDA Consumer and Marketing Service Cotton Classing Office in Memphis.

"We are about five classing days behind and are gaining a little each day now," Mr. Cain said this morning, "we worked last Sunday but will be off this Sunday, after working Saturday."

The officer in charge of the Memphis office listed the following classing report for cotton classed through last Friday:

There were 14,875 samples classed bringing the total to 38,836. It is estimated that the crop is now about 50 per cent classed.

Light spots continued to dominate the grades. They accounted for 6 percent, being mostly Mid Lt Spot and SLM Lt Spot.

Staples classed showed six percent 29-32, 64 percent 15-16, and 22 percent 31-32.

Pressley readings showed 74 percent reading 80,000 to 95,000 psi.

The market for Greenbelt cotton showed a slight improvement this week. Buyer interest increased and average prices made a comeback of 15 to 75 points over last week on qualities in demand. The most active qualities traded and the average prices received by the farmer were Mid Lt Sp 15-16, 19.75; and SLM Lt Sp 15-16, 19.50.

Average price paid for cottonseed at the gin was $59.00 per ton.

Panhandle Tourney Is Next For Local Cagers

Memphis Basketball teams will be competing this weekend in the Panhandle Invitational Basketball tournament, with both teams playing teams from Fritch in the opening round.

Next Tuesday, Dec. 15, beginning at 6:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. Memphis teams will play host to two teams from Quail in what promises to be a real exciting night of basketball.

The Memphis girls of Coach Joe are on an eight-game winning streak as they swept through four games of the Memphis tournament to capture the tournament championship.

The Memphis girls continued their winning ways with a victory Sunday night over the Wellington Cyclonettes 42 to 19.

Coach Bain said the first round game at Panhandle, against the Fritch girls, will be a test for the Memphis girls. The game is set for 12:30 p. m. today, with the winner playing the winner of the Groom and Panhandle girls at 7 p. m. Friday night. Losers of these two games play at 9:30 a. m. Friday morning, the brackets show.

One of the real interesting aspects of this tournament is that the Claude girls, the team which has dominated District 2-A for the past few seasons, is in the top portion of the bracket. Should Memphis and Claude get into the finals, it would be a preview of things to come in district action.

Teams in the tournament are Claude, Hedley, Panhandle B, White Deer, Fritch, Memphis, Groom and Panhandle.

The Cyclone of Coach Harold Gouge will play at 2 p. m. in the tournament today. The winner of this game will play the winner of the Groom-Panhandle game at 8:30 p. m. Friday night, while the losers play at 11 a. m. Friday.

Synthetics and Substitutes Hurting Farmers!

As pointed out recently by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., all agriculture, cotton in particular, are facing more and more competition from synthetics, substitutes and imitations. According to information given by Agricultural Economics Professor Dr. Leo Poloplus of the University of Florida, the food and fiber supplied the nation by farmers and ranchers can now be derived from petroleum, algae, trash fish and many other sources. This means that agriculture can no longer assume it has a secure position as the supplier of human needs.

The professor cited certain "drinks" which contain no fruit solids; that dairy products was one of the first to be hit by substitutes; and oil seed products are competing with synthetic protein substitutes in livestock feeding rations, and synthetic meats are now aiming to replace markets for beef, pork and poultry products.

Dr. Poloulus points to the activities of the Florida Department of Citrus as an example of what can be done to "counter-vail" competition from synthetic substitutes. Supported by per-box taxes levied in Florida on citrus entering the market, the FDC has made an impressive start toward winning consumer support by improving existing products, introducing new products and providing package and serving conveniences. In 1969-70 the Florida citrus industry put $16.5 million into advertising, research, regulatory work and administrative functions.

Dr. Poloulus recommends 10 avenues by which agriculture can meet the increased competition. Seven of the 10 are applicable to the cotton industry and in fact are to some degree being followed by the Cotton Producers Institute's dollar-a-bale program. The seven points:

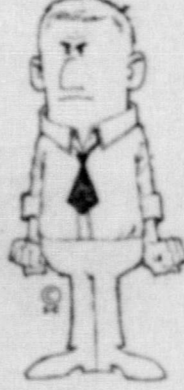

1. Regularly monitor consumer attitudes and awareness of natural and substitute products.
2. Develop data on prices, quantities consumed, percent of families buying and demographic characteristics of both traditional and imitation products.
3. Alter existing products in light of market and consumer research.
4. Develop new products that satisfy consumer needs and fill marketing voids.
5. Unify industry objectives and policies relating to imitation products.
6. Develop or improve the organizational structure of the agricultural industry.
7. Generate sufficient promotional and research dollars on a continuing basis to deal with the problem realistically.

The problems that cotton faces with synthetic competition are not greatly different from those successfully met by the Florida citrus industry. And there is every reason to believe the cotton industry, too, can solve some of its problems and improve its position in the marketplace. The key for cotton perhaps lies in the seventh point made by Dr. Poloplus—adequate funding on a continuing basis. And a dollar-a-bale program, supplemented by the $10 million per year market development fund provided for in the new farm program, should be sufficient to put cotton back on the road to greater prominence in the world of textile fibers.

In need of history lesson

It would profit us if we could persuade teachers to teach some history, maybe about Greece in 400 B. C. Greece was the center of world culture, power and achievement. Then work became unpopular. People turned to fun and games. Everybody was doing his own thing. Greek teachers came up with phoney solutions to all problems. None of them worked. Hashish, akin to marijuana, was popular. Philosopher and teacher Aristotle wrote that children are "rulers of their parents." Plutarch, the historian, wrote that men were bizarre costumes and women found joy in wearing men's attire. Greece was obsessed with sex. So chaos ensued. Alexander the Great over-ran the country. It took hundreds of years for Greece to rebuild its culture and regain its liberties. Generations of Greeks lived and died in slavery because their forefathers cast liberty aside. It makes a gripping story; but, of course, it couldn't happen again, could it?

Pity The Poor Ref!

Have you ever had occasion to feel sorry for the referee of the game you are watching? Have you ever considered how embarrassed they must be when things go wrong for them?

Take the case of the football referee who called some games here last season. In one of them he was all busy signalling a penalty, and when he pointed, his fingers went through the face mask and poked Bill Strange right in the eye!

The referee was telling me about some of his experiences in Silverton the other day, and this was one incident that he recalled. Needless to say, even a referee never forgets his "most embarrassing moments."

"The thing that impressed me most about Silverton," he told me, "was that the team never quit trying, the whole game through. As I recall, Silverton lost all three of the games I refereed. They were out-manned by better teams in each case, but they never quit. Several of the fans and coaches complimented us on the way the games were called, and this is a very rare thing from the losing town."

My brother-in-law, the basketball referee, tells me that on one occasion he blew his whistle, tossed the ball into the air for a jump, and got his lips all smashed up when the players came down on him after jumping. After that experience, he had made it his habit to blow the whistle, drop the whistle and then toss the ball.

Then came his most embarrassing moment. He was using an over-sized whistle; he had washed it out good before the game. When he blew the whistle and dropped it preparing to toss the ball, the whistle came apart and the little bead inside it went rolling across the floor. Time out! While the referee collects his whistle, and gets another out of his pocket. Rule One: a good referee always carries at least two whistles!

Winter winds groan in passing through the paneless windows of the deserted old house. The door swings in the process of decay and fragments of paper dangle from the ceiling. Warmth and light are gone from the rooms which once echoed with the laughter of children, and perhaps a mother's prayers. Alone in the night against a curtain of changeless stars, the house can attain no more than providing a sanctuary for someone's memories.

English ivy were the decorations. The same setting was used for the bridal luncheon Friday honoring the bride-elect, her attendants and other members of the house-party. Decorative touches were achieved with heart-shaped place-cards edged with pearls, and by white carnation centerpieces for the tables.

It's easier for a man to swallow his pride than to digest it.

Homemakers today purchase pork from leaner hogs. The amount of ham and loin in hogs has increased by 23.5 per cent, the equivalent of an extra ham for every hog. There's a more uniform year-round supply because with better feed utilization it takes less time to get hogs to market.

Store-Front Funnies

Today much attention is being focused on water supply as an aspect of man's environment that can be either a natural resource of great benefit to him or a vehicle by which disease organisms or toxic chemicals can be distributed widely.

The public has no way of directly protecting its own water supply. Constant vigilance by health and waterworks officials is necessary for continued safe water production and distribution. These professionals exercise this vigilance by regular evaluation of existing public water supplies and thorough study of proposed installations.

The Texas State Department of Health inspects the water systems in all communities throughout the State. Employees of the Water Supply Program of the Division of Sanitary Engineering review and approve plans and specifications for new water systems and additions to existing systems, and field representatives make regular surveys of facilities to secure corrections needed to assure safe drinking water for public use.

Travelers may have noticed some communities have a sign posted at their city limits announcing that their municipal water supply has been approved by the State Health Department. This sign indicates that the water supply does more than meet the minimum requirements of the U. S. Health Service Drinking Water Standards and State Health Department regulations.

Today there are some 450 public water supplies across the state that have been approved by the State Health Department and certified as safe and sanitary.

The evaluation of a public drinking water supply appraises the origin, treatment, distribution, and storage of water, and the bacteriological, physical, chemical, and radiochemical qualities of the water as it flows from the tap.

New Booklet On Texas Grasses Is Released

Texas has a valuable asset of good grassland. Texas is the leading livestock state. The Soil Conservation Service has just released a new booklet "Grassland Restoration and Wildlife". According to David Seitz Soil Conservationist the new booklet describes why grassland needs restoring; how widespread the problem is; how grassland is restored; and how this affects wildlife.

It answers questions, what about brush control; does brush control hurt or help habitat; and how you can get in planning grassland restoration in such a way to improve rather than hurt wildlife habitat. Copies of the illustrated booklet are available for the Soil Conservation Service in Memphis.

Local Delegates Attend State Meeting Dec. 3-5

Featured speakers at the annual Texas Farmers Unions Convention in Amarillo Dec. 3-5 were Senator Ralph Yarborough; Tony Dechant of Denver, national president of Farmers Union; Jay Naman, president of Texas Farmers Union; and Paul Babey, president of Uniform, the new Canadian farm organization.

Delegates from Hall County Farmers Union were J. J. McDaniel, president, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKown.

Senator Yarborough said, "The present Administration had shown an incredible lack of concern for the small farmer. The Secretary, who was alleged to be an expert in agricultural matters, made several sweeping and callous decisions that struck at the very heart of the farm policy. Instead of trying to understand the problems that American farmers face as a result of high interest rates and runaway inflation, the Secretary:

- (1) cut the wheat acreage allotment by 12 per cent;
- (2) cancelled advance feed grain payments;
- (3) refused to spend the funds appropriated by Congress for the Agriculture Conservation Program;
- (4) refused to increase dairy price support to the authorized 90 per cent of parity; and
- (5) cut the price protection on soybeans."

NFU President Dechant said, "The trade bill passed by the House of Representatives and now pending before the Senate could endanger an estimated $130 million-a-year market for Texas farm products."

He said, "Though the bill is intended only to limit shoe and textile imports, mostly from Japan and the European Common Market countries, it will invite retaliation against our far larger exports of farm products. We sell twice as much farm products to these countries as the amounts of shoes and textiles they sell to us. It would appear to be poor economics to endanger this market that does so much to maintain our balance of trade."

"Texas' share of the farm market to the Common Market countries is $59 million a year, according to USDA estimates. The state's share to Japan is another $71 million."

"Japan is the largest single customer of the American farmer. The Common Market countries form the largest customer group." TPU President Naman told delegates that extra measures of support, dedication and determination will be needed in the coming year to save farm programs essential for survival of farm families and rural communities. The Farmers Union, he said, must lead a campaign to convince the Nixon administration that the new farm bill's radical changes in traditional farm program concepts will be unworkable, undesirable and in direct conflict with the wishes of farmers. He also referred to the administration's "callous disregard for farmers."

Unanimously elected for one-year terms for the 10,000 member farm organization were Jay I. Naman, Waco, President; Joe Rankin, Ralls, Vice-President; and Elizabeth Doshier, McGregor, Secretary.

Delegates to the National Farmers Union convention in Washington, D. C., during February, 1971, and Rankin; Billy Bob Toombs, Merkel; and Doris Blissard, Garden City. Alternates are: Ron Kotara, Panhandle; Woodrow Bice, Tulsa; and J. W. Maddux, Hewitt.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Soil Tests Are Most Reliable Guide For Fertilizer Use

It's time to begin thinking about fertilizer needs for 1971 and logically, reminds County Agent W. B. Hooser, a soil test should be the beginning for making the determination on what plant food or foods are needed.

An expression of the soil fertility level is not a simple single index since any combination of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium levels can exist. Soil tests should be used to determine the level of major plant nutrients, and fertilization practices for the soil and crop should be adjusted in accordance with existing soil fertility levels, points out the county agent. Chances for making high and profitable yields depend upon many factors, including soil fertility, cultural practices, management and climate and all should get attention when cropping plans are being made, says Hooser.

Moisture may be the major limiting factor in many areas. Available moisture already in the soil, that to be supplied by irrigation, and the estimated rainfall should get careful attention. However, where moisture and fertility are the limiting factors, fertilization is still usually profitable. Adequate fertilization aids in the development of a better root system which helps the plant make more efficient use of the available moisture.

Adequate fertilization should not be overlooked as a means for reducing per unit production costs and increasing profit. With a realistic yield goal and sufficient information on management and other production factors, soil tests are a reliable guide for pointing out the fertilization program needed to reach the desired production goals, says the county agent.

night before a good crowd in Cyclone Gymnasium.

All tournament team selections were announced immediately following play by Memphis Coach Clyde McMurray.

Named all tournament on the boys team were: T. J. Bogal of Arnett, Okla., Shane Reiken of Hedley, Lewis Richburg of Lakeview, Darrell Feemster of Quail and Tommy Johnson of Memphis.

All tournament girls included: Guards, Karen Lee of Paducah, LaQuita Defoor of Arnett, Okla., and Mary Beck of Memphis; and Forwards, Brenda Smith of Lakeview, Renee White of Hedley and Wanda Walker of Memphis.

Several of the games in the tournament were exciting contests especially in semi-final matches when Lakeview girls defeated Hedley and Quail boys defeated Memphis.

In the girls division, the Lakeview Eaglettes advanced into the finals with a come from behind victory over the Hedley Owllettes. Hedley led five points at the end of the third period, only to see their lead vanish as Lakeview's forwards led by Brenda Smith, score 17 points in the final period to win the contest 50 to 46. Smith racked up 38 points against Hedley, the highest single scoring effort of the part of any of the girls in the tournament.

The Memphis girls team showed a lot of poise as they overcame opponents to advance into the finals. Playing the five-team bottom portion of the bracket, the Memphis girls had to play three games, instead of two, to reach the finals.

Memphis girls, led by Wanda Walker on the forward end and Pam Watson and Mary Beck on the guard end, defeated Estelline 44 to 30, Paducah 50 to 39 and then Arnett, Okla., 52 to 34.

Girls Finals

The sudden death of A. A. (Bud) Smith of Lakeview, father of Brenda Smith, late Friday afternoon, after he had attended the Lakeview-Hedley girls game here, was certainly regretted and felt at the Memphis tournament Saturday.

The Lakeview girls, without Miss Smith, and with sympathies lying with their absent offensive leader, were noticeably off their usual sharpness.

The Cyclonettes of Coach Joe Bain took a 47 to 29 victory to capture the trophy. Lakeview was awarded the runner-up trophy and Brenda Smith was given the largest ovation of all when her name was called as an all-tournament selection.

Boys Finals

But when the boys took the floor, there was no question that the long-time rivalry between Hedley and Quail was still alive and as everyone expected, the feathers flew as the Owls and the Quails battled it out.

Hedley held the early edge, as both teams had early scoring problems with the first quarter ending with the score 4 to 2 in Hedley's favor.

Hedley led at halftime 23 to 14 and it looked like the Owls were in command, but the Quails began flying and hitting the baskets and in the final minutes took the lead and captured a 52 to 44 victory over Hedley.

Fans who didn't see the action, missed a truly hard fought game.

Headly had a rather easy time of it gaining the finals, as they downed Memphis "B" 51 to 33 and then went on to defeat Chillicothe 51 to 36.

But the Quails had to fight their way to the top. First, Arnett's boys team, which captured the consolation trophy, put up quite a fight after they solved Quail's pressing tactics. Quail won 65 to 48, but it was a good game. Then Quail met a fired up Memphis Cyclone team, a team which had won its first game of the season over Estelline the night before, 90 to 39.

Early in the game, it looked like Quail's shooting accuracy would give them an easy victory as they led 21 to 13 in the first period. But late in the second quarter, Memphis' full court press started to wear into the Quails' lead. Halftime, it was 38 to 31 in Quail's favor.

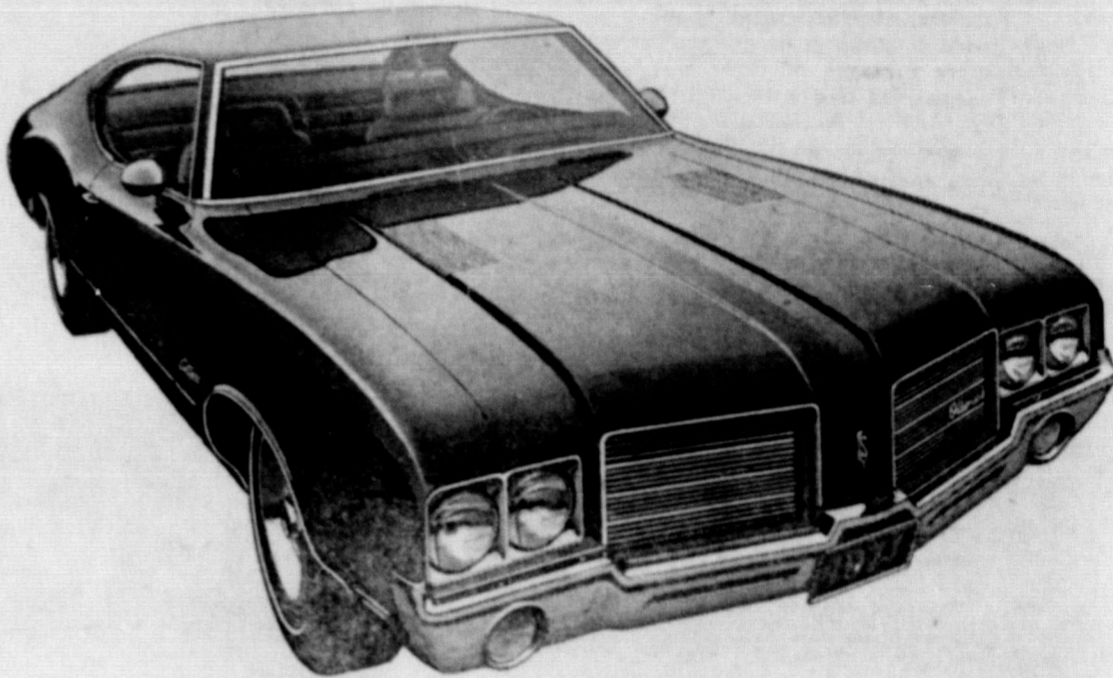

When the second half opened, Memphis continued to press, with the ball going up and down the court so fast it almost resembled a tennis match, and Quail's lead vanished and Memphis took a slight edge. Quail caught back up at the end of the third period and the score was 56 to 56.

Memphis continued to press Quail throughout the final period. Larry Don Johnson fouled out of the game, and then later Donnie

Carroll fouled out. Louis Davis, Tommy Johnson, John Carmen, Lenis Simpson and Bill Oslin were on the court in the final minutes and the team continued to score in a saw battle with Quail. The score was tied numerous times as the clock reached final seconds. Hedley scored breaking the 72-72 tie, making 74 to 72. Then Memphis came (Continued on Page 11)

When you get out of bed in the morning, your supplement feeding chores may already be done for days to come—if you're feeding T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

Because one refill of the free-choice range feeders will take care of your herd for about ten days, using a T-E feeder for every 75 to 100 head. All you have to do is make the rounds, once every ten days, stopping at each feeder long enough to watch it fill up.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement cuts out most of the time, labor and equipment connected with dry supplements... saves you money.

The proof of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement is in the extra quality your animals will show—extra energy, extra good health, extra gain. And that means extra profits from your range feeding program.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement along with adequate roughage, minerals and water, is the easy way to be sure your animals are getting the protein, phosphorus, vitamins and trace minerals they need for energy and growth.

Of course, you do have to get out of bed—at least every ten days. Otherwise it could spoil you.

T-E LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT IS MADE FROM A PATENTED FORMULA

The basic ingredients of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement are urea, phosphoric acid, molasses, vitamins A, D and E and trace minerals. to Newlin in 1895, and on to Memphis in 1907. The children now living are Jesse Hamilton of Memphis, Olive Ruth Lagon of Dallas and E. M. Ewen, Jr., of Wichita Falls. John Ewen passed away Sept. 23, 1967. His wife, Grace Fickas Ewen now lives in Missouri. They have five children now living. Buck of Kansas, Vivian and Patsy of Missouri, and Bob is now living in Tulsa. Grace Ewen's father and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fickas, moved to Memphis in 1911, where they operated a drug store for several years. They moved from here to Lubbock in 1924. They have one other child besides Grace now living, Virile Shearer of Lubbock.

Visiting in Heritage Hall last week were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rice of Amarillo. I think they were on their way to visit their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Halford. They lived on adjoining places in Mexico several years ago. I think Lawson will have a few less birds on his place when these friends leave. Mr. Rice worked for H. Lott in the early days of construction of the high- ways in Hall County. He has worked for the Santa Fe Railroad for over 30 years. He is now engineer on the passenger train that runs out of Amarillo.

Martin Johnson brought the embalmed rattle snake in last Tuesday for display in a glass case. This snake was killed by Floyd McIntush on his place in Collingworth County. This snake is 62 inches long, has 14 rattlers and a button. The first group to view this snake after it was brought in was Mrs. Esther Stone's Daye Care Center Class. The members of this class were Kyle McQueen, Killi McQueen, Gabriel Garza, Clint Goldston, Steve Prince, Labeth Williams, Nelda Gay Stone and Mrs. Stone. They were very excited over such a large snake and they were advised to retreat fast when they see a snake.

Lee Gregory of Turkey visiting in Heritage Hall past week. We visited together and reminisced on some of the early days. Lee's mother and father, the late Mr. and Mrs. Finis Gregory, moved from Whitesboro to Memphis in 1908. They lived here for 3 years and moved to Tulsa and their next move was to Canyon where the father passed away, and the family moved to Amarillo and from Amarillo to Childress where Mrs. Gregory, the mother, passed away.

There were 6 children in this family and 4 are now living. Mrs. Etta Anderson of Childress, Lee of Turkey, Doyle of Fort Worth and Mildred, the only child born in Memphis, is living in Midland. Lee attended school in Memphis 1908-1910, and worked in Estelline seven years. Lee met and married Nell Thrasher, daughter of the late M. E. Thrasher of Turkey. He operated a gin for a good many years in Turkey. I asked him about the number of bales he ginned in a day, and he said he thought about 40 to 50 bales a day. The days were 16 hours long. This family lived on Bradford across from Leslie's Greenhouse.

Opal Davis Rothwell of Globe, Ariz., visiting in Heritage Hall. She is the daughter of the late W. M. Davis and his wife. She is also a sister of the late Garvis Davis who passed away a few days ago. Opal attended school at Salisbury when Frank Garrett and Mrs. Thames were teaching there. She stayed with the Dr. McNeelys part of the time while attending school at Memphis. She later had transportation to Memphis school by riding in the car with the Vick Yarbrough kids. She said we did not have places in the school to eat at that time, so they had to bring their own lunch. She married Rothwell in 1934 and they have 2 children living, Paul of Abilene working for an airline company, and one daughter, Jerry Rothwell Nelson living in Globe, Ariz. Her husband is principal of one of the schools there.

A quote from friend Tomie Potts was that the young man applied for a job in Florida and they wanted his qualifications. They asked him if he could pick lemons and he replied, "I guess I can. I have been married five times!"

Well, the First Baptist Church has a new pastor. He and his family moved here from Silvertown. He has a wife, Nita, and three sons, Mike, 11 years old; Mark, 4 years and Ken 1 year. His name is Murphy and I thought Pat and Mike would be his given name, but not so. It is C. H. Murphy and he has no nick-name but has been called C. H. where he has lived before. Of course this C. H. is on some sugar that is sold, so we do not want to get mixed up and call him "Sugar" as one small girl did. Besides we are going to have to use that sugar on our selves for a while until he finds us out. C. H. makes the 23rd pastor this church has had since organized in 1890. I have been in the church with 17 counting this last one. I have observed that preachers in the same denomination of faith are like a large family of kids, where each and every one of them will have different characteristics in their lives. I am working on a character description of each one of these former pastors that I have known. Well, the church called it a "pounding" they gave C. H. last Sunday night after services, but it looked like a "tonnage" to me with a hundred pounds of sugar, 200 can goods asst., besides crackers, Crisco, coffee, tea, pickles, sardines and even pepper and onions.

I was visiting with members of the Frank Ogden family who were here last week. J. Ben Carsey of Houston, the son of the late Dorothy Ogden, and grandson of Frank who is now in his 99th year.

Mrs. Henry Frierson, the former Elsie Ogden, now living in Georgia. She graduated from MHS in 1927 and moved away that same year. with Elsie was her sister, Grace Ogden Fitzgerald who graduated from MHS in 1930 and moved away that same year. Grace is now living in Washington, D. C. One of the other sisters, Dorothy, now deceased. The other sister, Frances, who married V. L. McGlockin is living in Nashville. When V. L. and Frances were young people here, they were both good singers, but I have not noticed either one of them in Grand Ole Opry or "Haw".

V. L., the brother of Mrs. Carl Hill of Estelline, has been very successful in his operation and is now supervisor of the Southern Division of Baptist Book Stores. Congratulations to him.

Tip to motorists: Watch out for school kids—they weren't brought up to be run down.

Jim Bob Brewer Dies Suddenly In Waco Nov. 27th

Jim Bob Brewer, who resided at 3550 Frazier, Fort Worth, died of a heart attack Friday, Nov. 27, in a Waco Hospital. He was a nephew of Mrs. Bess Crump of Memphis, and graduated from Memphis High School.

He was a member of the St. Paul United Methodist Church of Fort Worth. Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Monday, Nov. 30, by Cole and Haverson Funeral Home of Fort Worth, with Rev. Len Layne and Rev. C. A. Mangram in charge. Burial was in Laurel Land Cemetery.

After finishing school here, he attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. After graduation he joined the U. S. Army, and saw service during World War II in Europe. Survivors, in addition to his aunt, include his wife, Ouida, of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Janice Gooch of Port Arthur, Tex., and his father, S. Webb Brewer of Fort Worth.

(Continued from Page 8) with the basketball with 15 seconds on the clock. Some Memphis players were trying to signal time-out but were unsuccessful in catching the officials eye, when a Memphis pass went out of bounds, intended for one of the boys signaling. Quail took over the ball and retained possession until the final buzzer.

This was the Memphis boys finest effort of the season so far, as Coach Harold Gouge's Cyclone squad is showing steady improvement.
