Christmas Lights To Be Judged Fri.

Judging in the Memphis Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting contest will be Friday night, Dec. 18, according to project chairman, Dr. Jack L. Rose.

Judges will tour Memphis Friday night and judge winners in the annual lighting contest. The Chamber of Commerce committee on community development is sponsoring the Christmas lighting contest again this year.

Colored pictures of the decorations will be presented to winners in two categories. One category for outside and yard decorations and the other for the most beautiful window decorations, as viewed from outside the house.

Business houses will be judged and given ribbons for first, second and third places.

Judging will be the night of Dec. 18 by a panel of impartial judges. Everyone is encouraged to leave their lights on until midnight to give the judges time to view the lights and make their selections.

Hall County Commissioners Court, meeting in December session, voted a $50 a month salary raise to all elected officials and all appointed officials, becoming effective in January, 1971.

The only exception to this flat amount raise, according to the Commissioners Court minutes is in salaries of the Hall County Sheriff and Deputies. The Sheriff and both Deputies, one in Memphis and one in Turkey, were given a $100 increase in mileage expense but no increase in salary.

There was no mention in the minutes of salary raises for other employees of Hall County, such as employees of the Commissioners Precincts, etc.

Also, according to the court minutes, it has been eight years since elected officials of Hall County have had a salary raise, however, deputies were given a salary raise six years ago.

Officials and deputies have met with the Commissioners the past few months after an official request was made to the commissioners to grant a salary raise.

The Commissioners voted unanimously for the salary increase.

The Commissioners also at the meeting, voted to pass out paychecks on Dec. 21, a common practice in past years of paying county employees before Christmas.

Other action taken by the commissioners, three men were re-appointed to the Hall County Hospital Board. Appointed to fill terms from Jan. 1, 1971 to Jan. 1, 1974 are Ben Parks of Memphis, W. B. Mullin of Turkey, and Carl Hill, of Parnell.

Also, at the request of District Judge Charles L. Reynolds, the Hall County Commissioners granted a salary raise of approximately $20 per month as Hall County's pro rata share of a salary raise for the District Court Reporter.

Hall County's cotton harvest is continuing even though harvest is in the last stages. This week's report shows 29,216 bales have been gathered, which is a record. The harvest was done at Plaska, Estelline and Turkey, as other ginning points in the county have just about wrapped up for the season.

The heaviest ginning the past week was done at Plaska, Estelline and Turkey, as other ginning points in the county have just about wrapped up for the season.

Classing Report
"Ideal harvesting weather has prevailed and by working seven days a week, we have been able to class as much as we have received," Wiley E. Cain, officer in charge of the USDA, C&MS Cotton Classing office in Memphis, reports.

As of last Friday, the office had classed 20,900 samples last week which brought the season total to 59,800.

Grades remained about the same. Light spots accounted for 78 percent of the grades. Mid Lt Sp was 42 percent and SLM Lt Sp accounted for 34 percent of the samples classed.

Staples classed showed six percent 29-32, 61 percent 15-16, and 30 percent 31-32.

Local Insurance Agents Notified Of Changes On Dwelling Policies

Insurance agents in Memphis were notified last week of a basic change in insurance policies on dwellings, a spokesman for the agents said this week. The notification came in the form of new regulations from the State Board of Insurance.

The most significant change is the application of a percentage deductible, the local independent agents state in an advertisement in this issue of The Democrat.

The change will be applicable to policies with an effective date of December 10, 1970 and thereafter. Policies already in effect will not be changed until their expiration.

The percentage deductible in the Panhandle area will be one per cent of the amount of insurance of the house, with a minimum of $100 for the deductible. In other words, a house insured for $10,000 or less will have a $100 deductible; but those with more than $10,000 insurance will carry a higher deductible... one per cent of the amount of insurance.

In the past, insurance buyers have had a choice of $100 deductible, $50 deductible, or no deductible.

The $50 deductible has been eliminated altogether; no deductible may be obtained with an additional premium payment, if the insurance company is willing to accept the no deductible, the local spokesman said.

On dwelling insurance, the deductible will be applicable to damage done by hail, wind, explosion, riot, civil commotion, aircraft, land vehicle, and smoke; it will not apply to damage from fire or lightning.

On homeowner policies, two deductibles will still be in effect. The first deductible applies to damage from hail or wind only; the second to all other damages covered by the policy. However, the $50 deductible feature has also been removed from future homeowner policies.

Local agents signing the advertisement in this issue are A. L. Gailey, Kinard-Gailey Agency; Allen Dunbar, Dunbar and Dunbar; Lester Campbell, Campbell Insurance Agency; L. B. Snider, Snider Insurance Agency; and Zack Fisher, Fisher-Red River Agency.

Agents point out in the ad that no advance notice or publicity can be given. (Continued on Page 12)

Cooperation!

The spirit of cooperation is a wonderful thing, and we have observed this spirit on several occasions recently and feel those responsible should be commended for their efforts.

One event made most successful was the recent basketball tournament under sponsorship of Memphis schools with the aid of a lot of others pitching in to insure the success of the project.

It was heartwarming to see how students and adults alike went about the process of supplying the needs of fans and athletes as well as the officials. One small thing, we noted, was a little service provided by tournament score keepers during haltime and between the games. The officials would come off the court, leg weary, hot, and tired, and the score-board keeper would go to the concession stand and get them a cold drink.

You wouldn't think a little thing like this would mean a lot, just a cup with some sweetened water and ice in it would mean very much, but to those officials it was about the most important thing in the tournament. It allowed them to get off their feet for a few minutes to rest their aching feet and legs.

Cooperation is seen at every turn. Sunday at the local band's concert, this editor enjoyed listening to Billy Cosby play his oboe with the local band. Billy is studying music in Rauchenbicherstrasse, Austria, and he was enthusiastic about playing with the local band on this Christmas concert. He also played the organ at the First United Methodist Church Sunday morning.

This newspaper is always fortunate to receive the cooperation it does, week after week, year after year, from residents who aid the writer in collecting the information needed in order to publish a newsy paper.

Without this cooperation, even the best effort of our staff could not possibly cover the field as well as it is covered now. Columnist Bryon Baldwin is our biggest contributor each week. Byron has an avid readership and his column will appear so long as B. B. has the fortitude to write.

The Christmas Edition is coming out next week. Cooperation is a big part of this issue as youngsters and their parents bring in their Santa Claus letters for publication.

But no other time of the year do we see the cooperative spirit manifested like we do during the Christmas season. Our citizens are decorating their homes and businesses beautifully.

Cooperation and teamwork are what make success. Without it, nothing of a public nature can be very successful. Many projects need help, and some go wanting for lack of support.

The judging of the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting contest will be Friday night. The chamber asks for cooperation of citizens by leaving their lights on until 11 p. m. Friday, Dec. 18, in order to give judges ample time to make selections.

All in all, cooperation is a big part of our society. Without it, things could go bad pretty fast. With it, much good work can and is being done.

The wishing season is here...

Christmas—A Day

Researchers have come up with some interesting background on Christmas customs that add depth and meaning to the most momentous of all holidays. Many historians believe that Christmas may have had its origins in ancient Greek and Roman festivities to observe the midwinter change of seasons. The use of greenery at Christmas also grew out of ancient Greek and Roman customs. The celebration of Christ began in the third century but was not officially sanctioned until a century later when Pope Julius I authorized an investigation to determine Christ's probable birth date, which led to the selection of December 25. On that date, in 353 A.D., the Feast of the Nativity was first observed in Rome.

Other Christmas customs originated in many lands over the centuries. The traditional mistletoe branch began with the ancient Druids, who believed the plant had the power to miraculously cure disease and contract poisons. The decorating of Christmas trees began in the eighth century when St. Boniface persuaded the pagans to adorn fir trees in their homes in tribute to the Christ Child. A fourth-century bishop of Turkey, Saint Nicholas, was the real-life predecessor of Santa Claus.

And so the stories go. As the great day of rejoicing and renewal—December 25—approaches, millions will prepare to greet Christmas with a bone-deep feeling of gratitude and thankfulness. It is one occasion, one tradition, and one observance that has withstood the test of time. Those who attempt to tear down all standards by which humanity lives have so far not had the temerity to burn the Christmas tree.

The parable

Put in modern dress the 'parables' don't sound so good. Take the one SMU made into a play last week. It was entitled, "The Prodigal Son," and, in its contemporary context is the son who goes out into the hippy world, craving drugs and sex.

Unfulfilled and disillusioned with his new life style, he returns home where his father welcomes him and finds a choice position for him in the family business, much to the distress of an older brother who had remained in the nest.

"I was a stranger and you did not take me in" was one in which a hippie approached a 'middle-class hard-hat' and asked for a meal.

Slides showing pretentious homes, fabulous Christmas decorations, expensive sports cars and other luxurious scenes were shown by students to re-enact the parable of "The Rich Fool."

Kinda shakes you up when you modernize them... Oh well, they are taught for the 'other fellow' anyway.

There's Been Some Changes In Your Dwelling Insurance Too

The independent insurance agents of Memphis listed below have received from the State Board of Insurance changes which will affect all renewal policies written on dwellings on or after December 10, 1970. Policies now in force will not be affected until expiration date.

Since these changes are basic in their respect, and entirely new to us as your agents and to you as the insurance buyer, we felt it important to notify you in this manner. We knew absolutely nothing about these changes being formed, and had no advance notice of them until we received the new rules and rates late last week.

The principal basic change is the matter of deductibles, and are as follows:

ON DWELLING POLICIES (NOT HOMEOWNER-TYPE POLICIES):

The new deductible will be 1% of the amount of insurance on the house insured, with a minimum deductible of $100; this will apply to all damage done by hail, wind, explosion, riot, civil commotion, smoke, aircraft, and land vehicles. The $50 deductible clause will be no longer available. No deductible may be obtained for an additional premium, subject to acceptance by the insuring company.

This same deductible rule will be applicable to insurance covering contents of dwellings, commonly referred to as household goods insurance.

ON HOMEOWNER-TYPE POLICIES:

The new deductible will be 1% of the amount of insurance on the house, with a minimum of $100 for that deductible; this will be applicable to all damage which is covered under the policy provisions. $50 deductible will no longer be available. No deductible may be obtained for an additional premium, subject to acceptance by the insuring company. Homeowner policies, however, still will have two separate deductibles, with No. 1 applying to damage from hail and wind only, and No. 2 to other covered perils.

Again, let us emphasize that we had no advance notice of these basic changes, and had seen no publicity concerning them prior to receiving the new rates.

Hedley Boys, Wellington Girls Win First In Local Jr. High Tournament

Memphis Jr. High hosted an eight-team round-robin basketball tournament last weekend in which 8th grade boys and girls teams from Memphis, Paducah, Hedley and Wellington competed. The tournament offered a lot of excitement to the teams entering the tournament, and four local business establishments provided trophies for the tournament. Providing funds to purchase trophies for all three Memphis basketball tournaments this year are National Bank, First State Bank, Fowlers Drug and Memphis Dress Co.

When the tournament ended, we saw each team play the other teams in their bracket, the Hedley boys and the Wellington girls scored undefeated records and were first place.

The real contest developed over the place in the boys bracket, three of the other teams had records of 1 and 2. The contest was decided by determining the most points and Memphis this honor with 92 points over Wellington, a 4-0 record took first, Paducah with a 2-1 record took second and Hedley, 0-3, placed third.

Coach Berry expressed appreciation to all those who assisted in the tournament.

In the local girls final game, the 8th graders defeated Hedley 17 to 14 in a low scoring contest, which Memphis led all the way. Butler was high for Memphis with 11 points while White had 10 for Hedley.

The Memphis boys also started out slowly in the tournament losing their first game to Paducah, the team which finished fourth, by a score of 32 to 21. "It was our lowest scoring effort in the tournament," Coach Berry said. Jimmy Melton had 10 points to lead the local 8th graders in scoring.

Friday, Memphis boys played Wellington and defeated them 42 to 34 with a fine fourth quarter rally as the third period ended with the two teams tied at 26 all. Melton scored 12 points and Beck scored 11 points for Memphis.

Memphis had their difficulties with the fine Hedley boys 8th grade team as Hedley won the contest Saturday 46 to 30. Reyes scored 12 for Memphis and Johnson scored 15 for Hedley.

The Hedley boys scored 46 points against Memphis, 60 points against Paducah while holding Paducah to only 15 points, and downed Wellington 28 to 27 in a real close game.

Coach Berry expressed appreciation to all those who assisted in the tournament.

had her finest games of the season and I thought she might make the all tournament team. In my opinion, she was as good as any guard up there," the coach said.

Cyclone Fortune

The Cyclone of Coach Harold Gouge lost their opening round game to Fritch 75 to 60, as Fritch led all the way, despite a truly fine effort on the part of Larry Johnson, who scored 28 points for Memphis.

Memphis went into the consolation and defeated Groom 78 to 43, as Larry Johnson managed 29 points to lead Memphis in scoring.

In the consolation finals, Memphis played Claude, and led the first period 19 to 17. But then, Claude took the lead and held a 37 to 30 halftime edge. Although the local lads fought back in the last half, Claude won the contest 65 to 60. Again it was sophomore Larry Don Johnson leading the scoring for Memphis with 21 points.

Larry Don had his best tournament at Panhandle and was selected on the all tournament boys team. The sophomore is not only one of the real promising young cagers shooting the basketball, but is normally the team's leading rebounder.

Cyclonettes Capture Consolation At Panhandle Inv. Basketball Tournament

Memphis boys and girls played in the consolation of the Panhandle basketball tournament last Saturday. The Coach Joe Bain won the consolation, but the Memphis boys lost in the finals to Claude's Panhandle tournament was important, because it gave indication as to just how the young Memphis girls are getting.

Cyclonettes lost the opening game to a highly rated girls team from Sanford-Fritch, but the team was not very discouraged. The Claude girls, the team dominated District 2-A for several seasons.

Memphis girls led most of the way in the Memphis-Fritch game, 12 to 11 in the first quarter, 17 at halftime and 40 at the end of the third quarter. Fritch forwards forced turnovers from the Memphians, and the game was all 51 to 51 at the end of regulation play, bringing about a minute sudden death play-

Coach Bain said, "We are looking forward to a possible game with Fritch if we can defeat anyone in the Clarendon tournament this weekend," he

Memphis girls played a good game against Fritch, except our guards were a little shaky in the fourth quarter," Coach Bain said. "We are looking forward to a possible game with Fritch if we can defeat anyone in the Clarendon tournament this weekend," he

Memphis went on to defeat Panhandle 50 to 47 and met Claude's girls in the finals of the tournament. Claude managed a one-point victory over Fritch, 46 to 45 as Claude's Janis Irby had 20 points and Fritch's Carolyn Whimire had 34 points.

The Cyclonettes, went on to defeat Groom's girls 53 to 37 as Walker scored 29 points, and then defeated Hedley girls 59 to 36 in the consolation finals as Walker had 29 points.

Walker was selected on the all tournament team as a forward. Coach Bain said, "Wanda played well and deserved all tournament recognition. Also, Pam Watson

Specialist Gives Advice On Buying Different Meats

The buying of beef for the family table or for the home freezer often turns into a chore. But, advises W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist, it need not be.

Meat, he notes, has been graded for quality, how palatable it will be when served, for many years. Most steaks and roasts are cut from the top three grades, Prime, Choice and Good. Choice quality will have a bright cherry red color and flecks of fat intermingled with lean (marbling). The lean will be fine in texture and firm in appearance. The outside fat on a roast or steak grading Choice should be a half-inch or less. All of these can be noted on a cut of meat in the self-service counter, says Bailey.

When a side or quarter of beef is purchased for the home freezer, it is an easy matter to purchase the desired quality grade. However, points out the specialist, this is not all of the needed information. Choice grade carcasses can have from two-tenths to an inch of outside fat. No one wants to buy outside fat at a high price and then trim it off and there is a solution, says Bailey.

To meet the changing conditions, the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1965 started another kind of grading which indicates the quantity of salable meat on a carcass. These are known as yield grades and are numbered from 1 to 5. Yield grade 1 carcasses have the highest yield of retail cuts and 5 the lowest.

Because of this difference in yield of lean meat, there is about $3.60 per hundredweight difference in price between each yield grade, explains Bailey. Thus, a carcass grading Choice or Good with a yield of 1 would be worth $18 more per cwt. than a carcass with a yield grade of 5. On a 600-pound carcass, this would amount to $108, a big difference, in value.

This grading system, explains Bailey, is based on four factors: size of the ribeye muscle at the point where the sides are quartered; thickness of outside fat measured at the ribeye muscle at the point where the side is quartered; amount of kidney, pelvic and heart fat and size of the carcass.

These new yield grades are not only valuable to the consumer but also to the producer, the packer who buys live cattle and the retail butcher.

To the rancher and feeder, they provide a means for identifying breeding and slaughter cattle for differences in yield. He can select for breeding and feeding animals that produce high yielding carcasses.

To the packer, they furnish an additional tool which permits him to more precisely evaluate differences in the value of animals he buys.

To the retail butcher, they provide a means of purchasing beef with an assurance as to its yield of salable meat.

To the consumer, yield grades are an excellent guide to yields of meat bought in the form of a quarter or wholesale cuts for the home freezer.

No man should have reason to complain if he is measured by his own yardstick.

Burn Injuries Cause 540 Deaths During Past Year

AUSTIN — A "silent epidemic" kills and cripples more people than poliomyelitis did during its worst year. In Texas, burn injuries killed 540 last year and 180 of them were children. No one knows how many suffered from burns, but 3,000 of the survivors were left crippled.

Six physicians and others who care for burned children believe the public should know that burns take a shocking toll; that the very young and the elderly are particularly vulnerable; and that legislation could do much to minimize these injuries by setting safety standards for some of the responsible agents.

In an editorial in the November issue of Texas Medicine, published by the Texas Medical Association, the writers emphasize, "These people of Texas have not recognized that they are in the midst of an epidemic of burn injuries." Its magnitude is greater than that of poliomyelitis which, during its peak year 1954, took 134 lives.

During the past three years, 90 percent of the children admitted to the Shriners Burns Institute in Galveston were severely burned in home accidents. "The principal agents were flammable clothing; gasoline and other flammable liquids; and natural gas-operated appliances such as open space heaters, stoves, and water heaters," according to the authors. They are Armond S. Goldman, M. D.; Robert L. Innes; Duane L. Larson, M. D.; Richard C. Schmitt; Sally Abston, M. D.; and Mario Dobrovsky, M. D., who are associated with the Institute and the Departments of Pediatrics and Surgery of The University of Texas Medical Branch.

As a first step toward lessening the tragic burns in children, they recommend that (1) adequate standards be set for flame-proofing children's clothing, (2) use of open gas space heaters be outlawed, and (3) adequate safety standards be devised for gas water heaters.

Development of such legislation will require close cooperation between physicians, legislators, industry leaders, and others. Several Texas legislators already have met with staff members of the Shriners Burns Institute and the Medical Branch to discuss the problem in relation to possible legislative measures.

Women should remember that it is easier to drive a man to drink than it is away from it.

Generation Gap U.S.A.

"Don't tell her I'm here — plug me in — I'll announce myself"

Most people have never heard the definition of "zoonoses"—which isn't a special type zoo—but it is a word very familiar to health authorities throughout the world. Of Greek origin, it means "animal disease". Health officers use it to refer to diseases that can be introduced between animals and man under natural conditions. The most common contact in this country is the ordinary household pet.

The Texas State Department of Health has long operated a zoonoses control program. You've probably heard about the dangers of rabies from infected wild animals or pets. Plague, typhus, encephalitis, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and the like are diseases most commonly known. But there are other chronic, usually milder diseases, also transmissible from animals.

Visceral larva migrans is one of the most common and of great concern to the State Health Department. Visceral larva migrans is a chronic disease caused by the migration of certain nematode larvae from the body wastes of animals into the organs and tissues of humans.

It causes an inflammation of the inner eye, enlargement of the liver, various changes in blood chemistry and a localized acute inflammation of the lung (known to some as "benign pneumonia"). Symptoms may persist for as long as a year.

It occurs sporadically. A youngster in one family may come down, while no other child in the block will get sick. Most victims are one to four years old. This follows, since the reservoir of this disease is usually the dog and the cat common to most households. The mode of transmission is directly related to the eating of dirt by young children. Infective larvae eggs can be transferred from contaminated soil to the mouth.

The eggs reach the soil in body wastes from infected cats and dogs. After transfer to the mouth of a child, the eggs hatch in the intestine and the larvae penetrate the intestinal wall and migrate to the liver and lungs. From the lungs, larvae are spread by the body's blood or lymph circulation to various organs, causing damage by their wanderings and causing granulated tissue or tumors to form.

Pets make very nice Christmas presents. But to keep them and your family healthy, you can't neglect pet health or premise sanitation. Prevent contamination of the soil by body wastes of dogs and cats in areas adjacent to houses and play areas. Bury deeply or otherwise dispose of stools of dogs and cats in play areas. Deworm dogs and cats less than six months old and thereafter as indicated, destroying the worms and feces passed as the result of treatment.

'The New Dimension In District Is Human Dimension,' Chairman Says

According to Don Ray Crook, chairman of the Hall-Childress Soil Conservation District, The New Dimension in District Affairs is the Human Dimension.

"It means acting with well-being people in mind instead of operating primarily for the protection of resources. It means thinking in terms of the long-range needs and benefits of the whole community rather than in terms of individual farms and watersheds," Crook said.

"Let's look at some of the ways your Soil Conservation Districts contribute either through the application of their own know-how, or by bringing to bear expertise of agencies cooperating with districts, or both," he added.

1. Districts help in the control of water pollution that has its sources in the erosion process, whether the erosion takes place on farmlands, construction sites, roadsides, or stream banks. Sediments produced by erosion are the most extensive pollutants of surface watersheds.

2. Districts help in controlling water pollution that has its sources in runoff from feedlots and farm-lands—runoff that carries animal wastes as well as a variety of chemicals including pesticides, herbicides, insecticides, and fertilizers.

3. Districts help in the control of air pollution that has its sources in soil blowing (dust storms) or in molodorous fumes sometimes generated in livestock operations.

4. Districts help with beautification through healing work on ugly landscapes; through planting programs of attractive trees, shrubs, and grasses; through identification and protection of particularly scenic streams and vistas; through roadside beautification projects; and in dozens of other ways.

5. Districts help with the development of recreational facilities—through cooperation with private landowners in establishing fishing, swimming, boating, hiking, riding, picnicking, and other recreational attractions. The district can help also in connection with the development and management of such public recreational facilities as local parks, town forests, camp grounds, nature trails, and lakes.

6. Districts help with the protection and preservation of unique areas that may be threatened by neglect, commercial exploitation, erosion, or pollution. These areas may include stream and lake shores, estuaries, historic sites, irreplaceable sections of Class 1 farmland, waterfowl breeding grounds, or unusual stands of timber.

7. Districts help with solid waste disposal through the identification of sites suitable for use as sanitary landfills.

8. Districts can help with water land use, zoning, and resource development by calling in experts on soils, forests, water, fish, wildlife, recreation, education, economics, and planning.

Highway Patrol Investigates Six County Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Hall County during the month of November, according to Sergeant Vernon Cawthon, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,665.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first eleven months of 1970 shows a total of 32 accidents resulting in two persons killed, 21 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $25,775.00.

Traffic wise, the month of December has proven to be the most destructive month of the life of mankind—Death by a Motor Vehicle.

In order to help reduce the traffic accidents and make this a happy holiday season, the patrol supervisor lists some safe holiday driving rules:

1. Check your car; be sure it is in safe driving condition.
2. Use seat belts to safeguard your family and yourself.
3. Be alert to road, weather, and traffic hazards.
4. Do not overdrive for the existing conditions.
5. Allow plenty of time for your travel.
6. Make courtesy your code for the road; it pays.

Market Cattle Need Testing For Brucellosis

Cattle owners are reminded of new regulations governing brucellosis on Market Cattle Test.

There is an advantage if cattle are tested at the sale ring. All female cattle over eight months of age should be tested at the sale ring before taking home, due to these new regulations.

If the cattle are not tested and brucellosis reactors show up later on (MCT) Market Cattle Test, the entire herd including calves up to six months of age become quarantined.

If cattle are tested at the sale ring and a reactor is found, only the cattle from the origin of the reactor are affected and quarantined. These cattle should not be moved or mixed with clean cattle.

Cattle from quarantined herds can move only to a packer or a quarantined feedlot.

Range Fires In Area Dangerous

Frost, freezes plus dry and windy weather have materially increased fire hazards throughout the state. Pasture and range fires can swiftly and completely wipe out winter feed reserves, destroy wildlife and its habitat and leave the soil bare and unprotected from water and wind erosion. Keep fire plans active until the soil moisture situation improves, advises Extension range specialists.

Government Bans Carbon Tet Sales

Carbon tetrachloride, a common ingredient in many cleaning fluids and fire extinguishers, has been banned from sale by the federal government as an extreme health hazard, announces Doris Myers, home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The chemical has a high toxicity and may cause extensive damage to the liver, kidneys, lungs, heart and nervous system. It can be fatal if swallowed or inhaled.

Carbon tetrachloride is a non-flammable grease solvent, and been used in cleaning fluids and fire extinguishers for many years.

USDA first warned consumers about the dangers of carbon tetrachloride for household use in 1968. The present ban includes use in fire extinguishers. The chemical is exposed to a fire, the solvent changes into phosgene, a deadly poison.

Check labels on cleaning supplies and fire extinguishers for carbon tetrachloride. If included in any of these products, get rid of them immediately.

Consumers Eat High Quality Pork Products

COLLEGE STATION — The type of pork that is produced and eaten today has 22 percent more protein than formerly, 57 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories.

This is due to the selection profiles or light gases. Certain forces are produced which change the orbits of comets, and Dr. O'Keefe suggested that these forces may also bring about rotation in a comet. In a similar way, he argues, the escape of volatiles leads to increasing spin of a great planet, resulting eventually in fission. This, he believes, is the way the solar system was formed.

Recent work by other scientists has drawn attention to the important role played in the evolution of comets by the escape of volagram initiated during the middle 1950's by pork producers, Dr. William B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist, announced recently, adding that they had hopes that this would eventually lead to the high quality pork products that are now available to the consumer.

able to improve the quality of pork available to consumers at their local meat market."

An average serving of cooked pork (3 1/2 ounces) will provide an adult male with 40 percent of his daily protein needs, 69 percent of his thiamine (Vitamin B1) requirement, sufficient amounts of other vitamins and minerals, especially iron, and less than eight percent of his daily calorie intake. These figures are based on the daily allowance of nutrients recommended by the National Research Council, Dr. Thomas said.

"There is a greater supply of high quality pork today than ever

The World Of Science

Theory Advanced Recently That Moon Was Once Part Of The Earth

The moon split off from the earth's core was it, it is concluded from Apollo tests, which show a deficiency of nickel in the moon. This was advanced recently at an Analytical Symposium in New York City, sponsored jointly by the American Chemical Society and the American Society for Applied Geology.

by an episode of very strong heating in the moon. A strong tidal interaction between the two bodies caused the heating, they both postulated.

The results of Apollo 11, Dr. O'Keefe asserted substantiate these theories. When compared to the earth, lunar samples show a deficiency of volatile elements and an enhancement of non-volatile (refractory) elements.

Early in the space age it was thought that the moon was the key to the solar system. Apollo 11 findings indicate that the breakup of the earth forming the moon simulated processes observed constantly inside the solar system which are more often processes of break up than of building. Dr. O'Keefe pointed out. Meteors seem to be fragments of comets, asteroids belong to families which come from some initial breakup, and meteorites clearly are from larger bodies, he said.

A Country Doctor Dies

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

One by one, the dear old-fashioned "country doctors" who made house-calls at all hours of the day or night come wind or high water are rapidly fading from the American scene as was evidenced by the recent passing of Dr. D. H. Cox of Hedley.

Time was when this "minister of the healing arts" traveled horseback, his medicines safely stored in his saddle bags or slung over his shoulders. He rode to hasten cross country by buggy to a patient's bedside. This indeed was "a family doctor" who cared for his patients from the cradle to the grave. He borned the babies, counseled the young folks and oft times their elders, sat with the dying, comforted the bereaved and wouldn't have traded places with the King of Siam. Dedicated he was to the caring for and the curing of the ills of the ailing.

More often than not, he made do with what was at hand, disciplined his patients to the best of his knowledge and maintained an ever abiding reverence for all life. Babies were delivered at home. When the expectant mother's time of travail drew near, the husband galloped after "Doc", and Doc in turn hurried there to be ready when needed. Always the expectant father, at the doctor's suggestion, was made to boil water and tear rags. Not that these aids would be needed but it gave the nervous man of the house something to do while awaiting the stork's arrival.

While Dr. Cox didn't go horseback or by buggy, he had the same unfailing dedication to his profession and concern for patients as the old-fashioned country doctor. Born in Topeka, Kansas 67 years ago, Dwight Cox grew up in Nebraska. He was educated as an osteopathic physician and surgeon in Kansas and came to Hedley to practice medicine in 1922. There he resided until six months ago when he began a medical partnership with Dr. E. W. Cain in Amarillo.

Dr. Cox was the father of two children, now grown, of whom he was justly proud; a son, Don and a daughter Susan, both accomplished musicians. He was a Mason, a member of the Scottish Rite, a member of the First United Methodist Church of Hedley, and the Hedley Lions Club.

For 48 years, Dr. D. H. Cox practiced medicine in the Hedley area. At one time, he was associated with Doctors Goodall and Odum in Memphis. Dr. O. R. Goodall was one of his closest friends. Another time, he practiced with a Dr. Lowell in the Adair Hospital in Clarendon. The last several years, he has been associated with Dr. Witt of Groom and more recently has been a member of the medical staff of The Groom Hospital.

While few doctors today make house calls at all and, certainly, they travel by car and not in "a one-hoss shay", the same special consideration and tender loving care is expected of them as was meted out by the county doctor of an earlier day and time.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

It is with sincere regret that we herein note the passing of a truly dedicated physician, Dr. Dwight Homer Cox, who gave unstintingly of self and service to the Hedley community for almost half a century. He will long be fondly remembered by many who loved and respected him as a gentleman, a scholar, and a worthy exponent of the healing art of medicine.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Destroy Pesticide Containers
Don't overlook the empty or nearly empty agricultural chemical containers which have accumulated around the farm since last spring when the winter clean-up begins, advises County Agent W. B. Hooser.

These containers in some instances can be even more dangerous than those which may still be nearly full because of careless handling and the fact that they are empty. Most containers, regardless of the type, will still contain enough residue to cause poisoning of pets or livestock or even people, reminds the county agent.

All pesticide containers should be destroyed by burying them at least 18 inches deep in soil where water cannot be polluted or else wrapped in newspaper for the trash collector. Metal and glass containers should be crushed or broken before disposal so that they can never be used again.

All containers which are to be held over should be checked closely for leaks. A small hole in a paper container can become the source of contamination for feed and water.

It's best not to burn paper bags that have contained pesticides. The smoke, points out Hooser, may be toxic and will pollute the air.

Never throw an empty aerosol container into a fire. They will explode. They should be depressurized before placing them in the trash for pickup.

BYRON BALDWIN

We made another of the shots, the Atalantean Club sponsored for the past 18 years and as always before, we had the members of this club all good cooks with the food along with the modern that almost melted in your mouth with very little chewing. A further came in just in time for the snow scene backing out on the stage and the girls in their ice-skating costumes coffee hot, but I was sure some of them might take a little with the cold north wind like it was. Mrs. Robert did an outstanding job as she has before for years. There were good good-grandmas this year from a two-grand and through the different grandmas, but you could tell that they were grandmas. I could not tell who they were and I had known most of their lives. There were several. I think that Hiram Hubert Jones and Jack would have had to be in the street, but anyway, grandmas still had their step and could "put their foot right there" when they were there. There were all of headwear from snowball sombreros. Also, all length of styles. Summing all of the styles in the good show, I think the styles were ahead. In looking at crowd of people, I found people from out of town regular attendants at the show each year. Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Phelan of Clarendon, Texas. I look forward to what next styles are, as there is so change from year to year. We lived through the ages they were dressed to cover the part of woman and in this day when there is a are atmosphere, but I think of the people are getting fed some of these almost nothing.

making the square, I find of people still in the sour they have been since I can try trying to solve their shopping for relatives. It has always been a to be sure and get the item for each person that be sure to please. One couple I helped solve the shopping was Mr. and Mrs. Baker from Hedley and they me in one of the local and asked me what I would be good for the law. About the only and could give them was that not think they would give anything that would change disposition or make them better and about the only I could make would be give them something that make them smell better

There were 28 visitors in Heritage Hall last Saturday. In this group were Mrs. Lawson Halford of Estelline who had as her guest Mrs. W. B. Rice of Amarillo. Mrs. Cecil McCollum had as her guests her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Donald McWilliams of Memphis and Mrs. B. R. Settles of Omaha, Texas. They are both sisters of Cecil and they liked Heritage Hall very much. Mrs. W. P. (Boots) Butler of Estelline visiting in Heritage Hall. She was the former Opel Cook, daughter of R. L. Cook. They moved west of Estelline on Sim Hinton place in 1914. She and W. P. married in 1920 and he passed away in 1962. They had four children, 2 at Washburn, one at Columbus, Ohio, and one at Hurst, Texas. Opel attended school at Hulver. Some of her classmates she remembered were Barney and Eula Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hill. She remembered when they used to have a "Liars Club" in Estelline, but she did not think it was operating now. Others visiting in Heritage Hall were Rudolph McCurdy of Floydada, Leo Naw, Jim Valentine and Robert Berry of Lubbock. Visiting with Bill Cushing, a

Briscoe County rancher, I found out that at one time he owned a whole town-site in the Midland area. The name of this town was "Oak Tree" and at one time the town had a population of one thousand people when an oil company was working in that area. I think where Bill realized that he had owned this town site was after he had sold this part of ranch land for town lots and the difference in rance land acreage being sold for town lots made him well acquainted with the tax collector and our government for profits made from ranch land to a town site, but anyway, Bill lived over it and he still owns some lots in the former town of "Oak Tree."

We are living in a pretty fast age. I noticed in the daily paper where in Fannin County, the preacher had a knock on his door at midnight and it was a couple who wanted to get married. They preacher had slipped his pants over his pajamas so he just went ahead and performed the ceremony in his bare feet. They did not have a dress rehearsal.

We had the pleasure of having the three school bands give their concert last Sunday afternoon and I thought it was great. Some of these boys and girls I had known all of their lives, and I knew some of them when you could not keep them still long enough to lace up their little shoes or zip their overalls but to watch them now in tense positions trying not to miss a note, it gives me a thrill to see how serious they are in the bands, all settled down ready for that first note. Well, I think their leader is doing a good job in music and has control in conducting these bands. With this million dollars worth of kids and 50 to 75 thousand dollars worth of instruments, when they go out from here we can imagine some of the boys will be in the United States Marine Band and others in an orchestra and others in the entertainment world in New York or Hollywood. As Major Bowles always stated on his program when he turned the wheel, "Around and around she goes and where she stops nobody knows". The "band mothers" and town are backing the band up. Keith Parks who was born and reared here in Memphis preached in all services of First Baptist Church of Amarillo Sunday Nov. 29. He is the son of the late Bob Parks and his wife. She now resides in Arkansas. There were four children in this family, two girls, Jean and Nell; two boys, John and Keith whose education was in religious work. He served as a missionary in Indonesia for 14 years and is now serving as executive secretary of mission work in Southeast Asia. I thought Keith might come by to see some of us in his old some town, but guess he had too many other appointments to meet. My observation of Keith on television is that he resembles his father very much with his hair style.

We had another man from the Friendship Community who served as a missionary in Chefoo China. In reading an addition of 1937 Democrat, we find he was here and spoke to the school of mission while J. W. Mason was pastor. He was Walter Moore. I heard this - The mother asked Tommy who taught him that awful word and he replied, "Santa Claus". Mother thought it could not be, but Tommy assured her that Santa Claus said that word when he fell over a chair on Christmas Eve.

I was watching television a few days back and I turned the knob to No. 2 station and there was Cablecom of Memphis, Texas, giving you information while you sat in an easy chair - the time of day, the temperature, humidity, direction of the wind, the velocity of the wind and the barometric pressure. This is some contrast from what it was in the early days as you would get up at 5 o'clock in the morning and walk about 150 feet to the little "chick sale" on the alley and about as far as you had any information of the above was that you know whether it was raining or not and the wind was blowing and looked on the clothes line to see which way the diaper was blowing for direction of wind. And if it was a hot and stuffy atmosphere, you would say the humidity was high and you would have to call the Western Union office for the time of day and watch the smoke stack to see which way the wind was blowing. With all of these inconveniences in the early morning, it caused a lot constipation and a good many people died with what they called locked bowels. It is a lot more pleasant to sit in your chair and watch Cablecom to get this information. I have tried them both.

MHS Basketball Teams Play Today In Salt Fork Classic Cager Tour.

Memphis basketball teams will play opening rounds today in the Salt Fork Classic basketball tournament in Clarendon.

The tournament opens with the Memphis girls playing the Quitaque girls at 9 a. m. this morning. If Memphis wins this one, the Cyclonettes will advance into the semi-finals and play the winner of the Wellington-Canyon girls, which possibly will be Canyon. This game will be at 4 p. m. Friday.

Otherwise the Cyclonettes will go into consolation, if they lose to Quitaque, and play at 9 a. m. Friday.

The Cyclone will open play against Quitaque boys, which will be a real test for Memphis as Quitaque always has a strong boys team. This game is set at 10:30 a. m. Lockney and Wellington boys play in the other game in this upper portion of the bracket, and the winners of these games meet at 5:30 p. m. Friday, while losers play at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

In looking at the bottom portion of the brackets, in the girls division there are teams from Shamrock, Sanford-Fritch, Clarendon and Turkey. Of these girls teams, Sanford-Fritch has a strong girls team, and Turkey Turkettes have also been showing a lot of strength this season.

In the bottom portion of the boys bracket, there are teams from Shamrock, Sanford-Fritch, Clarendon and Turkey.

There is a good possibility, that Memphis teams could fair pretty well in this tournament in both brackets. Naturally, local coaches are hoping to have the finest efforts of the season out of their players.

Finals are scheduled for Saturday afternoon in consolation and third place and Saturday evening for finals in the boys and girls divisions.

All indications are the tournament should be an exciting affair.

Memphis-Quail

The Memphis teams split games with Quail Friday night in the local gymnasium.

The Memphis girls took a rather easy victory over Quail 54 to 29. Wanda Walker led scoring for Memphis with 19 points. Quail's Mallie McCann had 15 points.

In the boys game, the Quail boys dominated the first half, as Memphis had shooting troubles, and Quail had a comfortable 44 to 29 halftime lead.

Then, the Cyclone increased the pressure and started narrowing the gap in the third quarter, and the stands went wild as the pace of the game increased.

At the end of the third period, Memphis had out-scored Quail 27 to 20 in the period and drew within 8 points.

As the fourth quarter wore on, Tommy Johnson put in several key baskets, and Memphis press forced several turnovers from Quail, and Memphis had the score 72 to 71 with three minutes left to play. However, Quail pulled ahead as their shooters were accurate from the free throw line, and Darrell Feemster, who had an outstanding night under the boards, hit on three occasions, and Quail won the contest 83 to 78.

Two new faces were on the court for Memphis, as Otto Rogers and Mike Browning came up from the B squad. Tommy Johnson scored 25 points for Memphis and Feemster scored 27 for Quail.

Up Coming Games

Memphis is scheduled to play games with Lefors teams on Tuesday, Dec. 29, in Cyclone gymnasium, as the teams take a Christmas break after the Clarendon tournament this weekend.

Then, on Jan. 2, Memphis A and B boys will play hosts to Childress A and B boys teams.

Memphis will play host to teams from Tulia the night of Jan. 5, in the final night of play before district competition begins with Clarendon in the Memphis gym on Friday, Jan. 8, 1971.

85 percent read in the 80,000 to 90,000 psi range.

Markets for Greenbelt cotton gained another 10 to 75 points last week. The market is active and demand is strong. Offerings increased as farmers complete the harvest. The most active qualities traded and the average prices received by the farmer were Mid Lt Sp 15-16, 20.10 and SIM Lt Sp 15-16, 19.75.

Average price paid for cottonseed at the gin was $59.00 per ton.

By leaving the crop residues on the surface, raindrops will break up and soak into the soil rather than run off thus increasing water absorption and decreasing erosion. Wind erosion is practically eliminated. Earthworm population and micro organism activity is increased thus increasing soil fertility.

One possibility of minimum tillage in Hall County SWCD is the use of rye in winter then killing rye with a contact herbicide and planting cotton in the rye stubble with unit type planters leaving the stubble on the surface to prevent the young cotton from blowing out.

sent a cake by county employees at the commissioners court meeting as a token of appreciation for his service to county government.

Commissioner Spear will retire from political life at the end of this year after serving 32 years for Hall County.

"Shorty", as he is known, worked for Hall County as a road employee for 10 years, then he was elected a Precinct Commissioner and held the office for 10 years. For six years he was not affiliated with the county, until 12 years ago when he was again elected Precinct Commissioner, an office he had held for an additional three terms.

Mr. Spear did not seek reelection this year, and V. C. (Zipp) Durrett will take over as Lakeview Precinct Commissioner Jan. 1, 1971.

Memphis FFA Team Wins Grass Judging Contest Held Saturday

Three Hall County FFA Chapters participated Saturday morning in the Hall County SCD sponsored grass judging contest held in the Memphis Jr. High.

When final judging was completed, it was the Memphis FFA team with 538.75 points which took first place over the team from Estelline, which had 529.50 points. Turkey FFA brought a Greenhand team which placed third with 288.75 points.

In top individuals, Gene Bruce of Estelline with 155.75 points took first place and received the first place ribbon and a new knife. Second place went to Memphis' David McKay, who had 153 points. He also received a ribbon and knife. Ben Ed Hillhouse placed third with 149.75 points and received a knife and a ribbon. Terry Burke of Estelline took fourth with 143 points and he was awarded a knife, courtesy of sponsors.

The top Greenhand prize, a knife and a ribbon, went to Steve Eudy of Turkey who had 116 pts. A plaque was awarded the Memphis FFA team, by Lee Scrivner, a member of the Hall County SCD board. Mr. Scrivner helped set up the contest by arranging for the native grass displays used in the contest judging. He reported many of the displays came from his ranch.

Besides Conservationists from SCS who assisted with the contest, James Chappell of FHA also assisted, and read out the list for students to correct papers.

Branigan Jewelry of provided the plaque to be given to the winning team in test.

Mr. Scrivner said, "The contest is hoping to make test an annual affair. One of our major crops have long overlooked in tance to our economy. Owners, as well as many of owners and ranchers, need more about the different kinds of grasses."
