Wheeler, Silvertown Teams Next Cyclone Opponents

Memphis basketball teams will play hosts to the two teams from Wheeler Friday night in Cyclone gymnasium, with the girls game starting at 6:30 p. m.

The girls contest between Memphis and Wheeler should be exciting all the way, as the Memphis girls lost to Wheeler at Wheeler the first round by more points in any team has defeated them in a season, the record shows.

Circumstances surrounding that have been cleared up and the Memphis girls could give Wheeler what they want in the contest Friday night in the local gymnasium, according to predictions.

The boys game also should be exciting contest, as the young clone of Harold Gouge would like to finish the last four games in the winning column. Fans are reminded that there are no seniors on the Cyclone squad, while other teams in the district will lose heavily to graduation.

Then, next Tuesday night, the Cyclone and Cyclonettes will be again playing on the home court, as they will be host to the Silvertown teams.

This past week, the Memphis girls defeated Clarendon and McLean and the Memphis boys lost at both games.

Coach Joe Bain's Cyclonettes finished the first half of play with a 41 to 24 victory over the McLean girls at McLean Friday night.

Gloria Johnson had 13 points, Wanda Walker 10, Diane Devorce and Kathy Carmen 8, and Mary Beck 2, in scoring for Memphis. Tuesday night, the Memphis girls downed Clarendon 51 to 38 after a 14 to 7 first quarter lead and a 22 to 17 halftime lead. Diane Devorce and Gloria Johnson had 16 points each to lead the scoring for Memphis, while Wanda Walker made 14 and Kathy Carmen 5.

The Cyclone lost to McLean 64 to 57, but not until after a determined come-back in the final quarter. McLean led 51 to 38 at the end of the third period.

Mike Browning had 17 points and Tommy Johnson had 10 for Memphis.

Tuesday night at Clarendon, the Memphis boys gave the Bronchos their hardest game of district play, even though they lost 70 to 50.

"We were within seven points with three minutes to play, but Clarendon gave up the ball to us only three times in these minutes and we could not score," Coach Gouge said. "I was still proud of the boys for they played Clarendon a good game."

Tommy Johnson scored 16 and Larry Johnson made 12 against Clarendon. Otho Rogers made 7, Mike Browning and John Carmen 6 each, and Louis Davis 3.

The Cyclone has been without effective service by Davis who has a torn leg muscle.

The promotions were announced following the annual stockholders meeting, followed by the monthly directors meeting, held Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Goodnight graduated from Memphis High School, then attended North Texas State University for a year, prior to beginning employment with the First Bank here in 1953.

She has worked as a bookkeeper, proof operator, teller, and secretary prior to the promotion.

Harold Moffitt, who has been the installment loan teller at the bank for almost two years, was promoted to assistant cashier. He is a graduate of Hedley High School and a former employee of the Security State Bank in Hedley.

Dist. 4-B Highlight On Turkey-Lakeview

Play will continue this week in District 4-B basketball, as Lakeview teams travel to Turkey Friday night, then play host to teams from Quitaque next Tuesday night. The Lakeview-Turkey girls game could decide the round robin championship.

Estelline will host Quitaque teams Friday night, and then the Estelline squads will be open on Tuesday night. The district play will end Friday week with final games, which sees Estelline teams playing Lakeview at Lakeview and Quitaque playing Hedley teams at Quitaque.

Tuesday night, Lakeview girls defeated the Hedley girls by four points, 48 to 44, after Hedley had closed the 16-point gap at the end of the third period to pull within four points. Brenda Smith scored 37 for Lakeview.

In the boys game, Hedley won the contest 73 to 62, as Lakeview's Lewis Richburg had 28 points and Bill McQueen had 24. Hedley held a commanding lead throughout the contest.

Also Tuesday night, the Estelline girls came close to pulling off an upset over Turkey Turkettes. The Turkettes led by 17 points, with six minutes to play. Then Estelline started to score, and turned what appeared to be an easy victory for Turkey into a real contest in the closing minutes.

The score was 41 to 24 when Estelline began its charge, catching up with Turkey in the final seconds 41 to 41, on the first shot of a 1-1 situation from the free throw line. But the second shot missed, Turkey rebounded and came down the court. A foul was called against Estelline, and Turkey put the go-ahead victory point on the board from the free throw line, to win the game 42 to 41. Jan Rapp had 21 points for Estelline.

In the boys game, Estelline won their second game of the season by downing Turkey 45 to 38. Roldan Trevino had 19 points for the Bears.

At Friday night, Estelline lost two games to Hedley teams. Hedley won the boys game 78 to 58, and the Hedley girls won 48 to 30. Trevino and Rapp were the high point scorers for Estelline.

The Dist. 4-B tournaments will be held in Memphis with the girls playing Feb. 11 and 12, and the boys Feb. 25 and 26.

The Dedicated Teacher

In this age of star travel, who serves mankind best? Astronauts? Scientists? Presidents? Kings? Peacemakers? Indeed, not these, exalted though they are. It is the dedicated teacher who with quiet diligence, infinite patience—often unappreciated—who creates those astronauts, scientists, presidents, kings and peacemakers.

The world's illustrious men and women were in the beginning innocent, malleable children. They weren't illustrious then, but merely human material, a substance for forming astronauts, scientists, presidents, kings and peacemakers.

They also were material for making assassins, thieves, vandals, kidnapers, degenerates and murderers, a somber fact we all should remember. The material was good. The end product, good or bad, is in the hands of the teacher.

But the staff was there—a tiny spark, an eager soul in a tiny body—ready for molding and helplessly dependent for the direction of its destiny.

Every hour with his every work and action the teacher influences a fledgling human being either for good or bad. It is a formidable task he undertakes, and an awesome responsibility he accepts, requiring of him a storehouse of facts, a knowledge of psychology and most importantly, a love and dedication to his pupils.

Obviously, then, especially in this age of star travel, when education unloads the doors of Heaven, the dedicated teacher serves mankind ever more than astronauts and scientists, presidents and kings, and even of peacemakers, for he makes all of these.

And he could, if he were inferior material himself, create instead assassins and thieves, vandals and kidnapers, degenerates and murderers.

Yet there are those in America, incredibly, like the Texas manufacturing executive, who would, when the economy falters, lay first the teacher and indirectly the child. How shortsighted, how foolish, they are!

Latest Findings On Marijuana

Marijuana is not new to the Americas. It has been in use for centuries, ever before the Spaniards came to the New World. Indians in the high Andes of South America and Aztecs in North Africa are among two groups now being studied, for they have been using hashish—a potent relative of marijuana—and marijuana for centuries.

The U. S. Government is now conducting 40 study programs related to marijuana, and some new answers are coming out of the research.

Can marijuana cause brain damage? Doctors say it may cause injury to the brain in some cases. Dr. Sidney Cohen reported to American Medical Assn. that memory lapses—"blackouts"—not only become more frequent among marijuana users as time goes on; they also tend to last longer. This could be signs of lasting brain damage.

An user of marijuana likely to become addicted to the weed? Scientists differ on this. There is no evidence that American marijuana users in general suffer withdrawal symptoms when deprived of the drug. Some users seem to get the same "high" from a smaller quantity of the drug—yet more—as time goes on. There is clear evidence now that tolerance to marijuana increases with heavy use.

What about the possibility of becoming emotionally dependent on marijuana? Scientists debate the dangers of physical addiction, but they agree that signs of psychological addiction are common. Students with heavy "pot" habits do worse in their classes and drop out of school more often than nonusers. Research is now underway to find out why some people abandon "conventional goals" and "cop out on pot."

Does the use of marijuana affect one's ability to drive a car? The answer is yes. Marijuana users are classed as dangerous drivers while under the influence of the weed. They are more dangerous at night than in daytime.

Night or day, extensive tests in two parts of the U. S. reveal that drivers under the influence of marijuana react as erratically as do drunken drivers.

What kind of marijuana is being sold on the black market at the U. S. today? Texas Ranger Bill Burt, former Hall County Sheriff, reported to us recently that marijuana differs greatly. Some is so weak it is hard to detect. Some sold as marijuana is not even marijuana but weed and tree bark, or even ground-up animal manure and dried catnip or other plants.

One strain is said by a Mississippi scientist to be as much as 70 times as strong as another. GI's in Vietnam who used marijuana there, when returning home are giving up the habit rather than playing with the weak stuff sold in the U. S.

What is it about marijuana that causes users to say it makes them "feel good" and relieves their tensions? Scientists not only have isolated the active compound, but have found out how to reproduce it in laboratory. It is called Delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol, or THC for short. It is quite expensive to produce in a laboratory, so there is little danger it would be reproduced for sale, even if the wrong hands got hold of the formula and techniques to reproduce it.

Research will continue to progress on this and other drugs. The study has just begun.

What Other Editors Say

I Don't Pay City Taxes... But I don't pay city taxes on my home simply because I live about five miles out of town. I don't know how much taxes I would pay on my home if it were located in the city limits, but I figure it would be worth it.

How come... do I think city taxes are worth the money? Well, when you live in the country, you have no garbage pickup. My boys and I take a two-wheel trailer and we haul our garbage to the city dump grounds. One barrel we burn in the other holds cans and bottles.

Our garbage system isn't as expensive... but let me tell you about our sewage system. Our three cesspools filled up about Thanksgiving, just at a time all the kids were visiting. My kids took me all from the city and take baths every night... we talked them out of taking baths.

Well, we spent some $75 buying the cesspool system... Christmas came along, so I didn't talk again... and would you believe the cesspools had filled up again?

Now, the studying several different plans... giving three more cesspools, digging a line of deep lateral drainage line with perforated pipe, pouring automatic dishwasher outside on the grass, purchase of a cesspool pump.

One of my good neighbors, John Ross, learned me his cesspool pump Christmas.

Part is, I may have to vote a local election to take care of my sewage problem!

Well, like I said, city taxes may be a pretty good deal.

Farmers Hit Hard Continued low farm prices, while costs of things farmers buy are rising, have put agricultural producers deeper in the hole. Latest U. S. Department of Agriculture figures show that the parity ratio—the relationship of farm prices to costs of purchases—is the lowest since December, 1933. That was near the bottom of the Depression of the 1930's.

Texas farm prices show what's happening. Last Dec. 15, wheat averaged 39 cents a bushel, compared with the 1947-48 average of 29 cents. Cotton was 23.9 cents a pound, the 1947-48 average was 30.5 cents. High sold for $14.80 a hundredweight, compared with $21.80. A dozen eggs brought 41 cents, instead of the 44.2 cents 1947-48 average.

Consumers have been the beneficiaries. Between August and November, the Dallas food price index declined to the lowest level since last February, the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported. Meats showed an average drop of 5.5 per cent, while fruits and vegetables declined 4.8 per cent.

These figures clearly show that farmers aren't the culprit for causing inflation—in truth, they are among its hardest-hit victims.

They also point up the need for realistic federal farm programs that enable producers to benefit from free markets. This, the Nixon administration contends, is the goal of the new three-year farm program. Farmers fervently hope it will succeed instead of falling to a previous federal legislation has.

Special Rewards Offer the rewards of right living are not obvious. The promise of a "clear conscience" often little attraction to a teenager trying with decisions that must be made.

Yet... what is a greater blessing than freedom from fear of all kind?

What is better than the knowledge that one's life is an open book? What is better than to know that the income tax report was made honestly and is defensible?

What is better than the knowledge that a knock on the door or a ring of a telephone can mean nothing more than the voice of a friend or at worst, the call of a peddler?

And finally, what is better than the knowledge that even death can hold no terror, of unbelieved debts?

Wealth And Risk

Wealth has the same value as risk if it is not used. Beyond a reasonable security, an estate that remains dormant defeats the purpose of work which created it.

The world is filled with opportunities for helping others less fortunate than ourselves, and the world in which we live offers more pleasure than any age since the beginning of time.

NEIGHBORLY LOVE

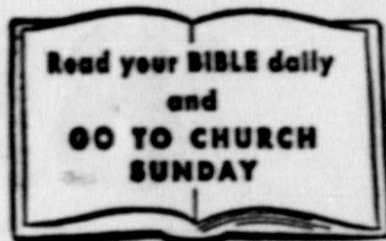

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—St. Mark 12:31

Once, when Jesus was asked to describe "my neighbor" he responded with the parable about the Good Samaritan who found a wounded man, the victim of robbers, and aided that unfortunate person after many had passed him by. The important thing about the parable is that while Jesus identified the helping citizen as a Samaritan, he did not identify the hapless man who had fallen among the thieves.

"My neighbor" is every man. He is not just the man who lives next door, the man who belongs to my club or church. My neighbor, like myself, is not perfect. He is a human being, with human strength, with human weaknesses.

To "love thy neighbor" is not impossible. To love is to help, to lend a hand when it is needed, without prejudice.

handle at Clarendon, Texas, in 1910. Mr. and Mrs. John Messer of Bakersfield, Calif., visited in Heritage Hall. John is the son of former Hall County residents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Messer. Clyde passed away in 1966. John's mother is the former Helen Nash, sister of Mrs. Phaeton Alexander. John has two brothers, Robert, who is attending high school here, and Gary, who is in the Air Force stationed in Germany. John was born in Hall County and left here when he was 5 years old. He graduated from Arvin Cal. High School. Mrs. Messer, the former Diane Duncan, graduated from Foot-hills High School at Bakersfield. This was the first trip to Texas for this girl and I asked her what she thought of Texas. She replied, "A lot of it is pretty dry looking." They were on their way to Fort Hood where he is now stationed in the U. S. Army after serving one year in Vietnam.

Visiting in Heritage Hall was James L. Miller of Modesta, Calif. He was born in Clarendon, the son of Mrs. and Mrs. James O. Miller, who moved to Tyson, Okla., where he operated a freight dray line from there to Liberal, Kans. He finally wanted to go to Madera and bought two model T trucks, but highway with sand and mud did not fit the hard narrow tires on the trucks and he sold them. He moved to Claude, Texas, for a short time and the next move was to Big Springs and from there to Pamona, Calif., in 1946 until 1952. Since 1952, James has been with the "Modesta Bee" a daily paper of this town. He and his wife are visiting their daughter here, Mrs. Sharon Sue Pate, wife of Rev. Gordon Pate, pastor of the Pentecostal Church here.

A. W. McEachern of Plainview visiting in Heritage Hall. He is the father of Mrs. Gene Corley. He was born in Mississippi where his father was a school teacher, moved to Johnson County when he was five years old, from Johnson Co. to Callahan Co. from Callahan Co. to Lubbock and on to Plainview. He operated a mattress truck out of Lubbock for 30 years, where he retired 10 years ago. He has three boys and four girls now living.

We had 23 visitors in Hall County Heritage Hall the past Saturday and all were very complimentary of the displays. Mrs. Charlotte (Clayton) Kennon, Ayme and Mike of Amarillo. Charlotte is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Clayton. She was a graduate of M. H. S. in 1960 and she was one of our star basketball players in high school. She left Memphis 11 years ago. Also in Heritage Hall was Barbara Caster, daughter of Mrs. A. T. Castner; David and Doug Hill, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Dennis. Mrs. Dennis is the former Leatrice Hutcherson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Hutcherson. She graduated from M. H. S. in 1944. Lowell graduated from Quail High School in 1941. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dennis who lived S.W. of Memphis for several years. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Greenway of Wellington visiting in Heritage Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis. Danny is the son of Mrs. Dennis. He graduated from Memphis High in 1965. Hollis and his present wife, Dorothy, have put in two years getting the pictures and biography together, which is very interesting to read, and they gave a copy to Heritage Hall to keep not to loan out, but you can come to Heritage Hall, take an easy chair and read the copy. We can see that a lot of water has run under the bridge since this life started in Mississippi, though Oklahoma and Texas. He was converted and joined the Baptist Church on his 80th birthday. This was one of the high points of his life.

We received a biography of one of our old-time Hall County citizens the past week which is very interesting and it carried me back in memory to the days when we were teenagers and they had a series of Horatio Alger's books. This biography reminded me of one of those books with the title, "Rages to Riches", as it seems like he has had a full life with a lot of different occupations, selling sandwiches to the passengers on the midnight train, working on railroads, doing carpenter work, chopping cotton, running a livery stable, operating a cafe in Lakeview, selling insurance, operating a dry goods store. He bought and hauled cotton from Lakeview to Memphis, married in 1911 and he and his wife still operated the cafe. He worked picking cotton in day time and Eula baked the pies and they would have a good run chili and hamburgers and pie at night. He operated a variety store with a stock of mostly kitchen and housewares. He was in the automobile business two different times, the first time going broke. He also bought and sold telephone exchanges and for 33 years he was in the theatre business. He was not much on sports. One time at golf with Cearly Kinard, Hollis said, "It's too much work and not enough pay." His first job in Hall County was cowboy for Mrs. Basset at Tampico; next job was a cowboy for Sam Lindley down on Red River for $125. a month and board. He attended school 19 days in his life, never served on a jury, did a lot of different things, but never did make a doctor or preacher. And I thought no music, but I found out he still has a guitar pick that he used to play the guitar with. He ran a jitney bus line with his first Ford from Lakeview to Memphis, Hedley, Clarendon, Brice and back to Lakeview making the round trip. The passenger fare was one dollar each between towns I asked him what his round trip usually grossed him and he thought about $25. His arithmetic teachers were Baker Jones and Scott Montgomery. He said there was a lot he did not put in his biography and was some he forgot and some he did not want to put in. In conversation with Hollis, I came to the conclusion that he was a "cut up" man as he told me in his life, he has had 13 major operations. He is looking forward to living long enough to have his 95th birthday here in Memphis. By now you can guess who this is. He first came here in 1908 and to Memphis in 1921. He was born in Guntown, Miss., Aug. 6, 1888, one of 7 children. Their parents were W. E. (Billie) Boren and Mollie (Merchant) Boren. This son they named Hollis Lee Boren. In 1911, he and Eula Gold- den married. He met Eula while working in the post office at Lakeview. To them were born four children, Ralph (deceased), Bill Joe, Tommy Mae (Boren) Baker and Jackie Lee (Boren) Hall. Eula passed away in May, 1967. They now have 8 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. Hollis has now reached the age that none of the other Borens reached. Hollis and his present wife, Dorothy, have put in two years getting the pictures and biography together, which is very interesting to read, and they gave a copy to Heritage Hall to keep not to loan out, but you can come to Heritage Hall, take an easy chair and read the copy. We can see that a lot of water has run under the bridge since this life started in Mississippi, though Oklahoma and Texas. He was converted and joined the Baptist Church on his 80th birthday. This was one of the high points of his life.

In my visit in one of the local drug stores a few days ago, I met Mrs. James Alexander of Silverton. She had with her twin sons, Karlen and Creighton, who were 11 weeks old. They are the great-grandsons of the late Gordon Alexander of Silverton and he was the son of S. G. Alexander, early resident of Hall County. I was happy to meet the 5th generation of the Alexanders that I had known. James and his wife live on a farm out from Silverton where he farms and teaches school.

I noticed in a daily paper where a scientist at Baylor in Houston has isolated a memory molecule. He can take this molecule out of one mouse and put into another and the second mouse will remember what the first mouse had on his mind. If this is true it will be a God's blessing to all of us, especially if the memory molecule which is implanted in us has anything to do with what we were trying to remember in the first place. A good basic molecule ought to be good at telephone numbers, anniversaries, dates and hiding places where you might have put a key for safe keeping. A deluxe memory molecule ought to be able to remember faces and names at the same time. I need to get an order in at once for a molecule so I could tell you what I started off to say!

Well, we do not want to close this Shot Corner without saying congratulations to our friend Sen. Jack Hightower. He will be the second one from Hall County that I have known from here that could be called "Governor for a Day." We are still looking forward to Sen. Jack going up the ladder for the people and by the people.

Charles Williams is having a sharpening spell and he says he will sharpen the ladies' scissors free of charge if they will tag them and bring them to Heritage Hall, or if it is closed, he will pick them up at Western Auto and Tribble Cleaners.

Nowadays everything in the home is controlled by a switch, except the children.

When you promised to share and share alike, did that mean your wife could use up all the hot water?

You could get up earlier. Then you'd be sure to beat her to it. Of course she wouldn't be too impressed with your chivalry. Another alternative is a larger gas water heater. Gas water heaters are easy to buy, easy to install, and recover hot water up to twice as fast as comparable electric models. So stop competing with your better half. Get a larger capacity hot water heater. For fewer fights and lots more hot water.

Mulches Make Gardening A Lot Easier

Using mulches is a good practice in the garden or on crop lands, a new leaflet available from the USDA Soil Conservation Service explained. The leaflet is entitled: "Mulches for Your Garden."

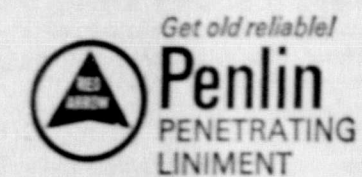

Henry Gregory, SCS district conservationist of Memphis, said the leaflet has the best and most concise explanation of how to use mulches and compost in a garden that he has ever seen.

"The new leaflet explains how mulches cushion falling raindrops which reduces soil loss and soil compaction," Gregory said. "The mulches keep soil cool in the summer, conserving moisture; they also furnish food for earthworms which are valuable for aerating the soil. Organic matter added by mulches helps keep soil crumbly and easy to work."

According to Gregory, some mulches are more valuable if composted before using. The publication shows how to build a simple compost bin out of wire or boards and is complete with drawings and pictures.

The leaflet lists the number of cupful of various kinds of fertilizer, wood ashes, or epsom salts to add to a bushel of compost to speed decomposition and to increase the compost's plant nutrient value. Details are also given on how to make acid compost for use with azaleas and rhododendrons.

"Proper handling of mulches is one of the most important but least understood soil and water conservation measures used in
