State Sales Tax To Increase On July 1

Hall Countians are well advised that July 1, 1971 is the date the state sales tax takes effect. A. Miller of the District Office of Amarillo, of the Comptroller of Public Accounts, was in Memphis Tuesday and he presented this newspaper with the Tax Bracket on the new 5% tax.

A $1.00 purchase has $.05 tax, while a $2.00 purchase had $.10 tax, and a $3.00 purchase has $.15 tax. The sale tax list currently in use is quite complicated in that the break in not uniform, alternating in $.24 and $.23 increases, making it very difficult for clerks to figure sales tax without consulting a tax schedule. Under the new five per cent tax, it want take long for clerks to have the chart memorized which should speed up check-out operations. Also, Mr. Miller said, items on the taxable list have been left virtually unchanged.

Chamber Directors Have Busy Agenda

Public Concern Develops Over Conservation Move

Public concern in this area over efforts in Washington to withhold funds for one year from projects under the very popular Public Law 566 which include channel alterations on Watershed projects is mounting to a feverish pitch here. Letters are being written to the House Appropriations Committee which will begin hearings on the 1972 fiscal year appropriations bill on June 18 and the U. S. House of Representatives is scheduled to debate the bill on June 23. Lee Scrivner, chairman of the Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation District, is "fighting mad" over hearings now being held by the House Government Operation Subcommittee on Conservation and Natural Resources, to withhold funds for one year from projects that include channel alterations.

Critics are attempting, during hearings by combining emotionalism a narrow focus and lack of factual information with honest concern over the environment, to halt channel alterations because of alleged damage to fish habitat in the immediate area of channel alterations in a few projects. "These people are evidently not willing to accept the unrefutable evidence of the enhancement of wildlife habitats and recreational benefits in PL-566 Watershed Projects. An example is the over 1,450 watershed dams built in Texas under this Public Law," Scrivner said.

Besides the Lakeview Watershed Project, which is ready for the final construction phase with detailed surveying awaiting funding, there are many area projects which would be affected by this action.

Among these are: the Wichita Valley-Pond Creek project in Archer and Wichita Counties; China Creek in Wilbarger and Wichita Counties; Lewis and Seymour Creeks in Baylor County; Upper North Wichita River in Cottle, King, Dickens and Motley Counties, Kent Creek in Hall and Briscoe Counties, and Dutchman Creek-Shinnery Draw in Motley County.

Sponsors of these projects are county commissioners courts and Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

The change over from one Chamber Mgr. to another was one of several items on the agenda of the directors of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce Monday at the Big O Restaurant.

Chamber Manager Clifford Farmer, who is retiring after 23 continuous years of service as Manager of the chamber, was asked by President Lester Campbell if he wanted to say something.

Campbell said he was paying for Cliff's meal since this was his last session with the board. Chamber luncheons are a dutch affair. "I recall being snowbound in Oklahoma in March of 1948, coming to Memphis from Missouri," Farmer said. "We're going to a cold country," he said to Mrs. Farmer that day. "When we got to Shamrock the sun was shining and it was sunny in Memphis," Farmer recalled.

"Since then I have had a lot more sunshine here than bad weather," he said referring to his association with the chamber.

"We've made a lot of tracks, had our ups and downs, but there has been so much sunshine we have enjoyed living here," he said. "We are going to continue to live in Memphis, but be traveling about as we develop our Western Paintings project," he said.

"I feel the chamber has made a very, very wise choice in selecting Bill Whitten as the new Chamber manager," Farmer said.

Full Schedule

The directors handled a lot of business at the meeting. Among the items handled was the approval of a program to list the available work force in the Memphis area to both men and women.

The Chamber has published a form for those interested in work to fill out in this issue of The Democrat. Workers are urged to fill it out as quickly as possible and mail the form in to the Chamber office.

Turkey, Quitaque, Flomot Citizens To Vote July 10 On Consolidation

Voters in the Turkey, Quitaque and Flomot School Districts will go to the polls on July 10 to decide whether to consolidate these districts into one large district.

Quitaque district includes portions of Briscoe and Floyd counties, while Flomot is in Motley County and Turkey is in Hall County.

Leran Denton superintendent of Turkey ISD, has been quoted as saying that the consolidation is being sought because declining enrollments in the three districts over the past several years have made it more difficult to finance educational programs. By combining the resources of the districts, area residents hope to provide a better education for the 500 or so children, he said. A consolidation of these three districts is feasible because of their close location with each other, without which each school would have a longer travel distance to the nearest school district in its respective county.

Denton said talks concerning consolidating the three school districts into one were begun three to four years ago, but were dropped when it was learned that state "incentive aid" could not be obtained if a school had less than 750 students. During the past year, however a bill was passed in the state legislature that changed this requirement and made "incentive aid" funds available if two or more school districts consolidated and applied together is now required, Denton said.

Denton said area resident hoped to get up to $600,000 in state "incentive aid" funds over the next 10 years if school districts were consolidated. The money would be used for construction purposes or to pay off debts, he said.

Consolidation supporters submitted petitions to four county judges Monday asking the July 10 election be held simultaneously. Hall County Judge E. (Gip) McMurry, Briscoe County Judge M. G. Moreland, Floyd County Judge J. J. Holmes Motley County Judge Forrest Campbell said elections had been set.

Cotton Farmers Are Hearing A Different Song!

If you have lived in the "cotton belt" during the past decade and a half, you have heard time and time again the old song, "cotton surplus" cotton is no longer King, cotton's future is dim.

Federal government employees of the Department of Agriculture led the way in the mid 1950s in a program to discourage cotton production specifically and agriculture production in general. "We have too many farmers in the United States, and our surpluses are too big," Sen. Bensen said over and over again.

Despite many efforts on the part of the Federal Government including such things as cotton quotas, and all kinds of programs designed to reduce the number of bales of cotton grown in this country cotton producers were slow to yield to demands and the cotton belt continued to produce around 10 million bales annually.

Then came the great experiment into synthetics, and again came the cry to reduce cotton production because the cotton market was down as textile mills turned over more synthetic cloth, and chemical companies did a tremendous amount of advertising in an effort to sell synthetics on the domestic market.

But due to problems inherent with weaving synthetic thread, much more brittle than natural fibers, cotton-synthetic blends came about.

During the entire period, cotton surpluses continued to dwindle, so now has come a different song, or at least another verse to the old song.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture joined forces today with the cotton industry in a cooperative effort to attain maximum profitable yields of cotton in 1971. The goal of the effort is to increase producer net income and profits through increased yields and obtain an adequate supply of cotton to meet market needs at home and abroad, at least that is what the official release put out from Washington says.

What we think the release is trying to say, but just doesn't come right out and say it is that finally the USDA leaders in Washington have awakened to the hard fact that this nation needs its cotton farmers and the wonderful fiber produced by the cotton plant.

National Cotton Council's President, C. R. Sayre says, "With the offtake projections approximating 11.5 millions bales and with a carryover on August 1 expected to be less than 4.5 million bales, the future hinges on the size and quality of this year's crop."

"Market fluctuations of recent weeks, adverse weather in the mid-Belt, and until the past weekend drought or near drought in the important West Texas sector have caused our customers to become concerned."

"It is in the producer's interest to make those inputs which will increase his net income. It is likewise in the producer's interest to grow the cotton needed to maintain and strengthen his markets."

In our opinion, it has been years since any official in government or in the industry, has given advice to the interest of the poor cotton producer.

The cold hard fact of the matter is that the old rule of supply and demand has caught up with the cotton market. For years the surplus suppressed the price of cotton. Now that the surplus is less than 4.5 million, less than one-half of the year's needs for this nation, the price which the textile industry may have to pay for cotton appears to be going up.

The textile industry and the government have worked hand in hand for years to keep this price at a low level, so this textile industry could compete in the world market places.

Suddenly, adverse weather for the 1971 crop has brought about frantic concern in industry and government circles. What if this year's cotton crop is far short of projections? What if farmers have left the farms to such an extent the ones remaining can't produce all the cotton this nation needs?

On the farmer's side, the cotton market has been nothing but disappointing for years. Without government supplement checks, many farmers would have stopped harvesting cotton completely if they had to rely on the market price alone.

Now, it seems, cotton farmers are going to get to wear the white hat for a change. If that isn't a different song, we just don't know one when we see one.

The News Of Casualties Is Tragical

Time was when we believe the U. S. should go in and whip the socks off North Vietnam. We had that decision to make as long as five or six years ago. We didn't.

Instead we bluffed along, threatening and fuming, bombing, and suffering casualties—while making no real attempt to win the war.

As we recall, we were in Vietnam to stop the spread of Communism. The common slogan was that we had to stop Communism someplace or else they would inch themselves around the world without lifting a finger. Vietnam was considered as good place as any since the South Vietnamese were resisting a takeover of their country.

Apparently we thought it would be easy since the might force of the United States with ships, airplanes, guns, ammunition and money would certainly soon subdue the small North Vietnamese force. Not so.

No one reckoned that Russia and China would continue to furnish the North Viets with material as long as they would risk their lives, and life seems to be cheap in Asia. We did everything except try to win the war. We got scared that Russia and China would jump in and a third war would be in progress. Then, since we were not trying to win the war, we started looking for a way to get out.

No soap. "We ain't going to let you out until you walk out whipped", in essence is what the North Vietnamese are saying. Are they right?

Well, we're walking out a little at a time as the Viet Cong step up their attack. Not by any measurement can anyone say we are winning the war—or peace; nor can anyone say we have accomplished our original goal of stopping the march of Communism.

What have we accomplished? We spent billions and billions of dollars; we killed tens of thousands of our own young men, and we crippled tens and tens of thousands of other.

Some record for the biggest, most powerful, strongest and richest nation of the world.

What grips me is that since we have gotten ourselves in this quagmire and are grouping around looking for an excuse to march out, we still read in the headline of 30 American boys killed in a mortar attack. This thing isn't worth one more American life unless we mean business. Somebody should make up their feeble mind and quick.

Relief For Retired

Recent studies indicate fully one-third of the nation's over-65 population exists at poverty levels. Social Security, providing at most $300 a month for a couple and $200 for a single person, is intended as supplementary income. But if a person has no saving, investment income or other assistance and must work, earning of just $3,500 a year result in loss of a $100 a month government check.

The average Social Security retirement check runs about $125 now. Very few of the elderly are entitled to receive the maximum amount.

While Social Security literature use the words "insurance" and "insured" freely, the forfeiture of benefits when just nominal wages are earned belies use of these words. Businessmen attempting to hire older workers for part-time or temporary work learn first-hand the incongruity of this "insurance" as the elderly calculate what little they stand to gain by working. Yet, since this forfeiture rule applies only to earnings, the well-to-do can have unlimited income from investments and still receive full Social Security checks.

Many businessmen feel that Social Security is not insurance at all, but should be recognized as a tax-and-welfare program constantly being revised by Congress.

Rep. Ray Roberts of Texas has introduced a bill which would allow Social Security recipients to earn up to $400 a month before their checks would be penalized.

There is strong business support for allowing $400 a month in earnings. Most businessmen want

Most experienced fishermen learned early in the game that no two bodies of water are alike. In fact, that goes for areas too. Even the Texas coast, with all its water, has many personalities. A good fisherman can catch fish in most any water. This is mainly because he takes a good look around before he ever casts a lure.

Texas is blessed with many fine lakes, all stocked with game fish. Basically they are the same species—bass, crappie, catfish or bream.

There are several species of bass. In most Texas lakes and ponds, it is possible to take the largemouth black bass, sometimes up to seven or eight pounds.

But, the abundance usually goes to the white or sandy. There are also several species of catfish, usually all found in the same waters.

But catching these fish is another thing. What works fine in some impoundments or even the streams doesn't work in others.

Naturally, there is a difference in the fishing of East Texas and West Texas. In the East Texas pine timber area even the water is different. Although it is fairly clear, it still has a dark color, caused by the tannic foliage. In that area the lakes are generally devoid of rocks, but many are loaded with dead timber.

Because there is so much timber in these lakes there are many floating logs. Usually they hang up in some of the brush. Naturally, the brush, trees and logs make an ideal habitat for fish of all species.

Such water must be fished differently. Underwater lures are difficult to use because of the multiplicity of brush on the bottom of the lake. On the other hand, many fishermen are finding that plastic worms work wonders in this water, when fished in the approved manner with a body of the lake and water backs up into these canyons. Such tributaries are the spawning areas for white bass. Blacks like this water, too.

Those lily pads of the East Texas waters are absent, but much of the water is covered with algae. This is hard on the fisherman, but the covering of the green stuff does provide some protection from the hot sun for the fish. So, fish hide there.

Naturally, the best bet for fishing is to know the water. But if you don't know it, then take time to study the impoundment. Try to learn something of its personality.

Most of the lakes have maps, some of which show the various depth of the water. Get one of these maps, then try to stay on the curves. Better yet—get yourself an electronic device—commonly called the fish finder.

Remember, however, that this equipment does not suffice unto itself. You must pay attention to the things around you. This is what makes fishing worthwhile. Furthermore, it adds not only to your enjoyment but to the number of fish on your stringer.

B. B. Shots

by BYRON BALDWIN

We had a total of 35 register Heritage Hall the past Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott had as their guests in Heritage Hall the past week J. B.'s brother Ormal of Fresno, Calif., also Mrs. J. D. Scott and son Dwane of Tulsa, Okla.

I think J. B. and his daughter-in-law disagree on one thing as her husband is with the gas company so you can see why he would cross her with that kill-o-watt pin. Mrs. J. D. Scott was very complimentary of Hall County Heritage Hall and of our whole town and said you must have a bunch of very active people here taking pride in your town as it is so much more inviting in appearance than a lot of the smaller towns now.

Another one of our old home town boys was visiting in Heritage Hall the past week, Ivan Thornton of Fort Worth. He is the son of Mrs. Lee Thornton who had been visiting in Fort Worth with Ivan and his sister, Cora Ethel (now Mrs. Tim Paulsel). Ivan graduated from MHS in 1931. After leaving here that same year, he worked for Woolworth 8 1/2 years in Lubbock, San Angelo and El Paso.

The next three years he worked as a cotton buyer. He next went to work for Paulsel Lumber Co. where he has been for the past 20 years. Tim Paulsel, owner of this lumber company, sipped us lumber for our city park benches several years ago which was and is very much appreciated. At one time many years ago, Tim was manager of the Wm. Cameron Lumber Co. he, married one of our Memphis Bells, Cora Ethel, and they are now in Fort Worth where they have been very successful in business.

Ivan Thornton married a Lubbock girl. They have one son who is now living in Houston.

Mrs. Cleo Nichols had as her guests in Heritage Hall the past week her son, W. F. Nochelols, and grandson of Beaumont, W. F. graduated from MHS in 1934 and left here that same year. He married one of the Smith girls in East Texas from around Gary, anyway he has been all over my old stomping grounds. When I was a kid, Carthage and Woods in Panola County where I was born and has also roamed around DeBerry, Teneha, Timpson, BoBo and Blair, and I bet he knows that song, W. F. and his wife have one daughter and one son who is out of college and now coaching in high school.

Bobby Carroll had as his guest in Heritage Hall the past Saturday James Ashmore of Andrews, Texas, where they were friends while Bobby and his wife, Chris, were living there.

Also visiting in Heritage Hall the past Saturday were the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Walden of Lakeview where he has been pastor of the First Baptist Church since December of 1970. They are from Seattle, Wash., to Lakeview. They said they would have to come back again as there was too much to see in one day. With the Waldens were their two daughters.

In March of this year Mrs. Loyd Sutton of Tracy, Calif., was in Hall County Heritage Hall and made the remark that it was almost time for her husband's retirement and said she would move back here in time for her 50th birthday where Dr. Ballew delivered her into this world 50 years ago. Well, anyway, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd have moved here after his retirement and she expects to be here July 24 for her birthday. Loyd worked for Tracy, Calif., defence Army base 27 years, 4 months and 8 days before retirement. The Sutton family first moved to Hall County in 1925 to a farm near Deep Lake. Next they moved to the C. D. Denny place and the last two years here he farmed with Burl Smith. He left here 28 years ago and this is his first trip back to Hall County. The Suttons brought in some very interesting newspaper clippings and pictures and also some good shots she made in Heritage Hall last March. One of the old pictures she brought in was a picture of the first gin in Lakeview

Another picture brought in was the picture of what was named "Man About the County" and it was a picture of Chas. Kinslow in his open top buggy on his way to see his sweetheart, Minnie Williams, who he later married.

Al Paschall of Slaton, Texas, visiting in Heritage Hall the past week. Al, the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Mac Paschall, left here 21 years ago and has been working for the Santa Fe Railroad the past 20 years. He married Nita Thompson of Claude. They have two children, Cindy, 15, and Elena, 17, who is high school cheerleader at Slaton. Al was in the 1946 MHS graduating class. In the family of Mac Paschall, there were 5 girls and 5 boys. Of this family only one stayed in Memphis, Becky Bruce, and their mother lives here also. At one time there were four of the Paschall boys in the service of Uncle Sam at the same time.

H. D. Stringer of San Antonio was visiting in Heritage Hall. H. D. spent 27 years in Washington, D. C. before retiring. His son, H. D., Jr., is now a Lt. Colonel in the Air Force, stationed in Italy and his daughter, Camile, is living in Mammoth Neck, N. Y. and Cynthia is in Hartford, Conn.

Also visiting in Hall County Heritage Hall were Jan Whalen and son, Steve, of Marshall, Texas. Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen and left here in 1955. She has another son, Dan, the III who is now 15.

Orville Goodpasture and Mrs. E. G. Archer had as their guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Archer of Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Archer, the former Joyce Goodpasture, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Goodpasture. Dempsey is the son of Mrs. E. G. Archer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Archer are graduated of Memphis High. They left Memphis in 1958. Along with Mr. and Mrs. Archer were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Baker, also of Albuquerque. They were former residents of Coffeyville, Kans., Paul said he was the navigator and Dempsey was the pilot, as he has had his air pilot licence for the past 18 months. He is now working in the FAA Traffic Control. A lot depends on this traffic control now with so many private and commercial planes in the air. I asked Dempsey how he liked our airport for a small town and he replied, "I think it is a real good one."

Joyce had not been in Hall County Heritage Hall before and she was very complimentary of it and is going to contribute some to our displays. The Archers have two sons, Rex, now 21, and Randy, 18. How time flies with old and young in years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Posey had as their guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week Mr. and Mrs. Jess Posey of Pampa, Calif. Jess is a brother of Dunbar and he was a resident here and moved from here in 1934 and married a California girl. They have three children, all grown and married. Jess is retiring in July after working with the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. The Posey family moved from Alabama in 1900 to Johnson County, Texas. There was only one of the family who graduated from high school here and that was one of the girls, Helen. The rest of the family attended high school at Grandview, Texas. The Posey family moved to Hall County from Johnson County in the years 1914 to 1918. At one time these boys all worked together in farming and farmed a good many acres of land including the Matt Lane and Snowden places. Some of them got tired of being old bachelors and started marrying and moving away. Dunbar married Sallie Dennis, daughter of Elite Dennis, and they are still living here. Dunbar said he got in debt and could not get away and he is still looking for that next year's crop. He is now a land owner farming his own land and some other good places.

In checking up on the Posey family, we find that Garland deceased, Fred deceased, F. B. now of Ventoria Calif. Garland of Sterling Colo., Jess of Pampa Calif., Dunbar of Memphis Ruth Poole deceased, Elanor Hule and Helen Parks both of Youcon, Oklahoma. Quintas of Grand Junction Colo. His wife is former Katie Simmons daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Simmons, Garland (now deceased) Ina who has been with the internal revenue dept. in Dallas the past 20 years.

I asked Mrs. Jess Posey for a statement of what she thought our museum and she gave us the following "Our museum is a wonderful remembrance for the people who have come this far in Hall County."

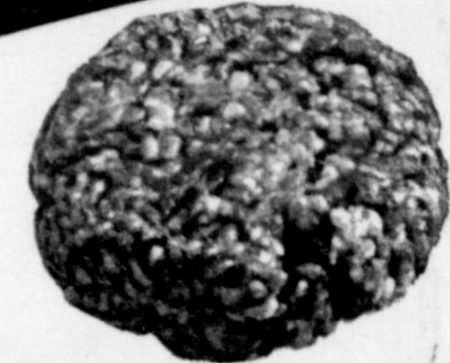

Other visiting in Hall County Heritage Hall were Mrs. L. Fowler and daughter Judy Lakeview. Also with them were the granddaughters of Mr. Mrs. Leon Flower, Kitti and Tipton of Amarillo Texas.

In looking for "udder" news in this column I saw this statement in headlines on the "Texas Agriculture Magazine" "Hall is top Dairy County in the..." (Continued on Page 7)

Regulations For Student Immunization Against Sox Diseases Are Explained

Texas State Dept. of Health revealed detailed plans this week of implementation of Senate Bill 27 which has been passed into law. The law requires children in schools to be immunized against diseases.

Preston Smith signed Senate Bill 27, amending section of the Texas Education Code on April 26. This law is in effect and requires that children entering Texas elementary and secondary school or institutions of higher education have been immunized against diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, typhoid, measles, rubella and polio.

In an amendment to Senate Bill 27, the State Board of Health was given authority to delete any of the six immunizations, and allow provisional admittance of children if the required immunizations have been begun and are to be received "as soon as medically feasible," requires the State Dept. of Health to promulgate rules and regulations relating to the provisional admission of persons to an elementary or secondary school or institution of higher education.

TSDH release stated: "All children will be allowed to enter respective school systems during the summer and fall 1971 with the provision that immunizations against at least one of the aforementioned diseases will have started by Jan. 1, 1972, and all completed as soon as medically feasible."

Immunization requirements specified to apply to all students attending public, private, or parochial schools, for example: kindergartens associated with elementary schools, elementary or secondary schools, academies, colleges, universities, and school for the blind, deaf, mentally ill

"This statement was made by Congressman Wright Patman and read into the congressional record. They show an inventory of 40,000 animals in the county and their dairy sales last year were twenty three and one half million dollars and expect it to be higher in 1971 and if my computer is right (which is guessing) each "udder" would produce about $800.00 per year and each of this divided by 4 would make each fauceit produce $200.00. This sounds like big business for these valuable cows. We do not see many milk cows in our part of the state in recent years.
We might have a side walk milking contest on the square entering Billy Prince, Grover Moss, and other Hopkins County pigs. I believe it would draw crowds like the sidewalk sale did.
Another thing I remember about Hopkins county several years ago when my sister Ruth Hognes lived in Sulphur Springs and were all bragging about the Hopkins County Stew. A quote I noticed in the daily paper "The best way to improve your appetite is to go on a diet!"
