The stage is set for the District 2-A basketball drama of the season with Cyclone gymnasium the site and the action staged by the basketball teams from Memphis and Claude.

Basketball fans who miss this saga will be passing up possibly the best of the season so far. The Cyclone and Mustangs have met twice on basketball courts this year with Memphis winning the first one and Claude winning the second one, both games decided by lopsided scores.

But this time, everything will be on the line, no tomorrow for the loser, and a strong possibility for a district championship to the winner without need for a playoff game.

Also, in between game ceremonies Friday night, Mr. and Miss MHS Basketball will be announced and crowning ceremonies conducted.

Actually, there are three games on the schedule. First, the B team boys from Memphis and Claude will play in the early game.

Then, the Cyclonettes will be hosting the undefeated (in district play) Claude girls team which is shooting for a repeat to the state tournament to defend its 1971 title.

This will be followed by the crowning ceremonies and the boys game.

The Claude boys lost to Clarendon last Friday night to put them into a tie with the Memphis boys, each team showing one defeat on the district record.

Coach Jimmy Pope said the Cyclone is ready for the game and in better mental frame of mind than before the first district encounter at Claude. "That loss jolted us," Coach Pope said, "and I feel the boys are playing much better now."

There will be one game remaining on the schedule for district teams as Memphis teams travel to McLean next Tuesday night and the Claude teams play Silverton teams on Tuesday.

Cyclonettes

Coach Joe Bain's Cyclonettes face the outstanding Claude girls Friday night and will have to come up with a great effort to stay in the contest.

Coach Bain discussed the local team Wednesday before the big games with Claude.

"We've done some changing which I feel has helped us. Gloria Johnson has moved to the guard end and Mary Beck has moved to forward. Gloria is doing an outstanding job. Se is averaging about two steals per quarter," he said.

"Kathy Carmen has come into her own during the past few games and was our high point girl against Silverton. Mary Beck does a good job at forward and Lee will become a traffic engineer in the Traffic Department in the company headquarters. Leigon said Lee is being reassigned because of a back ailment which prevents him from traveling and handling similar duties required by the division manager's job. Necessary medical treatment will also be available in San Angelo.

Davis, currently service results administrator in the San Angelo headquarters, has served in several positions in the 35 years he has been with General Telephone. He joined the company in 1937 in Gonzales as a storeroom keeper.

Since that time he has served as plantman, commercial engineer, commercial manager, district manager, district commercial manager, district commercial superintendent, and staff assistant in the headquarters office. He became general commercial supervisor in 1960.

The Budget and Government Spending!

President Nixon's announcement of the 1973 fiscal year budget, with an estimated $70 billion (17-month) expenditure above what the federal government expects to take in from all sources of taxation, is far more confusing and bewildering than even the problems of the State of Texas.

This means that the national debt will climb from $424 billion to $493.2 billion, of which, during the period of January, 1969 to the last of June, 1973, the years that President Nixon has been in office, the national debt has climbed $133 billion. Considering the first year, by June 30, 1969, the government was able to report a surplus of $3.2 billion, the first surplus since 1960, (a split year between the end of the Johnson administration and the beginning of the Nixon administration), it would make one wonder why every budget Nixon has presented has ended in a deficit.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt was widely belabored for plunging the government deeply into debt. In those eight years, the national debt was increased $32 billion—less in all eight years than the estimated debt increase of $46.3 billion for this fiscal year alone.

When President Nixon reduced the Johnson budget he inherited in 1969, Nixon said he was putting "an end to the era of chronic budget deficits."

When President Nixon was campaigning in 1968 he deplored the recurring deficits of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, said in a radio broadcast: "This is the cause of our inflation and a major cause of our current frustration." President Nixon, as much as anyone, so often has said, massive federal deficits and bounding government debt are the mainsprings of inflation, and, as he said in 1968, "a prescription for economic disaster."

This editor has wondered where all the money is going. The federal government, on many occasions, forces added burdens on the states, which in turn pass some of these burdens on to the counties, cities and schools. We ran across some facts that might shed some light on the situation:

1. While the U. S. population increased 63 per cent, federal bureaucracy has increased 500 per cent. Counting federal, state and local governments, about 23 million people are on bureaucratic payrolls—more than 16 per cent of the country's total working force. And more than one-third of all professional and scientific workers are on public payrolls. Washington alone has 3.1 million on the civilian payroll alone.

2. Washington bureaus alone are installing data-processing computers at the astonishing rate of about 500 a year. More than 2600 are now working. These have a full-time potential of supplying a stack of records 2000 miles high every year.

3. Government employees are mailing us and each other a billion letters annually. This averages 2,740,000 a day. The General Accounting Office estimates that each costs us taxpaying voters about $2. That's nearly $5.5 million a day, to say nothing of the mountains of government forms and questionnaires. There are about 360,000 of these and they involve 15 million copies. And most are as outdated as a crook-necked maise knife and serve as useful a purpose.

4. It costs us at least $8 billion a year for the federal bureaucrats to push themselves through the paperwork jungle and another $20 billion for us to reply. That's $28 billion a year out of our pockets, both ways.

5. There are 250,000 federal payrollers chiefly involved with filing papers into cabinets. The executive branch alone has two million filing cabinets at the moment.

6. Finally, the entire bureaucratic system is based on bureaucratic classification. How much this system is abused each year, even the president doesn't know and cannot control. The abuse is achieved by salary increases through title only: Promotion to a higher bureaucratic classification while doing the same job. This upcreep alone will increase the Washington payroll $1.2 billion in the current 1971-72 fiscal year. No wage freeze orders or anything else will stop this increase.

To go into money spent on national defense, government research, foreign aid, etc., is a study in itself.

Deficit budgeting is there for us all to see. No one likes it. There are only two alternatives, cut government spending or raise taxes. With inflation making everyone poorer, the latter alternative would work an ever increasing hardship.

Signs Of The Times
 Political leaders tell us today that we are enjoying a period of extremely good times; that the economy of our nation has stabilized, and that everything is simply rosy now.

How about them explaining a few things about today's economy such as why:

A penny post card now costs a nickel.

A 10c Sunday paper now costs 35c.

A nickel candy bar costs a dime and it's a rather small one, too.

A nickel cup of coffee costs as much as 20c.

A dime hamburger goes for 50c.

The government speaks in terms of billions of dollars, instead of millions.

You may have more money in your pocket but it buys consistently less.

Your taxes keep going up and up as a matter of course.

You spend more and more to buy less.

Your savings' buying power has shrunk to less than half of what it used to be.

Who Is Running What?
 Occasionally you run into some old boy who "loud-mouths" I know who's running the city; or, I know who's running the school; or, I know who's running the country. And they usually allude to someone who is not an elected official.

I've got good news for this old boy and anyone else who might be in doubt; now is the season to find out just who does run these various organizations. Put your name on the dotted line.

There are three Aldermen to be elected to the City Council; three Trustees to be elected to the School Board; and two Commissioners to be elected to county government. This does not mean the incumbents will not run for election but it does mean the various offices are open to anyone who wishes to run for one of them.

The men who do run for them always put their reputation on the line and then they find out quickly that the total responsibility is on their shoulders.

So, to those who might be in doubt as to who runs what, the Aldermen run the City; the Trustees run the School and the Commissioners run the County. They establish the policy and hire employees to carry out those policies, otherwise the employees wouldn't have a job.

Criticism
 Criticism is so easy to administer that many of us lose sight of the base which we can not possibly evaluate. So many secret factors are involved in the behavior of other that the power of judgement is left without a base. It is far better for the individual to omit an opinion than to plant weeds of doubt in a little garden which might otherwise bloom in the sunlight of tolerance that accepts less than perfection.

In Truth
 A North Carolina magazine, "The State," observes some upside logic: "We have courts that protect criminals and condemn law officials; public officials who advocate violence instead of order; artists who win prizes for ugliness instead of beauty; moralists who condemn ethics and evilt license; ministers who preach against a Divinity and 'patrots' who aid our enemies. Aabout all we need now is to try to cure people of sobriety, jail citizens for saving money, and paying their taxes, and award degress of ignorance."

Place this sign on the outside of every motor vehicle and you can clearly see the reasons behind a government and industry move to build safer cars.

It is also the reason the Texas State Department of Health and authorities in other states have moved to implement an intensive ambulance training program to provide the best medical care possible after an accident has occurred.

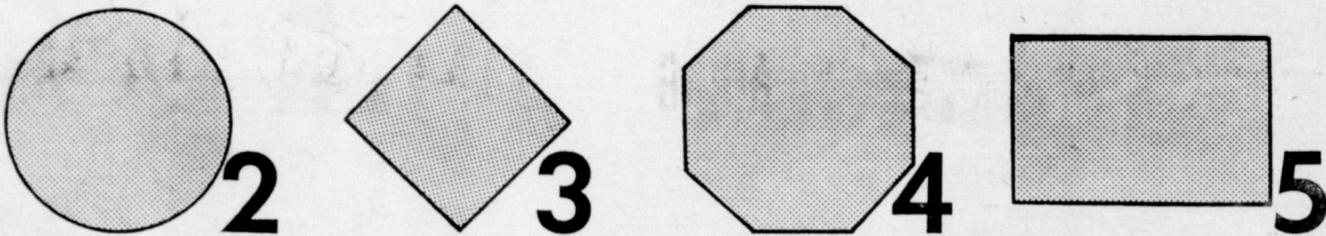

Some medical leaders say automotive experts must "package the human" in his automobile in order to minimize injuries and reduce traffic mishap fatalities. Experience has shown that even people who consider themselves better drivers don't always fasten their seat belts and shoulder straps.

Some author's believe better bumpers, better structural integrity and better door locks will help lessen injuries and fatalities. A big help, they say, would be 100 per cent use of seat restraints, but the safety belts cannot save you if you're sitting on them.

Former Memphis Woman Is Teacher In Singapore

Mrs. Mary Elaine Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clayton of Memphis, is directing a newly-established home economics department in the school at Singapore.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter and two children, Vickie, age seven, and Russell, three, went to Singapore in October, 1970, where he is employed with an oil company.

Mrs. Potter is a graduate of Memphis High School with the class of 1959 and received her degree in home economics from Texas Womens University in Denton in 1963.

Prior to going to Singapore, the family lived in South America for two years.

The project to establish the home economics department began in August, 1971. Confronted with an empty room, no equipment and no textbooks, Mrs. Potter modestly stated that setting up the department "has been a real challenge."

Fifty-six girls from Grades 10 through 12 are enrolled and have helped with the decorating. A home atmosphere has been achieved by the use of comfortable cane chairs, colorful orange and yellow curtains, and flower arrangements for which the girls are responsible. Two sewing machines were donated by Singer Company and seven machines were provided by the school.

Mrs. Potter has set up a program to include eight phases: family relations, dating and sex education, budgeting, grooming, interior decorating, child care, home crafts, clothing and foods, and nutrition. Her overall objective is "building better relationship with our mothers."

Several outstanding speakers have talked to the class during the year. One featured speaker was Mrs. Lee Koon, mother of Singapore's prime minister, who demonstrated her famous Chinese cooking.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Elmont Branigan over the weekend were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Branigan and daughter Michelle of Granbury and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bivens of Weatherford, Okla.

had a visit a few days ago Mrs. Burl Hayes. She will be remembered as the wife of Burl Hayes, the Hamburger King for many years. When in the session years, he sold them for a dozen. Mrs. Hayes was re- sible for the cornbread and as well as a lot more of the they served. In talking to Hayes, I asked her how many read muffins she made in 45 years while feeding the and she estimated 36 muf- per day for 45 years and a little high school arithmetic. and that she had made and total number of over 507 and of the cornbread muf- In checking further on her- ing and feeding the public, estimated that she had cooked 200 thousand pies including good egg custards she made. would be afraid to guess the number of bowls of chili and cups coffee they served while oper- their cafe. visited in Branigans' Jewelry last week when they were having their 25th anniversary. all of the red carpet on the floor and the display of jewelry, costume and other items full of color. I could remember back 65 years ago that we did not have carpet on the floor, but a plain wood floor with a brass cuspidor and two sitting around on the floor here they were easy to aim at and easy to miss while waiting for their watch to be repaired. At that period of life, you did not see many ladies watches as their me was pretty well taken up with looking at a watch with hands and chokes to keep up with the men kept up with the can remember in 1907 Mr. Truelove had his jew- ere in a small frame build- the east side of the square. her jewelers I remember at me had a small space in the of the drug stores. Some of jewelers I can remember here Mr. Truelove, Vernon R. Mr. Hickerson, Mr. R. H. here and Mr. Chas. Oen. All of men!

One of the items of time pieces found in the modern jewelry was the Accutron wrist watch that was brought about by moon shots as they had to ve them for the space view. It electronic and has a tuning rk. Mr. Einstein had predicted at it would take the scientists d engineers about 50 years to rfect this electronic time-piece. ut not so, as they made a mass dy of this particular under- king with so many working on is that they did this 50 year- omplishment in 2 1/2 years and ey could then start the moon flight. It was only 11 years ago this particular watch was perfect- ed and was only used by our government for two years and it has only been sold to the public for the past 9 years. The only trouble I found about it was that they do not have a $2 Accutron, so I will have to wait a while. A thing that did impress me about this watch was that you could look through the dial of it and see the works.

After going the rounds of this jewelry store one day, I had a dream that night which really dressed it up. Of course, this was a dream. Elomnt Branigan had a costume of black velvet with patent leather shoes, knee britches with pearl button trim, a coat and a white ruffled shirt and dia- monds in frames of his glasses! The sales ladies were dressed in backless white evening dresses trimmed in sequins of diamonds and with their diamond head dresses and with their white kid ballerina shoes were floating a- round over the red carpet. After this dream, the next day I did go down to check up on it and found Gladys with her blue dress, Flo with her red dress, Jo Pearl with her green dress and Sarah with her polka dot.

Our thanks to Mrs. Floyd (Effie) McElreath for her con- tribution to Heritage Hall. These contributions will live on after we are gone showing us what the pioneer did and the waf of living we have today. With all the talk of poverty programs, I know that in over 70 years, American peo- ple have more necessities and luxuries than they ever had be- fore.

I had a short visit with Ray- mond Evans of Floydada a few days ago. Raymond will be re- membered by a lot of you as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans, who were early day residents of Hall County and both are now deceased. The other children in this family were Robert, now of Kerrville, and Dorothy of Fort Worth. They are still taxpayers in Hall County as they still have faith in their home county.

Visiting in Hall County Herit- are Hall the past Saturday were Mrs. Belya Vance and son Charles of Pampa. They made this special trip down to visit Heritage Hall.

Mrs. Vance brought along with her a souvenir cup with the pic- ture of the old court house on it. This cup was bought from Lewis and Marshall Store here by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ables, who were early day resi- dents of Hall County. Mrs. Vance was Belya Phillips and lived in Hedley until she was about 12 years old. She graduated from Pampa High School. Charles Vance is now working in the em- ployment office in Pampa and in questioning him on how the unem- ployment was in the Pampa area, he reported it at 3 per cent which is about half of the national fig- ure. The last report I had was that Seattle, Wash., was the high- est city in the U. S. on unemploy- ment. Mrs. Vance and Charles both were very complimentary of our displays in Heritage Hall

Cold weather the past week froze most of our registrants in Heritage Hall.

Two of our old landmark building have been torn down in the past week. One of them was the Farmers Union Store building that was constructed with the light colored Memphis-made brick which were made in a brick kiln near the site of this building. I can remember at one time there was a lot of volume of business conducted in this old building and there was a sweet potato curing plant here at one time.

The other building that has been the old landmark at the cor- ner of 7th and Main Streets and, as well as I remember, was built by the late W. A. Johnson, pub- lisher of the Hall County Herald for a number of years with his son, Earl. The date on the steel door plate reads "Hall County Herald, 1906". This building did a lot of service for Hall County in the past 66 years. The only survivor of the W. A. Johnson family is Mrs. Jimmy Bass, the former Raye Johnson. Mrs. W. A. Johnson, as well as I remember, helped him give us a newsey, weekly paper.

A quote from "It Happened Last Night": "One trouble with the world today is that we have socks that stretch and budgets that won't".

Another quote: "That formula for a successful vacation is to take along half the clothes you think you will need and twice the money you have saved."

I hope we can soon get Howard Hughes located and get an actual true story and then we may find out if Howard is male or female with all that money.

With all of this redistricting in Texas, I have been thinking of writing my friend, Senator High- tower, to see whether he would be running in Louisiana, Arkan- sas, Oklahoma or Texas!

In the passing away of Ernie Jones of Pampa the past week, it brought back a lot of memories of this family I had known for the past 65 years. Mr. and Mrs. L.

F. Jones, Sr. first came to Hall County in 1889 from the state of Missouri with their 6 children and four more were born in Hall County, making a total of 10 children in the family. Of this family, there are three survivors, Ina (Jones) Sigler of Brownwood, Gladys (Jones) Gilmore of Dallas and Oren Jones of Memphis. These three and Ollie were born in Hall County. I remember when we first moved to Memphis, my dad rented the L. F. Jones home at the corner of 15th and Brice St. while the Jones family lived in Amarillo a short time. That was in days before we had water flowing through pipes. Jno. L. Burnett may not know it, but some place in his backyard there is an 80 foot deep well without any faucets on it. The only way to get water out of that well was by bucket and a long rope and that was the way we got our water for ourselves to use and also the milk cow and what I mean it was hard to fill that old cow up with water, even with a buc- ket on each end of the rope! That was my chore daily.

I would not be surprised, in fact I am expecting a new book to be published soon, other than the Howard Hughes edition. This book that I am expecting to be published will be called "Ruth and Ruth" on how to raise the modern babies as they had the care of two young ones for a week. These two grandmas, Ruth Harrison and Ruth Hawkins, had a review on the care of youngsters while their parents were on a ski trip. So they should have a lot of good advice for the young mothers.

There are two more names in Memphis now that are almost up with the Smiths, Jones and Phil- lips. The other two names are the McQueens and Davis. I met another Davis from San Angelo the past week, Jimmy and Delois Davis who are moving here in the next few weeks. They will re- place the Sherron Lees with Gen- eral Telephone Co, who are mov- ing to San Angelo. It looks like a swap out. I forgot to look Jimmy's and Delois' feet to see if they would fit in Sherron's and Patsy's shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lemons and their granddaughter, Kathy Le- mons and Mrs. Wendell Harrison visited in Abilene over the week- end. The Lemons visited their daughter, Mrs. Ronald Davidson and family, while Mrs. Harrison visited with her sister, and other relatives.

Ginning Figure Totals 52,606 Survey Shows

Although the weather has been cold the past week, Hall County farmers manager to harvest about 675 more bales, bringing the ginning total to 52,606. This figure was reported by the gins Thursday morning.

Apparently, Hall County will produce less than 55,000 bales, although some gins are reporting they are still receiving cotton as some late harvesting is being done.

Harvesting was delayed in the entire area last weekend as light snow and sleet coupled with freezing temperatures prevailed. Memphis received an unmeasurable amount of moisture, it was so light.

W. E. Cain, in charge of the USDA's Memphis Cotton Classing Office, said Thursday morning that the local office is still classing on a back log and it will be next Tuesday or Wednesday before decisions are reached about a closing date.

The local office received 1,000 samples yesterday, he reported.

The Memphis office classed 17,050 samples last week to bring the season total to 119,800. Cain is tentatively setting the season total at about 140,000 to 145,000 samples.

Light Spotted grades accounted for 44 per cent and Spotted grades for 42 per cent of samples classed. Samples with bark accounted for 62 per cent. The predominant staple was 39 with 38 per cent followed by staple 31 with 30 per cent and staple 29 with 15 per cent.

Micronaire readings showed 25 per cent miked in the 3.5 to 4.9 range. The 3.3 to 3.4 range accounted for 17 per cent. The 3.0 to 3.2 range accounted for 31 per cent and the 2.7 to 2.9 range for 21 per cent.

Pressley tests showed 88 per cent of the samples tested 75,000 psi or higher.

Cotton prices continued steady and demand strong on all qualities miking 3.3 and higher. Demand weakened late last week and prices fell 100 points on all qualities miking 3.2 and lower. Prices ranged from 27.00 to 32.50 cents per pound, with most cotton selling from 27.50 to 30.50.

she had 12 points."

The coach indicated the Cyclonettes have a more balanced team now than earlier in the season. At guards, Pat Fleeks, Gloria Johnson, Jamie Moss and Vickie Rea see most of the action, while on the forward end, Kathy Carmen, Wanda Walker, Mary Beck and Kay Murdock are in and out of the lineup.

Wheeler Games

The Memphis teams split games at Wheeler last Friday, with the Cyclonettes losing a heartbreaker to Wheeler girls 48 to 47 after leading much of the game. Mary Beck had 23, Wanda Walker had 8 and Kay and Kathy 6 each.

In the boys game, the Cyclone took command of the game in the third period, leading 38 to 30, and went on to win the contest 59 to 54. Larry Johnson scored 24, Louis Davis 18 and Otho Rogers 8, while Wheeler's Ron Weatherly had 16.

The Memphis B team boys downed Wheeler B 60 to 43, and the freshmen boys lost a close one to Childress 55 to 53 with the winning points coming on the final buzzer to break a tie.

Silverton games Tuesday saw the Memphis B team girls winning 41 to 23 as Ruth Butler scored 19 points and Mickey Henderson scored 11.

The Cyclonettes won 50 to 36 as Kathy Carmen had 15, Wanda Walker 14, Mary Beck 12 and Kay Murdock 6.

The Cyclone defeated Silverton 59 to 41 as Larry Johnson scored 31 points, Louis Davis 12 and Mike Browning 8.

The Memphis boys have opportunity to do something that few, if ever, Memphis teams have done. This is winning football and basketball crowns, back to back. It has possibly been 20 years since a Memphis boys team won the district, even though one team was victorious but forfeited the crown on a player eligibility question raised by school officials of a district school.
