Clay Track Covering Ready For 54 Runners

For 54 MHS lads, the season change from basketball to track is one thing, running and the running.

This year, however, the Memphis tracklads will be running on a different surface, as the quarter-mile track just west of Cytel Stadium has been covered with red clay.

This project was started early in winter, with truckloads of clay moved in, and the long blades of blading it smooth was finished before the season began last week.

Another project in the athletic facilities improvement program has been the construction of "brown" dirt fills on the two football fields.

Actually, the track turf, which is located between the concrete bleachers, was used to construct the

Lakeview Rites Held Wed For Mrs. Oma L. Davis

Funeral services for Mrs. Oma L. Davis, 61, who died early Monday morning in a one-car accident south of Clarendon, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 17, in the Lakeview First Baptist Church.

Officiating were the Rev. Clay Day of Fort Worth and the Rev. Burton Melancon, pastor. Interment was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Lakeview under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Mrs. Davis was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident 18 miles south of Clarendon shortly after midnight Monday.

A passenger in the car she was driving, Wesley Lyons, 52, of Lakeview is a patient in the Hall County Hospital.

Officers said Mrs. Davis' car apparently ran off the right side of U. S. Highway 70 and into a ditch around a culvert outlet.

Oma Lee Barnett was born Nov. 27, 1910, at Lakeview. Her husband, Burnice Floyd Davis, died in 1969.

Survivors include: one sister, John P. Ray of Fresno, Cal.; five brothers, Rial M. Barnett of Fresno, Guy Barnett of Oklahoma City, E. C. Barnett, Jr. of Borger, Clyde Barnett of Stinson and Robert L. Barnett of Lakeview.

Hall bearers were nephews, Don Barnett, Tony Barnett, Ron Barnett, Oman E. Barnett, Larry Barnett, Earl Davis and Jimmy Barnett.

"crowns" on the football fields. Crowns are advantageous since they allow proper drainage to occur.

One of the problems with the dirt covered track was that grass thrived on it. The red clay track will not support vegetation, and will allow a firm footing for the runners.

Track is considered the oldest, friendly competitive sport in the history of mankind. It demands a lot of training and physical conditioning for successful participation.

For the 54 MHS lads, the first varsity meet is March 4 at Vernon, while the B team trackmen will compete at Boys Ranch on March 3-4.

Memphis will host an invitational track meet on Saturday, March 25, so fans can plan to attend this meet.

The local team has several lads returning from last year's district championship team. Participation in the program is high.

The track roster reads: Buddy Ballew, James Beck, Mark Bradshaw, Jimmy Booth, Mike Browning, Ronny Browning, Alvin Bullock.

RED CLAY TRACK—Pictured above are members of the 1972 Memphis High Track team as they take a warm-up lap around the inside of the track. A red clay surface has been added to the Memphis quarter-mile track, and final work on the project is just now being completed. Top soil from the track was hauled onto the football fields to construct "crowns" down the center of the fields to aid drainage. Then many truckloads of red clay were hauled onto the track, and the clay was smoothed, packed, watered, and graded. There are 54 lads listed on the MHS track roster this year.

Counterfeit Currency Exhibit To Be Displayed Next Week At FNB

A counterfeit exhibit from the Federal Reserve Bank will be on display in the First National Bank of Memphis during regular business hours Friday, Feb. 18 and through Friday, Feb. 25, it was announced this week.

Vice President Billy Prince of the bank stated the display is in such demand that it has taken 10 months since it was requested.

The display is a public service feature supplied by the Federal Reserve Bank in order to familiarize the general public with all types of counterfeit money, and the display also allows citizens to test themselves on recognition of counterfeit currency.

"Our counterfeit exhibit is in one case and includes counterfeit currency in denominations of $1-, $5-10-20-50-100 displayed beside genuine bills of the same denominations.

"An individual viewing the exhibit is given a choice of a button to push under each bill, if his desire is to choose the genuine currency, and he is successful, a greenlight will flash. If he misses his guess and presses the button located below the counterfeit bill, a red light will flash," a letter from a Federal Reserve Board official stated.

Local bank officials said the display is most valuable to familiarize the general public with counterfeit currency, in extending an invitation to the citizens of this area to view the display next week. All banks will be closed Monday, Feb. 26, in observance of Washington's Birthday.

1972 Cotton Program To Remain Unchanged

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has announced that no changes will be made in the 1972 Upland Cotton Program, as previously announced according to Larry B. Rogers, executive director, Hall County ASCS.

As in 1971, there is no restriction on cotton planting. Farmers who comply with terms and conditions of the program may plant as much cotton as they wish—without penalty—and still receive the full payment of 15 cents per pound on the farm program yield times the cotton acreage allotment.

Payments will be made soon after July 1. Loans will be available to participants on all cotton produced on the farm, Rogers said.

The USDA special Jan. 27 report showing farmers intend to plant 13.1 million acres of upland cotton in 1972 is an increase of 900,000 acres over 1971.

"Plantings of this size," the secretary said, "at average yields will provide sufficient cotton to meet our domestic and export needs as well as add to carryover stocks."

"In view of the favorable demand-price situation for upland cotton, farmers' planting views as expressed to us, and the opportunity a farmer has to meet the obvious demand under the 1972 cotton program, I see no need to adjust any of our announced program provisions for 1972 in order to provide adequate supplies for market and reserve needs," Secretary Butz said.

The beginning of the enrollment period for farmers to sign up to participate in the 1972 program has been moved from Jan. 17 to Feb. 3.

USDA is urging producers to work closely with their Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county office to be sure the land, certified as 1972 set-aside acreage, is eligible and represents average cropland when compared with the land on which they are planting the program crop.

Compliance reporters will be paying particular attention to these requirements as well as measuring the certified acreage when they spot check farms in 1972.

Measurement service, which is available from ASCS offices for a nominal fee, can assure a farmer that his designated acreage meets all requirements for acceptable set-aside, Rogers added.

Agriculture In First Place!

As the harvest of 1971 crops ends, plans are being made for 1972 with the age-old goal of more production going from the 188,000 farms and ranches of Texas which contain 140 million acres. The higher the yield from crops, livestock and other segments of agriculture, the better the financial condition of the state.

These facts are not recognized by the majority of residents of the state who are in the category of "city dwellers." Except from the group of rural Texas who have moved to the cities, the role of agriculture is not understood nor appreciated. Therefore, it is time to bring up-to-date facts before everyone in an effort to get recognition of this state's most important "industry."

Among the facts which have been documented, last year 292,000 farm workers applied a half billion man-hours of labor of this vast enterprise. At the same time, in order to operate the overall agriculture plant, Texas Farmers and ranchers spent the following:

$517 million for feed and seed; $387 million for machinery and other capital items; $352 million for repairs, petroleum, etc.; $294 million for livestock; $250 million for hired labor; $127 million for interest on farm mortgage debts; $115 million for fertilizer and lime; $119 million for farm real estate taxes; and $460 million for interest on operating loans, and a wide variety of other operating inputs.

The total of the above if our addition is correct, reads: $2,622,000,000.00.

From the side of receipts, the farmers and ranchers sold: $1,383 million of cattle and calves; $221 million of poultry and eggs; $205 million of dairy products; $68 million of hogs; $69 million of other livestock products; $395 million of feed crops; $355 million of cotton; $147 million of wheat and rice; $185 million of vegetables, fruits and nuts; and $107 million of other crops.

The total of the above is $3,137,000,000.00.

These figures show only money spent and received. It does not recognize that about 40 million tons of products are hauled from Texas farms and ranches each year. The cost of this transportation is not available, but it represents a tremendous figure. Also, nearly all of it requires further handling by huge food and fiber marketing systems before being consumed. And the marketing system alone has the equivalent of one million full-time workers who add $5,500,000,000.00 in value to the agricultural food and fibers.

We in this area play a vital part in the above statistics whatever we are doing. Let us recognize our place in the overall picture, and work toward getting more understanding from our "city cousins," who apparently want only dollars we have to spend.

Our incredible journey
5½ miles beneath the surface of the earth.

We're going deep, deep, deep into the earth. 28,000 feet beneath the surface. We're drilling a 5½-mile-deep well at the Anadarko Basin in Oklahoma. We are pioneers in drilling for gas at this great depth. This well is just part of our continuing search for natural gas. We're continuing our search even though we already have an adequate supply to meet our customers' needs. We know we have a responsibility to look after the needs of the next generation. What does this mean to you? It means you'll have adequate gas energy for all your needs. It means we'll be able to operate at peak efficiency and keep your gas service reasonable. And we'll be able to support the growth of our service area. This will mean more jobs and more money. And a better life for all of us.

You might say we're going to great depths to stretch your dollar.

Volunteer Firemen

They are the guardians of our belongings.

We may own a business, a well constructed modern home, a run-down dilapidated shack, a vacant lot, or even an outhouse, but they look after these all in a day's stride. When they are called to duty, they respond hurriedly—and they know there will be no remuneration except in the satisfaction of a job well done.

They leave their places of business, the jobs for which they are being paid, and work for us as long as it is necessary for nothing. Then they return to their businesses or avocations, try to pick up where they left off, and continue in a work which they hope will put vitals on their tables.

They are the unsung heroes of our little town—and all little towns of our area, district and state—maybe of the nation.

They are our voluntary firemen!

They maintain an active organization, they hold regular meetings and study causes of fires and more modern and effective methods of combatting conflagrations. They attend district and state meetings in order to know what other fireboys are doing and to keep abreast of the times.

They have representative to attend the state schools every year or two so the members can keep trained and well informed. This activity usually results in a substantial saving to property owners on fire insurance.

But best of all, they come to our aid in times of disaster.

Cheaper Than Dirt

Washington observers reported during December that education turned the tide for the Smith—

Melcher Strategic Reserve Bill.

Responding to arguments that proposed strategic gain reserve legislation would result in higher food prices Smith juggled a bunch of fivepound bags to the floor of the House.

"I want to show you folks," Smith told his fellow lawmakers, "that this bill has nothing to do with consumer prices." Then he proceeded to reveal the contents and prices of packages which he had purchased in the Washington, D. C., area.

Included were:
5 lbs. cornmeal 59c
5 lbs. flour 59c
5 lbs. potting soil 69c
5 lbs. cat litter 79c
5 lbs. cow manure 79c
5 lbs. sheep manure 79c

Federal Trade Commission Issues New Labeling Rules For Wearing Apparel

A new era in the care of wearing apparel will soon begin for consumers as a result of a permanent labeling trade rule by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Effective July 3, 1972, the rule will cover articles leaving manufacturing plants after that date, according to Roxanne Schnorr, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Manufacturers will be required to place permanent labels concerning care on most finished articles of clothing and certain textile product in the form of piece goods," Miss Schnorr said. "Any textile product in the form of wearing apparel must have a label or tag permanently affixed which clearly gives instructions for care maintenance of the article."

In addition, any textile product in the form of piece goods which will be used by the consumer to make an article of clothing, must be accompanied by a label or tag which clearly gives instructions for care and maintenance. The label must be in a form that can be permanently affixed to the finished article by the consumer by normal household methods.

"The rulings by the FTC were based on technological advances," the specialist said. "Every article requires different care because of the large number of textile products on the market with a variety of fibers, combinations of fibers and special finishes. It has been almost impossible for the consumer to be informed or recall information about any one product."

Care labeling instructions must fully inform the buyer what regular care and maintenance is necessary for the ordinary use of the article. Washing, drying, ironing, bleaching and drycleaning instructions must be included. Instructions should also warn which care and maintenance procedures will harm the product.

The World Of Science— Ten Per Cent Of Americans Suffer From Some Kind Of Hearing Loss

Many of the technological advances engineers think up are designed to be used by the user, and electronic amplification that has made possible rock and roll bands possible is no exception. The danger in this case is hearing loss. If papers at a recent Acoustical Society of America meeting in Cleveland, Ohio are any indication, it is going to be much easier to establish the connection between rock and roll music hearing loss than has been the case with health hazards—for example, cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

It is already known that about 10 per cent of the American population suffers from some kind of hearing loss and that in the case of these cases the loss is attributed directly to industrial noise.

As a result of these findings, industries now use minimum standards under which their workers work.

Dr. James Fluegrath of Memphis University in Tennessee has shown these industrial standards for rock and roll bands in the Memphis area. Although the noise level of individual bands varied considerably, over 7,000 separate measurements showed that all ten exceeded the lowest damage criteria used by industries.

Measurements were made of the loss of the people listening to the bands, but Dr. Charles and David Nelson of the University of Minnesota have conducted hearing tests on 25 rock and roll musicians in the Minneapolis area.

Tests were given before and after an evening's playing by the musicians, and 25 per cent of them showed slight temporary hearing losses. Previous tests have shown that permanent damage results when this type of loss occurs repeatedly over a period of several years.

Six of the musicians already have some hearing loss. Since ear hearing test had not been made on these individuals, it is not possible to say that the hearing loss is definitely the result of their music, but the finger of suspicion certainly points in this direction.

Perhaps it won't be long before the small print under the sign of a dance hall reads: "Caution, rock and roll music may be hazardous to your hearing."

Wide Use Seen For New Alloy

The development of a new metal alloy at Bell Telephone Laboratories promises to have far reaching consequences for the electrical industries. The new substance becomes superconducting—that is, it allows an electric current to be conducted without resistance at a higher temperature than any other metal.

When many metals are cooled below a certain temperature, an electric current in them will continue to flow indefinitely after it has been started. It is something like being able to drive your car without gas after it has been speeded up.

The practical advantages of this are obvious, but development of superconducting devices has been retarded because of the expensive cooling process. Until the recent development by Dr. Bernd Matthias and his co-workers, superconductors had to be cooled to within 4 degree centigrade above absolute zero with relatively rare helium gas. Then new alloy needs to be cooled to only about 20 degree above absolute zero, and inexpensive hydrogen gas can be used for this.

The results of this new work are reported in a recent issue of the "Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences."

Multilevel Marketing Plans and Pyramid Schemes

What is a pyramid or multilevel marketing plan? Basically, under this sales scheme, a company sells a contract to individuals which permits them to market a "fabulous" new product or service. These individuals in turn induce others to invest. Prospects are encouraged to believe they will receive enormous amounts of money in profits from the product or service that they sell. In rebates paid for each person they recruit, and in "overrides" on all sales. The marketing plan offers far greater rewards for recruiting other participants than from selling the product or service.

If a friend, neighbor, or relative invites you to attend a meeting to learn about a program to earn money, he may be attempting to recruit you into a multilevel plan. If this does happen, you should consider the following factors. First, the product or service is often nothing more than a vehicle used to recruit people and in some cases consists of a personal improvement course or a series of lectures to attend. Second, great emphasis is placed upon the enormous earnings which await participants. Third, the salesman are extremely persuasive and an immediate decision to join the program must be made. It is now or never, and you can join at one of three or four levels depending upon how much money you can gather together and how much "ambition" you can muster. Finally, little or no mention is made regarding market saturation as the ever-increasing number of participants attempt to recoup their investment by recruiting from the ever-decreasing number of potential investors in a given geographic area.

In summary, it is very difficult to recruit enough individuals into

YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Beware Of Pantry Insects

Several kinds of insects can be expected in the homemaker's kitchen pantry at one time or another, according to W. B. Hooser, Hall County agricultural agent.

Hooser says insects can get into the cleanest of kitchens in any one of several ways. This group of insects includes roaches, ants, saw-tooth grain beetles, Indian-meal and Mediterranean flour moths, confused flour, cigarette and drugstore beetles, and rice, bean and cowpea weevils.

The county agent points out that these insects may be in the larvae or adult stage and may all produce similar damage and require similar control measures.

Some pantry pests are general feeders and will consume nearly all types of vegetable and animal matter while other have definite food preferences and will confine themselves to those preferences. A few of the many food items that attract pantry pests are chocolate and nut meats, macaroni and spaghetti, breakfast cereals, certain drugs, spices and tobacco, cayenne pepper, powdered milk, and dried peas and beans.

Food should be purchased in quantities small enough to be used rapidly and, if storage is necessary, they should be stored in glass, plastic or metal containers with tight fitting lids, says Hooser. He suggests discarding small quantities of infested foods rather than attempting to salvage them with freezing and heating techniques.

A regular general cleanup of the storage area is recommended whether the food is kept or discarded. Cabinets should be washed and the shelves covered with foil or paper and the foods replaced.

There is no need to fumigate the entire house to control pantry pests, adds Hooser. More information about all household insects may be found in the "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" which is available at the county agent's office.

Area Ranchers Are Planning Brush Control

Many Ranchers in the Hall-Childress Soil and Water Conservation District are making plans to control Mesquite and other species of brush on their rangeland this winter, according to James L. McDonald, Soil Conservationist.

McDonald stated that the Hall County Conservation Needs Inventory shows there to be 576,000 acres in Hall Co. 325,000 acres are in Rangeland and of this, 60% or 240,000 acres are in need of brush control and improved stand of range grasses.

McDonald said, "Brush control by tree dozing is best done during the months of December through June, as this is the time to seed range grasses."

Range seeding is a very important part of the tree dozing process as the original grasses are uprooted along with the brush. When Brush control and range seeding is done grasses are introduced into the grubbed area thus preventing an annual vegetative crop of weeds.

Farmers and Ranchers who are doing Brush Control by tree dozing and seeding on their operating units are: Mark Richards, Woodrow Mullin, Howard Richardson, and Henry House. George Gafford, Lee Scriver, Mona Roberson, and J. C. Johnson have controlled brush by tree dozing.

Presbyterian Guild Meets In Home Of Boodie Grundy

On February 9 the Presbyterian Guild met in the home of Boodie Grundy, Virginia Browder, President, called the meeting to order.

Gladys Power gave the devotional which was on meekness. After roll call, the minutes of the last meeting were read and Glenn Cosby gave the treasurer's report.

A letter from the Children's home in Amarillo was read thanking the guild members for the January donations and coolaide was the requested item for February as reported by the chairman, Gladys Montgomery.

Ruth Harrison reported the overseas sewing assignment and also gave the study, which was on marriage as discussed in a special issue of "Concern," prepared by the United Presbyterian Women.

Mrs. Harrison mentioned that the institution of marriage and family not only has shown considerable variety from one culture to another, it also has developed in many different ways throughout the history of Western Society.

In the small family unit the woman's primary role has continued to be that of white and mother. But that is changing as women can now, if they choose, keep house without this being a full-time job. Women increasingly have both the opportunity and need to find new vocations beyond that of wife and mother.

More of the women who make up 40 per cent of the labor force in this country are beginning to see the possibility of employment as a fulfilling vocation as well as an economic necessity.

Such changes are providing a women's liberation movements.

In Mark 10: 2-12 Christ disparteth with the Pharisees touching divorce (Deuteronomy 24:1)

The focus of the discussion in Mark is on God's original intention for marriage and it appears that Jesus regarded marriage as an indissoluble union in which both the husband and wife have responsibility, the speaker said.

In this respect his teaching pointed beyond the customs of his day and enhanced the dignity of the marriage bond (Mark 10:9) "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man un-read and hear a lot about the liberation but some of us do not realize that in our community we have a lot of liberation in our homes and public affairs. It seems that it only been a few years ago women were not allowed to our juries in court, but not I was talking to a lady who was married and she was across the square to the house. She told me she was "a courtin'". Later on in the I asked her how she got "courtin'" and she replied "served on a jury in District Court and that there were men and four men on the jury. So this gave me the thought we really do have liberation. The odds like that, it would be possible for the men to win the vote. In talking to two of the Liberators, Mrs. Kenneth and Mrs. Grover Roden, it that this was their first to serve on a jury and they asked so many questions the attorneys that they had decided they were on trial. I ask them if the court still libeled the brass cuspidors for jury, but said they did not take of Old Faithful, Tinsley Brown Mule, as they were so proud that it would have stranded them. The four men that with this Liberation group were Larry McQueen, Gaines McFalls, Clyde Reed and Arnold Cruze and the liberated sex were Ruby Roden, Johnnie Hutcherson, Mary Miller, Mrs. Clyde Collins, Phyllis Dale, Violet McQueen, Mrs. H. C. Hignight and Mrs. Leon Phillips. One of these ladies made the remark that they did not get to make the decision as she guessed the judge thought they were not liberated enough and too nervous to make the decision.

I noticed this quote from Mel Bergman who figures the unemployment situation must be getting worse, "Look at how many people are after Nixon's job."

A quote from "Earl's Pearls:" "Middle age is when a man chases a girl only if she is going down hill."

I can remember here when the only beauty parlor the ladies had to patronize was their own with soap, vinegar, egg and water with curling irons and kid curlers. Not so now, as I think we have 11 beauty parlors in Memphis. I walked through one of these places a few days ago and I find a lot of investment in fixtures and supplies to make the ladies look better with shampoos, dryers, tints, dyes, rollers making the curls and then with the quick dry machines and from that to a combing job and a little trimming, where they come out looking like a different person. My observation is that we need the beauty parlors and hope they can soon do something with the men to make them look better. In checking up with some of the people who have been here just about as long as I have, we find that to the best of our knowledge that the first beauty parlor in operation here was put in by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin along with their ready-to-wear store on the balcony of a building on the north side of the square and a drug store was operated on the lower floor by Madden and Rushing. The date of the opening of this first beauty parlor was about 19-20. Two of the operators that we can remember who worked in this shop were: Rebecca Stickle, now of Amarillo, and Mozelle Thornton, now of Oklahoma City, the daughter of Chas. Thornton, an early day resident of Hall County. This first beauty parlor was bought by Geo. Greenhaw and is still in operation.

Mrs. Ray Martin is the former King, now of Pampa, Texas. She is the sister of Imogene King and Mrs. Alla Boswell.

In a telephone conversation a few days ago with Pete Smith (who is now living in Rogers, Texas), I learned he and his family are all doing O. K. Art is now living in Denver, Colo., working for Gates Rubber Co. Barbara is married, has two children and living in Temple. So Pete and Ruth are now grandpaw and grandma!

In checking with Hattie Dem Thompson a few days ago, she said the wind did not change to blow the stork in but then moon did change and she had to leave instantly! The other grandmother, Bess Yarbrough, I think has taken a tour to help Billy Ed and Dawn out at Killen with the new arrival this week.

Mrs. O. E. Gardenhire called us a few days ago and reported that Mattie Lou Davenport of Arlington passed away Jan. 30 with a heart attack. Memorial services were held Feb. 2. She was buried in the Watson Cemetery which was named for her family who gave the land for the cemetery several years ago. She is survived by one brother and one sister. She was the wife of Lyman Davenport. Mattie Lou was a Hall County resident for about 30 years.

We received a letter from Rea (Johnson) Bass of Dallas the past week and she was interested in getting the steel door plate of the Hall County Herald building which was recently demolished. This building was built by her father in 1906 and had been a lot of service for this area. In checking up on the door plates, we found that Sug Lemons and Wendell Harrison had retrieved these plates from the rubbish and had them on a pick-up truck ready for a polish job.

We had as guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week Mrs. Homer Tribble (sponsor) and Ramona Ballew (editor) of the MHS yearbook. The group that was with them were the officers of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes who were Brenda Elliott, Mike Browning, Jennifer Pate, Kay Johnson, Susan Godfrey, Karyn Smith, Terri Rogers, Jodia Miller, Carl Howard, Bobby Hall, Candy Reyes, Jimmy Melton, Debbie Gilbert, Dedria Evans and Mark McQueen. They were making pictures for the 1972 year book.

The past Saturday we only had 15 register in Heritage Hall. Among the registrants were two Memphis girls who recently moved here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barron from Alaska where they had lived most of the time for the past 15 years. Timbi was born in Alaska and her sister, Lori, was born in Texas. Both of these girls had spent most of their lives in Alaska. We are glad this family picked Memphis for their home.

If you missed our De Rose Industries open house last Friday, you really missed something as I think that it was a surprise to everyone to find what nicely furnished mobile homes they are building and so complete in every way. The "supreme" unit, which is a double unit, is a super-duper and you will have to see it to appreciate the fine work they are doing in this plant. I did ask about buying one here, but they say none for sale here as the order has to go through a dealer. I asked them about a dealer where we could buy one and I did find out that the Warner Agency, south on the Canyon Highway out of Amarillo, had them on display. We are proud for it to be a Hall County product. Give Luke Newman and the other employees of this plant a pat on the back for their achievements.

We have made a lot of progress over the past several years and of course, we have more luxuries than ever before, but there are a few things that have been crowded out too fast. A lady told me a few days ago that you could not buy an ice cream cone anywhere around the square of Memphis. I hate to see kids grow up without knowing what an ice cream cone is and getting the pleasure of smearing it all over them.

We did a little information from Boddie Grundy a few days ago about one of our former MHS girls. The report was that she had received a picture of Mary Winston Walters with her great-grandchild. She made a real "flussy" looking great-grandmother. She is living in California.

These new grandmaws and grandpaws have not changed from what they were in the early days. I happened to be in one of our local eating places a few days ago and I had a call from Dr. and Mrs. Jack Rose to come by their table, which I did, and he told me he just happened to have a snapshot of their grandchild. Well, this snapshot happened to be a folded book of pictures about three inches thick.

Funeral Services Held In Arizona For Mrs. Nix

Funeral services for Mrs. Nora Ann Nix, 75, mother of Mrs. Walter Jones of Memphis, were held Tuesday, Feb. 8, in Sunset Chapel in Phoenix, Ariz.

Burial was in Memory Lawn Cemetery in Phoenix.

Mrs. Claude Nix and her husband were Hall County residents about 40 years before moving to Phoenix, about 24 years ago.

Survivors include her husband, Claude, of Phoenix; three sons, J. E. of Amarillo, and Robert and Clarence, both of Phoenix; five daughters, Mrs. Charlene Clevenger and Mrs. Betty Brown, both of Phoenix, Mrs. Hazel Jones of Memphis, Mrs. Claudine Thompson of Amarillo and Mrs. Pauline Revell of Amarillo; 25 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Until about 125 years ago, the tomato was generally thought to be poisonous by many people in the United States.

The pin oak tree is well named. Though this oak probably got its name from the pins on leaf tips, the tree's short branches served as pins which held many buildings together before nails became plentiful.

today, he is considered by many to be one of the finest guitarists and ballad singers in the country. As an entertainer, he served as technical consultant for the motion picture, "Day of Triumph," a story of the life of Christ. Dr. Kerr was asked by the late Cecil B. DeMille to serve as a consultant on the motion picture, "The Ten Commandments." Mr. DeMille was so impressed with Dr. Kerr's talents, he publicly invited him to join his staff as an actor, writer or director.

Dr. Kerr prepared for law at the University of Texas, and entered the practice of law in Lufkin. He later joined the legal staff of the Governor of Texas and it was from this position that Dr. Kerr was called to the ministry.

Throughout his 21 years of service as a Methodist minister, Dr. Kerr distinguished himself in many ways as a dedicated man of God. In the early years, he obtained his Doctorate of Divinity and became intensely interested in youth work. He held pastorates in Austin, Robstown, Kerrville and Tyler. He resigned his pastorate from Marvin Methodist Church in Tyler, of which he had been the pastor for 10 years in order that he might give full time to the service of youth.

His accomplishments in youth work are long and impressive. He has been named by Texas Governors to head state commissions on juvenile delinquency and youth development, and served as six years as chairman of the Texas Youth Development Council.

He was appointed vice chairman of the National Advisory Committee for State and Local Action of the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Dr. Kerr holds the Silver Beaver Award and the Silver Antelope Award from the Boy Scouts of America and has been awarded the National Leadership Award from Freedom Foundation in Valley Forge.

He was asked by Mr. Twushima, chairman of the Olympics Committee to serve as Director of Friendship and Understanding for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo. Dr. Kerr is now engaged in this important work for the youth of the world.

Dr. Kerr has been speaker for many national meetings of youth organizations such as Boy Scouts, Future Home-makers and others, and has been the keynote speaker at numerous mess youth rallies throughout this nation and in Europe and Asia.

Introducing the speaker will be the Chamber's new president, Danny Scarbrough. The menu calls for roast beef and the trimmings, and banquet

Naval Reserve Has Advantages As $$$ Benefits

Men who have served in the U. S. Navy, and are returning from tours of active duty, could find the Naval Reserve as a possible source of added income.

Lt. Mike Davidson of Estelline is one who has found the Naval Reserve to be beneficial and financially rewarding now and for years to come.

A combination of active duty years and the appropriate number of reserve years of satisfactory service earns a reservist a check at age 60 for the rest of the reservist's life.

The reservist will attend 48 meetings a year and spend two weeks on active duty at a time and place of the reservists choosing. These training periods are at regular pay.

Those who might be interested in joining the Naval Reserve should contact RDC Wasson or RDI Graham, U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 2309 Line Ave., Amarillo, Texas 79106, telephone 372-5589.

Lt. Davidson said he would be glad to talk with those from this area concerning the reserve program. His telephone number is 888-3591 in Estelline.

We're putting our money where your mouth is.

A lot of people have been shooting at the telephone companies these days. And, in truth, we've had our hands full keeping up with the zooming demand for increased phone service. But General Telephone and, in all fairness, the other phone companies haven't been sitting around counting dimes.

For some time now, we've been paying a healthy "phone bill" ourselves trying to make our service do everything you expect of it. And a few things you don't expect.

During the next five years we'll be spending millions of dollars in the areas we serve upgrading and expanding every phase of our phone operation. From laying underground cables (an important, if invisible area) to customer contact service (an equally important, but highly visible area).

But no matter how much we spend on equipment and expansion, it's what we do for you in your home or business that counts. Ladies and gentlemen, we're working as fast as brains, manpower and money can combine to make our service as efficient as possible.
