Hall County's Financial Condition Looks Bright

Hall County's financial picture appears to be the brightest it has been in the three county banking institutions report a total assets figure of $19.5 million and a total deposits figure of $21.3 million.

The official total assets of the three banks is $21,326,360.80, which is $3,685,534.26 above the April 30, 1971, total figure. This same trend is reflected in the total deposits of the three Hall County banks which totals $19,503,467.34, which is $3,537,747.65 above last year's total deposits figure.

Statements of conditions of the Peoples State Bank of Turkey, the First State Bank and the First National Bank of Memphis are published elsewhere in this issue. The biggest need for Hall County now is to receive sufficient moisture to plant 1972 row crops, and to encourage growth of grassland, as county ranchers become more involved in a booming cattle industry. Some spotted rains have occurred but for the most part, additional moisture is needed at this time.

First Baptist Church Plans Special Youth Service

The First Baptist Church of Memphis will have a special youth service this evening at 7 p. m., it was announced. A group of 24 college students from Southwestern College in Merford, Okla., known as the "donairs" will lead and conduct the service.

Little League To Begin Games Mon.

The Little League summer baseball program will get underway Monday night, May 8, with two farm teams games, the first of which will begin at 6 p. m., according to D. C. Messick, coordinator of the program. Two Little League games will be played Tuesday night, May 9, with the first game between the Yankees and the Indians beginning at 6 p. m. The Tigers will face the Giants in the second game which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

Managing the Little League teams this year will be: Yankees, Ronnie Webb; Indians, D. D. Morgan; Tigers, Don Guffy; and Giants, Carl Morris. Farm team managers are: Yankees, Jerry Smith; Indians, Bill Lockhart; Tigers, Jim Goldston; and Giants, Jimmy Lindsey. "Any boy who would like to play ball and hasn't yet signed up may still do so by contacting me or Bill Lockhart at Lockhart Pharmacy," Messick said.

Open House For New Office Bldg. For Fri. Here

Phil Campbell, Under Secretary of the USDA, will be in Memphis on Friday, May 19, to open the new Hall-Childress and Water Conservation District office building, being constructed on the Corner of 10th and the Lakeview Highway. According to Lee Scrivner, chairman of the District Board of Directors, an open house will be held from 3 p. m. until about 5 p. m. on that date.

Memphis Bands To Have Sun. Concert

The annual spring "Pops" Concert of the Memphis Cyclone Band and the two Junior High Bands will be held at the High School Auditorium on Sunday, May 7, at 3 p. m. The format for the concert will be the same as that of the Christmas Concert. All three bands will perform. Miss Pam Campbell of Lubbock will again serve as master of ceremonies. Along with the concert, poetry suited to each number and special lighting effects will be employed, Director Carol Blain said. The Beginning Band of Junior High will play: "Village Charm," "Cycles," and "Stormy." The Junior High Band will play:

"For All We Know," "Rainy Days and Mondays," and "Turn Around, Look at Me." The Cyclone Band will play several numbers. These include: "Traces," "I Don't Know How To Love Him," "Emperata Overture," "Summer of '42," "Brian's Song," "The First Time Even I Saw Your Face." "Yesterday," "Hurts So Bad...," "MacArthur's Park," "Tommy," and the concert will end with "Let There Be Peace." The theme of the pops concert will be "Celebrate... Enjoy the Music of the Soul." The Cyclone Band invites the general public to come to enjoy their experience in giving.

1st Primary Election Is Saturday

Republicans To Vote Saturday In Councilroom

Hall County Republicans will cast ballots from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Saturday, May 6, in the Councilroom of the Community Center in Memphis. Mrs. Zack Fisher, Election Judge, announced this week.

One person voted absentee in the Republican primary before absentee balloting closed Tuesday.

Candidates appearing on the Republican ballot and the offices they are seeking are as follows:

For United States Senator, John G. Tower.
For U. S. Representative, District 13, Bob Price.
For Governor: Albert Bel Fay, Henry C. (Hank) Grover, John A. Hall, Joseph Alton Jenkins, B. Thomas McElroy and David Reagan.

For Treasurer, Maurice Angly, Jr.
For Railroad Commissioner, Jim Segrest.

For State Representative, District 66, Tom Christian.
For State Board of Education, Janet Parnell.

Voters in this primary will have two referendums in which to express their opinions, including: For or against daylight saving time; For or against—are you in favor of a constitutional amendment which would prohibit forced busing of school children or forced consolidation of school districts solely to achieve racial balance?

Gun Club Slates First Nighttime Shoot Tonight

The first nighttime trap shoot will be held tonight at the Memphis Gun Club range, it was announced Tuesday by James Lange, president. Firing will start at 7:30 p. m., and continue until all prizes are won. Prizes will consist of merchandise, Lange said. The range is well lighted, and special nighttime white clay targets will be thrown, it was explained. The public is invited to drive out to the range, which is located on the east side of the airport, and participate in the sport. All members of the club are urged to be present for this first night's round of shoots.

Jana Davis Wins Spelling Bee Sat.

Jana Davis, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Davis of Memphis, is the champion of the 1972 Golden Spread Regional Spelling Bee held Saturday afternoon in Amarillo.

The regional bee is sponsored by the Globe-News Publishing Company with West Texas State University as cosponsor and was held in the auditorium of Stephen F. Austin Junior High School. About 46 counties participate in the regional bee.

In the 15th round, Jana correctly spelled "exotic" to win the bee and a trip to Washington, D. C., to compete with 79 other regional winners in the National Spelling Bee scheduled for June 5-9.

Other prizes for the winner included a pen and pencil set, a traveling plaque for her school, and a plaque for herself.

Jana is a seventh grader in Memphis Junior High School. In 1971, she held both the junior and senior Hall County championships.

Taking second place was Mark Vincent, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Vincent of Shattuck, Okla., who was awarded a 24-volume set of Encyclopedia Britannica.

Election Returns To Be Received At Democrat Office

Guy Smith, chairman of the Hall County Democratic Executive Committee, announced this week that the committee would assemble at The Memphis Democrat office Saturday night to receive returns from election judges. Election judges from over the county will call in their returns to The Memphis Democrat, 259-2441, as soon as final tabulations are available. Members of the executive committee and Democrat staff personnel will total the tabulations (Continued on Page 8)

Democrats To Have Five Boxes In Hall County

Polls will open Saturday, May 6, in the Democratic Primary election at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m., and during those hours, a heavy turnout of voters is expected.

Absentee balloting in the election saw 178 cast their ballots, or filed by letter to receive ballots, in the county clerk's office.

Those voting in the Democratic Primary will face a large selection of candidates, as the ballot (excluding party positions) has 26 separate offices to be filled, and 14 of these are contested.

Leading the ballot is the race for U. S. Senator as five candidates are listed in the following order on the Hall County ballot: Barefoot Sanders, Alfonso (Al) Velez, Hugh Wilson, Thomas M. Cartledge and Ralph W. Yarborough.

Graham Purcell is uncontested for the party nomination to the U. S. Rep., Dist. 13.

For Governor, seven are listed, including: Gordon F. Mills, Mrs. Frances Parentold, Preston Smith, Dolph Briscoe, Ben Barnes, William H. (Bill) Posey, Robert Everett L. Looney.

For Lt. Governor, eight are on the list: Wayne W. Connally, John Armstrong Standley, Jr., Garistie, Bill Hobby, Bill Jones, Ralph M. Hall, Troy Skates and Robert E. McCord.

For Atty. General, three candidates include: John Hill, Crawford Martin and William Pate.

Seven are seeking the nomination for Comptroller, including: Stanford S. Smith, R. G. (Randy) Pendleton, Vernon (Gene) Smith, Dallas Blankenship, William J. Robertson, Robert S. Calvert and James (Jim) Wilson.

Six are in the race for State Treasurer, including: Baker Rudolph, Nolan Robnett, Lauro Cruz, Jesse James, Odis A. Weldon and Eric Smylie.

Bob Armstrong is unopposed for Commissioner of General Land Office, while Carl A. Well and John C. White are seeking the Commissioner of Agriculture nomination.

For Railroad Commissioner, Connie Lawson, Gene B. West and Byron Tunnell are in the race.

In Supreme Court Justice races, Joe Greenhill, Price Daniel, and Sam Johnson, each are unopposed, while for Court of Appeals posts Wendell A. Odum and James A. Ellis are unopposed.

For State Senator, Jack Hightower has not drawn an opponent.

In the State Rep., 66th Dist., two Democratic candidates are vying, Phil Cates and Eddie J. (Ed) Leary.

For member of the State Board of Education, 13th Congressional District, Herbert O. Willborn is unopposed.

In Judicial District races, District Judge Robert E. Montgomery of Memphis is unopposed, and in the 100th Judicial District Attorney's race, three are seeking the position: Jack B. Boone, John M. Deaver and Paul Spillman.

In county races, two are seeking the Sheriff office, Elmer Neel and Bob Anderson, while County Attorney John Chamberlain and Tax Assessor-Collector Jo Carmen are unopposed.

In the precinct commissioners races, three positions to be filled, all are contested races.

In Precinct No. 1, voters will choose between Edwin Hutcherson and Ladislav Wolko.

In Precinct No. 3: O. R. Lambert and J. D. Cox are seeking the commissioners position.

In Precinct No. 4: the unexpired term of the late Pat Brittain is to be filled and four have filed, including: James Fuston, Harold M. Lane, Charles H. Hamner and Bill Farley.

Election boxes will be open in Precinct No. 1 and No. 13 in (Continued on Page 8)

Farm Bureau Green Contest Scheduled For May 22

Those who would like to enter the Hall County Farm Bureau Green Contest are being asked to contact the Farm Bureau office or Dwain Ellerd at 259-3514. The Green Contest, along with the Talent Find, will be held on Friday night, May 22, in the county center, Mrs. Ellerd said. Single girls between the age of 16 and 22 years of age are invited to enter. Those who wish to enter the Talent Find should get in touch with Mrs. Ellerd at the Farm Bureau office.

Church Of God To Have Revival Service This Weekend

Revival services will be held at the Memphis Church of God on Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7, with the Rev. D. J. Shamrock as the evangelist.

Services will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 5, 6 and 7, with the Rev. D. J. Shamrock as the evangelist. The church is located on the corner of 16th and Main Streets.

Rites Held Sun. For R. Wayne Adams, Hall County Farm Bureau Manager

Funeral services for Robert Wayne Adams, 30, manager of the Hall County Farm Bureau, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday, April 30, in the First Baptist Church here with the Rev. C. H. Murphy, pastor, officiating.

Graveside rites were conducted at 5 p. m. in the Floydada Cemetery with the Rev. Floyd Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Floydada, officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Adams was dead on arrival about 11:30 p. m. Friday, April 28, at Hall County Hospital of injuries suffered in a one-car accident seven miles north of Turkey on U. S. 70.

Investigating officers said the accident occurred about 9:40 p. m. when his car failed to negotiate a curve.

Adams, who had served as manager for the past three years, had been associated with the Farm Bureau for four years.

He was born March 23, 1942, in Littlefield and was united in marriage to Miss Fletta Carthel March 17, 1959, at Plainview.

He was serving as Packmaster of the Memphis Cub Scouts. Survivors include: his wife, Fletta, of the home; one daughter, Leeta Carol, of the home; two sons, Kyle Bain and Lonnie Ray, both of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Adams of Lockney; and two brothers, Allan of Ralls and Larry of Abilene.

County Agent Says Lightning Is Farm Danger

Lightning is a killer down on the farm.

It can strike the metal roof of a barn and kill someone on the inside. It can travel as far as two miles along an ungrounded wire fence, electrocuting livestock touching it or just standing close. It can burn your house and out-buildings to the ground and bring death to a man on his tractor, says County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser.

Lightning causes more than 80 percent of all livestock losses due to accidents and is a major cause of farm fires. It is responsible for millions of dollars worth of damage and destruction every year.

Lightning is a gigantic, uncontrolled, split-second surge of electric current. It's 10 million to 100 million volts is so great that a bolt may leap a mile or more through the air. But with knowledge, technical know-how and plain common sense, people can dramatically lower lightning's grim toll, points out Hooser.

First of all, everyone, especially the farmer, should have a basic understanding of just what lightning is and the havoc it can create. Then he needs the help of an expert in planning and installing a lightning-protection system for his buildings, fences and chosen trees. An old protection system may fail to do its job if it hasn't been inspected and repaired recently, notes Hooser.

Lone trees and farm buildings are prime lightning targets. They provide the only "ladder" in the area for the positive ground charges to climb nearer the negative cloud charges. Lightning strikes trees, buildings or other objects because the materials in them are better electrical conductors (easier paths to the ground) than air. In groves of trees or a cluster of buildings, lightning is most likely to strike the object that is either the best conductor, nearest the approaching cloud, or the tallest one in the group.

MISS JAN GLENN

Dancing Classes To Be Held Here During Summer

Miss Jan Glenn of Houston, has announced that she will come to Memphis one day each week during the months of June and July to instruct students in jazz and tap dancing.

There will be tap lessons for the elementary age, tap and jazz for junior high, and jazz for high school.

Classes will be at the Memphis Country Club each Tuesday.

Additional information pertaining to the dance courses can be obtained from Mrs. Terry Monzingo and registration forms are available at Lockhart Pharmacy.

For beginners in tap there will be time enough this summer to learn the basic tap steps and one complete number for use in programs, Miss Glenn said.

Miss Glenn studied tap for nine years, jazz for four years and ballet two years. Her dancing experience ranges from dancing in Miss Tennessee America Pageant in 1964; talent award winner in Miss Lubbock Pageant in 1967; dancing in Miss Texas Pageant in 1967, actress and dancer in Hayloft Dinner Theatre in 1968, and guest performer in the Miss Lubbock Pageant in 1971.

She will best be remembered in this area when she represented the city of Lubbock in the 1967 Miss Texas Pageant and was chosen second runner up.

During 1969-70, Jan was weather girl for a Lubbock TV Station

Teen-Age Market Now At $535,000 In Hall County

NEW YORK—Although many adults in Hall County choose to cut down on their expenditures during the last year or two while waiting for the economic climate to improve, their teen-agers did not. They continued to live it up.

These free-spending youngsters were not bothered in the slightest by all this talk about inflation, big taxes and the high cost of living.

Because their parents, in most cases, had bigger incomes than in other years and were able to give them larger allowances, they had more money at their command than ever before, an estimated $535,000.

And out it went, but fast. It never had a chance to bore holes in their pockets.

The expenditures centered, for the most part, on entertainment, food and hobbies, with cars and gas high on the list for boys and grooming items in the top spot for girls.

The evaluation of the teen-age market is based upon the findings of the Youth Research Institute, the Apparel Manufacturers Association and others.

The concensus is that the 27 1/2 million teen-agers in the United States earned, received and spent nearly $20 billion in the past year.

It represents a rate of $730 per year or nearly $14 per week for those in the 13 to 19 set. The young ones get less than that and the older ones more.

At that average rate, the 733 in Hall County who are in that age bracket are spending some $535,000 a year in local shops.

Many of the teen-agers in the area earn part of this money by working after school and during their summer vacations. The rest of it comes from cash gifts and weekly allowances in amounts adjusted to their needs.

To retail merchants, of even greater importance than the sale to their teen-age customers is the strong influence the youngsters exert on family purchases generally.

Nationally, it is estimated, more than $45 billion of family buying, ranging from cars to furniture and from food to vacation trips, is affected.

In Hall County, in line with the overall findings, this influence applies to purchases of about $1,204,000 a year.

Highway Engineer Opposes Change In Road Program

AUSTIN—Opposition to proposals placing the Federal Highway Administration under an expanded Department of Housing and Urban Development has been voiced by J. C. Dingwall, Texas State Highway Engineer and president of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Dingwall recently testified before the Subcommittee on Legislation and Military Operations of the House Committee on Government Operations in Washington.

The Federal Highway Administration and the Urban Mass Transit Administration would be placed in the proposed superdepartment. However, other federal transportation agencies dealing with aviation and railroads would be under another new department, a Department of Economic Affairs, said Dingwall.

"We cannot agree with the definition of 'Community Development' as contained in the Administration's proposal in that it apparently includes in the definition of 'community' every square foot of the 3.6 million square miles of land area in the United States."

He said the highway program should be coordinated with, but not placed under, a Community Development Department.

He said the association of state highway administrators which he represents as president feels that the proposed new department would be a reorganized Department of Housing and Urban Development. The reorganization would place the highway program in an unrelated and foreign atmosphere, he said.

It also would place the federal highway agency on a lower level than it now occupies in the present U. S. Department of Transportation.

Dingwall said the State highway agencies are "concerned with any proposal to create a super department of heterogeneous functions with several management layers superimposed on the federal agency with which we work."

Nation To Observe Soil Stewardship Week May 7 to 14

"Creative Conservation" is the theme of this year's Soil Stewardship Week which will be observed across the nation May 7-14, reports County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser.

The week emphasizes man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water and other resources. It is sponsored annually by soil and water conservation districts throughout the country.

"With the present-day emphasis and attention given to ecology and protection of the environment, it is especially fitting to reflect on the quality of our lives and the natural resources that sustain us," points out Hooser. "Conservation is the spirit of all responsible men and concerns the well-being of all communities."

"Today more than ever before, high priorities are being placed on pleasant home and community surroundings, conservation of natural resources, and a peaceful landscape. Many people are giving fresh thought to improving the quality of the world in which we live," Hooser said.

Hooser urges everyone in Hall County to become more "conservation-minded" and to join with others in supporting efforts and activities that are aimed at improving the quality of life. He suggests that a good start would be to become involved in promoting and supporting Soil Stewardship Week.

Hog Cholera Is Big Worry Of Many Farmers

Hog Cholera Facts
The first outbreak of hog cholera in the Texas Panhandle in recent history has left many officials and animal health officers edgy over the thought of a spread epidemic.

Until this past January, Texas was well on the way to being declared completely free of the disease; but then an outbreak in the Rio Grande Valley. The case in the Panhandle was confirmed by the federal pathology laboratory in Ames, Iowa, on April 26.

There is no effective treatment and also no vaccine currently available in the United States," says Dr. Gene Cope, area veterinarian for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Amarillo. The modified live virus vaccine that was used in past years was discontinued in Texas as the state went through the phases of the cholera eradication program in the late 1960's and early 1970's.

If a swine owner has the disease confirmed in his herd, federal and state laws require that the entire herd be killed and buried under governmental supervision, the veterinarian reports.

Cope says that the disease affects only swine and is not dangerous to other domestic animals or to humans. It can be spread by either direct contact from animals to animals; or indirectly by contaminated feed, water or handling equipment.

"Adding pigs exposed in transit, in sale barns, or in stockyards to a cholera-free herd will almost surely result in an outbreak," the veterinarian emphasizes. The disease usually spreads slowly through a herd and affects virtually every hog on the premises.

Cope offers several suggestions for Panhandle swine producers to protect their hogs. He says to isolate any replacement pigs for three weeks before putting them with the main herd.

Producers should not allow anyone near their herd who has been in contact with other herds in the area, because the disease can be easily spread on shoes and clothing.

Producers should also provide protective clothing for all visitors to their barns. The visitors should be required to put on the clothing before entering the barns and to take the clothing off before leaving the premises.

A final suggestion is to eradicate rodents on the farm to prevent the spread of any of the cholera virus that may be present.

Attorney General of Texas

Door-to-Door Selling
"Hello, I'm here to take a survey. I don't have a thing to sell." And with those opening lines the high-pressure sales pitch begins.

While not all door-to-door salesmen are con men, there are numerous "door-to-door" rackets. Although there are an infinite number of variations used by the door-to-door salesman, knowing some of the basic types of approaches can help you protect yourself against being duped.

Phoney surveys are a favorite way for gypsters to get their foot into your door. If someone claims to be taking a survey, insist upon seeing their credentials before letting them in. If they don't have proper identification, say you're not interested in participating. You may save yourself from an unpleasant high-pressure sales pitch.

Sympathy appeals are another door-to-door selling trick. Some companies actually organize and train crews of people to use sob stories to make sales. So don't fall for the old "I'm working my way through school and supporting my invalid mother" line unless you check out the story first.

Be especially on the lookout for the "inspectors" who come to your door offering phoney "free" inspections. Ask for both identification and authorization credentials. If they don't have them, don't let them in without checking with local authorities about their identity. Home repairs, like fixing roofs or furnaces, or termite exterminations, are favorite projects for this kind of racket. Don't agree to repair or other services without getting another estimate from a local serviceman.

To protect yourself from falling into door-to-door selling traps, take time to fully consider any purchase. A reputable salesman will be happy to come back. Before buying, compare prices of similar merchandise in your local stores. You might find a better price.

Don't sign any papers obligating payment unless you know the total cost. High interest, credit insurance and other service charges can greatly increase the total price of merchandise.

Remember, buy only what you need. Above all, never be afraid to say no! You can always decide to buy later, but once you make your purchase you are stuck with it.

Local Clubwomen To Attend TFWC Meet In Dallas

Several local clubwomen are making plans to be in Dallas May 8 through 10 to attend the 75th annual convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at the Baker Hotel.

Going from here will be Mrs. Bray Cook, Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, Mrs. Robert Sexauer and Mrs. T. M. Harrison. Mr. Sexauer will accompany his wife to Dallas.

Mrs. Cook will be installed as president of Santa Rosa District at the final session of the convention on Wednesday afternoon along with other district presidents of the state.

Presiding at the convention will be the state president, Mrs. Phillip A. Carpenter of Burkburnett, a former Santa Rosa district president.

The dinner the opening night of the convention will honor twenty year clubs, the anniversary clubs and the pioneer club women of 40 and 50 years standing. Both Mrs. Kinard, who is a life member and past district president, and Mrs. Harrison will among the pioneer club women honored. Mrs. Sexauer is also a past president of Santa Rosa and is now serving as a district officer.

Memphis also has several other pioneer clubwomen who will not attend the convention.

At the dinner that evening Mrs. Carroll L. Miller of Missouli, Montana, General Federation of Women's Clubs second vice president, will give the keynote address, "Our Treasured Diamonds." Afterwards, an anniversary party will honor Mrs. Carpenter and GFW dignitaries.

On Tuesday, the luncheon will feature the juniors with Mrs. William Westbrook TFWC director of junior clubs, presiding. Miss Joan A. Buchanan of Bernardville, N. J. will bring the junior keynote address.

Wednesday, May 10, will begin with an early breakfast presented by the San Antonio Breakfast Club. The morning session will consist of the reports of projects and standing committees.

Don Newbury, director of community relations, Tarrant County Junior College, will give the luncheon address.

The final afternoon session will complete reports of the district presidents including a report by Mrs. Overton Neal of Quannah, retiring president of Santa Rosa District.

The installation of officers will be preceded by an organ concert by Christine Gentry of San Francisco, Calif., appearing through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland. Installing officer is Mrs. Hasebrock.

Candidates for 1972 offices include: Mrs. L. R. Whatley of Fairfield for first vice president; Mrs. Robert N. Tipps of Denver City for second vice president; Mrs. H. B. Bratton of Waco for third vice president. The race for secretary is between Mrs. Kermit Lawson of Pampa and Mrs. L. A. Maddox of College Station; and for treasurer, between Mrs. W. F. Fredeman of Port Arthur and Mrs. Howard L. Weant of Falfurrias. Mrs. A. C. Hughes of Commerce is president elect.

DRUG ABUSE PROGRAM—C. E. Fant of Quannah, District Safety Officer with the Department of Public Safety, is pictured above showing the club president, Mrs. Paul Montgomery some of the drugs being misused by so many Americans today. Mr. Fant spoke to members of the 1913 Study Club and guests on Monday afternoon at the Bronze Room, First National Bank Building.

1913 Study Club Observes National Law Day With Drug Abuse Program

The 1913 Study Club met in regular session the afternoon of May first in the Bronze Room with Mmes. Frank W. Foxhall and Ed Hutcherson as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Paul Montgomery as president, welcomed the speaker, Mr. C. E. Fant, District Safety Officer from the Texas Highway Department in Quannah. Bearing in mind that "Burying his head in the sand never helped the ostrich, either," the audience of members and their guests listened attentively to Mr. Fant's discourse in "Drug Abuse," the methods of administration and the horrors of addiction. A sequence of interesting colored slides accompanied his explanation. Even a synthetic material akin to the odor of marijuana was burned by the speaker to acquaint his listeners with the smell of this odious weed.

Besides sixteen regular club members, the guests present were Mmes. George Greenhaw, W. C. Dickey, Bob Sexauer, Ben Parks, Rayford Hutcherson, Morris Davis and James Brown.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon and installation of the officers for the club year beginning in September. That will be the final meeting for the 1913 Study Club before disbanding for the summer.

TO WED IN JUNE—Mr and Mrs. Raymond Foster of Memphis announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their granddaughter, Nickie Hood, to Jerry B. Murray, son of Mrs. Effie Murray of Memphis. The marriage will be an event of early June.

PLANS JUNE WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Bowman of Estelline announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra May, to Douglas Wade Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fowler, also of Estelline. The wedding will be an event of June 10 with the evening ceremony at 7:30 o'clock in the First United Methodist Church at Estelline. Officiating will be Min. J. C. Stepp of Lakeview. Friends of the couple are invited to attend the nuptials and the reception to follow in the church parlor. Miss Bowman and her fiance graduated in 1971 from Estelline High School and are both students at Clarendon Junior College. She is a business major and member of Phi Beta Lambda business fraternity. Mr. Fowler is a geology major and has been an honor student with a grade point average of 4.0 since he enrolled at CJC. They will reside in Estelline after marriage and will continue their college studies at Clarendon.

Miss Becky Gilbert Is Honoree At Bridal Shower April 25 in Wood Home

Miss Becky Gilbert, bride-elect of Jimmy Jackson of Clarendon, was complimented with a lovely miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening, April 25, in the home of Mrs. Carl Wood.

Mrs. Wood greeted the guests and presented them to the receiving line composed of the honoree, Miss Gilbert, her mother, Mrs. B. J. Gilbert, and her grandmother, Mrs. Hank Hightower of Dodson.

Miss Debbie Gilbert presided at the register table.

The three bedrooms of the home were laden with gifts of china, silver, pottery, and other miscellaneous items.

Misses Lou Miller and Tanya Wood served the guests from a table covered with a white satin cloth holding a floral centerpiece in the bride's chosen colors of blue and white. Also noted were gold and white napkins. Refreshments consisted of dainty ribbon sandwiches, blue and white decorated heart mints, nuts and white punch.

The Gilbert-Jackson nuptials, a coming event of May 20, will be solemnized in the chapel of the First Baptist Church.

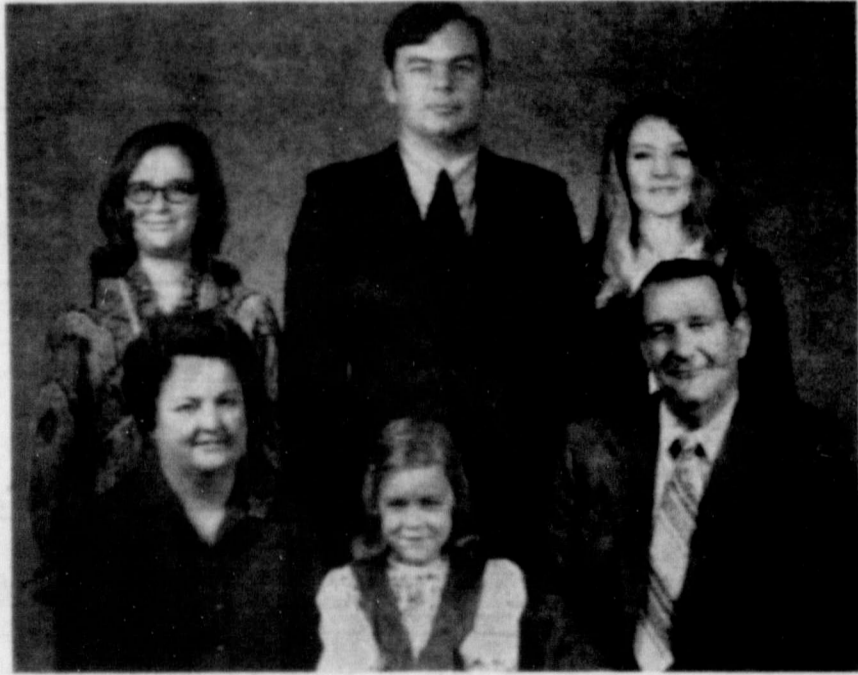

Hostesses for the shower, other than Mrs. Woods, were: Mmes. Henry Foster, Jay Wunnelle, Bobby Beavers, Don Wright, Tom Posey, Gordon Maddox, Cecil Stargel, Loyd Williams, Kenneth Bachman, Kenneth Parker, Danny White, Carl Williams, Dub Parker, W. R. ### Culture Club Members, Guests Enjoy Book Review By Mrs. Taft April 19

The Woman's Culture Club and guests were privileged to hear Mrs. Margie Taft of Childress in a book review held in the Bronze Room of the First National Bank April 19.

Mrs. R. E. Clark introduced Mrs. Taft by saying that she is a very versatile person, a talented artist who has had art shows in numerous towns. She is a native of this area and knows about the era of the book which she so delightfully reviewed, Mrs. Clark stated.

Mrs. Taft selected for her review "In Another Part of the House" by Winston M. Estes who is a native of Quannah. His latest book, "A Street Full of People", came out April 23 at a Book Fair in Quannah.

"In Another Part of the House" is the story of a 10-year-old boy who lived in Wordsworth, Texas (any small town in this locale), during the Depression of the 1930's. Larry tells about the sand-storms, the shortage of money, his uncle who was the black sheep of the family, the pathos of the death of an idolized older brother, his friendship with Ozell (son of the colored cleaning woman), working in the drug store his father owned. In summary members stated that the book was the story of one year of the boy's life from 10th birthday to 11th birthday, aptly considered as "Learning About Growing Up".

Guests and members relived this period in their own lives as Mrs. Taft so graciously and humorously led them through the book.

Refreshments of open face sandwiches, nuts, mints and punch were served from a table decorated in the colors of purple and gold. The table was laid with a cut cloth over a purple satin arrangement and centered by a flowers, flanked by purple les held in crystal holders.

Gardenhire-Howard Nuptials Read In Pretty Home Service

In a pretty home wedding solemnized at 10 a. m. Saturday April 29, Miss Shelia Alexandrina Gardenhire became the bride of Jerry Wayne Howard of Canyon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gardenhire, 1122 North 18th Street, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard of Tye.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY WAYNE HOWARD

Tom Posey, minister of the First Christian Church, read the double ring ceremony before an arch decorated with pink rosebuds and white mums at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Cindy Phillips, pianist, provided the wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches. The couple's only attendants were Miss Dena Suzanne Gardenhire, sister of the bride, and Monte Stephens of Canyon. Miss Gardenhire wore a pink knit dress and carried a bouquet of white daisies. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white lace trimmed with pastel pink and seed pearls. The gown was fashioned by her mother. She wore a short tulle headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white mums atop a Bible borrowed from Mrs. David May. For something old, she wore her great-grandmother Nash's wedding ring and also wore the traditional blue garter and sixpence in her shoe. Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding brunch was held by Mr. and Mrs. Gardenhire. Fruit cups, ham rolls, sausages, rice rilaf, cheese biscuits, wedding cake, mints and punch were served from a table centered with pink rosebuds and white mums. For a wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the bride chose for and nuts. Helping at the serving table was Mrs. Jerry Shields. The hostess gifts to the bride-elect was a beautiful king size bedspread of quilted avacado velour. Many other beautiful gifts were received and displayed. Hostesses for the courtesies were Mmes. ## YOUR COUNTY AGENT SAYS

Don't Delay Vee Vaccinations
 "If you value your horses, don't take chances with Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE)," warns County Agricultural Agent W. B. Hooser. "A vaccination program for the deadly horse disease should be activated now before mosquitoes which transmit the disease become too active."

Horses, mules and donkeys that should be vaccinated are in four groups: (1) unvaccinated animals that have recently moved into the state; (2) foals born since last year's vaccination campaign; (3) foals vaccinated last year that were under six months of age; and (4) animals that were overlooked and never vaccinated.

"Horses, mules and donkeys that were vaccinated last year need not be vaccinated again," points out Hooser. "However, if there is any doubt as to whether the animals were vaccinated, it is best to vaccinate again."

This year the individual horse owner must pay for the vaccination. Commercial vaccine is available and must be administered by a veterinarian.

Hooser points out that even though horse owners may have vaccinated their animals for Eastern and Western form of encephalomyelitis, this vaccination offers no protection against VEE. Neither does the VEE vaccination protect the animal from the other two forms of the sleeping sickness.

The agent adds that Texas is still under federal quarantine for VEE. This means that horses must have been vaccinated for the disease at least 14 days before being allowed to leave the state. Horses for interstate shipment must be accompanied by a vaccination certificate and individual animals must be identified by tag, tattoo or some other means.

One out of every 20 persons in the U. S. wears a uniform on the job. According to the best available estimate, this represents a total of about 100 million persons.

Parents Urged To Teach Kids Bicycle Safety

COLLEGE STATION—Every one's riding bicycles, especially children who often must ride in heavy traffic.

"Most children have some riding experience, but unless they learn the rules of safety, serious trouble lies ahead," warned Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

Like shoes, purchase bicycles to fit, not to grow into. Bikes too large for the rider are too hard to handle safely.

A bicycle is a vehicle, so teach the child to ride the bike on the right side of the street.

"Instruct your child in the use of hand signals," the specialist advised. "Teach him the meaning of such terms as 'right-of-way' and 'intersection.'"

Are the seat and handle bars safe and comfortable? No one style is safer than the other—lightweight, middleweight, racing or touring bike or the popular high-rise bike.

Bicyclists are hard to see at night or in early morning light.

"Be sure you child wears light-colored clothing, has reflectors and lights on his bike or reflector tape on his bike or clothing," Miss Taylor suggested. "This precaution is especially important for youngsters with paper routes. If you have a paper boy in your home, remind him of this."

Repair and maintain a bicycle just like the family car. Good maintenance yields good, safe operational conditions. Check brakes to insure a smooth, safe stop. If the bike has optional equipment such as gears, be certain the child knows how to operate the bike without losing control.

The Texas Department of Health reported that a recent survey of bicycle accidents showed that the major cause of bike accidents occurred when children rode bikes too large for them. Night-time accidents were fewer in number than daytime accidents, but were more severe. Boys were involved in more bike-motor vehicle accidents than girls.

"Most drivers are conscious of bicyclists near school, but erratic moments can bring children face to face with tragedy," Miss Taylor said. "Have a fun school year! Teach your child safety rules, Time 1-24 Bf Parents urged ..."

Go To Polls And Vote Saturday!

Saturday is going to be one of the most significant primary election dates in years, as an estimated 1.85 million Texas Democrats and another 100,000 or more Texas Republicans will flock to the polls to decide outcomes in many races.

But, it is being predicted, that the Democrats will have to come back again as run-offs appear likely in several state races, and is possible in this area in the District Attorneys race, as three candidates are seeking this office.

Whenever three or more candidates are potential leaders in any race, run-offs almost always occur, and that is certainly the case in several races in the Democratic primary.

For Hall Counties, the Democratic primary has contested races in three of the four commissioner precincts, and one county race, the sheriff.

Then these are the District Attorneys race, with two Hall Counties and a Collingsworth County candidate, and the State Representative race with two Democrats and one Republican.

Of prime interest is the Texas Governors race, with front runners Lt. Governor Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe, Gov. Preston Smith, and Granger Farenthold, the major campaigners.

The Lt. Governors race is also close with Sens. Joe Christie of El Paso, Wayne Connally if Floresville and Ralph Hall of Rockwall Houston Post newspaper executive Bill Hobby and Bill Jones of Odessa, an independent oil operator.

Former Senator Ralph Yarborough is favored to win the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination over Barefoot Sanders and face GOP Sen. John Tower in November.

Those voting in the primaries (either D or R) will also have opportunity to express their feeling about school busing as a referendum vote will be held. On both tickets voters will have to vote "for" if they are against forced school busing to achieve racial balance and "against" if they are for it. The Republican referendum includes forced consolidation of school districts.

However, Democrats have an exclusive attraction also. They are the only voters taking a presidential straw vote in their precinct conventions. This choosing up sides on the basis of support for would-be Democratic-presidential nominees will be used in selecting delegates to county and senatorial district conventions on May 13. A similar straw vote at the state convention June 13 will influence selection of Texas' 130 delegates to the National Democratic Convention July 10 in Miami Beach, where the presidential nomination will be made.

Precinct conventions are set for 2 a. m. Saturday, the afternoon of the election, with Memphis precincts holding conventions in the courthouse (County for No. 13 and District for No. 1).

With all these fireworks in the making, how anyone could get away from the polls Saturday will just have to remain a mystery. Texans certainly have a major stake in the outcome of all this balloting.

Perhaps High But No Shortages!

With all the talk about high cost of food, no one has been heard to complain that there is a shortage of anything in the food supply line available to grocery shoppers anywhere in the country.

And even the increases in food prices may be subject to exaggeration. Take it from Dean H. O. Kunkel of Texas A&M that non-food items which get into the grocery cart as it is pushed down the lines of well-stocked display cases and shelves often make the buyer think that food costs are higher than they are. The non-food items are lumped in with food as a part of the grocery bill.

Food prices have tended to increase, some of them rather dramatically, but the fact remains that American shoppers in recent years have been spending a declining percentage of their income for groceries and a smaller per cent than do consumers in virtually every other country.

There's an easy way in Texas to test Dean Kunkel's assertion that non-food items available in grocery stores are significant in the size of the total ticket at the payout counter of the supermarket. Non-food items are subject to the state and local sales taxes and shoppers can easily find out how much of their grocery shopping excursion results in the purchase of products that are to be worn or used rather than eaten.

What Other Editors Say

No Fault Insurance

The battle over no fault insurance continues to rage in many states although it has not attracted much attention in Texas as yet. Probably they have had too many other things to think about down in Austin.

In brief no fault automobile insurance is a plan under which the insurance company pays the person and property damage regardless of who is at fault. The injured party gives up the right to sue for pain and suffering.

Thus far there is no pure form of no fault insurance in effect in the United States; but Massachusetts and Florida have modified no fault insurance laws and other states have ordered the insurance companies to offer such insurance on an optional basis. The advantage of no fault insurance, its supporters contend, is that it guarantees payment to an injured person without going to court to collect.

Accidents cost $16 billion dollars in the U. S. last year; yet over half of the victims did not collect a cent. No fault bills are under consideration in ten state Legislatures at the present time according to The National Observer. Do not expect these to pass so quickly. Most of the legislators are lawyers. And trial lawyers are the main opponents of no fault insurance. Last year they collected $1.4 billion in traffic negligence cases.

One disadvantage of no fault insurance is that it restricts the right to sue. And another is that it forces the careful, sober driver to subsidize the reckless driver and the drunken driver.

Not All lawyers are against such bills. The American Trial Lawyers Association says: "We would look with favor upon no fault insurance which would allow practically every accident victim to recover all of his economics from his own insurer without proving fault, and which would retain his right to recover full compensation for all his damages from the wrong door." That seems to be a sensible statement on the problem.

—Deskins Wells in The Wellington Leader

Time Is Yours

Have you ever stopped to think what you would do if someone offered to give you $86,400 every day, but only if you promised to spend every penny of it before the next day comes?

Sounds a bit far-out doesn't it? And it is, of course, it's very unlikely anyone will be knocking on your door with that kind of a give-away.

otionally disturbed is the pressure of time.

So there's a need to be reasonable about organizing your every minute into a schedule from which you dare not deviate. Relaxation is as essential to health as is good food.

But relaxation is something quite different from idleness or laziness. In relaxation there is a purpose. The idler has no goal.

Lord Chesterfield, in a letter to his son, said it well. "Know the true value of time; snatch, seize, and enjoy every moment of it. No idleness, no laziness, no procrastination: never put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

A good thought.

Little Theatre Meets In Home Of Mrs. Kinard

The Memphis Little Theatre held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard with Mrs. Herschel Combs and Mrs. Jack B. Boone as co-hostesses the afternoon of April 26.

Mrs. Combs, as president, called the meeting to order and announced that the program would proceed the business session.

The program introduced by Virginia Browder was a revival of one given several years ago in the First Presbyterian Church and again for the Fiftieth Anniversary of The Mizpah Guild more recently. As entertainment, it has been well received and appreciated even for the third time playing. Seven Women of the Bible appeared in costume and gave a thumb nail sketch of their autobiography.

Delliah was played by Ann Farnsworth; Bath Sheba by Mildred Stephens; Lydia by Carol Deaver; Jezebel by Katherine Jones; Abigail by Roxie Parker; The Witch of Endor by Mary Lee Fields; and Sarah was played by Charlene Greene.

During the business session, a motion was made and agreed to change the meeting time from the fourth Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock to the second Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Seventeen members and seven guests enjoyed the afternoon and the tasty refreshments served by the hostesses. The guests included Mrs. Harold Beck of Clarendon, and Mmes Jack Boone, John Fowler, Ben Parks, Clyde McMurray, W. C. Dickey, Lee Brown.

Members were pleased to welcome Mrs. Clinton Voyles as a new member.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon on May 27 at 12:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Gayle Greene. This will conclude the meeting for the current club year.

CARD OF THANKS

I am so very thankful for this privilege to thank my many friends and all the nurses for their kindness to me while I was a patient in Hall County Hospital and Baylor Hospital in Dallas. For each gift, the lovely cards, beautiful flowers, each phone call, for the food that was brought to my home, and especially for your prayers. I do thank Dr. Goodall and Dr. Stevenson with all my heart for what they did for me.

If any of you are ever ill, my prayer is that you will be shown the same kindness. May our Gracious Heavenly Father ever bless each of you.

Former Classmates Of Newlin School Enjoy Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Hodge in Clarendon, was the setting Sunday, April 30, for a reunion of former classmates of the Newlin School. This was the first time many of this group had been together in more than 46 years.

The evening was spent taking pictures, visiting, and showing pictures of children and grand children of those present.

Plans were discussed to hold a reunion at some future date for all former students and teachers of Newlin.

It was noted that mints and table decorations were prepared for the occasion by Mrs. H. C. Brumley of Clarendon, who was celebrating her 96th birthday Sunday.

Mrs. Hodge served cake and punch from a beautifully decorated table while Mrs. William D. Lawrence presided at the coffee service.

Present for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. William D. Lawrence of Denver; Colo.; Ruth

Memphis, Texas

A new form of worm fishing has taken over with those who use the rod and reel to cast little chunks of plastic or wood alongside weed beds in hopes of getting a big old bass.

But there still is the age-old method of catching fish with angleworms. It's been fish food since the beginning of time and very likely will be as long as fish live and worms grow.

Digging for worms today is slightly different than when many of us were growing up. At that time all we needed was a spading fork to turn over mellow dirt in the garden, flower bed or back of the horse trough.

Most fishing worms are raised today in a production process. There isn't too much work involved, and it's quite an economic saving to raise your own if you are to fool with them. And if you start raising worms you'll soon find that you may have quite a few fishing friends who just drop over in hopes of getting a few from you.

Your first need is a bedding box. You can build it as large or as small as you think you need. It should be at least two

REGINA FREESTONE

Regina Freestone To Receive Nursing Diploma

FORT WORTH—Mrs. Regina Freestone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hoover, 916 Brice, Memphis, is one of the 40 senior nursing students who will receive diplomas in the spring commencement at John Peter Smith Hospital School of Nursing, May 5. Mrs. Freestone will be stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, after graduation.

feet square, larger if possible, and can be made of plywood. Runners, in the form of small wooden strips should be tacked across the bottom of the box. This is to permit ventilation. Each box should also have a number of small holes in the bottom. You can use the same system on these as on flower pots, if you prefer, and make one large hole. In any case, drop a small stone into the hole. This will permit drainage without losing any of the bedding.

Bedding, which takes the place of soil, can be bought at most of the sporting goods stores or mail order houses. It is comparatively inexpensive. However, if you de-side to make your own soil, use equal parts of peat, loam dirt and manure. Clay or sand will get too hard and the worms won't be able to feed.

This box should be placed in a shady place and always kept moist. You can tell when the box needs more moisture by whether the worms are in the bottom or toward the top. If the bedding is only about eight inches deep, it will work better.

Feeding the worms is no big problem. A mixture made of yellow corn meal and coffee grounds with a little vegetable oil is ideal. Just sprinkle it on top of the bedding. When it disappears, add some more.

Size to which the worms will grow depends upon the stock. If you take big worms from your garden, then chances are you'll produce some big worms from the bedding box. But if you buy the small red wigglers, don't expect them to get too big.

An ideal way to take these worms fishing is to use a can or container with both ends open. A coffee can or baking powder can with a plastic top is ideal. Cut the bottom out and use the same plastic lid there, that came on the top. Or you can use a small shortening can, again utilizing a plastic lid both top and bottom.

In this manner, when you want a worm from the can you just turn it bottom end up and there they are. They always work toward the bottom in these cans.

Organic Matter Is Great Aid In Soil Conservation

Because organic matter makes so many contributions to the productive potential of soil, practices to maintain its level should be included in a balanced soil management and soil conservation program. Now is a good time for producers to think about such practices since they'll be faced with crop residues following the harvest season.

"Organic matter plays an important role in the physical makeup of a soil," says Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Although the actual organic matter content of most mineral soils is less than five per cent, it has a great influence on soil properties and plant growth."

Welch points out that the loose, friable condition associated with highly productive soils generally is the result of a relatively high organic matter content. Through its beneficial effects on soil structure, organic matter increases the rate at which water enters the soil as well as the amount of water the soil can hold.

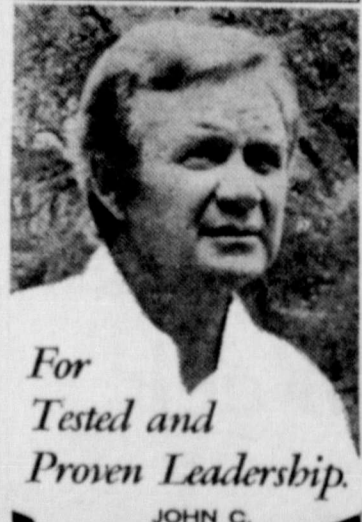

"As the rate at which water can enter the soil increases, the rate of water run-off decreases," he explains. "Therefore, the erosion potential of the water is decreased."

When a soil takes in and stores more water, it can supply more moisture for plant growth, Welch adds. Where enough water is available in the soil, plants grow better and produce larger amounts of organic matter that can be returned to the soil. Thus, the organic matter cycle is started again.

Welch concludes by saying that practices designed to keep a relatively high organic matter level in the soil have proven to be excellent soil and water conservation measures.

The automobile tire was originally considered "attire" or covering for a wheel. Since tires protect the "feet" of an auto, it not surprising that until recently Scotsmen called them shoes.

sands are crippled every year." Many of these people actually lived their way into a premature heart attack, by habit or choice running certain risks that raised their chances of being stricken. Their seemingly sudden heart attack had been building up to crisis for years.

Many heart attacks could have been prevented. By simple knowledge, and action, most heart attack victims could have reduced any of nine risk factors which make a man more susceptible to a heart attack far too early in life.

After many years of medical research we know heart disease is due to a conspiracy of factors. There is no single cause, but a combination of causes.

These are the chief suspects: High blood pressure. High levels of cholesterol, a particularly dangerous fatty material, in the bloodstream. Overweight. Excessive eating, especially of certain types of fats and cholesterol. Too little exercise and physical activity. Diabetes. Excessive cigarette smoking. Tensions and stresses. Hereditary. Those are the nine risk factors of heart disease.

"A man's chances of having a heart attack before age 65 are only about one in 20 to one in 50 if he is normal in these nine risk factors," said Dr. Peavy. "If he is shadowed by two or three of these risk factors, such as high blood cholesterol, high blood pressure, or heavy smoking, his chances raise to one in two—or 50 per cent."

"It is important for every Texan to take measures now to avoid heart disease by avoiding as many risk factors as possible," said Dr. Peavy.

Grandson Of Local Resident Attends Nursing Assn. Meet

Mike Evans of Amarillo, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wells of Memphis, returned Sunday, May 1, from Detroit, Mich., where he spent a week at the National Nursing Students Association.

For exhibiting leadership potential that garnered his presidency of the Texas Nursing Students Association last March, Junior student Evans is also president of his 85-member class, vice president of the 304-member student body at Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing and chairman of its social committee.

His 1967 membership in Medicine Club at Tascosa High School in Amarillo presaged Evans' entry to the health field, complemented by a fine arts degree from Texas Tech.

A ranking in the top percent of his class attests to Evans' competency in the medical sciences. He and his wife, Hazel reside at 2700 W. 16th in Amarillo. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Evans, also of Amarillo.

and our urbanized society and the fast pace of living that society demands adds tensions and stresses to that tough heart muscle that it cannot tolerate indefinitely.

State health officials are increasingly concerned over the large incidence of heart disease in Texas and across the nation. "Each day, on the average, heart disease kills some 1,400 Americans, and cerebral brain strokes take another 500 lives," said Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health. "In total, the toll is more than one life a minute. Uncounted hundreds of thou-

American Chemical Society Says That Underground Water Needs Protection

Water supplies for future generations are now jeopardized by groundwater pollution, which may persist for thousands of years, says "Environmental Science & Technology," monthly publication of American Chemical Society.

Groundwater, a controversial subject of Congressional bills, is subsurface water which supplies springs, wells, lakes, and rivers. It can be polluted by surface waters, deep-well disposal, seepage from mines, landfills, septic tanks, feedlots, and agricultural chemicals. The Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1970 apply to navigable streams, and make only one mention of groundwater, the Environmental Science & Technology points out.

There is little present regulation of the pollution or use of groundwater, which supplies 20 per cent of the fresh water used in the United States, and constitutes the entire water supply of more than 95 per cent of the rural population, and 20 of the 100 largest cities in the country, the magazine says. The semiarid area of the Southwest is almost completely dependent upon groundwater. Until now, protection of this water supply has been left largely to the individual states and municipalities, which generally have attempted regulation only after water shortage is evident.

A surface stream may divest itself of a one-time introduction of a pollutant in about a week, according to ES&T, but fresh water lake requires about 100 years and groundwater requires at least 200 years.

Bills introduced in Congress have given the EPA administrator responsibility and authority to administer waste inputs to the ground (including deep-well injection) with the exception of oil and gas injection wells.

A recent issue of ES&T estimated that 100 million barrels of brine (concentrated salt water) are injected into underground reservoirs by the gas and oil industries as replacement for the removed oil and gas. The same issue noted that tens of thousands of injection wells are used all over the U. S. and that the number of industrial subsurface disposal sites has doubled in the past decade. More than 200 wells are used for injection of industrial wastes, and the chemical industry daily disposes of some one million barrels of water-based wastes into 175 deep wells.

"Industrial waste disposal into surface waters can pollute aquifers (underground water stores) fed by streams. For example, phenol wastes discharged into the Calosashchie River made it necessary to abandon wells near Ft. Myer, Fla. On Long Island, nitrates—from fertilizers, rain picking up nitrates from the air, and septic tanks—were detected in groundwater.

"Nationwide, groundwater is presently under the auspices of the U. S. Geological Survey in the Department of the Interior. However, there is only limited control over groundwater resources. By and large, control is left up to the states and municipalities. Unfortunately, usually attempt regulation only when there is a shortage of water, according to USGS officials. A number of basin management programs are presently in the making.

"In the West and Southwest, groundwater depletion is a problem. There, as in most states, more water is being withdrawn than is being recharged into the aquifer; in hydrologic language, the water is being 'mined.' Because of natural recharging, the groundwater is a renewable resource, but when it's being steadily mined, water is used on a deficit basis.

"Groundwater is water beneath the earth's surface in a geological formation that supplies wells and springs. Groundwater moves through and is stored in aquifers—the porous geological formations containing water.

"Aquifers may be a few feet to hundreds of feet thick and may underlie a few acres or many square miles. Most aquifers are local in extent."

had 27 registrations in Hall Heritage Hall last Saturday. Mrs. Neal Hindman had as guests her sister, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, and daughter, Jennie. Also in this group of Abilene. Dannie Fronterhouse is the son of Mr. Leon. He is the son of Mr. Mrs. H. L. Fronterhouse of Leon. They were former residents here in 1961 to 1966.

Lynn Jones had as her Mrs. Marshall Jones of Mrs. and Mrs. Danny Jones, and their daughter of Lawton. Also in this group were Helen Crisman and daughter, Ruth of Lubbock, where she is in high school. Helen has one other daughter, She has one son, making grandchild for Helen Ruth. Marshall Jones, the former Mrs. Bradley, is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Bradley, who were residents here. Fayrene was in MHS. Her father is now in Abilene. Marshall and she were married here in 1928 and lived in Abilene in 1941 here have lived since except for 3 years during World War when they lived here.

had two sons and one daughter, who lives at Tulsa. One son, Jimmy, is now living in Austin. The other son, served 10 years in the army. He married a North Carolina girl who is now teaching in Lawton High School. Danny's now are to start to college Weatherford, Okla. They have child.

Other visiting in Heritage Hall the past week were Mrs. Deskin Wells of Wellington; C. H. Hawkins of Houston; T. E. Kellison, Hollis, Okla.; Marshall Jones of Abilene; and James Arton of Jasper, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Nay Hale of Lubbock also were visitors. Mrs. Hale will be remembered as Versa Odom, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Odom.

P. A. Cowan had as his guests in Heritage Hall Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cowan and their daughters, Janet and Cherri of Tulsa. Billy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Cowan. P. A. is the man who keeps our clock working.

Mrs. T. E. Lenoir had as her guests in Hall County Heritage Hall the past week Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hendrickson of 3037 5th, Greely, Colo. Mrs. Hendrickson will be remembered in the MHS class of 1941 as Carris Dell Lenoir. Some of her schoolmates she remembered were Billie Jo Prater, Charlene Gerlach, Harold Smith and James Baldwin. The Lenoir family moved from Lamar County to Hall County in 1925. Other members of the Lenoir family now living are Eugenia (Lenoir), Williams of Seattle, Wash., Margarite of Lompe, Calif., and Ellen of Plaska.

The Hendrickson family moved to Hall County in 1929. Leo's father passed away in 1971 and his mother is making her home in Greely, Colo., where she has lived a number of years; and her daughter, Beth, is also living in the same town. Leon graduated from MHS in 1940. He did part time work for the REA in 1941-42. He and Carrie Dell married and moved from Memphis in 1938, living in Mote Vista, Colo., where Leo has worked with the Home Power and Light Co. for the past 20 years. He remembered working for J. E. Roper while attending high school.

Leo and Carrie Dell have one son and two daughters, Carrie Lee and Marsha Smith, now married and living at Greely.

In last Sunday's daily newspaper an article from Greely, Colo., headed "A Big Pile of Tile". A meat packing plant there plans to put its largest by-product, 500,000 tons of manure annually, to what it hopes will be a profitable use, the manufacture of tile. The vice president of this company said that they maintain about 100 thousand head of cattle in their feed lot. They plan to build a 150 thousand pilot plant next year to convert the manure for use in tile. If it works out, he said, "We will be the biggest tile manufacturers in the world."

If they can do all of this with com manure, I don't know what they might come up with next. We better start saving our tumbleweeds and wild rye and see what can be produced from them!

I guess since the astronauts came back to earth, I imagine the moon is singing, "Twinkle Twinkle Little Astronauts, I wonder where you are", or else the song of "Goodby, My Lover, Goodby".

Another former Hall County boy was visiting in Heritage Hall the past week. John Lamb of Waco is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamb. John graduated from MHS in 1936. He worked in the First National Bank here about two years after graduating from High School. He moved to Amarillo in 1938 and has lived in Waco for the past 25 years. He has one daughter and three sisters now living. Fay (Lamb) Smith and Rhea (Lamb) Forster lives in Friona. The other sister, Ruth, married Dave Conner and they are now living in Kentucky. John covered more territory when he came back this time as he is now 6 ft., 2 inches, weights 185 pounds. When he left here, he was 6 ft. and 125 pounds. The Lamb family moved to Hall County in the early 1900's. There were five sons and two daughters and the only survivors now are Mrs. Vernon Sasser of Memphis and Mrs. R. P. Martin of McKinney.

We had a good representation at Turkey last Saturday for "Bob Wills Day". Reports are that this was successful celebration with Bob there in person and many other celebrities.

For a number of years, we have heard of "Rock Hounds". In conversation with Mrs. Carl Wood a few days ago, I think we could call her a "Rock Hound Lady" as she now has a collection of rocks from 42 states and three foreign countries, which include Canada, Old Mexico and Oinawa. She only needs a sample rock from 8 states to make her collection complete of the U. S. The states she does not have rocks from are Conn., Iowa, Maine, Mass., Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina and South Carolina. She really has a nice collection of rocks and hope she gets the other 8 states.

When we start excursion trips to the moon, she can make that trip and pick up some pretty moon rocks.

Robert Sexauer and his wife, Mary Helen, recently returned from a trip to Mexico City which they seemed to enjoy very much. In conversation with Robert, it was very interesting to hear him tell of how he had to swing on to the door of a taxi while taking a wild ride. He also stated that they went to the University of Mexico City where they had an enrollment of about 110 thousand students and the tuition was $12 a year. They had no dormitories. I asked Robert if he enrolled and he replied that he was thinking about enrolling, but he saw some necking on the campus and it tired him out so that he had better come back home with Mary Helen. Time changes things in a man's life. I think they enjoyed the scenery very much.

A quote from Charles Boyer. "I am French-I never discuss politics, cooking or women. I simply enjoy all three of them."

A quote from Arnold Glasco, "You can't have a horse race without having horses, but you can have money troubles without having money."

We want to congratulate Jana Davis on winning out in the Spelling Bee in Amarillo last Saturday. This gives her a trip to Washington, D. C. to try out for the National winner, and I think she will win in this. If she wins in the National Contest, I guess we will have to make her a candidate for "Miss America" in the future.

Last Thursday, April 27, while watching our television for the Apollo 16 to splash in the water, we had an obstruction on the T. V. screen that resembled a bird. Later that day I did find out that it was the stork bird flying in to deliver Mr. and Mrs. Geary Brogden a son. I think he should be called a "Moon Boy" as I think he landed about the time the Apollo landed. Well, anyway he may be a "Super Star".

I did receive two very unusual gifts the past week. My son, James, sent me a jar of "Possum-grape Jelly" from Arkansas. The other gift I received from my brother-in-law, Dr. Brown., and it was a can of unsweetened "Jack Rabbit Milk". The notice printed on the outside of this can of milk was "A Fast Action Diet for Lugging, Dragging, Salesmen, Truck Drivers, Fishermen, Hunters, Golfers, Bowlers and Talkative Females. Keep Away From Stenos, Office Girls, Beauty Operators and Waitresses". I guess I will try out these two gifts to see whether I want to order a case of each. After taking this combination, I do not know whether I will be climbing a tree or j unmping up and down on the run, but my forecast is that I will still be just sitting down enjoying a cup of coffee (very quietly)!

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

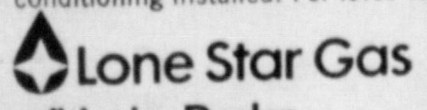

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

Record Crowd Attend Turkey Celebration for Bob Wills

by Virginia Browder

With a banner saying "Welcome Bob" spanning the main street, flags flying, and a record crowd to join in and enjoy the festivities, the celebration honoring Bob (Jim Rob) Wills proved to be a Red Letter Day in Turkey Saturday, April 29, 1972.

A down-town parade replete with floats, riding posies, bands, and political candidates kicked off the day's activities at 9:45 Saturday morning. Thereafter, the spectators gathered in the High School auditorium where there was standing room only for a session of fiddle music, Bob Wills style, played by three former members of Bob's Texas Playboys Band; Frankie McWhorter, from the Tyson Ranch near Higgins; Sleepy Johnson of Ft. Worth and J. C. Ashlock of Tulsa, Okla. Many times during the two hours of entertainment, the favorite tunes of Bob Wills were drowned out by applause from an enthusiastic audience.

Mrs. Bill King of Dosier acted as 'mistress of ceremonies' to keep the ball rolling. Later in the day, she 'MC'ed the old fiddlers' contest and did a commendable job.

An improvised stage of steel-bed flat trailers had been set up in the football stadium and when word was announced in the auditorium that Bob Wills would arrive at 12:30, many folks bypassed the delicious beef and buffalo dinner that was being served in the cafeteria and moved to the stadium for fear of missing Bob's arrival.

People who had known Bob through the years and those who had worked and played with him gathered around his Lincoln Continental to say 'hello'. Among those lucky enough to shake hands with the master of Western Swing was Ed Wilson of Memphis. For years, Ed has collected Bob's records.

By the time the large audience of listeners had seated themselves in a semi-circle on the ground in front of the stage, Bob had been moved in a wheel chair from his car and placed under a bright red tractor canopy on stage. Besides a heart condition, this idol of the string music world has suffered two strokes, so healthwise he is very frail. He wanted the folks of Turkey to hasten and make ready their celebration for fear he would not live to be present. One can well imagine how much courage and fortitude it took on his part to appear April 29 in public.

Ten fellows from the original Bob Wills Playboys Band were there to make music honoring one who has given so much of himself to create pleasure for others.

Those ten men included Leon McCauliff of Rogers, Ark., Sleepy Johnson of Ft. Worth, J. C. Ash-lock of Ft. Worth, Al Strickland of Cleburne, Curly Lewis of Ft. Worth and Bob's brothers, Johnny Lee and Billy Jack.

Bob's father, John Wills, has been dead for some years now but his mother is still living as are his five sisters, Olga, Ruby, Elouise, Helen and Lorene. Mr. Wills senior was agitated break-down fiddler and that talent was passed on to his sons. Johnny Lee still has a dance band.

Citizens of Turkey and the surrounding area remember Bob fondly as a one-time preacher and then a barber in Turkey before he set out on the entertainment road and became famous as the originator of 'Western Swing'.

A builder's model of the conical monument surmounted by a revolving fiddle and bow was on exhibit at the school. All the monies taken in during the day, the gate receipts at the school, the barbeque fees, and the $1,800 taken at the dance that night will go toward paying for a memorial monument of like design to be placed in the vicinity of Bob Wills' birthplace.

Bob Wills Day in Turkey was a gala occasion of visiting with old friends, of bear hugs and hand shakes but it was too a day of mixed emotions. A revival of fond memories stirred in the hearts and minds of many there but there was an undercurrent of sadness and anxiety for the condition of one whom they loved and admired. As Leon McCauliff so aptly phrased his admiration, "It had been a privilege to be associated with a fellow like Bob Wills" and there was no dust blowing but he wiped his eyes.

The good people of Turkey hope to make this celebration an annual affair and, before the dance was over, were planning how they could improve next year's program. Countless hours and tireless efforts had been spent on the preparations and the citizens of this Hall County town

This time we can defeat the Texas political machine.

Political machines have to operate from a base of immense power and influence. They are good for politicians who want a quick accumulation of wealth and power. But they are bad for the people, because they remove government from the hands of the people. And government is supposed to serve, not rule the people. Texas' political machine is a big one. And it's strong. But it's not invincible. It is vulnerable now, because it has made some bad mistakes. Mistakes that came to the people's attention. Surveys show now that the most significant issue in the minds of Texas voters is good, honest government. And the people of Texas can defeat the machine. On May 6, let's stop the political machine and return the government to the people.

elect DOLPH BRISCOE governor

A man Texans can believe in.
